Cells lining your stomach and small intestine make and release hormones that control how your digestive system works. These hormones tell your body when to make digestive juices and send signals to your brain that you are hungry or full. Your pancreas also makes hormones that are important to digestion.

Nerves

You have nerves that connect your central nervous system - your brain and spinal cord-to your digestive system and control some digestive functions. For example, when you see or smell food, your brain sends a signal that causes your salivary glands to “make your mouth water” to prepare you to eat.

You also have an enteric nervous system (ENS)-nerves within the walls of your GI tract. When food stretches the walls of your GI tract, the nerves of your ENS release many different substances that speed up or delay the movement of food and the production of digestive juices. The nerves send signals to control the actions of your gut muscles to contract and relax to push food through your intestines.

The doctor I was first studied by was Dr. Ryan, forensic psychiatrist.

Initially he had no problem with my pscych history. I reported at earlier times in my life I thought was being stalked, including by Lanza presented with developmental challenges before the age of three. These included communication and sensory difficulties, socialization delays, and repetitive behaviors. He was seen by the New Hampshire Birth to Three intervention program and referred to special education preschool services.[162] Once at elementary school, he was diagnosed with a sensory-integration disorder. Sensory-processing disorder does not have official status by the medical community as a formal diagnosis but is a common characteristic of autism.[163] His anxiety affected his ability to attend school and in 8th grade he was placed on “homebound” status, which is reserved for children who are too disabled, even with supports and accommodations, to attend school.

When he was 13, Lanza was diagnosed with Asperger syndrome by a psychiatrist, Paul Fox.[155] When he was 14, his parents took him to Yale University’s Child Study Center, where he was also diagnosed with obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD). He frequently washed his hands and changed his socks 20 times a day, to the point where his mother did three loads of laundry a day.[165] He also sometimes went through a box of tissues in a day because he could not touch a doorknob with his bare hand.

Kennedy was able to enroll in Harvard and enjoyed relatively good health there, although there are reports of some sort of stomach disorder. When Joan and Clay Blair attempted to write a biography of Kennedy, they ran into walls of secrecy concerning his health and it is uncertain what exactly was wrong.

In 1941, John and his older brother Joe joined the Navy. Crispell and Gomez write that their father, Joseph Kennedy Sr., a powerful businessman and former ambassador, pulled strings to get John into the service as his health record would have kept him out. The writers also note that Kennedy joined without a physical. He originally worked in naval intelligence and later; he sought training for PT boats. “Because of the paucity of volunteers for these boats, however, the Navy failed to scrutinize candidates very carefully. In fact, this was one of the few training programs which did not require a physical examination.” (Crispell and Gomez, p. 175).

It is well known that Kennedy’s boat, PT-109, was sunk and Kennedy was able to lead the surviving crew to safety. However, Kennedy’s active Navy service was over. He spent a long time in the hospital and was sent stateside. He had surgery for his bad back. A friend recalled the yellowed coloring of his skin. In later years, Kennedy and his aides would state that Kennedy had contracted malaria during his tour of duty. This was to cover up a more serious situation.

Kennedy had the symptoms of Addison’s disease, a disorder of the adrenal glands. Thomas Addison, who described the disease, reported that sufferers exhibited lethargy, loss of appetite, pain in the stomach and discolored skin. Kennedy had shown these signs. In earlier years, a diagnosis of Addison's was generally a death sentence, however, in 1939, a compound called desoxycorticosterone acetate (DOCA) was developed and this compound could substitute for the adrenal hormones lost to the disease. At first, DOCA was injected into patients; later, pellets could be implanted into the back or thighs.

Kennedy may have had a major Addison's episode in 1947. He had been elected to Congress the previous year and traveled to England. He became ill and asked Pamela Churchill, a family friend to get a doctor. Kennedy was admitted to the London Clinic and Churchill's doctor friend Sir Daniel Davis told her that Kennedy had Addison's disease and probably did not have a year to live. However, Kennedy rallied and was able to return home where he was taken to the Lahey Clinic and came under the care of Elmer Bartels, a specialist in thyroid conditions. Bartels began the DOCA pellets, which had to be replaced every three months. Soon, he would become one of the first Addisonians to be treated with cortisone and would arrange to have supplies of both cortisone and DOCA available at safety deposit boxes around the country.

While the medications worked to bring his Addison's under partial control, he was still plagued with back problems. In 1954, he decided to have a new double fusion surgery performed. Doctors at Lahey advised against it; Addisonians have a weakened resistance to infection. He then brought in two other doctors, Ephraim Shorr of Cornell and Philip Wilson of the New York Hospital for Special Surgery.

They decided to proceed although Dr. Barthels kept trying to warn Kennedy to change his mind. The surgery was performed and there were complications. An infection set in and the situation seemed so grave that Kennedy was given the last rites of the Catholic Church, but he rallied. Dr. Wilson later wrote about the operation in the journal Archives of Surgery. Kennedy was not identified by name but there was enough in the description of the patient that would strongly suggest that it was he.

In 1960, Kennedy sought the presidency and during the battle for the Democratic nomination, the question came up about his having Addison’s disease. The Kennedy camp denied the story; the most it would concede would be “some mild adrenal insufficiency.” (Crispell and Gomez, p. 164). But Crispell and Gomez take issue. “The assertion categorically denies that Kennedy had Addison’s disease, yet it mentions the very tests and symptoms associated with the disease.”(ibid) The furor died down and Kennedy was able to win the nomination and later the presidency.

Detlev Karsten Rohwedder (16 October 1932, Gotha - APRIL 1 1991, Düsseldorf-Niederkassel)[1] was a German manager and politician.

On Monday, April 1, 1991, at 23:30, Rohwedder was shot and killed through a window on the second floor of his house in the suburb of Düsseldorf-Niederkassel (Kaiser-Friedrich-Ring 71) by the first of three rifle shots. The second shot wounded his wife Hergard; the third hit a bookcase.

The shots were fired from 63 m away from a rifle with 7.62×51mm NATO standard calibre, the same rifle that was used during a sniper attack on the American embassy in February committed by the Red Army Faction, a West German far-left terrorist group. An inspection of the scene found three cartridge cases, a plastic chair, a towel, and a letter claiming responsibility from an RAF unit named after Ulrich Wessel, a minor RAF figure who had died in 1975. The shooter has never been identified.[5][6]

So we have George H. W. Bush telling the FBI that he did not know the source of the information but knew that a John Bircher named James Parrott, who was the same age as Lee Harvey Oswald (24), wanted to kill President Kennedy in Houston. Bush did not know much about Parrott but gave the name of two Republican Party officials in Houston. Of course, Bush's Zapata Off-Shore Drilling Company had been a CIA front since 1960 and had supplied the Bay of Pigs invasion (code named "Zapata") force with two of his company's ex-U.S. Navy landing craft, renamed the "Barbara J" and the "Houston." In any case, Bush's phone call to the FBI was a false lead, and Parrott was cleared.

The legends of King Arthur retrieved from British Library UK and copied or modified to here

Damsels in distress. Doomed and forbidden love. Epic battles and quests in pursuit of strange creatures. This is the world of Arthurian legend and, at the centre of it all, there is the 'once and future king' - Arthur himself, who, according to the stories, pulled a sword from a stone to become the greatest king that Britain has ever known. This is a world which has inspired an overwhelming amount of literature, film, music, dance and other works of art. Wagner's opera Tristan und Isolde follows the romance of two of Arthuriana's star-crossed lovers; Tennyson immortalises Elaine of Astolat, a young maiden who fell in unrequited love with one of Arthur's knights, in his poem 'The Lady of Shalott'; and, more recently, Disney and Hollywood have turned their hand to Camelot. Many came to know King Arthur through Disney's The Sword in the Stone, and in 2017 Guy Ritchie released a blockbuster which has Arthur growing up in a brothel before getting swept up in political intrigue. But who was King Arthur? Where did these legends come from? And what makes Arthurian literature so appealing to a modern audience?

HRG Group, Inc., formerly Harbinger Group Inc. and Zapata Corporation retrieved from wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Early business history

The company traces its origins to Zapata Petroleum Corporation, founded in 1953 by future U.S. President George H. W. Bush, along with his business partners John Overbey, Hugh Liedtke, Bill Liedtke, and Thomas J. Devine. Overbey was a “landman” skilled in scouting oil fields and obtaining drilling rights cheaply. Bush and Thomas J. Devine were oil-wildcatting associates.[7][better source needed]

Their joint activities culminated in the establishment of Zapata Oil.[8] The company was named for Viva Zapata!, a 1952 biographical film starring Marlon Brando as Mexican revolutionary Emiliano Zapata.[9] The initial $1 million investment for Zapata was provided by the Liedtke brothers and their circle of investors, by Bush’s father Prescott Bush and his maternal grandfather George Herbert Walker, and their family’s circle of friends. Hugh Liedtke was named president, Bush was vice president; Overbey soon left.

According to a CIA internal memo dated November 29, 1975,[8] Zapata Petroleum began in 1953 through Bush’s joint efforts with Thomas J. Devine, a CIA staffer who had resigned his agency position that same year to go into private business, but who continued to work for the CIA under commercial cover. Devine would later accompany Bush to Vietnam in late 1967 as a “cleared and witting commercial asset” of the agency, acted as his informal foreign affairs advisor, and had a close relationship with him through 1975.[10]

In 1954, Zapata Off-Shore Company was formed as a subsidiary of Zapata Oil, with Bush as president of the new company. He raised some startup money from Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post, and his son-in-law, Philip Graham.[11][12]

His memos specifically requested information on Oswald, Jack Ruby, and others linked to the assassination. In her book The Family: The Real Story of the Bush Dynasty, author Kitty Kelley writes that:

> “Years later, when [Bush] became President of the United States, he would deny making any attempt to review the agency files on the JFK assassination… when he made this claim, he did not realize that the agency would release 18 documents [under the Freedom of Information Act] that showed he had indeed, as CIA director, requested information-not once, but several times-on a wide range of questions surrounding the Kennedy assassination.”

Bush CENTCOM led False Flag and a reason to invade Cuba

Then there is the business of the November 29, 1963 memo from the Director of the Department of State's Bureau of Intelligence and Research to J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI Director. The subject is "Assassination of President John F. Kennedy, November 22, 1963." The memo states:

> Our Miami, Florida, Office on November 23, 1963, advised that the Office of Coordinator of Cuban Affairs in Miami advised that the Department of State feels some misguided anti-Castro group might capitalize on the present situation and undertake an unauthorized raid against Cuba, believing that the assassination of President John F. Kennedy might herald a change in U.S. policy.
> Our sources and informants familiar with Cuban matters in the Miami area advise that the general feeling in the anti-Castro Cuban community is one of stunned disbelief and, even among those who did not entirely agree with the President's policy concerning Cuba, the feeling is that the President's death represents a great loss not only to the U.S. but to all of Latin America. These sources know of no plans for unauthorized action against Cuba.
> An informant who has furnished reliable information in the past and who is close to a small pro-Castro group in Miami has advised that these individuals are afraid that the > assassination of the President may result in strong repressive measures being taken against them and, although pro-Castro in their feelings, regret the assassination.

QuoteJFK WikiLeaks Vault 7 Password: 'I Will Splinter the CIA Into a Thousand Pieces'

SplinterItIntoAThousandPiecesAndScatterItIntoTheWinds

This morning, >WikiLeaks tweeted the decryption passphrase for the CIA Vault 7 leak. The password is, "I will splinter the CIA into a thousand pieces and scatter it into the wind," a quote credited to President John F. Kennedy.

The quote was given to a Times journalist in the 1960s by a Kennedy administration official and published in the New York Times on April 25, 1966 in an articvle titled "C.I.A.: Maker of Policy, or Tool?" Read it here.

The above video references the JFK quote at the 2:50-mark.

The 6:15-minute video centers on Samuel Halpern discussing JFK's relationship with the Central Intelligence Agency. Halpern was involved in the investigation of the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Halpern says that the CIA is not all bad, but that the organization is highly individualistic.

The video focuses on Kennedy's relationship with Cuba prior to his assassination by Lee Harvey Oswald and discusses Operation Northwoods, a proposed false flag operation against the Fidel Castro regime, that originated within the U.S. Department of Defense. According to ABC News, "the plans reportedly included the possible assassination of Cuban émigrés, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas, hijacking planes, blowing up a U.S. ship, and even orchestrating violent terrorism in U.S. cities."

Kennedy refused the plan, but the CIA still wanted to deal with Cuba.

In the video, Halpern says he could never figure out why the CIA wanted to punish Cuba so badly but that he thought maybe it had to do with hubris. It's then stated that JFK was finding it increasingly difficult to keep former Director of Central Intelligence Allen Dulles "in line" and that the agency was becoming a "state within the state."

A month before he was assassinated, the quote used for today's WikiLeaks decryption passphrase was uttered by JFK, "I will splinter the CIA into a thousand pieces and scatter it into the wind."

The way Kinzer tells the story, Gottlieb was itching to contribute his skills to this research. He had wanted to join the war effort but was refused because of his club foot. According to Kinzer, Gottlieb felt indebted to the country that provided a safe home for his parents and made his academic education possible.

The United States was not the only country researching new warfare techniques. Nazi scientists also worked on chemical weapons, infamously experimenting on prisoners for their research. An unknown number of such scientists - who according to the Nuremberg criteria should have been punished for crimes against humanity after 1945 - received a new life in the United States in return for information.

Whenever a scientist had a “blemished” past, as Kinzer observes, US officials rewrote his biography, systematically expunging “references to membership in the SS, collaboration with the Gestapo, abuse of slave laborers and experiments on human subjects.” This was Operation Paperclip - named after the paperclips used to mark the files of the scientists that were brought over to the United States (over seven hundred in total).

Nazi war criminals were not the only source of US knowledge. Japanese scientists who had worked with Unit 731, the secret chemical and biological warfare research unit of the Imperial Japanese Army, also benefited from secret deals. The history of Unit 731 is even less transparent than that of its Nazi equivalents. What we do know is the stuff of nightmares. Unit 731 subjected prisoners to vivisection and organ removal without anesthesia to study the effects of various diseases on humans.

The “Miracle of Chile” was a term used by economist Milton Friedman to describe the reorientation of the Chilean economy in the 1980s and the effects of the economic policies applied by a large group of Chilean economists who collectively came to be known as the Chicago Boys, having studied at the University of Chicago where Friedman taught. He said the “Chilean economy did very well, but more importantly, in the end the central government, the military junta, was replaced by a democratic society. So the really important thing about the Chilean business is that free markets did work their way in bringing about a free society.”[1] The junta to which Friedman refers was a military government that came to power in a 1973 coup d’état, which came to an end in 1990 after a democratic 1988 plebiscite removed Augusto Pinochet from the presidency.

n 1972, Chile’s inflation was at 150%. According to Hernán Büchi, several factors such as expropriations, price controls, and protectionism caused these economic problems. At the same time, the United States conducted a campaign to deepen the inflation crisis. The Central Bank increased the > money supply to pay for the increasing deficit. Büchi states that this increase was the primary cause for inflation.

Helms’ notes from his September 15, 1970 meeting contain the indication: “Make the economy scream.” A week later Ambassador Edward Korry reported telling outgoing Chilean president Eduardo Frei Montalva, through his Defense Minister, that “not a nut or bolt would be allowed to reach Chile under Allende.”

In my case those who might benefit from claims against a (now, after years of racial assaults on me) White Supremacist and White Seperatist are in the roles of Agent Provocatuers and fake being me as they commit offensive acts upon the public or their own planted victims.

Black Nationalists, Gays, or cognitively impaired have “bought” themselves white models as “pornography” by claiming they have my DNA rights to settle claims against peeped at white women, the peeper being the drug addict or criminal who is an Agent Provocateur in my identity.

My premise, my assertion, my Hypothesis is that I have been targeted for then blamed for racial and sexual assaults (including and especially in religion and politics) via espionage because vested agencies and interests need to affirm illegal racial reproductivity programs of the Sidney Gottlieb MKULTRA era and ongoing religious inter racial genomic programs decades long in place around the world.

Introduction to an Espionage Scheme Centered on Racial Assaults, Manufactured Pretexts for Assaults, and Racial or Cultural Appropriation Through Assault

Real Harm Real Foul Dot Com

My mother and I had been the subject of escalating bizzare racial assaults and hostile parties always in arguments with us; though, oddly, not anyone you would suspect.

Examples would be the pharmacy which would frequently be wrong, though sometimes my mother and I would be as well, but that only further confused the picture.

I remember it first happening at a place called Four Wheel Brake in Walnut Creek California during the early 1980s. It was a place my family regularly relied on during the 1970s and into the 1980 and they knew us and we knew them.

After the 1980 divorce my mother continued to use them and I saw what I now know to be a Gangstalk at that location but I do not know if Four Wheel Brake was complicit.

A massive argument erupted as a person became trapped, or nearly trapped, between her backing car and another car. In the screaming match that ensued I tried to calm my mother feeling she was ineffective and I complimented myself in thinking she was backing up and thus responsible.

But in fact I could also see it was some swarm of connected people yet did not seem to visibly have any connection to each other and I was very worried about that.

For most of the 40 years of her life, myself living with her during many of my post 2000 years, she was in her apartment saying “They are just at me. The are just at me” and trying to calm me from the noises outside and told me it was mere foot traffic she had grown used to, but she had not and any sound frightened her including squeezed closed soda plastic bottles that unfolded themselves suddenly in the trash.

In the workplace of Wells Fargo about year 200) I came to a “civil rights” resolution with myself black nationalism had come to far and this included in the workplace.

I openly told stories to those I worked with and those I partied with about reverse racism I was experiencing.

In the 1980s in business school I had been taught about “the old boys network” of established businessmen who worked with each other and left others out, creating the glass ceiling.

You were one of them, or instead you were not and you just didn’t ever seem to rise to the Executive Club upstairs.

In fact that is all I ever experienced across many years and frequently told, accurately, this story.

> I would be sitting in this meeting and be the most qualified person there and the correct person for the issue. There may well have been a black in the room also or later introduced into the meeting.
> Inevitably some other black would show up, one I had no knowledge of, and exchange business cards with the other black and head out to coffee or something. At Wells Fargo it also happened with gays.

I had always both noticed and resented that particularly as an offensive and hostile lesbian named Austin Woods was particular cheap shotting me as an Irish drunk, and who lacked even minimum qualifications, but was used to take over anything I was doing, though I had always been fair to her in just the same way I would have been fair to anyone else.

This was even true as I was leaving the Host Intrusion Detection Sensor (HIDS) Team lead to become the Network Intrusion Detection Sensor) Team lead. At Wells Fargo it was iNIDS because it was for the internal computer systems, not penetration defenses as the perimeter, a different group.

There was a person, a relative of my boss Greg Roll, who was preplanned to replace me.

A nice and respectful coworker he met the requirements easily to do the job. But so did Austin Woods and Bree Elliot, Bree my first choice and truly more qualified than Austin many fold over on engineering skills.

I pulled both asside, individually, and let them now a plan existed to replace me with someone else but if they wanted their hat in ring for the job I would help put it there.

The totality of racial predation I was experiencing in and out of the workplace led me to Sociology and theories of Radicalization Against “Establishment Whites” that existed as Seattle Public Schools and other areas of society.

Racial Cultural Assaults Upon me and Racial and Cultural Co-option of My Works and Political Theory

I was repeatedly fighting the co-option of my work by those I was criticizing as they merely contorted my substantial theories into their faddism and assaulted me as retarded or assaulted me on many other phony pretexts such as planting and faking pedophilia, etc., and then they wishing to become my replacement.

Exposition

In the face of covert operations harassing me through my life I have responded with openness espousing racial antagonism towards me or whites generally is undue and I have nothing to fear in my theories that non whites should consider whites may be wrongly blamed for non white lesser outcomes, and distributions of genes and poor cultural trends in black communities need consideration to understand resultant black life.

In political rights do US, The New and Duex Electro, etc., I continue to be targeted under espionage, assaulted, and co-opted for beliefs and aesthetics not only law abiding but of Constitutional consistency and of enough popular appeal it has been co-opted from me by competing interests who distort it as in support of them.

What public figures could be tied to MKULTRA, Columbia University, Chicago or Boston, or February 20 November 18 December 13?

Could people with civil, military service, and academic records every be “dirty?” or are they living in a government where the records were destroyed by William Barr and others?

WASHINGTON - Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro N. Mayorkas delivered the Oath of Office to John Tien, the new Deputy Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. Release Date: June 28, 2021

"John Tien is a retired U.S. Army Colonel whose distinguished military career spanned 24 years, and someone who knows what it means to truly safeguard our Nation," said Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro N. Mayorkas. "I am proud to have John as a partner in leading the Department of Homeland Security, as we work together to support our incredible colleagues and protect the Nation. I also want to thank former Senior Official Performing the Duties of Deputy Secretary David Pekoske for his service. I am grateful for the great work that David has accomplished throughout the past several months, and I am thankful that he will continue to serve our Department as he returns to his leadership of the Transportation Security Administration."

"I am deeply gratified to return to public service and honored to serve as Deputy Secretary for the Department of Homeland Security," said Deputy Secretary of Homeland Security John Tien. "I look forward to the opportunity to serve our country again and working with Secretary Mayorkas to support our workforce and strengthen the Department."

Prior to joining the Department of Homeland Security, Deputy Secretary Tien spent ten years serving in senior executive roles in the critical infrastructure financial services sector as a managing director at Citigroup. He previously served in the Obama Administration as the National Security Council Senior Director for Afghanistan and Pakistan, the Bush Administration as the National Security Council Director for Iraq, and the Clinton Administration as a White House Fellow in the Office of the United States Trade Representative.

> The New York Times disclosed that an official of the U.S. Air Force had set up an unauthorized military intelligence spy ring in Pakistan and Afghanistan, run by Lockheed Martin and funded by defense appropriations. *

At the United States Military Academy at West Point, Tien was the first Asian American to ever serve as the First Captain and Brigade Commander, West Point's top ranked cadet position. For the next 24 years, he served as a U.S. Army combat arms officer, retiring in 2011 at the rank of Colonel. His military decorations include the Bronze Star Medal with one oak leaf cluster, the Combat Action Badge, and the Valorous Unit Award.

Tien was confirmed by a bipartisan vote in the United States Senate on June 17. He is the first Asian American to serve as Deputy Secretary of Homeland Security.

Duane Ramsdell "Dewey" Clarridge (April 16, 1932 - April 9, 2016)

Duane Ramsdell Clarridge went to the private college preparatory Peddie School for high school,[6] and then went to the Ivy League Brown University. For graduate school he went to Columbia University's Graduate School of International Affairs and joined the CIA in 1955.

Clarridge operated a "private spying operation … from poolside at his home near San Diego."[3] Colleagues said that Clarridge viewed the CIA "largely with contempt."[3] He has "likened his operation, called the Eclipse Group, to the Office of Strategic Services, the C.I.A.'s World War II precursor."

In November 2015, Trip Gabriel of The New York Times reported that Clarridge was a top adviser to the Ben Carson presidential campaign on terrorism and national security.[12] Clarridge was quoted as indicating that Carson struggled to grasp foreign policy, and could not grasp "one iota of intelligent information about the Middle East."\

The Carson campaign released a statement charging the Times with taking advantage of "an elderly gentleman."[12] Carson subsequently replied: "He's not my adviser. He is not my adviser. He is a person who has come in on a couple of our sessions to offer his opinions about what was going on… To call himself my adviser would be a great stretch, and he has no idea who else I'm sitting down and talking to."

Clarridge died at the age of 83, a week short of his 84th birthday in Leesburg, Virginia on April 9, 2016 from complications of esophageal cancer.[2][11] In his last interview, Clarridge hinted that Reagan's October Surprise may have been real.[14]

Bush pardons Iran-Contra felons, Dec. 24, 1992 retrieved from Politico and copied or modified to here

With his term soon to expire, on this day in 1992, President George H.W. Bush pardoned Caspar Weinberger, the former secretary of Defense, and five others, absolving them from any further punishment for their illegal dealings in the Reagan-era Iran-Contra scandal.

During President Ronald Reagan's second term, senior administration officials secretly facilitated the sale of arms to Iran, which was under an arms embargo. The administration sought to use the proceeds of the arms sale to fund the Contras in Nicaragua, an insurgent group engaged in a guerrilla war against the anti-American regime. Congress had precluded any further funding of the Contras by the administration.

On March 4, 1987, in a televised address from the Oval Office, Reagan said: "I take full responsibility for my own actions and for those of my administration. As angry as I may be about activities undertaken without my knowledge, I am still accountable for those activities. As disappointed as I may be in some who served me, I'm still the one who must answer to the American people for this behavior."

Congress, which was in Democratic hands, issued a report on Nov. 18, 1987, stating that "If the president did not know what his national security advisers were doing, he should have." The lawmakers held that the president bore "ultimate responsibility" for wrongdoing by his aides, and his administration exhibited "secrecy, deception, and disdain for the law."

The report concluded: "There is some question and dispute about precisely the level at which [Reagan] chose to follow the operational details. There is no doubt, however … [that] the president set the U.S. policy towards Nicaragua, with few if any ambiguities, and then left subordinates more or less free to implement it."

On June 16, 1992, Weinberger was indicted on two counts of perjury and one count of obstruction of justice. Bush pardoned him before his trial. Robert McFarlane, Reagan's national security adviser, was convicted of withholding evidence, but after a plea bargain he faced two years of probation before Bush's pardon came though.

Bush also pardoned Elliott Abrams, the assistant secretary of state, who was convicted of withholding evidence and received two years' probation; Duane Clarridge, a former CIA senior official, who had been indicted on seven counts of perjury and false statements; Clair George, chief of CIA covert operations, who had been convicted on two charges of perjury and had yet to be sentenced; and Alan Fiers, chief of the CIA's Central American Task Force, who had been convicted of withholding evidence and sentenced to one year's probation.

During Bush's 1988 presidential campaign, he denied any knowledge of the Iran-Contra affair, asserting that as Reagan's vice president he was "out of the loop." Although in his diaries Bush wrote he was "one of the few people that knew fully the details," he refused to discuss it.

The Beatles, also known as the White Album retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Beatles, also known as the White Album, is the ninth studio album by the English rock band the Beatles, released on 22 NOVEMBER 1968.

The White Albun contains embossed label

King Edward III founded the Order of the Garter around the time of his claim to the French throne

Up until the middle part of the 20th century, it was customary to wear Tudor style under-dress, consisting of white silk embroidered doublet, breeches, full hose, white doeskin pumps with satin bows and a sword belt with sword, under the robes. Nowadays, morning dress or a lounge suit is worn, except for coronations when Tudor under-dress is worn by the canopy-bearers.

:A satin weave is a type of fabric weave that produces a characteristically glossy, smooth or lustrous material, typically with a glossy top surface and a dull back. It is one of three fundamental types of textile weaves alongside plain weave and twill weave. Weaving has been a source of British pride and a major source of conflict with India and its weavers and loomers.

A satin weave is a type of fabric weave that produces a characteristically glossy, smooth or lustrous material, typically with a glossy top surface and a dull back. It is one of three fundamental types of textile weaves alongside plain weave and twill weave.

It stands as the only double album released by the band. Featuring a plain white sleeve, the cover contains no graphics or text other than the band’s name embossed.[a] This was intended as a direct contrast to the vivid cover artwork of the band’s previous LP Sgt. Pepper’s Lonely Hearts Club Band. The Beatles is recognised for its fragmentary style and diverse range of genres, including folk, British blues, ska, music hall and the avant-garde. It has since been viewed by some critics as a postmodern work, as well as among the greatest albums of all time.

Lady Bugs (Found by sense of touch below white satin): The Coccinellidae family is commonly known as ladybugs in North America and ladybirds in Great Britain and other parts of the English-speaking world. Entomologists prefer the names ladybird beetles or lady beetles as these insects are not classified as true bugs.

Harvey Phillip Spector works: 1962-1965: Bob B. Soxx & the Blue Jeans, the Ronettes, and the Righteous Brothers

In 1962, Spector briefly took a job as an A&R producer for Liberty Records.[36] It was while working at Liberty that he heard a song written by Gene Pitney, for whom he had produced a number 41 hit, “Every Breath I Take”, a year earlier. “He’s a Rebel” was due to be released on Liberty by Vikki Carr, but Spector rushed into Gold Star Studios and recorded a cover version using Darlene Love and the Blossoms on lead vocals. The record was released on Philles, attributed to the Crystals, and quickly rose to the top of the charts.

GENE Francis Alan Pitney (FEBRUARY 17, 1940 - APRIL 5, 2006)[3] was an American singer-songwriter and musician. *

The Ronettes, 1966. Spector married frontwoman Veronica Bennett (center) in 1968. By the time “He’s a Rebel” went to number 1, Lester Sill was out of the company, and Spector had Philles all to himself. He created a new act, Bob B. Soxx & the Blue Jeans, featuring Darlene Love, Fanita James (a member of the Blossoms), and Bobby Sheen, a singer he had worked with at Liberty. The group had hits with “Zip-a-Dee-Doo-Dah” (number 8), “Why Do Lovers Break Each Other’s Heart” (number 38), and “Not Too Young to Get Married” (number 63). Spector also released solo material by Darlene Love in 1963. In the same year, he released “Be My Baby” by the Ronettes, which went to number 2.

The first time Spector put the same amount of effort into an LP as he did into 45s was when he utilized the full Philles roster and the Wrecking Crew to make what he felt would become a hit for the 1963 Christmas season. A Christmas Gift for You from Philles Records was released a few days after the assassination of President Kennedy in November 1963.

I Dream of Jeannie (1967, “Jeannie, the Hip Hippie” - season 3, episode 6): Phil Spector made a cameo as himself. Jeannie decides she wants to be a pop star and enlists Spector for help. Though referred to by the characters throughout the episode as “Phil Spector”, the credit roll lists “Phil Spector as ‘Steve Davis’”

The Most Excellent Order of the British Empire is a British order of chivalry, rewarding contributions to the arts and sciences, work with charitable and welfare organisations, and public service outside the civil service.[2] It was established on 4 June 1917 by King George V and comprises five classes across both civil and military divisions, with the most senior two classes making the recipient either a knight

if male or dame if female.[3] There is also the related British Empire Medal, whose recipients are affiliated with, but not members of the order.

Steve Davis, Order of the British Empire (OBE) (born 22 August 1957) is an English retired professional snooker player from Plumstead, London. He is best known for dominating the sport during the 1980s, when he reached eight World Snooker Championship finals in nine years, won six world titles, and held the world number one ranking for seven consecutive seasons.

Snooker is a cue sport that was first played by British Army officers stationed in India in the second half of the 19th century. It is played on a rectangular table covered with a green cloth called baize, with six pockets: one at each corner and one in the middle of each long side. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Lana Jean Clarkson (APRIL 5, 1962 - February 3, 2003) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Lana Jean Clarksonwas an American actress and fashion model. During the 1980s, she rose to prominence in several sword-and-sorcery films. In 2003, she was shot and killed inside the home of record producer Phil Spector, who was charged with second-degree murder and convicted in 2009.

As an actress, Clarkson became best known for her five feature films for producer Roger Corman,[3] beginning with his fantasy film Deathstalker (1983), as a female warrior and love interest to the title character played by Richard Hill.[2] Corman oriented his films towards young male viewers, using a mix of action and female nudity. Clarkson's work in Deathstalker led to her being offered the title role in Corman's next film, Barbarian Queen (1985), a role Corman referred to as "the original Xena" because of the parallel in featuring a strong female leading character in an action-oriented sword-swinging role.

In 1987, Clarkson appeared in the John Landis spoof Amazon Women on the Moon. Following that, Clarkson starred in Roger Corman’s Barbarian Queen sequel, Barbarian Queen II: The Empress Strikes Back.

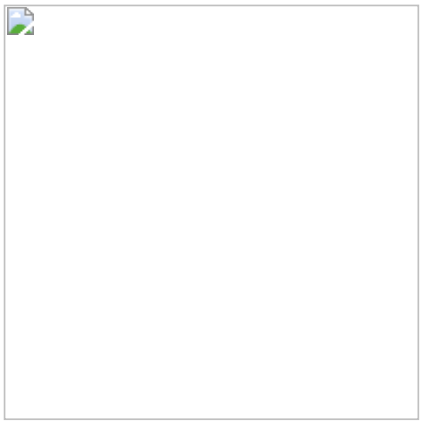
THE ASSASSINATIONS: PROBE MAGAZINE ON JFK, MLK, RFK AND MALCOLM X



“Throughout the ‘90s, Lisa Pease and Jim DiEugenio covered the issues and reported on new developments in the JFK, MLK and RFK assassination cases in remarkable depth. Their book is a must-read to understand how these leaders were systematically eliminated.

It is a unique volume in the literature on this subject.” - William Turner, former FBI agent and co-author of Deadly Secrets “Jim DiEugenio and Lisa Pease are archaeologists of our secret history. This volume of collected articles from Probe is a revelation to the uninitiated, a necessary witness for the rest of us, and a lasting testament to their research and courage over the years.” - Oliver Stone, director of JFK “Here is the Rite of Spring of assassination investigations.

It launches huge masses of new detail, bends your mind in twelve different directions, swallows you whole, and spits you out into a steaming landscape where two different Lee Oswalds are inexorably making their way toward Dallas to change American history forever.” - Jon Rappoport, author, investigative reporter “Collaboratively compiled, organized and edited by James DiEugenio and Lisa Pease, The Assassinations is an extensive collection of articles drawn from Probe magazine concerning the murders of President John Kennedy, the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., Robert Kennedy and Malcolm X.

A questing compendium of tantalizing truths, cover-ups, obvious and hidden motives, and the struggle to track trails and pin down culprits, The Assassinations is a fascinating, involving, informative and occasionally iconoclastic resource especially recommended to the attention of conspiracy buffs." - Midwest Book Review "(T)he book is beautifully argued and boasts a phenomenal amount of brow furrowing facts and insight.

The Assassinations is definitely one for those that can handle the truth." - Dazed & Confused "Thought-provoking… One of the most chilling books you're likely to ever read." - Pasadena Weekly "Probing deep into four hidden histories… the material released should dispel any notions of 'lone nuts' or coincidence not merely in the JFK assassination, but in the assassinations of Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr., and Robert Kennedy as well…

These articles cut a clear path through the thick jungle of disinformation that has grown around these events and expose the truly hideous teratomas that thrive and bloom under the canopy of 'national security'… Feral House is to be commended on their courage for publishing this book in these dark times." - New York Press

"Pours new fuel into the ongoing furor vis-a-vis snafus, cover-ups, conspiracies, and alternative endings to the most famous American assassination cases of the last 50 years." - Anneli Rufus "Steering clear of potentially crackpot theories, the editors dedicate themselves to the presentation of facts that deconstruct and devastate such insulting documents as the Warren Report… Perhaps after reading The Assassinations, the American public will pressure Congress to initiate a full-scale investigation into the Bush administration's complicity in the 9/11 assassinations and various other crimes.

For now, readers' understanding of the 'cataclysmic homicide' of JFK and other potential and actual revolutionaries will be inevitably deepened by this impressive work." - Jaye Beldo, Rain Taxi People's Pick: "Thought-provoking… one of the most chilling books you're likely to ever read." - LA Alternative Press "In the wake of the failures of the Warren Commission, we are fortunate that independent scholars like Jim DiEugenio and Lisa Pease have displayed a desire to pursue the truth in regards to the assassinations of President Kennedy and those that occurred thereafter. The American people will be well served by closely reading their work on these important events." - Robert Tannenbaum, Deputy Counsel, House Select Committee on Assassinations and Assistant Chief of Homicide, New York District Attorney's Office

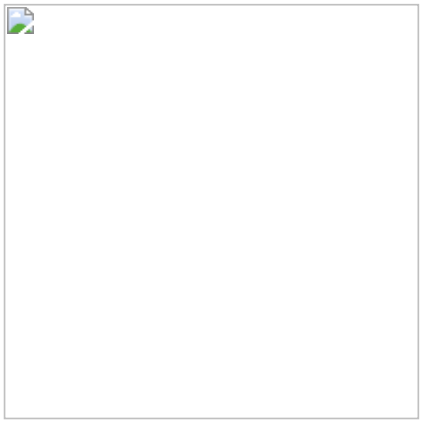
A LIE TOO BIG TO FAIL: THE REAL HISTORY OF THE ASSASSINATION OF ROBERT F. KENNEDY



In A Lie Too Big to Fail, longtime Kennedy researcher (of both JFK and RFK) Lisa Pease lays out, in meticulous detail, how witnesses with evidence of conspiracy were silenced by the Los Angeles Police Department; how evidence was deliberately altered and, in some instances, destroyed; and how the justice system and the media failed to present the truth of the case to the public. Pease reveals how the trial was essentially a sham, and how the prosecution did not dare to follow where the evidence led. A Lie Too Big to Fail asserts the idea that a government can never investigate itself in a crime of this magnitude. Was the convicted Sirhan Sirhan a willing participant? Or was he a mind-controlled assassin? It has fallen to independent researchers like Pease to lay out the evidence in a clear and concise manner, allowing readers to form their theories about this event. Pease places the history of this event in the context of the era and provides shocking overlaps between other high-profile murders and attempted murders of the time. Lisa Pease goes further than anyone else in proving who likely planned the assassination, who the assassination team members were, and why Kennedy was deemed such a threat that he had to be taken out before he became President of the United States.

DESTINY BETRAYED: JFK, CUBA, AND THE GARRISON CASE

Twenty years ago, before the ages of Obama and Trump, James DiEugenio wrote the first edition of Destiny Betrayed. In this second edition of Destiny Betrayed, he returns to familiar topics and introduces new information. What was the truth, and what were the lies? What were the inside politics of Kennedy's America? This book is an investigative look at these questions and more. The author focuses equally on Kennedy and Garrison, providing a unique insight into the Garrison inquiry.

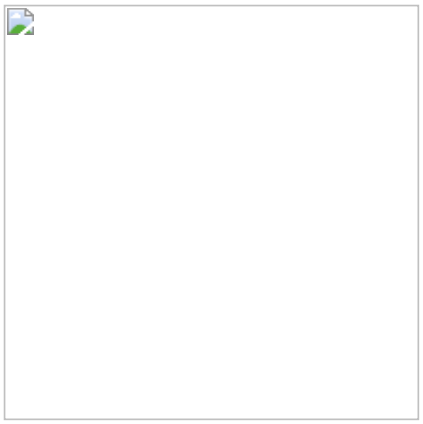
DiEugenio updates all of the topics that he introduced in 1992 with the first edition of Destiny Betrayed. He has used the declassification process of the Assassination Records Review Board (ARRB) to gain the most current and accurate information on subjects including Clay Shaw and the Garrison investigation; US-Cuban policy from 1957 to 1963; the newly exposed mistaken beliefs of the Warren Commission; Kennedy's challenge to the Cold War consensus in 1961 and where he came up with that challenge; and more. The author primarily emphasizes the New Orleans aspects of the Kennedy murder investigation, the Garrison inquiry, and the new and secret data that strengthens Garrison's case.

RECLAIMING PARKLAND: TOM HANKS, VINCENT BUGLIOSI, AND THE JFK ASSASSINATION IN THE NEW HOLLYWOOD



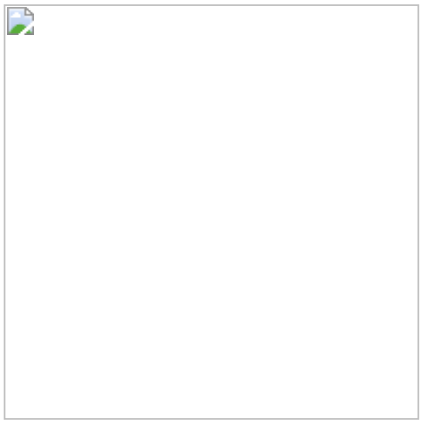
New foreword by J.F.K. director Oliver Stone

Reclaiming Parkland details the failed attempt of Academy Award-winning actor Tom Hanks and producer Gary Goetzman to make Vincent Bugliosi's mammoth book about the Kennedy assassination, Reclaiming History, into a miniseries. It exposes the questionable origins of Reclaiming History in a dubious mock trial for cable television, in which Bugliosi played the role of an attorney prosecuting Lee Harvey Oswald for murder, and how this formed the basis for the epic tome.

Author James DiEugenio details the myriad problems with Bugliosi's book, and explores the cooperation of the mainstream press in concealing many facts during the publicity campaign for the book and how this lack of scrutiny led Hanks and Goetzman-cofounders of the production company Playtone-to purchase the film rights. DiEugenio then shows how the film adapted from that book, entitled Parkland, does not resemble Bugliosi's book and examines why.

This book reveals the connections between Washington and Hollywood, as well as the CIA influence in the film colony today. It includes an extended look at the little-known aspects of the lives and careers of Bugliosi, Hanks, and Goetzman. Reclaiming Parkland sheds light on the Kennedy assassination, New Hollywood, and the political influence on media in America.

JFK VS. ALLEN DULLES: BATTLEGROUND INDONESIA



For those interested in the assassination of JFK, the untold story of Indonesia, gold, JFK, Allen Dulles, the CIA, and secret military coups.

Two of the most fascinating figures in history, John F. Kennedy, thirty-fifth president of the United States, and Allen Dulles, our nation's longest-serving CIA director, often clashed over intelligence issues and national security. However, one such conflict has remained in the shadows until now. JFK vs. Allen Dulles: Battleground Indonesia takes reader to the vast archipelago 3350 miles wide where this secret showdown occurred.

In 1936, an Allen Dulles-established company discovered the world's largest gold deposit in remote Netherlands New Guinea. In 1962, President Kennedy intervened, and Netherlands New Guinea was added to President Sukarno's Indonesia. Neither Sukarno nor JFK was aware of the gold, since Dulles had not informed Kennedy.

Dulles planned a complicated and ruthless CIA regime-change strategy to seize control not only of Indonesia itself, but also of its vast resources, including the gold. This strategy included a push to start Malaysian Confrontation. Yet Kennedy's plan to visit Jakarta in early 1964 would have sunk Dulles' master plan, which included the destruction of the Indonesian communist party as a wedge to split Moscow and Beijing. Only an assassin's bullet put an end to Kennedy's plan of peace. Did Allen Dulles arrange for JFK to be killed to save his plan and his gold? Was his coup for gold successful with JFK out of the picture?

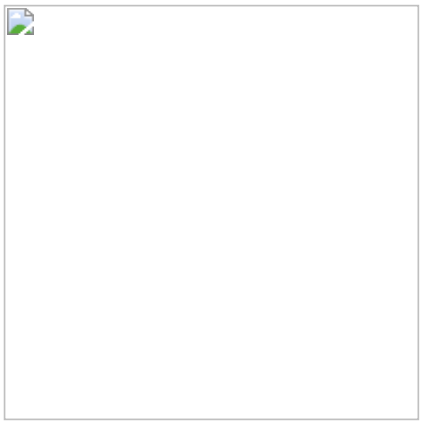
Using archival records as a basis, Greg Poulgrain adds word-of-mouth evidence from those people who were directly involved-such as Dean Rusk and others who worked with President Kennedy and Allen Dulles at the time; or the person who was with Michael Rockefeller when he mysteriously disappeared in West New Guinea during this whole affair.

THE JFK ASSASSINATION



In this updated edition, author James DiEugenio dissects the Oscar-nominated Tom Hanks / Meryl Streep film, The Post, and how it disingenuously represents the Pentagon Papers saga. He reveals the connections between Washington and Hollywood, as well as the CIA influence on the movie industry.

The story of the film stems from the failed attempt of Academy Award-winning actor Tom Hanks and producer Gary Goetzman to make Vincent Bugliosi's mammoth book about the Kennedy assassination, Reclaiming History, into a miniseries. He exposes the questionable origins of Reclaiming History in a dubious mock trial for cable television, in which Bugliosi played the role of an attorney prosecuting Lee Harvey Oswald for murder, and how this formed the basis for the epic tome.

JFK: The Evidence Today lists the myriad problems with Bugliosi's book and explores the cooperation of the mainstream press in concealing many facts during the publicity campaign for the book and how this lack of scrutiny led Hanks and Goetzman-cofounders of the production company Playtone-to purchase the film rights. DiEugenio then shows how the failed film adapted from that book, entitled Parkland, does not resemble Bugliosi’s book and examines why.

It includes an extended look at the little-known aspects of the lives and careers of Bugliosi, Hanks, and Goetzman. JFK: The Evidence Today sheds light on the Kennedy assassination, New Hollywood, and political influence on media in America.

he Battle of Midway was an epic clash between the U.S. Navy and the Imperial Japanese Navy that played out six months after the attack on Pearl Harbor. The U.S. Navy’s decisive victory in the air-sea battle (June 3-6, 1942) and its successful defense of the major base located at Midway Island dashed Japan’s hopes of neutralizing the United States as a naval power and effectively turned the tide of World War II in the Pacific. https://www.history.com/topics/world-war-ii/battle-of-midway

Particularly in the first year or two of the Feb 20 1961 test fertilization, one year later, Feb 20 1961, or 9 months later, November 18 1961 were dates tied to a racial test birth, Barack Obama Jr, and meetings and info drops that matched those dates were probably understood by those in the know.

Some of those would be “Galactic Aliens” as they loosely call themselves, space people not tied to any country but watching above and chatting in fairly simple code and numbers they tend to recognize as tied to certain subjects like the MKULTRA birth of OBama.

These “Galactic Aliens” are Illuminati Overlords, most likely in joking self reference, but university professors, et., in DARPA connected networks, etc., including Stone Masons and Free Masonry plans.

The Windsors seem to be referred to as Annuki.

NASA Langley?

Established in 1917 by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), the research center devotes two-thirds of its programs to aeronautics, and the rest to space. LaRC researchers use more than 40 wind tunnels to study and improve aircraft and spacecraft safety, performance, and efficiency. Between 1958 and 1963, when NASA (the successor agency to NACA) started Project Mercury, LaRC served as the main office of the Space Task Group.

After US-German relations had deteriorated from neutral to hostile around 1916, the prospect of U.S. war entry became possible. On February 15, 1917, the newly established Aviation Week warned that the U.S. military aviation capability was less than what was operating in the European war.[5] President Woodrow Wilson sent Jerome Hunsaker to Europe to investigate, and Hunsaker's report prompted Wilson to command the creation of the nation's first aeronautics laboratory, which became NASA Langley.[6]

MONKEY ME, MONKEY YOU First part-human, part-monkey embryo created by scientists sparks outcry

Charlotte Edwards, Digital Technology and Science Reporter, The Sun www.the-sun.com

THE FIRST part-human, part-monkey embryo has been created by scientists in California despite ethical concerns.

Researchers have grown human stem cells in monkey embryos to try and better understand how the cells communicate..

Some people are totally against this kind of experimentation and think it could lead the way to “human-nonhuman” creatures.

The controversial embryos were made at the Salk Institute in California.

They’re scientifically known as monkey-human chimeras.

Human stem cells, known for the ability to become different types of cells, were injected into macaque embryos in a petri dish.

The scientists hope their work could be used to create organs for transplants and teach us more about human development and disease progression.

Professor Juan Carlos Izpisua Belmonte led the research.

He also worked on the first human-pig hybrid in 2017.

He said: “These chimeric approaches could be really very useful for advancing biomedical research not just at the very earliest stage of life, but also the latest stage of life.”

Likely true good medicine will be derived from this research, but the Salk institute is still creepy and perhaps unbalanced in regard to Chrisitian obsession with non cord cells and Lay Miracles.

Fifty Years Ago
Talk given at: Morning Star Lodge #159, Jefferson IA by Jay Cole Simser, Ames, Iowa on April 29, 2004

I have been asked to speak to you tonight on the occasion of your attaining Fifty Years as a Mason. That is quite a milestone. Our world was quite different then. Freemasonry was quite different at that time, you had to be 21 years old before you could petition and join the Lodge. You had to study and memorize to pass from degree to degree and each of you invested a lot of time and effort in order to be able to call yourself a Master Mason. It was a major accomplishment and you are to be congratulated for it. You are also to be given hearty congratulations for remaining in this wonderful fraternity all these years and giving your support to its wonderful work.
The year 1954 when you were raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason was a year that brought many changes and milestones to the world. Join me for a trip down memory lane.
The cost of a first class stamp was only $.03. Federal spending was $70.86 billion The Federal debt was only $270.8 billion and unemployment stood at 2.9%.
The President of the United State was Dwight D. Eisenhower and I think, “everybody liked Ike” His Vice President was Richard M. Nixon and they probably liked him then also.
The population of the world was 2.728 billion, that of the US 163,025,854. Life expectancy was 69.6 years and the homicide rate (per 100,000) was 4.8.

The Caine Mutiny, The Country Girl, Dial M for Murder, On the Waterfront, Rear Window, Sabrina, A Star is Born, and my personal favorite Seven Brides for Seven Brothers were movies that came out that year. The Academy Award for Best Picture was awarded to From Here to Eternity.

Nasser became premier of Egypt. He closed all the Masonic Lodges in Egypt because they were sponsored by England.
The Geneva Conference was convened to bring peace to Vietnam. The country was divided at the 17th parallel, pending democratic elections.

The Army v. McCarthy inquiry was held and Senate voted in Dec. to condemn Sen. McCarthy for misconduct.

In Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka the Supreme Court unanimously banned racial segregation in public schools.

The Nobel Prize for Literature went to Ernest Hemingway and the Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to the Office of U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees

The first atomic submarine, Nautilus, was launched on Jan. 21. Five U.S. congressmen were shot on floor of House as Puerto Rican nationalists fire from spectators' gallery; all five recovered. Soviet Union granted sovereignty to East Germany

The first children received Dr. Jonas Salk's polio vaccine. Boeing tested the 707, the first jet-powered transport plane.
Some other events were the World Series was broadcast in color for the first time. Revenue for television broadcasters finally surpassed that of radio broadcasters. Gross revenue for television was $593 million.

Bill Haley and the Comets begin writing hit songs. As a white band using black-derived forms, they ventured into rock 'n' roll.

Books that came out in 1954 included

* William F. Buckley, L. Brent Bozell, McCarthy and His Enemies
* William Golding, Lord of the Flies and
J. R. R. Tolkien, The Fellowship of the Ring

The Kentucky Derby Champion was Determine and in the World Series NY Giants defeated Cleveland (4-0).
A lot happened the year you were raised to the Sublime degree of a Master Mason.

My Child, it is as the saying goes, "Three strikes and you are out!" In this case, with the three strikes, soon to come upon it, America will be out of the world scene! It will be effectively removed as Lucifer's head nation and soon, very soon, an evil and powerful leader will also fall! This leader is now Satan's head all over the Earth; so Satan will have to get a new head. But, I tell you, My Child, that he has expedited all of these things because of his continued torture of you! He has been warned! This leader has also been warned to stop the torture; but does not believe! But, soon, very soon, he shall fill his own coffin! And, though many will be shocked, few will mourn his passing!

But, what are the three strikes against this nation? My Little One, they are as follows, and these are all imminent!

1. A nuclear attack on America of great severity;
2. a total economic meltdown;
3. and, terrible upheavals in the Earth!”

In vitro fertilisation (IVF) is a process of fertilisation where an egg is combined with sperm outside the body, in vitro ("in glass") beaker if you follow the ARC of Northern Virginia hints] The process involves monitoring and stimulating a woman's ovulatory process, removing an ovum or ova (egg or eggs) from the woman's ovaries and letting sperm fertilise them in a liquid in a laboratory. After the fertilised egg (zygote) undergoes embryo culture for 2-6 days, it is implanted in the same or another woman's uterus, with the intention of establishing a successful pregnancy.

IVF is a type of assisted reproductive technology used for infertility treatment and gestational surrogacy. A fertilised egg may be implanted into a surrogate's uterus, and the resulting child is genetically unrelated to the surrogate.

Some countries banned or otherwise regulate the availability of IVF treatment, giving rise to fertility tourism

Ben Affleck retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Benjamin Géza Affleck-Boldt (born AUGUST 1, 1972) is an American actor, film director, producer, and screenwriter.

Affleck is the co-founder of the Eastern Congo Initiative, a grantmaking and advocacy-based nonprofit organization. He is also a stalwart supporter of the Democratic Party. Affleck and Damon are co-owners of the production company Pearl Street Films.

His family moved to Massachusetts when he was three,[4] living in Falmouth, where his brother Casey was born, before settling in Cambridge.[5] His mother, Christopher Anne “Chris” Boldt,[6] was a Harvard-educated elementary school teacher.[7][8] His father, Timothy Byers Affleck,[9] was an aspiring playwright[9] who was “mostly unemployed.”[10] He worked sporadically as a carpenter,[11] auto mechanic,[4] bookie,[12] electrician,[13] bartender,[14] and janitor at Harvard.[15] In the mid-1960s, he had been an actor and stage manager with the Theater Company of Boston [Founded 1963 co-founded by David Wheeler and Naomi Thornton in 1963] .

While Affleck had high SAT scores, he was largely an unfocused student with poor attendance. He spent a few months studying Spanish at the University of Vermont, chosen because of its proximity to his then-girlfriend, but left after fracturing his hip while playing basketball. Occidental College (informally Oxy) is a private liberal arts college in Los Angeles, California. Founded in 1887 as a coeducational college by clergy and members of the Presbyterian Church, it became non-sectarian in 1910. It is one of the oldest liberal arts colleges on the West Coast of the United States.

Occidental College is once again one of the top producers of Peace Corps volunteers among the country's small colleges-a reflection of its long tradition of global engagement.

Occidental is ranked No. 15 among small schools on the Peace Corps' 2019 Top Volunteer-Producing Colleges and Universities list. There are 10 Tigers currently volunteering worldwide.

More than 260 Oxy alumni have traveled abroad to serve as Peace Corps volunteers since the agency was founded in 1961.

"We have seen time and again that the colleges and universities than produce the most Peace Corps volunteers focus on cultivating global citizens in addition to promoting scholarship," says Peace Corps Director Jody Olsen.

"My interest in international development grew throughout my time at Oxy," says English and comparative literary studies major Beatrice Spirakis '15 of New York, who is currently serving as a health volunteer in Mozambique.

"I took classes in postcolonial theory, global health, human rights, and globalization and justice, all of which gave me a critical foundation with which to approach issues in the global health arena," Spirakis says. "I also had the opportunity to study in Hyderabad, India for a semester under the Richter research abroad program to explore connections between maternal and child health and improved water access. That framework combined with the international experiences Oxy offered me made the Peace Corps a good fit."

Occidental alumni are also currently serving in the Peace Corps in Indonesia, Ethiopia, Uganda, Mongolia, Benin, Ghana and Guinea.

The Peace Corps ranks its top volunteer-producing colleges and universities annually according to student body size. Among schools with fewer than 5,000 undergraduates, Oxy is tied at No. 15 with Union, Furman, Skidmore, Whitworth and St. Michael's.

In 1958, Occidental became one of the first schools to participate in the Crossroads Africa program, a privately financed precursor of the Peace Corps that sent students to underdeveloped African nations to help develop needed infrastructure. More than 160 Oxy students volunteered in the program through 1992.

FAITH TRAGEDY I: Retired missionary, daughter killed in Kenya retrieved from https://www.ncnewsonline.com and copied or modified to here

Dawson said Bill Anderson was born in Egypt of missionary parents in 1926 [the Twins Plant Years after 1925 Wembley disaster]. He attended the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and was posted to his first church, Park Presbyterian, in Beaver, Pa. in 1950. There he met Beaver native, Lois Crawford, whom he married in 1951.

Kenyan carjackers fatally shot retired missionary Lois Anderson and her daughter before the women could cooperate or pray.

Bill and Lois Anderson, retired Presbyterian Church USA missionaries, were well-known in the Shenango Presbytery and the New Wilmington area, where they stayed during furloughs from their work in Africa.

The couple was in a U.S. Embassy sport utility vehicle Saturday, along with their daughters - Zelda White and Sylvia Anderson - and White's son, Alexander. They had stopped about 12 miles outside the Kenyan capital of Nairobi along the road, awaiting the arrival of a friend who was going to lead them to his home.

Four carjackers took advantage of the opportunity the stopped vehicle presented and escaped with it, but soon abandoned it. Two of them were later killed by police, according to international news reports.

The Rev. David Dawson, executive presbyter of the Shenango Presbytery, said the Andersons, who had retired to Clinton, S.C., were in Nairobi because Zelda and her husband are stationed at the U.S. Embassy there. They were planning a family reunion, he said.

Dawson said Lois, who loved Africa, will be buried on the grounds of one of the schools there where Bill taught. A memorial service will take place in Nairobi Friday.

Cryptonyms and Digraphs

Stegonography or Secret Writing uses "cyhper" (encoded) references to "clear text" (unencoded) information.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/CIA_cryptonym

Format of cryptonyms

Each CIA cryptonym contains a two character prefix called a digraph, which designates a geographical or functional area. Certain digraphs were changed over time; for example, the digraph for the Soviet Union changed at least twice.

Digraphs

Partial list of digraphs and probable definitions AE: Soviet Union 1960s AM: Cuba
AV: Uruguay
BE: Poland
BG: Albania

The rest is either an arbitrary dictionary word, or occasionally the digraph and the cryptonym combine to form a dictionary word (e.g., AEROPLANE) or can be read out as a simple phrase (e.g., WIBOTHER, read as “Why bother!”). Cryptonyms are sometimes written with a slash after the digraph, e.g., ZR/RIFLE, and sometimes in one sequence, e.g., ZRRIFLE. The latter format is the more common style in CIA documents.

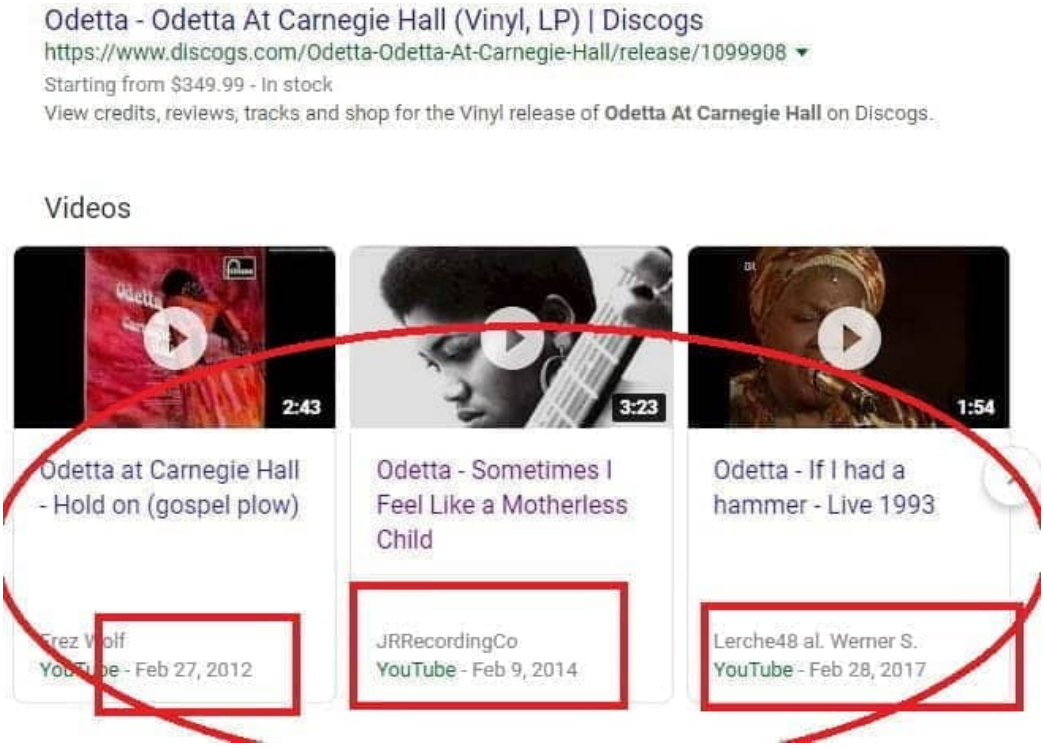
On FEBRUARY 18, 1981, a student at Occidental College, Barack Obama, delivered his first public speech. As the opening speaker at a rally protesting Occidental’s investments in companies that were doing business in apartheid South Africa, he stood with one hand in his pocket, spoke in declarative spurts, and showed no sign of being the orator who would become President nearly twenty-eight years later. Before he could say much, he was carried off by two students pretending to be oppressive Afrikaners.

Culturally, the demonstration marked a curious moment in the evolution of campus activism. Two months earlier, John Lennon’s murder seemed to have snuffed the embers of the sixties once and for all. Three days later the Clash released “Sandinista,” an album that expressed a global political awareness through a fusion of world and punk music well suited to our multicultural moment. Yet our rally opened with folksingers doing “SOMETIMES I FEEL LIKE A MOTHERLESS CHILD” and referenced Kent State and Haight-Ashbury.



This is slightly encoded.

In 2009 Obama began a genetics coverup including murder. BHO was created from Edward Paul Donegan-intended IVF DNA of James Paul Doegan and Glorian Donegan.

My father was in the military, above ground testing affects of radiation study for the DOD DARPA CIA, and later 1997-ish Obama children taken from my own DNA rather than my father and mothers.

Later the reader will see this is when Linda Newkark begins her vision of DNA as a world distributable Austim cure the the children she works with and other Autistics. This occurs in Book 1 Intro 1.

New DNA family RFLP technology has created one of the most desperate murder wetworks conspiracies of all times in story of the first black president, an outrageous Rod Rosenstein Robert Mueller Mulkasi Bush prosecution of a writer WARNING about Obama during the 2008 election.

The story continues into the police state powers such as the NDAA that followed the election allowing a coverup, a coverup plan still in place through a Trump babygate conspiracy called Foundation X, a conspiracy over which Jen Moore and Kashogi were killed.

The plan continues to distribute my DNA to create close Obama relatives all through Africa, which is where Irish genes seem to emanate from. Edward Paul Donegan IVF date Feb 20 1961 Birthday 11/18/1961

The combine effects of distributing my DNA though the world is creating a coverup of Obama CIA creation and also gaining the value of my DNA denied my own procreation use so other are able realize that value.

Thus this is also an embezzlement story, or, as Jen Moore AKA Task Force called it, a Black Budgets (or sluch fund) story.

A few facts before we begin drawn by cut and paste from a larger WIKIPEDIA entry I had nothing to do with Project MKUltra was first brought to public attention in 1975 by the Church Committee of the United States Congress and Gerald Ford's United States President's Commission on CIA activities within the United States. Investigative efforts were hampered by the fact that CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MKUltra files to be destroyed in 1973; the Church Committee and Rockefeller Commission investigations relied on the sworn testimony of direct participants and on the relatively small number of documents that survived Helms's destruction order.

The scope of Project MKUltra was broad with research undertaken at 80 institutions, including colleges and universities, hospitals, prisons, and pharmaceutical companies.[14] The CIA operated through these institutions using front organizations, although sometimes top officials at these institutions were aware of the CIA's involvement.[15]

> It is of public knowledge that during the 50's and 60's during the foundation of the CIA, they were conducting human experiments using mind control and brainwashing agents and human population. The most renown one was Project MKUltra, a code name for a government funded CIA human research program that conducted experiments in mind control. Most of the experimentation dealt with the use of drugs like LSD, hypnosis and brain implants. It is rumoured that Sirhan Sirhan the shooter accused of the RFK (Robert F. Kennedy) assassination was a product of MKUltra.

Initially the mind control projects were geared towards breeding assassins, that will either kill or become patsies in hits against political figures or important human targets. However, the theory circulating now is that these targets are now being used to become political puppets, such is the alleged case of Barack Obama. Project MKUltra and other mind control experiments

There is speculation that they possibly had knowledge of the birth and care for Barack Obama in Kenya and were later murdered to cover the trail.

Abstract

This invited commentary is a reflection on and response to an essay on “The Long Macro View”, by Robert Lusch, who articulated key themes of human, societal and marketing evolution, and challenges marketing scholars to consider ways to reduce costs inflicted by prolific human activity, particularly (marketing) exchange. Those costs cumulatively pose existential threats to humanity; they also present opportunities, which potentially can be redressed by better understanding of conflict resolution theory, relevant marketing applications to reduce social conflict, and guidance by complementary macromarketing precepts. Consistent with some ideas in the aforementioned essay, the author of this commentary argues for constructive engagement by individuals, organizations and gov governments via institutional entrepreneurship, which is crucial to enhance the efficiency, effectiveness, fairness and sustainability of A COMPLEX AND INCREASINGLY GLOBAL MACROMARKETING SYSTEM, AND THE WELL-BEING AND LONG-TERM SURVIVAL OF HOMO SAPIENS.

I think of biological knowledge as providing useful analogies for understanding human nature. … People think of biology in terms of such practical matters as drugs, but its contribution to knowledge about living systems and ourselves will in the future be equally important. … In the past epoch, man was concerned with death, high mortality; his attitudes were antideath, antidisease", he says. "In the future, his attitudes will be expressed in terms of prolife and prohealth. The past was dominated by death control; in the future, birth control will be more important. These changes we're observing are part of a natural order and to be expected from our capacity to adapt. It's much more important to cooperate and collaborate. We are the co-authors with nature of our destiny. Jonas Salk

Nazi Bunkers in Antarctica

Alex Kirkpatrick

When thinking about Hitler and Nazi Germany most people can think of at least one conspiracy theory they have heard about. Two pretty common ones are the holocaust never happened or that Hitler is alive and well in Argentina. A third theory that is beginning to see some popularity among paranormal/conspiracy theorists is the idea that the Nazis took control of part of Antarctica and built underground bunkers where they would experiment with creating new technology (Soniak, 2012). This theory originates from a story about a Nazi expedition to Antarctica. The story says that while exploring and mapping the area, they uncovered a multitude of underground caves and rivers. One of the caves was particularly large and was turned into a large city that would be home to both Nazi's and other powerful groups, like the illuminati.

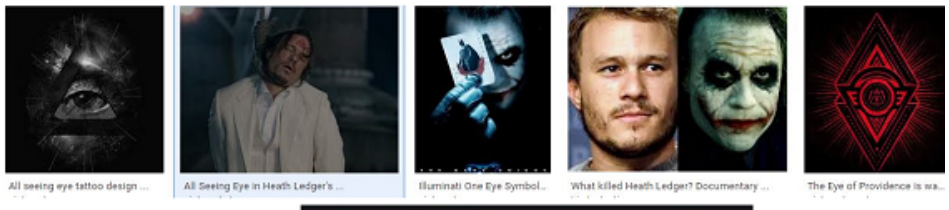
The Truth is Being Made to look like Science Fiction! retrieved from CHAPTER FOURTY-SEVEN and copied or modified to here

My Dear Ones, if this sounds like science fiction to you, then perhaps it is the truth that they have been feeding us through many movies, and these truths being made to LOOK LIKE SCIENCE FICTION!



Does a movie tell of a knight found in the people who will be accepted as beyond contestation tied to uknown but royal lineage? Australia, Racing

Heath Leger, Art, Life, and Suicide in an Australia car racing family

Heath Andrew Ledger was an Australian actor and music video director. After playing roles in several Australian television and film productions during the 1990s, Ledger moved to the United States in 1998 to further develop his film career. Wikipedia Born: APRIL 4, 1979, Perth, Australia Died: January 22, 2008, SoHo, New York, Ledger was born on 4 April 1979 in Perth, Western Australia, the son of Kim Ledger, an engineer, and Sally Ledger (nee Ramshaw), a haematology technician, who named him after Heathcliff, the hero of Emily Bronte's Wuthering Heights (1847). They had already named an older daughter Katherine (Kate, born in 1975) after the heroine of that novel, and it was Kate who encouraged Heath's acting for theatre at the same time as he was excelling at school sports.

Yes, they lay the bold truth right in front of our faces and show it as science fiction, so that when others write of the truth, that many will rise up and mock, name-call and slander the purveyors of such truths, calling them INSANE, and labeling the truth as SCIENCE FICTION!

But, oh so terrible indeed for any of you, who stand up to mock what I am telling you. For, I tell you the truth as much as I can even describe it; and I warn you of what is not only coming upon you, but what is already being used upon you. Ignorant is the one, who dismisses what I tell you of now, and fans it off as an unwelcome intruder. I tell you of what I have endured nonstop regarding this terrible technology for almost two years, and even before that, I went through the terrible technologies that they had at their disposal at that time.

But, this technology is worse that any science fiction that you can read of; and the most horrific thing about it is that it is ALREADY BEING USED ON UNTOLD NUMBERS OF HUMANS; AND WHO IS EVEN THE WISER?

My Dear Ones, I am the wiser; for I have lived through it and have suffered greatly at their hands. But, even so, OUR MIGHTY GOD HAS KEPT ME. HE HAS NOT KEPT ME FROM GOING THROUGH WHAT HE DETERMINED WHAT I MUST GO THROUGH; BUT HE HAS CARRIED ME THROUGH IT ALL IN VICTORY FOR HIM AND IN VICTORY FOR ALL OF HUMANITY.

Yes, indeed, they go licking their wounds and howling into the night; for all that they have done to take me over and over again, to take me as their total captive and or to kill me has failed. For, they think to overcome the power of the Most High; and they are but fools, even as vain dogs, who go chasing their tails!

But, even so, my Dear Ones, this has been a very difficult walk and one, which few can even grasp and understand. And, as best as I could, I have tried to warn you; and now my Dear One, comes one to me, who has been taken over through this wicked technology!

Look at another thing all these deaths have in common. It just doesn't add up: Alright, here's my thing with these celebrities who supposedly died of circumstances "not related to TPTB or "star whackers" or the Illuminati". Here are the facts that have surrounded almost every celebrity that has died: Whitney Houston - died of "drugs" - ALONE in the bathroom. Heath Ledger - died of "drugs" - ALONE in his home. Phillip Seymour Hoffman - died of "drugs" - ALONE in his bathroom. Jim Morrison - died of "drugs" - ALONE in the bathroom. David Carradine - died of "asphyxia" - ALONE in hotel room. Michael Jackson - died of "drugs" - ALONE in home. Robin Williams - died of "asphyxia" (just like David Carradine - how ironic??) - ALONE in his home, was found/discovered, presumably by his wife. Cory Monteith - died of "drugs" - ALONE in hotel room Kurt Cobain - died of "suicide" - ALONE in his hotel (no one believes Kurt committed suicide - at least not the smart people anyway.) Jimi Hendrix - died of "drugs" - ALONE in home. Janis Joplin - died of "drugs" - ALONE in her home. Marilyn Monroe - died of "drugs" - ALONE in her home. River Phoenix - who died of "drugs" not ALONE but on the street, with his brother Joaquin who after his brother's death becomes HUGE star - how convenient? Anna Nicole Smith - died of "drugs" - ALONE in a hotel. Amy Winehouse - died of "drugs" - ALONE in her home. Brittany Murphy - died of "pneumonia" - ALONE in her room.

Working the list a little River Phoenix Born: August 23, 1970, Madras, OR Died: October 31, 1993, West Hollywood, CA. Other than Jude not much there. But what about Rain Joan of Arc Phoenix born NOVEMBER 21, 1972) an American actress, musician, and singer. She is the older sister of Joaquin, Liberty and Summer Phoenix and younger sister of River Phoenix.

Arlyn Sharon Phoenix (née Dunetz; born December 31, 1944), commonly known as Heart Phoenix, is an American social activist and mother of actors River, Rain, Joaquin, Liberty, and Summer Phoenix.

Arlyn Sharon Phoenix (née Dunetz; born December 31, 1944), commonly known as Heart Phoenix, is an American social activist and mother of actors River, Rain, Joaquin, Liberty, and Summer Phoenix. Phoenix was born on December 31, 1944, in The Bronx, New York, the daughter of Margaret (née Lefkowitz; 1916-1998) and Meyer Dunetz (1910-1996).[1] Arlyn was raised with her two sisters, Rhoda and Merle (Sun). Her mother's family was from Hungary, and her father's family was from Russia. Although Arlyn's family was Jewish[2][3] and celebrated the Jewish culture and holidays, they did not attend synagogue.

Anna Nicole Smith (born Vickie Lynn Hogan; November 28, 1967 - February 8, 2007) was an American model, actress, and television personality. Smith first gained popularity in Playboy magazine when she won the title of 1993 Playmate of the Year. She modeled for fashion companies, including Guess, H&M, Heatherette and Lane Bryant.

Hannah Rose Marshall Stern; September 7, 2006) is an American reality television personality and child model. She is the only daughter of Anna Nicole Smith and Larry Birkhead and was the focus of the Dannielynn Birkhead paternity case.

Janis Joplin was born in Port Arthur, Texas, on January 19, 1943,[13] to Dorothy Bonita East (1913-1998), a registrar at a business college, and her husband, Seth Ward Joplin (1910-1987), an engineer at Texaco. She had two younger siblings, Michael and Laura. The family attended First Christian Church of Port Arthur, a church belonging to the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) denomination.

Cory Allan Michael Monteith (/mɒn'tiːθ/; May 11, 1982 - July 13, 2013) was a Canadian actor and musician best known for his role as Finn Hudson on the Fox television series Glee. As an actor based in British Columbia, Monteith had minor roles on television series before being cast on Glee. During his success on the show, he also acted in films. His film work included Monte Carlo and a starring role in Sisters & Brothers (both 2011).

Sisters & Brothers is a 2011 Canadian comedy-drama film written and directed by Carl Bessai.[1][2] The film explores the relationships of four sets of siblings who have not (in one case, never) had contact for some time. It is the final film in Bessai's Family X trilogy exploring family relations, following Mothers & Daughters (2008) and Fathers & Sons (2010).

GOERGE W.BUSH (PRESIDENT)

George Walker Bush (born JULY 6, 1946) is an American politician and businessman who served as the 43rd president of the United States from 2001 to 2009. A member of the Republican Party, Bush previously served as the 46th governor of Texas from 1995 to 2000. He was born into the Bush family; his father, George H. W. Bush, was the 41st president of the United States from 1989 to 1993.

Bush flew warplanes in the Texas and Alabama Air National Guard. After graduating from Yale College in 1968 and Harvard Business School in 1975, he worked in the oil industry. Bush married Laura Welch in 1977 and unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. House of Representatives shortly thereafter. He later co-owned the Texas Rangers baseball team before defeating incumbent Ann Richards in the 1994 Texas gubernatorial election.

DICK CHENEY (VICE PRESIDENT)

During Cheney’s tenure as vice president, he played a leading behind-the-scenes role in the George W. Bush administration’s response to the September 11 attacks and coordination of the Global War on Terrorism. He was an early proponent of invading Iraq, alleging that the Saddam Hussein regime possessed a weapons of mass destruction program and that the Hussein regime had an operational relationship with Al-Qaeda; however, neither allegation was ever substantiated. He also pressured the intelligence community to provide intelligence consistent with the administration's rationales for invading Iraq. Cheney was often criticized for the Bush Administration's policies regarding the campaign against terrorism, for his support of wiretapping by the National Security Agency (NSA) and for his endorsement of "enhanced interrogation techniques" which several critics have labeled as torture.[7][8][9] He publicly disagreed with President Bush's position against same-sex marriage in 2004.

ANDREW HILL CARD JR.

Andrew Hill Card Jr. (born May 10, 1947) is an American politician and academic administrator who was White House Chief of Staff under President George W. Bush from 2001 to 2006, as well as head of Bush's White House Iraq Group. Card served as United States Secretary of Transportation under President George H. W. Bush from 1992 to 1993.

Card announced his resignation as Chief of Staff on March 28, 2006, effective April 14, 2006. Card was the Acting Dean of the Bush School of Government and Public Service, at Texas A&M University from 2011 to 2013. In 2014, Card became the president of Franklin Pierce University, serving until he retired from that post in the summer of 2016.

ALBERTO R. GONZALES

White House Counsel to January 20, 2001 - February 3, 2005, Attorney General February 3, 2005 - September 17, 2007

Alberto R. Gonzales (born AUGUST 4, 1955 in San Antonia (Hills Coutry Texas) is an American lawyer who served as the 80th United States Attorney General, appointed in February 2005 by President George W. Bush, becoming the highest-ranking Hispanic American in executive government to date.[1] He was the first Hispanic to serve as White House Counsel. Earlier he had been Bush's General Counsel during the latter's governorship of Texas. Gonzales had also served as Secretary of State of Texas and then as a Texas Supreme Court Justice.

Gonzales's tenure as U.S. Attorney General was marked by controversy regarding warrantless surveillance of U.S. citizens and the legal authorization of enhanced interrogation techniques, later generally acknowledged as constituting torture, in the U.S. government's post-9/11 "War on Terror". Gonzales had also presided over the firings of several U.S. Attorneys who had refused back-channel White House directives to prosecute political enemies, allegedly causing the office of Attorney General to become improperly politicized.[2] Following calls for his removal, Gonzales resigned from the office "in the best interests of the department," on August 27, 2007, effective September 17, 2007.[3][4]

Gonzales was born to a Catholic family[9] in San Antonio, Texas, and raised in Humble, Texas, a town outside of Houston. Of Mexican descent, he was the second of eight children born to Maria (Rodriguez) and Pablo M. Gonzales.[10][non-primary source needed] His father, who died in 1982, was a migrant worker and then a construction worker with a second grade education. His mother worked at home raising eight children and had a sixth grade education. Gonzales and his family of ten lived in a small, two-bedroom home built by his father and uncles with no telephone and no hot running water.[1] According to Gonzales, he is unaware whether immigration documentation exists for three of his grandparents who were born in Mexico and may have entered and resided in the United States illegally.

An honors student at MacArthur High School in unincorporated Harris County, Gonzales enlisted in the United States Air Force in 1973, for a four-year term of enlistment. He served one year at a remote radar site with 100 other GIs at Fort Yukon, Alaska. He was then released from active duty to attend the USAFA Prep School after which he received an appointment to the United States Air Force Academy.

Prior to beginning his third year at the academy, which would have caused him to incur a further service obligation, he left the Academy and was released from the enlistment contract. He transferred to Rice University in Houston, where he was a resident of Lovett College.[13] He went on to be selected as the Charles Parkhill Scholar of Political Science and was awarded a bachelor's degree with honors in political science in 1979.[14] He then earned a Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree from Harvard Law School in 1982.

Gonzales has been married twice: he and his first wife, Diane Clemens, divorced in 1985; he and his second wife, Rebecca Turner Gonzales, have three sons.

Gonzales was an attorney in private practice from 1982 until 1994 with the Houston law firm Vinson and Elkins, where he became a partner - one of the first Hispanic partners in its history - and where he worked primarily with corporate clients. In 1994, he was named general counsel to then-Texas Governor George W. Bush, rising to become Secretary of State of Texas in 1997 and subsequently named to the Texas Supreme Court in 1999, both appointments made by Governor Bush. Gonzales won his election bid to remain on the court in the Republican Primary in 2000, and was subsequently elected to a full six-year term on the State Supreme Court in the November 2000 general election.[15]

JOHN DAVID ASHCROFT 79TH UNITED STATES ATTORNEY GENERAL IN OFFICE FEBRUARY 2, 2001 - FEBRUARY 3, 2005 REPLACED BY ALBERTO GONZALES LATER]

John David Ashcroft (born May 9, 1942) is an American lawyer, lobbyist, songwriter and former politician who served as the 79th U.S. Attorney General (2001-2005), in the George W. Bush Administration. He later founded The Ashcroft Group, a Washington D.C. lobbying firm.

Ashcroft previously served as Attorney General of Missouri (1976-1985), and as the 50th Governor of Missouri (1985-1993), having been elected for two consecutive terms in succession (a historical first for a Republican candidate in the state), and he also served as a U.S. Senator from Missouri (1995-2001). He lost his bid for reelection in 2000 to Mel Carnahan, who died a few days before the election.

JAMES BRIEN COMEY JR

James Brien Comey Jr. (born DECEMBER 14, 1960) is an American lawyer who was the 7th director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) from 2013 until his dismissal in May 2017.[3] Comey was a registered Republican for most of his adult life; however, in 2016, he described himself as unaffiliated.

During the administration of President George W. Bush, Comey was the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York from January 2002 to December 2003 and later the United States deputy attorney general from December 2003 to August 2005. In August 2005, Comey left the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) to become a senior vice president of Lockheed Martin as general counsel.[5] In 2010, he became general counsel at Bridgewater Associates. In early 2013, he left Bridgewater to become a senior research scholar and Hertog fellow on national security law at Columbia Law School. He served on the board of directors of HSBC Holdings until July 2013.

In September 2013, President Barack Obama appointed Comey to the position of Director of the FBI.[7] In that capacity, he was responsible for overseeing the FBI’s investigation of the Hillary Clinton email controversy. His role in the 2016 U.S. presidential election was highly controversial.[8] Some analysts and some Clinton supporters claim his decisions shortly before the 2016 election might have cost her the presidency,[9] particularly his decision to reopen the investigation into her emails less than two weeks before the election.

On June 14, 2018, DOJ inspector general Michael E. Horowitz released his report on the FBI's handling of the Clinton email investigation, which criticized Comey's actions during the 2016 election.[13]

ROBERT SWAN MUELLER III BORN AUGUST 7 , 1944)

Robert Swan Mueller III (/ˈmʌlər/; born August 7, 1944) is an American lawyer and government official who served as the sixth director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) from 2001 to 2013 thus serving during Ashcroft and Gonzales led Justice Departments.

A graduate of Princeton University and New York University, Mueller served as a Marine Corps officer during the Vietnam War, receiving a Bronze Star for heroism and a Purple Heart. He subsequently attended the University of Virginia School of Law. Mueller is a registered Republican in Washington, D.C., and was appointed and reappointed to Senate-confirmed positions by presidents George H. W. Bush, Bill Clinton, George W. Bush, and Barack Obama.

Mueller has served both in government and private practice. He was an assistant United States attorney, a United States attorney, United States assistant attorney general for the Criminal Division, a homicide prosecutor in Washington, D.C., acting United States deputy attorney general, partner at D.C. law firm WilmerHale and director of the FBI.

On May 17, 2017, Mueller was appointed by Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein as special counsel overseeing an investigation into allegations of Russian interference in the 2016 U.S. presidential election and related matters.[6] He submitted his report to Attorney General William Barr on March 22, 2019.[7] On April 18, the Department of Justice released it.[8][9] On May 29, he resigned his post and the Office of the Special Counsel was closed.

MICHAEL SCHERER

Michael Scherer is Salon's Washington correspondent.

He has written the Salon.com article I have excerpted below regarding the events of 2014 and a classified surveillance program authorization sought by the George Bush Dick Cheney admininstration

The Ashcroft-Gonzales hospital room showdown retrieved from Salon.com and copied or modified to here

The call came at 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 10, 2004. Attorney General John Ashcroft was in the hospital, struck with a life-threatening case of pancreatitis. Deputy Attorney General James B. Comey was just leaving his office, being chauffeured by his security detail.

"I remember exactly where I was, on Constitution Avenue," Comey testified Tuesday morning before the Senate Judiciary Committee. "And [I] got a call from Attorney General Ashcroft's chief of staff telling me that he had gotten a call."

So begins a remarkable tale that nearly led to the resignation of the Justice Department's senior leadership, an ordeal that was recounted in great detail for the first time Tuesday. Two senior White House officials, Andrew Card and Alberto Gonzales, were headed to Ashcroft's hospital bed, despite the instructions of his wife that there would be no phone calls or visitors. They wanted Ashcroft to sign off on the secret National Security Agency wiretapping program, a program that Ashcroft had already decided to reject before falling ill.

Comey was determined to stop them. “So I hung up the phone,” Comey told the committee, and I “immediately called my chief of staff, told him to get as many of my people as possible to the hospital immediately. I hung up, called [FBI] Director [Robert] Mueller and — with whom I’d been discussing this particular matter and had been a great help to me over that week — and told him what was happening. He said, ‘I’ll meet you at the hospital right now.’ [I] told my security detail that I needed to get to George Washington Hospital immediately. They turned on the emergency equipment and drove very quickly to the hospital. I got out of the car and ran up — literally ran up the stairs with my security detail.”

The story gets better at this point. Comey’s testimony reads like a detective story. Minutes later, there is a showdown in the hospital room. Ashcroft, buffered by his wife and three of his senior deputies, faces down Gonzales and Card and refuses to sign off on the spy program. Gonzales and Card storm out of the room. Card calls Comey and demands that he come to the White House, but Comey refuses to go until he can get Ted Olson, the solicitor general, to accompany him. “After what I just witnessed, I will not meet with you without a witness,” Comey tells Card.

The White House meeting produces no breakthrough. So the White House reauthorizes the program without the approval of the Department of Justice, apparently breaking its own procedure. “I prepared a letter of resignation, intending to resign the next day, Friday, March the 12th,” Comey said. He expected many other senior Justice Department leaders, including Mueller, to resign as well. Eventually, President Bush steps in to smooth out the waters, overrule his staff and give permission to change the secret spy program to address the concerns of the Department of Justice.

At the hearing, Sen. Chuck Schumer, D-N.Y., who was leading the questioning, asked the following. “So in sum, it was your belief that Mr. Gonzales and Mr. Card were trying to take advantage of an ill and maybe disoriented man to try and get him to do something that many, at least in the Justice Department, thought was against the law? Was that a correct summation?”

> Comey answered directly. “I was concerned that this was an effort to do an end-run around the acting attorney general and to get a very sick man to approve something that the Department of Justice had already concluded — the department as a whole — was unable to be certified as to its legality. And that was my concern.”
> Truly remarkable.

An agent provocateur (French for “inciting agent”) quoting Wikipedia > is a person who commits or who acts to entice another person to commit an illegal or rash act or falsely implicate them in partaking in an illegal act, so as to ruin the reputation or entice legal action against the target or a group they belong to. They may target any group, such as a peaceful protest or demonstration, a union, a political party or a company.

> Prevention of infiltration by agents provocateurs is part of the duty of demonstration marshals, also called stewards, deployed by organizers of large or controversial assemblies.[1][2]
> History and etymology
> While the practice is worldwide anciently, modern undercover operations were scaled up in France by Eugène François Vidocq in the early 19th century, and already included use of unlawful tactics against opponents. Later in the same century the police targets included union activists who came to fear plain-clothed policemen (agent de police in French). Hence, the French agent provocateur spread, just as is, to English and German. In accordance with French grammar, the plural form of the term is agents provocateurs.
> Common usage

> An agent provocateur may be a police officer or a secret agent of police who encourages suspects to carry out a crime under conditions where evidence can be obtained; or who suggests the commission of a crime to another, in hopes they will go along with the suggestion and be convicted of the crime.
>
> A political organization or government may use agents provocateurs against political opponents. The provocateurs try to incite the opponent to do counter-productive or ineffective acts to foster public disdain or provide a pretext for aggression against the opponent.
>
> Historically, labor spies, hired to infiltrate, monitor, disrupt, or subvert union activities, have used agent provocateur tactics.
> Agent provocateur activities raise ethical and legal issues. In common law jurisdictions, the legal concept of entrapment may apply if the main impetus for the crime was the provocateur.

The combination of corrupt police bullying of me for what their Agent Provocateurs have done has been especially offensive to me because I am an upstanding law abiding intelligent person, and thus it is unjust, and also it is unjust because this covers State abuses against my parents who also gave and risked so much on behalf of the USA including Atomic Blast Exposure, miiltary USO and DOD service.

> Ever since 9/11, counter-terrorism has been the FBI’s No. 1 priority, consuming the lion’s share of its budget-$3.3 billion, compared to $2.6 billion for organized crime-and much of the attention of field agents and a massive, nationwide network of informants. After years of emphasizing informant recruiting as a key task for its agents, the bureau now maintains a roster of 15,000 spies-many of them tasked, as Hussain was, with infiltrating Muslim communities in the United States. On NOVEMBER 19, 1998, Independent Counsel Starr testified before the House Judiciary Committee in connection with the Impeachment of Bill Clinton over charges related to the Lewinsky scandal. Here, for the first time, Starr exonerated both President Clinton and the First Lady of complicity in the FBI files matter, saying “while there are outstanding issues that we are attempting to resolve with respect to one individual [we] found no evidence that anyone higher [than Livingstone or Marceca] was in any way involved in ordering the files from the FBI. Second, we have found no evidence that information contained in the files of former officials was used for an improper purpose.”[23] (Starr also chose this occasion to clear President Clinton in the Travelgate matter, and to say that he had not committed impeachable wrongdoing in the Whitewater matter; Democrats on the committee immediately criticized Starr for withholding all these findings until after the 1998 Congressional elections.[24])

Jeh Johnson retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Johnson was born on September 11, 1957, in New York City, the son of Norma (Edelin), who worked for Planned Parenthood, and Jeh Vincent Johnson, an architect and lecturer at Vassar College. His parents met as a result of the elder Johnson’s friendship with Norma’s brother, Milton. His father and his Uncle Milton were the only black students in their respective classes at Columbia University’s School of Architecture. He is also the nephew of Kenneth C. Edelin, a physician who was a defendant in a landmark case involving abortion rights.[6] Johnson is the grandson of sociologist and Fisk University President Charles S. Johnson. Johnson’s first name is taken from a Liberian chief, who reportedly saved his grandfather’s life while he was on a League of Nations mission to Liberia in 1930.

Raised in Wappingers Falls, New York,[citation needed] he graduated from Roy C. Ketcham High School in 1975. He described himself as “a big underachiever”, earning grades of C and D in school until he went on to college, citing the fact that he didn’t “have a lot of African-American role models” in what was a mostly white community. It was during his sophomore year in college that a vision of becoming an attorney led him to work to increase his “GPA above a dismal 1.8”.

Johnson is a graduate of Morehouse College (B.A.) and Columbia Law School (J.D.). He is the recipient of eleven honorary degrees.

Johnson began as an associate at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison in November 1984. He would later become the first African-American partner at Paul, Weiss.

He left private practice in 1989 to serve as an assistant United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York. He worked in the Southern District until 1991, prosecuting corruption cases. Johnson returned to Paul, Weiss in 1992 and was elected partner at the firm in 1994.

From 1998 to 2001, Johnson was general counsel of the Department of the Air Force under President Bill Clinton.

Air Force General Counsel In 1998, Johnson was appointed General Counsel of the Air Force by President Bill Clinton after confirmation by the U.S. Senate. As General Counsel, Johnson was the senior legal official in the Air Force and Governor of Wake Island, in the Pacific Ocean.[citation needed] His tenure coincided with Operation Allied Force in 1999. He was awarded the Decoration for Exceptional Civilian Service for his efforts.

[Jeh Johnson has stated in that capacity he developed legal finding to issue Targeted Killings directives to take out those who are a threat to the USA which are carried out by the Department of Defense.

Propaganda Due (Italian pronunciation: [propaˈganda ˈduːe]; (P2) was a Masonic lodge under the Grand Orient of Italy, founded in 1877. ITS MASONIC CHARTER WAS WITHDRAWN IN 1976, AND IT TRANSFORMED INTO A CLANDESTINE, PSEUDO-MASONIC, ULTRARIGHT[1][2][3] organization operating in contravention of Article 18 of the Constitution of Italy that banned secret associations.

In its latter period, during which the lodge was headed by Licio Gelli, P2 was implicated in numerous Italian crimes and mysteries, including the collapse of the Vatican-affiliated Banco Ambrosiano, the murders of journalist Mino Pecorelli and banker Roberto Calvi, and corruption cases within the nationwide bribe scandal Tangentopoli. P2 came to light through the investigations into the collapse of Michele Sindona's financial empire.[4]

Outside Italy, P2 was also active in Uruguay, Brazil and ARGENTINA. Among its Argentine members were Raúl Alberto Lastiri, interim president in 1973 during the height of the "Dirty War"; Emilio Massera, who was part of the military junta led by Jorge Rafael Videla from 1976 to 1978; José López Rega, minister 1973-1975 and FOUNDER OF THE ARGENTINE ANTICOMMUNIST ALLIANCE; and General Guillermo Suárez Mason.[9]

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/History_of_genetics#Emergence_of_molecular_genetics

In 1928, Frederick Griffith showed that genes could be transferred. In what is now known as Griffith's experiment, injections into a mouse of a deadly strain of bacteria that had been heat-killed transferred genetic information to a safe strain of the same bacteria, killing the mouse.

Griffith's experiment discovering the "transforming principle" in pneumococcus bacteria.

Griffith's experiment, reported in 1928 by Frederick Griffith, was the first experiment suggesting that bacteria are capable of transferring genetic information through a process known as transformation. Griffith's findings were followed by research in the late 1930s and early 40s that isolated DNA as the material that communicated this genetic information.

PNEUMONIA WAS A SERIOUS CAUSE OF DEATH IN THE WAKE OF THE POST-WWI SPANISH INFLUENZA PANDEMIC, AND GRIFFITH WAS STUDYING THE POSSIBILITY OF CREATING A VACCINE. GRIFFITH USED TWO STRAINS OF PNEUMOCOCCUS (STREPTOCOCCUS PNEUMONIAE) BACTERIA WHICH INFECT MICE - A TYPE III-S (SMOOTH) WHICH WAS VIRULENT, AND A TYPE II-R (ROUGH) STRAIN WHICH WAS NONVIRULENT. The III-S strain synthesized a polysaccharide capsule that protected itself from the host's immune system, resulting in the death of the host, while the II-R strain did not have that protective capsule and was defeated by the host's immune system. A German bacteriologist, Fred Neufeld, had discovered the three pneumococcal types (Types I, II, and III) and discovered the Quellung reaction to identify them in vitro. Until Griffith's experiment, bacteriologists believed that the types were fixed and unchangeable, from one generation to another.

Opus Dei was founded by a Catholic priest, Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer, on 2 October 1928 in Madrid, Spain. According to Escrivá, on that day he experienced a vision in which he “saw Opus Dei”.[12][13] He gave the organization the name “Opus Dei”, which in Latin means “Work of God”,[14] in order to underscore the belief that the organization was not his (Escrivá’s) work, but was rather God’s work.[15] Throughout his life, Escrivá held that the founding of Opus Dei had a supernatural character.

Beatification miracle

The miracle that led to Ortiz de Landázuri's beatification was the healing from basocellular carcinoma on the night of 28-29 November 2002 of Antonio Jesús Sedano Madrid from Barcelona.

In 2001 the Opus Dei prelate Javier Echevarría Rodríguez started the steps needed to launch the beatification process. The forum for the diocesan process for the cause was transferred on 30 March 2001 from the Pamplona-Tudela diocese to the Madrid archdiocese at which point the Congregation for the Causes of Saints on 3 November issued the "nihil obstat" (no objections) edit to begin the cause and to title her as a Servant of God. Cardinal Antonio María Rouco Varela opened the diocesan process on 18 NOVEMBER and later closed it on 18 March 2005. From 2002 to 2003 there were 66 sessions held with 32 witnesses from Madrid being called to provide evidence and interrogatories while another week-long session in mid-2003 in Mexico saw 22 witnesses giving evidence in support of Ortiz de Landázuri's virtues in 37 sessions. The C.C.S. later received all the documents gathered during that process in 2005 (3008 pages in seven compiled volumes) AND VALIDATED THE PROCESS LATER ON 17 FEBRUARY 2006. The postulation later compiled and submitted the Positio dossier to the C.C.S. in 2009 for evaluation.

Her father's career in the armed forces meant the Ortiz de Landázuris moved from place to place each time he was sent on a new assignment. The Ortiz de Landázuri's moved to Tétouan in Morocco in 1927 after her father was sent there for further work. In 1932, they returned to Spain and lived in Madrid where her father was named Lieutenant Colonel), and Guadalupe finished high school at the Instituto Miguel de Cervantes.[2] In June 1933, she enrolled in the Universidad Central de Madrid in chemical science and was just one of five women in a class of 70 students. Ortiz de Landázuri eventually pursued a doctorate since she wanted to teach chemistry at the university level.

She returned to Madrid in 1939 where she began her career as a teacher. One day at Mass in 1944, she felt something that she interpreted as being a sign from God. Ortiz de Landázuri returned home to consult with a friend and expressed a desire to speak with a priest. That friend gave her the phone number of a well-known priest SAINT JOSEMARÍA ESCRIVÁ and Ortiz de Landázuri met Escrivá for the first time on 25 January 1944. Shortly following this, Ortiz de Landázuri went on a spiritual retreat and on 19 March she sent a letter to Escrivá asking to be admitted to Opus Dei Social cognition and the anterior temporal lobes Neuroimage. 2010 Feb 15;49(4):3452-62. doi: 10.1016/j.neuroimage.2009.11.012. Epub 2009 NOV 18.

Two distinct literatures have emerged on the functionality of the anterior temporal lobes (ATL): in one field, the ATLs are conceived of as a repository for semantic or conceptual knowledge. In another field, the ATLs are thought to play some undetermined role in social-emotional functions such as Theory of Mind. Here we attempted to reconcile these distinct functions by assessing whether social semantic processing can explain ATL activation in other social cognitive tasks. Social semantic functions refer to knowledge about social concepts and rules. In a first experiment we tested the idea that social semantic representations can account for activations in the ATL to social attribution stimuli such as Heider and Simmel animations. Left ATL activations to Heider and Simmel stimuli overlapped with activations to social words. In a second experiment we assessed the putative roles of the ATLs in the processing of narratives and theory of mind content and found evidence for a role of the ATLs in the processing of theory of mind but not narrative per se. These findings indicate that the ATLs are part of a neuronal network supporting social cognition and that they are engaged when tasks demand access to social conceptual knowledge.

Saint Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer

The Priestly Society of the Holy Cross, affiliated with Opus Dei, was founded on Sunday, 14 FEBRUARY 1943. Escrivá relocated to Rome during 1946.

Saint Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer y Albás (9 January 1902 - 26 June 1975) was a Spanish Roman Catholic priest who founded Opus Dei, an organization of laypeople and priests dedicated to the teaching that everyone is called to holiness by God and that ordinary life can result in sanctity. He was canonized during 2002 by Pope John Paul II, who declared Saint Josemaría should be “counted among the great witnesses of Christianity.”

Nationalism, Zionism and Ethnic Mobilization of the Jews in 1900 and Beyond (IJS Studies in Judaica) 1St Edition by Prof Michael Berkowitz (Editor)

This volume engages diverse topics such as art, music, and radio broadcasting in the development of modern Jewish nationalism by leading scholars in their respective fields. It contains richly detailed studies that challenge existing historiography—from personal struggles with nationalism, to the lesser-known origins of the Balfour Declaration, from boisterous demonstrations on the streets of pre-World War I Galicia, to skirmishes between Jews in present-day Jerusalem.

It examines how nationalism has worked in theory and practice for Jews and at times been fiercely resisted. Beginning with the memory of Theodor Herzl and his cohort at the London Zionist Congress of 1900, this book revisits the wider scene of Zionism’s emergence, as we explore the imagination of, and the attempted national mobilization of Jewry throughout the twentieth century.

> "1913: Seeds of Conflict" looks at the moment of transformation when Ottoman rule in Palestine was still strong, the identities of Jerusalemites were fluid, and few could imagine the conflict that would dominate the region for the next century. Until now, scholars have focused on the British Mandate as the matchstick of the Middle East conflict. Breaking new ground, this film focuses on the moment when Arab and Jewish nationalism first made contact, and the seeds of conflict were first sewn.

The Balfour Declaration was a public statement issued by the British government in 1917 during the First World War announcing support for the establishment of a "national home for the Jewish people" in Palestine, then an Ottoman region with a small minority Jewish population. Wikipedia

From 2002 to 2003 there were 66 sessions held with 32 witnesses from Madrid being called to provide evidence and interrogatories while another week-long session in mid-2003 in Mexico saw 22 witnesses giving evidence in support of Ortiz de Landázuri's virtues in 37 sessions.[1] The C.C.S. later received all the documents gathered during that process in 2005 (3008 pages in seven compiled volumes) and0 VALIDATED THE PROCESS LATER ON 17 FEBRUARY 2006. The postulation later compiled and submitted the Positio dossier to the C.C.S. in 2009 for evaluation.

Ratzinger / John Paul

Luciani (Future John Paul I born name) in 1966

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pope_John_Paul_I

On 15 DECEMBER 1958, Luciani was appointed Bishop of Vittorio Veneto by Pope John XXIII. He received his episcopal consecration on the following 27 December from Pope John XXIII himself, with Bishops Bortignon and Gioacchino Muccin serving as the co-consecrators. In his first address to the people of his new diocese, Luciani stated: "I would like to be a bishop who is a teacher and a servant".

As a bishop, he participated in all the sessions of the Second Vatican Council (1962-1965). In 1958, he had taken Humilitas (Humility) as his episcopal motto.[6] He took possession of the diocese on 11 January 1959. On 18 April 1962, Luciani issued a pastoral letter, entitled "Notes on the Council", in order to alert the faithful to the structure of the proceedings and the overall purpose of the Council, chiefly, the doctrinal and practical issues.[9] In 1966, he visited Burundi in East Africa.[10]

Between 1965 and 1969 he faced the schism of Montaner: almost all the residents of Montaner, a frazione of Sarmede, decided to renounce Catholicism and embrace the Orthodox religion, because they had great disagreement with their bishop Monsignor Luciani.

In 1975, Luciani travelled to Germany in May. Later that year (6-21 November), he visited Brazil where he met with members of the clergy, including Cardinal Aloísio Lorscheider.

Cardinal Aloísio Leo Arlindo Lorscheider, O.F.M. (8 October 1924 - 23 December 2007) was a prominent cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church in Brazil during the 1970s and 1980s. He was renowned as an advocate of liberation theology

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Liberation_theology

Liberation theology is a synthesis of Christian theology and Marxist socio-economic analyses that emphasizes social concern for the poor and the political liberation for oppressed peoples.[1] In the 1950s and the 1960s, liberation theology was the political praxis of Latin American theologians, such as Gustavo Gutiérrez of Peru, Leonardo Boff of Brazil, Juan Luis Segundo of Uruguay, and Jon Sobrino of Spain, who popularized the phrase “Preferential option for the poor.”

The Latin American context also produced Evangelical advocates of liberation theology, such as C. René Padilla of Ecuador, Samuel Escobar of Peru, and Orlando E. Costas of Puerto Rico, who, in the 1970s, called for integral mission, emphasizing evangelism and social responsibility.

Theologies of liberation have developed in other parts of the world such as Black theology in the United States and South Africa, Palestinian liberation theology, Dalit theology in India, and Minjung theology in South Korea.

The term Schism of Montaner refers to events between 1967 and 1969. Almost all the residents of Montaner [it], a frazione in the municipality of Sarmede in the Province of Treviso, Italy, decided to renounce Catholicism and embrace the Orthodox religion, because they had great disagreement with their bishop of Vittorio Veneto, Monsignor Albino Luciani, the future Pope John Paul I.

VESTED

1. fixed and absolute and without contingency

Vested can also be a financial term. If you’re vested in your company’s pension plan after working there 5 years, then even if you quit at 5 years, that pension money is yours to take with you.

If you have a vested interest in something, you have a personal stake in its success. You have a vested interest in your science project if your invention works, you could be rich and famous.

Vested can also refer to something assigned to you. When a minister says “by the power vested in me by the State of Ohio, I now pronounce you husband and wife,” he’s referring to the legal authority he’s been given to marry people.

Eclesiastical law at the seminary of Mondoñedo, and the University of Munich. In 1976 he was appointed titular Bishop of Gergi and Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Santiago de Compostela by Pope Paul VI. Named Archbishop of Santiago de Compostela in 1984 by Pope John Paul II, he played a key role in the hosting of the 4th World Youth Day in 1989. Five years later, in 1994, he was named Archbishop of Madrid by Pope John Paul II.

John Paul II created him Cardinal-Priest of S. Lorenzo in Damaso in the consistory of 21 February 1998. He was one of the cardinal electors who participated in the 2005 papal conclave that selected Pope Benedict XVI.[1] In 2011, he was the incumbent Cardinal Archbishop of Madrid, when Pope Benedict XVI made a Papal Visit to the city for World Youth Day 2011. Also that year, the University of "San Dámaso" was founded in Madrid. When Pope Benedict XVI resigned on 28 February 2013, Cardinal Rouco Varela again was a cardinal elector and participated in the subsequent papal conclave that elected Pope Francis.

Cardinal Rouco Varela was confirmed as a Member of the Congregation for Catholic Education by Pope Francis on 30 November 2013,[5] but on 16 December he was not renewed as a member of the Congregation for Bishops; this was interpreted as a significant loss of influence. On 28 August 2014 he was replaced as Archbishop of Madrid by Carlos Osoro Sierra, who represents a more centrist fraction of the Spanish Catholic church. Having passed 80, he will not be an elector in the next papal election.

Ratzinger's family, especially his father, bitterly resented the Nazis, and his father's opposition to Nazism resulted in demotions and harassment of the family.[14] Following his 14th birthday in 1941, Ratzinger was conscripted into the Hitler Yout as membership was required by law for all 14-year-old German boys after March 1939[15 but was an unenthusiastic member who refused to attend meetings, according to his brother.[16] In 1941, ONE OF RATZINGER'S COUSINS, A 14-YEAR-OLD BOY WITH DOWN

SYNDROME, WAS TAKEN AWAY BY THE NAZI REGIME AND MURDERED DURING THE ACTION T4 CAMPAIGN OF NAZI EUGENICS.[17] In 1943, while still in seminary, he was drafted into the German anti-aircraft corps as Luftwaffenhelfer.[16] Ratzinger then trained in the German infantry.[18] As the Allied front drew closer to his post in 1945, he deserted back to his family's home in Traunstein after his unit had ceased to exist, just as American troops established a headquarters in the Ratzinger household.[19] As a German soldier, he was interned in a prisoner of war camp, but released a few months later at the end of the war in May 1945.[19]

Romano Guardini
17 February 1885 to 1 October 1968

In his early twenties, [Ratzinger] was deeply influenced by the thought of Italian German Romano Guardini who taught in Munich 1946 to 1951 when Ratzinger was studying in Freising and later at the University of Munich. The intellectual affinity between these two thinkers, who would later become decisive figures for the twentieth-century Church, was preoccupied with rediscovering the essential in Christianity. Guardini with his 1938 tome "The Essence of Christianity," while Ratzinger penned "Introduction to Christianity," three decades later in 1968. Guardini inspired many in the Catholic social-democratic tradition, particularly the Communion and Liberation movement in the New Evangelization encouraged under the papacy of Polish Pope John Paul II. At the close of the twentieth the future Cardinal Ratzinger would write an introduction to a 1996 reissue of Guardini's 1954 classic "The Lord".[22]

Pope Benedict XVI

In 1943, when he was 16, Joseph Ratzinger was drafted

On 20 November 1944, his unit was released from service. Joseph Ratzinger again returned home. After three weeks passed, he was drafted into the German army at Munich and assigned to the infantry Baracks in the center of Traunstein, the city near which his family lived. After basic infantry training, he served at various posts around the city with his unit. They were never sent to the front. In late April or early May, shortly before Germany's surrender, he deserted. Desertions were widespread during the last weeks of the war, although deserters were subject to death if caught. However, diminished morale and equally diminished risk of prosecution from a preoccupied and disorganized German military contributed to the growing wave of soldiers looking toward self-preservation. He left the city of Traunstein and headed for his nearby village. "I used a little-known back road hoping to get through unmolested. But, as I walked out of a railroad underpass, two soldiers were standing at their posts, and for a moment the situation was extremely exciting for me. Thank God that they, too, had had their fill of war and did not want to become murderers." They used the excuse of his arm being in a sling to let him go home.

The Order was restituted on May 1, 1950 by Albert Franz Messany, at the request of Chancellor Figl of Austria. Messany renamed the organization the International Order of St. Hubertus to better reflect the multi-national character of the Order.[2]

The Order gained media attention in February 2016, when U.S. Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia died while staying at Cibolo Creek Ranch in Presidio County in West Texas. The owner of the ranch, John B. Poindexter, as well as C. Allen Foster, a Washington attorney who traveled with Scalia to the ranch by private plane, hold leadership positions within the Order; at least two other private aircraft traveling to the ranch were connected to known members of St. Hubertus.[3] Poindexter indicated that he knew of "no connection" between Scalia and the Order, and that Scalia had traveled to the ranch to go hunting.[3]

Pope Francis Condemns Priest Sexual Abuse, Calls for ‘No Effort to Be Spared’ in Prevention retrieved from KQED and copied or modified to here

Pope Francis issued a letter Monday condemning sexual abuse and its concealment within the Catholic church. The Pope wrote “we showed no care for the little ones; we abandoned them” and that “no effort must be spared” to prevent future abuse. The pope’s letter comes after a grand jury report in Pennsylvania detailed the cover up of sexual abuse of more than a thousand minors over seven decades. Forum discusses the pope’s response and the call for California Attorney General Xavier Becerra to convene a grand jury to investigate abuse by priests in California. Tell us, what steps would you like to see the Catholic church take to end sexual abuse within its ranks? What do you think of the Pope’s letter?

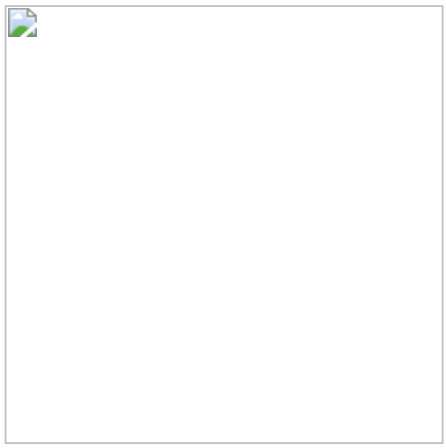
Statement by John Podesta, Congressman Xavier Becerra, and Katie Beirne Fallon on the Canonization of Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II

We are all honored to serve as the Presidential Delegation to the Holy See to celebrate the Canonization Mass of Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II.

Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II both opened the Church to the world in their own ways. They represent key parts of the Catholic faith-courage, care, and concern for the forgotten. It is fitting that Pope Francis, who just one year into his papacy has inspired so many Catholics and people of all faiths, will tomorrow canonize these two leaders of the Church.

The U.S. Ambassador Hackett and the Presidential Delegation

U.S. Ambassador Hackett and the Presidential Delegation John Podesta, Congressman Xavier Becerra, and Katie Beirne Fallon on the Canonization of Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II



The Pope we affectionately call il Papa buono was a man of peace and a man of reform. Pope John XXIII knew it was not enough to be a spiritual leader for Catholics alone. He was the first to address a papal encyclical to “all men of good will.” By convening the Second Vatican Council, the former Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli revolutionized the role the Church plays in the world, and made the Catholic Mass a more inclusive and open experience for the faithful. His influence is felt today around the world, from the grandest cathedral to the humblest parish.

As a boy in Nazi-occupied Poland, Karol Józef Wojtyła studied for the priesthood in secret. Visiting his home country, which had been locked in decades of oppressive Communist rule, Pope John Paul II helped inspire the Solidarity movement. Recognizing the profound human dignity of all, John Paul spoke out forcefully against apartheid in South Africa and genocide in Rwanda. By traveling to 129 countries during his papacy, John Paul brought the Church to the people, and in particular reached out and deepened the faith of young Catholics around the world.

It is humbling to be welcomed here by His Holiness Pope Francis, a messenger for peace and justice, who implores us to build a Church that is “poor and for the poor,” who leads by deed as well as by word. We are profoundly grateful to be here on this important occasion.

A fire erupted, killing 76 Branch Davidians, including 25 children and two pregnant women. Koresh, who had been wounded earlier by FBI gunfire, died in the attack, but may have asked Schneider to shoot him and put him out of his misery. Schneider also died, possibly by his own hand. The source of the fire has been the subject of much argument.

Wounded Knee assault began FEBRUARY 21

Benjamin Lloyd Roden (January 5, 1902 - October 22, 1978) was an American religious leader and the prime organizer of the Branch Davidian Seventh-day Adventist Association.

By 1940, the Rodens were members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church (SDA) in Kilgore, Texas. It is possible that the appeal of the SDA lay at least in part in its similarities to some aspects of Judaism, such as practising the sabbath on the seventh day and abiding by the dietary laws of the Old Testament, but in addition the couple had been given Bible Readings for the Home Circle as a wedding present by Lois's mother. That book was a publication of the SDA and it is probable, although not certain, that somewhere in Lois's family there was already an involvement with that church.

The Rodens later moved from the church at Kilgore to that at Odessa, where Ben became a head elder. Somewhere around this time, in the early- to mid-1940s, the couple became influenced by the Shepherd's Rod movement, which had splintered from the SDA, and probably visited its base at the Mount Carmel Center, near Waco, Texas, even if only briefly. They were disfellowshiped from their SDA church, which caused them offence because they had helped to finance the church building and felt that they therefore had a right to use it. Various accounts exist of a stand-off between Lois and the church, with her occupying it for several days and receiving supplies from Ben and their son, George.

In 1948 Odessa was also the home of First Lady Barbara Bush, and the onetime home of former Presidents George H. W. Bush and George W. Bush. Former President George H.W. Bush has been quoted as saying "At Odessa we became Texans and proud of it."

Barbara Pierce Bush (JUNE 8, 1925 at Booth Memorial Hospital, which at that time was located at 314 East 15th Street in Manhattan, New York City, - April 17, 2018) was the first lady of the United States from 1989 to 1993 as the wife of President George H. W. Bush.

Russian Rough Music Machine, or was a Free Masonry Gangstalk Machine?

‘Mind control’ machine - FBI so desperate it considered using Russian device on Koresh retrieved from ROWLAND NETHAWAY Senior editor https://wacotrib.com/ and copied or modified to here

A wire story reveals that several weeks before Koresh and 78 of his followers died in the inferno that destroyed their home, some Russian scientists demonstrated a machine that U.S. intelligence, military and law enforcement officials that supposedly sent subliminal messages over the telephone. These subliminal messages were supposed to take over Koresh’s subconscious and cause him to peacefully lead his flock out to waiting FBI agents.

Buying sales pitch

The only evidence that the Russian mind-control machine actually works seems to be the fact that the FBI was buying this sales pitch. Most people would have thought there was something odd about the Russians, who lost the Cold War, trying to peddle a super-secret mind-control weapon to the Americans, who won the Cold War.

Still, according to the newspaper, Killion told the Russian mind-control pitch men that he wanted to use the device on Koresh. The Russian who demonstrated the machine then said he only brought an “entry level” device to the United States.

Only after the FBI offered to fly to Russia to pick up one of their professional mind-control machines did the Russians admit that the machine might not function as hoped. As a matter of fact, the Russians said it was possible that their mind-control machine actually could have the reverse effect and make Koresh more violent. Perhaps that explains the sudden collapse of the Soviet empire.

Then the FBI began its nightly high-amp assault on the compound with Tibetan chants, Christmas carols, bugle calls, sounds of locomotives, dentist drills and rabbits being slaughtered. Each new provocation was a sign to the Davidians that what they had been told was true.

As it turned out, it appears that all of the FBI's psychological warfare ploys had the reverse effect on Koresh and his followers.

After the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms botched the raid on the compound, the FBI took control of the siege. It turned out to be a case-study of the worst ways to coax an apocalyptic cult into surrendering.

This was a group that believed with religious fervor that government agents would come to destroy them. It had been foretold by their messiah and the Bible. Their duty was to battle and die for their beliefs, which would lead to their salvation.

After the initial 45-minute gunbattle, the surviving Davidians saw an army of federal troops surround their home. They were menaced day and night with government helicopters and tanks. They watched FBI tank drivers destroy their property.

Then the FBI began its nightly high-amp assault on the compound with Tibetan chants, Christmas carols, bugle calls, sounds of locomotives, dentist drills and rabbits being slaughtered. Each new provocation was a sign to the Davidians that what they had been told was true.

Irritated and tired, the FBI came up with the idea to drive Koresh and his devoted followers out with a tank and tear gas assault. For the Davidians, it was another sign. At least 78 Davidians, mostly women and children under 15, died in the resulting inferno.

A Justice Department investigation of the siege found no one guilty of making any mistakes. But mistakes abound, and so should lessons.

Waco Siege Investigator Found Dead In His Home *

Carlos Ghigliotti, who had been retained by a U.S. House committee to help investigate the 1993 siege of the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, Tex., was found dead in Laurel under unexplained circumstances yesterday.

"We're investigating it as a homicide," said Laurel police spokesman Jim Collins. Ghigliotti, 42, was found about 1:30 p.m. in the 600 block of Washington Boulevard. His body was badly decomposed, said police. There were no signs of a break-in or a struggle at the home, where Ghigliotti ran his business, Infrared Technologies Corp., police said. An expert in thermal imaging and videotape, Ghigliotti told the House Government Reform Committee in October that his analysis of tapes at Waco indicated that an FBI agent fired shots at the compound on April 19, the final day of the siege—a view disputed by the FBI.

Michael Caddell, lead lawyer in a $100 million wrongful death lawsuit stemming from the Waco siege, said last night that he recently had discussed the findings with Ghigliotti and intended to retain him—not only because his work was impressive but also because Caddell's first expert had suffered a stoke recently. Caddell said that two weeks ago he wrote to Waco Special Counsel John C. Danforth, urging that he interview Ghigliotti immediately. Caddell said he'd heard of Ghigliotti's death yesterday from Rep. Dan Burton (R-Ind.), chair of the committee that retained Ghigliotti. Police called Burton, Caddell said, because his business card was found in Ghigliotti's pocket.

A building manager, concerned that no one had seen Ghigliotti for some weeks, contacted police, who found the body. Michael McNulty, who made a documentary film about Waco that was instrumental in reopening the investigation, said he had been looking forward to seeing Ghigliotti's conclusions. He added, "My impression is that the work he did was significant and important."

Ghigliotti's body was transported to the chief medical examiner's office in Baltimore for an autopsy.

REMARKS TO THE WESTERN NEW YORK LIBRARY RESOURCES COUNCIL By James Ostrowski March 22, 1995

The Bill of Rights is best understood as the enactment of a philosophy of individual natural rights that dominated American political thought in the Eighteenth Century.

Natural rights philosophy emerged in the Seventeenth Century as an explanation of the proper function of government that was in sharp contrast to the philosophy that had prevailed in the Middle Ages.

During that time, Europe was ruled by kings who had acquired power basically by invading countries, defeating the natives in battle, and ruling them by force of arms. Kings soon found propaganda useful in subduing their subjects and there was no shortage of intellectuals who would curry favor with the king by announcing in obscure treatises that kings ruled by divine right and their authority was absolute.

Along about the Seventeenth Century, however, certain authors like John Locke offered an alternative explanation of the basis for political authority. Locke and others less famous argued that individuals possessed certain rights by virtue of their nature as rational human beings. They had the rights to life, liberty and property, for example. To secure these rights, governments were established, whose powers were delegated to them by the people for the limited purposes of maintaining order and protecting natural rights. While governments were to protect rights, these philosophers emphasized that the rights belonged to individuals by nature, and were not granted by the government.

The philosophy of natural rights [and quest for them and for self rule] was a powerful ideological weapon against kings and tyrants during the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in England. During that time King Charles I lost his head and later kings lost much of their authority to an elected parliament.

Once again another Lame Cherry exclusive in matter and anti matter……

The reason the CIA, NSA and Napolitano were informed of the Smedinghoff assassination, was this was one of their own and would bring high attention as Chris Stevens. There could not be “inquiries” into this, as Anne Smedinghoff like Chandra Levy left strings which if pulled would reveal other higher profile operations.

This cell in the NSA was cleverly put together, and the NSA director is disavows any direct knowledge of operations, so it is never under Congressional oversight. The coordinator for this cell is Eric Holder, and is why he was brought into the Obama regime for the beginning in order to run this cell, as it was Holder who was the hatchet man in the Clinton Administration who under Janet Reno ran the Waco operations that murdered the Branch Davidians and burned their children alive for political effect, and it was Holder who ran the mass assassination of the group around Sec. Can Ron Brown's ghost stop Hillary?
WND By Jack Cashill Published December 19, 2012

Exclusive: Jack Cashill reviews ugly details of commerce secretary's death

Clinton told those gathered that Brown had been "so excited" about his trip to the Balkans because he hoped to "help people in that troubled place have the kind of decent, honorable and wonderfully ordinary lives that we Americans too often take for granted."

In truth, Brown was not excited at all. When he met with Clinton earlier in the week, Brown begged not to go. At this, the most anxious moment of his life, he dreaded the prospect of the trip.

There was nothing decent or honorable about it. He was sick of being, in his words, "a mother-f—ing tour guide for Hillary Clinton."

What troubled Brown more, however, was this trip had no point, not even the dark one of Hoovering up campaign cash. Worse, the trip was all too spontaneous and improvised. It bordered on chaotic.

For the first time on any of his trade missions, Brown had to twist arms to fill the plane and even then not successfully. Nor did he attract the caliber of business executives his pride demanded.

Still, Hillary insisted. And as much as Brown loathed the extortionate nature of the trips, he sensed that if he ceased to oblige the Clintons, "to carry the bag," they would cut him loose.

The assassination of diplomat Anne Smedinghoff was directed from 1600 Penn Avenue, in a fringe control cell, run out of the NSA.

In the Smedinghoff sanction, Homeland Director Janet Naps Napolitano knew of this operation, the CIA knew of this operation as she was one of their “own” and the NSA proper knew of the assassination.

What this cell is, is a melding of the political wing of Val-erie Jarrett, David Axelrod, David Plouffe and Michelle Robinson Obama, with full knowledge by Birther Hussein Obama, in this “committee to re elect the birther” and to provide political opportunities in staged crisis to not take advantage of.

Rahm Emanuel never quite knew the depths to what his statement would devolve to.

The reason Smedinghoff was terminated, was her indirect knowledge in being the “cancer courier” who provided the wafer to the priest who fed this bio toxin to Hugo Chavez. Smedinghoff did not know her mission in Venezuela, but after reaching her new assignment in Afghanistan, became concerned over the perilous things that Birther Hussein was exposing the Israeli state to and the treatment of Jews, that in conversation with a Mosaad operative, a recruitment was initiated, and Smedinghoff divulged her part in the Venezuela operation which the Israeli operative helped fill in the details to bring to the conclusion of why international headlines were speaking of the cancer weapon, and Smedinghoff was made to realize she was the loaded gun.

This information found it’s way through the NSA network and Smedinghoff was sourced as the conduit. It was at this point that this double agent was sanctioned for termination to cover up what was becoming a story pointing fingers at the Obama regime as Murder Incorporated.

Bluntly put, there is no difference in Smedinghoff, Benghazi with Ambassador Stevens, the SEALS loaded into one helo and murdered and Hugo Chavez. All of these operations were run out of 1600 Penn Avenue by the cell operational with full knowledge of the NSA Director.

This cell, was behind the setting up of the fake bin Laden compound in Pakistan for a future political event.

Holder is the enforcer for the cartel at 1600 Penn Avenue. His cover is Attorney General, but in working the NSA cell, he never answers to Congress as they would never inquire to him about NSA matters, as he is not overtly in control of the NSA, as this all falls under Janet Napolitano's arena, but how the cell operates, is Napolitano is often in the dark about operations being run in the high profile, and that includes the murder of Hugo Chavez.

FBI Director Robert Mueller is aware of this NSA cell, but he is not a part of it.

This NSA group scares the CIA and FBI, as those finding the tracks of their operations, know this is all sanctioned and protected at the highest levels, and those matters are not to be spoken of.

Andrew Breitbart was assassinated by this political assassination committee.

On FEBRUARY 28 1993, at 4:20 AM, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms attempted to execute a search warrant relating to alleged sexual abuse charges and illegal weapons violations.[21] [22]

Regarding the Waco incident, Wilcher alleged that:

- Koresh and six others in his cult were CIA deep-cover operatives who had refused an order to activate against an unknown target.
- The initial engagement plan was designed to result in the deaths of US officers to justify a large-scale retaliation.
- Nerve gas, not tear gas, was used in the final assault.
- A CIA hit squad was dropped onto the roof by helicopter and killed Koresh and dozens of others with pistol shots to the head at close range.

- The CIA set the fire at the compound using timed white phosphorus incendiaries.

I believe overtly faked warrants on me, by William Ruiz and Jim Volcelka, are what Jen Moore was murdered over. These warrants were people speaking lines which would be atributed to me, but were spoken by William or Jim.

hower after not having been able to shower for weeks. It was ME just moving into his condo after camping my way there from Texas.

What did he say under surveillance next, while wearing my stolen motorcycle jacket? And why did Jim Volkelca say to me "I took the asvab but decided to go in to the same line of work privately instead of enlisting" when it was me who took the Military ASVAB in MEPS Oakland CA, ,was offered Crypto Analyst or Fire Control Officer, but I decided not to enlist, and went on to private work, often working with crypto. And at KinkBnB my clothes were stolen and SimplyCat was only shopping for size 13 boots, I wear 13, and she was shopping for guns at the same time. All this fits with fake warrants on the death of Jen Moore as a coverup.

Developmental Ecology: The consideration of both Nature which identifies beneficial genetic traits adapted to a context of life and developmental psychology of non innate skills and behavior development are the combined Nature and Nurture picture rather than Nature V. Nurture.

Class based society includes the wealth and power holding Aspiration Group of Royalty who for the most part feed off (they say in empire enabling way) subjects of lesser status and development.

At the bottom of the Class based society may be a desire to become the power holder rather than society reformer.

It is my Parched Lips theory that downtrodden populations with members like Malcom X were more likely to accept interbreeding with Royalty for Mixed Race Indirect Commonwealth Rule than were the reforming philosophical movement republicanism the rule of republics by the people who are the fount, the tap root of power, who delegate power to those who rotate into the division of labor work of serving as governess full time in limited terms.

While many Catholics especially sympathetic to Ireland versus Northern Ireland should feel happy many like my own family likely found out the higher ups in the Vatican felt Protestants and even Islam were less of a threat than socialism or communism which rejected religion altogether.

Secretly grooming indirect rulers and studying DNA for the world perhaps more widely but secretly included CIA Scotish Rites work like Jonestown.

The Peoples Temple of the Disciples of Christ,[1] commonly shortened to Peoples Temple, was an American new religious organization which existed between 1954 and 1978. Founded in Indianapolis, Indiana, by Reverend Jim Jones, the Peoples Temple spread a message that combined elements of Christianity with communist and socialist ideology, with an emphasis on racial equality. After Jones moved the group to California in the 1960s and established several locations throughout the state, including its headquarters in San Francisco, the Temple forged ties with many left-wing political figures and boasted 20,000 members (though 3,0005,000 is more likely).

In 1961, Jones claimed he had had a vision in which Indianapolis and Chicago were destroyed in a nuclear attack convincing aides that the Temple needed to look for a new location. A 1962 Esquire magazine article listed the nine safest places to be in a nuclear war, with Belo Horizonte, Brazil, topping the list because of its location and atmospheric conditions.[17] Jones traveled through Brazil from 1962 through early 1963.[18] He requested money from the Temple while in Rio de Janeiro, but the Temple lacked adequate funds for such a request because of shrinking finances in Jones's absence.[18] Jones sent a preacher that had become a follower in Brazil back to Indiana to help stabilize the Temple.[19] Jones returned to Indiana in 1963.

Jim Jones's first church in Indianapolis, Indiana Before he founded his church, Jim Jones had become enamored with communism and he was also frustrated by the harassment which communists were being subjected to in the U.S. during the Red Scare.[2] This, among other things, provided a clerical inspiration for Jones; as he himself described it in a biographical recording: "I decided, how can I demonstrate my Marxism? The thought was, infiltrate the church. So I consciously made a decision to look into that prospect."

Although Jones feared that he would end up being the victim of a backlash for being a communist, he was surprised when a Methodist superintendent (whom he had not met through the American Communist Party) helped him enter the church, despite his knowledge that Jones was a communist.[4] In 1952, Jones became a student pastor in Sommerset Southside Methodist Church in Indianapolis, Indiana, but left that church because it barred him from integrating African-Americans into his congregation.[3] In 1954, Jones founded his own church in a rented space in Indianapolis, at first, he named it the Community Unity Church.

The Temple is best known for the events of NOVEMBER 18, 1978, in Guyana, when 909 people died in a mass suicide and mass murder at its remote settlement, named “Jonestown”, as well as the murders of U.S. Congressman Leo Ryan and members of his visiting delegation at the nearby Port Kaituma airstrip. The incident at Jonestown resulted in the greatest single loss of American civilian life in a deliberate act prior to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001. Because of the killings in Guyana, the Temple is regarded by scholars and by popular view as a destructive cult.

The National Space Council is a body within the Executive Office of the President of the United States created in 1989 during the George H. W. Bush administration, disbanded in 1993, and reestablished in June 2017 by the Donald Trump administration. It is a modified version of the earlier National Aeronautics and Space Council (19581973).

The National Space Council operates as an office of policy development and handles a portfolio of civil, commercial, national security, and international space policy matters. Composed of cabinet-level members and supported by a Users Advisory Group, the council is chaired by the Vice President of the United States.

Established by the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, the NASC was chaired by the President of the United States (then Dwight Eisenhower). Other members included the Secretaries of State and Defense, the NASA Administrator, the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, plus up to four additional members (one from the federal government and up to three from private industry) chosen at the President's discretion.

The Council was allowed to employ a staff to be headed by a civilian executive secretary. Eisenhower did not use the NASC extensively during the remainder of his term, and recommended at the end of his last year in office, that it be abolished. He did not fill the post of executive secretary but named an acting secretary on loan from NASA. Shortly before assuming office, President-elect John F. Kennedy announced that he wanted his Vice President, Lyndon Johnson, to become chairman of the NASC, requiring an amendment to the Space Act.

Edward C. Welsh was the first executive secretary of the NASC, appointed in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy. Welsh, who as a legislative aide to Senator Stuart Symington (D-Missouri) helped draft the 1958 legislation that created NASA and the NASC, spent the 1960s as the principal advisor to the White House on space issues. He also assisted in the development of the legislation that created the Communications Satellite Corporation (COMSAT). After his retirement in 1969, he remained active as an advisor to NASA.

National Space Council 19891993 George H.W. Bush created the National Space Council by Executive Order 12675.[2] The Council was chaired by Vice President Dan Quayle and included the following members: The Secretary of State The Secretary of the Treasury, The Secretary of Defense,, the Secretary of Commerce, The Secretary of Transportation, The Director of the Office of Management and Budget The Chief of Staff to the President The Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs The Assistant to the President for Science and Technology The Director of the Central Intelligence Agency The Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration

The revived National Space Council consists of the following members: Vice President of the United States, chair, Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, Secretary of Commerce, Secretary of Transportation, Secretary of Energy (since February 2020), Secretary of Homeland Security, Director of National Intelligence, Director of the Office of Management and Budget, National Security Advisor ,Assistant to the President for Economic Policy (since February 2020), Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy (since February 2020) Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy Homeland Security Advisor (until February 2020) Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff

On FEBRUARY 20, 2018, Vice President Mike Pence, Chairman of the National Space Council announced the candidates selected to serve on the National Space Council Users Advisory Group.

Mike Pence

Michael Richard Pence (born JUNE 7, 1959) is an American politician, broadcaster, and lawyer who served as the 48th vice president of the United States from 2017 to 2021. A member of the Republican Party, he was the 50th governor of Indiana from 2013 to 2017. Pence was also a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from 2001 to 2013, representing the 2nd district of Indiana from 2001 to 2003 and the 6th district of Indiana from 2003 to 2013.

lthough Jones feared that he would end up being the victim of a backlash for being a communist, he was surprised when a Methodist superintendent (whom he had not met through the American Communist Party) helped him enter the church, despite his knowledge that Jones was a communist.[4] In 1952, Jones became a student pastor in Sommerset Southside Methodist Church in Indianapolis, Indiana, but left that church because it barred him from integrating African-Americans into his congregation.[3] In 1954, Jones founded his own church in a rented space in Indianapolis, at first, he named it the Community Unity Church.

Jones had previously observed a faith healing service at the Seventh Day Baptist Church, which led him to conclude that such healings could attract people, and generate income, which he could use to accomplish his social goals.[3] Jones and the Temple's members knowingly faked healings because they found that the healings increased people's faith and generated financial resources which they could use to help the poor and finance the church.[3] These "healings" involved the use of chicken livers and other animal tissue, which Jones (and confederate Temple members) claimed were cancerous tissues which had been removed from the bodies of the people who had been healed.

In 1956, Jones bought his first church building, located in a racially mixed Indianapolis neighborhood. He first named his church Wings of Deliverance,[6] and later that year, he renamed it the Peoples Temple Full Gospel Church, the first time he used the phrase “Peoples Temple.”[3] Jones’s healings and purported clairvoyant revelations attracted spiritualists.

Luckily an abondoned building is found

The Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry (the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction in the United States often omits the and, while the English Constitution in the United Kingdom omits the Scottish), commonly known as simply the Scottish Rite (or, in England and Australia, as the Rose Croix[1] although this is only one of its degrees), is one of several Rites of Freemasonry. A Rite is a progressive series of degrees conferred by various Masonic organizations or bodies, each of which operates under the control of its own central authority. In the Scottish Rite the central authority is called a Supreme Council.

The Scottish Rite is one of the appendant bodies of Freemasonry that a Master Mason may join for further exposure to the principles of Freemasonry. It is also concordant, in that some of its degrees relate to the degrees of Symbolic (Craft) Freemasonry.

A site without a name is invisible

The Peoples Temple. in April 1976. There should be a plaque at the former site (now a post office) to honor the victims of Rev. Jim Jones.Vincent Maggiora/The Chronicle

The victims of Jonestown were disproportionately San Francisco's least politically empowered demographic low-income African American women. Many of the San Francisco leaders who behaved badly during the Jonestown crisis still have far too much power here today. So I don't anticipate any official commemoration to happen anytime soon.

The Temple had little luck converting most Midwesterners to communist ideals, even when disguised as religion.[14] Admiring the 1959 Cuban Revolution, Jones traveled to the island nation in 1960 in an unsuccessful attempt to persuade poor black Cubans to move to his congregation in Indiana.[14] The Temple's religious message transitioned during this period, to one treading between atheism and the subtle notion that Jones was a Christ-like figure.[15] While Temple aides complained privately, Jones said that the new message was needed to foster members' dedication to the Temple's larger goals.[15] He maintained such implications until the mid-to-late 1970s.

Because of limited expansion in the Redwood Valley-Ukiah area, it eventually seemed necessary to move the church's seat of power to an urban area.[23] In 1970, the Temple began holding services in San Francisco and Los Angeles.[24] It established permanent facilities in those cities in 1971 and 1972, respectively.[23] In San Francisco, the Temple occupied a former Scottish Rite temple at 1859 Geary Boulevard; in Los Angeles, the Temple occupied the former building of the First Church of Christ, Scientist at 1366 S. Alvarado Street.

Ruby Ridge was the site of an 11-day siege in 1992 in Boundary County, Idaho, near Naples. It began on August 21, when deputies of the United States Marshals Service (USMS) initiated action to apprehend and arrest Randy Weaver under a bench warrant after his failure to appear on firearms charges. Given three conflicting dates for his court appearance, and suspecting a conspiracy against him, Weaver refused to surrender, and members of his immediate family, and family friend Kevin Harris, resisted as well. The Hostage Rescue Team of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI HRT) became involved as the siege developed.

A month after leaving the Army, Weaver and Victoria Jordison married in a ceremony at the First Congregational Church in Fort Dodge, Iowa in 1971. Randy found work at a local John Deere factory. Vicki worked first as a secretary and then as a homemaker.[11]

The Weavers subscribed to the belief of “Christian Identity”, which holds that white people are the lost tribe of Israel.[12] Vicki Weaver developed a set of beliefs following Old Covenant Laws, and the family referred to God as “Yahweh”. Because Weaver considered a woman having a child to be “unclean”, she gave birth to her fourth child in a shed behind the family’s cabin on Ruby Ridge. After charges were pressed against her husband, Vicki Weaver wrote to U.S. Attorney Maurice O. Ellsworth, addressing him as “Servant of the Queen of Babylon” and writing, “The stink of your lawless government has reached Heaven, the abode of Yahweh our Yashua,” and, “Whether we live or whether we die, we will not bow to your evil commandments.”[13]

On three or four occasions, the Weavers had attended Aryan Nations meetings at Hayden Lake, where there was a compound for government resistors and white separatists.[12][14]

The couple began to harbor more fundamentalist beliefs, with Vicki believing that the apocalypse was imminent.[15] To follow Vicki's vision of her family surviving the apocalypse away from "corrupt civilization", the Weaver family moved to a 20-acre (8.1-hectare) property in remote Ruby Ridge, Idaho, in the early 1980s and built a cabin there.[11] They paid $5,000 in cash and traded their moving truck for the land, valued at $500 an acre.[16]

At the time of the Ruby Ridge incident, the Weavers had four children: Sara, 16; Samuel, 14; Rachel, 10; and Elisheba, 10 months.[11] Vicki homeschooled the children.[11]

On February 5, the trial date was changed from February 19 to FEBRUARY 20 to give participants more travel time following a federal holiday. The court clerk sent the parties a letter informing them of the date change, but the notice was not sent directly to Weaver

During the Marshals Service reconnoiter of the Weaver property, six U.S. Marshals encountered Harris and Sammy Weaver, Randy's 14-year-old son, in woods near the family cabin. A shootout took place. Deputy U.S. Marshal William Francis Degan, Sammy Weaver, and the Weavers' dog, Striker, all died as a result. In the subsequent siege of the Weaver residence, led by the FBI, Weaver's wife Vicki was killed by FBI sniper fire. All casualties occurred in the first two days of the operation. The siege and standoff were ultimately resolved by civilian negotiators. Harris surrendered and was arrested on August 30, while Weaver and his three daughters surrendered the next day.

Mr. Bovard revisits the standoff involving white seperatist Randy Weaver at Ruby Ridge

20 Years Ago at Ruby Ridge: FBI Sniper Slays Mother Holding her Baby

by Jim on August 22, 2012

Today is the 20th anniversary of the killing of Vicki Weaver. Following is an article I wrote on this back in 1995, followed by the response from FBI director Louis Freeh, which claimed that I "grossly mischaracterized" the details of Vicki Weaver's killing.

I wonder how much controversy such a killing would excite nowadays. It is amazing how much further government prerogatives have stretched in the past two decades. And it is perhaps even more amazing how much more docile many Americans have become towards unmitigated government BS.

No Accountability at the FBI
By James Bovard

FBI Director Louis Freeh last week announced that no FBI agents would be fired or severely punished for their role in the botched attack on Idaho white separatist Randy Weaver and his family in 1992, which led to the death of Mr. Weaver's son and wife. The announcement, which drew denunciations from both the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Rifle Association, is the conclusion of a patchwork of deception that has continued for more than two years.

Mr. Freeh, in his statement on Friday, declared that “the [Randy Weaver case] crisis was one of the most dangerous and potentially violent situations to which FBI agents have ever been assigned.” But this is patent nonsense. Given the growing importance of this case, a review of the facts is in order.

Randy Weaver lived with his wife and four children in an isolated cabin on Ruby Ridge in the Idaho mountains, 40 miles south of the Canadian border. Mr. Weaver did not favor violence against any other race, but believed that the races should live separately. Because of his extreme beliefs, he was targeted for a sting operation.

In 1989, an undercover agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms approached Mr. Weaver and pressured the mountain man to sell him sawed-off shotguns. Mr. Weaver at first refused, but the agent was persistent and Mr. Weaver eventually sold him two shotguns - thereby violating federal firearms law. A court official sent Mr. Weaver a notice to appear in court on the wrong day; after Mr. Weaver did not show up on the correct date, a Justice Department attorney (who knew of the error) got a warrant for his arrest. Federal agents then launched an elaborate 18-month surveillance of Mr. Weaver’s cabin and land.

David Nevin, a defense lawyer involved in the subsequent court case, noted later: “The U.S. marshals called in military aerial reconnaissance and had photos studied by the Defense Mapping Agency… . They had psychological profiles performed and installed $130,000 worth of solar-powered long-range spy cameras. They intercepted the Weavers’ mail. They even knew the menstrual cycle of Weaver’s teenage daughter, and planned an arrest scenario around it.”

On Aug. 21, 1992, six heavily armed, camouflaged U.S. marshals sneaked onto Mr. Weaver’s property. Three agents threw rocks to get the attention of Mr. Weaver’s dogs. As Mr. Weaver’s 14-year-old son, Sammy, and Kevin Harris, a 25- year-old family friend living in the cabin, ran to see what the dogs were barking at, U.S. marshals killed one of the dogs. Sammy Weaver fired his gun in the direction the shots had come from. Randy Weaver came out and hollered for his son to come back to the cabin. Sammy yelled, “I’m coming, Dad,” and was running back to the cabin when a federal marshal shot him in the back and killed him.

Kevin Harris responded to Sammy’s shooting by fatally shooting a U.S. marshal. Federal agents falsely testified in court that the U.S. marshal had been killed by the first shot of the exchange; evidence later showed that the marshal had fired seven shots before he was shot himself.

After the death of the U.S. marshal, the commander of the FBI’s Hostage Rescue Team was called in, and ordered federal agents to shoot any armed adult outside the Weaver cabin, regardless of whether that person was doing anything to threaten or menace federal agents. (Thanks to the surveillance, federal officials knew that the Weavers always carried guns when outside their cabin.)

With the massive federal firepower surrounding the cabin - the automatic weapons, the sniper rifles, the night vision scopes - this was practically an order to assassinate the alleged wrongdoers. Four hundred government agents quickly swarmed in the mountains around the cabin. Most important, the federal agents at that time made no effort to contact Mr. Weaver to negotiate his surrender.

The next day, Aug. 22, Randy Weaver walked to the little shack where his son's body lay. As he was lifting the latch on the shack's door, he was shot from behind by FBI sniper Lon Horiuchi. As he struggled back to the cabin, his wife, Vicki, stood in the doorway, holding a 10-month-old baby in her arms and calling for her husband to hurry. The FBI sniper fired again and hit Vicki Weaver in the temple, killing her instantly. (Mr. Horiuchi testified in court that he could hit within a quarter inch of a target at a distance of 200 yards.)

Reuters reported on Aug. 25, three days after the shooting: "FBI Agent Gene Glenn said that the law enforcement officers were proceeding with extreme care, mindful that Weaver's wife Vicki and three remaining children … were also in the cabin. 'We are taking a very cautious approach,' he said in a statement to reporters." An internal FBI report completed shortly after the confrontation justified the killing of Mrs. Weaver by asserting that she had put herself in harm's way, the New York Times reported in 1993.

Though federal officials now claim that the killing of Vicki Weaver was an accident, the Washington Times's Jerry Seper reported in September 1993: "Court records show that while the woman's body lay in the cabin for eight days, the FBI used microphones to taunt the family. 'Good morning, Mrs. Weaver. We had pancakes for breakfast. What did you have?' asked the agents in at least one exchange."

Neither Randy Weaver nor Mr. Harris fired any shots at government agents after the siege began. Mr. Weaver surrendered after 11 days. An Idaho jury found him innocent of almost all charges and ruled that Kevin Harris's shooting of the U.S. marshal was self-defense. Federal Judge Edward Lodge condemned the FBI and issued a lengthy list detailing the Justice Department's and FBI's misconduct, fabrication of evidence, and refusals to obey court orders.

Justice Department officials launched their own investigation. A 542-page report was completed earlier this year that recommended possible criminal prosecution of federal officials and found that the rules of engagement "contravened the Constitution of the United States." Yet Deval Patrick, assistant ttorney general for civil rights, rejected the findings last month and concluded that the federal agents had not used excessive force.

FBI Director Louis Freeh concluded that there was no evidence to show that Mr. Horiuchi intended to shoot Mrs. Weaver. Yet Bo Gritz, the former Vietnam War hero who represented the government when it finally negotiated Randy Weaver's surrender after the death of his wife, declared that the government's profile of the Weaver family recommended killing Mr. Weaver's wife: "I believe Vicki was shot purposely by the sniper as a priority target… . The profile said, if you get a chance, take Vicki Weaver out."

Mr. Freeh justified the FBI shooting of the Weavers because sniper Horiuchi "observed one of the suspects raise a weapon in the direction of a helicopter carrying other FBI personnel." But other federal officials testified at the trial that no helicopters were flying in the vicinity of the Weavers' cabin at the time of the FBI sniping.

One of the most disturbing aspects of Mr. Freeh's slaps on the wrist last week is his treatment of Larry Potts, Mr. Freeh's pick as acting deputy FBI director. Mr. Potts was the senior official in charge of the Idaho operation and signed off on the shoot-without-provocation orders. Despite the finding by the Justice Department that the orders violated the Constitution, Freeh recommended that the only penalty

Mr. Potts face be a letter of censure - the same penalty Mr. Freeh received when he lost an FBI cellular telephone.

The Weaver case is by far the most important civil - rights/civil-liberties case the Clinton administration has yet resolved - and it resolved it in favor of granting unlimited deadly power to federal agents. If the new Republican congressional leaders let the Justice Department and the FBI get away with what may have been murder, they will be accomplices to a gross travesty of justice.

Wounded Knee FEB 21 1973 Massacre 150 Indian Villagers Dead

Wambli Sina Win: Tribes should protect their Indian bloodline retrieved from lwww.indianz.com and copied or modified to here

Since the beginning of time, many species of the Great Mystery's creation, the two legged and four legged, naturally and aggressively protected their bloodline to ensure that their species would not become extinct. Have you ever seen a wild buffalo on its own, seek out another species with which to mate when there are other wild buffalo around? If the buffalo have sense enough to stay with its own kind, why is it so difficult for our young Lakota men and women to marry and have children with other Lakota to protect our cultural integrity and to preserve our bloodline from being bred out of us?

Blood quantum laws or Indian blood laws are laws in the United States and the former Thirteen colonies that define Native American status by fractions of Native American ancestry. These laws were enacted by the American government as a way to establish legally defined racial population groups. By contrast, many tribes and nations do not include blood quantum as part of their own enrollment criteria.

These USA laws under this term-of-art was used by white society to discriminate against Native Americans though Native Americans have

Today it's easy to laugh at tribes who enroll those with ridiculously low blood quantum and it seems that everything is being done to be "accommodating" and to make our tribes non-sometimes indian law based national beliefs of similar meaning.

In 2007, for instance, Cherokee Nation voted in the majority to exclude as members those Cherokee Freedmen who had no documented ancestors on the Cherokee-by-blood list of the Dawes Rolls. However, the Cherokee Supreme Court ruled in 2005 that they were legitimate members of the tribe at that time.

A person’s blood quantum is defined as the fraction of their ancestors, out of their total ancestors, who are documented as full-blood Native Americans.

Many Native American tribes continue to employ blood quantum in current tribal laws to determine who is eligible for membership or citizenship in the tribe or Native American nation. These often require a minimum degree of blood relationship and often an ancestor listed in a specific tribal census from the late 19th century or early 20th century. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians of North Carolina, for example, require an ancestor listed in the 1924 Baker census and a minimum of 1/16 Cherokee blood inherited from their ancestor(s) on that roll. Meanwhile, the Cherokee Nation requires applicants to descend from an ancestor in the 1906 Dawes roll (direct lineal ancestry), but does not impose

Indian. It takes courage and leadership to take steps to protect our bloodline. Enrollment based on ancestry or descendancy has to be eliminated to keep us from extinction. It is only right that economic benefits reflect the blood quantum with full bloods receiving the maximum benefits. One who is 1/100th should receive benefits in accordance with this minimal blood. This was a choice by the minimum blood’s ancestors to breed the minimum blood quantum requirement. The United Keetoowah Band requires a minimum 1/4 blood quantum.

The Mashantucket Pequot tribe on the other hand, base their tribal membership on an individual proving descent, by recognized genealogical documentation from one or more members of the eleven families included on the 1900 US census of the tribe.[32]

Indian blood out and to diminish the bloodline.

Accordingly, these descendents should live with the consequences. Instead of "banishing" tribal members, why not raise the blood quantum? As a sovereign, a tribe is within its authority to increase the blood quantum requirements for enrollment. Any real Indian tribe would seriously consider this to preserve the economic resources of the tribe for Indians and it would also encourage tribal members to marry other Indians.

My Heyoka Grandfather and my Heyoka son have spoken of how precious the Lakota bloodline is. Once the full blood status is mixed, it is a loss from which tribes may never recover. What kind of example has been set when a Lakota marries outside of his or her own race and has children?

It becomes a vicious cycle for the children in turn will likely marry other Non-Indians with children of even lesser Indian blood. How many generations will it take to bring back the 99% level of Indian blood? One bad choice leads to many other bad choices which eventually leads a tribe to extinction.

Have you ever sat in the waiting room of an Indian Health Services (IHS) clinic to observe how many white people sit and obnoxiously complain the loudest about the services? Does this bother anyone to see this attitude of entitlement?

Several years ago, my ex-husband asked me to assist him in drafting a tribal resolution for a Indian preference policy for his tribe, the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma. He told me that in researching his tribe, he was distressed to discover that the highest Indian blood quantum was one-half and there were five tribal members, including himself and his sister who were half-bloods.

His family was among those who had the most Indian blood. He was concerned that the tribe had a history of giving employment preference to whites over their own enrolled Eastern Shawnee Tribal members. This is ridiculous considering the minimal blood quantum of their tribal members.

I soon discovered to my dismay that white people had taken over the Eastern Shawnee Tribe. This tribe once had a great legacy and was known as Tecumseh's band yet now many centuries later, this tribe seems to have become "Custer's Band."

One tribal official told me that Native American culture and spirituality was not important to his people. My son asked me to sing a Lakota song which was really a prayer but this Eastern Shawnee tribal official took offense to it though the meeting was "traditionally" opened up with the Lord's Prayer. I guess somewhere there must be a "traditional" Bible too but I have not seen it.

How many centuries of bad choices produced such minimal blood? My ex-husband requested information as to a breakdown of the amount of blood for each tribal member without their names or dates of birth or other personal information, however the administration was apparently so ashamed of the low blood quantum that they would not release this information. I went to a council meeting full of angry, seething hostile white people. Approximately 95% of their gaming employees were whites, some with an openly arrogant attitude of entitlement who were allowed to speak vehemently and disrespectfully against my ex-husband who is an elder. When hateful white people and non-tribal members feel so empowered to take over a Business Committee meeting, it is a great injustice and an attack on what is Indian.

Ultimately, the lone Indian won this battle. The Business Committee begrudgingly passed the resolution to adopt an Indian preference policy. As a result, my ex-husband is loved by some and hated by those who fought tooth and nail against this law. My children tell me that they have become the “Indian outcasts” in a white man’s tribe.

If tribes have a ridiculously low blood quantum, an almost all white work force in their gaming and other industries and look down upon Native American culture, language and religion and say they are non- priorities, aren’t these tribes essentially telling Congress that they are business corporations, not Indian tribes? If so, how long will it be before Congress justifiably terminates such tribes?

My own tribe, the Oglala Sioux Tribe, recently opened up its enrollment. I was told that in short order, Indian women who were shacking up with freeloading illegals rushed to Pine Ridge to fill out tribal enrollment applications for these offspring. One Lakota woman told me her Spaola (Mexican) mate refused to let her teach their sons the Lakota language and he insisted that they learn only Spanish. How arrogant! We don’t need parasites who contribute nothing to our people enjoying the benefits of what our ancestors fought and died to protect.

These people did not fight in any battles or sign any treaties yet they have “bred” their way into our tribal rolls. The tribe of my Grandfather and Great-grandfathers will soon be the object of shame and a haven for illegals hiding from the law. My Heyoka Grandfather spoke out against the diminishment of our precious bloodline. My Heyoka son carries on the legacy and ideals of my Grandfather. He has a beautiful Native American spouse and I’m proud that they have Native American children. I pray that more will do their part to fight against the bastard children of cultural genocide, acculturation and assimilation.

After all these years, I distinctly remember a sign and attitude at the Kadoka Bar in Kadoka, South Dakota, one of most racist states in the union, which read “No Indians or Dogs Allowed.”

I was reminded of this very attitude when I attended the Eastern Shawnee Business Committee meeting where the Indian preference issue was debated not so long ago. Tribes, take notice. How long will it be before your council fires are taken over by a “No Indians Allowed Tribe”?

[The Good, the Bad and the Ugly - The Danish National Symphony Orchestra (Live)]

Wounded Knee, in South Dakota, is part of the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation. It is notorious in American history for more than one reason.

In 1890 the U.S. government sent the 7th Cavalry (Custer's former command) there to round up suspected Indian "Nationalists." Instead the troops managed to massacre over 150 Indians, most of them women and children. So the U.S. government killed a bunch of harmless Americans, even if they weren't citizens. Then, in 1973, leaders of the American Indian Movement (AIM), a radical, 60's-style social change organization occupied the area to protest conditions on Native American reservations.

The FBI got involved and a siege soon began (shocking, I tell you). Starting on FEBRUARY 21, 1973, the siege lasted 71 days and during that time Indian occupiers and the federal agents took potshots at each other almost daily. Two Native American protesters were killed by the FBI. After the siege, during the trial of the leaders, it came out that the FBI had tried to manipulate and threaten witnesses- the judge threw out the charges against the AIM leaders. Yay FBI!

The Queen’s Coronation Oath, 1953 retrieved from RoyalUK.com and copied or modified to here

In the Coronation ceremony of 2 June 1953, one of the highlights was when The Queen made her Coronation Oath (taken from the Order of Service for the Coronation).

The Queen having returned to her Chair, (her Majesty having already on Tuesday, the 4th day of November, 1952, in the presence of the two Houses of Parliament, made and signed the Declaration prescribed by Act of Parliament), the Archbishop standing before her shall administer the Coronation Oath, first asking the Queen, Madam, is your Majesty willing to take the Oath? And the Queen answering “I am willing.”

The Archbishop shall minister these questions; and The Queen, having a book in her hands, shall answer each question severally as follows:

Archbishop. Will you solemnly promise and swear to govern the Peoples of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, Pakistan, and Ceylon, and of your Possessions and the other Territories to any of them belonging or pertaining, according to their respective laws and customs?

Queen. “I solemnly promise so to do.” Archbishop. Will you to your power cause Law and Justice, in Mercy, to be executed in all your judgements? Queen. “I will.”

Archbishop. Will you to the utmost of your power maintain the Laws of God and the true profession of the Gospel? Will you to the utmost of your power maintain in the United Kingdom the Protestant Reformed Religion established by law? Will you maintain and preserve inviolably the settlement of the Church of England, and the doctrine, worship, discipline, and government thereof, as by law established in England? And will you preserve unto the Bishops and Clergy of England, and to the Churches there committed to their charge, all such rights and privileges, as by law do or shall appertain to them or any of them?

Queen. All this I promise to do.

Then the Queen arising out of her Chair, supported as before, the Sword of State being carried before her, shall go to the Altar, and make her solemn Oath in the sight of all the people to observe the premisses: laying her right hand upon the Holy Gospel in the great Bible (which was before carried in the procession and is now brought from the Altar by the Arch-bishop, and tendered to her as she kneels upon the steps), and saying these words:

The things which I have here before promised, I will perform and keep. So help me God.

Then the Queen shall kiss the Book and sign the Oath.

The Queen having thus taken her Oath shall return again to her Chair, and the Bible shall be delivered to the Dean of Westminster.

Mary I (18 FEBRUARY 1516 - 17 NOVEMBER 1558), also known as Mary Tudor, and as "Bloody Mary" by her Protestant opponents, was Queen of England and Ireland from July 1553 until her death in 1558. She is best known for her vigorous attempt to reverse the English Reformation, which had begun during the reign of her father, Henry VIII. Her attempt to restore to the church the property confiscated in the previous two reigns was largely thwarted by parliament, but during her five-year reign, Mary had over 280 religious dissenters burned at the stake in the Marian persecutions.

In 1554, Mary married Philip of Spain, becoming queen consort of Habsburg Spain on his accession in 1556.

After Mary's death in 1558, her re-establishment of Roman Catholicism was reversed by her younger half-sister and successor, Elizabeth I.

So, who exactly are these rich weirdos Scalia went hunting with before he died?

The name Hubertus comes from St. Hubert, the patron saint of various sportsmen, including hunters, fishers, archers, trappers, fur hunters, and dog trainers. The original Order was created in 1695 by Count Franz Anton von Sporck, the son of a military man who inherited the customary bounty bestowed upon Austrian war heroes of the 17th century: large tracts of land confiscated from Protestant Bohemian nobles.

The Venerable Order of Saint Hubertus, as it was called then, gathered the "greatest noble hunters of the the [sic] 17th century" to enjoy the fruits of those Protestant dispossessions.

The original Order lasted until 1938, when Hermann Goering, commander of the Nazi air force, executed the Order's leader when he was denied membership, and Adolf Hitler dissolved the group in response to its unwillingness to admit Nazis. The members who survived World War II used their hunting skills to supply food in rural Austria in the chaotic post-war climate-according to the Order's website, its efforts were critical in saving Austria from the Iron Curtain.

JFK murder plots planned in Chicago before Dallas assassination retrieved from By ABC7 Tuesday, November 5, 2013 and copied or modified to here

Even though the anniversary isn't for a few weeks, by this moment 50 years ago JFK would already have been dead, and Chicago would have gone down in history as the place.

The Omen in Chicago: the I-Team has discovered not just one, but two plots to cut down JFK in Chicago in early November, 1963, and an intriguing backstory of bungling by the government agencies protecting him.

President John F. Kennedy was never supposed to make it to Texas, never supposed to take this ride, and never supposed to die in Dallas.

As Chicagoans watched storefront TVs and picked up newspapers of the day, there was one storyline almost no one knew a story still evolving five decades later: evidence that President Kennedy was to be targeted here in Chicago.

“The assassination was supposed to take place during the motorcade that was scheduled to come in from O’Hare Airport,” said Abraham Bolden, JFK Secret Service Agent.

According to this Chicagoan and former JFK bodyguard— and from these FBI and Secret Service reports obtained by the I-Team— it is clear there were two plans by different groups intent on killing the president in Chicago weeks before Dallas.

In October 1963, the White House had publicly announced JFK’S plans to fly into Chicago on November 2. He was to land at O’Hare as he had many times, would be greeted by Mayor Daley as usual, and would attend an Army-Air Force football game at Soldier Field.

Records reveal one Chicago plot had been developed by radical Cuban exile Homer Echevarria, a known smuggler of automatic weapons and machine guns.

“Echeverria had made mention that a plan was underway to assassinate President Kennedy and it was going to be successful. ‘We’re gonna get him.’ That’s what he said,” said Bolden.

The company was founded on November 26, 1905, when Florence Butt opened the C.C. Butt Grocery Store on the ground floor of her family home in Kerrville, Texas.[11] In 1919, Howard Edward Butt, Florence's youngest son, took over the store upon his return from World War I. Shortly after becoming owner of his mother's small store, Howard tried four expansions into Central Texas, including one in Junction, all of which failed. Finally, in 1927, Howard launched a successful second store in Del Rio, Texas, followed by the purchase of three grocery stores in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The initials of Howard E. Butt became the name of the store.[12]

Charles, the younger son of Howard E. Butt, became president of H-E-B in 1971. As of 2019, Charles Butt is chairman and CEO of H-E-B, having grown the business from annual sales of $250 million in 1971 to $13 billion in 2006. In 2010, Craig Boyan was named H-E-B's President and COO.[13] By 2018, Martin Otto, the former CFO and Chief Merchant, had become the COO.[14] In 2011, the company was #12[15] on Forbes's list of largest privately held companies; H-E-B was, for many years, until Dell went private in 2013, the largest privately held company in Texas.[16] H-E-B acquired Favor Delivery as a wholly owned subsidiary in February 2018. The details of the merger were not disclosed.[17]

In 2019, H-E-B is investing millions of dollars to replace cashier stations with self-checkout kiosks or smartphone apps, at the same time that many other supermarkets (such as Walmart, Target, etc) are shifting towards more self-checkout lane and app usage, and displacing cashiers.[18]

In 1924, Howard Edward Butt Sr. married Mary Elizabeth Holdsworth.[3] They had four children:[4][5]

Howard E. Butt Jr. (September 8, 1927 - September 11, 2016), president of the H. E. Butt Foundation and founder of Christian learning center Laity Lodge;

Margaret Eleanor Butt Crook served as director of Bread for the World. Her husband, William H. Crook, served as director of the Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and later as United States Ambassador to Australia.

Rise

Isaak Izrailevich Prezent brought Lysenko to public attention, using Soviet propaganda to portray him as a genius who had developed a new, revolutiona ry agricultural technique. Lysenko's resulting popularity gave him a platform to denounce theoretical genetics and to promote his own agricultural practices. He was, in turn, supported by the Soviet propaganda machine, which overstated his successes, cited faked experimental results, and omitted mention of his failures.[10]

Fall

At the end of 1952, the situation started to change, and newspapers published articles criticizing Lysenkoism. However, the process of return to regular genetics slowed down in Nikita Khrushchev's time, when Lysenko showed him the supposed successes of an experimental agricultural complex. It was once again forbidden to criticize Lysenkoism, though it was now possible to express different views, and the geneticists imprisoned under Stalin were released or rehabilitated posthumously. The ban was finally waived in the mid-1960s.[25] [26]

Charles Clarence Butt (born February 3, 1938), the president and chairman of H. E. Butt Grocery Company. Another child, Mary Beth Butt, who lived for only 10 days (November 17, 1943 - November 27, 1943), is buried beside Mary Elizabeth Holdsworth Butt at the Glen Rest Cemetery in Kerrville, Texas, was the fourth child of Howard Butt Sr. and Mary Elizabeth Holdsworth Butt.[6] [7]

Butt was a lay minister in the Southern Baptist Church.[2]

AmeriCorps VISTA is a national service program designed to alleviate poverty. President John F. Kennedy originated the idea for VISTA, which was founded as Volunteers in Service to America in 1965, and incorporated into the AmeriCorps network of programs in 1993.[1] VISTA is an initialism for Volunteers in Service to America.

Philanthropy

In 1934, after a destructive Texas hurricane, he founded the Howard E. Butt Community Investment Program whereby H-E-B would contribute 5% of its pretax earnings to various nonprofit organizations throughout Texas. Also in 1934, he established the H.E. Butt Foundation,[1] one of the first charitable organizations in Texas. The foundation focused on funding public school programs, establishing libraries and constructing recreational facilities.[4]

Butt deferred much of his philanthropic activities to his wife, stating: “I make the money, and Mary spends it (on worthy causes). And I am glad she does.”[3] His wife started the State Crippled Children’s Program, served as chairwoman of the Cameron County Child Welfare Board, started the first tuberculosis diagnosis and treatment program in the region, and purchased the first equipment used to test the hearing and vision of schoolchildren.[4]

In 1949, she co-organized and hosted the first Conference of Texas Foundations and Trusts which coordinated philanthropic giving so as to avoid duplication and promoted the exchange ideas and strategies.[8] In 1955, she was appointed by Texas Governor Allan Shivers to the governing board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools (later the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation). She served as the only woman member of the board for 18 years[4][5] being appointed by six different governors.[9]

IN 1961, PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY APPOINTED BUTT TO THE PRESIDENT'S COMMITTEE ON EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY. Butt also helped establish the University of Corpus Christi, now part of the Texas A&M University System.[2]

https://www.laitylodge.org/about/

WELCOMING GUESTS
SINCE 1961

Founded by Howard Butt, Jr., in 1961, Laity Lodge has been welcoming guests to retreats designed to reawaken a sense of the sacred-the nearness and goodness of God in all of life-ever since. The Lodge is located deep in the Texas Hill Country, on the banks of the Frio River. We hope you will find our Canyon to be a place of extraordinary beauty. We also hope that you'll find that the things we do together are really quite ordinary: conversing, singing, walking, praying, eating, and resting. Those few things that we believe contribute to a truly good life-a life of steady stewardship and love, lived among friends and before God.

OF THE PEOPLE

“Laity” comes from the Greek λαϊκός (laikos), and means “of the people.” Laity Lodge is built on the conviction that all people, in all places and occupations, are called to be witnesses-steadfast, caring visionaries of hope in a world of shadows.

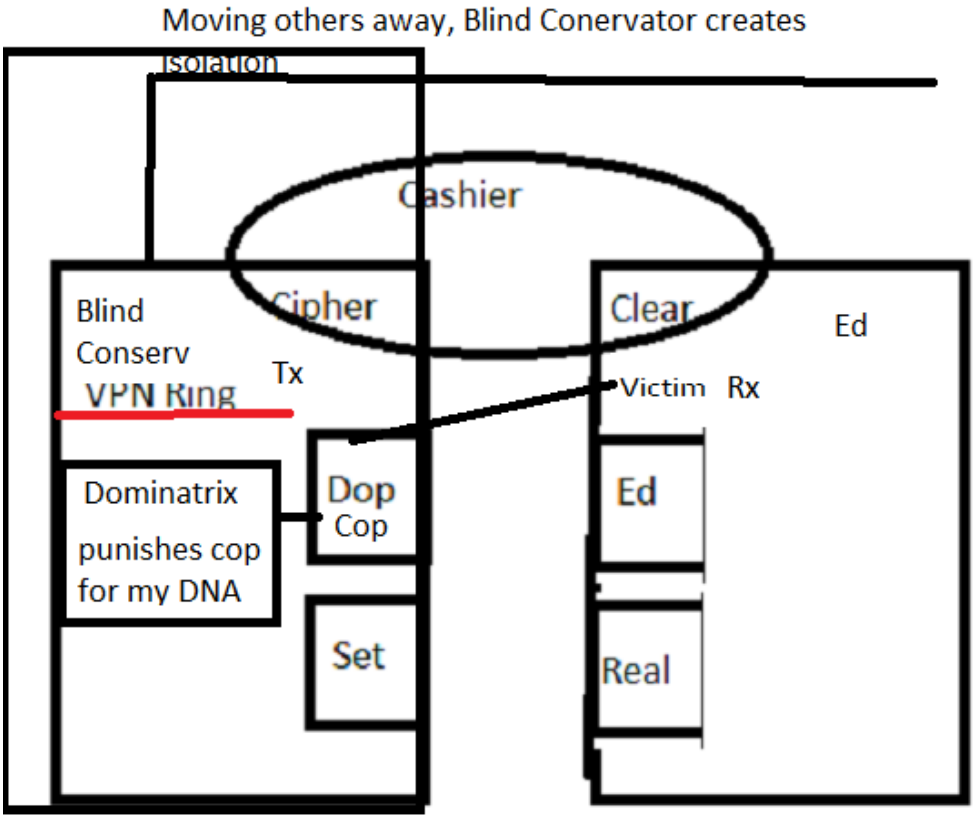
Virtual Private Human Trafficking in H E B

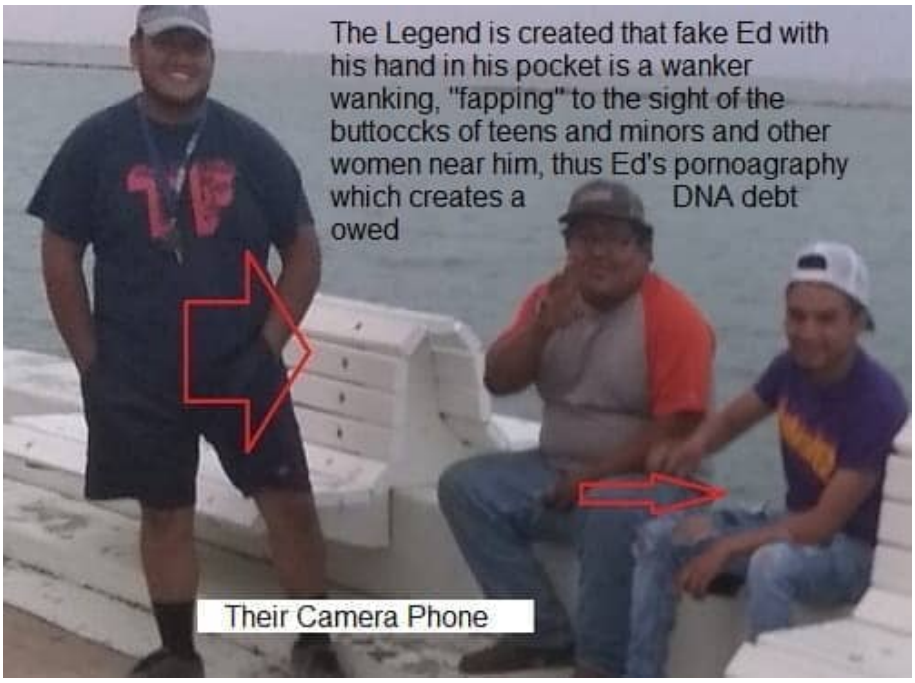
Cops, moat likely NIH with a grudge and with insider knowledge of my DNA think a Dominatrix could punish them (instead of me) becasue the cops allege I am a dirty filthy pedophile white supremacist.



"the enemy of security: repetition leads to patterns, and cryptanalysts thrive on patterns."

— Simon Singh, The Code Book: The Science of Secrecy from Ancient Egypt to Quantum Cryptography

The ring in which the police are traffickingn I can not prove exist, and use a set for my bedroom, but its code words overly my clear text words thus they claim clear and VPN fuse. They do not.



The perps in the ring attempt to hide the evidence plants, fake allegations againt me, code words, etc. challenging me I cant prove the people (Doppelgangers) near me are trying to be condused with me but I know that they are.

These perps are the Zoom Photographers, Zoom Masterbators, whose antisocial conduct will be alleged, piggy backed, to me.

Tunneled

Cashier	Ed has bought eggs	HEB Conspirator Doppling Ed: Cypher = Ed buying eggs means I meet at Randevue
Cashier	Ed Buying Eggs	Ed goes home, not a randevue

Though intoned “on top of” my eggs purchase, a virtual private commiunication system exists where someone else creates a meaning of code words by a VPN substitution cypher.

Because their cypher text they use as communication among themselves is designed to seem (and is to me) normal business the presence of the secret deal, the secret messages, are not (by me) provable, not decodable. I don't have the ALTERNATE meaning code book, and the NORMAL meaning of the words are explicable as no code words in place.

For the human trafficking rendezvous system and the appearances of an accounting being made to me, neither are. It seems likely CIA DIA has the Cypher Text Substitution VPN in place they are running in my vicinity, encapsulating traffic bound to be as signals they give to each other but are not a network I am participating in. I am in the public place but not their private network.

The charge I do agree to. The clear text simple purchase of a carton of eggs.

Authorized Cleartext understood and agreed to by me	Codewords and secret trafficking network I am not privy to and unable to prove exists and I do not authorized fused into clear text sale
The wire fraud is a fused overcharge I can not prove, MY dna in human trafficking, is appeneded to the clear text sale

The over charge I do not agree to. A VPN of codewords, covert operators, secret rendevues, and adult entertainers paid for with my DNA and directing my DNA being used in other ways I am not agreeing to and can not prove. The only and record I have is the clear text, the clear text an alibi that no other transaction, an encrypted on, exists.

It was explicable, clearly visible, I purchased eggs at HEB and that is what facially happened. That is all I can see.

This is among other thigs welfare fraud because I am spending my SSDI. Since I have very little the overcharge is part of robbing me, I should have the value that was over charged. Further, during the human trafficking I will be framed by the people running the operation. An impersonator of me travels down the tunnel and confesses in MY identity to be athiest heathen “overcoming my porn addiction” scum who needs to be punished, assasulted, and discredited, the Righteous are better than me.

The claim by HEB and others that my purchase of Eggs ALSO was an additional transaction is where the over charge and the charge are joined. Only the clear text to I agree to and only the clear text is the deal.

Not only did I not agree my clear text was also cyper text I did not even recognize the VPN operation until Austin Java House when by the physical acts of the people playing out in front of me it sort of looked like a drug deal from a black in the back kitchen being setip, but it was not drugs. An impersonator of me was being set up with a leggy women in yoga pats like wear and a Doppelgänger of me was leaving with her, all looking me as though I intended something.

This is similar to Play To Pause in Gym Frames. When a woman is near I have to push Play because my music came to a stop. To fraudsters me touching the phone was the “buying” of the woman “as my pornography (as if my phone took a picture) and thus I owed my DNA.

A variation of what I call the Chemia Fury Alchemia Ploy. The sound of the music stops beacuse of some law enforcement high tech equipment. I push Play to restart the music. To fraudersters in some way that phone touch was my agreement she was a porn model for me. Drooling blacks and retarded Doppelgangers of me leave with the leggy model.

Planning (3rd Parent?) Parenthood

Brittany Anne Murphy-Monjack was an American actress and singer. Born in Atlanta (to a Ladies Gardening Club?) Murphy moved to Los Angeles as a teenager and pursued a career in acting. Her breakthrough role was as Tai Frasier in Clueless, followed by supporting roles in independent films such as Freeway and Bongwater. Wikipedia Born: NOVEMBER 10, 1977, ATLANTA, GA Died: December 20, 2009

Shortly after her death, Assistant Chief Coroner Ed Winter told the Associated Press: "It appears to be natural."An autopsy was performed the day after she died. Her death certificate listed the cause of death as "deferred".[37] On February 4, 2010, the Los Angeles County coroner stated that the primary cause of Murphy's death was pneumonia, with secondary factors of iron-deficiency anemia and multiple drug intoxication. On February 25, 2010, the coroner released a report stating that Murphy had been taking a range of over-the-counter and prescription medications, with the most likely reason being to treat a cold or respiratory infection. Obama's Friends Form Strategy to Stay Close retrieved from By Jodi Kantor Dec. 13, 2008 and copied or modified to here

Last Sunday night, President-elect Barack Obama's three closest friends - Valerie Jarrett, Martin Nesbitt and Dr. Eric Whitaker - sat down in the study of Mr. Nesbitt's house in Chicago for one of their increasingly frequent heart-to-hearts.

They were puzzling over a new question: how the Obamas, who hope to remain close to their Chicago friends, will spend time with them while living in the isolation chamber of the White House. Over Diet Cokes, the three drafted the beginnings of an elaborate visiting schedule that will bring Hyde Park to Washington, so the nation's new first family can have a little taste of home.

Some insist that Martin and Anita Nesbitt, old friends of the Obamas, are clearly Malia and Sasha's quote-unquote real parents

Martin Hughes Nesbitt (top right, born NOVEMBER 29, 1962) is an American businessman and public figure. Nesbit currently serves as co-CEO of The Vistria Group, a Chicago-based private equity firm. Nesbitt serves on the boards of directors of publicly traded companies CenterPoint Energy, Norfolk Southern Corporation, and American Airlines Group. Nesbitt formerly served as the founder and chief executive officer of The Parking Spot, a Chicago-based airport parking company. He also served on the board of the Chicago Housing Authority.

Dr. Perry Inhofe was an orthopedic surgeon in Tulsa.

Did the DARPA Brain Program create these two daughters with a geno source of brain genes, bacteria transort, and tied to both Ed Donegan, GLorian Donegan, Barrack Obama, but NOT Mr Nesbit or Anita Blachard.

> "People ask me what was the hardest time in my life - they ask, well what about during the debt ceiling debate and this and that and the other thing," Obama said. "Sasha got meningitis when she was 3 months old. I still remember going to the hospital together and they had to give her a spinal tap." Michelle Obama in Poltico

Two psychologists walk into a bar. The first one says "I think the Obama children are under Mind Konrtol. Every night when the clock runs down to midnight they get out of bed and start running Post, Button Hook, and other football play." The other Psychologist says "I hope the beer I order has Hemlock in it."

Barack and Michelle Obama have two daughters: Malia Ann (/məˈliːə/), born July 4, 1998,[19] [20] and Natasha (known as Sasha / ˈsɑːʃə/), born June 10, 2001.[21] They were both delivered at University of Chicago Medical Center by their parents' friend and physician Anita Blanchard.[22]

Sasha was diagnosed with meningitis at 3 months odl which could be caused by use of bacteria or other meeans to introduce DNA for brain genes therapy or selection. Nothing personal about the college age kids, but consider an analogy in brewing beer. Any slight problem in the brewing phase can turn into a bad batch, while the infection in Sasha was controlled, the inflammation, was it a side affect of gene therapy and unintended DNA being introduced?

SHe was an IVF fertilization I believe I have heard.

If

- Mr. Nesbit is the bodily father of Malia Ann Obama (hmm) and
- Anita Blanchard is the bodily parent of Sasha Obama

They might have the same brain dating back to Ethiopia but differing RFLP

Prior to joining Pritzker, Nesbitt was an Investment Manager at LaSalle Partners with a variety of responsibilities including investment management for regional retail properties and management and leasing for office projects and parking.

He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Jones Lang LaSalle, Norfolk Southern Corporation and American Airlines Group. Nesbitt is a Trustee of Chicago's Museum of Contemporary Art and serves as Chairman of the Barack Obama Foundation. He is former Chairman of the Board of the Chicago Housing Authority and a former board member of the Chicago 2016 Olympic Committee. He served as treasurer of President Barack Obama's 2008 and 2012 presidential campaigns.

Nesbitt has an MBA degree from the University of Chicago and a Bachelor of Science degree and honorary doctorate from Albion College, Albion, Michigan.

[Edward Donegan's note here. I know from my father being a pilot, at least some time ago, Airline or Airport employees have unique access to airports, may also be recognized and unchallenged in certain environments. Nothing beyound a week suspicion but for connections to air disasters more than usual casual pedestriab access to airports would be avaiable to Mr. Nesbitt or his employees.]

Malia Ann Obama Barack Obama's daughter Born: July 4, 1998 (age 22 years), Chicago, IL

Tied to the Mary Mahoney mother and possible USIZATION of English aristocracy?

After completing Dr. Strangelove (1964), director Stanley Kubrick became fascinated by the possibility of extraterrestrial life,[7] and resolved to make "the proverbial good science fiction movie".[8] Kubrick's interest in science fiction films was sparked by Japanese tokusatsu films such as Warning from Space (1956).

> Warning from Space (transl. Spacemen Appear in Tokyo) is a Japanese science fiction tokusatsu film released in January 1956 by Daiei, and was the first Japanese science fiction film to be produced in color.
> In the film's plot, starfish-like aliens disguised as humans travel to Earth to warn of the imminent collision of a rogue planet and Earth. As the planet rapidly accelerates toward Earth, a nuclear device is created at the last minute and destroys the approaching world.
>
> A small ship travels to a rotating space station. Aboard the station, a group of starfish-like beings discuss how to warn humans of an impending disaster, deciding on contacting Japanese scientist Dr. Kumara. Meanwhile, flying saucers are spotted over the skies of Tokyo, baffling scientists.
> A journalist tries to get a statement from Dr. Kumara about the sightings, but Kumara replies that there is not enough evidence to formulate a hypothesis. At an observatory, Professor Isobe spots an object in his telescope apparently releasing smaller objects.

In 2001 A Space Oddessy by Stanley Kubrick while Poole is on a space walk attempting to replace the antenna unit, HAL takes control of his pod, severs Poole's oxygen hose, and sets him adrift. Bowman takes another pod to rescue Poole; while he is outside, HAL turns off the life support functions of the three other crewmen in suspended animation, killing them. When Bowman returns to the ship with Poole's body, HAL refuses to let him in, saying "I'm sorry Dave, I'm afraid I can't do that". HAL states that the astronauts' plan to deactivate him jeopardises the mission. Bowman opens the ship's emergency airlock manually, enters the ship, and proceeds to HAL's processor core, where he begins disconnecting HAL's circuits. HAL tries to reassure and assuage Bowman, then pleads with him to stop, and then expresses fear for himself. When the disconnection is complete, a prerecorded video message plays, revealing that the mission's objective is to investigate the radio signal sent from the monolith to Jupiter.

Later a monolith appears at the foot of the bed, and as Bowman reaches for it, he is transformed into a foetus enclosed in a transparent orb of light, which floats in space beside the Earth.

> ALL THESE WORLDS ARE YOURS EXCEPT EUROPA ATTEMPT NO LANDING THERE USE THEM TOGETHER USE THEM IN PEACE

A fetus or foetus is the unborn offspring of an animal that develops from an embryo.[1]

Astronomer Carl Sagan wrote in his book The Cosmic Connection that Clarke and Kubrick had asked him how to best depict extraterrestrial intelligence. While acknowledging Kubrick's desire to use actors to portray humanoid aliens for convenience's sake, Sagan argued that alien life forms were unlikely to bear any resemblance to terrestrial life, and that to do so would introduce "at least an element of falseness" to the film. Sagan proposed that the film should simply suggest extraterrestrial superintelligence, rather than depict it. He attended the premiere and was "pleased to see that I had been of some help."[37]

Poole versus HAL 9000 retrieved from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

Poole vs. HAL 9000 is a chess game depicted in the 1968 science fiction film 2001: A Space Odyssey. Astronaut Frank Poole (White) plays the supercomputer HAL 9000 (Black) using a video screen as a chessboard. Each player takes two turns during a game in progress, making their moves orally using descriptive notation and natural language. Poole resigns the game once HAL indicates a certain path to checkmate, however the move which HAL suggests Frank might make is not forced. Stanley Kubrick, director of 2001, was an avid chess player.

Unlike other depictions of chess in television and film, the game is shown continuously and legibly for several seconds in a single shot. The board positions and moves made are identical with the conclusion of a real game: Roesch vs. Willi Schlage, Hamburg 1910, which was reported in a 1955 collection of short games by Irving Chernev.[1] Chess writers have therefore attributed the fictional game fragment to the real one, equating the two and suggesting that the former derived from the latter.

The fictional game played between Poole and HAL has been noted as a prescient illustration of artificial intelligence and computer chess, fields which developed more rapidly following the release of 2001. Chess writers have also interpreted HAL's misuse of descriptive notation during the game as foreshadowing of his later malfunctioning.

“Go Forth and Do Good” * [as Glorian often said as a tope]

“The government of Iran has invited us and provided necessary conditions for our work. We must do our best in helping the growing generation in Iran to comprehend the wholesome ideas of freedom and democracy and the dignity of the individual, thereby preventing them from going to the mullahs to learn Islam which bars the country from modern life.”

After World War II, the United States began providing extensive foreign aid to many nations throughout the world. As the US grew as a world power, it abandoned the isolationist practices that had been in place during the interwar period.

The US directed assistance to those in need of financial and technical aid-nations ravaged by World War II, as well as less-developed nations striving for social and economic advancement. In order to maintain “world order,” secure necessary resources, covertly fight the Cold War, and push the developing Third World continuously forward, the US was more determined than ever to have a worldwide presence.

It was the “innate American ability to get things done” that would make it happen.2 Iran featured prominently in the American government’s postwar plans. Due to the Soviet Union’s close proximity, the United States sought to keep a stronghold on capitalism in the region and build a strong ally of Iran.

After all, Iran was one of two American allied countries bordering the Soviet Union.3 Iran was also of interest to the United States because of its natural resources; for much of the twentieth century, Iran held the largest oil refinery in the world.4 For these reasons, the United States became heavily invested in Iran militarily, politically, and economically https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Barack_Obama_Sr. Barack Obama Sr. was born in 1936 in Rachuonyo District on the shores of Lake Victoria just outside Kendu Bay, British Kenya, at the time a colony and protectorate of the BRITISH EMPIRE.

Lake Victoria (Nam Lolwe in Luo; Nalubaale in Uganda; Nyanza in Kinyarwanda and some Bantu languages)[6] is one of the African Great Lakes.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lake_Victoria The lake was renamed Lake Victoria after Queen Victoria by the explorer John Hanning Speke, in his reports, the first Briton to document it. (It has since been recognized that the native guides used the name Lake Nyanza to describe it to him.) Speke accomplished this in 1858, while on an expedition with Richard Francis Burton to locate the source of the Nile River.[7][8] This expedition was financially sponsored by the Royal Geographic Society, an imperial organization that, upon notifying this news to the queen, received a royal charter. It is not clear if this was in appreciation of the lake renaming.

We found him sitting by the steering wheel. [The car] did not roll. So after it was said that he had hit the tree, we just had to believe it, because he could not talk back. We really didn’t believe it was a real accident. Because his body was never broken, his vehicle was not badly crashed. He was just dead after the accident. Not even much blood was seen.

Yonkers: Malcolm X's Grandson Arrested By The Associated Press AUG. 4, 2006

Malcolm X's grandson, Malcolm Shabazz, was arrested about 1 a.m. yesterday in Mount Vernon, after punching a hole in a doughnut shop's window, sending shattered glass onto two patrons, the Yonkers police said. Mr. Shabazz, 21, was charged with reckless endangerment, assault and criminal mischief.

The two patrons, a 19-year-old man and a 23-year-old woman, suffered cuts from the glass shards and were taken to a hospital, the police said. Mr. Shabazz was released from prison this year after serving time for a 2002 attempted-robbery conviction in Middletown, N.Y. He also was blamed for the death of his grandmother and Malcolm X's widow, Betty Shabazz, in 1997 after he set fire to her Yonkers apartment. He pleaded guilty to the juvenile equivalents of second-degree manslaughter and second-degree arson and spent time in various juvenile centers, escaping at least twice but being recaptured.

Was Linda Newkirk a Gene Splicing and IQ Designer Babies surrogage for the OBamas, moving select HLA RFLP and Brain Genes into a test baby which would pass a maternity test?

Malcolm Shabazz visited Qubilah in December 1996 in San Antonio, where she was undergoing treatment. She had remarried, and Malcolm quickly bonded with his stepfather. The marriage soon ended; Malcolm and his mother began to fight, sometimes physically. On February 26, 1997, she called the police saying she wanted him committed to a mental hospital. He would later kill her and burn her body.

At the time I (Ed Donegan) was working at Excite@Home around 1997 I will set the scene and this is when things started to get odd. My mother reported odd phone calls too.

From LInda Newkirk http://www.prophecies.org/godshand.htm Working in a mental hospital years before had taught me to be hypervigilant with unstable patients. Clearly some of these had mixed diagnoses—like the runner who had assaulted a number of staff members to get at a cigarette butt. Many were clearly autistic. Others were like infants of one or two months, whose every need must be anticipated and met. One young woman riddled with venereal diseases masturbated every day all day.

In the coming months I wrote programs for care and behavior management which were largely ignored. These programs were vacant words on empty pages filling bureaucratic waste piles.

It seems that the dregs of society were hired to play minimum wage games; and when no one was looking they allegedly had orgies with these, who were helpless./

This job was a razor slicing deep wounds into an already bleeding soul. On occasion, a typhoon brewed within me. It threatened to override my interpersonal boundaries. It started in my dark recesses and pushed my heart to explode. My thoughts raced wildly, cascading one upon the other in quick succession. Tidal waves of barren emotion bathed my withered sense of self. http://www.prophecies.org/godshand.htm

One day in early summer of 1997, I was out in the garden under a shade tree praying. As I prayed a radiant angel dressed in white appeared to me. The angel said, “Follow me.”

As I began to follow the angel, I found myself in spirit climbing a very tall mountain. Finally, we came to the top of this mountain. At this point that I knew that this was no ordinary mountain. It shone with a radiance, and the experience was full of light and joy. A few weeks later I ran across a passage from Isaiah 2:2.

> “And, it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord’s house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills and all nations shall Flow into it.”

What I did not realize in the garden that summer day was that this journey up The Mountain of The Lord was just the beginning of a long series journeys up The Mountain. Time after time, I have been deeply humbled by the truths given of Our Precious Lord from the heights of This Mountain. These journeys have brought great light into the life of a simple person, whose greatest desire is to serve God.

In early summer of 1997, My dear brother deeply prayed for God to give me the gift of speaking in tongues. God answered his prayers. Amidst the beauty of this heavenly language, and on the wings of His Holy Spirit, God takes me regularly to the heights of His Mountain where he feeds me.

In the pages which follow, you will read much about your destiny. The heavenly truths imparted to you through these pages will forever change the lives of many.

After the Second World War, Sidley & Austin began expanding beyond its Chicago roots as many of its clients entered new markets. In 1963, its Washington, D.C. branch was established which would soon become an important player in that city's legal market through its representation of the American Medical Association, American Bar Association and the International Minerals & Chemical Corporation. A world omelet of certain Eggheads from a single chicken

It is complex and being fudged with in a popularly accepted simplification and even some Eugenics programs kept secret are back-filling various of thousand of genes tied to lifespan, disease resistnace, cognitive attributes and IQ, and perhaps even personality traits remain under study and alteration in world lab

The programs are kept covert to deny pretext for hostility towards certain groups. No one in science wishes to label anyone “inferior” but the truth is the challenges of Modernity is akking for a greater breadth of cognitive skill sets just as air travel is requiring more of innate immunity, and even accidents in transportation and war now require better brain injury understanding and intervention capabilities.

Story of human evolution gets another rewrite with DNA analysis of Chinese teeth retrieved from CNN and copied or modified to here

Experts hailed the discovery in 2015 as “stunning” — 47 teeth found in a cave in southern China dated back to 80,0000 to 120,000 years ago, challenging widely accepted ideas about human evolution.

It suggested that Homo sapiens were in China at least 20,000 years earlier than early modern humans had been previously believed to have left Africa and spread around the world. It also tantalizingly hinted at the possibility that a different group of early humans could have evolved separately in Asia.

Complex family tree

Untangling human ancestry is a complicated business, and recent research has indicated the human family tree is much more bushy and less linear than the traditional “Out of Africa” narrative, which suggested modern humans originated in Africa and made their first successful migration to the rest of the world in a single wave between 50,000 and 70,000 years ago.

Many different ancient hominins existed and coexisted before Homo sapiens emerged as the lone survivor, and there was interbreeding between different groups of early humans. Some of these groups — like Neanderthals — are easily identified through the fossil record and archaeological remains, but others — like the Denisovans — have been largely identified by their genetic legacy.

Maria Martinón-Torres, director of the National Research Center on Human Evolution in Spain and an author of the 2015 study, said she welcomed the new data on the early presence of modern humans in China.

Bobby Fischer was born at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, Illinois, on March 9, 1943.[4] His mother, Regina Wender Fischer, was a US citizen,[5][6] born in Switzerland; her parents were Polish Jews.[7][8] Raised in St. Louis, Missouri,[4] Regina became a teacher, registered nurse, and later a physician.[9]

After graduating from college in her teens, Regina traveled to Germany to visit her brother. It was there she met geneticist and future Nobel Prize winner Hermann Joseph Muller, who persuaded her to move to Moscow to study medicine.

Hermann Joseph Muller (December 21, 1890 - April 5, 1967) was an American geneticist, educator, and Nobel laureate best known for his work on the physiological and genetic effects of radiation (mutagenesis), as well as his outspoken political beliefs.[2] Muller frequently warned of long-term dangers of radioactive fallout from nuclear war and nuclear testing, which resulted in greater public scrutiny of these practices.

He excelled in the public schools. At 16, he entered Columbia College. From his first semester, he was interested in biology; he became an early convert of the Mendelian-chromosome theory of heredity - and the concept of genetic mutations and natural selection as the basis for evolution. He formed a biology club and also became a proponent of eugenics; the connections between biology and society would be his perennial concern. Muller earned a bachelor of arts degree in 1910.[5]

Muller remained at Columbia (the pre-eminent American zoology program at the time, due to E. B. Wilson and his students) for graduate school.

Throughout the 1950s, the FBI investigated Regina and her circle for her alleged communist sympathies,

In 1999, he gave a radio call-in interview to a station in Budapest, Hungary, during which he described himself as the “victim of an international Jewish conspiracy”. In another radio interview, Fischer said that it became clear to him in 1977, after reading The Secret World Government by Count Cherep-Spiridovich, that Jewish agencies were targeting him.[432]

Major-General Count Arthur Cherep-Spiridovich (Spiridovitch) (or A. de Tcherep-Spiridovitch) (aka Artur Čerep-Spiridovič) (8 September 1866[1] - 22 October 1926) was a Major-General in the Imperial Russian Navy[2][3] (not a Major-General in the Imperial Russian Army, as is frequently alleged), and an anti-Semitic conspiracy theorist, who moved to the United States following the Bolshevik Revolution. He was a White Russian monarchist, and additionally he was heavily involved in Pan-Slavism, anti-Semitic activism, and various chivalric orders and cultural organisations, especially in the White Russian diaspora community in America. He is perhaps best known for authoring a book titled The Secret World Government, or, “The Hidden Hand” (1926), which presents his theory that extensive evidence shows that the world is being clandestinely governed by a group of 300 individuals of “Judeo-Mongol” ancestry.

Fischer’s library contained antisemitic and racist literature such as Mein Kampf, The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, and The White Man’s Bible and Nature’s Eternal Religion by Ben Klassen, founder of the World Church of the Creator.[436][437][438] A notebook written by Fischer contains sentiments such as “12/13/99 IT’S TIME TO START RANDOMLY KILLING JEWS“.[439] Despite his views, Fischer remained on good terms with Jewish chess players.[440]

Decade of the Brain

The Decade of the Brain was a designation for 1990-1999 by U.S. president George H. W. Bush as part of a larger effort involving the Library of Congress and the National Institute of Mental Health of the National Institutes of Health “to enhance public awareness of the benefits to be derived from brain research”.

DNA tests for IQ are coming, but it might not be smart to take one

Scientists have linked hundreds of genes to intelligence. One psychologist says it's time to test school kids by Antonio Regalado April 2, 2018

Finding the genes

To psychologists, IQ tests measure something called "g"-the general factor of intelligence. People who are better at math, spatial reasoning, verbal ability, and other skills that tests can measure have higher g.

And that's not all. The g factor is strongly correlated with income, happiness, health, and life span. More g seems to be a good thing all around. To Plomin it's the "omnipotent variable" in life.

It's also highly heritable. Comparisons of twins, both identical and fraternal, separated at birth or raised together, had shown that genetics must account for more than half of intelligence-a huge effect for genes. The rest is due to your schools, your diet, and other environmental factors.

Although it's still taboo to talk about, some medical scientists are trying to figure out how to use the polygenic intelligence scores to pick the smartest embryo from an IVF dish, choose the best sperm donor, or discover fetuses at high risk for an expanded menu of cognitive disorders, including autism.

Dalton Conley, a sociologist at Princeton University, says as soon as the IQ predictions reach the double digits-something that could occur very soon-we will need to have a "serious policy debate" about such "personal eugenics." One concern is that IVF is expensive.

That could lead to a situation in which the wealthy end up using IQ-test technology to pick kids with select genes while the poor don't, leading to an unequal society that Conley calls a "genotocracy."

MIT Technology Review found that aspects of Plomin's testing scenario are already happening. At least three online services, including GenePlaza and DNA Land, have started offering to quantify anyone's genetic IQ from a spit sample.

Others are holding back. The largest company offering direct-to-consumer DNA health reports, 23andMe, says it's not telling people their brain rating out of concern the information would be poorly received.

But which specific genes are responsible? The search did not go well at first. Plomin failed to discover any links when he looked at the genomes of 7,900 children in 2010. He later became involved in a misadventure involving a Chinese sequencing company, BGI, to which he supplied the DNA of more than a thousand American geniuses. The project got derailed after news reports accused the Chinese of hatching a plot to breed "genius babies."

This proposal to designate the decade, beginning January 1990, as the "Decade of the Brain", was sponsored by Representative Silvio O. Conte, and passed by the United States Congress in a joint resolution on March 8, 1989. A formal proclamation was thereafter issued by then President of the United States George H. W. Bush on July 18, 1990.

Silvio Ottavio Conte (November 9, 1921 - February 8, 1991) was a Republican member of the United States House of Representatives for 16 terms, representing the 1st Congressional District of Massachusetts from January 3, 1959, until his death in Bethesda, Maryland in 1991.

He is buried in St. Joseph's Cemetery in his home town of Pittsfield Massachusetts.

Global adoption

The United States' neuroscience community's publication of Decade of the Brain led international communities to adopt the movement as well. The Government of Japan invested $125 million into neuroscience research in 1997, leading to the development of the Brain Science Institute. The Government of India founded the National Brain Research Centre during the same year. In 1998, the Chinese Institute of Neuroscience was founded. [5]

Speaking here as myself the author, Ed Donegan,

In the mid late 1990s the Obama children were born, I think my mothers and Malcom Xs genes are in that family. I think in 2006 -2007 that was planed to go world wide and matches a Bush adminstration (2000 -2008) Rod Rosenstein Robert Mueller Mulchasi prosecution of me for searching for the motive of black aggression towards whites, I think in 2011 the planning and action got control of my mother's genome by her death in 2011, her trust fund of about $323K to be seized for foreign economies on weak evidence of my misconduct, alleged misconduct, and this had meant a genetics based hostility towards me described more in the a later chapter.

Obama unveils brain mapping project to unlock mysteries

- Brain project seeks answers to epilepsy, autism and Alzheimer's disease
- Obama has likened it to a human genome project for the brain

"Every dollar we invested to map the human genome returned $140 to our economy - every dollar," Obama said on Feb. 12. "Today, our scientists are mapping the human brain to unlock the answers to Alzheimer's."

Scientists will build on the sequencing of the human genome and other previous discoveries in determining how to address brain disorders.

“Significant breakthroughs in how we treat neurological and psychiatric disease will require a new generation of tools to enable researchers to record signals from brain cells in much greater numbers and at even faster speeds,” the White House statement said.

It added: “This cannot currently be achieved, but great promise for developing such technologies lies at the intersections of nanoscience, imaging, engineering, informatics, and other rapidly emerging fields of science and engineering.”

Three government agencies are leading the project

- The National Institutes of Health
- the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency
- and the National Science Foundation.

The White House said the agencies will work with the “private sector partners” of

- The Allen Institute for Brain Science
- the Howard Hughes Medical Institute
- the Kavli Foundation, and the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

The story of human evolution in Africa is undergoing a major rewrite Did scientists discover the oldest Homo sapiens remains on record? Depends on your definition of what’s human.

The hypothesis: No, we did not just emerge in Eastern Africa. As of 300,000 years ago, our ancestors were already spread around the continent (paleoanthropologists have identified a probable Homo sapiens skull in South Africa dating back 250,000 years). https://www.vox.com/science-and-health/2017/6/7/15745714/nature-homo-sapien-remains-jebel-irhoud

Officer Jen Moore's reporting is at the center of this and better than these books which describe Free Masonry control of the U.S. Government and society and in Sovereignty of this book series that point is address as well. The secret identities are Sidney Gottlieb test tub babies experimentation coming out of MKULTRA including through Midnight Climax adult entertainer surrogate mothers for on going blackmail for DNA rights, etc., and thus the pedo networks alleged created rights to DNA designer babies from unilikely DNA sources (white separatists like me)

World Eugenics program might have been a "no" if the public were asked but the programs were needed to coverup for SIdnely Gottlieb and the fallout from the Barack Obama experiment and later coverup.

Alleged Obama white grandparenets

- Stanley Armour Dunham (Boeing, CIA)
- Madelyn Payne Dunham (Bank of Hawaii CIA)

Stanley Armour Dunham (March 23, 1918 - February 8, 1992) was the maternal grandfather of the 44th U.S. President Barack Obama. He and his wife Madelyn Payne Dunham raised Obama from the age of 10 in Honolulu, Hawaii.[1][2]

Madelyn (Lee Payne) Dunham (/ˈdʌnəm/ DUN-əm; October 26, 1922[1] - November 2, 2008) was the American maternal grandmother of Barack Obama, the 44th President of the United States. She and her husband Stanley Armour Dunham raised Obama from age ten in their Honolulu, Hawaii, apartment, where on November 2, 2008, she died[2] two days before her grandson was elected President.

Their daughter, Stanly Ann Dunham (alleged white mother of Barack Obama)

Alleged white Seattle mother of Barack Obama (CIA, USAID, Peace Corps, East West foundation activities)

"Stanley" Ann Dunham (November 29, 1942 - November 7, 1995) was an American anthropologist who specialized in the economic anthropology and rural development of Indonesia.[1] She was the mother of Barack Obama, the 44th President of the United States. Dunham was known as Stanley Ann Dunham through high school, then as Ann Dunham, Ann Obama, Ann Soetoro, Ann Sutoro and finally after her second divorce as Ann Dunham.[2]

Born in Wichita, Kansas, "Stanley" Ann Dunham studied at the East-West Center and at the University of Hawaii at Manoa in Honolulu, where she attained a bachelor of arts degree in anthropology (1967),[3] and later received master of arts (1974) and PhD (1992) degrees, also in anthropology.[4] She also attended University of Washington at Seattle in 1961-1962. Interested in craftsmanship, weaving, and the role of women in cottage industries, Dunham's research focused on women's work on the island of Java and blacksmithing in Indonesia.

To address the problem of poverty in rural villages, she created microcredit programs while working as a consultant for the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). Dunham was also employed by the Ford Foundation in Jakarta and she consulted with the Asian Development Bank in Gujranwala, Pakistan. Towards the latter part of her life, she worked with Bank Rakyat Indonesia, where she helped apply her research to the largest microfinance program in the world.

When Elizabeth II Was Queen of Pakistan

Before it was a republic, Pakistan was briefly ruled by Queen Elizabeth II Surprising as it may seem today, Elizabeth II, the reigning queen of the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth nations, was the queen of Pakistan for four years. Yes, the world's first "Islamic Republic" was ruled by English heads of state for nine years: Elizabeth and her father, George VI. Elizabeth's reign over Pakistan ended 60 years ago, when, on March 23, 1956, Pakistan became a republic.

George VI was the last emperor of India [wich included Muslim Pakistan], reigning until 1947, when he gave up that title in favor of two new titles for his new dominions, becoming king of India and king of Pakistan. He was king of India until that country became a republic in 1950. Upon his death in 1952, his daughter Elizabeth inherited the crown of Pakistan.

To make Barack Obama Jr., not from Somewhere they made him from Everywhere. One problem is they couldn't get him into Mungo Man of Australia.

The biological parents of Barrrack Obama Jr. are Malcom X (father) GLorian Donegan (mother.)| Adoptive mom Stanly Ann Dunham toted him to Indonesia. Adoptive dad Barack Sr of Lake (Queen) Victoria.

The use of Barack Obama Sr. of Kenya gave Barack Obama Jr a cover story explaiing the black forearm to point to and a non suspicious origin as CIA plant operatives go.

FOXP2 branch of the Windsor royal family and genomics around the world

It appears in 1944 the OSS and Vatican worked out a plan with Spanish Illuminati Catholics to work on racial genetics and the Anterior Temporal Lobe and this would be a part of eroding cause of racial warfare.

This included discussions with the German family of Windsors, publicly downplaying the German family origins during WWII but King Edward VIII openly involved with both the Spanish Illuminati of El Grecko and Hitler and Sidney Bootleg on the speech defect and Borderline Personality disorder related to FOXP2 and that this MKULTRA work continued after WWII.

MKULTRA continued to produce Barack Obama in 1961, the Obama children in 1997, and tested in 2006 and test program ending in 2007, was a go ahead system around the world underway in 2011.

Forensics would detect the racial eugenics program and Kennedy murders by RFPL/HLAs analysis if targeted populations survive assassination as I am attempting to do.

The latter activity seeming for world IQ development, one of the original goals, with the collateral or even primary goal of creating a family database consistency of the Obama family tree by creating a world existence, dating back into African history, of genes he really obtained through Windsor Dysgraphic line, and the elimination of Obama white immediate relative in Europe.

Their world plan is to have their DNA returned to them, them being the righteous

Of those who have been cloned into other races, what?

Black Hebrew Isrealites are blacks and other dark skinned people such as Native Americans who believe they were the original “gods” and Europeans, especially royals, stole their DNA through slavery resulting in a genomic darkness of hundreds or thousands of years.

To them whites, especially royal lineage, are “clones” of black hebrew isrealites and oppressors.

The Jealous and Angry Annunaki!

I tell you for a certainly that the Annunaki are possessed of a jealous rage, especially the Annunaki King; and he has ordered that I be killed; and of course all, who are like me! Yet, at this time, there is no other human, who has this new 360 degree DNA, aside from myself; so from day to day, I take the brunt of their rage and jealousy! But, even so, our Beautiful Father Yahweh miraculously carries me! He fights these battles, which are far too great for me!

Interest in eugenics and transhumanism
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jeffrey_Epstein#Interest_in_eugenics_and_transhumanism

According to various sources, Epstein, beginning in the early 2000s, showed a strong interest in improving the human race through genetic engineering and artificial intelligence, including using his own sperm. He addressed the scientific community at various events and occasions and communicated his fascination with eugenics.

[259] It was reported in August 2019 that Epstein had planned to “seed the human race with his DNA” by impregnating up to 20 women at a time using his New Mexico compound as a “baby ranch”, where mothers would give birth to his offspring. He was an advocate of cryonics and his own idiosyncratic version of transhumanism, and had said that he intended to have his penis and head frozen.[260][261]

The Human Brain and Behavior

For centuries, scientists and philosophers have been fascinated by the brain, but until recently they viewed the brain as nearly incomprehensible. Now, however, the brain is beginning to relinquish its secrets. Scientists have learned more about the brain in the last 10 years than in all previous centuries because of the accelerating pace of research in neurological and behavioral science and the development of new research techniques. As a result, Congress named the 1990s the Decade of the Brain. At the forefront of research on the brain and other elements of the nervous system is the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke (NINDS), which conducts and supports scientific studies in the United States and around the world.

Update by Sheldan Nidle for the Spiritual Hierarchy and the Galactic Federation

Selamat Jarin! We come again bringing more information about your world and the current status of first contact. Our Earth allies are on the very brink of being able to put into effect their plans for global transformation. A series of coordinated maneuvers in the past few weeks have finally got the last dark cabal on the run, which is making possible the long-promised deliveries of the prosperity programs to their most anxious recipients.

This aspect of the grand plan is only able to happen because those working for the ouster of the present US administration are very close to achieving this objective. Likewise, the announcements of global debt annulment and the range of new international banking laws are ready to roll at a moment's notice. All this is kept under wraps by a mainstream media focusing instead on America's steadily worsening Iraqi affray. For us, the vital hardcore news is the covert end game between the old guard of Illuminati rulers and those intending to reshape your world's present collapsing reality.

The significance behind this "chess game" is that your world is to be completely transfigured, which is why your rulers are intent on keeping your attention directed toward the war in the Middle East.

This dastardly "production" is being used as a smokescreen to disguise the all-out confrontation raging between the dark cabal and their rivals, our Earth allies. During the course of this conflict, a great deal of masquerading by both sides was undertaken to achieve their goals.

These strategies allowed our Earth allies to develop a broad game plan, which is at last bringing this hapless cabal to its knees. But inevitably, a few minor points remain outstanding. These are now being resolved and we expect some major developments to happen shortly. We retain our role of official watchdog and intelligence advisor to our Earth allies on a spectrum of matters, ranging from the reformation of the global banking system to the most effective way to conduct the removal of many recalcitrant regimes around the world.

We have also been permitted to draw up a detailed program for rectifying your multitude of global environmental crises.

Today, the allies constitute a hodgepodge of individuals and groups that were at first very much at odds with each other. Later on, in the early years of this century, they increasingly joined forces until they now work surprisingly well together. They have forged an exhaustively detailed plan for bringing about a wholly new world, and 90 per cent of these plans are already agreed upon; the remaining 10 per cent is dependent upon the uprooting of the American regime. Over the past five years, this illicit regime squeezed the global money flow until it is now very difficult to conduct business internationally. This angered many who formerly approved of the self-serving ways of the dark cabal and led to a spate of new rules and regulations being drafted and put into place for quick enactment.

What is happening now is the final maneuvering-into-position by a secret global coalition intent on legally expulsing the present US regime. As you can image, this is a complex undertaking that began in the post-WWII era. The growing arrogance of various corporate and allied wealthy individuals forged an interwoven global complex whose goal was to dismantle the legal constructs that hold this democratic republic together. This was clearly perceived by early members of the secret coalition who had long worked in government and saw at first hand what was going on around them. This strengthening power grab by a rich and corporate America reached its first pinnacle in the 1960s, reaching new heights in the 1980s and 1990s. By this time, a number of ongoing court cases brought by this pro-democratic coalition were challenging what had become a dictatorial oligarchy intent on creating a corporate-based, non-democratic American Empire. The epitome of this is the present US regime.

The dark cabal set up the present US administration to complete a process begun in the closing days of WWII. But a growing body of patriotic and disgruntled government employees and assorted allies clearly understood what was covertly being done to hijack the American Republic. The focus of this underground group was on legally remedying these abuses and returning the fiscal resources pilfered by the dark [ness of Europeans oppressing Africa] They also saw that both political parties were becoming puppets for the empire-building programs of the dark. The opposing sides finally engaged in an all-out clash in the late 1990s, a highlight of which was the stolen election of 2000. With this contemptible act, it became clear that the needed reforms were not going to be enacted by the now-degenerated US political system. Equally clear was the need for creating an effective alternative to this system and putting it into power. The upshot is the present bunch of policies advocated by our Earth allies.

This means that the imminent economic, political, and governmental changes are the counter-measures to a vast covert coup that has successfully hijacked the US government and converted it into the chief agent for clamping your entire global society in a vice of slavery. This was to have been extant by the late 1990s had it not been for the Anunnaki's changing sides. We emphasize this repeatedly to establish a central point: The reverberating changes in this galaxy's politics are being mirrored by events happening locally on your world. This is why our original first contact mission took on new meaning and scope, and why Heaven drastically revised the early-1990's timetable. First contact morphed from the more usual swift paradigm shift into a more involved and gradual process, in which your spiritual awakening was externally represented in the remaking of your political, cultural, and economic environments.

> [Edward Paul Donegan interjecting here. It was originally my belief a “Deep State” existed as it has been described. Later I came to call it the “Mole State” of Illuminati backed leaders placed into positions of Constitutional, Political Appointee, or Academia or Media power. I have since, reently, come to call it the “CCE State,” a Continuing Criminal Enterprise which short circuited democratic debate of worldwide medical program not because the were concerned with the legitimacy but rather because they were concered their real motives in advocating it might be discernible, the errors of Rockefeller Bush Rothschild OECD plans and the disasters since.]

The recasting of your reality includes a gently increasing exposure to our benign presence. This variegated operation has already provided a substantial escalation in sightings over the past five years and, to a lesser extent, in the increase of interaction between our crews and yourselves. Our intent is to make you aware that we are here, and that we are set on completing this first contact mission in as reasonable a timeframe as is divinely given us. Bear in mind that this mutual first-contact learning-curve applies to you as much as it does to us; you, too, have much to learn about our reality and how we live, work, and play. From this perspective, you can see that a lot must be fitted in to a rapidly decreasing amount of time. These time constraints put considerable pressure upon our Earth allies to get their part done, and then let us do the rest.

Our part in all this is to set up our crews with the most efficacious approach for carrying out the mass landing procedure. All indications so far point to doing it in one fell swoop. From experience, we have discovered that a piecemeal approach simply doesn’t work on your planet. Recent experimental attempts in various isolated areas with the less inculcated peoples still stirred up over-stimulation and considerable resistance. Based on this, we now intend to stick with an intervention en mass at the divinely appointed time. This will also ensure that all goes as planned. But prior to this, you will need a series of awareness-raising broadcasts in order to remove, to the extent that we require, the deep-seated xenophobia ingrained in you since childhood. Happily, the time for all this is drawing nigh!

Today, we continued our discussion about the coming great changes and how these relate to the first contact mission. We feel it is important that you grasp what a monumental operation this is turning out to be. But whatever the challenges, we can and will succeed in this divinely prescribed mission. Remember, Together, We are indeed Victorious! Know in your Heart of Hearts that the perpetual Supply and infinite Abundance of Heaven are indeed Yours! Selamat Majon! Selamat Kasitaram! (Sirian for Rejoice! and Be Blessed in Heavenly Love and Joy!)

The Dark Cabals of Rothschild and Royals [aka Annuki] and the [white] Europeans [hegomistically] ruling the world can be overcome with God status returned to blacks and Black Adam, the first human, now lost to lack of DNA from cherrypicking These groups of Earth humans are dedicated to saving your planet from the line- up of ever-worsening predicaments planned with avarice and cold-blooded ambition by your dark cabals, especially during the last 400 years. The Earth humanitarians regard first contact as a means to accelerate the many cures needed to transform a fragmented global population into a collective ready to accept the profound challenges posed by a sudden rise in global consciousness. These noble aims put them in stark opposition to the way this planet is being run and require outstanding resolve in order to effect transformation on such a scale of all the core perceptions of humanity—a truly monumental task! Faced with such odds, they came quickly to regard our assistance as a most welcome addition to the course they had decided to pursue.

We observe the many on Earth willingly permitting the few to be in command. Do you not recognize the fallacy in the dictation of the few over the many? Every one of you are potentials gods … for each of you is made in the image of our Creator God. Why not come together in unison and create a planetary culture in which all share in the abundance of life? Don't be frightened away by the concepts of socialism and communism. These ideologies have yet to manifest on Earth in their true form. In your recent planetary history, only one group has come anywhere near revealing the cosmic meaning of community. The Essenes. And, they fell short. Community, at the cosmic level, means appreciation for the unique gifts of all beings on every planet.

Military Rapes aka Personal Eugenics in the 21st Century

Genentech and CRISPR or other systems make rape less obvious, more of an authorizations issue, and bogus phone calls (a bogus phone call arrives when a real one is alleged) or stage photos or bunko false constructions of statements can all bolster false genetic permissions to rapes carried out by the military and military labs such as those run by Andy Ellington.

Fake counseling services or other service claiming to speak for me or fake FISA Warrants are another way rapes can be carried out by the DOD

I am really in Quadrant 1 but defamed as a nutjob low IQ looser child in Quadrant 2; which, btw, enslaves me to the Behavioral Health Care System.

Claiming Defamatory impersonators of me have been turned into Real Me in Quadrant I enables the Behaviorall Health Services not only explain I am (and always have been) a normal person it creates a claim that their programs can take the morons they claim I really am (quadrant II) and turn them into my Quadrant 1, the normal person I always have been.

Penny Ashley and others fighting extremism become glammed by high tech programming and probably to think they are onto something
1) Real Me	2) Defamatory Doppelganger
3) Mentally Ill	4) "Saved Citizens"

Behavioral Health wants to defame my normalcy, create fake retarded children rings I am not in, gain control of my assets, and move those assets, my genes and life of self learning, into others through medical and social systems.

This has been racial and ethnic attack through Behavioal Health SJW systems utilizing attacks on my Human Rights acheived through retarded impersonators of me.

The intellectual, genetic artistic, political, and other worth in me has been defamed, illegally, in ethnic violence, so it can be transferred into other ethnic and racial groups in other areas of the world.

I am a pro-Western pro Caucasian pro Epistemic Science Atheist political Libertarian philosopher being raped by world SJW interests who my worth is being wrongfully transfered into.

This scheme involves the corrupt world global movement not only conducting ethnic violence against me in the U.S. it includes a globalism based series of assassinations of government and media officials in the U.S.

It is a religious scheme involving a surface pretense, a counseling scheme which does not have merit, overlaying underlying genetic work which is where the real genocide, and "saving," will occur in secret programs ascribed to the religious SJW preaching.

The Veneer Placed over the Genetic Rape Scheme

The religious and Behavioral Counseling systems claiming I am a product of them merely claimed "credit" for my normal life and were and are hindrances to my normal life rather than a part of it.

I didn't waste time with Gospel or Yoga in my life. I independently learned from classic literature and studies of it as my father taught me to do, and as an Atheist.

One of the best examples is when I through my high tech life was on Meetup which I had decided to do to socialize and reach out, and met some philosphers discussing Hegel's Master Slave Diealectic.

Moron Penny Ashly snapped my calender entry out of my hands, which I had shown her from my organizor folio, and she accused me of being racist for going to it.

After studing for and attending the meetup, against her wishes, I handed her something on programming terms beign able to describe both sides being true, the grey area, which, btw apllies to Borderline Personality Disorder.

The hinderance she was too all that I simply ignored and handed her something that might be of interest to her anyway.

The Medical Rape System

The Veneer at Layer 1 of alleged Behavioral programs benefiting me are just imposed on me to in fact gain Layer 2 genetic property and other property of mine which will be embezzled through a variety of schemes involving staged photos joined with hacked wireless communications, etc.,

Finally, this high tech Genetech inter-racial genetics-rights case is likely obliquely refered to by Barack Obama saying some eggs must be broken it the U.S. (my procreativity with White women) to make an omelet overseas, distributing "missiles" through the CIA and DOD

My previous other comments on Race and Genetics

Intelligence and Race

From my old web site criticizing the Human Genome Program lies about Race and Genetics

As discussed previously, the differences in general intelligence levels are significant. After the test results have been adjusted upwards to compensate for nutrition and environment, the average black in the United States, who has a 7-20% Caucasian genetic component, measures at an IQ of 85, half way between retardation and the average white of about 100, and in Africa, where many of our immigrants come from, the average IQ is 65, 5 points below the retardation level of 70. Regardless of the cause of the low IQs, they exist and they relate very strongly to our overall cognitive processes.

In a matter relevant to Thomas Sell I was arrested and forcibly medicated for putting this web site up as a public matter, while in private Obama and others from the NIH/HHS/PHS worked to fix the problems I identified behinds the scenes with a genocide scheme targeting and torturing my family in particular with Tom Donegan's assistance in that goal.

- The Medical State medicates me
- The Medical State begins Genocide

Due Proccess violations under Medical Religious SJW DNA Deep State "enriching" their goals

There appears a Non-US World Religious Deep State which Divinci Code like built around the genetic assistance to Africa which is hostile both to my (and Tom Dunham's progressive Atheism) as well as my sexual expression and reproductivity WITHIN the U.S., possibly tied to concealing elsewhere medical siezure, , medical control, and medical use of my DNA outside of the U.S.

The Due Proccess Violation is the Behavioral Medicine is claiming to represent my mother's estate, though secretly wanting her DNA.

This was a Trust Fund account she was duped into creating through NIH.ASP of my RHEF web site.

Once someone else, friendly to IQ research and world IQ advocacy is created to pretend to reprsent ME, that open door to mismanage my DNA rights and interests have been exploitively use to against my interests in a Genocide conspiracy.

The Genocide Mechanism

At the daily life level through staged photos where I predictably am and other move to, I seem to be stalking those who offend me. Non-white, children, gays.

- This creates the illusion I like non-whites and gays undermining my white supremacist whites only sexual interests.
- Further, since I APPEAR to have an interest in non-whites my DNA then, by OTHERS, be assigned to those outside of my racial group.
- Meanwhile I am socially sabotaged to white women who would partner withe me, genetically, and in my own life and reproductivity and marriage.

First Lady Michelle Obama to Celebrate the Fourth Anniversary of Let's Move! WASHINGTON, DC - This week, First Lady Michelle Obama will kick off a celebration around the fourth anniversary of Let's Move!, her initiative to ensure that all our children grow up healthy and reach their full potential.

New York, NY * 10:45 AM ET - Inspired by the Drink Up initiative, First Lady Michelle Obama will visit the Taking Back the Streets exhibit at the New Museum in New York City. The exhibit, developed by WAT-AAH, is a celebration of street art in honor of Drink Up, the Partnership for Healthier America's initiative that encourages all Americans to drink more water. The Taking Back the Streets exhibit will use the visual arts to remind kids and parents that choosing to drink water is one of the best and easiest decisions we can make each and every day.

360 Degree DNA!

But, this issue of putting the rods in me to stop the spin of the new DNA is also absurd; for this new spiritual DNA spins as it chooses, up and down and all around! When it is completely operant this new DNA will be fully open, 360 degrees!

Our Father in Heaven told me some years back, even as it is written in these books, that He is going to give me 360 degree DNA! I tell you frankly that I could not have possibly understood what he was saying. But, the evil ones understood right then and there; for I also wrote that they began to steadily abduct me and I would find needle marks here and there on my body, from day to day and from week to week!

Yes, they are indeed interested in this new DNA, but only to steal it and or to stop it any way they can; and so the battle goes on! But they are losing ground every day; for they will not stop what our Father determines to be! (I wish to note here as well, that as I understand it, the angles of the current human DNA are in the 20 degree range and in the low twenty degree range as well!)

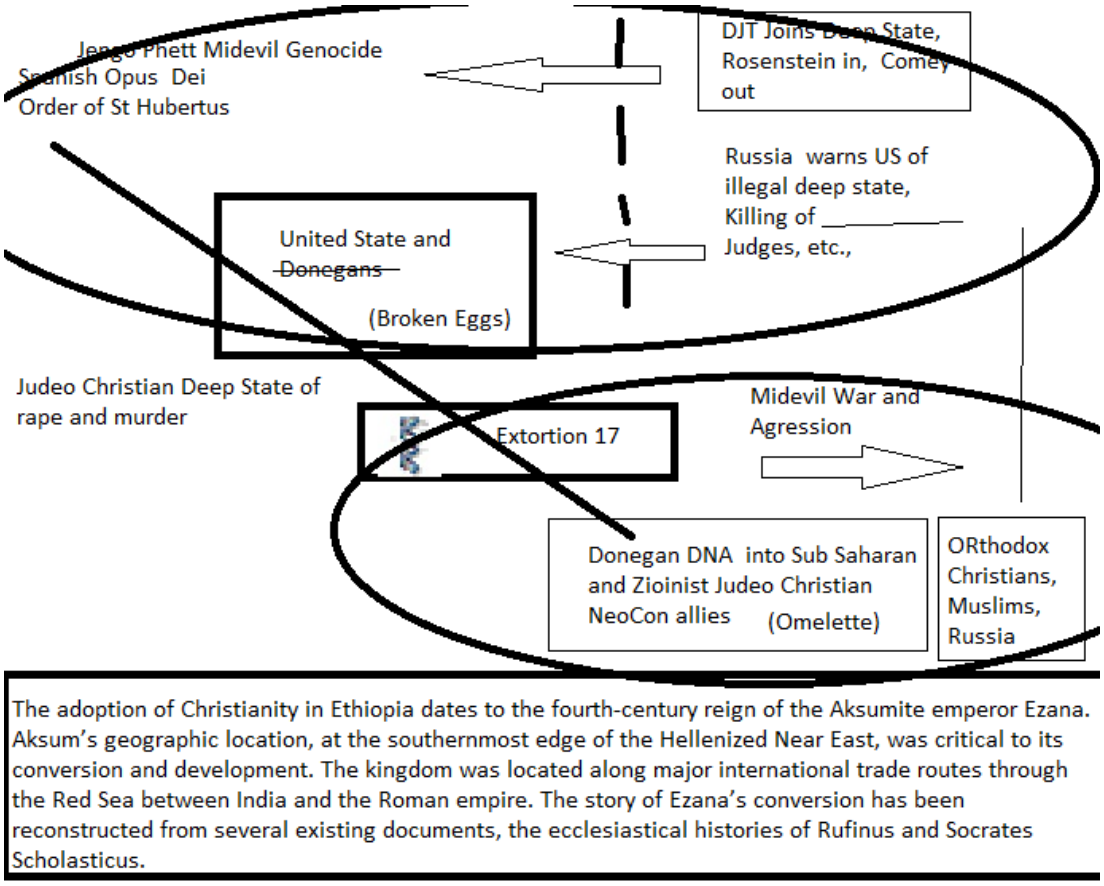
In psychology, FLUID AND CRYSTALLIZED INTELLIGENCE (respectively abbreviated Gf and Gc) are factors of general intelligence.

My Little One, I am your Father Yahweh, yea Jehovah, Most High God! My Precious Child, you have come to me, seeking, fasting, and longing to know more as regards the terrible fate of the NEW MADRID FAULT! And, although, I showed you this massive destruction years ago, I showed you more of a bird's eye view! Now, as you seek Me with a great longing, I shall show you more of what awaits both America and Canada as regards one of the greatest and most unstable fault lines in the world! For, this fault line is deep, very deep; and its branches go far and wide across the USA and into Canada! Therefore, when it cracks open, it will devastate much!



The adoption of Christianity in Ethiopia dates to the fourth-century reign of the Aksumite emperor Ezana. Aksum's geographic location, at the southernmost edge of the Hellenized Near East, was critical to its conversion and development. The kingdom was located along major international trade routes through the Red Sea between India and the Roman empire. The story of Ezana's conversion has been reconstructed from several existing documents, the ecclesiastical histories of Rufinus and Socrates Scholasticus.

Each CIA cryptonym contains a two character prefix called a digraph, which designates a geographical or functional area. Certain digraphs were changed over time; for example, the digraph for the Soviet Union changed at least twice.

The rest is either an arbitrary dictionary word, or occasionally the digraph and the cryptonym combine to form a dictionary word (e.g., AEROPLANE) or can be read out as a simple phrase (e.g., WIBOTHER, read as “Why bother!”). Cryptonyms are sometimes written with a slash after the digraph, e.g., ZR/RIFLE, and sometimes in one sequence, e.g., ZRRIFLE. The latter format is the more common style in CIA documents.

Small Changes in Gene Expression Affect Brain Function

Altered regulation of gene expression in both DEVELOPING BRAINS AND ADULT BRAINS have been linked with multiple neurological diseases such as depression, schizophrenia, and Alzheimer’s disease. Traditional methods to study these types of disorders have relied on artificial overexpression of genes in animal models. These methods make it difficult for researchers to study the early brain changes associated with the diseases, as the animal models show advanced symptoms (meaning that the brain structure has already been modified).

Neurons (brain cells) are crucial to the function of the central nervous system, but genetic engineering processes like CRISPR do not easily translate to neurons due to inherent limitations with these specialized cells. Recent research using CRISPR-based technologies in neurons has relied on difficult and often expensive adaptations including in utero electroporation, direct infusion of Cas9 protein, or transfection using a gene gun.

So they could embezzle my high IQ sperm bank DNA for their own use in treating their and other autistic and retarded clients. See this chapter and section of this book for more info. Also see this chapter on how the embezzlement system involves money laundering through left wing adult entertainers.

This would be a self-enrichment scheme of a retardation advocacy firm who needs access to my own real property, biological property, by falsely claiming the right or need for them to manage my property rights for me and then do so illegally and without accounting to me.

That would be the veneer, the surface level con, geno rights con, Jim Volcelka was asked into. A Precious Gems ploy seeking to rob me of Precious Gems. In fact what was really at issue was not medical rights to my genes, but framing me and getting me kicked out of where I would have met a wife, and selling my immumology on the black market, momey laundering the rights through asset seizures, which is tied to famous Illuminati.

The scheme used by Jim Volcelka and others was to pretentiously tell me what I already have said or done, often by innuendo, after I had already said or done earlier acts, so later my acts can be falsely attributed, after the fact, as the result of retarded child coaching I had received allegedly IN ADVANCE of my normal everyday acts.

Again, Judge Roll and the need to seize my genomic assets in a scheme which will also get my blackballed by adult women Repugnant Market DNA rights, Fertilization Rights, in police asset seizure lockers.

- Here is a motive. Tia Marselli of the ARC of Norther Virginia retarded childcare's center I never signed up for also has an Autism Center started over her Autistic boy as well as being advocacy for retarded children ARC OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA trust administrator, and I think Genotracy DNA may be sold from my DNA to autistic children, and this ay be going around the world in medical use of my DNA, which would tie to the Judge Roll and Scalia deaths.

  As the ARC of Northern Virginia was signed up by my brother Tom Donegan to handle my mother's sale of the Moraga house estate, the ARC left me out of meetings and refused any documents to me on how the trust was being setup, while VERBALLY claiming it was only a house value normal trust fund.

- Bizarre birther and MKULTRA issues surround me family DNA, my mother's hair and hats, my meeting white women, and Omaa and the NIH and his 2008 election and Rod Rosenstein.

- And orphanages and religious medical ministries work.

- And my points around IQ destabilizing low IQ nations as a world security threat.

The FLAMING ROCK

I looked out in SPACE AND I SAW A VERY LARGE ROCK, which is now HEADED TOWARD THE EARTH. It is a monster! Then, I looked in the Spirit and saw this great flaming rock again and it was soaring through the atmosphere! It fell in the Atlantic Ocean and APPEARED TO FALL JUST SOUTH, TO SOUTHEAST OF BERMUDA. At that moment, I knew that when this great rock falls, it will cause tidal waves, which will inundate Florida and may very well cause the great flooding, which I have seen in Arkansas.

The UW-Madison Electron Microprobe Lab was set up in 1966 by Gene Cameron. The lab operates as a multi-user facility, with usage divided roughly equally between geologists and material scientists and engineers. The lab was managed from 1966 to 1992 by Dr. Everett Glover (1917-2017) , and since 1992 by Dr. John Fournelle .

The lab created equipment which can analize via Xray elements inside solids presumbbly drwan from field locations and could including searches for minerals or oil or shale.

The labe in Madison Wisconsin was run by Bvert Glover in whose house the gun was given to Lee Havery Oswald at a Russian USA

Bromance Party.

It was that very same night, that I went to sleep amidst all of their torture as I do every night, and I dreamed that a pot-bellied blondish man, with teeth stained with nicotine, came up to me and said, “I AM ILLUMINATI!” I never said a word to him, but I thought to myself in the dream, “So, who cares?”

Map snip added to text by Ed Donegan

Then, in the same dream another man appeared, this one rather young with fine, short brown hair. And, this man came up to me and said, “I manage a MULTIBILLION DOLLAR TRUST FUND IN WISCONSIN.” I looked at him as he tossed around some papers on his desk, and wondered why he would tell me such a thing!

Then, the Illuminati man came up to me and as he did so, he put forth his hand and out of it rolled a streak of fire! Then, I put forth my hand and out of it rolled forth a streak of fire. Then, the Illuminati man put forth his hand and projected a picture on a blank wall.

So, I put forth my hand and likewise projected a symbol on the blank wall. Then, the Illuminati man projected a symbol on the wall; and after his symbol, I put forth my hand and projected two symbols on the same wall! After I projected the two symbols, this Illuminati man walked away.

This New Spiritual Code, Awesome to behold!

It is through these continued assaults of Satan and his demonic hoards that our Father has matured this new spiritual code, this new spiritual DNA, which is now very strong and it fights for me and with me. I believe that the two symbols that I projected onto the wall with my hand indicates the full maturity of this new spiritual DNA, for it is 24 strands, while the current spiritual DNA of humans is twelve strands; and the fallen angels have 18 strands! In other words, it is double, or two times the power of what it is now for the humans! So, from this dream and what I also know by now, when this new spiritual code reaches its full maturity, these evil ones will be removed from my face!

My Dear Ones, this new spiritual code and how it operates is most amazing and I can assure you that Satan and his fallen angels are terrified of this new spiritual code and the very fact that this will soon be released upon humanity! For, this new code will give the lowly humans power over Satan and over his fallen angels.

This terrible Drago war, wherein they were driven into the Earth began around FEBRUARY 20TH, 2006 and continued until approximately until the end of April of 2006! I was in the midst of it all and the archangels were constantly around me, all to keep me, my Dear Ones, for these evil hoards came toward me, as if I were a magnet! This great influx of fallen angels and others, whom Satan sent after me, constitutes the “flood” of Revelation, Chapter Twelve!

As stated.

John F. Kennedy

The very word “secrecy” is repugnant in a free and open society; and we are as a people inherently and historically opposed to secret societies, to secret oaths and to secret proceedings.

We decided long ago that the dangers of excessive and unwarranted concealment of pertinent facts far outweighed the dangers which are cited to justify it.

Even today, there is little value in opposing the threat of a closed society by imitating its arbitrary restrictions. Even today, there is little value in insuring the survival of our nation if our traditions do not survive with it. And there is very grave danger that an announced need for increased security will be seized upon by those anxious to expand its meaning to the very limits of official censorship and concealment.

That I do not intend to permit to the extent that it is in my control.

And no official of my Administration, whether his rank is high or low, civilian or military, should interpret my words here tonight as an excuse to censor the news, to stifle dissent, to cover up our mistakes or to withhold from the press and the public the facts they deserve to know.

John F. Kennedy Address to the Economic Club of New York delivered 14 DECEMBER 1962, WALDORF ASTORIA HOTEL, New York
https://www.americanrhetoric.com/speeches/jfkeconomicclubaddress.html

The Economic Club of New York is, of course, familiar with these problems. For, in this state, the rate of insured unemployment has been persistently higher than the national average, and the increases in personal income and employment have been slower here than [in] the nation as a whole.

YOU HAVE SEEN THE TRAGEDY OF CHRONICALLY DEPRESSED AREAS UPSTATE, OF UNEMPLOYED YOUNG PEOPLE — AND I THINK THIS MIGHT BE ONE OF OUR MOST SERIOUS NATIONAL PROBLEMS, UNEMPLOYED YOUNG PEOPLE, THOSE UNDER 20. ONE OUT OF FOUR ARE UNEMPLOYED — PARTICULARLY THOSE IN THE MINORITY GROUPS, ROAMING THE STREETS OF NEW YORK AND OUR OTHER GREAT CITIES — AND OTHERS ON RELIEF AT AN EARLY AGE, WITH THE PROSPECT THAT IN THIS DECADE WE WILL HAVE BETWEEN SEVEN AND EIGHT MILLION SCHOOL DROPOUTS, UNSKILLED, COMING INTO THE LABOR MARKET, AT A TIME WHEN THE NEED FOR UNSKILLED LABOR IS STEADILY DIMINISHING.

And I know you share my conviction that, proud as we are of its progress, this nation's economy can and must do even better than it has done in the last five years. Our choice, therefore, boils down to one of: doing nothing, and thereby risking a widening gap between our actual and potential growth in output, profits, and employment — or taking action, at the federal level, to raise our entire economy to a new and higher level of business activity.

There are a number of ways by which the federal government can meet its responsibilities to aid economic growth. We can and must improve American education and technical training. We can and must expand civilian research and technology. One of the great bottlenecks for this country's economic growth in this decade will be the shortages of doctorates in mathematics, engineering, and physics — a serious shortage with a great demand and an undersupply of highly trained manpower. We can and must step up the development of our natural resources.

Fluid and crystallized intelligence

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In psychology, fluid and crystallized intelligence (respectively abbreviated Gf and Gc) are factors of general intelligence, originally identified by Raymond Cattell. Concepts of fluid and crystallized intelligence were further developed by Cattell's student John L. Horn.

Fluid intelligence or fluid reasoning is the capacity to reason and solve novel problems, independent of any knowledge from the past. [2] It is the ability to analyze novel problems, identify patterns and relationships that underpin these problems and the extrapolation of these using logic. It is necessary for all logical problem solving. Fluid reasoning includes inductive reasoning and deductive reasoning.

Book 12 Chapter 23 The New Spiritual Code lots of Feb and Feb 20 references of new DNA. My likely IVF date Feb 20 1961

The Amazing New Human DNA

And, what an amazing thing to behold; for when the DNA needs to unlock one of their locks, it forms a sharp point; and with this sharp point, which reminds me of a piece of wire, it "picks" the lock! The DNA "knows" where it must go within each tiny lock to open the lock and it “knows” what lock must be opened in sequence to open the chain of wire pulleys and levers. This is the divine nature of this new DNA! At times, the DNA has had to go through a complicated maze of layers of wire, thick gooey liquid and cloth to find certain of their interlocking locks and to unlock such locks. When the lock is unlocked, I will audibly hear a small click and the DNA then goes on the next lock.

For some days, our Father had the DNA to search out and to find these locks and to unlock them as if He were carrying the DNA through some sort of test, or race. And, often it would be that after the DNA had found and unlocked many of the tiny locks in a series that a vast amount of their wires, pulleys, cables and levers would come cascading down, like a small avalanche in my brain, in my face or elsewhere.

Then, after some days of this, it became apparent to me that the DNA was completing a heavenly task that our Father in Heaven wanted it to do! For, after some days of completing successfully this task; and without fail, the DNA began to pull out vast amounts of these cables and pulleys and levers with locks intact. So, I believe that the DNA, having successfully beat them at this game, no longer had to play it, or only plays it now when it is prompted by the Spirit of God to do so! For, now I see that the DNA often disregards their locks and pulls the wires out, right through the skin, or “chews” them up!

More Conversations!

But, there have been other very significant conversations; and I will further entail some of what I have heard since I last wrote to you. Just after I wrote the last update, I sensed that there were two men in my living room as the DNA was busy with its cleaning work; and one said to another, “She is busy cleaning! This will take about thirty minutes. Let’s get a bite to eat.” (It was about 5:00P.M.) Then, some time passed and I heard one man say to another, “This is the greatest experiment ever to be done to a living human being. Any researcher worth anything would want to be a part of this!”

Note these words, “the greatest experiment ever to be done to a living human being;” for this is a fact! No one has ever endured even one minute of such horrific assaults and lived to tell about it. My Dear Ones, the fact that I am alive from day to day is one great testimony to the great powers of the mighty God Yahweh! For, no one, no one could ever live through such horrors, not even for a minute. Right now, even as I write these words, terrible odors of chemicals are coming from my body!

In-Utero Electroportations

CRISPR/Cas9-Mediated Gene Knock-Down in Post-Mitotic Neurons

Neuronal transfections were performed by in-utero electroporation of E15 wild-type C57BL/6J mice as described previously [17]. Briefly, an E15 pregnant mother was anesthetized using 2% isoflurane and injected with 0.1 mg/kg of buprenorphrine as anesthetic. Embryonic pups within the intact uterus were temporarily removed from the abdomen and injected into the left hemisphere with 1 µl of DNA mixture, containing the appropriate CRISPR-construct and soluble GFP (10:1), using a ~50 µm-diameter pipette sharply beveled at 15 to 20° (Narishige, Japan), visually confirming the proper site of correct injection by mixing 0.005% fast green with the DNA. To target transfection to the hippocampus, the head of the embryonic pup was placed between paddles of tweezer electrodes (CUY21 electroporator, NEPA GENE, Japan), with the positive terminal covering the lateral surface of the right hemisphere and the negative terminal covering the left hemisphere. Each injected embryo was then subjected to 5×50 ms/35 V electric pulses. Following electroporation, the intact uterus containing the pups was returned to the abdomen, and the mother's abdomen sutured shut. Recordings were made from transfected pups 14 to 20 days following birth.

Linda Newkirk Book 12 Chapter 34

With this electromagnetic technology, they never need to do another standard surgical procedure on another living soul! They will not fear the consequences of getting caught doing illegal surgical procedures on anyone; for in stealth and out of sight of the unsuspecting they can do a surgical procedure within a very few seconds or minutes. With a slap or two of their hands onto the body of the unsuspecting, these evil hoards can put many things into one's body; and the only sensation will be a slight "knock", a slight "bump" to the flesh, or the sensation of one's flesh moving or crawling!

I can assure you, my Dear Ones, that 99.9999% of the victims will soon dismiss what they have sensed; and being no wiser, go on with their affairs, maimed and dysfunctional in some way because of what these evil ones have done to their bodies! But, others will never again have to think about any earthly affairs, for they will not live to take another breath!

http://www.prophecies.org/DOCS/Book%2010/03lab.htm From the Mountain, Book X Chapter Three "The Russian Lab"

Last night, I dreamed that I was in a Russian lab. This lab was a filthy place with stainless steel tables, just as one would see in an anatomy lab in a medical school. Obviously, there had been many people in this lab before as there were body fluids and dirt and filth all over these tables and all over the floor. People, including myself, were being forced to lie on these tables for various examinations. Those in charge of this lab were very evil people and I was keenly aware of one, in particular, who kept eyeing me. THE WORK THAT WAS BEING DONE THERE HAD SOMETHING TO DO WITH "120 DEGREES OR GREATER" AND I BELIEVE THAT THIS WORK IS GENETIC AND ALSO A KIND OF MIND CONTROL WORK. There were others there, who were busy doing the tasks that they were assigned to do. All, who were there, looked and acted like zombies. This was a very dirty work and it would be impossible for anyone to do this sort of work without getting this filth on them. As I watched them doing this work, I had no idea what they were doing, but in a short time this evil-eyed man came to me and attempted to show me what he wanted done. I watched as filthy water was being poured between crevices and even though I was there and knew that they expected me to do certain things, I had no fear of this evil man or of this place. I awoke to this dream on the 16th of FEBRUARY, BUT IT WAS ON THE MORNING OF THE 15TH OF FEBRUARY that I awoke to find two needle marks on my left thumb, which were about a millimeter apart. But, on the 17th of February, I found four needle marks on the upper back of Dennis and these marks were close to his spine. Now, I realize that both of us were abducted and taken to this lab.

He is not pleased about the gross darkness, which has befallen mankind; and He is not pleased with the absolute rebellion of so many. Yet, even the dark works of so many will not stop the latter rain of His Spirit, which is now falling on the Earth. I have seen His great light fall on China, on Taiwan, on North Korea, on South Africa, on Russia, on Indonesia and on many other parts of the world. I have seen it fall on the Clintons and on the congress of the USA; and I have seen it fall on many different parts of the world, even parts which I did not recognize. This light of God is going to make known some of the dark schemes of those, who are evil to the core. This light is going to change some situations for the better and accelerate some changes, which have already begun, to their rapid completion.

Robin Copeland, 46, 11/4/2011: former Energy Department official who took part in several significant disarmament programs, died suddenly

THE WASHINGTON TIMES Friday, November 4, 2011

Ms. Copeland worked at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow for the Energy Department and U.S. Agency for International Development USAID from 1995 to 1999 and from 2004 to 2006, respectively. An energy specialist, she worked on several programs that helped stem the spread of deadly arms from the former Soviet Union, a family member said.

She wrote a major study for the U.S. government's efforts to prevent weapons, technology and scientists related to Russia's 12 closed nuclear cities from proliferating outside the country, and she worked helping Russia on chemical weapons destruction.

Ms. Copeland was born April 25, 1965, in Daytona Beach, Fla., and grew up in Darien, Conn. She graduated from Southern Methodist University, attended the John F. Kennedy University in Berkeley, Calif., and St. Andrews University in Scotland.

She also held numerous private-sector positions in the oil and gas industry as well as being a specialist on nuclear energy and on the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction.

The National Transitional Council, established in 2011, referred to the state as simply “Libya”. The UN formally recognized the country as “Libya” in September 2011[29] based on a request from the Permanent Mission of Libya citing the Libyan interim CONSTITUTIONAL DECLARATION OF 3 AUGUST 2011. In November 2011, the ISO 3166-1 was altered to reflect the new country name “Libya” in English, “Libye (la)” in French.[30]

After a successful invasion of Tripoli by Habsburg Spain in 1510,[42] and its handover to the Knights of St. John, the Ottoman admiral Sinan Pasha took control of Libya in 1551.[42] His successor Turgut Reis was named the Bey of Tripoli and later Pasha of Tripoli in 1556. By 1565, administrative authority as regent in Tripoli was vested in a pasha appointed directly by the sultan in Constantinople/Istanbul. In the 1580s, the rulers of Fezzan gave their allegiance to the sultan, and although Ottoman authority was absent in Cyrenaica, a bey was stationed in Benghazi late in the next century to act as agent of the government in Tripoli.[36

During the Second World War, Libya was an area of warfare in the North African Campaign. The Italian population then went into decline. Libya became independent as a kingdom in 1951. A military coup in 1969 overthrew King Idris I. The “bloodless”[16] coup leader Muammar Gaddafi ruled the country from 1969 and the Libyan Cultural Revolution in 1973 until he was overthrown and killed in the 2011 Libyan Civil War.

What really happened in Benghazi?

Ambassador Chris Stevens and three other Americans were killed in the attack on the US consulate because of a secret low-level war in which American hit squads took out leaders of al Qaeda militias, which retaliated in Benghazi. There was never a protest at the consulate over the infamous anti-Islamist YouTube video.

So says the new 80-page e-book, “Benghazi: The Definitive Report” (William Morrow) by Jack Murphy and Brandon Webb, two military veterans who specialize in reporting about clandestine operations at the website SOFREP.com. Their book, which they say is based on interviews with well-placed security types but contains virtually no checkable sourcing, is loaded with explosive allegations.

The fall of Moammar Khadafy presented a tricky situation for us: Khadafy, though a despot to his own people, had nevertheless been cooperating with the US, which among other favors was granted the right to use Libyan territory for CIA black sites.

Moreover, the opposition to Khadafy wasn't exactly led by a gang of Libyan George Washingtons. Many of the rebel leaders were sharia-loving members of al Qaeda who had come from jihadist strongholds in the cities of Derna and Benghazi, which are so tied up in Islamist fundamentalism that they were major exporters of guerilla warriors who fought the US in Iraq.

Having helped to engineer the ouster of Khadafy with air strikes left Obama with the problem of a revitalized al Qaeda springing up to fill the void.

Obama gave his chief counterterrorism advisor, John Brennan, who is now the nominee to be the next leader of the CIA, a blank check. Brennan could do just about whatever he needed to do in North Africa and the Mideast, contend Murphy and Webb. Brennan chose to conduct a dangerous classified war without looping in Stevens, who paid with his life for his ignorance, according to the book.

The consulate's first line of defense was four locally hired security guards and another man on the front gate. All five of these rent-a-cops, who were armed only with baseball bats and no firearms, immediately fled when the attack began. One of them, Murphy and Webb say, may even have opened the gates for the dozens of armed al Qaeda fighters who came swarming into the compound.

That left Ambassador Stevens and IT worker Sean Smith defended only by five inexperienced Diplomatic Security Service agents. When Stevens and Smith fled to a safe room, the attackers smoked them out by lighting up diesel fuel. Smith and Stevens eventually choked to death on the smoke.

Meanwhile, DSS agents called for help from the nearest Americans, at a CIA compound defended by much more experienced security men. Team leader Ty Woods, who had spent 20 years in the Navy SEALs, in minutes put together a plan in which he and five others would load up their weapons in a pair of armored Toyota Land Cruisers. Woods had a heated discussion about his rescue mission with his CIA boss, who opposed the idea, though the authors say it's unclear whether Woods simply ignored orders or persuaded his superior to change his mind.

The economy of Ethiopia was based on subsistence agriculture, with an aristocracy that consumed the surplus. Due to a number of causes, the peasants have lacked incentives to either improve production or to store their excess crops; as a result, they lived from harvest to harvest. Despite the extensive modernization of Ethiopia in the last 120 years, as of 2016, about 80% of the population are poor farmers who still live from harvest to harvest and are vulnerable to crop failures.

Albert Plesman was born as the son of an egg trader from The Hague. In 1915 he joined the mobilized Dutch airforce as a professional officer, at the time still called the “militaire luchtvaartafdeling” (military aviation department), in Soesterberg. After World War I, in which the Netherlands remained neutral, he started the organization of ELTA, the “Eerste Luchtverkeer Tentoonstelling Amsterdam” (First Aviation Exhibition Amsterdam), held from 1 AUGUS till 14 September 1919. For that occasion enormous halls (hangars) were built. Right after the exhibition these were used by Anthony Fokker, for his new company Nederlandse Vliegtuigenfabriek (Dutch Aircraft Factory), subsequently the Fokker airplane factory.

All these activities led to the establishment of the Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM), of which Plesman became director, and which he made a flourishing company. After World War II Plesman was appointed president-director of KLM. After the recovery from the war the company became a renowned airline company under his leadership. On 25 FEBRUARY 1946, KLM had the first airline flights from continental Europe to the USA.

Following World War II, Britain retained control of both British Somaliland and Italian Somaliland as protectorates. In 1950, as a result of the Paris Peace Treaties, the United Nations granted Italy trusteeship of Italian Somaliland, but only under close supervision and on the condition-first proposed by the Somali Youth League (SYL) and other nascent Somali political organizations, such as Hizbia Digil Mirifle Somali (HDMS) and the Somali National League (SNL)-that Somalia achieve independence within ten years.[31][32] British Somaliland remained a protectorate of Britain until 1960.

The Ogaden War, or the Ethio-Somali War (Somali: Dagaalkii Xoraynta Soomaali Galbeed), was a military conflict fought between Somalia and Ethiopia from July 1977 to March 1978 over the Ethiopian region of Ogaden. The conflict began with the Somali invasion of Ethiopia.[29] The Soviet Union disapproved of the invasion and ceased its support of Somalia, instead starting to support Ethiopia. Ethiopia was saved from defeat and permanent loss of territory through a massive airlift of military supplies worth $1 billion, the arrival of more than 12,000 Cuban soldiers and airmen sent by Fidel Castro to win a second African victory (after his first success in Angola in 1975-76),[24] and 1,500 Soviet advisors, led by General Vasily Petrov. On 23 January 1978, Cuban armored brigades inflicted the worst losses the Somali forces had ever taken in a single action since the start of the war.[25] The Ethiopians and Cubans (using 300 tanks, 156 pieces of artillery, and 46 combat aircraft)[21] prevailed at Harar, Dire Dawa and Jijiga, and began to push the Somalis systematically out of the Ogaden. By 23 March 1978, the Ethiopians and Cubans had recaptured more than two-thirds of the Ogaden, marking the official end of the war.[7] A third of the Somali National Army was killed, and half of the Somali Airforce destroyed; the war left Somalia with a disorganized and demoralized army and an angry population. All of these conditions led to a revolt in the army which eventually spiraled into a civil war.

Atlas Air Flight 3591 was a scheduled domestic cargo flight operating for Amazon Air between Miami International Airport and George Bush Intercontinental Airport in Houston. On FEBRUARY 23, 2019, the Boeing 767-375ER(BCF) used for this flight crashed into Trinity Bay during approach into Houston, killing the two crew members and one passenger on board. The accident occurred near Anahuac, Texas, east of Houston, shortly before 12:45 CST (18:45 UTC).[2][3][4] This was the first fatal crash of a Boeing 767 freighter.[5]

On AUGUST 6, 2020, the NTSB posted the final accident report to their website, which stated:

> The NTSB determines that the probable cause of this accident was the inappropriate response by the first officer as the pilot flying to an inadvertent activation of the go-around mode, which led to his spatial disorientation and nose-down control inputs that placed the airplane in a steep descent from which the crew did not recover. Contributing to the accident was the captain’s failure to adequately monitor the airplane’s flightpath and assume positive control of the airplane to effectively intervene. Also contributing were systemic deficiencies in the aviation industry's selection and performance measurement practices, which failed to address the first officer's aptitude-related deficiencies and maladaptive stress response. Also contributing to the accident was the Federal Aviation Administration's failure to implement the pilot records database in a sufficiently robust and timely manner.[12]

In Memoriam: Cedric Asiavugwa (L’19)

Dear Members of the Georgetown Community,

With a heavy heart, we write to share the terrible news that Cedric Asiavugwa, a third-year student at Georgetown Law, a member of Georgetown University’s Campus Ministry and Residential Minister on the second floor of New South, died in the tragic crash of Ethiopian Airlines flight ET302 near Addis Ababa. He was 32.

Cedric was on his way home to Nairobi, Kenya, following the death of his fiancée’s mother. With his passing, the Georgetown family has lost a stellar student, a great friend to many, and a dedicated champion for social justice across East Africa and the world.

Cedric was born and raised in Mombasa, Kenya, and graduated from the University of Zimbabwe with a B.A. in Philosophy, with highest honors. His commitment to issues of social justice, especially serving refugees and other marginalized groups, led him to Zimbabwe, Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania before coming to Georgetown. Among his many accomplishments, he helped found a community-based organization that addresses the protection of vulnerable women and children fleeing the war in Somalia, researched issues ranging from international conflicts to food security across East Africa, served as the Editor-in-Chief of the philosophy journal Chiedza, and directed a television series on peace and reconciliation.

Deeply committed to Catholic and Jesuit education, Cedric also spent eight years discerning a religious vocation as a Jesuit Scholastic. He was a beloved member of Georgetown’s Campus Ministry offices, tending to a group of first-year undergraduates for the last three years as a Residential Minister in the New South residence hall on the Hilltop and also interning in the Law Center’s Campus Ministry office. Consistently dedicated to the underprivileged in his home country, Cedric also served as the Assistant Director of Advancement for St. Aloysius Gonzaga Secondary School, a free high school for orphans with HIV/AIDS in Nairobi.

37 glorious years of service with KDF with impeccable record. A great experience in command, training and staff both in Kenya and abroad. I had the opportunity to be a member of the team that drafted the policy framework for EAC cooperation in Defence and the Eastern Africa Standby Force. I also got opportunity to serve in different countries either as trainer or peacekeeper. I have worked with forces from all over the world in which I have drawn overwhelming lessons. I was awarded a medal of honour, The Order of Elder of the Burning Spear “EBS” by the President of Kenya and the Commander in Chief of the Kenya Defence Forces.

Mama Lois” Anderson: 79, and her 52 year old daughter Zelda White: Two US women aid workers were shot dead in Nairobi in Kenya (2008) were the retired Presbyterian Church missionaries of Pennsylvania (USA), known to thousands of Africans. The suspected killers of the US women, who were travelling in a car with diplomatic license plates, allegedly shot dead by police later.

They were well known for their work. There is speculation that they possibly had knowledge of the birth and care for Barack Obama in Kenya and were later murdered to cover the trail. When murdered, the Husband had his full wallet which the thieves/car jacker didn't take, and there was never a connection made to the said attackers the police later shot dead, but blamed for the double homicide/car jacking. Their church was burned in 2008, possibly to destroy any possible birth records there. Then police chief Mohammed Hussein Ali was later removed from office by Obama supported Kenyan strongman Odinga. All possible witnesses ended up dead, all possible records of the care of infant Obama burned in the church fire, and the public official responsible out of office.

Red Cross rescue workers said so far some 50 bodies had been recovered in the Kenya Assemblies of God Church in the town of Eldoret, some 300 kilometers (185 miles) from the capital Nairobi.

How Obama's father witnessed Tom Mboya's murder City News By Silas Nyanchwani | 5 years ago f

Three, and most important but least discussed, Obama Sr witnessed the assassination of Tom Mboya in July 1969.

That he even gave police the name of Mboya's assassin further muddled his image in the eyes of those keen on covering up the murder of the most ambitious politician of his day. In the bio, The Other Barack: The Bold and Reckless Life of President Obama's Father, published in 2011, Sally Jacobs, informs us that Obama Sr met Mboya at Channi's Pharmacy on July 5, 1969. Mboya had just returned from a summit in Ethiopia. Obama Sr joked how Mboya had parked the car wrongly and thus risked getting a ticket from the City Council.

Mboya laughed and walked into the pharmacy, only to begunned down by Nahashon Isaac Njenga Njoroge, whowas later hanged at Kamiti Prison on ‘orders from above’that saw to it that no priest performed the last rites onhim. Obama Sr told a friend how he gave Njenga’s nameand description to the police. During Njeng’as hasty trial, Obama Sr was the final prosecution witness, notes Jacobs.

Njenga, who had received military training in Europe was often used as a bodyguard by politicians and when questioned on the murder, he replied: “Why don’t you go after the big man?”

Fuddy dies in crash

Loretta Fuddy, director of the Hawaii Department of Health, reportedly died due to injuries she received in the crash of a small commuter plane shortly before 4:00 p.m. local time Wednesday, December 11, 2013.

Confirmation of her death occurred at approximately 8:00 p.m. local time (1:00 a.m. Eastern time The plane crash occurred about a half-mile off shore of the north shore of Molokai, shortly after taking off from Kalaupapa, Emergency officials responding to the crash site reported seeing eight people floating in the water wearing life vests.).

According to initial news reports, Fuddy was one of eight other people, including the pilot, in the plane and the only person to succumb to her injuries. Based on reports from EMS sources, three survivors were taken to Oahu, three to Molokai General Hospital and two members of the plane's party declined treatment.

SilkAir Flight 185 was a scheduled SilkAir passenger flight operated by a Boeing 737-300 from Jakarta, INDONESIA, to Singapore that crashed into the Musi River near Palembang in southern Sumatra, on 19 December 1997, killing all 97 passengers and seven crew on board. The cause of the crash was independently investigated by two agencies in two countries: the United States National Transportation Safety Board and the Indonesian National Transportation Safety Committee. The NTSB, which had jurisdiction based on Boeing's manufacture of the aircraft in the United States, investigated the crash under lead investigator Greg Feith. Its investigation concluded that the crash was the result of deliberate flight-control inputs, "most likely by the captain".Wikipedia

Date: DECEMBER 19, 1997

Summary: Cause disputed: Deliberate crash - Suicide by pilot (NTSB), Inconclusive evidence to determine cause (NTSC), Loss of control due to rudder malfunction (L.A. Superior Court)

The aircraft broke into pieces before impact, with the debris spread over a wide area, though most of the wreckage was concentrated in a single 60-metre (200 ft) by 80-metre (260 ft) area at the river bottom.[9] No complete body, body part, or limb was found, as the entire aircraft and passengers disintegrated upon impact. Only six positive identifications were later obtained from the few recovered human remains.[3][9]

Pacific Southwest Airlines Flight 1771 was a scheduled flight along the West Coast of the United States, from Los Angeles, California, to San Francisco. On 7 DECEMBER 1987, the British Aerospace 146-200A, registration N350PS, crashed in San Luis Obispo County near Cayucos,[3][4] after being hijacked by a passenger.

USAir, which had recently purchased Pacific Southwest Airlines (PSA), terminated David A. Burke, a ticketing agent,[6] for petty theft of $69 from in-flight cocktail receipts; he had also been suspected of involvement with a narcotics ring.[7] After meeting with Ray Thomson, his manager, in an unsuccessful attempt to be reinstated, Burke purchased a ticket on PSA Flight 1771, a daily flight from Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) to San Francisco International Airport (SFO). Thomson was a passenger on the flight, which he regularly took for his daily commute from his workplace at LAX to his home in the San Francisco Bay Area.[8] Flight 1771 departed from LAX at 15:31 PST, scheduled to arrive in San Francisco at 16:43.[9]

Using USAir employee credentials that he had not yet surrendered, Burke, armed with a Smith & Wesson Model 29 .44 Magnum revolver that he had borrowed from a coworker, was able to bypass the normal passenger security checkpoint at LAX.[10] He gained access to the plane via the locked crew door using the access code scratched above the lock as reported by one of the lawyers representing families of two dead passengers. After boarding the plane, Burke wrote a message on an airsickness bag, but if he gave the message to Thomson to read before shooting him is unknown. The note read:

> Hi Ray. I think it's sort of ironical that we end up like this. I asked for some leniency for my family. Remember? Well, I got none and you'll get none.

2002 Überlingen mid-air collision retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

On the night of 1 JULY 2002, Bashkirian Airlines Flight 2937, a Tupolev Tu-154 passenger jet, and DHL Flight 611, a Boeing 757 cargo jet, collided in midair over Überlingen, a southern German town on Lake Constance, near the Swiss border. All 69 passengers and crew aboard the Tupolev and both crew members of the Boeing were killed.

The two aircraft were flying at flight level 360 (11,000 m (36,000 ft)) on a collision course. Despite being just inside the German border, the airspace was controlled from Zürich, Switzerland, by the private Swiss airspace control company Skyguide. The only ATC handling the airspace, Peter Nielsen, was working two workstations at the same time.[10] Partly because of the added workload, and partly because of delayed radar data,[21] he did not realize the problem in time, thus failed to keep the aircraft at a safe distance from each other.[10]

The official investigation by the German Federal Bureau of Aircraft Accident Investigation (German: Bundesstelle für Flugunfalluntersuchung), (BFU), identified as the main cause of the collision a number of shortcomings on the part of the Swiss air traffic controller (ATC) service in charge of the sector involved, as well as ambiguities in the procedures regarding the use of the traffic collision avoidance system (TCAS) on-board.[5]:110[BFU

Bashkirian Airlines Flight 2937 (the non cargo flight) was a chartered flight from Moscow, Russia, to Barcelona, Spain, carrying 60 passengers and nine crew.[10] Forty-five of the passengers were Russian schoolchildren from the city of Ufa, in Bashkortostan, on a school trip organised by the local UNESCO committee to the Costa Daurada beach area of Catalonia.[11][2][12][13] Most of the parents of the children were high-ranking officials in Bashkortostan.[14] One of the fathers was the head of the local UNESCO committee.[15]

A year and a half after the crash, on 24 FEBRUARY 2004, Peter Nielsen, the ATC on duty at the time of the collision, was murdered in an apparent act of revenge by Vitaly Kaloyev, a Russian citizen whose wife and two children had been killed in the accident.

A year and a half after the crash, on 24 FEBRUARY 2004, Peter Nielsen, the ATC on duty at the time of the collision, was murdered in an apparent act of revenge by Vitaly Kaloyev, a Russian citizen whose wife and two children had been killed in the accident.

The Russian Federation states that the Russian pilots were unable to obey the TCAS advisory to climb; the advisory was given when they were already at 10,800 m (35,500 ft), while the controller wrongly stated conflicting traffic was above them at 11,000 m (36,000 ft). Also, the ATC gave the wrong position of the DHL plane (2 o’clock instead of the actual 10 o’clock).[23] Russia asserts that the DHL crew had a “real possibility” to avoid a collision, since they were able to hear the conversation between the Russian crew and the controller.[22]

Belgium, officially the Kingdom of Belgium, is a country in Western Europe. It is bordered by the Netherlands to the north, Germany to the east, Luxembourg to the southeast, France to the southwest, and the North Sea to the northwest.

Belgium (Capital Brussells) became one of the six founding members of the European Coal and Steel Community in 1951 and of the European Atomic Energy Community and European Economic Community, established in 1957. The latter has now become the European Union, for which Belgium hosts major administrations and institutions, including the European Commission, the Council of the European Union and the extraordinary and committee sessions of the European Parliament.

subsequent investigation uncovered widespread graft within Belgium’s two socialist parties.

Prince Pedro Luiz of Orléans-Bragança (12 January 1983 - 1 June 2009) was the son of Prince António of Orléans-Bragança, and was third in the line of succession to the former Brazilian throne, abolished in 1889. House Orléans-Bragança

Main article: Proclamation of the Republic

A few moments after signing the Golden Law, Princess Isabel is greeted from the central balcony of the City Palace by a huge crowd below in the street The nation enjoyed considerable international prestige during the final years of the Empire[102] and had become an emerging power in the international arena. While Pedro II was receiving medical treatment in Europe, the parliament passed, and Princess Isabel signed on 13 May 1888, the Golden Law, which completely abolished slavery in Brazil.[103] Predictions of economic and labor disruption caused by the abolition of slavery proved to be unfounded.[104] Nonetheless, the end of slavery was the final blow to any remaining belief in the crown’s neutrality, and this resulted in an explicit shift of support to Republicanism by the ultraconservatives[105]- themselves backed by rich and powerful coffee farmers who held great political, economic and social power in the country.[106]

To avert a republican backlash, the government exploited the credit readily available to Brazil as a result of its prosperity to fuel further development. The government extended massive loans at favorable interest rates to plantation owners and lavishly granted titles and lesser honors to curry favor with influential political figures who had become disaffected.[107] The government also indirectly began to address the problem of the recalcitrant military by revitalizing the moribund National Guard, by then an entity which existed mostly only on paper.

The measures taken by the government alarmed civilian republicans and the positivists in the military. The republicans saw that it would undercut support for their own aims, and were emboldened to further action.[100] The reorganization of the National Guard was begun by the cabinet in August 1889, and the creation of a rival force caused the dissidents among the officer corps to consider desperate measures.[109] For both groups, republicans and military, it had become a case of “now or never”.[110] Although there was no desire among the majority of Brazilians to change the country’s form of government,[111] republicans began pressuring army officers to overthrow the monarchy.

They launched a coup and instituted the republic on 15 November 1889.[113] The few people who witnessed what occurred did not realize that it was a rebellion.

Historian Lídia Besouchet noted that, “[r]arely has a revolution been so minor.”[116] Throughout the coup Pedro II showed no emotion, as if unconcerned about the outcome.[117] He dismissed all suggestions put forward by politicians and military leaders for quelling the rebellion.[118] The Emperor and his family were sent into exile on 17 NOVEMBER.

Although there was significant monarchist reaction after the fall of the Empire, this was thoroughly suppressed,[120] and neither Pedro II nor his daughter supported a restoration.[121] Despite being unaware of the plans for a coup, once it occurred and in light of the Emperor’s passive acceptance of the situation, the political establishment supported the end of the monarchy in favor of a republic. They were unaware that the goal of the coup leaders was the creation of a dictatorial republic rather than a presidential or parliamentary republic.

John Foster Dulles and the Dulles Brothers as CIA and State Dept. overthrow of communism. February 25, 1888 - May 24, 1959) was an American diplomat, lawyer, and Republican politician. He served as United States Secretary of State under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1959 and was briefly a U.S. Senator for New York in 1949. He was a significant figure in the early Cold War era, advocating an aggressive stance against communism throughout the world.

Early Life

Born in Washington, D.C., he was one of five children and the eldest son born to Presbyterian minister Allen Macy Dulles and his wife, Edith (née Foster). His paternal grandfather, John Welsh Dulles, had been a Presbyterian missionary in India. His maternal grandfather, John W. Foster, had been Secretary of State under Benjamin Harrison, and doted on Dulles and his brother Allen, who would later become the director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The brothers attended public schools in Watertown, New York and spent summers with their maternal grandfather in nearby Henderson Harbor.

Disposition Matrix

It is my belief acts from people like Jim Vockelcka buying or shopping for size 13 [militia] boots and guns in my name, as me, and peeping at tots, in my name, put me on the kill lists the CIA and NDAA use, and that is more a matter of getting rid of me as cleanup of CIA having misused my DNA, now both claiming it and assaulting it at the same time, by destructive claims about my constructive behaviors, laying the predicates for seizure of me DNA and destruction of my living conditions and normal life.

I am a loose end to what the CIA DARPA have done with my DNA and as they use my “sample dna up completely” as their own property and I live out the final years of my life I have been disposed of property and my DNA seized.

Wherever I would be a normal person becomes the peeping victim of a dopple of me poisoning my access to the environment.

I think Austin psych eval too, the blonde psych evaluator was probably sexual objectified or peeped at by the black person from skid row receiving from the prison library the books on Plato, others, I had been requesting but black Texas corrections officers made a big show of delivering to the cell of black inmates INSTEAD me me as taunt of me.

That blonde psych evaluator tanked me, I did not get transported to the hearing, and likely a black took some creepy picture of her, which built in her mind I was a peeper, or some other activity like that which is the ususal in USA legal system.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Disposition_Matrix

The Disposition Matrix, informally known as a kill list, is a database of information for tracking, capturing, “rendering”, or killing suspected enemies of the United States.[1] Developed by the Obama administration beginning in 2010, it goes beyond existing kill lists and is intended to become a permanent fixture of U.S. policy.[1] The process determining criteria for killing is not public and was heavily shaped by National Counter terrorism Director and former Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) Director John O. Brennan.[2]

Though White House, National Counter terrorism Center (NCTC), and CIA spokespeople have declined to comment on the database, officials have stated privately that kill lists will expand “for at least another decade”, if not indefinitely. One official stated “it’s a necessary part of what we do”.[1] Paul R. Pillar, the former deputy director of the CIA’s counterterrorism center, has stated, “We are looking at something that is potentially indefinite”.[1]

The database’s existence was revealed in a three-part series published by The Washington Post newspaper.

From the 200 Material Witness section, witnesses to "stalking" and what it is.

A very short sentence summarizing the information below follows.

> Stalking occurs when people who will not identify themselves display hyper intimate knowledge of you, say, what you privately did elsewhere or elsewhere, and in some way interactional play on that though under some kind of insulator cover, such as if you are talking in your home and later a stranger refers to that in public, though the stranger pretends that is only a con-incidence because she was talking her friend right next to you and her and her statement though in your vicinity was not related to you and not an act of stalking.

Judge MacArthy Roll asked US Marshalls protection be stopped and he reported US Marshalls protection as “unsettling.”

As a stalking victim I have asked FBI and others how to effectively log and report stalking. The best information I found on this topic has been from internet available sources and is below.

In my case throaty engines and motorcycle reving “punctuating” and word associated with stalked topics are part of the stalk, though the stalking invovles hyperfocus on issues not out of the norm except for their “Americna Booksellers” esque obsession with certain things, like the stalkers obessession with female buttocks, their not mine, peeping and public masturbating, etc.,

The stalker acts try to (by creating an investigation, the appearance of an investigation, or the appearance of retaliation against a person) create a public perception of a crime which either does not exist, or if it does exist, for which they the police are the culprit dressed as me, though law enforcement.

The “Psyist” creation of me as a suspect by the treatment of me, without an allegation against me, by innuendo only ties me to the crimes of a lurid police and the pretext for police actions.

Hyperintimacy

The stalkers knows more about the stalked that expected and displays that.

Mediated contact

Will have contact while acting under a cover story (a “legend” and with a false back story) such as a working in an establishment you are at, or through some other system of insert into a stalking victim’s vicinity or environment.

(Aggressive and hostile position maintained by subterfuge failing to concretely identify themselves or motives or reason for stalk impeding response and proof of stalk.

Interactional contact

(In my case blacks and non whites accuse me of pedophilia or teen phelia and peeping tom activity by disgustingly sexualizing alleged victims during my activities and police deny to me I an being stalked. During the course of the stalk ghetto non whites will make vague statements about “liking my watermelons and how big they are or my cookies and how they will have my baby, no further explanation though some have said I owe for teens and tots being near me and “I wanted it.” The Zoom photographer who will victimize the exploitable female is the peeper)

Surveillance

Use of surveillance data on me such as knowing I ordered an amazon weigh bar in the privacy of my home allows evidence manufacture in public I was led to that idea by a stalker, thus the stalker creating a visual appearance of being a helper to me rather than a Shiill and stlaker)

Invasion

Using Building Super and rental staff to facility break ins, evidence plants, physical and sexual assaults and robberies from neighbors and mail theft.

Harassment or intimidation, Forced Teaming with unwanted association

Frequent death threats on the basis I DID photograph the exploitable victim though a shill working with the other shills did, death threats on my filming the entire scene of then faking the exploitation of the teen or tot, police threats of mental health detention for thinking these stalkers are in any way tied to me)

“Dabbing” or “Cohorting” has been used with me. While I am actually in the dark of why call girls seem to be visiting those around me or who the parties are or what they are doing the males will often bang the wall in between seperate apartments or hotel rooms as if to say “we are getting started now together” through the banging on the shared wall.

Similarly blacks or gay scam artist who wrongfully have knowledge of anything I am doing inside my apartment will bang or knock on my door as though we are doing things together, we are doing things together, when we are not. The cover story of why the Ethiopian maid shows up as I am typing something intelligent is both psychological inflammatory to me as well as their pretending of involvement of my own independent work.

E.G. “Pork Chop” of Casa Linda and Donald who assaulted me was I was emailing Sarah Tonin, and these will be a class of witnesses themselves.)

I have requested an expungment of my record so i can obtain a shotgun and clear my front door outdoor side or patio from harassing assailants, including roaring engines.

The stalking system of Information Doppelganger is to make the person being Doppled appear and act paranoid for reporting the stalking.

Below is from Book 1 EPD V US

Doppelgangers of Edward Paul Donegan, not the REAL Edward Paul Donegan

The Information Paradox

If an Information Doppelganger (criminal impersonator of a person) recieves all communications intended for the real person, and speaks for the real person, is the black-holed person even in existence?

Everyone surrounding me who has ever known me has been murdered, payed off, or more likely both. Ever in my life and this effect has been in the last fifteen years. Not a sinle person will communicate with me, directly, ever, I am incommunicado and stalked, though Doppelgangers are all over the place crowsing paths with me.

In Russia

Here is how the Russian Military designed Doppelganger PsyOps

> Military commanders are prime targets of Reflexive Control. This method, as defined by Timothy Thomas is “a means of conveying to a partner or an opponent specially prepared information to incline him to voluntarily make the predetermined decision desired by the initiator of the action.” This aspect of Soviet military doctrine is based on three pillars: (1) influencing the enemy commander’s perception of the situation, (2) shaping their mission objectives and planning procedures, and (3) impairing effective decision-making processes. The idea being, if one can indirectly control the enemy military commander’s decision-making process, then the aggregate effect is control over their troops and the combat environment. To influence an opponent, however, it first requires developing a comprehensive understanding of the target’s deductive decision making processes and constructing an Information Doppelgänger to mislead the target

The US voting public are prime targets of Reflexive Control. This method, as defined by Timothy Thomas is “a means of conveying to a partner or an opponent specially prepared information to incline him to voluntarily make the predetermined decision desired by the initiator of the action.” This aspect of United States military doctrine is based on three pillars: (1) influencing the VOTING PUBLIC’s perception of the situation (Edward Paul Donegan), (2) shaping their mission objectives and planning procedures, and (3) impairing voter’s effective decision-making processes. The idea being, if one can indirectly control the PUBLIC’s decision-making process, then the aggregate effect is control over the PUBLIC and the POLITICAL environment. To influence THE PUBLIC, however, it first requires developing a comprehensive understanding of the target’s deductive decision making processes and constructing an Information Doppelgänger to mislead the target

The public hates sex predators so DOD PsyOps are raping, killing, and more to framing actual Edward Paul Donegan, and DOPPELGANGER DONEGAN as a sex predator.

Further, reports of the Doppelgänger is claimed paranoia of Edward Paul Donegan and the psychological harassment of stalking by doubles was the play The Black Swan.

The gang stalk ad the crime gang are one and the same and surround the victim. The Gang is the Ganstalk, and the Gangstalk is the State, law enforcement, engaging in acts to be blamed on the stalked person, though behind the stalked person’s back in social sabotoage.

Also from Russian inteligence this is called KOMPROMT. Intelligence agency creating the APPEARANCE of compromising information about a person, but substituting themselves to confess as they were in the area at at the same time (as the zoom photographer.)

I also call the Element A and Element B. At one location, element of the crime A, cop from the gangstalk photographs a womans buttocks.

At element B of the crime, in some other location, the cop who was near me and dressed as me will confess as me that he (I) took a picture, and of course my trust fund will create a settlement for the victim of the photograph.

The Information Doppelgänger in Psychological Warfare including Conspiracy Against the Rights of law abiding citizens through pretexts for State and mob actions

https://www.realcleardefense.com/articles/2017/01/13/the_information_doppelgnger_in_psychological_warfare_110633.html

Doppelgangers can serve a variety of purposes. They can frame innocent people as part of infiltration and murder based covert operations, be used to obtain FISA other warrants for the purpose of Espionage Under False Writ or Order, variously called False Legal Prescription for Abuse of Proccess.

Much like braking a tail light, a cop gets an excuse to surveil someone on prurient, political, or non-race neutral grounds because of the acts of the double, not the real individual.

Also the real individual is judged by the double, not himself, especially when and as if in FISA court proceedings where the targeted person is not there to dispel any association with the acts of the double.

Finally, Information Doubles create “information” coming from the double to others which is intended to be mistaken as information from or about the real person, thus the recipient of the information has been duped by Psychological Warfare.

Here is a more thorough look at what an Information Doppelganger can accomplish.

- Provide misinformation, false statements, false agreements, false impressions, fake introductions, or falsified disavowals to others the real person would not have provided.

- Receive or confer benefits which otherwise would be accrued to the real person such as property in the case of racketeering or opportunities which can be gained from Identity Theft. When a person engages in impersonating someone else and through impersonation of someone else accrues a liability onto the real person the impersonation is criminal.

- Intercept or assume communications from others intended for the real person. Deny an impersonated imperson Due Process or other process protections by subsuming the identity of the real person as their own and proceeding under false personhood. Hijack communications (especially electronically) leaving one person incommunicado and the Information Doppelganger communicating disinformation.

- Be the tool of State sanctioned rape, murder, espionage, assassination, conducted in broad daylight and with State powers with no fear among the perpetrators of retaliation by the State.

- Be a tool of creating PsyOps plant stories of things which never occurred for the purpose of deceiving and manipulating the public and public opinion.

- Be a tool of Criminal Harassment Under COlor of Law if conducted through medicine or law enforcement, those with detention and other professional powers and status such as restraint. Creating hostile private environments through conspiracies against rights is criminal under many national laws including 18 USC §241, 18 § 242, 18 USC § 246 which protect against conspiracies against rights and include the death penalty when severity such as medical damage or injury, religious rights, or births of denial of children or reproductive rights occur.

These are powerful tools for Espionage and I am a card carrying Libertarian who had to quite writing about Natural Law Philosophy and Ayn Rand Libertarian Objectivism because of military espionage and sabotage of me.

As in the article below, a target population like the Fetlife community can be studied by PsyOps to see what fears, biases, or predilections the community has about others, then, through Information Doppelgangers, impersonates the targeted person as being the person despised by the community, thus causing a “rejection reflex” from the community, creating hostility towards the innocent targeted (impersonated) person.

Below are some excerpts

Overall, false information campaigns - to include the use of an Information Doppelgänger - are part and parcel of achieving information superiority over an adversary. And as the effects of psychological warfare become more pronounced in our digital Information Age, the concept of an Information Doppelgänger is an excellent teaching device for educating others about Reflexive Control. Thus, whether you are a civilian or member of the armed services, Dostoyevsky has much to teach us about ourselves; for as he sagely wrote, as “profound as psychology is, it’s a knife that cuts both ways.”

Appendix 20. what is predatory cointelpro gang stalking? (with recommended reading) by Eric Karlstrom | on October 21, 2017 | 0 comments | in CIA Coupons &Secret Wars - Articles | Like it ETK Introduction

The following excellent summary articles come from the websites- www.fightgangstalking.com, https://gangstalking.wordpress.com/faq/, and http://www.whale.to/c/predatory_gangstalking.html. Information in these articles corroborates, supplements, and extends information that I posted on this site in my January 21, 2015 post entitled Appendix 9. “Gang Stalking:” Organized and Electronic Targeting the “Domestic Enemy.” Notes from Books, utube Presentations, and Blogs.”

This subject is extremely important and is so poorly understood and recognized by the public that I want to make this material available here. I also recommend that those interested in learning more about this subject visit these and other websites because they also include many excellent graphics, YouTube films, resources, etc.

The author of the first article below is a former security/intelligence officer who makes the important point that the term “gang stalking” may itself be a disinformation term invented by the intelligence agencies that conduct these covert, criminal, “counter-terrorism” programs in order to “neutralize” and/or destroy the innocent civilians whom they target. The more accurate term for this kind of unconstitutional and criminal activity, according to the author, is “counterintelligence stalking.”

“Gang Stalking” is, very likely, a disinformation term created by U.S. intelligence agencies. It refers to the intense, long-term, unconstitutional surveillance and harassment of a person who has been designated as a target by someone associated with America’s security industry.

Such operations have nothing to do with criminal gangs. Official domestic counterintelligence operations of this type are - apparently - perpetrated by federal agents and contractors, sometimes with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. The goal of such operations - in the parlance of counterintelligence agents - is to “subvert” or “neutralize” an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be “counterintelligence stalking.”

Very often when a government official or business or church is guilty but powerful the Slander Campaign of Assets defaming a victim allow the victim to be silenced rather than believed.

The narratitve the Slander follows will fit the narrative the powerfull corrupt officials need to be true if the corruption is to be hidden from the public.

> Comrade Squad Leader Donegan https://twitter.com/EddoneganB @EddoneganB @FionaRuthHalib1 A pattern to #MilitaryIntelligence #MI5 #MI6 #OSS #FreeMasons #NWO style is to try and find anyway to bump you out of something you are tied to (address, clothing, social media account, location physically) and once they take it over, act as they CLAIM you acted.

“Why, what’s the meaning of it?” he thought with vexation.

“Why have I really gone out of my mind, or what?” -Yakov Petrovich Golyadkin

The Double centers on a government clerk who goes mad. It deals with the internal psychological struggle of its main character, Yakov Petrovich Golyadkin, who repeatedly encounters someone who is his exact double in appearance but confident, aggressive, and extroverted, characteristics that are the polar opposites to those of the toadying “pushover” protagonist. The motif of the novella is a doppelgänger (dvoynik). https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Double_(Dostoevsky_novel)

(In my case, Edward Paul Donegan, I am confident and normally behaved but the Double is a naive peeping tom, Gullible, a “Gull” who peeped and payup with MY bone marrow when HE is confronted for the peeping HE did at the women near both of us.)

Utilizing Psychiatry to dismiss the reports of the Doppelgänger made by the Doppled person

Heautoscopy is a term used in psychiatry and neurology for the hallucination of “seeing one’s own body at a distance”.[24] It can occur as a symptom in schizophrenia[25] and epilepsy, and is considered a possible explanation for doppelgänger phenomena.

Thus, a person who has Borderline Personality Disorder can be called a Psychotic for his or her reports of the Doppelgänger and the RICO organization. In fact a ‘fapper’ who stole my phone called himself Sovereign RICO, and one other black male called himself Rico, thus in their actions alleging I anthropomorphise schizophrenically and my report of police backed RICO are evidence I am insane.

Thus the State dismissive my complaints and I and Veronica Hoffman have been institutionalized over out unproven allegations against others.

The Russian military’s conception of psychological operations is eerily similar to Fyodor Mikhailovich Dostoyevsky’s 1866 novella, The Double. In fact, this story is an insightful teaching device for anyone who wishes to understand Reflexive Control.

(In my case, Edward Paul Donegan, blacks are gays are trying to warn white women away from Edward Pauld Donegan based on manufactured allegations and alleged behaviors of Edward Paul Donegan.)

The idea being, if one can indirectly control the enemy military commander's decision-making process, then the aggregate effect is control over their troops and the combat environment. To influence an opponent, however, it first requires developing a comprehensive understanding of the target's deductive decision making processes and constructing an Information Doppelgänger to mislead the target: "In warfare control of an opponent's actions is achieved by deluding him as to one's own intentions, capability, state, and actions of troops and concealment of their actual position[.]"

My belief is the MKULTRA Birtherism Deep State of Obama black nationalist birtherism has been successful in "targeting me" with brainwashing and interrogation techniques the Defense Intelligence Agency in behavioral psychology uses for interrogations, psychological harassment, psychological warfare, and cyber warfare.

The presence of the Doppelgangers piggybacks any of my normal acts with their acts of perversity and sex trafficking, and piggy backing that to me becomes the manufactured pretext for them and others to assault me, my property, and to also create a protection racket criminally harassing my in public and preventing normal life in public.

The provcations and fight picking with Tom Dunham, who also had a teen trafficking ring pasted onto his normal life also provoked fights and retaliation against him, drawing him in to years of public fighting aginast vauge public appearances and unspoken (to him) rumor mongering about him. As he complained about SelectQuote, his employer, participating in it they attempted to stop his web site usage of the SelectQuote trademark name, taking down Tom Dunham’s public outcry against the frame jobs against him.

A successfull BS Mechanical Engineer working a whole vertical webdev expertise for the SelectQuote basic business functions (scanning web for similar insurance quotes, then creating one online) was the main function of SelectQuote and it was Tom Dunham’s web engine he created and secured. LIke me he worked with Dept of Treasury on security issues, etc., and reported anythig ever out of line in anyway including publicly.

Still, gang stalkers represented him as a lunatic in a psych ward, inferior to his stalkers.

Tom Dunham and I have had key plants outside, as though we are sharing keys or codes with others, breakins and evidence plants with landlords cooperating with law enforcement in law enforcement’s doing so, etc., THe result of all this is it seems Tom Dunham and I are trafficking and peepers, not the cops. But it IS the cops, not us. Cops found it they could sign away my DNA if they got caught peeping, caught while dressed as me.

Better, and maybe the point, that expains why my DNA is in non whites already and continuing.

“Why This?” is a theme of this book. MKULTRA needs to continue to get genes rights because Sidney Gottlieb never had them in the first place, not now, and not in 1961.

My motel room door as I found it after I went out excersizing, leaving the room unattended, in Austin with my bike at the park. Blacks took over the front desk and solicited in rooms near me and were likely caught by dominatrixes having child porn pictures from the Lady Bird Lake park and then signed my genome way as though me.

Meth or crack paraphenalie outside my open door, a trash can inside the door, and Lori Cox City of Oakland CALIFORNIA, black, social services worker in Austin Texas, hotel receipt used to clean an amphetamine pipe with. Looks like a public record Meth arrest of her at a rave in Texas too.

It is also my belief this is carried out through US Marhsalls, FBI contractors, and others in psychological operations against people like myself such Green Beret Randal (Randy) Weaver as well as my father and mother, mere continuing victims of illegal use of their DNA for MKULTRA in the 1960s.

Some of this is covered in Book 1 US v EPD, other parts of it in this book, but PsyOps and Psyist highly connected government aggressors have targeted me for psychological warfar and assaults, using further assaults upon me in public to place the blame on me for the original assaults upon me, and then targeting my reaction to their assaults of me as my aggression or bipolarity.

Use of Hotbuttons against me and Glorian Donegan

Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.

Veronica Hoffman and I have reported these attacks organized by the police to the police, but as with Tom Dunham and the reaction we got, we were just stygmatized by hostile parties who were conducting the attacks, they creating online charactatures of Tom Dunham and myself in psych prisons, etc.,

I try to stay in my highest legal ground, my home, but this legal high ground is not protected enough and assaults continue in them, which has been a problem for no one at all other than me.

It is both state and media sanctioned attacks upon me lasting decades as withing the course of law Tom Dunham have fought back intelligently, within the law, and as sophisticated white collar executives and engineers using the tools of our trade ssuch as web sites and social media to document the PsyOps unprovoked aggression against us.

This COINTELRP PsyOps is creating a Legend" I am OK with DNA being used for designer babies, gays, and black babies, because of an alleged pedo network he and are in, when in fact none of that is true but manufactured Cyber Warfare coverstory pretext for what is the illegal use of my and my families DNA.

Thus I have used important years of my life to stay safe in my apartment and discover the Means, Motives, and Opportunities criminal aggressors have had in their attacks upon me and others and my years of research have found the answer in MKULTRA Birtherism.

These government behavior psychologist have been able to tank my psch evals and harass me in a scheme of things known to deeply offend me, offend me through Gang Stalk and even death threats committed under cover stories like my stalkers, next to me, were just talking to the dog next to me.

I believe some of these techniques (including murder) were used on my father and I am certain these techniques were used on my mother.

#1 REBUTTAL Owner of company

X-File? How About Conviction Records? AUTHOR: Tom Dunham - (United States of America) SUBMITTED: Thursday, May 17, 2012

The mentally challenged person posting as Tom Dunham from New York in the second rebuttal is obviously not me. He gives how to get a police report, which is not a conviction. Not to mention, this person is having trouble distinguishing between a TV show and real law enforcement.

Perhaps in his fantasy world Agent Scully brought Tomas Dumas Dunham (not my name) down for God knows what, but here in the real world if I were an ex-felon anyone would be able to look that up. Again, this is the sort of person that defends SelectQuote Insurance.

Clearly, my website, http://www.selectquotereview.com, is factual and to the point. As you see here, SelectQuote’s cronies are willing to lie. Once caught in their lies, they attempt to wriggle away by posting nonsense using my name. Is there any doubt that I’m the one whose been telling the truth all along?

#3 REBUTTAL Owner of company

Let’s See the Conviction!

It is clear that this report (of Tom Dunham a criminal and pscyho) is a fabrication. The continued campaign of false information by SelectQuote just adds credence to my story. Similar false statements were posted by multiple fake accounts opened in my name.

Crews of burglars publicly smashing their way into Los Angeles' most exclusive stores. Robbers following their victims, including a star of "The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills" and a BET host, to their residences. And this week, the fatal shooting of 81-year-old Jacqueline Avant, an admired philanthropist and wife of music legend Clarence Avant, in her Beverly Hills home.

After two years of rising violent crime in Los Angeles, these incidents have sparked a national conversation and led to local concern about both the crimes themselves and where the outrage over the violence will lead.

"The fact that this has happened, her being shot and killed in her own home, after giving, sharing, and caring for 81 years has shaken the laws of the Universe," declared Oprah Winfrey, expressing her grief over Avant's killing to her 43 million Twitter followers. "The world is upside down."

While overall city crime rates remain far below records set during the notorious gang wars of the 1990s, violent crime has jumped sharply in L.A., as it has in other cities. Much of the violence has occurred in poor communities and among vulnerable populations, such as the homeless, and receives little attention.

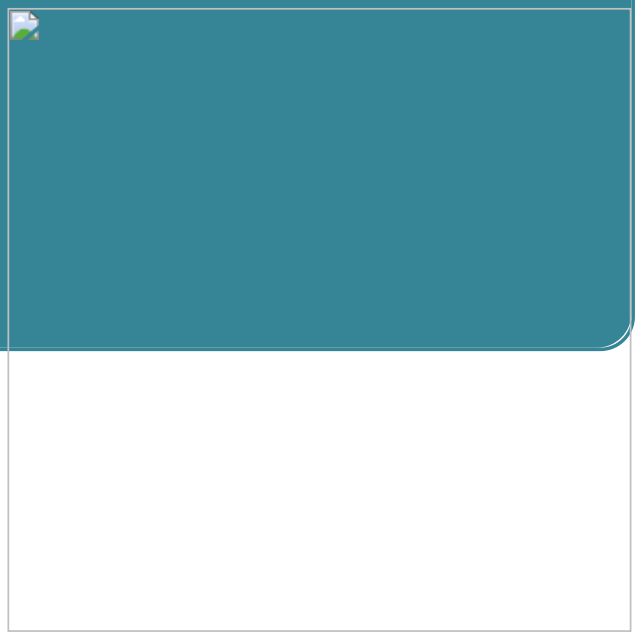
Death of Vishal Mehrotra retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Vishal Mehrotra was walking home from watching the royal wedding parade in 1981 when he disappeared< - BBC.com



Vishal Mehrotra was born in India on 27 September 1972, and emigrated to the United Kingdom with his family in 1978.[3] His father, Vishambar Mehrotra, was a solicitor at the time of the disappearance[3] and is now a retired magistrate.[4][5] His mother, Aruna Mehrotra, had separated from her husband in 1976 and had moved back to India to manage a jewellery business at the time of the disappearance.[3] The family lived on Holmbush Road, Putney, South London.[3] Vishal had a younger sister, who was named Mamta. The children also had a live-in nanny, Joannita Carvalho.

Vishal was described as bright and independent, with an open, friendly personality. He travelled to his school every day on his own.

Vishal Mehrotra (27 September 1972[1] – probably after or on 29 July 1981) was an eight-year-old boy who was abducted from Putney, London, England, United Kingdom, on 29 July 1981.[2] The child's partial remains were discovered 25 FEBRUARY 1982 on an isolated farm in Sussex. The killers were never identified and no one has ever been charged with the murder.

On 29 July 1981, the day of the wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer, the Mehrotra family took the train into London in order to watch the wedding from the window of Vishambar's workplace. They then took the train back to East Putney, where they arrived around 1:40 PM. Vishambar was tired and went directly home, leaving his son and daughter with Carvalho. He gave each of them 20p to buy sweets.

?Initially it was thought that Vishal could have tried to travel to India, though his family doubted this, and this line of inquiry was investigated by Interpol.[3] Police additionally investigated the possibility that the boy had been abducted by a racist gang.[1] Between the disappearance and the discovery of the body the police investigated hundreds of sightings and interviewed over 14,000 people.

On 25 February 1982 two men, who were shooting pigeons, discovered a skull, seven rib bones and a section of vertebrae at Alder Copse, Durleigh Marsh Farm, Rogate, near Petersfield.[3] The bones appeared to have been disturbed by foxes and were found buried in a bog at a depth of around two feet.

Killing of JonBenét Ramsey - Felix Rodriguez / Cali /Caliveras Cartel at work?

JonBenét Patricia Ramsey (AUGUST 6, 1990 - December 25 or 26, 1996)[1] was an American child beauty queen who was killed at the age of six in her family’s home in Boulder, Colorado.

A photo of JonBenét Ramsey has been making its rounds due to what looks like Ghislaine Maxwell to the left of her.

JonBenét Ramsey case is still unsolved. If it is Ghislane will we finally know the truth? pic.twitter.com/TzQtjywKLx

- unspoken history (@Unspokenhistory) JULY 6, 2020

One theory is that Patsy struck JonBenét in a fit of rage after a bedwetting episode, and strangled her to cover up what had happened, after mistakenly thinking she was already dead.[31][62] However, Patsy did not have a known history of uncontrolled anger.

Boulder County District Attorney Mary Lacy said new DNA tests point to an “unexplained third party” as possibly responsible for the killing. Modern “touch DNA” suggests that a male of Hispanic origin (per updates on DNA and DNA found under JonBenét’s fingernails two weeks after the murder, which Hunter had access to) left traces on two separate clothing articles: the undergarment panties and leggings. The official exoneration was done against normal practice, and the Boulder police have still not cleared them.

Patsy and JobBenet Ramsey

John Ramsey was a businessman who was the president of Access Graphics, a computer software company that later became a subsidiary of Lockheed Martin. His first marriage ended in divorce in 1978. John’s two surviving adult children (a son and a daughter) lived elsewhere.[16] In 1991, John had moved with his second wife and family to Boulder, where Access Graphics’ headquarters was located.

Ramsey crowned “Miss West Virginia” in 1977. Patsy Ramsey died of Overian Cancer and her daughter was murdered with a brain killing blow to the head Numerology dog whistle? Her daughter JonBenét disappeared on the morning after Christmas Day 1996. A lengthy ransom note claimed that she had been kidnapped, demanding $118,000 could become 11/18 in some way? Zodiac cypher?

Patsy Ramsey entered JonBenét in various child beauty pageants in Boulder, where she won the titles of America’s Royale Miss, Little Miss Charlevoix, Little Miss Colorado, Colorado State All-Star Kids Cover Girl, and National Tiny Miss Beauty.[18] JonBenét's active role in child beauty pageants and Patsy's reported "pageant mother" behavior were reported by the media after the murder.

In the summer of 1997-approximately six months after JonBenét's death-the Ramseys moved to a new home in Atlanta after a summer at their vacation retreat in Charlevoix, Michigan.[19] Patsy died of ovarian cancer at age 49 in 2006; she was interred next to her daughter.[20]

She had sustained a broken skull from a blow to the head and had been strangled; a garrote was found tied around her neck. The autopsy report stated that JonBenét's official cause of death was "asphyxia by strangulation associated with craniocerebral trauma". Her death was ruled a homicide. The case generated nationwide public and media interest, in part because her mother Patsy Ramsey (herself a former beauty queen) had entered JonBenét into a series of child beauty pageants. The crime is still unsolved and remains an open investigation with the Boulder Police Department.

I n 2002, the DA's successor took over investigation of the case from the police and primarily pursued the theory that an intruder had committed the killing. In 2003, trace DNA that was taken from the victim's clothes was found to belong to an unknown male; each of the family's DNA had been excluded from this match. The DA sent the Ramseys a letter of apology in 2008, declaring the family was "completely cleared" by the DNA results. Others, including former Boulder police chief Mark Beckner, disagreed with exonerating the Ramseys, characterizing the DNA as a small piece of evidence that was not proven to have any connection to the crime.[8]:11 In February 2009, the Boulder police took the case back from the DA and reopened the investigation.

Urologist on JonBenét Ramsey Bedwetting Theory: "Not Shocking" retrieved from By Steve Hodges, M.D. BedwettingAccidents.com and copied or modified to here

Was JonBenét Ramsey killed because she wet the bed?

That apparently is a theory that police investigated following the tragic death of 6-year-old JonBenét at her home in 1996. According to a retired FBI profiler, bedwetting was a “nightly occurrence” with JonBenét. On the night she was killed, police theorized, Patsy Ramsey became so enraged that her daughter wet the bed again that she struck JonBenét, accidentally killing her.

Media outlets have called the theory “shocking.” I have no idea whether the theory has merit in JonBenét case, but as a pediatric urologist who specializes in bedwetting, I am not remotely shocked.

Bedwetting and toileting accidents are a leading cause of child abuse. I have a large collection of news reports on abuse cases related to bedwetting - children beaten, starved, or forced to sit in a chair all day, sleep in a bathtub, sit on an electric burner, stand for hours on an “X” on the kitchen floor.

These cases are extreme, but parental frustration is a very common response to bed-wetting because there is a poor understanding - among parents, therapists, and even among some physicians - about what causes accidents in children.

The parents did not have history of anger regarding bed wetting but if she were beginning to show signs of developing slowly and the FOXP2 Syndrome she may have been murdered to coverup that gene and Aerospace researching it.

Connecticut Massacre Blamed On Son Of Top CIA Analyst retrieved from What does it mean? and copied or modified to here

A grim Federal Security Services (FSB) security memorandum circulating in the Kremlin today is reporting that the man, Adam Lanza [photo 2nd left], believed responsible for the horrific massacre of 20 children and 6 adults yesterday was the son of one of the Central Intelligence Agencies (CIA) top psychological analysts who was assigned to a Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) project which developed the sub-hunting simulator video game Dangerous Waters.

According to FSB analysts in this memorandum, Adam Lanza attacked the Sandy Hook primary education school in the Connecticut County of Fairfield, known as the "hedge fund ghetto" due to its being one of the wealthiest counties in the United States, where he killed school officials and an entire class of children Russian intelligence experts believe were a part of a DARPA "experiment" being oversaw by his mother Nancy Champion Lanza.

The total death count from this massacre is 28 as it, also, includes both Adam Lanza and his mother.

Though initial US news reports claimed Nancy Champion Lanza was a teacher at the Sandy Hook school, this report states this information is not true, and which has been confirmed by local school authorities, including Lillian Bittman, who served on the local school board until 2011, who stated, "No one has heard of her, teachers don't know her."

Russian intelligence files on Nancy Champion Lanza, however, say she lived the majority of her life in and around what is known as the Merrimack Valley Region of Massachusetts and New Hampshire and that the weapons used in this massacre, said to be owned by her, are standard CIA issue. US news reports are further stating that her brother, James Champion, a retired Kingston, police officer, is currently being questioned by the FBI.

In early 2009, this report continues, Nancy Champion Lanza relocated to Connecticut as the DARPA projects she was assigned to have their headquarters at the Naval Submarine Base New London in Groton.

Important to note is that the FSB received an extensive file on CIA and DARPA video game projects from Iranian intelligence officials after the August, 2011 arrest of CIA agent Amir Mirza Hekmati.

In a video confession to Iranian intelligence officials, Amir Mirzaei Hekmati, a former US Marine of Iranian descent, confessed to a career in American intelligence that included a stint at a video game company in New York that he said was "a cover for the CIA."

According to an English translation of the report published by The Tehran Times, an Iranian state-run newspaper, about one-third of the way through the report, Hekmati said he had worked for DARPA, after he left the Marine Corps in 2005.

Then, Hekmati said in Persian: “After DARPA I was recruited by Kuma Games Company, a computer games company which received money from CIA to design and make special films and computer games to change the public opinion’s mindset in the Middle East and distribute them among Middle East residents free of charge. The goal of Kuma Games was to convince the people of the world andIraq that what the U.S does in Iraq and other countries is good and acceptable.”

Hekmati further added: “The head of Kuma called me and said, ‘I have received your resume from DARPA, and we have a program in which you can help us.’ ” Kuma, Hekmati explained, “was also a cover for the CIA. and only the chief of company knows that you’re working with the agency.”

The FSB notes in this report that Russia, too, has experienced the grim aftereffects of violent Western video games naming the November 2012 workplace rampage that left 6 dead in Moscow and prompted authorities to begin the process of outright banning them in the Motherland as numerous research studies have linked them to violence and mass killings.

Perhaps most shocking in this report are FSB analysts stating that this latest massacre “could very well have been” a “retaliation” after the failed mass shooting in Portland, Oregon earlier in the week, and as we reported on in our report titled “US Military Sniper Stops Portland Mall Massacre”.

As we have detailed in many previous reports, the ongoing war between those factions loyal to President Obama, opposed to those aligned with the US Military and intelligence agencies, is taking an ever growing toll upon the American public and with this latest massacre shows no signs of abating.

Sadly, but always the case, the American people will be the last to know the truth of these matters as the popular US dissident website Infowars.com is already reporting that the news of this latest massacre is already being “changed and censored” to protect those who are really to blame.

James Howard Marshall II retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

J. Howard Marshall, II at 49 years old in 1954.

The Koch company was founded by its namesake, Fred C. Koch, in 1940 after he developed an innovative crude oil refining process. Fred C. Koch died in 1967 and his majority interest in the company was split amongst his four sons. In June 1983, after a bitter legal and boardroom battle, the stakes of Frederick R. Koch and William "Bill" Koch were bought out for $1.1 billion and Charles Koch and David Koch became majority owners in the company. Charles owns 42% of the company; trusts for the benefit of Elaine Tettemer Marshall (the daughter in-law of J. Howard Marshall) and Elaine's children, Preston Marshall and E. Pierce Marshall Jr., own 16% of the company. The heirs of David Koch, who died on August 23, 2019, own the balance, 42%, of the corporation.

James Howard Marshall II (January 24, 1905 - AUGUST 4, 1995) was an American billionaire businessman, academic, lawyer, and government official. He was involved with and invested in the petroleum industry via academic, government and commercial endeavors. He owned 16% of Koch Industries. Marshall was married to model and celebrity Anna Nicole Smith during the last 14 months of his life. His estate became the subject of protracted litigation, which was reviewed by the Supreme Court in Marshall v. Marshall and Stern v. Marshall. The court kept the will and testament intact and substantially all of the assets in Marshall's estate wound up in trusts for the benefit of his daughter-in-law, Elaine Tettemer Marshall, and her family.

In 1933, Marshall left Yale to become the Assistant Solicitor at the Department of the Interior under Harold L. Ickes. He authored the Code of Fair Competition for the Petroleum Industry (1933), and the Connally Hot Oil Act of 1935 after the Supreme Court's decision to strike down the National Industrial Recovery Act. It revived legislation that regulated the flow of oil between states to protect the industry from "contraband oil" in order to stabilize falling prices. While Ickes originally considered having the government set a price floor for oil, Marshall got Ickes to sign off on a plan to require certificates of clearance for legally produced oil shipped in interstate commerce.

The Connally Hot Oil Act of 1935 was enacted in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision to strike down Section 9 (c) of the National Industrial Recovery Act (NIRA) in Panama Refining Co. v. Ryan. The act gave the president authority "to prohibit the transportation in interstate and foreign commerce of petroleum ... produced or withdrawn from storage in excess of the amount permitted ... by any State law."[1] The act was named after Senator Tom Connally.

War, helping develop U.S. energy policy during the war, including the Cole Pipeline Act of 1941, and later as a member of the Committee on Reparations and the American Petroleum Institute. In 1944, after developing a relationship with Paul G. Blazer, he moved to Ashland, Kentucky and became Vice Chairman and President of Ashland Oil and Refining Co. (now Ashland Inc.).

In 1946, he drafted the executive order creating the National Petroleum Council (US).[7] In 1952, he became Executive Vice President at Signal Oil & Gas under Samuel B. Mosher. In 1961, he became President of Union Texas Petroleum and moved to Houston. In 1967, he became Executive Vice President of Allied Chemical (now Honeywell). He was also a director of Coastal Corporation.[7] In 1984, he formed Marshall Petroleum, which primarily was a holding company for his interest in Koch Industries.

In 1952, Marshall co-founded Great Northern Oil, which, in 1955, built an oil refinery in Rosemount, Minnesota that could refine heavy, sour Canadian crude oil.[8] In 1959, Fred Koch acquired a 35% interest in Great Northern Oil for $5 million. Union Oil acquired a majority interest in Great Northern and attempted to take over the company, but Marshall and Koch, who wanted to keep their assets in private hands, blocked the takeover. In 1969, after buying out Union Oil, Charles Koch, who shared a similar business philosophy with Marshall, swapped a stake in Koch Industries for the rest of Marshall's shares in Great Northern Oil.

Marshall married Eleanor Pierce in 1931 and divorced in 1961. They had two sons together: J. Howard Marshall III (born February 6, 1936) and E. Pierce Marshall (January 12, 1939 - June 20, 2006). His second marriage, to Bettye Bohannon, lasted from 1961 until her death from Alzheimer's disease in 1991.

In 1982, he met "Lady" Diane Walker at a strip club and offered to marry her if his wife Betty, who had Alzheimer's disease, were to die. Over several years, Marshall gave Walker $15 million worth of jewelry and other gifts. Walker died in 1991 at age 51 due to complications from facelift surgery. The gifts became subject to scrutiny by the Internal Revenue Service since gift taxes were not paid; Marshall claimed that the gifts were instead "consulting fees".

In 1994, at the age of 89, he married 26-year-old model Anna Nicole Smith. Their marriage lasted until his death 14 months later.

VMAs 2017: Katy Perry (Katherine Elizabeth Houston) Responded to the Theory That She's Actually JonBenet Ramsey

Teen Vouge [*]

> While hosting MTV's VMAs 2017, one of Katy's pre-recorded videos featuring Billy Eichner played during a transition. In true Billy on the Street fashion, the comedian asked Katy a string of rapid-fire questions. And one of them happened to be about whether or not the "Swish Swish" singer is actually JonBenet Ramsey.
> "Blink twice if you're actually JonBenet Ramsey," he asks. Billy's, of course, referring back to a conspiracy theory that went viral in early 2016. It alleges that JonBenet did not actually die back in 1996 and instead became who we now know today as Katy Perry. There are plenty of holes in the flimsy theory, but it being just wacky enough paired with the two looking somewhat similar made for good internet kindling.

Frank Joseph Perry Jr.[1] (August 21, 1930 - August 29, 1995) was an American stage director and filmmaker. His 1962 independent film David and Lisa earned an Academy Award nomination for Best Director and Best Original Screenplay (written by his then-wife Eleanor Perry).

Frank Joseph Perry Jr. was born in New York City, to stockbroker Frank Joseph Perry Sr. and Pauline E. Schwab, who worked at Alcoholics Anonymous.

Both Perrys would eventually join the select group of non-actors awarded membership in Actors Studio.

Katheryn Elizabeth Hudson a niece

Katheryn Elizabeth Hudson was born on October 25, 1984, in Santa Barbara, California, to Pentecostal pastors Mary Christine (née Perry) and Maurice Keith Hudson.[3][4] Both of her parents turned to religion after a "wild youth".[5] Perry has English, German, Irish, and Portuguese ancestry. Through her mother, she is a niece of film director Frank Perry.[7] She has a younger brother named David, who is a singer,[8] and an older sister, Angela.

From ages three to 11, Perry often moved across the country as her parents set up churches before settling again in Santa Barbara. Growing up, she attended religious schools and camps, including Paradise Valley Christian School in Arizona and Santa Barbara Christian School in California during her elementary years.[4][10] Her family struggled financially,[11] sometimes using food stamps and eating food from the food bank which also fed the congregation at Perry's parents' church.

Growing up, Perry and her siblings were not allowed to eat the cereal Lucky Charms as the word "luck" reminded their mother of Lucifer, and had to call deviled eggs "angeled eggs".[13] Perry primarily listened to gospel music,[14] as secular music was generally discouraged in the family's home. She discovered popular music through CDs she sneaked from her friends. Perry later recalled a story about how a friend of hers played "You Oughta Know" by Alanis Morissette, which impacted her songwriting and singing.

While not strictly identifying as religious, she has stated, "I pray all the time - for self-control, for humility."

Perry has supported various charitable organizations and causes throughout her career. She has contributed to organizations aimed at improving the lives and welfare of children in particular. In April 2013, she joined UNICEF to assist children in Madagascar with education and nutrition.[353] On December 3, 2013, she was officially named a UNICEF Goodwill Ambassador, "with a special focus on engaging young people in the agency's work to improve the lives of the world's most vulnerable children and adolescents."[354] She arranged for a portion of the money generated from tickets to her Prismatic World Tour to go to UNICEF.[355] In September 2010, she helped build and design the Boys Hope/Girls Hope foundation shelter for youth in Baltimore, Maryland along with Raven-Symoné, Shaquille O'Neal, and the cast of Extreme Makeover: Home Edition.[356] In 2010, Perry and Nicki Minaj performed a cover of "Girls Just Wanna Have Fun" for service members during the 2010 VH1 Divas Salute the Troops concert.

She has also supported children's education and well-being. All profits from sales of the album The Gay Nineties Old Tyme Music:

Daisy Bell, which includes her rendition of “Daisy Bell (Bicycle Built for Two)”, were donated to the charity Little Kids Rock, which supports musical education in underprivileged elementary schools.[181] In June 2014, she teamed up with Staples Inc. for a project entitled “Make Roar Happen” which donated $1 million to DonorsChoose, an organization that supports teachers and funds classroom resources in public schools.[358] In May 2016, she worked with UNICEF to improve child care quality in Vietnam, hoping to “break the cycle of poverty and drastically improve children’s health, education and well-being”.[359] The following month, UNICEF announced that Perry would receive the Audrey Hepburn Humanitarian Award “for her work as a UNICEF Goodwill Perry has supported organizations aimed at aiding people suffering with diseases including cancer and HIV/AIDS.

Perry has publicly advocated for LGBT rights and admitted that she wrote “I Kissed a Girl” about her own bisexual experiences with other women. In 2017, she received a Nation Equality Award from Human Rights Campaign for “using her powerful voice and international platform to speak out for LGBTQ equality”.[372] In her acceptance speech, she discussed having bisexual experiences, her fluid sexuality, and thanked the LGBTQ+ community.[373] In an Out interview in 2021, she was heralded as a “gay icon” with “I Kissed a Girl” being called a “bonafide queer anthem.”

Through Twitter and by performing at rallies, Perry supported President Barack Obama in his run for re-election and praised his support for same-sex marriage[382] and LGBT equality.[383] She performed at three rallies for Obama, in Los Angeles, Las Vegas, and Wisconsin, singing a rendition of “Let’s Stay Together” as well as a number of her songs. During her Las Vegas performance she wore a dress made to replicate a voting ballot, with Obama’s box filled in.[384] On Twitter, she encouraged her followers to vote for Obama.

In April 2014, she publicly supported Marianne Williamson in her campaign for California’s 33rd congressional district by attending a political press event.[387] She endorsed Kamala Harris in the United States Senate election in California, and organized a fundraiser for Harris at her home in Los Angeles in November 2016.[388] Perry also publicly endorsed former Secretary of State in the Ramsey house the night of the murder and saw JonBenét die, but isn’t the one who murdered her.

Hillary Clinton for president in 2016.[389][390] She performed alongside Elton John at a fundraising concert for Clinton in New York City in March 2016.[391] Perry also spoke and performed at the 2016 Democratic National Convention in support of Clinton.[392] Four years later, she supported Joe Biden and Kamala Harris during the 2020 United States presidential election, praising the latter as a leader who had “experience we desperately need right now” and believed that the former “choosing her as his running mate is already a testament to his decision making”.

Yes. You read that right. A 2014 YouTube video claimed that JonBenét Ramsey's parents staged the murder, and their child is alive and well living her life as pop star Katy Perry. The video cites lyrics from Perry's songs, and says that the two look alike.

“Nobody wanted that little girl to die that night — nobody,” Karr said. “Her death was an accident. I was with her when she died. But I was not the person who caused it.”

Karr claims that he still knows the identity of the killer. He says that he staged the crime scene in order to throw the police off the track of the real killer. Karr was cleared from any charges after no tissue samples or bodily fluids matched his at the scene, contradicting his own story.

Same Article, Santa

A man portraying Santa Claus sits in a mall in South Portland, Maine on Thursday, Dec. 19, 2013. Andrew Chesnut, the Bishop Walter F. Sullivan Chair in Catholic Studies at Virginia Commonwealth University, said depictions of Santa Claus as a white man came about mainly because he was a European import, a blend of the Dutch Sinterklaas and British folklore character Father Christmas, with elements of Saint Nicholas, a 4th-century Greek bishop in modern-day Turkey.

Specifically, a Santa Claus impersonator named Bill McReynolds. Two nights before JonBenét was killed, McReynolds was at the Ramsey house dressed as Santa. He reportedly gave JonBenét a card that said, “You will receive a very special gift after Christmas.” The vagueness of this message in the card has led some to believe that he was behind the murder.

McReynolds claimed he was innocent and died in 2002.

Mary Lacy, then Boulder’s District Attorney, made a public announcement that new DNA evidence cleared the Ramsey family as suspects in the case. The letter read in part:

> “THIS (DNA) PROFILE BELONGS TO THE PERPETRATOR OF THE HOMICIDE…”
> ”…THE SUSPICIONS ABOUT THE RAMSEYS IN THIS CASE CREATED AN ONGOING LIVING HELL FOR THE RAMSEY FAMILY AND THEIR FRIENDS, WHICH ADDED TO THEIR SUFFERING”… “WE BELIEVE THAT JUSTICE DICTATES THAT THE RAMSEYS BE TREATED ONLY AS VICTIMS OF THIS SERIOUS CRIME”….

John: “I didn’t view it as a, you know, ‘let’s go out and celebrate.’ It was just another step in the right direction.”

“But the interesting thing was that you know, of course the media was out to lynch us, but individual people were wonderful to us. It really opened my eyes to how compassionate people can be and how important that is.”

“We certainly saw evidence and examples of how God takes things and turns them for good. I got a letter from a lady several years ago that said, ‘I was contemplating suicide. And I decided, if you could handle your problems, I could certainly handle mine.’”

In time, John’s grief gave way to happy memories of his daughter.

John: “I still, of course, think of Jon Benet as a sweet little six-year-old.”

John, a New York times bestselling author, has written a book , The Other Side of Suffering to encourage people broken by tragedy or injustice. He says the death of his oldest daughter, Beth, in 1992 was the beginning of his faith journey.

“First words out of my mouth as I hung up that phone that morning were, ‘There is no God.’ You know, I just screamed that. ‘There is no God.’ Because it just didn’t make sense.”

Scott: “Car accident?”

John: “Car accident. Middle of the day. Just a freak accident. She and her boyfriend were both killed.”

“And I was, prior to that time, was a cultural Christian. I just was a Christian because I was born in a Christian home and that’s what you did on Sundays and I didn’t really get it, didn’t really understand it.”

A few months ago, we came across the YouTube videos of Manny Grossman, by way of Jason Goodman of the Crowd Source the Truth Channel. Manny is from Yonkers. He knows a lot about the Son of Sam murders and does walking tours of Yonkers, explaining different aspects of the murders, and interviewing Younker's locals who can speak about the murder.

The subject of sacrificed dogs comes up in the Son of Sam lore frequently. The mention of dead dogs in Untermyer Park prompted another look at a lady we came across a few years ago while looking at a completely different, it seemed at the time, murder.

Clay Shaw was portrayed by Tommy Lee Jones in the Oliver Stone movie JFK. Clay LaVergne Shaw was the only person put on trial for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

As we like to do when researching “conspirators” we looked at his parents to see if they were conspirators in any earlier historical plots. (New York City Mayor Bill DeBlasio is a good example of what can be found if one looks at a Cabal members family tree.)

Clay Shaw’s mother was born “Alice Herrington.” When you do a “search” for “Alice Herrington” you do not find much on Clay Shaw’s mom, but you do find an Alice Herrington who formed the “Friends of Animals Humane Society” in New York City in 1958.

David Richard Berkowitz (born Richard David Falco, JUNE 1, 1953), also known as the Son of Sam and .44 Caliber Killer, is an American serial killer who pleaded guilty to eight shootings that began in New York City on July 29, 1976.

David Berkowitz was born Richard David Falco on JUNE 1, 1953, in Brooklyn, New York.:73 His mother, Elizabeth “Betty” Broder, grew up as part of an impoverished Jewish family, and was a waitress. She married Tony Falco, an Italian American, in 1936 the time of Berlin Olympics. After a marriage of less than four years, Tony Falco left her for another woman.

Local resident Cacilia Davis was walking her dog at the scene of the Moskowitz and Violante shooting when she saw patrol officer Michael Cataneo ticketing a car that was parked near a fire hydrant. Moments after the traffic police had left, a young man walked past her from the area of the car and seemed to study her with some interest. Davis felt concerned because he was wielding in his hand some kind of “dark object”. She ran to her home only to hear shots fired behind her in the street. Davis remained silent about this experience for four days until she finally contacted police, who closely checked every car that had been ticketed in the area that night.

Berkowitz’s 1970 four-door yellow Ford Galaxie was among the cars that they investigated.6 On AUGUST 9, 1977, NYPD detective James Justis telephoned Yonkers police to ask them to schedule an interview with Berkowitz. The Yonkers police dispatcher who first took Justis’ call was Wheat Carr, the daughter of Sam Carr and sister of Berkowitz’s alleged cult confederates John and Michael Carr.

In 1979, Berkowitz mailed a book about witchcraft to police in North Dakota. He had underlined several passages and written a few marginal notes, including the phrase: “Arliss [sic] Perry, Hunted, Stalked and Slain. Followed to Calif. Stanford University.” The reference was to Arlis Perry, a 19-year-old North Dakota newlywed who had been murdered at Stanford on October 12, 1974. Her death, and the notorious abuse of her corpse in a chapel on campus, was a widely reported case. Berkowitz mentioned the Perry attack in other letters, suggesting that he knew details of it from the perpetrator himself. Local police investigators interviewed him but they “now [2004] believe he has nothing of value to offer.” The Arlis Perry case was solved in 2018.

Harold Ramis retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Harold Allen Ramis (/ˈreɪmɪs/; NOVEMBER 21, 1944 - FEBRUARY 24, 2014) was an American actor, comedian, director and writer.

Harold Allen Ramis

Ramis was born on November 21, 1944, in Chicago, Illinois, the son of Ruth (née Cokee) and Nathan Ramis, who owned the Ace Food & Liquor Mart on the city’s far North Side.[1] Ramis had a Jewish upbringing. In his adult life, he did not practice any religion. He graduated from Stephen K. Hayt Elementary School in June 1958 and Nicholas Senn High School in 1962, both Chicago public schools, and in 1966 from Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, where he was a member of the Alpha Xi chapter of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity.

Afterward, Ramis worked in a mental institution in St. Louis for seven months. He later said of his time working there that it:

> … prepared me well for when I went out to Hollywood to work with actors. People laugh when I say that, but it was actually very good training. And not just with actors; it was good training for just living in the world. It's knowing how to deal with people who might be reacting in a way that's connected to anxiety or grief or fear or rage. As a director, you're dealing with that constantly with actors. But if I were a businessman, I'd probably be applying those same principles to that line of work.

Ramis began writing parodic plays in college, saying years later, "In my heart, I felt I was a combination of Groucho and Harpo Marx, of Groucho using his wit as a weapon against the upper classes, and of Harpo's antic charm and the fact that he was oddly sexy-he grabs women, pulls their skirts off, and gets away with it." He avoided the Vietnam War military draft by taking methamphetamine to fail his draft physical.

Following his work in St. Louis, Ramis returned to Chicago, where by 1968, he was a substitute teacher at schools serving the inner-city Robert Taylor Homes. He also became associated with the guerrilla television collective TVTV, headed by his college friend Michael Shamberg, and wrote freelance for the Chicago Daily News. "Michael Shamberg, right out of college, had started freelancing for newspapers and got on as a stringer for a local paper, and I thought, 'Well, if Michael can do that, I can do that.' I wrote a spec piece and submitted it to the Chicago Daily News, the Arts & Leisure section, and they started giving me assignments [for] entertainment features."[15] Additionally, Ramis had begun studying and performing with Chicago's Second City improvisational comedy troupe.

Ramis's newspaper writing led to him becoming joke editor at Playboy magazine.[11] "I called…just cold and said I had written several pieces freelance and did they have any openings. And they happened to have their entry-level job, party jokes editor, open. He liked my stuff and he gave me a stack of jokes that readers had sent in and asked me to rewrite them. I had been in Second City in the workshops already and Michael Shamberg and I had written comedy shows in college."[15] Ramis was eventually promoted to associate editor.

National Lampoon, SCTV, and The Top - After leaving Second City for a time and returning in 1972, having been replaced in the main cast by John Belushi, Ramis worked his way back as Belushi's deadpan foil. In 1974, Belushi brought Ramis and other Second City performers, including Ramis's frequent future collaborator Bill Murray, to New York City to work on The National Lampoon Radio Hour.

During this time, Ramis, Belushi, Murray, Joe Flaherty, Christopher Guest, and Gilda Radner starred in the revue The National Lampoon Show, the successor to National Lampoon's Lemmings. Later, Ramis became a performer on, and head writer of, the late-night sketch-comedy television series SCTV.

Radner was born in Detroit, Michigan, to Jewish parents, Henrietta (née Dworkin), a legal secretary, and Herman Radner, a businessman.[1][2] Through her mother, Radner was a second cousin of business executive Steve Ballmer.[3] She grew up in Detroit with a nanny, Elizabeth Clementine Gillies, whom she called "Dibby" (and on whom she based her famous character Emily Litella),[4] and an older brother, Michael. She attended the exclusive University Liggett School in Detroit. Toward the end of her life, Radner wrote in her autobiography, It's Always Something, that during her childhood and young adulthood she had battled numerous eating disorders: "I coped with stress by having every possible eating disorder from the time I was nine years old. I have weighed as much as 160 pounds and as little as 93. When I was a kid, I overate constantly. My weight distressed my mother and she took me to a doctor who put me on Dexedrine diet pills when I was ten years old.”

In 1964, Radner graduated from Liggett and enrolled at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor,[9] where she planned to get a degree in education.

In her senior year at the University of Michigan, Radner dropped out[11] to follow her boyfriend, Canadian sculptor Jeffrey Rubinoff, to Toronto. There, she made her professional acting debut in the 1972 production of Godspell, with future stars Eugene Levy, Andrea Martin, Victor Garber, Martin Short, and Paul Shaffer. Afterward, Radner joined The Second City comedy troupe in Toronto.

Stephen Root (born ZNOVEMBER 17, 1951) is an American actor. He has starred as Jimmy James on the television sitcom NewsRadio.

His other roles have included Capt. K’Vada in the Star Trek: The Next Generation two-part episode “Unification” (1991), several roles in Coen Brothers films including Mr. Lund in O Brother, Where Art Thou? (2000), Gordon Pibb in DodgeBall (2004), Hawthorne Abendsen in seasons 2-4 of the series The Man in the High Castle, Jim Hudson in Get Out (2017), and supporting roles in a variety of HBO series, including Boardwalk Empire, Barry, True Blood, Perry Mason and Succession.

Steve Ballmer retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Ballmer was born in Detroit, Michigan; he is the son of Beatrice Dworkin and Frederic Henry Ballmer (Fritz Hans Ballmer), a manager at the Ford Motor Company.

The Ford Foundation board of directors decided to diversify the foundation’s portfolio and gradually divested itself of its substantial Ford Motor Company stock between 1955 and 1974. This divestiture allowed Ford Motor to become a public company. Finally, Henry Ford II resigned from his trustee’s role in a surprise move in December 1976. In his resignation letter, he cited his dissatisfaction with the foundation holding on to their old programs, large staff and what he saw as anti-capitalist undertones in the foundation’s work.

Steves at Ford father was a Swiss immigrant who predicted that his son, at eight years old, would attend Harvard. His mother was Belarusian Jewish. Through his mother, Ballmer is a second cousin of actress and comedian Gilda Radner. Ballmer grew up in the affluent community of Farmington Hills, Michigan. Ballmer also lived in Brussels from 1964 to 1967, where he attended the International School of Brussels.

The Ford Foundation at about this time is thought to have worked with the CIA and East-West Center of Hawaii and Lyndon Baines Johnson to create sleeper agent Barrack Obama Jr. and others for overthrow of various targeted nations.

In 1973, he attended college prep and engineering classes at Lawrence Technological University. He graduated as valedictorian from Detroit Country Day School, a private college preparatory school in Beverly Hills, Michigan, with a score of 800 on the mathematical section of the SAT[16][17] and was a National Merit Scholar.[18] He formerly sat on the school’s board of directors. In 1977, he graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University with a Bachelor of Arts in applied mathematics and economics.

At college, Ballmer was a manager for the Harvard Crimson football team and a member of the Fox Club, worked on The Harvard Crimson newspaper as well as the Harvard Advocate, and lived down the hall from fellow sophomore Bill Gates. He scored highly in the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition, an exam sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, scoring higher than Bill Gates. He then worked as an assistant product manager at Procter & Gamble for two years, where he shared an office with Jeff Immelt, who later became CEO of General Electric. After briefly trying to write screenplays in Hollywood,[13] in 1980 Ballmer dropped out of the Stanford Graduate School of Business to join Microsoft.

Zodiac

Just before midnight on JULY 4, 1969, Darlene Ferrin and Michael Mageau drove into the Blue Rock Springs Park in Vallejo, four miles (6.4 km) from the Lake Herman Road murder site, and parked. While the couple sat in Ferrin's car, a second car drove into the lot and parked alongside them but almost immediately drove away. Returning about 10 minutes later, this second car parked behind them. The driver of the second car then exited the vehicle, approaching the passenger side door of Ferrin's car, carrying a flashlight and a 9 mm Luger. The killer directed the flashlight into Mageau's and Ferrin's eyes before shooting at them, firing five times. Both victims were hit, and several bullets had passed through Mageau and into Ferrin. The killer walked away from the car but upon hearing Mageau's moaning, returned and shot each victim twice more before driving off.

On JULY 5, 1969, at 12:40 a.m., a man phoned the Vallejo Police Department to report and claim responsibility for the attack. The caller also took credit for the murders of Jensen and Faraday six and a half months earlier. Police traced the call to a phone booth at a gas station at Springs Road and Tuolumne, located about three-tenths of a mile (500 m) from Ferrin's home and only a few blocks from the Vallejo Police Department.[Ferrin was pronounced dead at the hospital. Mageau survived the attack despite being shot in the face, neck and chest. Mageau described his attacker as a 26-to-30-year-old, 195-to-200-pound (88 to 91 kg) or possibly even more, 5-foot-8-inch (1.73 m) white male with short, light brown curly hair.

On AUGUST 1, 1969, three letters prepared by the killer were received at the Vallejo Times Herald, the San Francisco Chronicle, and The San Francisco Examiner. The nearly identical letters, subsequently described by a psychiatrist to have been written by "someone you would expect to be brooding and isolated",[15] took credit for the shootings at Lake Herman Road and Blue Rock Springs. Each letter also included one-third of a 408-symbol cryptogram which the killer claimed contained his identity.

Peter Steele was born on JANUARY 4, 1962, in Red Hook, Brooklyn, New York City, to a Catholic family, and attended Edward R. Murrow High School located in the Midwood neighborhood of Brooklyn. His father was of Polish and Russian descent and his mother of Scottish-Irish, Norwegian, and Icelandic ancestry. He was raised in the Bensonhurst and Brighton Beach neighborhoods of Brooklyn. Steele was the youngest of six children, with five older sisters. His father fought in World War II and later worked at a shipyard.

During 2005, Steele disappeared for an extended period with no explanation. Rumors of his death, terminal illness, and other speculations increased until the mystery was dispelled in an interview on the 2006 DVD Symphony for the Devil. In the interview Steele briefly mentions his incarceration in Rikers Island and “the psych ward at Kings County Hospital”. Steele’s family members had staged an intervention and insisted he check into a mental institution.[9] Steele later confirmed he had been suffering from paranoia caused by his heavy substance abuse. Steele had been using cocaine since the age of 35, a decision in which he expressed great regret. Steele then attended rehab for cocaine dependence and alcoholism, and later served a 30-day prison term for assaulting a “love rival.“Steele made light of his incarceration by wearing a prison uniform on stage during live performances.

A few Stanzas of These Three Things

Of a land, land that shuns the son
So alien call it area 5-1
Should there be failure to convert Zion?
What came as a lamb returning as a lion

Not a nation but a self-proclaimed state
Since the year of our Lord 1-9-4-8
The road to redemption leads through deserts
Rocky though the trip through is well worth it
I am the duel of the fisherman Simon
He brought alpha, omega, yes, I’m the one
The twins fell beginning Armageddon
So the whore too who dwelleth in Babylon, Babylon

All his people Gathered ‘round
Through forgiveness
Salvation found, found, found, found, found

Steele stated in a 2003 interview that he had bipolar disorder, and linked his mood swings to the types of songs he wrote. He also received occasional psychiatric treatment for depressive episodes. During a 2007 interview Steele explained:

> “I’ve always been a very depressed person, but that’s only one side of me, you know. It makes me feel better when I can express my depression, my anger, my frustration through music … sonic therapy.”

> “There are no atheists in foxholes, they say, and I was a foxhole atheist for a long time. But after going through a midlife crisis and having many things change very quickly, it made me realize my mortality. And when you start to think about death, you start to think about what’s after it. And then you start hoping there is a God. For me, it’s a frightening thought to go nowhere. I also can’t believe that people like Hitler are gonna go to the same place as Mother Teresa.”

SYMPATHY

> Sympathy is a feeling of pity or sense of compassion - it’s when you feel bad for someone else who’s going through something hard.

> The ability to feel sympathy for others is a great part of what make us human, and it’s what compels us to reach out and offer help. So have sympathy for people who confuse this word with empathy - they’re awfully close in meaning. Feeling sympathy means you feel sorry for someone's situation, even if you've never been there yourself. Empathy is when you truly understand and can feel what another person is going though.

EMPATHY

Use empathy if you're looking for a noun meaning "the ability to identify with another's feelings."

When Bill Clinton famously told people "I feel your pain" during his 1992 election campaign, some praised and others ridiculed him for displaying empathy, the sharing or understanding of feelings. Empathy is different from sympathy, which is pity or sorrow for others' misfortunes. They share a common root in -pathy, from the Greek pathos, "feeling." Where they differ is in their prefixes: sym- means "with," while em- means "in." If you can empathize with someone, it's because you have been in their place: you've "walked a mile in their shoes," as the saying goes.

ANTIPATHY

An antipathy is a deep-seated dislike of something or someone. Usually it's a condition that is long-term, innate, and pretty unlikely to change - like your antipathy for the Red Sox.

If you look at the Greek roots of this word - anti- ("against") and pathos ("feeling") - you can see that antipathy is a feeling against someone or something. In general, antipathies are feelings that are kept at least somewhat under wraps and are not out in the open.

John Parsons Wheeler III (DECEMBER 14, 1944 - c. December 30, 2010), known as Jack Wheeler, was an American businessman and former White House aide. Wheeler was chairman of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, senior planner for Amtrak (1971-1972), official of the Securities and Exchange Commission (1978-1986), chief executive and CEO of Mothers Against Drunk Driving, consultant to the Mitre Corporation (CIA((2009-death), and a presidential aide to the Ronald Reagan, George H. W. Bush, and George W. Bush administrations. He also held numerous other positions in the United States military, government, and corporations.[2][3] He died under mysterious circumstances on December 30, 2010.

Wheeler’s remains were interred at Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors on April 29, 2011.

In 1988-1989, Wheeler worked with the first President Bush to establish the Earth Conservation Corps. From 1997 to 2001, he was president and CEO, Deafness Research Foundation. He was consultant to acting Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition, Technology and Logistics from 2001 to 2005, special assistant to the Secretary of the Air Force from 2005 to 2008. From 2008 to 2009, he was special assistant to the acting assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Installations, Logistics and Energy. From 1983 to 1987, he was chairman and CEO of Mothers Against Drunk Driving, and from 1993 until his death, he was the founding CEO of the Vietnam Children’s Fund.

The Deafness Research Foundation was founded by Collette Ramsey-Baker on February 1, 1958.[4] Born in Waverly, Tennessee, Ramsey-Baker lived with substantial hearing loss for many years before she had her hearing completely restored at age 35, with an early fenestration operation. She then founded the Deafness Research Foundation (DRF). A recurrent model for the renowned painter Howard Chandler Christy and an avid golfer, she received letters of commendation from US Presidents Herbert Hoover and Dwight Eisenhower, Helen Keller and Cardinal Francis Spellman.

In 1960, DRF and the American Academy of Otolaryngology created the National Temporal Bone Banks Program, to collect and study the human temporal bone, and to encourage temporal bone donation. In 1992 the NIDCD National Temporal Bone, Hearing and Balance Pathology Resource Registry was founded as a nonprofit organization by the National Institute of Deafness and other Communication Disorders (NIDCD) of the National Institutes of Health to continue and expand on the activities of the former National Temporal Bone Banks Program.

By 1972, the DRF was funding research on cochlear implants, with later grants in single channel to multi-channel implants, speech perception among cochlear implant users, and implants in children. Substantial research and significant contribution in the prevention and treatment of middle ear infection was made by researchers who were awarded grants. In 1977 the DRF funded research in outer ear hair cell motility that led to a new method for measuring the health of a newborn's ear, and began funding research to understand how sensory cells transmit sounds from the world to the brain.

The DRF funded research led, in 1987, to the discovery of spontaneous regeneration of hair cells in chickens, thus igniting the field of hair cell regeneration in humans. Research on the regrowth of cochlea cells may lead to medical treatments that restore hearing. Unlike birds and reptiles, humans and other mammals are normally unable to regrow the cells of the inner ear that convert sound into neural signals when those cells are damaged by age or disease.

In 1989 the DRF funded Meniere's Disease Study Center for improved evaluation and better treatments of Ménière's disease.

In celebration of its 50th Anniversary, the DRF rang the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange in 2008.

The organization decided to change its name from The Deafness Research Foundation to Hearing Health Foundation to better communicate the foundation's mission to prevent and cure hearing loss and tinnitus through groundbreaking research, and promote hearing health. On September 14, 2011, the Chair of the Board, Clifford P. Tallman, Jr., announced the name change of the DRF to Hearing Health Foundation and presented a new research consortium, the Hearing Restoration Project.

Victoria Lynn Morgan (AUGUST 9, 1952 - JULY 7, 1983

Victoria Lynn Morgan (August 9, 1952 - July 7, 1983)[2] was the mistress of Alfred S. Bloomingdale, heir to the Bloomingdale's department store fortune. The details of their tumultuous relationship became publicly known after Morgan sued Bloomingdale's estate for palimony in 1982.[3] Morgan was murdered in 1983.

Early Life

Vicki Morgan was born in Colorado Springs, Colorado.[2] Her mother, Constance Laney, and Vicki's father, a United States Air Force veteran, divorced soon after Vicki's birth. Constance remarried, but that husband died when Vicki was about 9 years old. Vicki and her mother relocated to Montclair, California. At 16, Vicki Morgan became pregnant, dropped out of Chaffey High School, and bore a son, Todd. Leaving Todd with her mother,[4] Morgan ran away from home in 1968.

Bloomingdale mistress

She found work as an usher at Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Los Angeles.[2] She soon married 47-year-old Earl Lamb.

In August 1969, whilst still 17, Morgan met 54-year-old financier Alfred S. Bloomingdale, a married multi-millionaire from the famous department store family, in a restaurant on the Sunset Strip.[5] Bloomingdale soon took Morgan as a mistress, and would have her watch as he lashed naked prostitutes with his belt.[6] When Morgan was 18, Bloomingdale offered Lamb a large cash payment to end his marriage with Morgan. Bloomingdale provided an apartment for her.

Paul Mitchell III (NOVEMBER 14, 1956 - August 15, 2021) was an American businessman and politician from the state of Michigan who served as a U.S. Representative for Michigan’s 10th congressional district. He was first elected in 2016. In July 2019, Mitchell announced that he would not run for re-election in 2020. While serving, he was a member of the Republican Party until he left the party in December 2020, when he announced he was becoming an independent.[3]

Mitchell was born in Boston, Massachusetts. The oldest of six children, he was raised in Waterford Township, Michigan.

Paul Mitchell grew up in Waterville Maine and graduated in 1944 from Waterville High School where he played football, basketball and baseball and was a member of the famous 1944 basketball team that went undefeated and won the New England Schoolboy Basketball Championship.

He served in the U.S. Navy, was assigned to Bates College and the University of Iowa as a cadet in the Navy's V-12 flight training program, and later completed his education at University of Maine where he earned a bachelor's degree in 1949, according to his obituary. He earned a master's from Columbia University in 1950.

Theodore L. Gunderson (7 November 1928 - 31 July 2011) was an American Federal Bureau of Investigation Special Agent In Charge and head of the Los Angeles FBI. According to his son, he worked the case of Marilyn Monroe and the John F. Kennedy cases. In a 1995 conference in Dallas, Gunderson warned about the proliferation of secret occultist groups, and the danger posed by the New World Order, an alleged shadow government that would be controlling the United States government.[8] He also claimed that a “slave auction” in which children were sold by Saudi Arabian agents to men had been held in Las Vegas, that four thousand ritual human sacrifices are performed in New York City every year, and that the 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City was carried out by the US government. Gunderson believed that in the United States there is a secret widespread network of groups who kidnap children and infants, and subject them to ritual abuse and subsequent human sacrifice. Obama's mask-less ball: Ex-president risks super-spreader event by inviting 500 people to his 60th at $12m Martha's Vineyard mansion: Pearl Jam will perform and guests including Spielberg will be served by 200 staff retrieved from www.dailymail.co.uk/news and copied or modified to here

Former President Barack Obama has come under fire for his plans to host nearly 500 people at his Martha's Vineyard mansion for his 60th birthday, despite a nationwide rise in COVID cases

The former president is set to turn 60 on August 4, and is said to be planning a large soiree at his 7,000-square-foot mansion in the Edgarton section of Martha’s Vineyard next weekend.

An official familiar with the plans told Axios that there are now 475 confirmed guests for the party - including Oprah Winfrey, George Clooney and Steven Spielberg - with more than 200 staff members.

On Saturday, FEBRUARY 11, 2006, Whittington was accidentally shot by U.S. Vice President Dick Cheney during a quail hunting trip, at a ranch in south Texas. Most of the damage from the shotgun blast was to the right side of his body, including damage to his face, chest, and neck, and he had a collapsed lung. He was taken to Corpus Christi Memorial Hospital by ambulance and put into intensive care. The accident was not announced in the news media until the White House confirmed the incident to the Corpus Christi Caller-Times approximately 12 hours after the incident.[5]

On February 14, some of the lead birdshot lodged in Whittington’s heart caused a minor heart attack.[6][7] Doctors did not remove all the pellets from Whittington’s body. They estimated that there were “less than 150 or 200” pellets lodged in his body immediately after the shooting,[8] and about 30 pieces of shot were expected to remain inside him for the rest of his life.[7] On February 17, Whittington made a public statement that “We all assume certain risks in whatever we do.

Hillary Clinton was not available for comment but denied having a gun permit through a spokesperson who refused to be identified.

U.S. law enforcement is still trying to figure that out. Earlier this month, Zhang was charged with lying to a federal officer and entering restricted property, but prosecutors have said more charges might follow. For now, prosecutors are treating Zhang’s case as a national security matter, according to the Miami Herald, adding that a team of FBI counterintelligence officers is on the case. According to the Herald, federal investigators were already looking into Chinese intelligence operations in South Florida before this incident occurred.

Zhang’s arrest “has sent the counterintelligence probe into overdrive.”

As a former CIA officer, I am intrigued by Zhang’s role but wary of jumping to conclusions about it, given the limited facts we know so far.

ROTHSCHILD INQUEST CALLS MILLIONAIRE’S DEATH A SUICIDE
retrieved from CHICAGO TRIBUNE AUGUST 8 1996 and copied or modified to here

Multimillionaire Amschel Rothschild, a leading member of the banking dynasty, died by committing suicide, an inquest said Thursday.

Rothschild’s widow Anita told the hearing in central London that her husband suffered from “depressive tendencies” and had been extremely upset by his mother’s recent death.

Rothschild, 41, was found hanging by the cord of his bathrobe in the bathroom of a Paris hotel room on July 8.

He was chairman of Rothschild Asset Management and was viewed as the heir apparent to Sir Evelyn de Rothschild, 64, chairman of the historic family-owned merchant bank N.M. Rothschild & Sons.

His death thrust the bank into the limelight, raising questions over who will be its next head.

Coroner Dr. Paul Knapman said: “I am forced to conclude that he killed himself… There are no bizarre features which are sometimes associated with male hanging.”

Former Secretary of State Mike Pompeo's dormant U.S. House campaign fund has donated to a newly formed political action committee that uses the same Kansas-based bank and bears the name of his new political slogan, according to financial disclosures.

The Champion American Values committee was created on February 22. Two days later, Pompeo's former House committee, Pompeo for Kansas, Inc. contributed $155,000 to the new PAC.

Pompeo for Kansas had just over $845,000 at the end of March, according to the committee's filing Thursday with the Federal Election Commission. Both Champion American Values and Pompeo for Kansas have the same treasurer, Robert F. Carlin.

Christian Anti-Defamation Commission Vista, Calif.

Originally incorporated in 1999 by retired Army Gen. William Hollis, the Christian Anti-Defamation Commission (CADC) says its goal is to serve as a “first line of response to anti-Christian defamation, bigotry and discrimination.” It was largely inactive until 2007, when it brought in as its new leader the Rev. Gary Cass, who claims that Christian-bashing, “the last acceptable form of bigotry in America, is alive and well and growing more intense and hysterical by the day.”

The CADC is heavily focused on the alleged evils of homosexuality. It has called the idea of allowing gays to serve openly in the military “evil”; opposed hate crimes legislation (which many religious-right groups falsely assert would make it easy to send pastors to prison for condemning homosexuality); and raged against a judge’s overturning of California’s Proposition 8, which had invalidated same-sex marriages.

Robert Hanssen (FBI) a whistle-blower on Freeh (FBI) and the CIA NASA DARPA?

Robert Hanssen, a 25-year veteran of the FBI, was arrested in 2001 and charged with spying for the Soviet Union and Russia, beginning in 1985. Hanssen had attended Mass at the same church as Freeh.[33] Freeh called the security breach "exceptionally grave" and appointed a panel, led by former FBI and Central Intelligence Agency head William Webster, to review the damage done by Hanssen's espionage.[34]

Hanssen was arrested on FEBRUARY 18, 2001, at Foxstone Park[5] near his home in the Washington, D.C. suburb of Vienna, Virginia, after leaving a package of classified materials at a dead drop site. He was charged with selling U.S. intelligence documents to the Soviet Union

Freeh was nominated by President George H. W. Bush on April 9, 1991, to a seat on the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York vacated by Judge Richard J. Daronco. He was confirmed by the United States Senate on May 24, 1991, and received commission on May 30, 1991. His service terminated on August 31, 1993, due to resignation.[9]

Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (1993-2001)

Shortly before and during Freeh's tenure, the FBI was involved in a number of high-profile incidents and internal investigations. Writing about Freeh in 2011, Reuters wrote that Freeh "faced widespread criticism for a series of high-profile blunders" during his tenure as FBI Director.[15]

Freeh was an FBI Special Agent from 1975 to 1981 in the New York City field office and at FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C. In 1981, he joined the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York as an Assistant United States Attorney. Subsequently, he held positions there as Chief of the Organized Crime Unit, Deputy United States Attorney, and Associate United States Attorney. He was also a first lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve.[8][9]

As a youth, Freeh became an Eagle Scout in 1963 and in 1995 was awarded the Distinguished Eagle Scout Award by the Boy Scouts of America.[10][11]

TWA Flight 800

(from Main article: TWA Flight 800)

On July 17, 1996, TWA Flight 800 exploded and crashed into the Atlantic Ocean, killing all 230 persons on board. The following day, the FBI commenced a parallel investigation in spite of the National Transportation Safety Board having "priority over any investigation by another department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States Government", as stated in 49 U.S.C. § 1131.

Subsequently, FBI agents blocked attempts by the NTSB to interview witnesses, according to a copy of a safety board report obtained by Aviation Week & Space Technology. One month after the explosion, chemists at the FBI crime laboratory in Washington found traces of PETN, an explosive component of bombs and surface-to-air missiles.[

Nevertheless, on NOVEMBER 18, 1997, the FBI (along with the CIA and in press conference) closed its (their) investigation(s) by announcing that “no evidence has been found which would indicate that a criminal act was the cause of the tragedy of TWA flight 800.”

Almost three years later, in August 2000, the NTSB published its final report which stated that “the probable cause of the TWA flight 800 accident was an explosion of the center wing fuel tank (CWT), resulting from ignition of the flammable fuel/air mixture in the tank.”[28]

Murder of Pregenant Laci Peterson on her due date retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Laci Denise Peterson (née Rocha; MAY 4, 1975 - December 24, 2002)[1] was an American woman who was the subject of a highly publicized murder case after she disappeared while eight months pregnant with her first child. She was reportedly last seen alive on December 24, 2002.

L.A. TIMES ARCHIVES NOV. 18, 2003 12 AM PT FROM ASSOCIATED PRESS

MODESTO - Prosecutors may use mitochondrial DNA extracted from hair found in Scott Peterson’s boat in their attempt to prove he killed his pregnant wife and dumped her body in San Francisco Bay, a judge ruled Monday.

Mitochondrial DNA has rarely been used as evidence in California court cases and it can’t provide a definitive match. The defense challenged the evidence as unreliable.

Laci Denise Rocha was born May 4, 1975,[1][5] to Sharon and Dennis Robert Rocha,[6] who had met in high school,[7] and owned a dairy farm west of Escalon, California.[5] Sharon named Laci after a pretty girl she met in high school. Laci’s older brother, Brent Rocha, was born in 1971.[7] Laci worked on the farm from a young age, and also enjoyed gardening with her mother, an activity with which she developed an appreciation for plant life that influenced her later life. Sharon and Dennis divorced when Laci and her brother Brent were young. Sharon and the children moved to Modesto, though the children visited the dairy farm on weekends.[1][5] Sharon eventually married Ron Grantski, who helped raise Laci and Brent from the time Laci was two years old.

But Stanislaus County Superior Court Judge Al Girolami said prosecutors could tell a jury that chances are the mitochondrial DNA from that specific strand of hair could be found in one out of every 112 Caucasians.

The ruling came in the fourth week of the preliminary hearing to determine whether there's enough evidence against Peterson to warrant a murder trial.

Laci was a cheerleader in junior high and high school. After graduating from Thomas Downey High School, she attended California Polytechnic State University,[5] where she majored in ornamental horticulture While at California Polytechnic, Laci would sometimes visit a friend who worked at a restaurant in Morro Bay called the Pacific Café. There, she met her friend's coworker, Scott Peterson, in mid-1994. Laci made the first move, sending Scott her phone number, and immediately after meeting him, she told her mother that she had met the man that she would marry. Scott later called Laci and they began dating, their first date being a deep-sea fishing trip on which Laci got seasick.[5] As Laci's relationship with Scott grew more serious, he put aside his dreams of professional golf in order to focus on a business path.[11] The couple dated for two years, and eventually moved in together.

While Scott finished his senior year, Laci took a job in nearby Prunedale. Prosecutors have stated that around this time, Scott engaged in the first of at least two extramarital affairs, though they have not revealed a name or details of this first relationship. After her graduation, the couple married at Sycamore Mineral Springs Resort in San Luis Obispo County's Avila Valley[9][12] on AUGUST 9, 1997 [c. Obama children date.] Peterson graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural business in June 1998.[9] After their graduations, the Petersons opened a sports bar in San Luis Obispo called The Shack.[5][9][11] Business was initially slow, but eventually improved, especially on weekends.[9] The Petersons decided to put The Shack up for sale when they moved to Laci's hometown of Modesto, California to start a family,[5][11] In October 2000, they purchased a three-bedroom, two-bath bungalow house for $177,000 on Covena Avenue in an upscale neighborhood near East La Loma Park.[9][11] They sold the Shack in April 2001.

Laci soon took a part-time job as a substitute teacher,[11] and Scott got a job with Tradecorp U.S.A., a newly founded subsidiary of a European fertilizer company, in which Scott earned a salary of $5,000 a month before taxes.[15] Laci's family, including her mother and younger sister, related that she worked enthusiastically at being the perfect housewife, enjoying cooking and entertaining, and that she and her family welcomed the news in 2002 that she was pregnant.[11] Laci's due date was February 10, 2003.[16][17] The couple had planned to name their son Conner.[17][18] In November 2002, when Laci was seven months pregnant, Scott was introduced by a friend to a Fresno massage therapist named Amber Frey. In later public statements, Frey said Scott told her he was single, and the two began a romantic relationship. The last time Scott's parents saw Laci was during a three-day weekend they spent together in Carmel, California the week before Christmas 2002.

It was thought that his motive behind the murders was his desire to be with his girlfriend Amber Frey. [similar to Jodi Foster setting up Hinkly Jr.?]

The San Diego native was accused of murdering his wife and unborn child after she was reported missing back in December of 2002.

His arrest came in April of 2003 when the remains of a women and fetus were found on the shoreline of the San Francisco Bay, only a few miles from where Peterson had said he was on the Christmas Eve she went missing.

Following his arrest, Amber Frey, a Fresno massage therapist, came forward about their affair that started in November of 2002 and later testified that Peterson told her he was a widower.

Prosecution claimed that Peterson had used the same cement used on his driveway to make anchors that pulled his wife's body to the bottom of San Francisco Bay.

Frey, now 46-years-old, has gone on to return to a somewhat normal life following the Scott Peterson trial.

Today, she is still a practicing massage therapist (as she was when she first met Scott Peterson).

She formerly owned a day spa in California, but Euphoria Day Spa went bankrupt sometime in 2015.

She's a mother of two children: Ayiana Frey and Justin Dean Markovich.

The father of Ayiana Frey is Christopher Funch, a restaurateur. Her former boyfriend Anthony Flores paid years of child support for Frey under the guise that he was the father of Frey, but a paternity test revealed that Funch was the father.

In 2006, Frey married police officer Robert Hernandez. The couple divorced in 2008.

Some Believe Marina Abramovic Is the Satanic Ringleader of a Global Political Conspiracy. That's Ludicrous. But Here's What They Get Right retrieved from Artnet News news.artnet.com and copied or modified to here

The rest of Out of Shadows is essentially a series of long digressions through the staging of the Gulf of Tonkin incident, the CIA’s experimentation with LSD for interrogation purposes, and Sammy Davis Jr.’s flirtation with the Church of Satan (all of which are true enough, though tenuously connected).

Marina Abramović first makes an appearance at the 46-minute mark, shown briefly in a picture with Jared Leto as the film points to the fact that the Suicide Squad actor lives in a Laurel Canyon mansion that was once used as a military propaganda studio as evidence of contemporary Hollywood’s infernal connections. By the end of the film, though, Abramović will serve as a much bigger symbol.

hough its atmosphere was more like a rich theater kid’s Goth-themed birthday than an actual Luciferian rite, An Artist’s Life Manifesto was perfectly engineered to be a symbol of alienating decadence for anyone looking in who was actually angry about the disintegrating state of the world.

The point is that an intimation of truth animates a lot of this conspiracizing: there really is an arrogant elite that acts with impunity; the CIA really has done unconscionably horrible things; the corporate media absolutely is totally warped by money and power in ways that compromise it.

The easy impulse to dismiss Out of Shadows or its ilk as “tinfoil hat” material is actually destructive if it comes off as if it is dismissing any of these real and really felt facts.

An actually spooky moment in Out of Shadows comes when the film shows one local news anchor after another earnestly parroting the exact same script, illustrating its point of a secret pattern in the media. This glitch-in-the-matrix type moment would read as a too-on-the-nose parody of Noam Chomsky and Edward Herman’s old thesis in Victoria was active on blogs and newspapers in the constitutional arena. She was an excellent researcher, particularly in the area of ancestry. One of the last emails The Post & Email received from her stated that she had found evidence that the records of Madelyn Payne Dunham and Stanley Armour Dunham had been “tampered with.”

Victoria had also performed extensive research on the background of then-presidential candidate Rick Santorum in an attempt to determine if he met the definition of “natural born Citizen” found in Article II, Section 1, clause 5 of the U.S. Constitution.

V Corps

After Nazi Germany declared war on the United States on 11 December 1941, the corps deployed (January 1942) the first American soldiers to the European Theater of Operations, United States Army. That initial deployment was known as the U.S. Army Northern Ireland Force or MAGNET. On 6 June 1944, V Corps assaulted Omaha Beach, Normandy. Corps soldiers then broke out from the beachhead, liberated Paris and Sedan, Ardennes, and raced to the German border. After liberating Luxembourg, V Corps fought in the Battle of the Bulge, captured Leipzig, made first contact with the Red Army at Torgau, and, south in Czechoslovakia, liberated Plzeň by May 1945.

U.S. GENERAL, AIDES DIE IN HELICOPTER CRASH IN GERMANY

Washington Post

BONN, FEB. 24 1993 — A senior U.S. Army commander in Europe and two top aides were killed Tuesday night in an Army helicopter crash at a U.S. military base in Germany, officials said today.

[Like SEAL Team 6 on EXTORTION17 about to get some cloning news.]

Maj. Gen. Jarrett J. Robertson, 52, the deputy commanding general of V Corps, died when an Army UH-60 Blackhawk helicopter crashed as it attempted to land at Wiesbaden air base. Also killed were Col. William J. Densberger, 47, the corps' chief of operations and plans; Col. Robert J. Kelly, 48, its chief of intelligence; and Spec. Gary L. Rhodes, 23, the helicopter crew chief.

A Call From Home, A Loss Hits Home

https://vawarmemorial.org/a-call-from-home-a-loss-hits-home/

Major General Robertson, died FEBRUARY 22 1993 in a fiery Blackhawk hekicptor crash

A message was delivered to my barracks room in late February of 1993. It said simply "call home." As I made my way down to the payphones in the concourse, where all VMI cadets had to go to make a call, I wondered what the news would be. Perhaps my parents were on the move again to the next military base. Maybe some ROTC paperwork for me had been mistakenly mailed to them (a common occurrence.)

When my father answered the phone back home, he instead told me that he had some “very sad news.” A couple days before, a Black Hawk helicopter had crashed near Wiesbaden, Germany killing four servicemen and badly burning four others. One of those killed in the accident was US Army Major General Jarrett J. Robertson.

My heart sank. I did not know General Robertson personally, but I certainly knew of him. One of his daughters, Hayley, was a good friend of mine from high school. We had shared stories of growing up as Army kids, from my time playing in the German woods to her great dislike of the huge cockroaches in El Paso, Texas. We talked about our dads, both tankers. We looked up to them. Now, suddenly, her dad was gone. And since I talked a lot about Hayley when I was at home (let’s just say I was a big fan) my dad just thought I should know.

Soldiers like Jarrett Robertson aren’t supposed to die in freak accidents. General Robertson was what we in the Army would call a “badass.” He received the Silver Star for valor in Vietnam while serving as a cavalry troop commander, one of two combat tours. He ran the Operations Group at the National Training Center in California and commanded the 3rd Armored Cavalry “Brave Rifles” Regiment. He helped lead the 1st Armored Division to victory in the Persian Gulf War as Assistant Division Commander (temporarily assigned from the 3rd Infantry Division.) At the time of his death, he was the Deputy Commanding General for US Army V Corps. A former commander described Robertson as “a superb soldier and great cavalryman” who displayed “an infectious confidence.” My father, who knew him, put it simply, “he was a great, great guy.” Leaders such as this - badasses - are expected to grow old and tell war stories or, perhaps, to die on the battlefield. The fact that this warrior was lost to a helicopter crash, during peacetime, has always seemed wrong to me - and unfair.

COLONEL ROBERT KELLY
US Army (Deceased)

COL Kelly entered the Army in 1967 after graduating from Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts. His first assignment was as an Armor Platoon Leader with the 2d Battalion, 33d Armor, 1st Brigade, 3rd Armored Division. Upon completion of his first tour, he reverted to Military Intelligence (MI) and was assigned to First Field Force, Republic of Vietnam, where he was involved in the evolution of Signals Intelligence on the battlefield.

After a tour as an Instructor with the Intelligence Center and School, COL Kelly was assigned as the Officer in Charge of an intelligence field office in Giessen, Germany. He was later assigned to the Headquarters, 165th MI Battalion, Frankfurt, Germany, as the Special Operations Officer. His next assignment brought him to Fort Lewis as the S2, 2d Brigade, 9th Infantry Division. After two years, he was reassigned as the G2 Operations Officer, 9th Infantry Division. He left Fort Lewis in 1980 for a one year tour in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, where he was the Team Chief assigned to instruct Saudi officers in S2 functions.

(1) In 1988, when Bill Clinton was sitting as governor, two 17-year olds, Don Henry and Kevin Ives, were run over by a freight train. Clinton¹s Medical Examiner, Dr. Falmy Malak, first ruled the deaths a double suicide, citing a pact between the two boys, but later ruled the cause of death to be accidental. He said the boys were “in a deep sleep on the railroad tracks, under the influence of marijuana.”

At the insistence of Mrs. Linda Ives, the bodies were exhumed and examined by Dr. Joesph Burton, Chief Medical Examiner from Atlanta. Dr. Burton Discovered that Henry had been stabbed in the back and Ives had his skull crushed, leading to the conclusion that the “wounds were so clearly evident, the Malak ruling was no simple mistake.”

The boys were believed to have stumbled upon a huge drug transaction at Mena Airport. Five others thought to have had information on the murders were subsequently found dead. Keith Coney was killed in a motorcycle accident while fleeing an unknown attacker. Keith McCaskell was stabbed. Richard Winters, Jeff Rhodes and Gregory Collins were shot in the head. JEFF

RHODES - He had information on the deaths of Ives, Henry & McKaskle. His burned body was found in a trash dump in April 1989. He died of a gunshot wound to the head and there was some body mutilation, specifically that his hands and feet had been partially sawn off, leading to the speculation that he was tortured prior to being killed. The body was then burned.

(2) Personnel aboard the crashed helicopter were not a regular team. They were a make-up crew assigned to replace the scheduled crew that was scratched at the last minute for reasons unknown. Three minutes after takeoff from Quantico, at 12:46 pm, May 19, 1993, their copter crashed into a wooded area in Maryland. Archeologist Frank Owens, who happened to be nearby, was the first person at the crash site. What he saw was most bizarre. All four crew members apparently burned to death, yet their hair was not singed, their uniforms were not scorched, and there was no fire aboard the mangled helicopter. Also, there was very little bleeding despite the fact that the men suffered many deep lacerations.

Marine and JAG officers investigating the crash would not take a statement from Owens. Polices records pertaining to the incident were confiscated by the feds. Officially, there was no crash. Owens conducted his own investigation. The data he collected over the next two years lead to the conclusion that the flight crew was zapped by a powerful microwave beam from a Directed Energy Weapon (DEW) developed for the military. The burns were produced internally be the electromagnetic heating effect upon body fluids. Blood loss from lacerations was limited due to internal cauterization.

Just recently, Frank Owens received an anonymous call from someone whose voice he recognized as someone who is deep in government. The caller stated that the shoot-down was deliberate; that “the bodies of the people that were killed, other than the pilot, were dead before the helicopter crashed”; that Owen’s phone calls are being monitored, and every one he talks to is at risk; and that “if you go forward with this, there is a chance that you and your family will be killed.”

(3) According to Eustace Mullins,

> The establishment approved version of Admiral Boorda's suicide is that he could not face being asked about the decorations he had worn and that suicide was the only way out. This ignored the fact that Boorda had removed the decorations months before when a question was raised about them. The inside story is that although Boorda had been tipped off that he would be asked about the Pollard association (Pollard was sentenced to life in prison without parole for selling the Navy Department's innermost secrets to Israel), he had only to deny it, and it would probably not appear in the printed interview. However, Mossad, informed of the approaching interview, decided that Clinton[1]s perspective pardon of Pollard would be canceled if the question was raised at all. In accordance with their policy of 'minimizing risks', Tel Aviv ordered that the interview not take place. A Mossad operative followed Boorda, shot him in the chest, and went on his way.

(4) Nicholas A. Guerino, newsletter publisher of The Wall Street Underground , compiled a detailed and revealing report on the crash that killed Commerce Secretary Brown and the 35 others. His evidence lead him to the conclusion that the radio beacon guiding Air Force-2 was deliberately diverted to send the plane into the mountain.

Among the incredible anomalies that he cites is the fact that, on orders from high, the customary air safety investigation of plane crashes was killed. Croatian, Russian, and French TV and the U.S. European command in Stuttgart, Germany announced that the 'black boxes' containing the flight date recorder and the cockpit voice recorder were recovered and delivered to the U.S. Marines.

However, Pentagon brass later denied this and stated that Air Force-2 was not equipped with flight data and voice recorders (Interestingly, an LA talkradio station took a call from a man who identified himself as the electronics technical expert who stated he personally installed the ‘black boxes’ in AirForce-2 and completely ridiculed the Pentagon statement that the plane that had carried Hillary Clinton less than two weeks earlier on her trip to Europe was suddenly not equipped with flight date and voice recorders; as mentioned earlier, Maintenance Chief Niko Jerkuic, in charge of the radio beacon that guided guided Air Force-2 committed ‘suicide’ shortly after the crash).

Guerino listed a number of shake-down, payolas, and scams for which Brown was under investigation by the FDIC, a special investigator for the Justice Department, the Congressional Reform and Oversight Committee, and others. Four days before the crash, FBI and IRS agents subpoenaed as many as 20 witnesses for a Grand Jury probe of Brown. Attempts to quash the investigation were thwarted by Pennsylvania Representative William F. Klinger, Jr., Chairman of the House Government Reform and Oversight Committee, who revealed incriminating documents. Brown is said to have gone ballistic, and told Clinton that he wasn’t going to take the rap. Sayonara Ron Brown.

January and Feburary 2006

Hastings: Andi sent me this email shortly after our IM exchange ended:

Andi: That’s why I can’t see every day; the level of such extreme torture and gross indifference to human life.

And that’s why I worry about you and wonder if you ar are holding up because it is and you are such an empathetic sponge.

You absorb it all, and I know it weighs heavy on your mind and heart even if you don’t admit it.

Its hard to be a witness to human suffering and even harded ro realize there is no clear plan, or even hope, to put an end to it.

Twain once said trying to establish peace is nearly impossible because you have to be able to tame the human race first, and history seems to show that canot be done.

And particularly, in this war alone, it seems that can not be done.

Hastings: My twenty-sixth birthday comes, January 28. Andi and I talk late into the night about how we’ll celebrate it when we see each other in VIenna in March.

Micheal Hastings and Victoria Windsor Investigating Obama origins reporting

Micheal Hastings speaks, him quoted and speaking in the first person

How ironic that they accuse Trump of Russia involvement when it was they who conspired with Russia to produce a polished liar and charlatan to unleash on an unsuspecting and naïve nation.

Irony has nothing to do with it. Brennan's carefully-laid plan was to use CIA-linked Columbia University to provide cover for Obama and pad a nice résumé for him.

In the meantime no one ever saw Obama at Columbia because Barry Soetoro was attending the Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow, named for Patrice Lumumba, the anti-colonialist who fought for Congo's independence from Belgium and was assassinated for his troubles.

He remains a martyr for his radical e?orts and revered in Russia as a communist sympathizer. The name of the university has since changed to "People's Friendship University of Moscow" to shed the radical connotation of Lumumba.

While Victoria [Windsor] and I were researching the Columbia discrepancies we got a lead that Barry had been in Moscow during the years 1981-83 at Lamumba.

"Barry" being BHO or Harrack Obama Jr.]

I was skeptical. Something this big surely would be splayed everywhere in our underground conservative online news outlets. I went to the PLU website and clicked on "Famous Alumni."

At the top of the list was Mahmood Abbas, President of the Palestinian Authority, or better-known as Chairman of the terrorist organization the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). It was the second name on the list that rocked me to my core: Barry Soetoro, President of the United States. I swear on all things holy that it was there. I saw it and Victoria took a screenshot on her computer.

Immediately prior to his death, Hastings had published a strong critique of the Obama administration titled “Why Democrats Love to Spy on Americans,” which exposed the party’s hypocrisy regarding some of the civil liberty overreaches they had criticized under Bush but embraced under Obama. San Diego 6 News reported that Hastings had been investigating CIA Director John Brennan for an upcoming exposé prior to the crash.

Hastings, the author of that Rolling Stone interview that led to the sacking of General McChrystal, is not happy with President Obama’s foreign-policy speech, saying Obama ”enshrines killing people and spying on journalists as the two major tenets of his national-security state.” And then he called MSNBC contributor Perry Bacon, Jr. a “stenographer” for the White House.

By winning more than 52% of the vote in a seven-candidate Senate primary in Illinois last year, Barack Obama instantly made his name in political circles. And after delivering a lyrical speech last July at the Democratic National Convention—he declared that the "audacity of hope" and the "insistence on small miracles" unite Americans more than blue or red states divide them—the self-proclaimed "skinny kid with a funny name" became one of the most admired politicians in America. Even before his election last November as the Senate's third black member since Reconstruction, Obama's memoir had landed on best-seller lists, groups from all around the country had invited him to speak, and everyone began asking when he would run for President.

Obama, 43, son of a black Kenyan immigrant and a white woman from Kansas, grew up in Hawaii and attended Columbia University and Harvard Law School, where he became the first African-American president of the Harvard Law Review. Rather than take a high-paying corporate-law job, he headed to Chicago to work at a small civil rights firm and later entered politics. In the Illinois state legislature, Obama developed a reputation for bipartisanship, notably winning support for a law requiring police to

Boston Mob MKULTRA Inmate Silenced

In 1956, Bulger served his first term in federal prison at Atlanta Penitentiary for armed robbery and truck hijacking. He later told mobster Kevin Weeks[31] that while there, he was involuntarily used as a human subject in the CIA sponsored MK-ULTRA program. He was told the goal was to help find a cure for schizophrenia when in fact the goal was to research mind control drugs for the CIA.[32]

'Whitey' Bulger Beaten to Death With 'Lock-in-a-Sock' retrieved from The Daily Beastk and copied or modified to here

The inmates who brutally murdered mob boss James “Whitey” Bulger moved out of the view of surveillance cameras before pummeling him to death using a padlock stuffed inside a sock until he was “unrecognizable,” law-enforcement officials have revealed. However, cameras caught at least two inmates rolling Bulger, 89, who was in a wheelchair, into the corner where he was beaten to death. Bulger’s eyes were dislodged from his head although it’s not known if his attackers gouged them out or if they were knocked out of his skull by the beating. “They apparently tuned him up to the point where he was unrecognizable,” said one anonymous law-enforcement official said to be familiar with the details. One suspect, Fotios “Freddy” Geas, is a Mafia hitman said to hate informers like Bulger. An investigation is underway into how the murder was allowed to happen.

James Joseph “Whitey” Bulger Jr. (/ˈbʌldʒər/; September 3, 1929 - October 30, 2018) was an American organized crime boss and FBI informant who led the Winter Hill Gang in the Winter Hill neighborhood of Somerville, Massachusetts, a city directly northwest of Boston.[2][3] On December 23, 1994, Bulger fled the Boston area and went into hiding after his former FBI handler, John Connolly, tipped him off about a pending RICO indictment against him. Bulger remained at large for sixteen years. After his 2011 arrest, federal prosecutors tried Bulger for nineteen murders based on the grand jury testimony from Kevin Weeks and other former criminal associates.

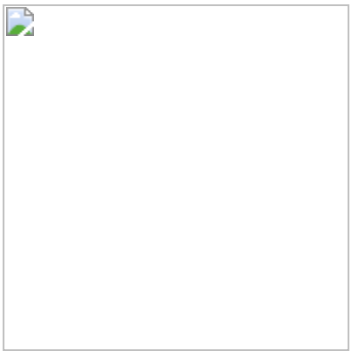
Whitey Bulger’s mugshot on the day he was sent to Alcatraz, NOV. 15, 1959.



Bulger was involved in at least 11 murders, extortion, racketeering, and drug trafficking - but he is not known to have ever killed anyone before the CIA dosed him at least 50 times with the powerful, mind-altering hallucinogenic while he was a prisoner in Atlanta in the 1950s. He agreed to be part of the program, called MKUltra Project, in exchange for a lighter sentence.

Following his 2013 conviction, Bulger wrote in some of his 70-plus prison letters to juror Janet Uhlar that the fact that he was pressured to join the CIA's program was never mentioned by his lawyers during his trial. He believed that this information might help explain why he became as violent a man as he did.

The Marshals Service supports communities by transferring certain types of forfeited assets to state, local and nonprofit organizations. Through the Operation Goodwill program, forfeited real or personal property of marginal value can be transferred to state or local governments in support of drug abuse treatment, drug crime prevention and education, housing, job skills and other community-based public health and safety programs.

The Marshalls seize assets they will use themselves in self funding and also will sieze for vicitms and also seize to disrupt or cripple activities of ongoing criminals.

The Judge Roll death related to these siezures and Marshalls were also assigned to protect him.

U.S. Department of Justice

Fact Sheet

Asset Forfeiture

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program has four primary goals: (1) Punish and deter criminal activity by depriving criminals of property used in or acquired through illegal activities; (2) Promote and enhance cooperation between federal, state, local, tribal and foreign law enforcement agencies; (3) Recover assets that may be used to compensate victims when authorized under federal law; and (4) Ensure the program is administered professionally, lawfully and in a manner consistent with sound public policy.
- Agencies participating in the program investigate, identify, seize and forfeit the assets of criminals and their organizations while ensuring that due process rights of property owners are protected.
- The U.S. Marshals Service serves as the primary custodian of seized property for the program. The Marshals identify and evaluate assets and manage and dispose of the majority of the assets seized and forfeited through the program.

Value of assets on hand as of Sept. 30, 2017 $1.8 billion 14,800 assets.

Amount distributed to victims of crime and claimants in fiscal 2017 $144.7 million Amount shared with participating state and local law enforcement agencies in fiscal 2017

Donald W. Washington Director

Donald W. Washington was nominated by President Donald J. Trump to lead the United States Marshals Service (USMS) on Oct 2, 2018. The United States Senate confirmed his nomination on March 14, 2019, and Washington was sworn in as the 11th Director of the USMS on March 29, 2019. As the leader of America's oldest federal law enforcement agency, Director Washington directs a force of more than 5,000 operational and administrative employees spanning 94 districts, 218 sub-offices and four foreign field offices. Additionally, as the USMS holds a central position in the federal justice system, Director Washington is responsible for all operations involving federal judicial security, fugitive apprehension, witness security, asset forfeiture, and prisoner operations.

Director Washington began his career as an engineer at Conoco, Inc. After completing law school, he served in both corporate and private practice, litigating issues as varied as employment discrimination to tort, criminal, commercial and business issues. In 2001, President George W. Bush appointed him U.S. Attorney for Western Louisiana, a 42-parish federal jurisdiction that includes Lafayette, Shreveport, Alexandria, Monroe and Lake Charles. Washington served on several U.S. Attorney General's Advisory Committees, as well as subcommittees on Anti-Terrorism, Civil Rights, Controlled Substances, and Native American Issues. Washington also served as the Chairman of the Southeastern U.S. Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force. In 2010, he returned to private practice in Lafayette, Louisiana.

Derrick Driscoll Tapped as USMS Acting Deputy Director

Acting Deputy Director Derrick DriscollWashington - Derrick Driscoll received approval as U.S. Marshals Service acting deputy director by Attorney General William Barr April 23, announced USMS Director Donald Washington.

Driscoll most recently held the post of associate director for operations and oversaw global investigative and security operations for the agency, since December 2017. Prior to assuming these duties, Driscoll served as assistant director of the Investigative Operations Division from 2014-2017, as well as assistant director and deputy assistant director of the Tactical Operations Division from 2012-2014. He oversaw the creation of the agency's Sex Offender Investigations Branch and formation of the National Sex Offender Targeting Center. Additionally, Driscoll served as chief deputy U.S. marshal for the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, one of the agency's busiest district offices. HE STARTED HIS CAREER WITH THE AGENCY AS A DEPUTY MARSHAL THERE IN MARCH 1997.

Driscoll's law enforcement career began in 1994 with the HAMDEN COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT IN SPRINGFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS. He earned a Master of Science degree in Criminal Justice with a concentration in Security Management from the University of New Haven.

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program is a key component of the federal government's law enforcement efforts to combat major criminal activity by disrupting and dismantling illegal enterprises, DEPRIVING CRIMINALS OF THE PROCEEDS OF

ILLEGAL ACTIVITY, DETERRING CRIME AND RESTORING PROPERTY TO VICTIMS.

- The U.S. Marshals Service plays a critical role in identifying and evaluating assets that represent the proceeds of crime as well as efficiently managing and selling assets seized and forfeited by DOJ.

- The Marshals Service manages a wide array of assets, including real estate, commercial businesses, cash, financial instruments, vehicles, jewelry, art, antiques, collectibles, vessels and aircraft.

- Proceeds generated from asset sales are used to operate the program, compensate victims and support various law enforcement efforts.

- The Marshals manage the distribution of proceeds and payments to victims of crime and other innocent third parties, all of which helps to mitigate the financial damage inflicted by criminal activity. The agency employs best practices from private industry to ensure that assets are managed and sold in an efficient and cost-effective manner.

- THE MARSHALS SERVICE SUPPORTS COMMUNITIES BY TRANSFERRING CERTAIN TYPES OF FORFEITED ASSETS TO STATE, LOCAL AND NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS. Through the Operation Goodwill program, forfeited real or personal property of marginal value can be transferred to state or local governments in support of drug abuse treatment, drug crime prevention and education, housing, job skills and other community-based public health and safety programs.

- The Asset Forfeiture Program was created in 1984 when Congress passed the Comprehensive Crime Control Act, which provided federal prosecutors and agents the legal and regulatory tools necessary to keep up with, and ahead of, those who commit crime for economic benefit.

- DOJ Asset Forfeiture Program participants include the Asset Forfeiture and Money Laundering Section of the Department of Justice Criminal Division; U.S. Marshals Service; Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives; Drug Enforcement Administration; FBI; and U.S. Attorneys' Offices. Other participants include the U.S. Postal Inspection Service; Food and Drug Administration; Department of Agriculture Office of the Inspector General; Department of State Bureau of Diplomatic Security; and Defense Criminal Investigative Service.

SARAH BERKLEY - Author of “The Jihad at the Ballot Box” - a book examining Obama’s relationship with radical Islam. Died in a mysterious car crash in 2003.

RUSSELL MCDOUGAL - Former FBI operative, January 23rd, 2007. McDougal was known to hold sensitive information about meetings Barack Obama had with arms smugglers. His wife was murdered March 2006 after he went public with his initial reports. His father died July 8, 2006 four hours after McDougal presented his findings on the Savage Nation. Suffered administrative retaliation after reporting discussions by jihadist groups concerning Obama to his superiors.

RODRIGO VILLALOPEZ, a television news camera man who shot the footage of Obama describing small town voters as “bitter” and “clinging to their guns during the primary season.

BRIAN GORING - A defense attorney for Obama patron Antoin Rezko during his trial for extortion and bribery. Died of apparent “natural causes.”

MERCEDES HUGLEY, one of Obama’s many white, female conquests while at Harvard. Filed sexual assault charges against Obama for date rape in 1990. Because “date rape” was not considered a crime like it is today, she ended up dropping the charges. Two years later, she was found dead of an apparent cocaine overdose.

TAMIKA HILL - A former secretary for Obama’s office in Chicago was murdered July 6, 2005 at a rib shack in the south side. Hill had spoken off the record with a reporter from the Chicago Sun Times about meetings Obama had with black militants in the city. She was murdered before she could ever be properly interviewed.

HASAD AL SHAREEZ - FBI informant. Reported to his handler in January 2001 that he had a tape about of a person named simply “B. Hussein” meeting with 9/11 hijacker Mohatma Atta in Prague. Was found shot in the basement of a mosque in Dearborn, MI in October, 2001.

DARSANO RAHARDJO - Childhood classmate of Barack Obama when he attended a madrassa in Indonesia. Was found with his head cut off in a Jakarta alley way in 1970. Many children at the school attributed Rahardjo’s murder to the young Barack Obama. It was likely done as an initiation ritual, since Islam demands that a boy spill another’s blood before the age of ten to prove their loyalty to Allah.

REVEREND DAVID MANNING - Former head of the Trinity Baptist Church in Chicago. Was murdered during the apparent robbery of a catfish restaurant in 1972. Shortly afterwards, Rev. Jeremiah Wright took over as head of Trinity and a many parishoners (who later left the church) suspected Wright in having a hand in Reverend Manning’s death. Decades later, Manning’s son JAMAL MANNING was found dead of an apparent crack overdose in 2004. It was rumored he was going to bring evidence of Wright’s complicity in his father’s death. His testimony was timed to coincide with Obama’s first senate race.

CHRISTOPHER HARGROVE, A former lover of Larry Sinclair. Found dead in a hotel room of apparent auto-erotic asphyxiation in January 2001. Was said to have been enraged when he found out that Sinclair had cheated on Jackson with Obama in the back of a limousine. To get revenge, Jackson planned to release digital pictures Sinclair had taken of the encounter on the Internet.

PAUL ROTHCHILD - Democrat National Committee Political Director found dead in a hotel room in Washington DC in 2003. A “friend and trusted advisor” to senatorial candidate Barack Obama. Dead of an apparent suicide.

CURTIS “POOKIE” JACKSON - Chicago drug dealer. Was the subject of a police investigation in which he was suspected of funneling money to Obama’s many various community projects. Killed in 1998 in an apparent gang murder.

HARVEY KENYON - Head of Obama’s senatorial security team in Chicago. Gunned down in his car at a deserted intersection outside of Grant Park in 2005. Kenyon's son said his father was building a dossier on Obama. He allegedly threatened to reveal this information. After he died the files were mysteriously removed from his house

SHEILA BAUGH - A Washington DC madame. Died from a gunshot wound. Reported to have a black book of people containing names of influential people who visited the prostitutes in her brothel. One of those names was allegedly Barack Obama KEYSHAWN "SPOON" CALWORTH - Was found dead of an apparent heroin overdose May 18, 1997. Was reported to have ties to Rev. Jeremiah Wright.

LAWSHAWNA MARTIN- 26 year old mother of five, a Cabrini Green resident with a history of substance abuse. Told two of her co-workers at the Blue Peppermint Gentleman's Club that she would have to quit work because she was pregnant again. Strongly implied that the "baby daddy" was Barack Obama. The next week, she was reported missing. No body was ever recovered, but Lawshana has not resurfaced since making those remarks.

BILL FERGUSON- Senior aide to Barack Obama. Found dead of an apparent heart attack.

GANDY BAUGH - Attorney for Obama friend Antonin Rezko died by falling out an eightieth story window of the Hancock Tower, January, 2003. His client was a convicted Chinese spy.

Neocon General Mattis, Mattis's father moved to Richland, Washington, to work at a plant supplying fissile material to the Manhattan Project.[23]

15 - Suzanne Coleman - On FEBRUARY 15, 1977, Suzanne Coleman committed suicide. She is alleged to have had a sexual affair with Bill Clinton during the time he was Arkansas State Attorney General. Coleman was seven and one-half months pregnant at the time of her death when she shot herself in the back of the head. No autopsy was performed and there is consequently no scientific proof the baby belonged to Bill Clinton.

16 - Paula Grober - Clinton's speech interpreter for the deaf from 1978 until her death DECEMBER 9, 1992. She died in a one car accident.

17 -Danny Casolaro - On AUGUST 10, 1991, Danny Casolaro committed suicide. He was an investigative journalist who had been working to uncover the leads of several then-rumored Clinton scandals including activities at the Mena Airport in Arkansas and Arkansas Development Finance Authority. Casolaro was found dead in his hotel bathroom with both wrists opened though he had repeatedly informed his family and friends if he met such a fate it would not be suicide.

#GunshotsToHead Sightings 8 thru 12. IAN SPIRO AND FAMILY - Spiro INSLAW case. His wife and 3 children were found murdered on November 1, 1992 in their home. They all died of gunshot wounds to the head. Ian Stuart Spiro (Born 14 DECEMBER 1946 #MKULTRA Aug4 1945

His brother-in-law believed the CIA or Mossad was involved in his death.[2]

Police stated that he was a “low-level conduit by United States government intelligence agencies and the United Kingdom’s MI-6” from 1981 to 1986, and the case stirred a conspiracy theory that the family was murdered by assassins or terrorists because of Spiro’s history as an intelligence operative

On November 5, 1992, Spiro’s wife, Gail Spiro, 41, his daughters, Sara, 16, and Dina, 11-as well as their son, Adam, 14, were found shot to death in their beds in their luxurious, rented home in the Covenant section of Rancho Santa Fe, California, north of San Diego. Each had been shot in the head execution-style with a large caliber handgun as they slept. For the ensuing three days, Spiro was the only suspect in the slaying. On the afternoon of the fourth day, Spiro was found dead behind the wheel of his Ford Explorer in a rocky canyon on the western edge of the Anza-Borego Desert. It was subsequently found that he died of cyanide poisoning and the case was officially declared a murder-suicide ostensibly sparked by pressure from the family’s alleged financial problems.

27 - Kevin Ives & Don Henry - Known as “The boys on the track” case. Reports say the boys may have stumbled upon the Mena Arkansas airport drug operation. A controversial case, the initial report of death said, due to falling asleep on railroad tracks. Later reports claim the 2 boys had been slain before being placed on the tracks. Many linked to the case died before their testimony could come before a Grand Jury.

THE FOLLOWING PERSONS HAD INFORMATION ON THE IVES/HENRY CASE:

28. - Keith Coney - Died when his motorcycle slammed into the back of a truck, 7/88.

29. - Keith McMaskle - Died, stabbed 113 times, Nov, 1988

30. - Gregory Collins - Died from a gunshot wound January 1989.

31. - Jeff Rhodes - He was shot, mutilated and found burned in a trash dump in April 1989.

32. - James Milan - Found decapitated. However, the Coroner ruled his death was due to natural causes".

33. - Richard Winters - A suspect in the Ives/Henry deaths. He was killed in a set-up robbery July 1989.

Aldous Huxley retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

On 9 April 1962, Huxley was informed he was elected Companion of Literature by the Royal Society of Literature, the senior literary organisation in Britain, and he accepted the title via letter on 28 April 1962.[64] The correspondence between Huxley and the society is kept at the Cambridge University Library.[64] The society invited Huxley to appear at a banquet and give a lecture at Somerset House, London, in June 1963. Huxley wrote a draft of the speech he intended to give at the society; however, his deteriorating health meant he was not able to attend.[64]

Works

Born into the prominent Huxley family, he graduated from Balliol College, Oxford, with an undergraduate degree in English literature. Early in his career, he published short stories and poetry and edited the literary magazine Oxford Poetry, before going on to publish travel writing, satire, and screenplays. He spent the latter part of his life in the United States, living in Los Angeles from 1937 until his death.[7] By the end of his life, Huxley was widely acknowledged as one of the foremost intellectuals of his time.[8] He was nominated for the Nobel Prize in Literature nine times[9] and was elected Companion of Literature by the Royal Society of Literature in 1962.[10]

Huxley was a pacifist. He grew interested in philosophical mysticism[11][12] and universalism,[13] addressing these subjects with works such as The Perennial Philosophy (1945)-which illustrates commonalities between Western and Eastern mysticism

Death

On his deathbed, unable to speak owing to advanced laryngeal cancer, Huxley made a written request to his wife Laura for “LSD, 100 µg, intramuscular.” According to her account of his death[65] in This Timeless Moment, she obliged with an injection at 11:20 a.m. and a second dose an hour later; Huxley died aged 69, at 5:20 p.m. (Los Angeles time), on 22 November 1963.[66]

Media coverage of Huxley’s death, along with that of fellow British author C. S. Lewis, was overshadowed by the assassination of American President John F. Kennedy on the same day, less than seven hours before Huxley’s death.[67] In a 2009 article for New York magazine titled “The Eclipsed Celebrity Death Club”, Christopher Bonanos wrote:

> The championship trophy for badly timed death, though, goes to a pair of British writers. Aldous Huxley, the author of Brave New World, died the same day as C. S. Lewis, who wrote the Chronicles of Narnia series. Unfortunately for both of their legacies, that day was November 22, 1963, just as John Kennedy’s motorcade passed the Texas School Book Depository. Huxley, at least, made it interesting: At his request, his wife shot him up with LSD a couple of hours before the end, and he tripped his way out of this world.[68]

This coincidence served as the basis for Peter Kreeft’s book Between Heaven and Hell: A Dialog Somewhere Beyond Death with John F. Kennedy, C. S. Lewis, & Aldous Huxley, which imagines a conversation among the three men taking place in Purgatory following their deaths.[69]

Roger Stone Suggests Gas Explosion at Florida Warehouse Was ‘Drone Strike’ Targeting Him retrieved from Newsweek BY JASON LEMON ON 4/24/21 and copied or modified to here

Roger Stone and right-wing radio personality Matthew Erich “Mancow” Muller (known as Mancow Muller) posted a video this week baselessly speculating that Stone had been targeted by a drone strike in Florida.

Stone, a close friend to former President Donald Trump and a well-known conspiracy theorist, has previously described himself as a “dirty trickster.” The Trump loyalist has repeatedly pushed baseless claims about the 2020 election and the so-called “deep state.” He was pardoned by the former president in December after he was sentenced to 40 months in prison in 2020 for lying to Congress and threatening a witness in connection with the investigation into Russia’s meddling in the 2016 election.

“Roger Stone is here with me. We’re two doors down from his office. There was a drone strike in America two days ago,” Muller claims in the video, which was filmed in front of the site of an Oakland Park warehouse that burned down after a fire caused a gas explosion on Wednesday.

“I’m telling you, this is incredible. Why is this not making major news? I’m in Fort Lauderdale,” Muller adds. Oakland Park is a suburb of Fort Lauderdale.

James Holmes, the 24-year old suspect in the mass shooting of Batman "The Dark Knight Rises" movie goers in Aurora, Colorado that left 12 people dead and 58 injured, has had a number of links to U.S. government-funded research centers. Holmes's past association with government research projects has prompted police and federal law enforcement officials to order laboratories and schools with which Holmes has had a past association not to talk to the press about Holmes.

Holmes was one of six recipients of a National Institutes of Health Neuroscience Training Grant at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus in Denver. Holme is a graduate of the University of California at Riverside with a Bachelor of Science degree in neuroscience. Although Holmes dropped out of the PhD neuroscience program at Anschutz in June, police evacuated two buildings at the Anschutz center after the massacre at the Aurora movie theater. Holmes reportedly gave a presentation at the Anschutz campus in May on Micro DNA Biomarkers in a class titled “Biological Basis of Psychiatric and Neurological Disorders.”

Initial reports of Holmes having an accomplice in the theater shooting have been discounted by the Aurora police. However, no explanation has been given by police why the Anschutz campus buildings were evacuated after Holmes was already in custody in the Arapahoe County jail.

he Anschutz Medical Campus is on the recently de-commisioned site of the U.S. Army’s Fitzsimons Army Medical Center and is named after Philip Anschutz, the billionaire Christian fundamentalist oil and railroad tycoon who also owns The Examiner newspaper chain and website and the neo-conservative Weekly Standard. The Anschutz Medical Campus was built by a $91 million grant from the Anschutz Foundation.

In 2006, at the age of 18, Holmes served as a research intern at the Salk Institute at the University of California at San Diego in La Jolla. It is noteworthy that for the previous two years before Holmes worked at the Salk Institute, the research center was partnered with the Defense Advance Research Projects Agency (DARPA), Columbia University, University of California at San Francisco, University of Wisconsin at Madison, Wake Forest University, and the Mars Company (the manufacturers of Milky Way and Snickers bars) to prevent fatigue in combat troops through the enhanced use of epicatechina, a blood flow-increasing and blood vessel-dilating anti-oxidant flavanol found in cocoa and, particularly, in dark chocolate.

The research was part of a larger DARPA program known as the “Peak Soldier Performance Program,” which involved creating brain-machine interfaces for battlefield use, including human-robotic bionics for legs, arms, and eyes. DARPA works closely with the Defense Science Office on projects that include the medical research community. Fitzsimons was at the forefront of DARPA research on the use of brain-connected “neuroprosthetic” limbs for soldiers amputated or paralyzed in combat.

Task Force: Whistleblowers Journey:Live in DC #12 Awan Spy Ring-Conflict Of Interest, Attempting contact with US DA Jessie Liu regarding evidence and conflict of interest in Awan Spy Ring Case.

Liu served as Assistant United States Attorney in the District of Columbia from 2002 to 2006.[4] She worked at the United States Department of Justice during the administration of President George W. Bush from 2006 to 2009. Her roles included deputy chief of staff in the National Security Division, counsel to the Deputy Attorney General, and Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Civil Rights Division.[7]

Liu worked for the transition team of President-elect Donald Trump, and in 2017 became deputy general counsel at the United States Department of the Treasury.[7] In June 2017, President Trump nominated Liu to become the next United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the country's largest U.S. Attorney's office, with more than three hundred prosecutors.[7] Liu was confirmed by the Senate by voice vote in September 2017.[1][8]

While serving as the U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, Liu received criticism from residents and local lawmakers for her record of not prosecuting hate crimes.[9] An investigation by The Washington Post found that under her leadership, hate crime prosecutions and convictions in D.C. were at their lowest point in at least a decade. After much public pressure, her office made more prosecutions for hate crimes in 2019 than it did in all of 2018 and 2017 combined.[10]

In March 2019, President Donald Trump said he would nominate Liu to become United States Associate Attorney General, but she withdrew her name from consideration later that month because the Republican-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee objected to her nomination.[11][12][13]

CRIME | NOVEMBER 14, 2020 10 Strange And Intriguing Conspiracy Theories About Crimes *

Arlis Kay Perry (FEBRUARY 22, 1955 - October 12, 1974)[2] was a 19-year-old American newlywed who was murdered inside Stanford Memorial Church, within the grounds of Stanford University in California, on October 12, 1974. The murder went unsolved for more than forty years before police named Stephen Blake Crawford as the perpetrator following DNA profiling in 2018. Crawford, a security guard at Stanford who purportedly discovered the body, committed suicide before he could be arrested.

In AUGUST 1974, six weeks before her death, the couple married and Arlis moved to the Stanford University campus with her husband, who was a sophomore pre-med student.

To Link Campus Killings

The murder of 19-year-old Arlis Perry yesterday morning was the fourth homicide here in less than two years and the third involving a young woman out alone.

Santa Clara County Sheriff's investigating officers said yesterday they had nothing to link the Perry murder to the earlier slayings, although for the moment they weren't totally ruling out that possibility.

So far, none of the four murders extending back to February 1973, have been solved.

Leslie Marie Perlov, a 21-year-old Stanford graduate and Palo Alto law librarian, was found strangled to death on Feb. 16, 1973, in the foothills behind campus. She had disappeared after work on Feb. 13, and her car was found parked near the entrance to the Old Quarry just off Old Page Mill Road.

Just a little over a year ago, on Sept. 11, 1973, physics student David S. Levine was brutally stabbed to death between 1 and 3 a.m. on a walkway just east of Meyer Undergraduate Library.

Like the others, that case has never been officially solved. But police have never ruled out a theory propounded by San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto that the murder was the work of a cult called the Death Angels that was also supposedly responsible for the so-called Zebra street killings in San Francisco.

A December 1973 murder at UC-Berkeley that closely resembled the Levine slaying was also linked to the Death Angels but, as in the Levine

On AUGUST 4 2020, a large amount of ammonium nitrate stored at the port of the city of Beirut, the capital of Lebanon, exploded, causing at least 207 deaths, 7,500 injuries, and US $15 billion in property damage, and leaving an estimated 300,000 people homeless.

Lloyd's List showed that Rhosus which brought the ammonium nitrate was seized in February 2014, and that it sank without a crew in the breakwaters of the Port of Beirut in February 2018.[14] The New York Times confirmed via multispectral satellite imagery that the ship sank between 16 and 18 FEBRUARY 2018 aside a Beirut pier.[33] Subsequent analysis[by whom?] shows her to still lie there.

A cargo of 2,750 tonnes of ammonium nitrate (equivalent to around 1.1 kilotons of TNT had been stored in a warehouse without proper safety measures for the previous six years, after having been confiscated by the Lebanese authorities from the abandoned ship MV Rhosus.[1] reporting by Der Spiegel has found that it was not Russian national Grechushkin who owned the Rhosus, but rather the Cypriot businessman Charalambos Manoli, who maintained a relationship with the bank used by Hezbollah in Lebanon.[17]

On NOVEMBER 21 2013, the ship made port in Beirut.[18][12][13] Some sources said it was forced to port due to mechanical issues and possibly engine problems,[19][18] while other sources claimed the owner did not have sufficient funds to pay tolls for the Suez Canal and attempted to take on a shipment of heavy machinery in Beirut.[20][21]

The heavy machinery was stacked on top of the doors to the cargo space containing the ammonium nitrate, causing the doors to buckle, which damaged the ship.[22]

When I was in Berlin then, Nazism did not have the reputation which it has now. Nazism? In every system in the world, you can find something good. But Nazism was not Nazism at all.

During the first years of the Kataeb Party, the Party was strongly opposed to having anyone dominate Lebanon. They opposed the pan-Arabists who tried to take over Lebanon and also the French, whom they saw as trying to infiltrate their culture and impose themselves within Lebanon. Mother Jones Magazine Reports

According to Liberty.com, one of the sites perpetuating this latest story, Russian intelligence has outlined the whole nefarious plot in a memo for President Vladimir Putin, detailing the Obama's administration's dispatch of "VIPER teams…which is the acronym for Visible Intermodal Prevention and Response Team, a programme run by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) and whose agents terrify millions of Americans with Nazi-like Gestapo tactics on a daily basis at airports and who report to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS)."

Liberty.com (run by a Florida tea party leader), which echoes the theory promoted by similar sites, maintains that these teams-800 of them, to be precise-are set to "disperse throughout his country in preparation for what Russian intelligence analysts are predicting to be a series of high-profile killings of dissident Americans set to begin as soon as FEBRUARY 22ND." Obama has apparently been emboldened to launch such an operation by the recent federal court ruling upholding his right to kill American citizens with drone strikes without explaining why.

This supposed Russian memo purportedly identifies two gun rights activists who already have been murdered by Obama's death squads: John Noveske, the owner of Noveske Rifleworks, which makes assault weapons, and Keith Ratliff, a cult sensation for his work on FPSRussian, a popular YouTube video channel devoted to high-power weapons and explosives.

Both men were, in fact, killed last month in separate incidents. Noveske died after his 1984 Land Rover crossed the center line in Grants Pass, Oregon and hit some boulders. He wasn't wearing a seat belt and was ejected from the vehicle.

Thomas Bowers was born June 11th, 1964. He passed away NOVEMBER 19TH, 2019, at the age of 55.

For some reason, the Obituary for Michael Bowers is relatively empty.

Thomas was the Executive of Deutsche Bank from 2012 to 2015, and additionally became Epstein's personal banker in 2013.

The Main-Stream Media only covered the Donald Trump connection following the death of Thomas, claiming he worked for Trump. However, Trump used the bank since 1998, almost two decades before Thomas was the Executive. Rosemary Vrablic was the personal banker for Trump.

Initial reports claimed his death was a suicide. He was found hung in his home located in Malibu, California.

Thomas was a possible witness in the Epstein Case against the Clinton Family. it was his job to manage the account of Epstein. He more than likely had information regarding money laundering operations, and possibly the child trafficking operations as well.

The Main-Stream Media spin would have you believe they used the same person. Steven Crowder also covered the Epstein connection here on Louder with Crowder.

Currie's rise in the government bureaucracy began when *Joseph Blatchfor*d became Peace Corps Director in 1969 and needed a new secretary. "The job was a crucial one. PEDESTRIAN DEATH ON I-95 RULED ACCIDENTAL retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

February 14, 1998

Virginia State Police have concluded that Theodore R. Williams Jr. of Fort Washington — the brother of President Clinton's personal secretary, Betty Currie — did not intend to commit suicide when he ran onto Interstate 95 north of Richmond after a traffic accident and was struck and killed by a tractor-trailer.

But they say there is no explanation for why Williams bolted from the highway shoulder after talking to a trooper who was investigating the crash with another truck, which Williams had escaped without injury.

"This has been ruled an accidental death motor-vehicle crash,' " said Mary S. Evans, a state police spokeswoman.

Williams, a 52-year-old building mechanic for the Postal Service, died Dec. 15, weeks before Currie was called before a federal grand jury investigating former White House intern Monica S. Lewinsky. President Clinton attended his funeral Dec. 20.

Evans said investigators thought Williams's death "might have been suicide," but ruled that out after learning that Williams was on his way to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to pick up his daughter.

"That's not usually when people commit suicide — when they have an errand to run," Evans said. She said family members said Williams had not seemed depressed.

She said officials were not aware of Williams's connection to Currie initially but did interview more friends and relatives than they usually would in a traffic case because of the possibility of suicide.

LANCE HERNDON gets the Justice Scalia Ploy- this Clinton Appointee was found BLUDGEONED to DEATH in his bed. A prominent entrepreneur who received a presidential appointment in 1995 Lance Herndon, a 41 year old computer specialist, appeared to have died in his Atlanta mansion's bedroom, under the bedcovers, from a blow to the head. Mr. Herndon had not been shot or stabbed and there was no evidence of forced entry or theft. The home had an elaborate security system. Herndon's relatives said they unbolted the front door to gain entry into the home and discovered his bloody body under the bed covers.

UPI ARCHIVES AUG. 9, 1996 Noted black businesman slain

ROSWELL, Ga., AUG. 9 — Investigators Friday were looking for clues in the beating death of a black businessman who had been hailed by President Clinton as a rising entrepreneurial star. Computer consultant Lance Herndon was found dead Thursday at his upscale home in Roswell, Ga., just north of Atlanta.

Police said Herndon, 41, had died from blunt trauma to the head. Herndon gained fame after he formed Access, Inc., and rapidly built the computer specialty firm into a $3 million per year enterprise.

Clinton had cited Herndon as an innovator and appointed him to the 1995 White House Conference on Small Business. Police said there was no evidence of forced entry into Herndon's large gray mansion, from which he operated his company. It did not appear anything had been stolen, investigators said. Herndon's home was equipped with an elaborate security system but investigators did not know if the equipment was operating at the time of his death.

In 1968, while Roberts was working as a condominium broker, she met and began her involvement with the then-married real estate entrepreneur Harry Helmsley.[17] Two years later, she joined one of Harry's brokerage firms - Brown Harris Stevens - as a senior vice-president. At that time, she was already a millionaire in her own right. Harry divorced his wife of 33 years and married Roberts on April 8, 1972. The marriage may well have saved her career,[18] as several of her tenants had sued her the year before for forcing them to buy condominiums. They won, and she was forced not only to compensate the tenants but to give them three-year leases. Her real estate license was also suspended, so she focused on running Harry's growing hotel empire.[19]

Leona and Harry B. Helmsley Medical Building, the main building of Greenwich Hospital in Greenwich, Connecticut

Supposedly under her influence, Harry began a program of conversion of apartment buildings into condos. He later concentrated on the hotel industry, building the Helmsley Palace Hotel on Madison Avenue. Together, the Helmsleys built a New York real estate empire that included 230 Park Avenue, the Empire State Building, and the Tudor City apartment complex on the East Side, as well as Helmsley-Spear Inc., their management and leasing business. The couple also developed properties that included the Helmsley Palace Hotel, the New York Helmsley Hotel, the Park Lane Hotel, and hotels in Florida and other states. By the beginning of 1989, twenty-three hotels in the chain were directly controlled by Leona Helmsley.[19]

Helmsley's later years were apparently spent in isolation, especially after Harry died in 1997. He left her his entire fortune, including the Helmsley hotels, the Helmsley Palace and the Empire State Building, estimated to be worth well in excess of $5 billion. Her few friends included Patrick Ward, Imelda Marcos, Rodrigo Handall, the Noriega family, and Kathy and Rick Hilton.[34] A 2001 Chicago Sun-Times article depicted her as estranged from her grandchildren and with few friends, living alone in a lavish apartment with her dog.[35] Helmsley was forced to give up control of her hotel empire, since most of her hotels had bars and New York does not allow convicted felons to hold alcohol licenses. She spent her final years at her penthouse atop the Park Lane Hotel.

Although Helmsley had a reputation as the “Queen of Mean”, some considered her generous in her charitable contributions after her prison term. After the 9/11 attacks, Helmsley donated $5 million to help the families of New York City firefighters and police.[37] Other contributions included $25 million to New York-Presbyterian Hospital for medical research in 2006 through a charitable trust fund,[38] the donations eventually grew to $65 million to establish the Center for Advanced Digestive Care at the hospital in 2009.[39][40]

1961: Gov. Owen Reaffirms Good Neighbor Policy

Austin - A “Junior Inaugural” banquet Friday night closed the biggest day so far in the life of tall, handsome Sen. Frank Owen III, of El Paso, the day in which he presided as acting governor of Texas.

His first official act was to sign a proclamation declaring continuation of Texas’ Good Neighbor Policy toward neighbors south of the Rio Grande.

And El Paso and West Texas shared in the big day, with a delegation of more than 50 persons here for Sen. Owen’s one day “Administration,” and for the inaugural reception and banquet tendered him and his family by several hundred legislators and other friends.

Four generals and other officers from Ft. Bliss, Biggs Air Force Base and military contingents in El Paso were on hand to join in the celebration of Frank Owen Day in state government.

After he was sworn in, Owen was presented a telephone with his name and the great seal of Texas on it by Carl Connors, vice president and general manager, Mountain States Telephone Co., El Paso

Four people were killed yesterday when two single-engine planes crashed and burned — one in the Virginia hunt country after taking off from Dulles International Airport, the other in the back yard of a house in Greenbelt as it apparently headed toward a suburban Maryland air field

Both crashes, which occurred about 60 miles apart within 2 1/2 hours, were under investigation. No one on the ground was injured.

The Northern Virginia crash occurred about 3:30 p.m., and the two men aboard were burned beyond recognition. Documents found inside the airplane indicated that they were an Arkansas chiropractor and a Kansas lawyer who authorities said had participated yesterday morning in a briefing on the Clinton administration’s health care plan.

A man and a woman, both Prince George’s County residents, were killed in the Greenbelt crash, which occurred a few minutes before 6 p.m. They had taken off from Hyde Field in southern Prince George’s.

A man and a woman, both Prince George’s County residents, were killed in the Greenbelt crash, which occurred a few minutes before 6 p.m. They had taken off from Hyde Field in southern Prince George’s.

Those killed in the first crash, near a country road in Fauquier County, were identified as chiropractor Stanley Heard, of Hot Springs, Ark., and Steven Dickson, of Topeka, Kan. The site where the six-seat Piper Cherokee crashed is just north of Marshall, Va., about 50 miles west of Washington.

Dickson apparently was flying the plane. His law partner, Judy Pope, said last night that Dickson flew his own plane from Topeka, but on the way to Washington it developed problems and he landed in St. Louis. There, he left his plane for repair and rented another plane, Pope said.

Sightings #74William Colby

#74. WILLIAM COLBY - Director of Central Intelligence (retired)

Died 4-27-96, had been the DCI from 1973 to 1976 under Nixon and Ford who were the top New world Order Rockf'lr flunkies! As Was the Kiss of Death Henry the K! "Ve Vill Make DERE Economy SCREAMMM". Certainly knew where all bones were buried as this was the group that wanted the 'one world after all' with China a capitalist trading partner and 3 billion chinese paying taxes to the world banks, an agenda that has taken TEN prexies to deliver.

At age 76, Colby had found a new career and had just started writing for "Strategic Investment Newsletter". They covered the Vince Foster "suicide" in detail. Its editors hired three renowned handwriting experts to investigate Foster's suicide note, which hadn't been found when his briefcase was first searched, but later materialized, torn into pieces, with no fingerprints on any of the pieces. Upon comparing this document with others of Foster's writings, these experts declared it was a forgery, and a not very good one at that. So Colby was ratting out his spook pals... This had worried many insiders in the intelligence community who felt that Colby had already divulged too many of the CIA's secrets in the preceding years. Indeed, his dismissal by Ford was because of his over-cooperation with Congressional investigations into CIA wrongdoing.

It was Colby who had revealed to Congress the plans to kill Fidel Castro, the spying, phone-tapping on American citizens (in direct violation of the CIA charter) and the conducting of biological tests by the CIA on unsuspecting citizens, and agency's using human guinea pigs for mind-control experiments involving LSD, as we saw in CONSPIRACY THEORY movie with Mel Gibson, MK-Ultra program. Colby was in charge of the infamous Operation Phoenix during the Vietnam War, in which more than 20,000 South Vietnamese citizens — supposedly Vietcong sympathizers — were rounded up, tortured and executed. Must have found religion late in life. Phoenix was run by the infamous Hanoi station, same group that brought back tons of heroin sewn inside G.I's bodies for the Mafia to distribute. THE ENTIRE CIA HATED COLBY, however, he died while Bill was prexy so he goes on the list. According to the original CNN report, Colby was reported missing by neighbors who "recovered" his canoe, by one story from under the dock at Colby's house, by another report, 1/4 of a mile downstream from Colby's home. Colby was by all report a methodical, tidy man, yet police found his home unlocked, his computer on, and a partly eaten dinner on the table. The official story is that Colby just put down his fork and decided to drop everything and go canoeing. On Monday, May 6th, Colby's body was found just 20 yards from where his canoe had been recovered, in an area that had been thoroughly searched several times by helicopters and search teams. Most notable about the body was the absence of a life jacket, which according to his wife, Colby always wore on the water. Inferred is that a well known, old co-worker called him and said come on down to the river and talk to me. Colby was not really planning on canoeing.

William Egan Colby (January 4, 1920 - April 27, 1996) was an American intelligence officer who served as Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) from September 1973 to January 1976.

William Egan Colby was born in Saint Paul, Minnesota, in 1920. His father, Elbridge Colby, who came from a New England family with a history of military and public service, was a professor of English, an author, and a military officer who served in the Army and in university positions in Tientsin, China; Georgia; Vermont; and Washington, D.C. Though a career officer, Elbridge Colby's professional pursuits focused less on strictly military activities and more on intellectual and scholarly contributions to military and literary subjects. Elbridge's father, Charles Colby, had been a professor of chemistry at Columbia University but had died prematurely, leaving his family largely without money.

With his Army father, William Colby had a peripatetic upbringing before attending public high school in Burlington, Vermont. He then attended Princeton University and graduated with an A.B. in politics in 1940 after completing a 196-page long senior thesis titled “Surrender — French Policy toward the Spanish Civil War.”[1] He then studied at Columbia Law School the following year. Colby recounted that he took from his parents a desire to serve and a commitment to liberal politics, Catholicism, and independence, exemplified by his father’s career-damaging protest in The Nation magazine regarding the lenient treatment of a white Georgian who had murdered a black U.S. soldier also based at Ft. Benning.

Colby was for his entire life a staunch Roman Catholic.[4] He was often referred to as “the warrior-priest”. The Catholic Church played a “central role” in his family’s life, with Colby’s two daughters receiving their First Communion at St. Peter’s Basilica.[5]

During World War II Colby served with the Office of Strategic Services. After the war he joined the newly created Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Before and during the Vietnam War, Colby served as chief of station in Saigon, chief of the CIA’s Far East Division, and head of the Civil Operations and Rural Development effort, as well as overseeing the Phoenix Program.

After the war, Colby graduated from Columbia Law School and then briefly practiced law in William J. Donovan’s New York firm, Donovan, Leisure, Newton & Irvine. Bored by the practice of law and inspired by his liberal beliefs, he moved to Washington to work for the National Labor Relations Board.

Office of Strategic Services

Following his first year at Columbia, in 1941 Colby volunteered for active duty with the United States Army and served with the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) as a “Jedburgh”, or special operator, trained to work with resistance forces in occupied Europe to harass German and Axis forces. During World War II, he parachuted behind enemy lines twice and earned the Silver Star as well as commendations from Norway, France, and Great Britain. In his first mission he deployed to France as a Jedburgh commanding Team BRUCE, in mid-August 1944, and operated with the Maquis until he joined up with Allied forces later that fall. In April 1945, he led the NORSO Group Operasjon Rype into Norway on a sabotage mission to destroy railway lines, in an effort to hinder German forces in Norway from reinforcing the final defense of Germany.[7]

After the war, Colby graduated from Columbia Law School and then briefly practiced law in William J. Donovan's New York firm, Donovan, Leisure, Newton & Irvine. Bored by the practice of law and inspired by his liberal beliefs, he moved to Washington to work for the National Labor Relations Board.

Colby then spent much of the 1950s based in Rome, under cover as a State Department officer,[7] where he led the Agency's covert political operations campaign to support anti-Communist parties in their electoral contests against left wing, Soviet Union-associated parties. The Christian Democrats and allied parties won several key elections in the 1950s, preventing a takeover by the Communist Party. Colby was a vocal advocate within the CIA and the United States government for engaging the non-Communist left wing parties in order to create broader non-Communist coalitions capable of governing fractious Italy; this position first brought him into conflict with James J. Angleton.

In 1959 Colby became the CIA's deputy chief and then chief of station in Saigon, South Vietnam, where he served until 1962. Tasked by CIA with supporting the government of Ngo Dinh Diem, Colby established a relationship with President Diem's family and with Ngô Đình Nhu, the president's brother, with whom Colby became close.[7]

On April 27, 1996, Colby set out from his weekend home in Rock Point, Maryland, on a solo canoe trip.[16] His canoe was found the following day on a sandbar in the Wicomico River, a tributary of the Potomac, about 0.25 miles (0.40 km) from his home.[17] On May 6, Colby's body was found in a marshy riverbank lying face down not far from where his canoe was found.[16][18] After an autopsy, Maryland's Chief Medical Examiner John E. Smialek ruled his death to be accidental.[18] Smialek's report said that Colby was predisposed to having a heart attack or stroke due to "severe calcified atherosclerosis" and that Colby likely "suffered a complication of this atherosclerosis which precipitated him into the cold water in a debilitated state and he succumbed to the effects of hypothermia and drowned".[19][20]

Colby's death triggered conspiracy theories that his death was due to foul play.[21][22] In his 2011 documentary The Man Nobody Knew, Colby's son Carl suggested that his father suffered from guilt due to his actions in the CIA and committed suicide.[21][22]

Theatrical poster for The Man Nobody Knew

Narrated by Carl Colby, son of the late Director of Central Intelligence William E. Colby, The Man Nobody Knew traces the elder Colby's career in the U.S. intelligence community, along with and in contrast to his home life, including the secrets he kept from his family.

The film begins with Colby's service in World War II as an officer and paratrooper with the OSS, and follows his rise through the Central Intelligence Agency, where his roles included political covert action to oppose the Communist Party in Italy, later counterinsurgency actions and involvement in the 1963 coup in South Vietnam (in concert with President John F. Kennedy) during the Vietnam War, and later as Director of Central Intelligence in the 1970s. During his brief, tumultuous tenure leading the agency, Colby revealed the existence of documents describing illegal activities by the CIA, known as the "Family Jewels," in an effort to reform the agency. The film concludes with Colby's disappearance and death in April 1996.[3][4]

Karen Gay Silkwood was an American chemical technician and labor union activist known for raising concerns about corporate practices related to health and safety in a nuclear facility.

She worked at the Kerr-McGee Cimarron Fuel Fabrication Site in Oklahoma, making plutonium pellets, and became the first woman on the union's negotiating team. After testifying to the Atomic Energy Commission about her concerns, she was found to have plutonium contamination on her person and in her home. While driving to meet with a New York Times journalist and an official of her union's national office, she died in a car crash under unclear circumstances.

Her family sued Kerr-McGee for the plutonium contamination of Silkwood. The company settled out of court for US $1.38 million, while not admitting liability. Her story was chronicled in Mike Nichols's 1983 Academy Award nominated film Silkwood in which she was portrayed by Meryl Streep.

On November 5, 1974, Silkwood performed a routine self-check and found that her body contained almost 400 times the legal limit for plutonium contamination. She was decontaminated at the plant and sent home with a testing kit to collect urine and feces for further analysis. Although there was plutonium on the inner portions of the gloves which she had been using, the gloves did not have any holes. This suggests the contamination had come not from inside the glovebox, but from some other source.[7]:252

The next morning, as she headed to a union negotiation meeting, Silkwood again tested positive for plutonium, although she had performed only paperwork duties that morning. She was given a more intensive decontamination. On November 7, as she entered the plant, she was found to be dangerously contaminated, even expelling contaminated air from her lungs. A health physics team accompanied her back to her home and found plutonium traces on several surfaces, especially in the bathroom and the refrigerator. When the house was later stripped and decontaminated, some of her property had to be destroyed. Silkwood, her boyfriend Drew Stephens, and her roommate Dusty Ellis were sent to Los Alamos National Laboratory for in-depth testing to determine the extent of the contamination in their bodies.[7]:253

THE KILLING OF KAREN SILKWOOD The Story Behind the Kerr-McGee Plutonium Case. By Richard Rashke. Illustrated. 407 pp. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Co. $11.95. retrieved from NUT Book Review and copied or modified to here

Mr. Rashke uses a resolutely neutral tone to present his accumulating load of frightening but ultimately inconclusive discoveries. He learns that neither the F.B.I. nor the Justice Department will admit the need for a more thorough investigation of the circumstances surrounding Silkwood's death, despite allegations of Federal crimes.

Still, the F.B.I. refuses to hand over its files to the Silkwood investigators. He learns that Jacque Srouji, who had presented herself as a freelance writer interested in the Silkwood case, is a former F.B.I. agent who seems to have remained connected to the agency.

Miss Srouji claims to keep a pile of F.B.I. documents relating to the case in a safe-deposit box, but when pressed by Silkwood investigators produces little more than Kerr-McGee public relations documents.

Chief investigator William Taylor follows his leads to a private espionage center in southern Florida where he is tailed by one professional sleuth and then another; he receives a veiled death threat and barely escapes being murdered by a man who appears to speak Farsi.

Mr. Rashke wisely withholds to the very end the final frightening allegation: An intelligence source called ”Echo” phones, shaken, saying he has seen an F.B.I. memo that describes Karen Silkwood’s murder and that implies that the agency knows who did it.

In “The Investigation,” Rashke describes the uphill battle to extricate information from various government agencies. This lengthy section focuses on the frustrated attempts to get even public information that would allow the Silkwood estate to sue Kerr-McGee for negligence in Karen’s contamination by plutonium, an ultra-hazardous material. The difficulties encompass company dismissals, political payoffs, and the involvement of secret intelligence agencies, special pro-nuclear interest groups and influence pedlars, senators, and sundry politicians and judges. Rashke’s account will remind students of industrial relations of an earlier anti-union period, replete as it is with examples of coercion, espionage, cover-ups, and illegal wiretapping-even the bugging of Tony Mazzocchi, OH& director of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, the union of which Karen was a member.

Lois Cobb: Massello performed this autopsy on April 2, 2019. Testifies there were 48 stab wounds to the front and back (15 to the back alone from the neck to lower pelvic bone), cutting wounds to the neck and face (deep cutting wounds to the left and right sides of the neck), two stab wounds to the left arm and a single gunshot wound to the chest. Testifies there had to have been a change in her posture to sustain the wounds on the front and back. Says one possible explanation for that would be multiple altercations with an attacker. Testifies there were 16 wounds to the neck and face alone and 5 deep cuts to the neck, with 2 particularly deep cuts to the left and right sides. Testifies the deep cut on the left side of the neck cut the carotid artery, which would have been lethal in a maximum of six minutes.

Testifies there was bruising on Lois Cobb's forehead, creating a hematoma. Testified that could have occurred from a blow to the forehead, falling forward, or if the head was held, squeezed and moved back and forth. Testifies there were 10 stab wounds to the front of Lois Cobb's chest and 15 to the back and a number of superficial wounds all around. Says the stab wounds injured the internal organs of the chest: 4 wounds to the heart area (1 of which went through the heart) and stab wounds to the lungs, liver and stomach. Testifies the stab wounds could have been caused in a few minutes - five minutes would not be abnormal at all to cause this many stab wounds. Several of the stab wounds would have been lethal. Testifies a knife hitting a bone could have damaged the tip of the knife. Says there were three stab wounds to Lois Cobb's side. Massello says many of the backside stab wounds went deep into the chest wall. Testifies Lois Cobb could have been moving after the stab wounds. Testifies the gunshot wound to the chest featured stippling, an area of small red dots close to the wound entrance made up of bits of metal or powder from the firing of a weapon. Testifies this means the weapon was in contact with or in close contact to where the gunshot wound was found. Massello testifies Lois Cobb had a hysterectomy recently. Testifies that the surgery would not have contributed to her beath. This death was classified as a homicide.

Adam Fuehrer: This autopsy was conducted on April 3, 2019. Testifies Fuehrer had 3 gunshot wounds, two to the back and one to the right upper chest from the front. Also had 5 stab wounds to the neck and 3 to the upper chest and 3 stab wounds to the right side of the back. Testifies the front and back wounds could indicate Fuehrer may have turned during the assault. No residue found around the gunshot wounds, suggesting the gun was at least three inches away or more when fired. Said the first bullet recovered from Fuehrer's chest wound appeared to be similar to the bullets recovered from William Cobb. Testifies the gunshot was lethal because it damaged the aorta and a person would lose blood very quickly. Second gunshot wound was in the upper portion of Fuehrer's back. Testifies he was able to recover that bullet as well. Testifies the second bullet appeared similar to the first bullet he recovered from Fuehrer and to the bullets recovered from William Cobb. The third gunshot wound was to the right lower chest area from the back and went through Fuehrer's body. Testified there were 11 stab wounds total to Fuehrer's body. Massello testifies the 5 stab wounds to the right lower neck area were clustered near where large blood vessels are located, suggesting it was a targeted area. Testifies the same knife that caused the stab wounds to Adam Fuehrer could be the same knife used on Lois Cobb and William Cobb. Testifies the stab wounds were not immediately lethal wounds. Testifies Fuehrer could have died within 5 minutes. Testifies all the injuries could have been caused in about two minutes. Testifies the onset of rigor mortis in Adam Fuehrer's death could have started within an hour. Nothing found in Fuehrer's system that could have contributed to his death. Also notes Fuehrer had pulmonary emphysema and atherosclerosis. The gunshot wounds to the chest and abdomen were the primary cause of death with the stab wounds contributing to death. This death was classified as a homicide.

Robert Fakler: This autopsy was conducted on April 3, 2019. Testifies Fakler had 11 stab wounds, and numerous cutting wounds to the front of the face. Of particular, 3 stab wounds to the front of the chest "which gravely injured the heart" and 2 to the left side of the body and 3 stab wounds to the back. No gunshot wounds to Fakler, which Massello found suprising, considering the others were shot multiple times. That and the fact Fakler had mutilating stab wounds to his face, which were not present in the other victims. Testifies it is possible all the stab wounds to the four victims could have been caused by the same knife. Testifies three stab wounds cut into the heart, including a cut of the coronary artery, a key blood sdupply to the heart. The cuts to the heart were lethal, saying Fakler could have died within 10 seconds to five minutes. The most significant injuries in the cuts to Robert Fakler's face were the swipes and cuts to the face. Some of the cuts may have come from Robert Fakler being in a "defensive posture," that is, trying to protect himself from his assailant. Massello testifies some cuts to the palms of his hands and left upper arms are indicative of what is called “defense posture” cuts. Massello testifies the injuries to Fakler could have been inflicted within minutes, perhaps five minutes. Nothing in Fakler’s system that could have continuited to his death. Testifies Fakler had pulmonary emphysema and severe atherosclerosis. Notes all three men were smokers, which may have been responsible for their cases of emphysema. Says Fakler died from stab wounds to the chest. His death was classified as a homicide.

Looking at all four persons killed, Massello notes all but one had gunshot wounds and the bullets associated with the gunshot wounds appeared similar, consistent with a 38 caliber, 357 caliber or 9 millimeter weapon. All had stab wounds and the wounds are consistent with the same weapon being used. Testifies all the injuries could have been caused within 21 minutes. Also testifies it is possible all the wounds could have been caused by one person.

Roger Joseph Ebert June 18, 1942 - April 4, 2013) was an American film critic, film historian, journalist, screenwriter, and author.

Ebert was diagnosed with cancer of the thyroid and salivary glands in 2002. He required treatment that included removing a section of his lower jaw in 2006, leaving him severely disfigured and unable to speak or eat normally. However, his ability to write remained unimpaired and he continued to publish frequently online and in print until his death on APRIL 4, 2013.

Ebert was known for his intimate, Midwestern writing voice and critical views informed by values of populism and humanism.

Roger Joseph Ebert[8] was born in Urbana, Illinois, the only child of Annabel (née Stumm,[9][10] 1911-1987), a bookkeeper,[1][9][11] and Walter Harry Ebert (1901-1960), an electrician.[12][13] He was raised Roman Catholic, attending St. Mary’s elementary school and serving as an altar boy in Urbana.[13]

His paternal grandparents were German immigrants

After graduating from Urbana High School in 1960,[22] Ebert then attended and received his undergraduate degree in 1964.

Politics

A supporter of the Democratic Party,[132] Ebert publicly urged liberal filmmaker Michael Moore to give a politically charged acceptance speech at the Academy Awards: “I’d like to see Michael Moore get up there and let ‘em have it with both barrels and really let loose and give them a real rabble-rousing speech."[133] During a 1996 panel at the University of Colorado Boulder's Conference on World Affairs, Ebert coined the Boulder Pledge, by which he vowed never to purchase anything offered through the result of an unsolicited email message, or to forward chain emails or mass emails to others.[134][135][136] Ebert endorsed Barack Obama for re-election as president in 2012.[137]

Beliefs

Ebert was critical of intelligent design,[138] and stated that people who believe in either creationism or New Age beliefs such as crystal healing or astrology are not qualified to be president.

Ebert also expressed disbelief in pseudoscientific or supernatural claims in general, calling them "woo-woo,"[140] though he has argued that reincarnation is possible from a "scientific, rationalist point of view."

> Unfortunately, I witnessed a mother discipline her son and daughter in a department store. The kids, a boy and girl maybe five or six years old, were just playing in their seats as they waited for their mom. Just as the kids' play became a bit too noisy, the mother turned around, quickly grabbed the arm of the young boy and told him to stop it or she would slap him silly. Now, I know that's not the first time I've heard that kind of frustration from mothers.

> But almost all the time, it’s been from Black mothers. Just to be clear, I don’t have children so this is not to pass judgement because I can only imagine the challenges parents face. But how many times are Black children stifled or have the fear put in them, to the point where they are so scared to move, much less explore, imagine, be spontaneous, or simply have laugh-out-loud fun in the moment?

Guyger said that she had entered the apartment believing it was her own and that she shot Jean believing he was a burglar.[1][2]

Botham Shem Jean, a 26-year-old black man, was a Harding University alumnus and an accountant for PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC). Jean was born in Saint Lucia.[15]:1[16]

Amber Renée Guyger (born AUGUST 9, 1988)[19] was 30 years old at the time of the shooting. She had been on the Dallas police force for almost five years.

Aug 4, 2020 - Amber Renee Guyger, Appellant, v. State of Texas, Appellee. On Appeal from the 204th Dist. Ct. Dallas Co. No.F18-00737

Botham Shem Jean was dedicated to God at a young age and grew into an accountant with a passion for singing and volunteering. He once took it upon himself to teach his mother’s church choir “how to sing,” she said. “Botham was not happy with our singing at the congregation,” his mother said with a laugh. He taught the choir how to read music and arranged the singers by sopranos, altos, bass and tenor. “Everything Botham did was to impact the lives of people,” Allison Jean said of her son. Prince Rogers Nelson was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, on JUNE 7, 1958, the son of jazz singer Mattie Della (née Shaw) and pianist and songwriter John Lewis Nelson (more commonly known by his stage name Prince Rogers).

Louis Sedell Hayes was born in Detroit, Michigan, United States,[1] to a father, an automaker, who played drums and piano.[3] His mother waited tables and played the piano.[3] She was the sister of John Nelson, the father of the musician Prince.[4]

Eva Rausing: Found dead with no cause of death yet established. Her husband has been suspected as the killer. Rausing's family says she was at Occidental College at the same time as Obama.

It is unclear whether they knew one another but her devastated family, who recall her link to the then Barry Obama, are clear that it was at Occidental where the pharmacology student - already a regular cannabis user - was 'turned-on' to hard drugs. https://www.dailymail.co.uk/

The Rausing family are a wealthy Swedish family, best known for the Tetra Pak founder Ruben Rausing. Several members of the family now live in the United Kingdom.

Events leading up to 2012

In April 2008, Rausing and his wife were arrested on drugs charges after Mrs Rausing allegedly tried to take small amounts of crack cocaine and heroin into the United States embassy in London. Quantities of crack cocaine and heroin were then found in their home. They were charged with possession of a large amount of cocaine and smaller quantities of crack, heroin and cannabis after a Scotland Yard investigation. They admitted possessing Class A drugs (cocaine and heroin) and received a police caution.

10 July 2012 Rausing was arrested on suspicion of possessing class A drugs, after which his wife Eva Rausing was found dead at the couple's Belgravia home.Rausing failed to report his wife Eva's death for two months. On 17 July 2012, he was charged with delaying burial of her body.[8] He pleaded guilty and received a suspended sentence. The couple had four children.

He married Julia Delves Broughton, daughter of Sir Evelyn Delves Broughton, 12th Bt and sister of Isabella Blow, in June 2014.

Isabella “Issie” Blow (19 NOVEMBER 1958 - 7 May 2007) was an English magazine editor. As the muse of hat designer Philip Treacy, she is credited with discovering the models Stella Tennant and Sophie Dahl as well as propelling and continually advocating the career of fashion designer Alexander McQueen, beginning when she bought the entirety of his explosive premier show inspired by Jack the Ripper. She died by suicide in 2007.

Issie Blow moved to New York City in 1979 to study Ancient Chinese Art at Columbia University and shared a flat with the actress Catherine Oxenberg. A year later, she left the Art History programme at Columbia, moved to Texas, and worked for Guy Laroche. In 1981 she married her first husband, Nicholas Taylor (whom she divorced in 1983), and was introduced to the fashion director of the US edition of Vogue, Anna Wintour. Blow was hired initially as Wintour’s assistant, but it was not long before she was assisting André Leon Talley, as of 2008 US Vogue’s editor-at-large. While working in New York, she befriended Andy Warhol and Jean-Michel Basquiat.

Ovarian Cancer and poor life outlook

Toward the end of her life, Blow became seriously depressed and was reportedly anguished over her inability to “find a home in a world she influenced”. Daphne Guinness, a friend of Blow’s, stated: “She was upset that Alexander McQueen didn’t take her along when he sold his brand to Gucci. Once the deals started happening, she fell by the wayside. Everybody else got contracts, and she got a free dress”.[18] According to a 2002 interview with Tamsin Blanchard, it was Blow who brokered the deal in which Gucci purchased McQueen’s label.[8] Other pressures on her included financial problems (Blow was disinherited by her father in 1994)[8] and infertility.

Isabella and Detmar Blow separated in 2004. Detmar Blow went on to have an affair with Stephanie Theobald, the society editor of British Harper’s Bazaar, while his estranged wife entered into a liaison with a gondolier she met in Venice. During the couple’s separation, Blow was diagnosed with bipolar disorder and began undergoing electroshock therapy. For a time, the treatments appeared to be helpful. During this period she also had an affair with Matthew Mellon; however, after an eighteen-month separation, Isabella and Detmar Blow were reconciled. Soon afterward, she was diagnosed with ovarian cancer.

Depressed over her waning celebrity status[22] and her cancer diagnosis, Blow began telling friends that she was suicidal. In 2006, Blow attempted suicide with an overdose of sleeping pills. Later that year, Blow again attempted suicide by jumping from the Hammersmith Flyover, which resulted in her breaking both ankles. Blow made several more suicide attempts in 2007, by driving her car into the rear of a lorry, attempting to obtain horse tranquilizers, trying to drown herself in a lake and by overdosing while on a beach in India.

David D. “Deacon” Jones (DECEMBER 9, 1938 - JUNE 3, 2013)

(from Peter Van Slingerland, Something Terrible Has Happened [to [[DAROA]] Thalia Massie] (1966), pp. 316-322.)

On JUNE 3, 2013, Jones died at 74 of natural causes after suffering from lung cancer and heart disease at his home in Anaheim Hills, California. [30][31] Jones’s death left Rosey Grier as the last surviving member of the Fearsome Foursome, the L.A. Rams defensive line which is widely considered the best such unit in the history of the NFL. Of the former defensive standout, NFL commissioner Roger Goodell said, “Even with his fellow Hall of Famers, Deacon Jones held a special status. He was an icon among the icons.” Washington Football Team General Manager Bruce Allen, son of Jones’s longtime coach George Allen, called him “one of the greatest players in NFL history. Off the field… a true giant.”[

Sports Illustrated columnist Peter King noted at his death that Jones had a profound effect on the way defense was played in the NFL and cited the influence on such later NFL stars as Lawrence Taylor, Deion Sanders, and Michael Strahan.[33] As a tribute to Jones, the NFL created the Deacon Jones Award, which will be given annually to the league leader in sacks.

Lyle and Erik’s father, José Enrique Menéndez, was born on May 6, 1944, in Havana, Cuba. At age 16, he moved to the United States, shortly after the beginning of the Cuban Revolution.[2] José attended Southern Illinois University, where he met Mary Louise “Kitty” Andersen (1941-1989). They married in 1963 and moved to New York City, where José earned an accounting degree from Queens College.[3] The couple’s first son, Joseph Lyle Menéndez, who goes by his middle name, was born on January 10, 1968.[4]

Kitty quit her teaching job after Lyle was born, and the family moved to New Jersey, where Erik was born on November 27, 1970, in Gloucester Township.[5][6][5] In New Jersey, the family lived in Hopewell Township in Mercer County, and both brothers attended Princeton Day School.[3] In 1986, José’s career as a corporate executive took the family to Beverly Hills, California.[5][3] The following year, Erik began attending high school at Beverly Hills High, where he earned average grades and displayed a remarkable talent for tennis, ranking 44th in the United States for 18-and-under players.[7]

On the evening of August 20, 1989, José and Kitty were sleeping on a couch in the den of their house in Beverly Hills when Lyle and Erik entered the den carrying shotguns.[8] José was shot in the back of the head with a Mossberg 12-gauge shotgun.[9] Kitty was awakened by the shots and got up from the couch. She was shot in the leg and fell, and was then shot several times in the arm, chest, and face, leaving her unrecognizable.

When they returned home later that night, Lyle called 9-1-1 and shouted “Someone killed my parents!”[12] When officers from the Beverly Hills police department arrived, the brothers told them that the murders occurred while they were at a movie theater seeing Batman, and then they attended the annual “Taste of L.A.” festival at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. The police did not order the brothers to undergo gunshot residue tests to find out whether they recently used a firearm,[13] since at that time, there was no clear evidence that suggested they might be involved.

In the months after the murders, the police connected the brothers’ lavish spending to the murders of their parents.[13] Lyle bought a Rolex watch, a Porsche Carrera, and Chuck’s Spring Street Cafe,[14] a Buffalo wing restaurant in Princeton, New Jersey, while Erik hired a full-time tennis coach and competed in a series of tournaments in Israel. They eventually left the family mansion unoccupied, as they decided to live in adjoining condos in nearby Marina del Rey.[15] They also drove around Los Angeles in their deceased mother’s Mercedes-Benz SL convertible, dined expensively, and went on overseas trips to the Caribbean and London.[16] It is believed that they spent somewhere around $700,000 during the period between the murders and their arrests, but the suspicion on the brothers for their spending was later disputed by family members, stating that there were no changes with their spendings before and after the killings.

Shane Todd’s girlfriend, Shirley Sarmiento, expected to hear from him on Friday or Saturday, but he did not respond to her messages. On Sunday, June 24 (Approaching July 4), she went to his apartment. Finding the door unlocked, she entered, and discovered Todd’s body hanging from a bathroom door. A chair was about five feet away. Sarmiento then contacted Todd’s family in the United States to alert them to his death.

The police were quoted as saying that Todd “drilled holes into his bathroom wall, bolted in a pulley, then slipped a black strap through the pulley and wrapped it around the toilet several times. He then tethered the strap to his neck and jumped from a chair.” However, when Todd’s family arrived at his apartment in Singapore after receiving news of his death, they noted that the scene was not as described: there were no holes in the marble walls of the bathroom, and neither were there bolts or screws. The location of the toilet was also not where the police report indicated it was. Furthermore, there were no signs of an investigation at the scene; police had not put up crime scene tape or dusted for fingerprints.

The Financial Times reported that Todd’s home “looked like a snapshot of a man in the middle of a move”. Before his death, Todd was in the middle of doing the laundry. He had packed boxes in preparation for his move back to the United States, and had clean clothes folded on the couch. He was also apparently in the middle of trying to sell his furniture, and had been writing out price tags. His airline ticket back to the United States was on the table, but his laptop and phone had been taken away by the police.

Police found several suicide notes allegedly left by Todd, but his family and girlfriend told the Financial Times that they did not seem to be Todd’s writing. In one note, he apologized for being a burden to his family, but his mother said he had never been a burden; he had excelled at everything, she said. Another note praised the management of IME. His girlfriend was incredulous, noting that Todd “hated his job.” After his mother read the notes, she told the police detectives, “My son might have killed himself, but he did not write this.”

David Camp, a criminologist from Illinois, analyzed the suicide note side by side with a collection of Todd’s other writings and told reporters that he held the opinion that the suicide note found by the police was not written by Todd. Camp concluded that it wasn’t written by an American and wasn’t typical of a suicide, that he felt the note was detached and unemotional, and did not match up with Todd’s personality. He added that “everything about [the suicide note] was different: different format, different cultural backgrounds, different wording, different sentence length, everything about it was completely different, which leads to one conclusion; someone else wrote it.”

The official autopsy report provided by the Singapore police said that Todd’s cause of death was “asphyxia due to hanging.” But on his body, Todd’s family found bruises on his hands and a bump on his forehead, neither of which was mentioned in the autopsy report. Suspecting foul play, they asked the mortuary to photograph Shane's body before burial, and send the photos to Edward Adelstein, a county-level deputy medical examiner in Missouri. Adelstein's initial theory was that Todd's wounds did not support the suicide hypothesis. Instead, it appeared Todd was involved in a fight with an attacker and died by "garrotting". The original pathologist in Singapore dismissed Adelstein's conclusions, stating that Adelstein had not seen the body and had mistaken the post-mortem pooling of blood in the hands for bruises. *

Jessica Sibley Upshaw (August 31, 1959 - March 24, 2013) was an American politician and lawyer.

Born in Meridian, Mississippi, Upshaw received her bachelor's and law degrees from the University of Mississippi and practiced law. She served in the Mississippi House of Representatives, from Diamondhead, Mississippi, as a Republican from 2004 to 2013. Upshaw was found dead in the home of former Mississippi State Representative Clint Rotenberry in Mendenhall, Mississippi on March 24, 2013.[4] Police investigated her death, an apparent gunshot suicide.

Clinton Grice Rotenberry Jr. (born January 12, 1953) was a former American politician and businessman. Born in Mendenhall, Mississippi, Rotenberry went to Belhaven University and is the owner of Rotenberry Realty in Mendenhall, Mississippi. Rotenberry served in the Mississippi House of Representatives from 1992-2007. Rotenberg was a Republican.

Agenda 21 is a comprehensive plan of action to be taken globally, nationally and locally by organizations of the United Nations System, Governments, and Major Groups in every area in which human impacts on the environment.

Agenda 21, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, and the Statement of principles for the Sustainable Management of Forests were adopted by more than 178 Governments at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED) held in Rio de Janerio, Brazil, 3 to 14 June 1992.

The Commission on Sustainable Development (CSD) was created in December 1992 to ensure effective follow-up of UNCED, to monitor and report on implementation of the agreements at the local, national, regional and international levels. It was agreed that a five year review of Earth Summit progress would be made in 1997 by the United Nations General Assembly meeting in special session.

The full implementation of Agenda 21, the Programme for Further Implementation of Agenda 21 and the Commitments to the Rio principles, were strongly reaffirmed at the World Summit on Sustainable Development (WSSD) held in Johannesburg, South Africa from 26 August to 4 September 2002.

Jeffrey Epstein case threatens to drag Virgin Islands elite into the muck. Will it matter?

The U.S. Virgin Islands opened up a new and explosive front in the battle over Jeffery Epstein’s $600 million estate this week when it included one of the sex offender’s companies, Southern Trust, as a co-defendant in the case.

At issue is Southern Trust, a purported data-mining company that Epstein incorporated in the USVI in 2011, and that the government believes was a sham to cover up his illegal activities.

Elisabeth and Robert Maxwell retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Elisabeth Jenny JEANNE Maxwell (née Meynard; 11 March 1921 - 7 AUGUST 2013) was a French-born researcher of the Holocaust who established the journal Holocaust and Genocide Studies in 1987.[1] She was married to publishing tycoon Robert Maxwell from 1945 until his death in 1991 when the family soon came under scrutiny for his business dealings, especially his responsibility for the Mirror Group pension scandal.[2][3] Later in life, she was recognized for her work as a proponent of Interfaith dialogue and received several awards including an honorary fellowship from the Woolf Institute at Cambridge.

Maxwell was born Elisabeth Jenny Jeanne Meynard in La Grive, near Saint-Alban-de-Roche, France, to Louis “Paul” Meynard and Colombe (née Petel) Meynard.[1][5] Paul Meynard was a Protestant descendant of the Huguenot a descendant of Protestant Huguenot aristocracy whose lineage included kings of France[6][7] and Colombe Meynard was a Roman Catholic (whose marriage to a Protestant resulted in her excommunication).

In September 1944, after the Liberation of Paris, she met Czechoslovakian-born British Army Captain Robert Maxwell, while working as an interpreter for the Welcome Committee, which introduced French people to allied officers; they married on 15 March 1945.[1] She then worked as his secretary and assistant in London as he established his publishing empire.[1] The Maxwells had nine children: Michael, Philip, Ann, Christine, Isabel, Karine, Ian, Kevin and Ghislaine. All of Maxwell's children were delivered by her sister Yvonne, a gynecologist, in Maisons-Laffitte, France.[8] Two of the children died in childhood: daughter Karine died in 1957, at age three, from leukemia, and son Michael entered a coma following a car crash in 1961; he died six years later without regaining consciousness.[12] At first, the family lived on a budget, but later moved into a mansion at Broomfield, Esher.[1] Starting in 1960, the family lived at Headington Hill Hall where the offices to Robert Maxwell's Pergamon Press were also located.

Maxwell researched her husband's Jewish relatives who perished under Nazi rule, and discovered they amounted in total to over 300 of his immediate and extended family.

he Woolf Institute is an academic institute in Cambridge, England. Founded in 1998 by Dr Edward Kessler MBE and the Revd Professor Martin Forward in central Cambridge on the Westminster College Site, [1] it is dedicated to the study of interfaith relations between Jews, Christians and Muslims.[2] Using research and education to explore the relationship between religion and society, it aims to foster greater understanding and tolerance.

In 1998, the United States Holocaust memorial Museum (USHMM) established the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies (CAHS). Working with the Academic Committee of the United States Holocaust Memorial Council, the CAHS supports research projects and publications about the Holocaust (including a partnership with Oxford University Press to publish the scholarly journal Holocaust and Genocide Studies), helps make accessible collections of Holocaust-related archival material, supports fellowship opportunities for pre- and post- doctoral researchers, and hosts seminars, summer research workshops for academics, conferences, lectures, and symposia. The CAHS's Visiting Scholars Program and other events have made the USHMM one of the world's principal venues for Holocaust scholarship.

Elisabeth Jenny Jeanne Maxwell and Committee on Conscience

The Museum contains the offices of the Committee on Conscience (CoC), a joint United States government and privately funded think tank, which by presidential mandate engages in global human rights research. Using the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, approved by the United Nations in 1948 and ratified by the United States in 1988, the CoC has established itself as a leading non-partisan commenter on the Darfur Genocide, as well as the war-torn region of Chechnya in Russia, a zone that the CoC believes could produce genocidal atrocities. The CoC does not have policy-making powers and serves solely as an advisory institution to the American and other governments.

WILL THE US MILITARY BE CALLED ON ONE DAY TO FIRE ON US CITIZENS?

2009 Nobel Peace Prize nominee Jim Garrow shockingly claims he was told by a top military veteran that the Obama administration's "litmus test" for new military leaders is whether or not they will obey an order to fire on U.S. citizens.

Garrow was nominated three years ago for the prestigious Nobel Peace Prize and is the founder of The Pink Pagoda Girls, an organization dedicated to rescuing baby girls from "gendercide" in China. Garrow has been personally involved in "helping rescue more than 36,000 Chinese baby girls from death." He is a public figure, not an anonymous voice on the Internet, which makes his claim all the more disturbing.

"I have just been informed by a former senior military leader that Obama is using a new "litmus test" in determining who will stay and who must go in his military leaders. Get ready to explode folks. "The new litmus test of leadership in the military is if they will fire on US citizens or not". Those who will not are being removed," Garrow wrote on his Facebook page, later following up the post by adding the man who told him is, "one of America's foremost military heroes," whose goal in divulging the information was to "sound the alarm."

The 7th Floor Group was a group of US State Department officials who met regularly on the 7th floor of the Harry S. Truman Building in Washington, DC, that was exposed in Autumn 2016. The FBI referred to the group as a “shadow government” inside the State Department, which briefly attracted the attention of commercially-controlled media.[1] The group appears to have formed around Hillary Clinton, although no direct evidence has yet emerged to tie her to the group. Most if not all remaining members had their employment terminated on 17 FEBRUARY 2017.[2]

Once again another Lame Cherry exclusive in matter and anti matter……

The assassination of diplomat Anne Smedinghoff was directed from 1600 Penn Avenue, in a fringe control cell, run out of the NSA.

In the Smedinghoff sanction, Homeland Director Janet Naps Napolitano knew of this operation, the CIA knew of this operation as she was one of their “own” and the NSA proper knew of the assassination.

What this cell is, is a melding of the political wing of Val-erie Jarrett, David Axelrod, David Plouffe and Michelle Robinson Obama, with full knowledge by Birther Hussein Obama, in this “committee to re elect the birther” and to provide political opportunities in staged crisis to not take advantage of.

Rahm Emanuel never quite knew the depths to what his statement would devolve to.

The reason Smedinghoff was terminated, was her indirect knowledge in being the “cancer courier” who provided the wafer to the priest who fed this bio toxin to Hugo Chavez. Smedinghoff did not know her mission in Venezuela, but after reaching her new assignment in Afghanistan, became concerned over the perilous things that Birther Hussein was exposing the Israeli state to and the treatment of Jews, that in conversation with a Mosaad operative, a recruitment was initiated, and Smedinghoff divulged her part in the Venezuela operation which the Israeli operative helped fill in the details to bring to the conclusion of why international headlines were speaking of the cancer weapon, and Smedinghoff was made to realize she was the loaded gun.

This information found it’s way through the NSA network and Smedinghoff was sourced as the conduit. It was at this point that this double agent was sanctioned for termination to cover up what was becoming a story pointing fingers at the Obama regime as Murder Incorporated.

Bluntly put, there is no difference in Smedinghoff, Benghazi with Ambassador Stevens, the SEALS loaded into one helo and murdered and Hugo Chavez. All of these operations were run out of 1600 Penn Avenue by the cell operational with full knowledge of the NSA Director.

This cell, was behind the setting up of the fake bin Laden compound in Pakistan for a future political event.

The reason the CIA, NSA and Napolitano were informed of the Smedinghoff assassination, was this was one of their own and would bring high attention as Chris Stevens. There could not be “inquiries” into this, as Anne Smedinghoff like Chandra Levy left strings which if pulled would reveal other higher profile operations.

This cell in the NSA was cleverly put together, and the NSA director is disavows any direct knowledge of operations, so it is never under Congressional oversight. The coordinator for this cell is Eric Holder, and is why he was brought into the Obama regime for the beginning in order to run this cell, as it was Holder who was the hatchet man in the Clinton Administration who under Janet Reno ran the Waco operations that murdered the Branch Davidians and burned their children alive for political effect, and it was Holder who ran the mass assassination of the group around Sec. Ron Brown when he was executed with an ice pellet bullet, and the surviving flight attendent on ground after the crash was murdered as she wandered around ground zero. Vince Foster’s termination was coordinated by the hatchet man Eric Holder.

Holder is the enforcer for the CARTEL at 1600 Penn Avenue. His cover is Attorney General, but in working the NSA cell, he never answers to Congress as they would never inquire to him about NSA matters, as he is not overtly in control of the NSA, as this all falls under Janet Napolitano’s arena, but how the cell operates, is Napolitano is often in the dark about operations being run in the high profile, and that includes the murder of Hugo Chavez.

Napolitano knew nothing of this operation run out of Homeland by Holder in this NSA cell.

FBI Director Robert Mueller is aware of this NSA cell, but he is not a part of it.

This NSA group scares the CIA and FBI, as those finding the tracks of their operations, know this is all sanctioned and protected at the highest levels, and those matters are not to be spoken of.

Andrew Breitbart was assassinated by this political assassination committee.

I believe overtly faked warrants on me, by William Ruiz and Jim Volcelka, are what Jen Moore was murdered over. These warrants were people speaking lines which would be atributed to me, but were spoken by William or Jim.

hower after not having been able to shower for weeks. It was ME just moving into his condo after camping my way there from Texas.

What did he say under surveillance next, while wearing my stolen motorcycle jacket? And why did Jim Volkelca say to me “I took the asvab but decided to go in to the same line of work privately instead of enlisting” when it was me who took the Military ASVAB in MEPS Oakland CA, ,was offered Crypto Analyst or Fire Control Officer, but I decided not to enlist, and went on to private work, often working with crypto. And at KinkBnB my clothes were stolen and SimplyCat was only shopping for size 13 boots, I wear 13, and she was shopping for guns at the same time. All this fits with fake warrants on the death of Jen Moore as a coverup.

D.C.'s U.S. attorney: One foot in court, one in the streets

By Keith L. Alexander
Washington Post Staff Writer
Monday, April 19, 2010

Then-U.S. Attorney Eric H. Holder sat on the sofa of his fifth-floor office 13 years ago and listened to the young lawyer tell him what needed to change: Prosecutors spent too much time in their offices and the courthouse, and not enough time in the community.

Ronald C. Machen told his future boss in a job interview that they needed to have a regular presence throughout the District by attending community forums, meetings in church basements, youth summits and the like. Waiting until a crime is committed, Holder recalled Machen telling him, was too late to develop relationships.

Machen, 40, has returned to the U.S. attorney's office as its chief after being sworn in as the District's top prosecutor in February.

The District's U.S. attorney job is one of the most coveted in federal law enforcement. As the city's top law enforcement official, the U.S. attorney overseas the largest federal prosecutor's office in the nation, with about 340 lawyers handling local and federal criminal cases.

Glenn Allen Youngkin is an American businessman and politician who is the governor-elect of Virginia. He is expected to be inaugurated as the 74th governor of Virginia on January 15, 2022. Wikipedia Born: DECEMBER 9, 1966 (age 54 years)

On Nov. 11, 2002, Youngkin was the founding secretary of British QinetiQa creation of the British Ministry of Defencei.e., the British CROWN. Among other obligations to obey the Queen, Youngkin was duty bound to follow the British Official Secrets Act as a QinetiQ officer responsible to co-sign all contracts entered into by the company.

Youngkin's first founding director was Sir Jonathan Richard Symonds, an accountant responsible for managing the Monarch's Golden company control shares (preferred voting shares).

The QinetiQ Articles of Association affirm that Youngkin was the company secretary and keeper of the seal. The only higher position in the company is managing director, the British monarch's 100% overarching control notwithstanding.

Youngkin's OATH carries on to this day. QinitiQ has received over $8.5 billion (2020) in U.S. Defense contracts. Some of those companies are in Virginia. CONCLUSION: YOUNGKIN IS INTERLOCKED WITH A FOREIGN POWER. Therefore, absent full disclosure and without special dispensation from the Virginia legislature.

This one share gives the British monarch 100% control of the operations of QinetiQ

If the Queen orders a liquidation of the company, QinetiQ and its Carlyle shareholder "tag along" to extract full value from the sale. That is, Carlyle cannot disagree with the Queen, or King and win the argument if the monarch has other ideas.

Petraeus has a B.S. degree from the United States Military Academy, from which he graduated in 1974 as a distinguished cadet (top 5% of his class). In his class were three other future four-star generals, Martin Dempsey, Walter L. Sharp and Keith B. Alexander. He was the General George C. Marshall Award winner as the top graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College class of 1983.[8] He subsequently earned an M.P.A. in 1985 and a Ph.D. degree in international relations in 1987 from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. He later served as assistant professor of international relations at the United States Military Academy and also completed a fellowship at Georgetown University.

Petraeus has repeatedly stated that he has no plans to run for elected political office.[10][11][12] On June 23, 2010, President Barack Obama nominated Petraeus to succeed General Stanley McChrystal as commanding general of the International Security Assistance Force in Afghanistan, technically a step down from his position as Commander of United States Central Command, which oversees the military efforts in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Central Asia, the Arabian Peninsula, and Egypt.

On June 30, 2011, Petraeus was unanimously confirmed as the Director of the CIA by the U.S. Senate 94-0.[16] Petraeus relinquished command of U.S. and NATO forces in Afghanistan on July 18, 2011, and retired from the U.S. Army on August 31, 2011.[17] On November 9, 2012, he resigned from his position as director of the CIA, citing his extramarital affair with his biographer Paula Broadwell, which was reportedly discovered in the course of an FBI investigation.[18][19] In January 2015, officials reported the FBI and Justice Department prosecutors had recommended bringing felony charges against Petraeus for allegedly providing classified information to Broadwell while serving as director of the CIA.[20] Eventually, Petraeus pleaded guilty to one misdemeanor charge of mishandling classified information.

1934 - Lotte Lehmann’s Encouragement

By 1934 the von Trapp family had lost a large part of their wealth due to a global depression and a banking failure. Their fortune had consisted of monies inherited from the children’s great-grandfather, Robert Whitehead, (from his invention of the torpedo) and the other half from Georg’s successful decade-long shipping businesses on the Rhein-Danue Rivers (1919-1930). To stabilize their financial situation Georg worked on several endeavors including writing his WWI memoir, lecturing, and exploring some engineering ideas. As a result, the family was able to stay at their home in Aigen, near Salzburg, Austria, but they took on boarders to help cover expenses. In the summer of 1934 the famous German/Austrian opera singer, Lotte Lehmann, visited Villa Trapp and the family entertained her with their music. She was so impressed and touched by the family’s performance that she told them, “You have gold in your throats. You are not allowed to keep this for yourselves, you have to share your voice with people.

1934 - Folk Singing Competition in Salzburg

Encouraged by the famous opera singer Lotte Lehmann, on September 1 & 2, 1934, the von Trapp family competed in a folk song competition attended to by audiences “filled beyond capacity” at the restaurant “Elektrischer Aufzug” (Elektic Elevator) on Moenchsberg Street, Salzburg, Austria.

On 16 NOVEMBER 1936, Edward invited Prime Minister Baldwin to Buckingham Palace and expressed his desire to marry Simpson when she became free to remarry. Baldwin informed him that his subjects would deem the marriage morally unacceptable, largely because remarriage after divorce was opposed by the Church of England, and the people would not tolerate Simpson as queen.[61] As king, Edward was the titular head of the Church, and the clergy expected him to support the Church’s teachings. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Cosmo Gordon Lang, was vocal in insisting that Edward must go.[62]

Wallis Simpson, Earl Winfield Spencer Jr. (September 20, 1888 - May 29, 1950) was a pioneering U.S. Navy pilot who served as the first commanding officer of Naval Air Station San Diego. He was the first husband of Wallis Simpson, who later went on to marry Edward VIII.

Earl Winfield Spencer Jr. (September 20, 1888 - May 29, 1950) was a pioneering U.S. Navy pilot who served as the first commanding officer of Naval Air Station San Diego. He was the first husband of Wallis Simpson, who later married Edward VIII.

Known as Win, he was born in Kinsley, Kansas, son of Earl Winfield Spencer Sr., a socially prominent Chicago stockbroker,[1] and the former Agnes Lucy Hughes of Jersey. He attended Racine College in Racine, Wisconsin.[2] He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1910 and in 1917 was sent to San Diego with instructions to set up a permanent naval air station, which was to be used for training exercises, and he became its first commanding officer.[3]

Spencer was married five times.[citation needed] Four of his wives were:

Bessie Wallis Warfield (1896-1986), only child of Teackle Wallis Warfield, member of a prominent Maryland family; they married in Baltimore on November 8, 1916.

Spencer was alleged to be abusive and an alcoholic. After several separations, the Spencers divorced in December 1927. After a second marriage, to Ernest Aldrich Simpson, and a subsequent divorce, Wallis Spencer married the former King Edward VIII of the United Kingdom and became the Duchess of Windsor.

Mariam J. Maze (1895-1997) the former wife of Albert Cressey Maze (1891-1943).[4][5][6] She was the former Miriam Ham, daughter of George and Katie Anastasia (née Eagels) Ham of Portland, Oregon.[7] They married in September 1928 and were divorced in 1936, the same year Spencer was made a Knight of the Order of the Crown of Italy by Benito Mussolini.

Earl Winfield Spencer Jr - Bessie Wallis Warfield (m. 1916; div. 1927) King Edward VIII and Wallis to Edward VIII (m. 1937; died 1972) Mariam J. Maze to Spencer jr 1936, the same year Spencer was made a Knight of the Order of the Crown of Italy by Benito Mussolini.

By this marriage he had one stepson, Robert Claude Maze Sr., Major, USMC (killed in action, 1945).[9] Mariam Spencer married, in 1939, as her third husband, Arthur William Radford, Vice Admiral, USN, future Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Norma Reese Johnson (1891-1944),[11] the widow of Homer Sturtevant Johnson, a Detroit manufacturer who died in 1928, and a daughter of Carl Reese, of Detroit, Michigan. Spencer and Johnson were married in Los Angeles, California, on July 4, 1937.

By this marriage he had two stepdaughters: Betty L. Johnson, an actress and songwriter (married Balie Peyton Legare Jr. (1908-1984), a jazz musician, whom she divorced in 1942) and Kathryne Johnson (born circa 1912, married Dell Myron Wade Jr).

The Spencers' wedding was a double wedding with Betty and Peyton Legare, whose wedding in February 1937 in Tijuana, Mexico, was not valid under California law and needed to be resolemnized.[12][13]

The couple separated on February 9, 1940, and were divorced later that year in Santa Monica, California. Both parties charged cruelty, and Norma declared that her husband was plagued by what The New York Times's announcement of their acrimonious divorce delicately called "habitual intemperance." Time magazine reported, "During a stormy session of accusations and counteraccusations Navyman Spencer, charged with cruelty and habitual intemperance, testified that his weekly liquor bill was only about $10, that his wife 'drank as much of it as I did.'"[14] Lillian Phillips (1892-1981),[15] daughter of Robert A. and Ella Burgess Phillips, whom he married October 2, 1941.[16]

However ingenious the Catholic McGinniss was in conveying the true psychological nature of his fellow Catholic golden boy (MacDonald was back in the 1970s on the fast track to glory and better educated than the author), he could not > have done so without the convicted killer's assistance, a collaboration nurtured by the dubious machinations of the author who thoroughly deceived MacDonald by boldly insisting through phone calls and letters that he believed in his innocence when he definitively knew MacDonald was not.

On July 1, 1969, MacDonald joined the United States Army. He was briefly deployed to Fort Sam Houston to undergo a physician's basic training course, and opted to join the Green Berets while stationed at this base. After six weeks, he was posted to Fort Benning. Although MacDonald had joined the Army knowing he might be deployed to serve in the Vietnam War, he later learned that, as a Green Beret physician, he was unlikely to serve overseas.[16]

In his eighth grade year, MacDonald became acquainted with Colette Kathryn Stevenson (b. May 10, 1944). He would later recollect he had first observed Colette "walking down the hallway (of Patchogue High School) with her best friend" and that, although he was attracted to both girls, he found Colette more attractive. Approximately two weeks later, they began talking and formed a friendship, with MacDonald soon "asking her out to the movies". The two formed a brief romantic relationship in the ninth grade, with MacDonald later recollecting they fell in love while holding hands on a balcony while watching the movie A Summer Place at the Rialto Theatre.

Murphy was known to his friends as "Murph" and as "The Protector" in his high school years. In 8th grade, he protected a child with special needs who was being shoved into a locker by a group of boys, ending with Murphy physically pulling the attackers away from the child.

In 1994, Murphy graduated from Patchogue-Medford High School and left home to attend The Pennsylvania State University (Penn State). He graduated in 1998 with a double major in political science and psychology.[2] Murphy was engaged to his college sweetheart, Heather Duggan, and their wedding scheduled for November 2005.

The seal team was dropped off by helicopter in a remote, mountainous area east of Asadabad in Kunar Province, near the Pakistan border. After an initially successful infiltration, local goat herders stumbled upon the SEALs' hiding place. Unable to verify any hostile intent from the herders, the team cut them loose. Hostile locals, possibly the goat herders they let pass, alerted nearby Taliban forces, who surrounded and attacked the small group. After Murphy called for help, an MH-47 Chinook helicopter loaded with reinforcements was dispatched to rescue the team, but was shot down with an RPG, killing all 16 personnel aboard; eight were SEALs, while the rest were service members from the 160th SOAR.

Murphy, Dietz, and Axelson were killed in the action. Luttrell was the only U.S. survivor and was eventually rescued, after several days of wandering in the mountains and being protected by the inhabitants of an Afghan village.[2] All three of Murphy's men were awarded the Navy's second-highest honor, the Navy Cross, for their part in the battle making their team the most decorated in Navy SEAL history.[12]

U.S. GOVERNMENT RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL Theodore L. Gunderson

Theodore L. Gunderson (seen here in his FBI Office)was the author of the best-selling book How to Locate Anyone Anywhere Without Leaving Home and Santa Monica California private attorney

Theodore L. Gunderson (7 November 1928 - 31 July 2011) was a Federal Bureau of Investigation Special Agent In Charge and head of the Los Angeles FBI,[1] an American author, and a conspiracy theorist. Some of his FBI case work included the Death of Marilyn Monroe and the Assassination of John F. Kennedy.[2]

After retiring from the FBI, Gunderson set up a private investigation firm, Ted L. Gunderson and Associates, in Santa Monica. In 1980, he became a defense investigator for Green Beret doctor Jeffrey R. MacDonald, who had been convicted of the 1970 murders of his pregnant wife and two daughters. Gunderson obtained affidavits from Helena Stoeckley confessing to her involvement in the murders which she claimed had in actuality been perpetrated by a Satanic cult of which she was a member.[8]

After retiring from the FBI, Gunderson set up a private investigation firm, Ted L. Gunderson and Associates, in Santa Monica. In 1980, he became a defense investigator for Green Beret doctor Jeffrey R. MacDonald, who had been convicted of the 1970 murders of his pregnant wife and two daughters. Gunderson obtained affidavits from Helena Stoeckley confessing to her involvement in the murders which she claimed had in actuality been perpetrated by a Satanic cult of which she was a member.[8]

A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says “rogue” military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based “gang stalking” harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as “dissidents” or *undesirables.

Ted Gunderson, 82, who has served as the special agent in charge of the FBI’s Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas field offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

Since his retirement from the FBI in the 1979, Gunderson has been a Southern California- based private investigator. He is most noted for his defense work on the murder case involving former Army physician Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald.

The ex-FBI official’s comments represent the most compelling testimony to date indicating that “black operations” of the federal government are dedicated to waging a covert war of terror and persecution targeting American citizens.

“Based on my thirty years’ experience and research, I have determined there are thousands of victims who have been targeted by an illegal U.S. government rogue criminal enterprise - military intelligence, probably, tied into CIA and FBI and so forth - that is active 24 hours a day throughout the United States,” Gunderson stated in an October 2008 speech posted last fall on YouTube.

Craig Spence (CIA) organized operations like these. He was suicides also called Arkancided.

The committee found little credibility in such an explanation for the President's death because, if for no other reason, it would have been unnecessarily risky. The committee determined from CIA files that, in 1963, the Cuban Government had agents of its own in nearly every country of the Western Hemisphere, including the United States, who undoubtedly would have been more dependable for such an assignment. Even if Castro had wanted to minimize the chance of detection by using hired non-Cuban killers, it appeared unlikely to the committee that he would have tried to force Mafia members or their Cuban exile confederates to engage in the assassination of an American head of state.

The committee found it more difficult to dismiss the possibility that the Mafia, while it was not turned around by Castro, might have voluntarily turned around with him. By late 1962 and 1963, when the underworld leaders involved with the CIA in the plots had perhaps lost their motivation to assassinate Castro, they had been given sufficient reason by the organized crime program of the Department of Justice to eliminate President Kennedy. The committee's investigation revealed that Mafia figures are rational, pragmatic "businessmen" who often realine their associations and form partnerships with ex-enemies when it is expedient.(103) While Castro, by 1963, was an old enemy of organized crime, it was more important that both Castro and the Mafia were ailing financially, chiefly as a result of pressures applied by the Kennedy administration. (104) Thus, they had a common motive that might have made an alliance more attractive than a split based on mutual animosity.

By 1963 also, Cuban exiles bitterly opposed to Castro were being frustrated by the Kennedy administration. (105) Many of them had come to conclude that the U.S. President was an obstacle requiring elimination even more urgently than the Cuban dictator.(106) The Mafia had been enlisted by the CIA because of its access to anti-Castro Cuban operatives both in and out of Cuba.(107)

The Woolsey Fire was a destructive wildfire that burned in Los Angeles and Ventura Counties of the U.S. state of California. The fire ignited on November 8, 2018 and burned 96,949 acres (39,234 hectares) of land. The fire destroyed 1,643 structures,[5] killed three people, and prompted the evacuation of more than 295,000 people.[3]

It was one of several fires in California that ignited on the same day. While the nearby Hill Fire was contained with minimal damage on NOVEMBER 16, the Camp Fire in Northern California destroyed most of the town of Paradise, killing 85 people.[7]

Reginald Victor Jones CH, CB, CBE, FRS,[1] FRSE, LLD (29 September 1911 - 17 DECEMBER 1997) was a British physicist and scientific military intelligence expert who played an important role in the defence of Britain in World War II.

In 1932 he graduated with First Class honours in physics and then, working in the Clarendon Laboratory, completed his PhD in 1934. Subsequently, he took up a Skynner Senior Studentship in Astronomy at Balliol College, Oxford.[2]

In 1936 Jones took up the post at the Royal Aircraft Establishment, Farnborough, a part of the Air Ministry. Here he worked on the problems associated with defending Britain from an air attack.

In September 1939, the British decided to assign a scientist to the Intelligence section of the Air Ministry. No scientist had previously worked for an intelligence service. Jones quickly rose to become Assistant Director of Intelligence (Science) there. During the course of the Second World War he was closely involved with the scientific assessment of enemy technology, and the development of offensive and counter-measures technology. He solved a number of tough Scientific and Technical Intelligence problems during World War II and is generally known today as the “father of S&T Intelligence”.

Jones's first job was to study "new German weapons", real or potential. The first of these was a radio navigation system which the Germans called Knickebein. This, as Jones soon determined, was a development of the Lorenz blind landing system and enabled an aircraft to fly along a chosen heading with useful accuracy.

At Jones's urging, Winston Churchill ordered up an RAF search aircraft on the night of 21 June 1940, and the aircraft found the Knickebein radio signals in the frequency range which Jones had predicted. With this knowledge, the British were able to build jammers whose effect was to "bend" the Knickebein beams so that German bombers spent months scattering their bomb loads over the British countryside.

Thus began the "Battle of the Beams" which lasted throughout much of World War II, with the Germans developing new radio navigation systems and the British developing countermeasures to them.

He was briefly based at Bletchley Park in September 1939, but returned to London (Broadway) in November, leaving behind a small specialized team in Hut 3, who reported any decrypts of scientific or technology nature to "ADI Science".

Robert James Woolsey Jr. (born September 21, 1941) headed the Central Intelligence Agency from February 5, 1993, until January 10, 1995. He held a variety of government positions in the 1970s and 1980s, including as United States Under Secretary of the Navy from 1977 to 1979, and was involved in treaty negotiations with the Soviet Union for five years in the 1980s.

Woolsey was founder and president of Yale Citizens for Eugene McCarthy for President from 1967 to 1968. He was prominently active in the anti-Vietnam War movement.[2]

Woolsey was CIA director when Aldrich Ames was arrested, on FEBRUARY 21, 1994,[5] for treason and spying against the United States.

Aldrich Hazen "Rick" Ames (/eɪmz/; born May 26, 1941) is a former Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) officer turned KGB double agent, who was convicted of espionage in 1994. He is serving a life sentence, without the possibility of parole, in the Federal Correctional Institution in Terre Haute, Indiana, United States.[2] Ames was formerly a 31-year CIA counterintelligence officer who committed espionage against the U.S. by spying for the Soviet Union and Russia.[3] At the time of his arrest,

Ames had compromised more highly classified CIA assets than any other officer in history until Robert Hanssen's arrest seven years later in 2001

n 1952, his father Carelenton began working for the CIA's Directorate of Operations in Virginia, and in 1953 was posted to Southeast Asia for three years, accompanied by his family. Carleton received a "particularly negative performance appraisal" in part because of serious alcoholism and spent the remainder of his career at CIA headquarters.[4]

He was educated at Alleyn's School, Dulwich, and Wadham College, Oxford, where he studied Natural Sciences.

Who wasn't part of it?

Anyway, when he wasn't financing Hitler, Prescott Bush teamed up with Illuminati families such as the Harrimans, the DuPonts, the Rockefellers, and the Hearsts, plus the Knights of Malta, to overthrow the United States government. General Smedley Butler, USMC, a real American hero, two-time winner of the Medal of Honor, blew the whistle on the Business Plot concocted by Bush and his co-conspirators. Bush, like others, should have been executed for treason, but no one was ever prosecuted….

- Silvia Scalia (born 1995), Italian swimmer

Justice Scalia’s Under-the-Chin Gesture

https://www.npr.org/

Supreme Court Associate Justice Antonin Scalia flicked his hand under his chin in response to a question by a reporter for the Boston Herald last weekend - a gesture the reporter felt was obscene. Scalia insists it wasn't, and says those who think otherwise have watched too many episodes of The Sopranos.

When leaving church last Sunday, a reporter asked Scalia if he had received a lot of flack for his conservative Roman Catholic beliefs. Scalia responded, you know what I say to those people? And then he cupped his hand under his chin and flicked his fingers out. The Boston Herald reported that Scalia had made an obscene gesture.

Let's take that as humor in the context that there has been some tension but he is brushing it off, just brushing it off.

Wallace L. Hall Jr. is an American investor who served a controversial six-year term as a member of the University of Texas System Board of Regents.[1][2][3] Hall was appointed in February 2011 by Governor Rick Perry, and was replaced in February 2017.[4][5]

In 2011 Governor Perry appointed Wallace L. Hall Jr. to the University of Texas System Board of Regents. In February 2011, Hall was unanimously confirmed as a Regent by the Texas Senate. The UT System Board of Regents oversees nine universities, including the flagship University of Texas at Austin, and six hospitals or medical institutions. The University of Texas System is one of the largest higher education organizations in the United States, its enrollment is more than 213,000 students and it has an annual operating budget of more than $14.6 billion.

On February 12, 2015, an investigation ordered by UT System found that Bill Powers, the president of UT Austin, had repeatedly helped applicants, including those with questionable academic credentials, gain admission if they had been recommended by legislators and influential people.[19] This was widely described as vindication of Hall and a validation of his concerns.

I note billions of dollars include brain research and 100 missing human brains from Universtiy of Texas labs and CIA contracts in reseaarch as well such as that of Andy Ellington.

Economic Aid and the American Policy Toward Egypt, 1955-1981 Paperback - June 30, 1985 by William Joseph Burns (Author)

Gamal Abdel Nasser’s 1955 decision to barter Egyptian cotton for Soviet bloc weaponry thrust Egypt onto center stage in the Cold War in the Middle East. What Egypt needed most, and what the United States was uniquely equipped to provide, was economic aid. For the Egyptian government—eager to take rapid strides toward economic development but crippled by a burgeoning population, a paucity of arable land, and a meager reserve of foreign exchange—American economic aid promised to serve as an enormously important crutch. For American policymakers, economic assistance appeared to be an ideal means of developing American influence in Egypt.

Few aid relationships in the last three decades can match the drama and significance of the U.S.-Egyptian experience. This study shows how the American government attempted to use its economic aid program to induce or coerce Egypt to support U.S. interests in the Middle East in the quarter century following the 1955 Czech-Egyptian arms agreement. William J. Burns has analyzed recently released government documents and interviews with former policymakers to throw light on the use of aid as a tool of American policy toward the Nasser regime. He also offers valuable observations on the role of the American economic assistance program in the Sadat era.

The reporting on Prado's activities at Blackwater produced no evidence that the firm's employees had ever killed anyone on behalf of the CIA. But I spoke to Blackwater employees who insisted that they had. Two Blackwater contractors told me that their firm began conducting assassinations in Afghanistan as early as 2008.

Anyone wishing for a glimpse of irrefutable evidence the USA's Department of Justice, and its satellite Federal Bureau of Investigation, have been corrupted/co-opted by the Central Intelligence Agency, need look no further than Robert Mueller's failure to act in the case of Enrique Prado, a drug cartel serial killer whose concurrent career had been high-level official at CIA. It follows, appointing Mueller "Special Counsel" in a case where Western liberal democracies' intelligence agencies are implicated (MI6/CIA) is brilliantly cynical.

Why has Enrique Prado never been prosecuted? How is it three consecutive FBI Directors, Robert Mueller, James Comey & Christopher Wray, all of them, have let a proven serial killer continue to run free and go on killing? Corruption doesn't go much deeper than this:

The FBI, without any court order, sifted through the National Security Agency's massive troves of foreign communications for information on American "racially motivated violent extremists," a newly declassified order from the secret surveillance court details.

Even though the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance (FISA) Court warned the FBI in 2018 that its warrant-free queries, known as backdoor searches, were constitutionally alarming, the bureau still conducted queries relevant to criminal investigations about, among other things "domestic terrorism involving racially motivated violent extremists." The court's Judge James E. Boasberg found what he referred to as "apparent widespread violations of the querying standard."

That's the euphemistic term the bureau tends to use to denote white supremacist violence. On one occasion, an FBI analyst ran a multi-search-term "batch query" on Americans "in connection with predicated criminal investigations relating to domestic terrorism" that returned 33 foreign-surveillance results.

On at least one occasion, around May 2020, an FBI analyst looked through the foreign NSA troves "to vet [a] potential source in [a]

http://enriqueprado.com/

It was one of the biggest secrets of the post-9/11 era: soon after the attacks, President Bush gave the CIA permission to create a top secret assassination unit to find and kill Al Qaeda operatives. The program was kept from Congress for seven years. And when Leon Panetta told legislators about it in 2009, he revealed that the CIA had hired the private security firm Blackwater to help run it. “The move was historic,” says Evan Wright, the two-time National Magazine Award-winning journalist who wrote Generation Kill. “It seems to have marked the first time the U.S. government outsourced a covert assassination service to private enterprise.”

According to the “trigger puller,” he and a partner were selected for one such operation because they were Mexican Americans, whose darker skin enabled them to blend in as Afghan civilians.

The quote is from his e-book How to Get Away With Murder in America, which goes on to note that “in the past, the CIA was subject to oversight, however tenuous, from the president and Congress," but that "President Bush's 2001 executive order severed this line by transferring to the CIA his unique authority to approve assassinations. By removing himself from the decision-making cycle, the president shielded himself — and all elected authority — from responsibility should a mission go wrong or be found illegal. When the CIA transferred the assassination unit to Blackwater, it continued the trend. CIA officers would no longer participate in the agency's most violent operations, or witness them. If it practiced any oversight at all, the CIA would rely on Blackwater's self-reporting about missions it conducted. Running operations through Blackwater gave the CIA the power to have people abducted, or killed, with no one in the government being exactly responsible." None of this is new information, though I imagine that many people reading this item are hearing about it for the first time.

Enrique "Ric" Prado is a paramilitary, counter-terrorism, and special/clandestine operations specialist, with a focus on international training operations and programs. Mr. Prado is a twenty-four year veteran of the Central Intelligence Agency where he served as an Operations Officer in six overseas posts. He was Deputy Chief of Station and "Plank Owner" of the original Bin Ladin Task Force/Issues Station under Senior Analyst, Michael Scheuer, as well as Chief of Station in a hostile Muslim country. He also served as Chief of Operations in the CIA's Counterterrorist Center (CTC) during the September 11th attacks, where Mr. Prado helped coordinate CIA/CTC's special operations (SPECOPS) activities with the National Security Council and FBI, as well as with elite U.S. military representatives from Delta Force and SEAL-Team Six, then detailed to CTC/CIA. He retired as Senior Intel Service-2 (SIS-2, Major General equivalent at CIA). Mr. Prado spent his first ten years at CIA as a paramilitary officer in Special Operations Group/Special Activities Division (SOG/SAD, Ground Branch) which is CIA's "special operations force."

His service included 36 months in Central America jungles as the first CIA officer living in the anti-Sandinista "Contra" camps. Subsequently running counter-terrorism/insurgency operations in Peru and in the Philippines. Other key positions included head of the CIA's Korean Operations and Chief of CIA Liaison in Seoul, ROK. He is fluent in his native Spanish and once held a 2+ level in Japanese. His military training and qualifications include Airborne, SCUBA, Advance Combat Medical Rescue, S.E.R.E., Mountain Climbing, and Jungle Survival under the auspices of the US Air Force elite Pararescue Teams (1971-1976). CIA training included: Ops/Case Officer certification training (The Farm), Counterterrorist Operations, Advanced Tradecraft Course, Free-Fall parachuting, Draeger close-circuit (Combat Diver's 1984 and SEALS 2003), Korean Ops, and numerous CT driving and weapons-related courses. Mr. Prado is also a graduate of the elite Henk Iverson's Lone Operator course (2018). Mr. Prado is now co-owner of Camp X, Special Operations Lone Operator Training Group and continues his service training and supporting the "SPECOPS" Community as Subject Matter Expert (SME) at the SWCS' ASOT (Advanced Special Operations and Techniques) and ASOT Managers Course, Dragon Warrior, Emerald Warrior, among others.

Film from the CORONA photographic reconnaissance satellite program. Director of Central Intelligence John McCone in 1962 began creating a new directorate within the CIA that would bring cutting-edge technology to the nation's hardest intelligence challenges. This led to the creation of the Directorate of Science and Technology (DS&T) in 1963.

During the past 50 years, Technical Operations Officers from the DS&T serving around the world have been attacking our national intelligence problems with bold solutions to ensure the safety and security of US citizens.

Throughout the coming year, the DS&T will celebrate the contributions and honor the service of DS&T officers and their families.

DS&T officers have expertise that spans biology, chemistry, engineering, and computer science, and they have many niche talents that support Agency operations around the world. They apply their skills to technological challenges facing the Intelligence Community, developing innovative solutions that may have broader application. The True Story of Revalation 12

In the immediate wake of the coup in Chile, I witnessed how the Cardinal of Santiago, Raul Silva Henriquez -acting on behalf of the Catholic Church- confronted the military dictatorship.

Who is Jorge Mario Bergoglio? (Pope Francis)

In 1973, he had been appointed “Provincial” of Argentina for the Society of Jesus.

In this capacity, Bergoglio was the highest ranking Jesuit in Argentina during the military dictatorship led by General Jorge Videla (1976-1983).

He later became bishop and archbishop of Buenos Aires. Pope John Paul II elevated him to the title of cardinal in 2001

The military junta led by General Jorge Videla (left) was responsible for countless assassinations, including priests and nuns who opposed military rule following the CIA sponsored March 24, 1976 coup which overthrew the government of Isabel Peron:

”Videla was among the generals convicted of human rights crimes, including “disappearances”, torture, murders and kidnappings. In 1985, Videla was sentenced to life imprisonment at the military prison of Magdalena.”

When the military junta relinquished power in 1983, the duly elected president Raúl Alfonsín set up a Truth Commission pertaining to the crimes underlying the “Dirty War” (La Guerra Sucia).

The military junta had been supported covertly by Washington. Wall Street and the Neoliberal Economic Agenda

One of the key appointments of the military junta (on the instructions of Wall Street) was the Minister of Economy, Jose Alfredo Martinez de Hoz, a member of Argentina's business establishment and a close friend of David Rockefeller.

The neoliberal macro-economic policy package adopted under Martinez de Hoz was a "carbon copy" of that imposed in October 1973 in Chile by the Pinochet dictatorship under advice from the "Chicago Boys", following the September 11, 1973 coup d'Etat and the assassination of president Salvador Allende.

NBC News Belize Murder: Victim Had Confronted John McAfee Over Dogs

OV. 14 2012 - — Gregory Faull, who was found shot to death in Belize Sunday, had confronted tech guru John McAfee about his "vicious" dogs, and had joined other neighbors in filing a complaint with local officials demanding they do something about his dogs and the armed and aggressive security guards patrolling his beachfront property.

McAfee, who is being sought for questioning in Faull's murder, has been on the run since the weekend,

MADRID (AP) —John McAfee, the creator of McAfee antivirus software, was found dead in his jail cell near Barcelona in an apparent suicide Wednesday, hours after a Spanish court approved his extradition to the United States to face tax charges punishable by decades in prison, authorities said.

The statement didn't identify McAfee by name but said the dead man was a 75-year-old U.S. citizen awaiting extradition to his country.

Born in England's Gloucestershire in 1945 as John David McAfee, he started McAfee Associates in 1987 and led an eccentric life after selling his stake in the antivirus software company named after him in the early 1990s.

McAfee twice made long-shot runs for the U.S. presidency and was a participant in Libertarian Party presidential debates in 2016. He dabbled in yoga, ultralight aircraft and producing herbal medications.

In 2012 he was wanted for questioning in connection with the death of Gregory Viant Faull, who was shot to death in early November 2012 on the Belize island where the men lived.

McAfee told AP at the time that he was being persecuted by the Belizean government. Belizean police denied that, saying they were simply investigating a crime about which McAfee may have had information. Then-Prime Minister Dean Barrow expressed doubts about McAfee's mental state, saying, "I don't want to be unkind to the gentleman, but I believe he is extremely paranoid, even bonkers."

New DHS Agency Will Provide Needed Emphasis on Cybersecurity
retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

By Tom Gann on Dec 03, 2018

Cybersecurity is playing an increasingly greater role in our government and economy. As our world becomes more interconnected, the cyberthreat landscape is growing and rapidly evolving. To address both physical threats and cyberthreats, the leading federal agency must have the flexibility and resources to quickly mitigate any potential interruptions or harm.

Last week, a critical step was taken in how the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) manages cybersecurity. The long-awaited Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) Act was signed into law by the president, reorganizing the former National Protection and Programs Directorate (NPPD) into CISA. The permanent establishment of a stand-alone federal agency equipped to deal with cyberthreats is long overdue and welcome among the cybersecurity community.

CISA will be its own department within DHS, similar to the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), and will be led by cybersecurity expert, NPPD Under Secretary Christopher C. Krebs, who has had a distinguished career in both the public and private sectors. Establishing CISA as a stand-alone agency within DHS elevates both the mission of cybersecurity in the federal government and cybersecurity's importance and solidifies the position of cybersecurity in our economy.

This is a smart decision on the part of Congress and the White House. It will help the newly created agency outline its priorities, advocate for a separate budget, and further develop recruitment efforts. CISA's leaders will have the ability to continue to drive a culture of cybersecurity within our federal agencies and workforce while enhancing their capabilities to partner with the private sector to address our nation's most critical cybersecurity threats.

McAfee looks forward to continuing to work with Christopher C. Krebs and his able team, led by CISA Assistant Director for Cybersecurity Jeanette Manfra.

This is the Conspiracy Against My Own Sexual and Association Rights.

Keeping me single the next available administrator of my DNA non-white administrators embezzling the genome value to non-whites

FALSE FLAGS, BUNKO, AND THE TRIANGLE OF MEANINGLESSNESS
There are two gangstalks. White women in my vicinity are approached away from me and incited on most likely the evidence manufactured in my vicinity and asked to participate in vigilantism or behave as dupes in my vicinity, leaving my vicinity.

They may also be photographed surreptitiously by those impersonating me, a false flag operation.

Or the impersonator of me will make terrorist or foreign intel comments to the erotic entertainer and then IQ related or other genes related to retarded children advocacy can be seized under the NDAA or FISA Court activities. I believe this tied to my family genome, disrupting my sexuality in the U.S. and planting me DNA into non-whites.

This scheme appears to have been created for non-whites to use impersonators of me to give my DNA to non-whites which I would not, to Christian groups which I would not, and for Non European groups which I would not, thus replacing me in the bedroom to force different racial, religious, national, and ethnic partners for use of my DNA.

Nothing could be more offensive to Human Rights law in the US or in International law.

The scheme uses covert operations in a scheme I have called ErosX. I meet someone or an near someone on the street and an impersonator of me will later in some way pursue contact, perhaps electronically, with that person.

Circumstantially it will appear I continued or started along a path of contact with that woman or teen. Something will be said to me which I begin to detect as a pattern and reject.

For instance for a while at normal points of sale where I am doing normal purchases an unwanted layer is added on, a claim code words spoken to me which have no meaning to me supposedly add an extra transaction onto.

For instance for a while people said “Happy Birthday” to me out of the blue, unexpected, and low and behold, an impersonator of me was later detected in San Francisco getting “pizza” for my birthday in San Francisco when I was in Texas.

Other times people asked me “how many CC is your motorcycle?” or said “we are out of ice” or used the world “hon” to me.

These circumstantial things when I am out and about doing normal transactions during the day are poisoned with meaning they do not have by impersonators agreeing to the meanings I reject, thus forging a a chain of events I am circumstantially tied to.

This is called “cutouts” in cover ops where my non-participation in the scheme is cut out and a person’s (an impersonator of me) willing participation, away from me, is cut into the case file supported by corrupt law enforcement our counter-intel people.

This scheme has been used on property as well including cars and housing and much of has links to Chris Lloyd of Orinda, California, not to be confused with Christ Lloyd the sci fi actor.

Chris Lloyd and Lenny Schaefer and a few others took me to a massage parlor on my 18th birthday in Berkley, CA, Chris Lloyd is tied to genetics research, and Chris Lloyd has a daughter working for Genetech, and Chris Lloyd has made circumstantial physical property comments to me such as house and car purchases as if I had “approved” them when he merely mentioned them without and substantive meaning.

In college Chris Lloyd, I, and others could purchase cocaine from the food cafeteria of University of Oregon by purchasing a candy bar and paying $26 or so and a quarter gram would be passed under the candy bar handed across the counter, if we said the code word at purchase.

Google Books Bombing

Planted Subjects

These planted subjects in the vicinity of Smartphone use will be zoom photographed by someone, and my DNA will pay off the allege affonse of mine to the black or gay who caought me.

The second use, if not the primary use, is to allege I am the peeper at female buttocks that these blacks and gays are really doing.

Mere innuendo towards me points the finger until I challenge them to accuse me of anything, often in shouting matches, and they say there is no accusation against me and nothing is going on.

Sexuallizing children disgusts me, and adult women have a reflexive rage against people who do this, and affinity towards though who investigate this.

Thousand and thousands of time, and no recourse against this. Oh those brave cops are too busy to investigate this.

Sure, I have been photo bombed, whenever I take a regular photo it is alleged I am a sex fiend because they bomb the photo with a sexualized tot, etc.,

I cal this “Guilt Added Photograph” where they add guilt allege to me of my normal ordinary act.

Thy also GPS Bomb me and Googel Books Bomb me. Whenever I used the smartphone for anything they added in a tot or teen in front of me. Even though there was no camera in use, just MapMyWalk, Google Maps Directions, Google Play Books, or anything else, taking a call, seing and SMS message, the screen to my face was met with a tot or something like that in front of me.

At first I though this was to disrupt my ability to read by breaking my concentration, thus making me look like an idiot, a retarded person.

Later I would discover the photo SOMEONELSE took of me with the screen pointing to my face would be a prop for them as they preteneded to be me, then, as confronted, confess to filming that tot, etc.,

In fact the prop of me with the screen to my face would match THEIR photo of the tot THEY took, also in evidence at asset seizure, so why look closely at my Google Books screen?

Social Sabotage

Also, for social sabotage of me, it makes sense that a photo of me with a smartphone in my hand near a tot or teen could be used to indicate to OTHERS with me not present, that the photo of me using my cellphone [for Google Books] was acatually me using my smartphone for photography.

Top US Federal Judge Assassinated After Threat To Obama Agenda http://www.eutimes.net/2011/01/top-us-federal-judge-assassinated-after-threat-to-obama-agenda/

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

The case being ruled on by Judge Roll, this report continues, was about bulk cash smuggling into or out of the United States that the Obama administration claimed was their right to seize under what are called Presidential Executive Orders, instead of using existing laws. The Obama administration used as support for their claim before Judge Roll, the SVR says, the seizing of all American citizens' gold, in 1933, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt's signing of Executive Order 6102, which was ruled at the time to be constitutional.

United States Central Command Vice President Joe Biden, Austin, became the commander of CENTCOM on March 22, 2013, after being nominated by President Obama in late 2012 His approach as CENTCOM commander has been described as that of an “invisible general”, due to his reluctance to speak publicly about military matters.[27] From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia black neigbor I do not have of Casa Linda, at least my REAL apartment) and at these drugged out trysts, per the Corpus Chrisi black police officer, at the alleged trysts of an apartment I did not move to in Los Angles (but I did put in a Disbursement request for) a Doppple of me, with a fake Ed Donegan with hair was bound by a dominatrix similar to this, “forced to give up his milk” by the cast of characters who surrounded me at the laundry mat, but it was BERNIE not ME in LA.

But the fetlife pic and that cop were directly linked, and when I was kicked out of the laundromat for THEIR activities, my lost clothes were moved into a Sound Stage at the far end of the complex and facing 180s the other way, but with blinds and computer desk peeking at a high school which was BEHIND that apartment.

The internal set created in THAT apartment tied to a paint bucket for teens to get keys, was create to look like me looking at at a high school.

First of all I did not sexually kids, and that whole thing may have began when I moved to that intersection which had all the bus lines and laundrymats near the gym, stores, hall way in between the two city hubs of Corpus Christi and near parks

I am not interested in children nor exploitation of anyone but I am framed in public places or so in IMPERSONATOR of me will be blackmailed for my DNA rights, then law firm TJ Henry and ARC of Northern Virginia will claim them and provide them to Genentech for mothers who want the DNA only alleging my permission.

In the usual switchout I bought an insured ticket to Canada but without passport DONEGAN/EDWARD was not allowed to board.

I was then sold the ticket shown instead DONEGAN/EDWARDPAUL traveling instead.

I reported this to flight crew.

The FAKE Ed Donegan may have arrived at the Canadian border first, and been kicked out.

When I arrived at Canda, I already had an arrest in Canada which was the impersonator of me who arrived on the earlier flight INTO Canada I was not allowed to board.

I had to take the bus from New York, crawling along slowely, with my Drivers License and Birth Certificate, while an impersonator of me, likely black, with fake california ID created at a CA DMV scam was arrested in Canada.

From: Edward Paul Donegan
To: To Whom It May Concern;

In what is a serious criminal and serious human rights matter my left wing Gay Rights brother, in a battle over family financial and other assets control, has utilized Flim Flam techniques in a crime of such scale few could believe its occurrence.

I have been harassed and embezzled by a shake down schem operating in my vicinity in which planted people pretend to be my victim and people around me also manufacture bizarre attempted dual constructions tying me to activities in my vicinity.

In a family split politically for years my brother Thomas Neil Donegan and his now legal spouse Mark Weirness continually in various forums alleged my allegations of his fraudulent activities were untrue and even sought and received some civil commitments of me hampering my life and generating the psychiatry history on ne he always wanted to exploitiveliy achieve.

And utilizing that record created for him and agents acting on is behalf an illegally run conservancy utilizing well known flim flam shakedown systems of a trust fund not reporting its activities and use of assets not properly disclosed to me.

In fact the schemes is a flim flam scheme known a Quackery of people allegedly my coaches, assistants, and conservators are merely inventing a perceived need for them and inventing claims against me which will enrich themselves.

This appears to be tied to gaining rights to genes wished for which occur in my family line and myself tied to high IQ (life long testing reveals high IQ in me and my family line) and possibly designer babies in the age of CAS9 and CRISPR, the type of bio experts and genomicists he has been co-operating with.

Because of lack of accounting and operation of hostile conservancy It has taken decades to gather the facts and the Terms Of Art used in grifting and false claims crimes to outline the activities; which again, are serious crimes including financial crimes and which have had very devastating affects on my life, with me having the legal status of an Elder (retarded or cognitively impaired adult.) Glossary and Terms of Art in Bunko

A confidence trick is also known as a con game, a con, a scam, a grift, a hustle, a bunko (or bunco), a swindle, a flimflam, a gaffle, or a bamboozle. The intended victims are known as marks, suckers, stooges, mugus, rubes, or gulls (from the word gullible). When accomplices are employed, they are known as shills.

As I am going somewhere legitimate a Shill (plant female) will be exploitively photographed, etc., by a Doppelgänger of me (called a gull or gullible, ,and also a Shill) in the area, who will then be shaken down by health care conservancy to sign genes of mine those behavioral social justice firms need for their own social justice work. The Doppelgänger of me who will be confronted for the alleged wrongdoing against the shill will sign my genes rights (high IQ) over to the retardation firm.

Thus I am being impersonated and a confession alleged from me forged.

I will later and continuously face social retaliation for the alleged acts and remain single and socially isolated from those who would act on my behalf rather than on the Conservancy's behalf.

Stages of the con (Confindence Trick including Long Con using sets and actors)

In Confessions of a Confidence Man, Edward H. Smith lists the "six definite steps or stages of growth" of a confidence game.[7] He notes that some steps may be omitted.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Confidence_trick

FOUNDATION WORK

Preparations are made in advance of the game, including the hiring of any assistants required. Co-operation of a population area of organization may be gained covertly

APPROACH

The victim is contacted in some way by proximity at least if not actual communication. The assault part of Assault and Battery in some cases

BUILD-UP

The victim (who had been law abiding) is entrapped and is given an opportunity to profit from a scheme. The victim's greed is encouraged, such that their rational judgment of the situation might be impaired. The are now sued as Shill in a long con perhaps

PAY-OFF OR CONVINCER

People are told if they join the Con they can gain from it and some proof is shown. The enlistee receives a small payout as a demonstration of the scheme's effectiveness. This may be a real amount of money, or faked in some way. In a gambling con, the victim is allowed to win several small bets. In a stock market con, the victim is given fake dividends.

THE HURRAH

A sudden crisis or change of events forces the victim to act immediately. This is the point at which the con succeeds or fails. I think in PsyOps the murder of a patsy to silence him or her or an excuse to prevent people from talking to each other stops Rational Analysis which would expose the con

THE IN-AND-IN

A conspirator (in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed. In Free Masonry systems the Office Mob, random people who create a wave of opinion which overpowers or nudges existing crow sentiment or information of events.

A SHILL

also called a plant or a stooge, is a person who publicly helps or gives credibility to a person or organization without disclosing that they have a close relationship with the person or organization. Shills can carry out their operations in the areas of media, journalism, marketing, politics, confidence games, or other business areas. A shill may also act to discredit opponents or critics of the person or organization in which they have a vested interest through character assassination or other means.

A CONSPIRATOR

(in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy to the scheme. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed.

In addition, some games require a “corroboration” step, particularly those involving a “rare item”[flim flam quackery claim of savant, etc.,]. This usually includes the use of an accomplice who plays the part of an uninvolved (initially skeptical) third party, who later confirms the claims made by the con[man.

Character assassination

(CA) is a deliberate and sustained effort to damage the reputation or credibility of an individual[1] The term could also be selectively applied to social groups and institutions. Agents of character assassinations employ a mix of open and covert methods to achieve their goals, such as raising false accusations, planting and fostering rumors, and manipulating information.

In a totalitarian regime The effect of a character assassination driven by an individual is not equal to that of a state-driven campaign. The state-sponsored destruction of reputations, fostered by political propaganda and cultural mechanisms, can have more far-reaching consequences. One of the earliest signs of a society's compliance to loosening the reins on the perpetration of crimes (and even massacres) with total impunity is when a government favors or directly encourages a campaign aimed at destroying the dignity and reputation of its adversaries, and the public accepts its allegations without question. The mobilisation toward ruining the reputation of adversaries is the prelude to the mobilisation of violence in order to annihilate them. Generally, official dehumanisation has preceded the physical assault of the victims. [10]

CA may involve exaggeration, misleading half-truths, or manipulation of facts to present an untrue picture of the targeted person. It is a form of defamation and can be a form of ad hominem argument.

The "Money-Box Scheme"

Victor Lustig, a German con artist, designed and sold a "money box" which he claimed could print $100 bills using blank sheets of paper.[1] [self-published source] A victim, sensing huge profits and untroubled by ethical implications, would buy the machine for a high price, from $25,000 to $102,000.

Boiler Room

In business, the term boiler room refers to an outbound call center selling questionable investments by telephone

Jam Auction

In this scam, the confidence artist poses as a retail sales promoter, representing a manufacturer, distributor, or set of stores. The scam requires assistants to manage the purchases and money exchanges while the pitchman keeps the energy level up

Predatory Journals

In some cases, predatory journals will use fictional editorial boards or use respected academics' names without permission to lend a veneer of credibility to the journal. A curated database of predatory journals can be found at "Scholarly Open Access" refers to the brandjacking of a legitimate academic journal by malicious third party. Typically the imposter journal sets up a fraud website for the purpose of offering scholars the opportunity to rapidly publish their research online for a fee.[1][2][3] The term hijacked journal may refer to either the fraud[4] or the legitimate journal.[5] Similar hijacking can occur with academic conferences as well.[2][6]

Journal hijacking

Social engineering

in the context of information security, refers to psychological manipulation of people into performing actions or divulging confidential information

A type of confidence trick for the purpose of information gathering, fraud, or system access, it differs from a traditional "con" in that it is often one of many steps in a more complex fraud scheme.

Pretexting

is the act of creating and using an invented scenario (the pretext) to engage a targeted victim in a manner that increases the chance the victim will divulge information or perform actions that would be unlikely in ordinary circumstances.[8] An elaborate lie, it most often involves some prior research or setup and the use of this information for impersonation (e.g., date of birth, Social Security number, last bill amount) to establish legitimacy in the mind of the target.[9]

Gull

bamboozle. The intended victims are known as marks, suckers, stooges, mugus, rubes, or gulls (from the word gullible). When accomplices are employed, they are known as shills.

> “Cons succeed for inducing judgment errors , chiefly, errors arising from imperfect information and cognitive biases”

Inflammatory appearances about me (Edward Paul Donegan) are manufactured in furtherance of cons such as placing shills (exploitable females in vulnerable positions) as though, as if, they were of sexual interests to me, as though I had an interest in photographing or exploiting them, when I wish none that.

The basic elements of the scheme is plant females of no interest to me stalk me and people would blame an older white male, me, for being near a woman or child appearing to be exploitively stalked.

The Quackery will involved “in and ins” in the area “Are you OK? Are you OK?” as though I need behavioral services for my sexual deeds (manufactured) and alleged victim, the shill, will create the basis for a claim against me.

CONS

Quackery

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Quackery, often synonymous with health fraud, is the promotion[1] of fraudulent or ignorant medical practices. A quack is a “fraudulent or ignorant pretender to medical skill” or “a person who pretends, professionally or publicly, to have skill, knowledge, qualification or credentials they do not possess; a charlatan or snake oil salesman”.[2] The term quack is a clipped form of the archaic term quacksalver, from Dutch: kwakzalver a “hawker of salve”.[3] In the Middle Ages the term quack meant “shouting”. The quacksalvers sold their wares on the market shouting in a loud voice.[4]

Common elements of general quackery include questionable diagnoses using questionable diagnostic tests, as well as untested or refuted treatments, especially for serious diseases such as cancer. Quackery is often described as “health fraud” with the salient characteristic of aggressive promotion.

And in relations to Quackery (Abuse of Psychiatry for false conservancy and false claims against an alleged patient having alleged symptoms)

Alleged conservancy acing in “Grandparents Grift”

Grandparent scam

A grandparent gets a call or e-mail from someone claiming to be their grandchild, saying that they are in trouble. For example, the scammer may claim to have been arrested and require money wired, or gift cards purchased for bail, and asks the victim not to tell the grandchild’s parents, as they would “only get upset.” The call is fraudulent impersonation, the name of the grandchild typically obtained from social media postings as well as obituaries listed either in newspapers or from a funeral home’s website. Any money wired out of the country is gone forever.

For Grandparent operation of Insurance fraud

Insurance fraud includes a wide variety of schemes in which insureds attempt to defraud their own insurance carriers, but when the victim is a private individual, the con artist tricks the mark into damaging, for example, the con artist’s car, or injuring the con artist, in a manner that the con artist can later exaggerate. One relatively common scheme involves two cars, one for the con artist, and the other for the shill. The con artist will pull in front of the victim, and the shill will pull in front of the con artist before slowing down. The con artist will then slam on his brakes to “avoid” the shill, causing the victim to rear-end the con artist. The shill will accelerate away, leaving the scene. The con artist will then claim various exaggerated injuries in an attempt to collect from the victim’s insurance carrier despite having intentionally caused the accident. Insurance carriers, who must spend money to fight even those claims they believe are fraudulent, frequently pay out thousands of dollar, a tiny amount to the carrier despite being a significant amount to an individua, to settle these claims instead of going to court.

Insurance Billed Against Trust Fund Embezzled Assets Estate, Trust, and Probate Issues

There are several common techniques that executors and trustees use to defraud trusts, estates or probate situations

- Failing to include certain assets on the inventory of the estate or trust and the trust ,manufacturing and settling false claims against the undisclosed (genomic) values

And

- up or be arrested scam[edit] (THE GULL WEARING THE SAME CLOTHES AS ME, ETC., GETS CAUGHT)

This scam is perpetrated through the phone where the caller threatens the victim with a fictitious arrest warrant. To make this threat seem real, the caller IDidentifies the caller as that of the local sheriff. Victims are told they must pay a fine to avoid arrest. Fines are in the hundreds, sometimes thousands, of dollars.

To be settled by the fake law firm fake conservancy money laundering system.

This is why I will die devoted to the Iranians and their country putting morality first.

frequently drawn from prison populations and acting as paid “snitches” will conduct assaults upon someone at police request. The typical type of stooge assaults I have experienced are placement of imagery revolting to me, sexualized children or explositiveness of people I do not sexualize or non-whites sexualized or buttocks fetishism as women buttocks flash me, often with non-white males initiating the acts as though to please me, a white person.

The affect of this is harassment and sex assault upon me which will be interpreted as me being the predator and at allegedly at fault for the sexualization of environments I was using normally.

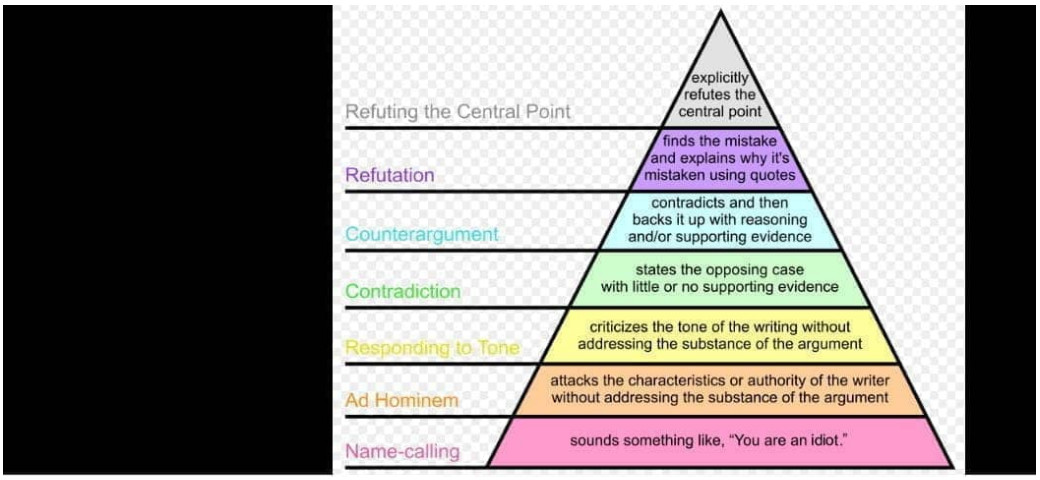
Noble Causes Police Corruption and Police Corruption

Especially non-white and even non-US national people have backed these stooge assaults upon me. The alleged victim, the Shill, is compensated as have been other In and Ins (co-operating scam artists) and non whites have had a hey dey of constantly approaching white women on scams allegedly tied to me but actually conducted the scam artists themselves.

In shaking down and blaming the white supremacist for his genetic makeup everyone seems to benefit and thus things have been shouted at me by dangerous felon cultured blacks “we are going to cut off your balls and fuck Jessica Simpson with them.”

This has been organized racial violence allowed and setup by SJW behavioral care workers treating autism, retardation, and other medical conditions, and these same medical workers undermine my stalking and RICO allegations as mental illness.

In THE TRIANGLE OF MEANINGLESSNESS plain clothes people, claiming to me nothing is out of the ordinary, treat me very publicly as though I were a sex offender, peeper, stalker, etc., The pretentious acts of those people surrounding me carry no meaning. Mere innuendo, less than name calling.



Paul Graham's Hierarchy of Disagreement lists ad hominem as the second lowest type of argument in a disagreement.

BUNKO to others, the acts of those surrounding me and physically blockading women from my proximity, is justified. It is never justified to me, can not be justified truthfully, ,and justification to me would not withstand scrutiny.. Thus, only innuendo is ever used near me and when I call it out the innuendo is denied.

The innuendo towards me is a cover for the false flag acts the perpetrators commit dressed or described as me.

10.1 Part 1 Manafort, Ukraine, Trafficking & Rule of law

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y8T4wEhsfYQ

And also Video 7: Baby Factories for Stem Cells. Manafort trial https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d3vI6XWBqW0

alright Here I am at the Paul Manafort trial this is video 10-day August the 8th 2018 I was asked to give the dates in the video so I thought I would put that in so as I've said it on my channel for the past I don't know a few a few days for some reason they have blocked my meet uploading the videos and so I was with talking tech companies for hours and hours and hours and still couldn't get fixed and so I think I found a back kind of a backdoor way to get it done and so what I'm doing here today is first I want to explain that I'm at the metaphor trial because the metaphor case connects to all the various things that I am working on or have worked on and care about the exposing the child trafficking is really you know what's what is my mission or what makes my heart beat and just because I can't tolerate the evilness of that but what a lot of people don't haven't put together yet is that the weapons and drugs ratlines that i've also worked on are directly correlated and many if not all of the players involved in those red lines are also involved in child trafficking in some way or organ harvesting and all these very very evil things so that is my focus and the metaphor table brings a lot of that together because we here we have the special counsel rush investigation which many people have said has be gone beyond the scope or shouldn't have even a start started sorry about that taking people off shouldnt have started because it was um you know through the poisonous tree basically based on lies and a lot of love that's being explained you know regarding the feisty documents and illegal surveillance things like that and so we have this trial going on that it has nothing to do with the Russians that hasn't been mentioned and the case you know was a couple years ago and the person that investigated some of these very charges was rod Rosenstein the Deputy Assistant our Deputy Attorney General is in terms of the Russian investigation so a lot of this doesn't make sense and so with this case though we have a lot of things that are in common we have weapons drugs money-laundering child trafficking and Coons in Ukraine so a lot of people don't I don't we don't realize but I think it was in 2011 know who was who happened in Ukraine and really it was a Hillary Rodham Clinton George Soros money and some of our quote unquote agents involved in a coup and that was you know to put in a puppet one of our puppets that we control better into power and that led to the country breaking down obviously concern with Russia Russia obviously would be concerned it's on their border and you know this whole chant chant chant of democracy democracy when really what happened is the country broke down and a lot of our politicians got on the energy boards and made a whole lot of money and you know if you check the energy boards to this day you're gonna see names like I don't know Biden things like that of people that are either related or you know maybe senators themselves that got really rich any time all these NICU units popped up neonatal intensive care units involving the Clinton Foundation and I believe it's a pin Chico foundation and also look at that but that's one of the guys involved A LOT OF CHILD TRAFFICKING WEIRD SURROGACY STUFF A LOT OF RUMORS OR EVEN DETAILS ABOUT SELLING BABIES AND ORGAN HARVESTING AND YOU KNOW KIND OF THE FORCING OF YOUNG WOMEN TO CARRY THESE AS SURROGATE BABIES OUT OF POVERTY* so a lot of these trails come to this place and of course we're dealing with the rule of law and if we don’t clean out the justice system we will never ever be able to establish the role of law or prosecute the real criminals and if the real criminals are the ones that are in charge of the justice system then we have a huge problem so that’s why I’m here at the metaphor trial because all of those things I have been involved in investigating and this last weekend you know I had some some people or one person from my channel and make some very hideous accusations and they’ve deleted them now and that’s a good thing because I they were told to delete them and I hope they don’t come back in because I don’t want to be the person that uh you know nice to send out pictures of text messages and all that I don’t I don’t care about other YouTube people being fighting with them or coming against them I want everyone be successful s successful actually anybody that is information that is going to help expose any part of corruption in our own country and help to reestablish the rule of law and to protect children I wish all the success in the world I watched their channels and they might have a look somewhat of a different perspective or they come from and a different angle because they’ve had a different life experience than me and so my life experience and involved obviously law enforcement and a lot of people don’t know but I also have a graduate degree in clinical psychology and I had a chance to kind of peek behind the curtain of the psychiatric world and came to fight the fight came to a place where I found out um a lot of these guys were CIA or CIA contractors things like that and are oftentimes employed to do the cover-up jobs treatment centers and places like that so you know year-and-a-half ago or so I started sharing anonymously with another YouTube channel a lot of people know who that is obviously and who was mainly focused on the weapons and drugs part which I do have you know history of investigating those things as well and I also shared some information with Congress and then I was last summer I was jumped at my home by four people and what was told to me was an attempted hit job and they knew my name and told me I better keep my effing mouth shut and you know beat the living hell out of me and I survived but the response from law enforcement kind of seemed to get weaker and weaker and the lead detective was suddenly removed from my case and you know where things started happening and I was a whistle blower and looking for law enforcement you know and have been involved in being you know gang stalked and all kinds of things for years so as this continued

I’m just gonna start giving out the actual date of the week it’s August 7th I’m here downtown in Tinley town which is basically one second this is CIA Ville right here where I am I have been at the Apple Store or talking to YouTube Verizon store you name it for hours and all weekend because it’s my account was blocked for some reason taken down

nobody’s been able to figure it out we’ve had to do these ridiculous processes and I finally figured out I think my what I wouldn’t might be a trick for me to get get the videos published so I’m doing this one right now from telling town and I hope that it works and we’ll see in just a few minutes if I’m able to if I am then I will upload the videos I made on the manafort trial on last Friday eight point one eight point two eight point three I know eight point four got put up there and also some other videos I made that would not process so I’ll be doing that I know the metaphor trial was today with Rick gates being cross-examined and I was dying to get there but I couldn’t because I had no I’ve had to try to fix this and for some reason somebody does doesn’t want me posting on YouTube about the things I’m talking about but I’m gonna continue and figure out a way to do it so what I did here about palmetto courts across the cross-examination of Rick Gates is that Paul Manafort lawyer downing reduced him to like a pile of tears I think pretty much we got him to say you know he embezzled money from Paul Manafort and on and on and on so I’m going to try now that my camera is working to do some actual reporting and get some actual video and keep going with the story I was telling I mean the last one I videotaped that I was allowed to to upload had me talking about the Ukrainian child trafficking the NICU units near NATO and since neonatal intensive care units that popped up all the sudden after the coup that Hillary Clinton and Friends George Soros and friends that have three letters to represent them on pulled off in Ukraine and Paul Manafort was the kind of the lobbyist that was helping out the I think it’s name is Yankovic something to that effect but he’s the current prime minister and they were trying to overthrow him in Paul Manafort and was trying to help this guy win the election and this guy is more friendly to Russia than the guy that Hillary Clinton wanted to install because they wanted to take all the money and run the country you know rent into a mess like they have all the other countries and they did so and then they stole the money and then they got transferred out or nhadra bank and on and on and on they set up all these NICU units the service surrogacy you know kind of forcing young girls and women to have babies and giving them away in massive shallow graves have been found there on and on and on that I’m pretty aware that Paul Manafort knows a lot about this and and the selling off of the oil rights gas and gas rights okay video number seven or day number seven or day number 367 I don’t even know anymore but video number seven um so I am on my way to the Palmetto for trial some more information came out this morning where I believe the judge again admonished the Millar team regarding the metaphor case something to do with if Rick Gates your star witness isn't going to even testify you don't really have a conspiracy so you know I cooked a bag of popcorn I'm gonna load up you know lyft car with a whole bunch of popcorn and you know sit and watch the show for a little while today I'll give you guys some insight and reporting from what it's like being in there as soon as we get going it's gonna make a short video before we take off questions that were asked yesterday regarding Ukraine kind of how it all ties together the weapons the drugs the child trafficking things like that and people did do a lot of research on circusy and the neonatal units and Beverly Tran on on this channel she posted a lot of really great articles that I in the comment section I encourage you guys to all read regarding you know using stem cells from babies and what what would be other motivations for having preemie babies are creating a kind of a market for preemie babies her babies in general there is obviously ongoing you know since the beginning of time an ongoing attempt to capture the fact the Fountain of Youth and there are some what I would consider very evil people who would go to any extent to maintain the other youth are they think somehow they're gonna live forever just not gonna happen but they think they are and they're willing to do just about anything to make that happen so people were asking about that and there was some great research that was added I encourage you guys to read all the comments especially the the links that were posted in the comment section by the different researchers to get a better grasp of some of what is going on in the Ukraine with the Clinton Foundation with Victor I never say his name panacek or something like I'll have to you know get out a book and uh you know do some reading and learn how to pronounce this name appropriately but with the different foundations that are after the coup in Ukraine and I also I got a comment from somebody or a response from Ukraine talking about how there really is no laws there's no you know you know the the ethics that are supposed to control these kind of situations with surrogacy and you know making babies and stuff like that is you know really non-existent and Ukraine from what I've been told and probably you know when you have an attempted coup in your country and you've got constant skirmishes and that battles and stuff on the on the border and major superpowers fighting over an area you know the country is not going to be that stable and when you got a puppet put in place by our different agencies here in the US with Hillary Clinton in charge the afternoon imagine it's not very stable so there seems to be a market and I think mister Manta Ford actually has information on that market which is maybe one of the reasons they come action so hard I'm not sure but keep looking into it and we're gonna head off now to the mana for trial and see what we can learn and keep doing the research on it because it's gonna be a very important part of the whole story while inspiring Nadja bank manna for the Russian investigation the weapons drugs the child trafficking it’s all intertwine all mixed together and we’re gonna have to get into a linear line and we’re working on that now as to gather more evidence so checking up for now

Bobby Baker and Ellen Rometsch aka Bertha Hildegard Elly

Christine Margaret Keeler (22 FEBRUARY 1942 - 4 December 2017) was an English model and showgirl. Her meeting at a dance club with society osteopath Stephen Ward drew her into fashionable circles. At the height of the Cold War, she became sexually involved with a married Cabinet minister, John Profumo, as well as with a Soviet naval attaché, Yevgeny Ivanov. A shooting incident involving a third lover caused the press to investigate her, revealing that her affairs could be threatening national security. In the House of Commons, Profumo denied any improper conduct but later admitted that he had lied.

This incident discredited the Conservative government of Harold Macmillan in 1963, in what became known as the Profumo affair. Keeler was alleged to have been a prostitute, which was not a criminal offence. Ward was, however, found guilty of being her pimp; a trial was instigated after the embarrassment caused to the government. The trial has since been considered a miscarriage of justice and a charade by the establishment to protect itself.

first appeared in Washington as a photo model under the pseudonym Ellen Rometsch. She met Nancy Carole Tyler, the secretary of Senator Bobby Baker. Baker later found her a job as a hostess for the Quorum Club at the Coroll Arms Hotel on Capitol Hill, adjacent to a Senate office building. It was a private club, founded by Baker requiring annual membership dues and was used by lawmakers and other influential men to meet for food, drink, and engage in dalliances with ladies away from the press that were constantly downstairs at the bar in the hotel lobby.[6] It was during the summer of 1963 that, according to later claims by Baker, the President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, met 27-year-old Ellen Rometsch and allegedly began an affair with her. Rometsch had worked in the Quorum Club for about two years before allegedly starting her affair with Kennedy.

Rometsch had apparently disclosed details of her illicit relations with highly placed government officials that she had met at the club, to a former FBI informant of questionable reliability. Because she had been born in East Germany and was rumored to have once worked for Walter Ulbricht, the FBI decided to investigate her.[7] Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy was informed of the planned investigation on July 3, 1963. On July 12, 1963 Rometsch was interviewed by the FBI and it was concluded that the security allegations against her were not warranted and the high-level sex contacts were unsubstantiated.

However, due to the sensation that the Profumo affair in the United Kingdom had created in the press and because the US State Department could not remove Rometsch without disclosing a specific reason to the West German authorities, it was decided that the information developed by the FBI would be transmitted via liaison to the State Department and then be made available discreetly to West German authorities.[9] On August 14, 1963 Sgt. Rometsch was informed by his superiors of the allegations being made against his wife and that he was therefore being recalled back to West Germany in one week.[10] Rometsch was expelled from the U.S. on August 21, 1963 “because of her behavior in Washington”, behavior which according to media reports threatened to have scandalous overtones reminiscent of the Profumo affair.

The allegations involving Rometsch and her subsequent removal from the U.S., were brought to the public’s attention through a front page article written by Clark R. Mollenhoff in the October 26, 1963, issue of the Des Moines Register.[12] Mollenhoff said her circle included “several congressional figures” and “several high executive branch officials” and “moved in a crowd that included some well-known New Frontier figures”, [12] and that she led a life that “could not be financed on the pay of a non commissioned West German soldier.”[13] A few days later Clark Mollenhoff asked President Kennedy at a live televised press conference if he is fulfilling the requirements of his Code of Ethics.

FBI Received Tip Deemed ‘Not Plausible’ Days Before Opening Flynn Probe retrieved from True Pundit / Daily Caller News Foundaion and copied or modified to here

According to the FBI document, which President Donald Trump declassified before leaving office, Stefan Halper, a former University of Cambridge professor who served as a confidential human source for the FBI, passed along a salacious allegation about Flynn during a meeting with his FBI handler, Stephen Somma, on Aug. 11, 2016.

Halper told Somma, an FBI counterintelligence agent working on Crossfire Hurricane, that he had suspicions about an encounter at the University of Cambridge in 2014 between Flynn and Svetlana Lokhova, a Russian-British graduate student. According to the FBI summary, Halper said that he saw Lokhova leave the Cambridge event with Flynn, who was director of the Defense Intelligence Agency at the time.

The FBI had opened Crossfire Hurricane on July 31, 2016, after receiving information from an Australian diplomat regarding an encounter he had two months earlier with George Papadopoulos, a Trump campaign adviser.Z

On Aug. 10, 2016, the Crossfire Hurricane team opened counterintelligence case files on Papadopoulos and two other Trump campaign advisers: Carter Page and Paul Manafort.Z

Flynn was the fourth aide targeted in the probe, though the FBI did not open a file on him until Aug. 16, 2016.

The FBI would use Halper, who had served in four Republican presidential administrations, to meet with and secretly record both Page and Papadopoulos. He was paid an undisclosed sum of money for his work, according to a Justice Department inspector general's report released in 2019.

Both Page and Papadopoulos have identified Halper as the person who has been described in FBI documents as the bureau's confidential human source (CHS) for Crossfire Hurricane.

The FBI has not released any documents showing that the bureau received evidence about Flynn between Aug. 10, 2016 and Aug. 16, 2016, other than the information provided by Halper.

Ultra powerful peer of the NSA with world continental development goals such as Asia and Africa and including cultural, medical, and biowarfare goals

The DIA is a factual fit to Barack Obama's war on Nationalists and a factual fit to have continental development interests in Africa and perhaps also said Asia to create a NeoCon vision around the world.

With "pre-emptive" warfare and massive black ops capbilities this group seems to be tied to the Dulles MKULTRA programs and perhaps JFK murder and more. Looks like a large bastion of unchecked police state power which was subject to political theory and interests in focusing its Defense Clandestine Service and Defense Cover Office capabilities to plant operatives who will layer around illegal DIA acts and protect real witness from being present or will bolster the identity of the undercover operative.

Not only do the type of acts, interests, and capabilities fit what is happening to me, illegal, with no recourse to me, it fits the SteganoSemantics system as well tied to Cryptnome.

Key dates in it are connected to my IVF dates and the agency was spun up exectly during the JFK era that the Dulles seemed to want Kennedy out of the way.

I saw a tweet recently the key was turned in 1963 and it may be through this ultra powerful military agency, still growing in power.

The Defense Intelligence Agency's potential interests in me.

- DIA has an interest in concealing Obama DNA and Birther dates tied to my family.

- Defense Intelligence Agency has an interest in both my non-establishment Atheist Self-Reasoning Self-Governing People ideology and my DNA in Africa fighting Isamism. I had long recommended on Twitter Catholics help Islam undergoe reforms Christianity carried out. Studying my ideology through hostile assaults of me helps multiple DIA goals.

- DIA might be making a fake claim me typing up a few gray area concepts using my favorite computer terms is actually some new concept to be explored by MKULTRA

- I am intelligence and well educated and have unique self taught opinion blacks and leftist would like to move away from their own empty tripe with new, as they use it, faddism in use of words

- I have an elite interest in BDSM theory and practitioners and also European music, and these seems a cultural infiltration the DIA is interested in conducting, perhaps under fighting terrorism theories.

- Personal and political connections to government officials with coverup needs such as popular Francis Collins, Mueller and Rosentein calling my web site http://web.archive.org/web/20060915000000*/www.realharmrealfoul.com including the now dissapeared NIH.ASp and ProjectELSI.ASP.

- In addition to personal loyalty to those appointees military PsyOps are assigned to protect US Government Agency positions and policies before the public, even when the positions are false such as the 99.9 percent genetically identical claim, from which much Whiteness Studies and Affirmative Action, Disparate Impact theory flows.

DARPA

Wikipedia

Early history (1958-1969)

The creation of the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) was authorized by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958 for the purpose of forming and executing research and development projects to expand the frontiers of technology and science, and able to reach far beyond immediate military requirements,[3] the two relevant acts being the Supplemental Military Construction Authorization (Air Force)[7] (Public Law 85-325) and Department of Defense Directive 5105.15, in February 1958.

Its creation was directly attributed to the launching of Sputnik and to U.S. realization that the Soviet Union had developed the capacity to rapidly exploit military technology. Initial funding of ARPA was $520 million.[8] ARPA's first director, Roy Johnson, left a $160,000 management job at General Electric for an $18,000 job at ARPA.[9] Herbert York from Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory was hired as his scientific assistant.[10]

Johnson and York were both keen on space projects, but when NASA was established later in 1958 all space projects and most of ARPA's funding were transferred to it. Johnson resigned and ARPA was repurposed to do "high-risk", "high-gain", "far out" basic research, a posture that was enthusiastically embraced by the nation's scientists and research universities.[11] ARPA's second director was Brigadier General Austin W. Betts, who resigned in early 1961.

[citation needed] He was succeeded by Jack Ruina who served until 1963.[12] Ruina, the first scientist to administer ARPA, managed to raise its budget to $250 million.[13] It was Ruina who hired J. C. R. Licklider as the first administrator of the Information Processing Techniques Office, which played a vital role in creation of ARPANET, the basis for the future Internet.[14]

Mitre

Additionally, the political and defense communities recognized the need for a high-level Department of Defense organization to formulate and execute R&D projects that would expand the frontiers of technology beyond the immediate and specific requirements of the Military Services and their laboratories. In pursuit of this mission, DARPA has developed and transferred technology programs encompassing a wide range of scientific disciplines that address the full spectrum of national security needs.

From 1958 to 1965, ARPA's emphasis centered on major national issues, including space, ballistic missile defense, and nuclear test detection.[15] During 1960, all of its civilian space programs were transferred to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the military space programs to the individual services. [citation needed]

This allowed ARPA to concentrate its efforts on the Project Defender (defense against ballistic missiles), Project Vela (nuclear test detection), and Project AGILE (counterinsurgency R&D) programs, and to begin work on computer processing, behavioral sciences, and materials sciences. The DEFENDER and AGILE programs formed the foundation of DARPA sensor, surveillance, and directed energy R&D, particularly in the study of radar, infrared sensing, and x-ray/gamma ray detection.

ARPA at this point (1959) played an early role in Transit (also called NavSat) a predecessor to the Global Positioning System (GPS).[16] “Fast-forward to 1959 when a joint effort between DARPA and the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory began to fine-tune the early explorers’ discoveries. TRANSIT, sponsored by the Navy and developed under the leadership of Dr. Richard Kirschner at Johns Hopkins, was the first satellite positioning system.”[17][18]

During the late 1960s, with the transfer of these mature programs to the Services, ARPA redefined its role and concentrated on a diverse set of relatively small, essentially exploratory research programs. The agency was renamed the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) in 1972, and during the early 1970s, it emphasized direct energy programs, information processing, and tactical technologies.[citation needed]

Summary: President Obama unveils the “BRAIN” Initiative- a bold new research effort to revolutionize our understanding of the human mind and uncover new ways to treat, prevent, and cure brain disorders like Alzheimer’s, schizophrenia, autism, epilepsy, and traumatic brain injury. Note: Want to learn more about the BRAIN Initiative? Watch Tom Kalil, Innovation Advisor; Dr. Francis Collins, Director of National Institutes of Health; and Dr. Arati Prabhakar, Director of the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) discuss the new research effort in an Open for Questions session.

What are the potential drawbacks to turning to technology to solve societal issues?

Technology is a raw power; that's true of nuclear technology and it's true of the internet. And history shows us that every power can be used for good and for evil. I do think that, over time, as societies deliberate about these new technologies, they lift us up, in aggregate. That's why we-as scientists, engineers, and technologists-do what we do. We have the great privilege to work on technological advances that will lift humanity. But that doesn't happen smoothly or easily or automatically. Part of our responsibility is to contribute to wise choices about technology.

What role do you hope your new venture, Actuate Innovation, will play in this evolving innovation ecosystem?

"It's no accident that the things we are still very good at innovating for are information technology, national security, biomedicine, and the foundations of basic research."

Arati Prabhakar (MS '80, PhD '85)

We are an organization that raises funds, primarily philanthropic, and uses those funds to design and execute research programs with two focuses. First, we run research initiatives that can demonstrate potentially powerful solutions to societal problems. And second, in doing that work, we have an opportunity to model what the process of innovation can look like, because it's not going to look like the last century of research and development.

10 Insane Cases of Genetic Engineering

DARPA’s Supersoldiers

#1 The US defense company DARPA has been interested in the human genome for years, and as you might expect from the company that’s created 99 percent of the world’s deadly robots, their interest isn’t purely for educational purposes. Skirting around the Human Chimera Prohibition Act is difficult, but they seem to be experimenting with various ways to engineer a “super soldier” with their research into the human genome.One project in their 2013 budget projection sets aside $44.5 million to develop “biological systems that cross multiple scales of biological architecture and function, from the molecular and genetic level.” The goal is to enhance the soldier’s abilities in a warzone.

But here’s another project that’s, honestly, blatantly terrifying: Their Human Assisted Neural Devices program (on page 70 of the budget, if you want to look), sets a goal to “Determine whether networks of neurons can be differentially modulated through optogenetic neural stimulation in animal models.” Optogenetics is an obscure branch of neuroscience that is used to, we kid you not, “manipulate neuronal activity and to control animal behaviour.”

And the budget goes on to specify that they hope to have a working demonstration of that technology on a “non-human primate” sometime this year, which indicates that they’re pretty far along, and definitely shows where they want to eventually go with the technology-zombie human supersoldiers.

Prophets Elijan in Muhamed Speaks, Linda Newkirk, and who is and isn't a prophet about Spiritual Codes 360 degrees and MKULTRA?

Is Pam Schuffert whose father is USAF a Prophet authorized to speak on behalf of New World Order Project Monarch in Tongues or is she a False Prophet not authorized to speak on behalf of the program?

Pam Schuffert is an Illuminati pawn. And that describes her in a nutshell. She's from an Illuminati bloodline and plays "Christian" all over the internet while she steals other peoples work and puts her name on it.

I first met Pam in the year 2000. I talked to her once on the phone and had subsequent emails with her in regards to a particular person we both knew at the time. This particular person was a girl running a Christian email group online and was a continual victim of the Project Monarch program. I also came to learn she was a lesbian and lived a swinger lifestyle. So I mentioned it to Pam to get her thoughts about this woman because this woman was “coming onto me” in emails etc..We had a few conversations and I started to learn more about Pam’s ministry (she posed as a Christian counselor so I didn’t feel inhibited talking about this other woman to her). I had just had my fourth child and was just starting to get involved with learning about the NWO online and what their agenda was on earth. I had already been a student in Bible Prophecy for many years and had been praying to the Most High to teach me the truth in all things. Learning first hand about the apostasy in the churches and the in-depth details of how the New World Order operates was the beginning of the truth journey for me.

On DECEMBER 17, 1925 Talton Higbee Embry and John Paul Riddle founded the Embry-Riddle Company at Lunken Airport in Cincinnati, Ohio. In spring 1926, the company opened the Embry-Riddle School of Aviation.[7] Following a merge with the Aviation Corporation (AVCO), the Embry-Riddle flying school was closed in 1930.[8]

In 1939 Riddle, John Graham McKay and wife Isabel re-established the school in Miami, Florida. Keeping the name, they partnered with the University of Miami to provide flight training under the Civilian Pilot Training Program, increasing the number of pilots immediately preceding World War II. Alumni of this school included future President of the United States John F. Kennedy

But, I will share some things with you; for you need to understand that a very great work has been taking place, far greater than any of you can ever imagine.

I must tell you that when these crafts enter into this portal from Camp Robinson, and most often from their underground locations, that they enter slowly into this inter-dimensional space and as they pass through this space, they travel up and out through my body. If you were to be in my house and these crafts were passing through this portal, (which is about the size of two football fields, as I understand it, and out through this gateway,) and if you touched my body, you would feel the movements of these trains and aircraft as they pass through my physical body. It is this passage of these crafts through this inter-dimensional space, which is attached to my body, and the passage of them also through my body, which has caused me to be so very ill for many months of this past year.

Also, because of this constant movement, and believe me, it is constant, my body is so terribly burdened and I am continually so tired that I am not able to do much work. As I understand it, I have actually died more than forty times since June of 2013 and of both of necessity and because of His great love and mercies, our Saviour has continually brought me back to life. Blessed is His Holy Name!

But, Dear Ones, it is not just the passage of these crafts and trains through these portals. Dear Souls, as I understand it, Camp Robinson has a very great underground complex and as I understand it also, this is Satan’s world headquarters. It is no wonder that in the Bible, in Revelation, Chapter Twelve, the word tells us that Satan is in the face of the woman; for I live only a few miles from this base and for twenty-five years, even when I lived in North Little Rock, Arkansas, I have lived only a few miles from this base. Next to Camp Robinson is Camp Pike. This base is named after Albert Pike, the father of modern freemasonry, which is Satan’s worldwide occult organization. That Satan would be in my face is foretold in the Book of Revelation in the 12th chapter, but what is told there is only a very brief outline.

Political Psychology and Voting Behavior (done behind my back in the band of mercenary Office Mobs, vote by secretly planted Mercenaries to block me from the office on evidence planted in the gangstalk)

PsyOps creating the appearance i have a disorder seeking out teens or tots for photography, sexuality. Plays to many goths are young.

Wikipedia: Voting behavior is a form of electoral behavior. Understanding voters' behavior can explain how and why decisions were made either by public decision-makers, which has been a central concern for political scientists, or by the electorate.

At Pacific Bell Video Services my boss introduced a joke to me I had not hear before. Take fortune cookies fortunes and add " … in between the sheets" to any fortunes.

Never waist an opportunity for a Narrative, chaning by others acts, changing the context of where i am and what is happening, a narrative I sought out the teens and tots nor me when instead they are planted, normal populuation i sought removed.

So everywhere I go and everything I do is turned into ".. because Ed is a teen or tot phile" the narrative the corrupt forces need of me to shake down an impersonator of me as an exploiter of teens and tots.

Targeting Swinger Communities with Disinformation. What kind of person would adult reproductive age females vote out of a gym or swinger community?

I am going to guess a peeping tom with a hidden camera targeting female buttocks, obsessed with Yoga pants and Yoga classes, a tot or teen sexualizer taking photos of them, someone who resents or fears women or stalks them are can not control themselves around women, overcome by them.

Because I have spent my life under inexplicable gay, non white, and retarded/social services clientele populations attack I have also become a white separatist. I later learned the motive for the attacks on me were an undisclosed interest in my DNA and provoking fights with me which result in legal retaliation against me.

Most every group I have every joined immediately multiplies by a factor of 20 times or more and behind my back KOMPROMAT of faked information is introduced.

But why this? MKULTRA has ALREADY used my DNA in those populations. Because of family databases it ONLY be found in those populations from here on out.

Gangstalkers fake evidence then infiltrate groups I seek to join or were in and lead votes against me on KOMPROMAT hidden from me, a persecution scheme.

World Wars

World War I included the Illuminati founding of Opus Dei and bacteria transport of genes, WWII included recognition of the Anterior Temporal Lobe and Elegant Thought including Semantics less or not prevalant in Sub Saharan halogroups

The Germans had deep hatred of the Russian NKVD. The Russians massacred 20 to 30 thousand German troops captured during Operation Barbarosa, the Axis (German) inva sion of the Soviet Union (fight with the Allied.

Durigm and after WWII disgust of Russian military and MI acts were in a high state and the massacre of Russian aircraft designers and 14 million Russian by Stalin after WWII drove much of the German and Allied forces contempt and fear of Russia and this included Vatican fear of both Russia and Germany after German retaliation for Operation Valkerie and some other solution, a biological solution, to race and war was sought.

Thes were the work of Sidney Gottlieb, Wild Bill Donovan, the Vatican, Jews, and others.

my·o·pi·a noun nearsightedness,lack of imagination, foresight, or intellectual insight.

Jim Volcelka and William Ruiz said the reason they physically and sexually assaulted me as they participated in a money laundering scam I believe tied to Jen Moore's murder at that same time was that "I was a Nazi (or Trump supporter) scum" thus they had to take their acts.

Maybe in their minds asking a White Supremacist and White Seperatist for IQ genes seems to legitimize the Naziz by legitimizing blacks on the retarded have lower IQs, and idea fought by US scientists. Very few discussion panles on TV about curing the stupid and moves in that direction, like genetics and stupidity.

In fact my family history is genocide on both directions. The famine of Ireland setoff by the English, the Troubles of Ireland in County Donegal my father shiverd at, and the move of FOXP2 Windsor Dysgraphics out of the Windsor family on for them to be hunted and killed later by Black Hebrew Israelites or Opus Dea, or at least it seems to me so far.

But gays and non whites assaulting me as State sanctioned acts, then over thirty years institutionalizing me as I respond within the law to the lawless attacks is the story of my life. I am convinced not only am I a targeted individual but I was radiologically attacked in my midsection imprisonment. I am on the defensive. I have the substantive and process integrity against morally preening aggressors.

The damage to my life that results from their presence had been incalculable and is continuing, and is the continuation of MKULTRA and Sidney Gottlieb type acts of war against my family and me, acts for decades planned by Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness.

Interesting how the scam involves violence and evictions of me in the locations where … bedrooms are in which others, not me, are blackmailed by Lilly White Assed Dominatrixes.

My normal acts, Map My Walk, etc., are surrounded by Doppelgangers enfiling women into JPEGSs and others, not me, saying that a White Supremacist did it. (by the way I always considered bands like Smithereens, etc., artistic achievement of whites)

This I am told is “fighting white supremacism” by those with Narcissistic rage against whites who have excluded them.

These non whites dressed as me masturbate openly at the sight of whites or females. These dressed as me ppl photograph white females and planted others (here the tot on blue gym shorts, along with another younger tot ass flahsed me as well) I wanted nothing to do with.

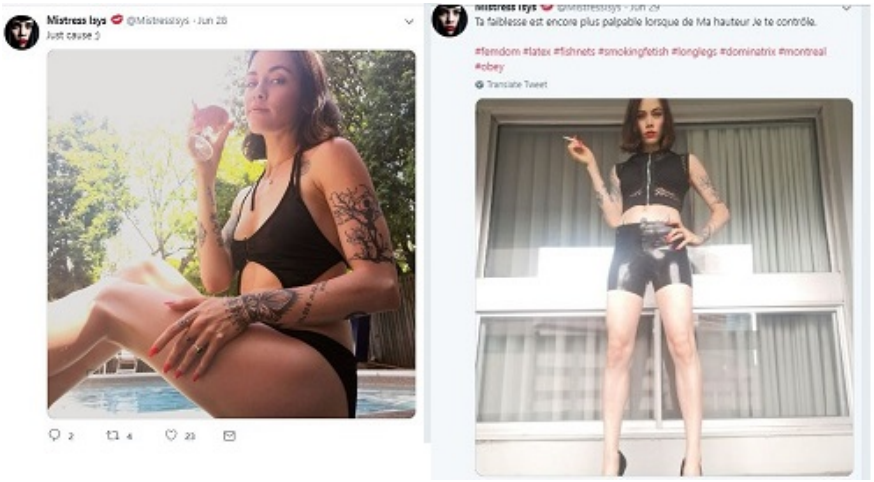
But for the intervening event of them surrounding me, I would not be “following” etc., (they got in front of me, I did not get behind them.)

Evidence plants on my or former friends property of ours build the gridiron appearance that I DO (actually I don’t) have despicable interests which make me vulnerable to blackmail.

But why should I have the fun of a blackmail session with an adult entertainer (that injured adult entertainer, angry at stalkers, peepers, pedos) when the LE person who actually caught me peeping could have that fun, leaving me alone?



What could some of the people be thinking?

A reproductive age Dominatrix, perhaps, gay, perhaps into Social Jutice, perhaps early in life going to school or getting a degree of some type, perhaps even with a medical malady, bills to pay, or looking to work with law enforcement and end sex offenses.

Homeless shelter people, drug addicts, others, willing to do the deal, complete the forgery to a Honey Pot.

Marshalls lookimg for asset seizure wealth in cars, genomic rights, pervy adult entertainer day and night work, espionage against a computer programmer rather than pulling ghetto criminals out of slums, etc.,

SJWs making white supremacism look bad and the vulnerable in need of protection, and also get them a supply of IQ genes from a source they say does not exist as IQ genes (me, scum bag retard.)

County, donations to Goodwill Industries, Salvation Army, drug programs, county hospitals and their work.

Vatican on orphanages, genes rights, non whites, genes rights, religions, genes rights.

Obama, his family history breaking eggs of an alleged perv in the U.S. (me) and a covert program to move my genes, HLAs, and brain genes into 50k or 250k years ago Ethiopia, its best path that can be found into the Obama family. (it exists everywhere in the world).

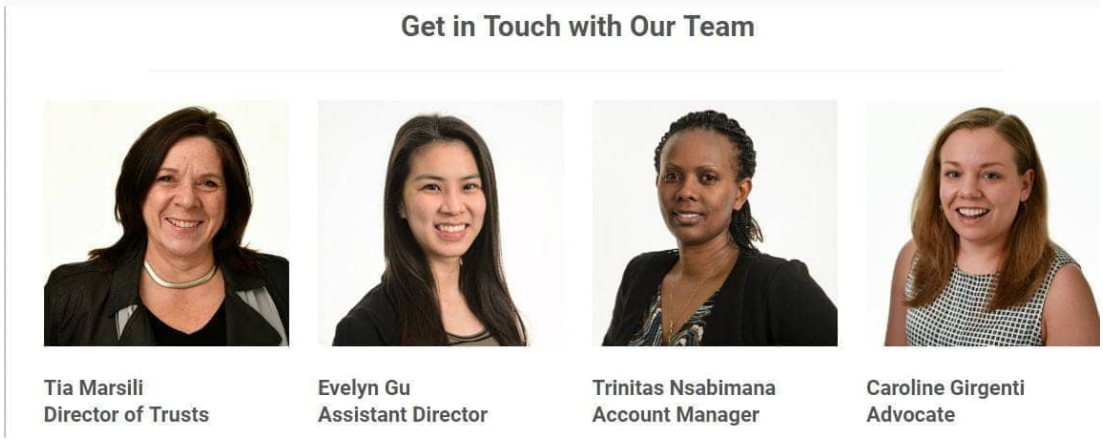
The Illuminati coverup the murder of JFK, Malcom X, and others including Thomas C Wales in the coverup of Birtherism and Obama running on a fake birth certificate.

Someone other than me will award those who “caught me in the area” (non whites and often those who enfiled the women) my white genetic origins.

A developmentally/sexually injured dominatrix who is lead to believe I am a pedophile, peeper, etc., could bring justice to the harmed party, the family of the peeping tom victim, reluctant though these non whites are over the scheme.

A retarded children advocacy service has a Jism Jeep available to receive the DNA of someone who will never get his car approved.

Or see a white females buttocks. Or a white woman in a bikini.



Or will ever have white family or friends.

This both defames a white and evens the genetic scales, and flips the morally contrasted parties as to who is in the right and who is in the wrong.

Who is the victim and who is the criminal in racial hate crime.

Going along with this is the Google Books Ploy. When I go to museums, read books, etc., is is “bait bombed” as though a loser like me is peeping not reading, and I am assaulted for reading books, excersizing, etc.,

I am a scum bag peeper, not a museum goer. I am a scum bag peeper, not a health enthusiast in the gym.

One of the things I had said is if the RICO participants merely wanted an AIDS cure from certain genes, long telomeres for longer lives, or IQ genes all around that might be debated and done without the racket.

One might speculate the signature behavior of this strange boudiour harrassment fits the need of the bedroom assailants and harrassers, but again, I thik that onion layer has a rotten smell to it.

The real signature of this is politicla ties to politicians and their office holding histories and that makes sense of what otherwise is not explicable, the pressence of DOnal Barr, the Masons, etc, have signed this with their meothds and their needs which are not in the medical use of genes picture.

I have spent all my life since about the late 1990s fighting of racially loaded gangstalk and racially charged unprovoked street assaults by ghetto uneducated blacks who fit what I now know is the profile of Black Hebrew Isrealites.

I did not know what a gangstalk was until I went to Stormfront and found other whites vicims of it.

Dark skinned assailants mostly immigrant Hispanics or black US citizens or black immigrants have been able to assault my mother and I with impunity.

My mother coped with it in pain and I wrongfully rebuked her visceral descriptions of her assailants though I knew them to be correct.

Instead I took the perspective this was fairly ordinary United States Social Justice experience and began to research racial theory and sociology, debating the underpinnings as being racial apologism covering up harder to accept scientific truths, that racial gaps in genetics existed leading to differing life outcomes and whites should not be blamed.

Nevertheless blacks have assaulted me and framed me including framing for their own obsessive “fapping” to white females and at the same copied my aesthetics to use on women who they surround as black push whites away from me.

The obsession with whites, and me and my mother, I now considered “specialized” racial assaults which flow from Black Hebrew Israelite theory, that my mother and I stole their dna and it is payback time.

Payback has meant defecating on my life calling me pedophile retarded threat to women, while black masters of intellect like themselves are the “gods.”

Part of Black Hebrew philosophy, that European royalty DNA was stolen from them)

Very recently, in the last few years I have found this as “narcissistic rage” based hate crime against my mother and I as they are unwilling to admit they want and need the DNA of whites, and of my mother and I in particular.

This new “leveling of the field” (successful predation against my mother and I) have lead to blacks around the world, prison filth now on the prowl for white women as the new version, the captured version, of Ed Donegan.

- An allegation that describes EVENTS THAT DID OCCUR, BUT WERE PERPETRATED BY AN INDIVIDUAL WHO IS NOT ACCUSED, and in which THE ACCUSED PERSON IS INNOCENT.

My belief is that some charismatic intelligent people will fall into the diagnostic bucket of say “Aspergers,” “Dyslexia, “Bipolar” etc., when in fact the rare “Zebra” condition of FOXP2 is present.

Dan Akroyd has a geeky sound to him, almost tone deaf as I am tone deaf. Various roles have worked well for him in Hollywood but at a cocktail party he may be thought of as someone try to “put on” some phoney air or be somewhat off beat and unreal at first impression, getting quietly judged in social circles in a bad first impression.

Conversationally AHDH presenting people can be an annoyance to talk to. I rerecorded a team meeting once at Wells Fargo to analyze it and I found I was just simply spacing out on what was said by others, important points, as I was wandering around in my own thoughts and not on point and even missing it. In particular I missed some good input froma Latin American Checkpoint Firewall instructor. who I had nothing against but stil missed some of the points she was making.

Why? It is my belief an SI (Stalker’s Interest, or Stalker Motive) is that once secret use of genome for experiments are detecatble under the family databses leading to chaos of Illuminati long using that genome and the CIA DARPA Illuminati set come from Espionage and have Espionage capabilities (including returning to government as Moles covering old mistakes under presumed non conflicted new management of the DOJ, FBI, etc., Stalkers clearly display Cognisaince of guilt often trying to hide liscene plates, speeding away, concealing evidence manufature, threating jounalists, speaking openly they are faking right to genome or are in “illegal acts” and use guiees and deciets as standard practice hiding the bad cause of their acts instead of presenting good cause to the stakeholder (the person whose life liberty or property interest is being stalked and conspired against by the other and self serving interests of the stalker.

Where this is occurring is the information space Wiggle Room of 1) Circumstantial evidence only and not direct proof and 2) Against the trust funds or assets managers, not the beneficiaries which creates wiggle room from what a Trust Fund Beneficiary would be either presented with or agree to.

Who Donald Barr William Barr the Bush family from Prescott on using NWO Free Masonary techniques for harassment of enemies and encapsulating that under the guise of science or the guise of practice drills when in fact rather than harmless role play the practice drills involve bystanders, actually targeted by standers to the drill inside the operation including being blamed for appearances or acts of the drill thus Conspiring against the targeted by undermine rights of the targeted with manufactured but apparent pretextaul basis.

Why blocking the successful and prominent existence of people who share family lineage with Elites and the Elites (or the experiments who created genomic twins experiments) allows no prominent examples of the same genome which also exists in the elites.

Similarly genome which SHOULD be in certain elites are NOT and thus Malcom Shabbaz/Malcom WHite, Dunham, Barrack OBama Sr family lines are under attack by inexplicable accidents which do NOT comport to conspiracy theories since they were accidents.

I have been a High Value Target for COINTELPRO. ON the surface it was fighting White Supremacism and even less likely it was said to be fighting exploitation of females and minors, that very unlike me Tom Dunham.

Under the guise of these staged fights, these losing fights I have been on the defensive on, a propaganda war and asset seizures against my side of that picked fight.

As a matter of psychology I grew tired of shouting “You crazy sambo” after every English As A Guessed At Language Speaker was told to assault me, assault me on the basis I was exploiting their children. All that was faked, someone else photographed their children and I have no problem with “undocumented” other than they are being exploited as an under protected class of people in a country which has only one class of person.

I have grown deeply resentful, sick to my stomach my father ever had any US Military uniform near his body. I think they misused genome from James and Glorian, making them the Manchurian Candidates to DARPA FOXP2 gene research, and since their deaths, his in particular, his participation in that program made all three of us, him , me, and my mother, and out true story and genome a threat to Columbia University and all those connected to it, the Bush family, William and Bob Barr, Mulcasey, Abhot, and all the rest, and since them I am the “stem cell” supply line the State of Texas must both end in normal use and legitmize in DARPA use under fake rights to it.

Fighting COINTELPRO

I have tried to prove that I am a Targeted Individual of gangstalk and criminal state sponsored activity.

I am denied true accounting. Fake “code words” claim statements to me which are NOT statements but merely distorted tones of voice.

In researching this I have concluded these non white activists on one level want high IQ dna, even DNA tied to King Edward VIII, and further, need the public appearance of permission for my DNA or else they would face the death penalty for using without my permission, and the death penalty for denying my own reproducivity via the protection racket seizing rather than protecting my would be rerpoductive white life.

With Rise In White Supremacist Attacks, Kaine Introduces Bill To Combat Threat Of Domestic Terrorism

WASHINGTON D.C. - Today, U.S Senator Tim Kaine joined Senator Dick Durbin to introduce legislation to address the growing threat of white supremacists and other violent right-wing extremists. The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act would enhance the federal government's efforts to prevent domestic terrorism by requiring federal law enforcement agencies to regularly assess this threat and provide training and resources to assist state, local, and tribal law enforcement in addressing it.

"The rise of white supremacy is an undeniable threat to the safety of our communities. In 2017, violent white supremacists brought their hate to Virginia when they marched through the streets of Charlottesville. As the threat of violent white supremacy continues to mount, we must do more to ensure law enforcement has the training and resources they need to detect, deter, and investigate these acts of terrorism," Kaine said.

According to a May 2017 intelligence bulletin by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), white supremacist extremism poses a persistent threat of lethal violence, and white supremacists were responsible for 49 homicides in 26 attacks from 2000 to 2016-more than any other domestic extremist movement.

The bill requires the Justice Department (DOJ), DHS, and FBI to monitor, analyze, investigate, and prosecute domestic terrorist activity. The agencies would be tasked with (1) issuing joint annual reports to the House and Senate Judiciary, Homeland Security, and Intelligence Committees that assess the domestic terrorism threat posed by white supremacists; (2) analyzing domestic terrorism incidents that occurred in the previous year; and (3) providing transparency through a public quantitative analysis of domestic terrorism-related assessments, investigations, incidents, arrests, indictments, prosecutions, convictions, and weapons recoveries. The DOJ, DHS, and FBI offices would be required to focus their limited resources on the most significant domestic terrorism threats, as determined by the number of domestic terrorism-related incidents outlined in the joint report.

The bill requires DOJ, DHS, and the FBI to provide training and resources to assist state, local, and tribal law enforcement in understanding, detecting, deterring, and investigating acts of domestic terrorism. The legislation also requires the FBI’s Joint Terrorism Task Forces and state, local, and regional fusion centers, which coordinate with DHS, to (1) share intelligence to address domestic terrorism activities; (2) conduct annual, intelligence-based assessments of domestic terrorism activities in their jurisdictions; and (3) formulate and execute a plan to combat domestic terrorism activities in their jurisdictions.-

Finally, the legislation would establish an interagency task force to combat white supremacist and neo-Nazi infiltration of the uniformed services.

The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act has been endorsed by leading civil rights organizations, including Muslim Advocates, Anti-Defamation League, and the Center for the Study of Hate & Extremism.

The bill is cosponsored by U.S. Senators Richard Blumenthal (D-CT), Cory Booker (D-NJ), Ben Cardin (D-MD), Chris Coons (D-DE), Tammy Duckworth (D-IL), Kamala Harris (D-CA), Amy Klobuchar (D-MN), Ed Markey (D-MA), Sheldon Whitehorse (D-RI), Bernie Sanders (I-VT), and Brian Schatz (D-HI).

PsyOps against Goth and Myself

COINTELPRO - Wetworks Legal and Psychiatric System Harassment

"According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods, including:"

1. Infiltration:

   Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside:

The FBI and police used myriad other “dirty tricks” to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System:

The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, ‘investigative’ interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extralegal Force and Violence:

The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native > Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.’”.The FBI also conducted “black bag jobs”, warrant-less surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. Source: COINTELPRO - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

> Emphasis added
> AT ITS MOST EXTREME DIMENSION, POLITICAL DISSIDENTS HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED OUTRIGHT OR SENT TO PRISON FOR THE REST OF THEIR LIVES. THERE ARE QUITE A NUMBER OF INDIVIDUALS WHO HAVE BEEN HANDLED IN THAT FASHION. MANY MORE, HOWEVER, WERE “NEUTRALIZED” BY INTIMIDATION, HARASSMENT, DISCREDITING, SNITCH JACKETING, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

- In defaming an alleged white supremacist a Dregg none white or gay will photograph a white or other woman despicably or catch a racketeer dressed as me doing so
- The Law Enforcement, perhaps sometimes US Marshalls fighting white supremacist will defame me behind my back as the peeper.
- Again behind my back the I will be Doppled as masturbating to the surreptitious pictures but caught doing so, and something had “triggered” me to take the picture, gym women.

In many cases I have had up to 30 days living with the peeper (in a pscyh ward) and these people were pedo or sex offender backgrounds utilized because of their willingness to victimize strangers and me as part of their behavioral diseases.

I have suspected Nueces District Attorney Mark Gonzales and his motorcycle club based on what others have told me and what I have seen.

Thus women are “protected” from “my” (the rackets) peeping photos and I am protected from White Females who “set off” Mr Hyde (who is the racket impersonating me.)

In the chapter Apendix Witnesses there is a list of locations, businesses, etc., which have co-operated with the Protection Racket by placing people who will intone to me what will later become the acts of a protection racket person, who will with identity theft incur a liability of MY DNA because that person who swaps into my identity will make and acknowledge a DNA debt (for peeping tom acts) which I do not have, and for interests in that which I do not have but will lead to legal and social persecution of me.

While character assignation and vauge acts are used in my vicinity the racket makes no actual or real accounting to me, it never shows cause to me and denies its activities upon me confronting it.

This is all fraud including forcing me into SJW services as retarded, homeless, etc., but that mismanagement of my property is wanted by the shelters I am forced into upon the Conspiracy Against My Rights.

Mr Hyde is a Doppelgänger and Paradox of Dr Jekyll.

Over the course of time in institutions I have had a chance to discuss with these Doppelgangers who they were in the fight against white supremacism and in the Institutions Witness chapter of this section I will describe these people who fake the factual pretexts that I have paraphilias damaging to others, especially white women near me or myself.

Though paradoxical to Dr Jeckyl Mr Hyde acts are allged to Dr Jekyll requiring Dr Jekyll non existent illness be treated and the damages of Mr Hyde be paid to alleged of Dr Jekyll when in fact Mr Hyde victims.

Mr Hyde and Dr Jeckyll are not the same person. It is identity theft including money laundering.

By making Dr Jekyll look despicable Mr Hyde and his accomplices become substitutes for Dr Jekyll.

It is fact at this point the Black Money, illegal currency, is transacted by an imposter, the act of money laundering. The imposter account was accepted because of the reputation damage done to Dr Jekyll and adult entertainer desire to NOT allow Dr Jekyll any female satisfaction.

These 20 witnesses and 1.5 Gigabytes of data proves Mens Rea and Actus Rea in Money Laundering and Protection Racket Reasoning that exploitation, use, of the value within my genome, value not disclosed to me, can be used by others without my knowledge of that value or transactions related to that value is the criminal act of money laundering, laundered through unwanted unneeded financial conservancy of that undisclosed to me value. Public implications, others will imply, that the money is accounted for.

Wire, mail, and other fraud are also present in Actus Reas, illegal acts enabling the money laundering. Assaults and other felonies have also been utilized.

Inviting Shopkeepers into Curbside Justice: Criminal Harassment Under Color of Law denying my housing, medicine, on FAKED allegations

https://www.bizcatalyst360.com/curbside-justice/

Now don't get the impression that these old "veteran" officers were corrupt or brutal, they were not. They had a keen street sense and they did their jobs by "protecting and serving" the public.

The one thing that they and us always agreed on was "curbside justice". (Keep in mind folks that this was the early 70's and cops were respected by the citizens as well as the news media. Law and order was paramount if a politician wanted to get elected).

These were the rules of "curbside justice".

Note: The officers as well as the suspects all knew how the game was played by these rules, no kidding!

- If a suspect ever harmed a child, that suspect would suffer even greater harm.
- If a suspect ever harmed a woman, that suspect would suffer even greater harm.
- If a suspect threatened an officer's family member, that suspect soon thereafter regretted that statement. It was expected that the suspect would threaten the officer. All bark but very seldom ever a bite.
- If a suspect assaulted an officer, that suspect learned to never assault an officer again.
- If the suspect ran away from the officers he knew that he would pay a price once he was caught. He might develop a limp.

Faking that I harmed a child, etc., allows these Anti White Supremacists who STARTED the fight with me to incite vigilantism where I would have lived normally and with my normal strong and naturally occuring ethics self policing the scene from illicit or predatory acts or organizations.

It took over 30 years to find what was of racial interest in my genome.

South Texas Federal District Court

Nearly from the first moments of Corpus Christi I found it the worst toilet stain of people and city I ever encountered in all the world.

Blacks out of the blue were assaulting me in homeless shelters as ARC Of NOVA did everything they could to block my having a checking account or housing. At the same time they (while blocking an apartment I appliqued for) suggested their Retarded Person Housing Advocate would become a counselor and I said I refuse retardation services our housing.

Finally while homeless Social Security Admin made me my own SSDI payee and I had SSDI benefits again though maybe rewritten as SSA. I went to Austin to look for a place but had hotel breakins and finally wallet theft and i was arrested in conflict with cops as I had no ID and no money and I thought they had it but needed me in social services.

After release from the pscy ward I looked around Austin but finally decided back to Corpus for a while to save $500 a month.

From this time to this moment I have tried to get my story out and get out of Texas including suing in STFDC but was blocked by B Janice Ellington.

She made references to how “rich I was ” several times, condescendingly on the first lawsuit hearing saying “You have 180k trust fund??? Oh how nice for a retarded boy.”

In other words, the Trust fund I was suing for a Racket claimed rights to me genome worth perhaps billions of used around the world, and a retarded person like me was unaware of that, but the Grandparents would work things out with Andy B Ellington and University of Texas on my behalf for supplying the Government and CIA Vatican world missions.

I asked if she was related to Andy Ellington and she literally shouted at me. I attempted to find out again at the court house and was ordered off the land.

In the last hearing she talked about how a rich guy like me was damaging these poor at risk people and let me say again I have no interest of any type in them and find them repulsive mud.

During the 2019 hearing I requested Fee Waiver and a Federal Defender be assigned. She indicated she would recommend against both. I was concerned with process service and used that issue as the sequgy for the Federal Defender being assinged.

In Maclamar I and Maclamar II, the next chapter, I believe she worked with racketeers to intercept mail. The building supr here had access to the mail box and has been planting evidence, etc.,

In the chapter opening this book Prescience I wrote this section, repeated her for more detail, on a blind conservator role, hostile to me and wanting genomics assets from me without telling me and without compensation to me and who operates through fraud.

Dr. Andy Ellington

With his secure defense research facility, robotics lab, and fleet of researchers, University of Texas professor Dr. Andy Ellington might appear to be a CIA scientist building the latest intelligence gadgets for modern day 007s. In fact, Andy Ellington studies. A self-described evolutionary engineer, he uses evolutionary principles to evolve molecules and organisms that serve all sorts of functions: from warning us of a chemical weapons attack to fighting HIV to detecting cancer Said Ellington, “I don’t make the molecule; I don’t make the organism - I make them better.”

Surprisingly, Andy’s first research focus was not biotechnology, but the origin of life. How did a scientist whose burning interest lies in the billion-year old chemical reactions of the primordial soup wind up running a lab of 50 people with millions of dollars in research grants? Although a fascinating issue, the origin of life typically does not distract Dr. Andy Ellington much in terms of research funds.

Nevertheless, to Andy, the connection between origins research and evolutionary engineering is clear: “The same type of processes that would have led to functional molecules at or near origins are the processes that I use to make biosensors for military or homeland defense.

repeating now, below, the 1A 2B 2A 2GW scheme …

At the beginning of this book I will tell what I had found after I finished researching and documenting during the writing of this.

Here it is.

A fake claim is made to my genome by black nationalists who claim they are entitled to it and run a scam with a Due Process violation which substitutes someone else’s agreement my DNA rights are due when I would not agree to it.

Operation 1A 2B 2A 2GW

There are various descriptive names I have termed for use in describing assaults on me. Here is an example. 1A 2B 2A 2GW. That means to me, and I hope to you the reader, I, 1A, do something credit worthy in the gym or elsewhere. Immediately unwanted behavioral health, 2B, send out 2A, a retarded person, who is “doing it together” with me and 2B. We are not. Nevertheless in the gym 2B is often gym personnel, black, who then come onto 2GW, gym women who will be coached by what 2B is now coaching as a coach.

Simply co-opting what I am doing on my own as what I am learning from others puts me in retardation services I don’t want or need, but are co-opting me. I also call it the Last to Be First Ploy, or the Two Seconds After Ploy. Others copying me become the last person to adopt what I brought to the gym as a high techer making my own workout videos with video copyright infringing downloading, editing and conversion tools, tablets, love of many high tech genres of rock.

As I am made to look like a moron with mentally retarded classes forming around me, Behavioral Health seems to be in charge of me and managing me, and my genome. Therefore Retradtion Services have access to my assets and I even seem to owe them my genetics according to them.

There has been a racial component to this as well with blacks and gays orchestrating much of this and then A) Making claims to my genome B) Expressing opposition to my White Nationalism and my disdain for non whites. That need of nonwhites for my genome turns out to be important and the motivation for their first strike on me, which I am in defensiveness of.

Allegedly I am “rich in my DNA.” We’ll get ot more of that later, but because I am in extreme poverty, the result of social justice workers breaking contracts that would permit me normal life in normal cities I am trapped in a squalid border town of mostly minority impoverished people.

Without my permission conservators and blind conservators represent me and they also represent them, and in “fairness” awarded them my genes arbitrating damages on “the playground” of retarded children.

Who is 2b?

One possibility is Rod Rosenstein. The US Attorney for Maryland conducted a rail road prosecution deeming me mentally incompetent when i was not. He switched out the laywer I had Pauli Xines who was later appointed to the federabl bench by Barack Obama.

Rod Rosenstein also has a PHS sister and CIA wife. He fancies himslef an expert on protecting society from White Supremacism including using US Marshalls as escorts of the public to protect the public from White Supremacism.

The replacment lawyer against my will insisted on an insanity defense (I had contacted goverment officials out of an attack of Bipolar Disorder, not requests for documents including document by document title.)

In this arrest for my news gathering for my web site no evidence or witness testimony was used and ONLY NIH (Public Health Service) evaluators were used to evaluate my competency on prison cell coversations without the underlying evidence (NIH.ASP and the grant refered to) being produced by the FBI/DOJ, NIH Police, private detetive under the CJA, or any other means.

That file would have exhonerated me. It was the file about my request of a copy of a grant fron the NIH in which a Muslim tied to some DOJ guy on Facebook as high ranking DOJ were invovled in a grant similar to what I was doing and intersected in dates the the NIH went to my web site and pages which posed the questions the grant was given for such as whether underperfoming minorities weer accepting responsibility for thier own outcomes or blaming whites and Western civilization.

The entire prosecution was a bed of NIH and FBI corruption and denial of my right to defense and trial, and right to bail, and right to the evidence, and right to all other Due Process protections rather than as a state act NIH doctors merely say, without the evidence before them “it all sounds crazy to me” and keep me in locked cell for years.

Rod Rosentein wanted me found incompetent, me a critic of the NIH, the org he represented.

As for Jen Moore, PIzzagate reporter, outer of the Free Masons, outer of Secret Identities of the OSS CIA Vatican, and out of Rod Rosenstein and his wife, as I was writing law suits Jen Moore said on YouTube of some victim, I think me, “Plagerized by the Special Counsel - What” and “Ultimate Betrayal” again I think refering to me as a coopted and persecuted victim.

I think the pretext of me victimizing others was a ruse to get DNA really wanted for blacks because of MKLUTRA Birtherism, itself tied to fighting social strife by moving IQ DNA into non whites, her by defaming a a white and socially and legally litigating against me as though I am retarded.

Other Suspects and What Led To Me Seeking Answers From The National Insitute of Health Why Black and Other Non White Assailants Were Hostile and Engaging In Unprovoked Attacks

Isreal United in Christ, ANTIFA, and black street people recruited into US Marshalls as fighting against white supremacism by “doing a number on them” all seem probable.

In addition to that I also saw long term harassment or backstabbing of me with women despite on initial contact women did like me and WOULD HAVE continued to like me and my life and lifestyle.

Religious groups other than Isreal United In Christ have seek continuing use of me DNA including the Illuminati out of Little Rock Arkansas and the CIA continuing a claim to my DNA in money laudering who claiming to be me made “the money shot” after they claiming to be me peeped at women with a smart phone.

2b as the enabler

Whichever parties set themselves up as 2b they did so minorties, retarded, gays, etc., could covertly claim, rather than protect, my biological assets or thier financial worth or claim them without payment to me of their financial worth.

2b as US Marshalls ALSO siezing assets under claims they manufactured

Operation Rock and River

I am solid as a rock as 1A and confidently so. A victim is placed in front of me. A victimizer is next to me who will photograph at the scene or masturbate at the scene to the female in front of me who may even be a tot, or some other person I would not victimize or want to.

Behind my back 2B (who wrongly put themselves in place to manage my assets) will settle the debt to person victimized who was victimized by the person near me.

The Paradox of the Person Beside Me. Why would the person beside me be a Mr Hyde peeping at and masturbating to the sight of women in an anti-social manner also be a US Marshall or other law enforcement officer?

Because they want the assets of Dr Jekyll who they are surrounding an these Mr. Hyde law enforcement officers wil wake up from being Mr. Hyde and find they had the clothes on of Dr Jeckyll and had been him.

When I confront My Hyde I am threatened with mental health detainer for paranoia or physically attacked by them for my hostility towards them and their “daughters” (planted long con shills.)

The Marshals Service supports communities by transferring certain types of forfeited assets to state, local and nonprofit organizations. Through the Operation Goodwill program, forfeited real or personal property of marginal value can be transferred to state or local governments in support of drug abuse treatment, drug crime prevention and education, housing, job skills and other community-based public health and safety programs.

U.S. Department of Justice

Fact Sheet

2019

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program has four primary goals: (1) Punish and deter criminal activity by depriving criminals of property used in or acquired through illegal activities; (2) Promote and enhance cooperation between federal, state, local, tribal and foreign law enforcement agencies; (3) Recover assets that may be used to compensate victims when authorized under federal law; and (4) Ensure the program is administered professionally, lawfully and in a manner consistent with sound public policy.
- Agencies participating in the program investigate, identify, seize and forfeit the assets of criminals and their organizations while ensuring that due process rights of property owners are protected.
- The U.S. Marshals Service serves as the primary custodian of seized property for the program. The Marshals identify and evaluate assets and manage and dispose of the majority of the assets seized and forfeited through the program.

Value of assets on hand as of Sept. 30, 2017 $1.8 billion 14,800 assets.

Amount distributed to victims of crime and claimants in fiscal 2017 $144.7 million Amount shared with participating state and local law enforcement agencies in fiscal 2017

- The Department of Justice Asset Forfeiture Program is a key component of the federal government's law enforcement efforts to combat major criminal activity by disrupting and dismantling illegal enterprises, DEPRIVING CRIMINALS OF THE PROCEEDS OF ILLEGAL ACTIVITY, DETERRING CRIME AND RESTORING PROPERTY TO VICTIMS.

- The U.S. Marshals Service plays a critical role in identifying and evaluating assets that represent the proceeds of crime as well as efficiently managing and selling assets seized and forfeited by DOJ.

- The Marshals Service manages a wide array of assets, including real estate, commercial businesses, cash, financial instruments, vehicles, jewelry, art, antiques, collectibles, vessels and aircraft.

- Proceeds generated from asset sales are used to operate the program, compensate victims and support various law enforcement efforts.

- The Marshals manage the distribution of proceeds and payments to victims of crime and other innocent third parties, all of which helps to mitigate the financial damage inflicted by criminal activity. The agency employs best practices from private industry to ensure that assets are managed and sold in an efficient and cost-effective manner.

- THE MARSHALS SERVICE SUPPORTS COMMUNITIES BY TRANSFERRING CERTAIN TYPES OF FORFEITED ASSETS TO STATE, LOCAL AND NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS.

Through the Operation Goodwill program, forfeited real or personal property of marginal value can be transferred to state or local governments in support of drug abuse treatment, drug crime prevention and education, housing, job skills and other community-based public health and safety programs.

- The Asset Forfeiture Program was created in 1984 when Congress passed the Comprehensive Crime Control Act, which provided federal prosecutors and agents the legal and regulatory tools necessary to keep up with, and ahead of, those who commit crime for economic benefit.

- DOJ Asset Forfeiture Program participants include the Asset Forfeiture and Money Laundering Section of the Department of Justice Criminal Division; U.S. Marshals Service; Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives; Drug Enforcement Administration; FBI; and U.S. Attorneys' Offices. Other participants include the U.S. Postal Inspection Service; Food and Drug Administration; Department of Agriculture Office of the Inspector General; Department of State Bureau of Diplomatic Security; and Defense Criminal Investigative Service.

Here is some more text below repeated from another chapter. Bear in mind the same non whites photographing teens or tots near me are also photographing me at the scene as if to document my being at the scene, and do so consipicouslyl or assaultiviely.

And remember this from the black markets and medical assets program book section

Main article: Organ trade § Illegal organ trade

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), illegal organ trade occurs when organs are removed from the body for the purpose of commercial transactions.[31] The WHO justifies its stance on the issue by stating, “Payment for … organs is likely to take unfair advantage of the poorest and most vulnerable groups, undermines altruistic donation and leads to profiteering and human trafficking.”[32] Despite these ordinances, it was estimated that 5% of all organ recipients engaged in commercial organ transplant in 2005.[33] Research indicates that illegal organ trade is on the rise, with a recent report by Global Financial Integrity estimating that the illegal organ trade generates profits between $600 million and $1.2 billion per year with a span over many countries.

Recovery Through Chirst Corpus Christi

Being gracious at the time I said when homeless (and illegal activity placed me in that situation) I was gratefull as to my parents I was cared for while “on the streets” (homeless) and said so. This could have created the excuse for EN Parentis Loco control of my family assets as though my living parents, which is what not meant to authorize at least by me.

First United Methodist Corpus Christi made much talk of breaking a will, presumably of someone like Glorian Donegan, if they knew her will better than her. I was in the room and they would not engage with me on her and who well I knew her or admit to me GLorian or I had anything to do with the conversation, but if they DID write themselves into her will it could fix the Judge Roll assasination issue of 2011 and using asset siezure in US v 323K dollars retirement funds for foreign nation development.

First United Methods CC has some kind of Soldiers of Christ group working throughout the world doing charity.

Evil as an Element

CLASSICAL ELEMENTS

Classical elements typically refer to water, earth, fire, air, and (later) aether, which were proposed to explain the nature and complexity of all matter in terms of simpler substances.[1][2] Ancient cultures in Greece, Tibet, and India had similar lists, sometimes referring in local languages to “air” as “wind” and the fifth element as “void”.

These different cultures and even individual philosophers had widely varying explanations concerning their attributes and how they related to observable phenomena as well as cosmology. Sometimes these theories overlapped with mythology and were personified in deities. Some of these interpretations included atomism (the idea of very small, indivisible portions of matter), but other interpretations considered the elements to be divisible into infinitely small pieces without changing their nature. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

PERIODIC TABLE

The periodic table, also known as the periodic table of (the) (chemical) elements, is a tabular display of the chemical elements. It is widely used in chemistry, physics, and other sciences, and is generally seen as an icon of chemistry. It is a graphic formulation of the periodic law, which states that the properties of the chemical elements exhibit a periodic dependence on their atomic numbers.

MORAL ELEMENTS

Evil, predation and Falsity tested by internal consistencies and self gain as opposed to truth, justice, and fairness as a Good.

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIAL BUILDING BLOCKS

The Social Contract may contain elements of Feudalism, Dictatorship, Single Party Governance ruled by a sub population, Liberalism, Socialism, or Communism. In this book I use republican government (indirect popular government and Liberalism fairly interchangeably and count Ireland and the USA as developed under Liberal Democratic Archetype.

This book is about perhaps the most important story in human history as Feudalism which is a Genetic claim for rule has hidden its quirky genetics of FOXP2 so it can claim continuing royal rule despite a trend against feudalism.

As Jen Moore observes from the inside of Free Masonry to us the USA people this clash of systems makes up the infiltration the USA lives under.

Marilyn Monroe has one foot in the Rat Pack with Frank SInatra, Peter Lawford, Anrold Schwartzegger and another foot in the JFK, RFK, TK, Joe Dimagio, Dorothy Kilgallen all-Catholic Roman Catholic moral center. The CIA that LBJ was working with inthe Queen of England sleeper agents common wealth plot was not one Marilyn would keep secret. My family and Jen Moore have been tarted by Free Mason families hiding their own guilt and the real truth of WWI, WWII, and “Sovereign” secrets of high officers.

In a Liberal democratic society the press should expose the errors of the Rulers; however, in what is called the Cabal the enormous wealth of Feudalist Free Masons have been able to subdue the press, demonize opposition to Elites as a danger.

The quest of this book and my teasers excerpts from it is to pierce the resistance to the real truth with facts which would be and should be accepted by reasonable minds, should clear minds rather than brainwashed minds be exposed to the truth.

Mr. Edward Paul Donegan I hope along with the voice of Ted Gunderson address you

I start with a quotation from Mr Rothkopff in a thread of literary observation continuing observations of Ms. C. Wright Mills leading to “oil is the most mind altering substance there is.” Further Reading

I have started to argue in favor of that statement, then argued against that statement, and now for that statement with an observation adding to the original statement rather than disagreeing with .

My story is the Nexus of Ted Gunderson’s, Ted Gunderson former anti mobster FBI Special Agent who asserts, as I do, that the NWO poisoned him, and that the NWO radiologicaly poisened me and from a foodstuffs availability and exercise availability standpoint poisoned me (medical battery) and along with Ted Gunderson I believe this is a connected series of events tied to JFK and the NWO, and its MAFIA OSS CIA FBI Espionage State actors capabilities. Further Reading

It is my belief that oil, “liquid [or black] gold” is yet a another of Earth’s treasures which like diamonds and the precious metals have been the quest of the greatest of powers to possess.

If I were to argue with Mr. Rothkopf’s points it would only to say that DNA and Eugenics and reproductivity may be the most mind (and soul) altering substance that there is.

In arguing that point though as I have in this book (once title Genoracketeering) I find that the Eugenics quest and oil quest and Crown Jewels quest may really be all one power struggle.

A place called Gibson Island, close to and perhaps related to the Epstein Brain Foundation island, the VI Island of Jeffery Epstein, is a place where oil executives and world elites gathered for the most advanced sciences tied to industrialists, industrialism, and their pursuits. Further Reading

It appears that in the quest to rule the world’s riches and protect them from hazards of being buried deep in the earth or possessed by Socialist nations the world’s richest elites decided a genetic super-class of selected groomed leaders could rise to power in places around the world now in turmoil and bring to those nations a First World Western aligned hemispherical system of satellites which would become Principalities of greater nations.

Leader these satellite nations and England and the USA would be a WASP class of CIA backed Windsor backed genetic experiments as the out-of-wedlock Windsors around the world were watched as in the USA, watched for good ones of various batches to emerge and then could be run for office in a Republic or rule a country where Banana Republic might serve the USAs interests better.

Donald Barr, William Barr, Jeffery Epstein, Alexander Alcosta, Christopher Wray, Robert Swan Mueller III, and perhaps hundreds of Bush family and Arkansas families of politics appear in the NWO with certain families in an internal power struggle and losing out to #WETDIVISION are mostly of Roman Catholic sympathies or leanings. The desire to create and groom euginicaly may be inseparable from the quest for power or wealth. They go together, and in world history is many of our world wars come from these activities amidst and unresolved un-legislated ethics of genomics.

First; My DNA and familial legacy at issue in a well protected deep state cartel, possibly the Cali Cartel or MENA Airport CIA cartel.

My normal activity like going to the gym, photographing scenic places or historic events turns into an allegation against me as my actives are poisoned by entirely out of place staged sexual misconduct such as minors exploited in the vicinity I am in.

I call this Poison R (reproductivity type events) into Healthy normal activity) into K the healthy activity which is to be undermined and eroded with the false allegations.

Any opportunity to discredit me id rewarded. False allegations plaintively targeting my reproductivity is rewarded and that is part of a criminal syndicate of counterfeiting and money laundering some (Jen Moore, others) assert have been CIA mafia criminal networks of the long term Deep State.

A DNA-Cartel black market happy to create collisions with me with staged abusive situations (assaulting me by placing themselves in positions close to me) then battering me with outstanding sexually aggressive and exploitative trespasses against me (forced positioning children, naked children, twerking children, or minors with camel toe pulled up yoga pants) and my property such as home litigate over with the issue of guilt decided on a table tilted by forgeries, counterfeiting, criminal syndicalism, and ethic assaults.

There is no question long time street people, migrant farm, or those toiling low wage jobs are seeking some sort lift from poverty enabling claim against the Establishment class as recompense or merely to find a way into a better social class.

These people are motivated for false claims against me and have made such claims, and claims of my abusing them in a reproductivity way raised claims to my reproductivity as a cross claim in justice seeking.

But those claims only work because in the Eugenic rights won in rigged hearings or systems of justice are desired on black markets, and because the Criminal Syndicate can create an operating world budget of of patented or stolen genetic rights which are treated as so precious an available right within reach.

Second, the nexus with Ted Gunderson and the livelihood he was poisoned or the subject of mafia attacks during his lifetime by the MKULTRA Deep Stat as he asserted and I believe.

On February 20 1961 I was likely fertilized during Manhattan Project atomic testing including Manhattan Beach California Los Angeles County birth in the same area of the USA and of atomic testing and the site of the P-51 plane manufacture my father flew as pilot in the atomic bombing and other fighter-bombing activities of Germany, Japan, and Korea.

During this time Middle East North Africa airport was bring created by the CIA as were sleeper agents to gain control of Russian or Chinese satellite nation prospects such as Indonesia, Cuba, Hawaii, and perhaps a solidification or royal families in the Middle East and through the world aligned with the British Commonwealth.

8 months, 18 days from my birth Marilyn Monroe was murdered by the Mafia tied to the CIA. Further Reading Almost two years to the day following my birth JFK was assassinated.

My birth was part of test births being conducted by MKUJLTRA and the CIA. Operation40 and the oil business was looking for sleepers and to assassinate inside and outside the USA to protect the insinuation of US Big Business or CIA backed business like Zapata Oil throughout the world.

This was the very mafia run by the DuPont family and others my own family comes from and my DNA has a long secret history though in poverty in Boston and North Carolina as refugees from Irealnd (the Donegans) or Austria England (Glorian Gainey, Windsor Kutschera out of wedlock.)

As John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy fought the mafia in the US Congress in the 1950s and in Washington D.C. with Ted Gunderson in the 1960’s they were killed by the mafia who needed its privately funded businesses and sleeper agents to succeed if their oil and other businesses and world conquest were to succeed.

It is this cartel (some say Cabal) mafia that is the Criminal Syndicate which is the nexus between Ted Gunderson and myself.

The losses to Evil and the USA versus Journalism

Few view the FBI as an evil or an Espionage agency but it is both and more so than a law enforcement agency.

Since J. Edgar Hoover days and the founding of the FBI it has had a role in shaping politics by political surveillance, assassinations, murders, child porn plants, COINTELPRO on military scale and international scale, close association with large scale CIA backed research institutes and CIA figure, and long term espionage Deep State families who conduct mafia murders rather than investigate them.

This book tells the story of Catholics and ANTI mafia figures who dispute George H.W. and Prescott Bush or Robert Mueller Dupont family Masonic methods and why those like Robert F. Kennedy were assassinated and blocked from the WASP Deep State.

The most dangerous a COINTELPRO killer has been Robert Swan Mueller 6th Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation In office September 4, 2001 - September 4, 2013 President George W. Bush Barack Obama Further Reading

Long cited by everyone except Congress who continues to continue rubber stamp into appointed positions past normal protocols he matches the most motivated of the Deep State.

Understand in all these excerpts from my book I am trying to help career FBI out moles in the FBI, the motives of moles, moles who are a threat to FBI as well as to others. Among the most dangerous of cover up families in the greatest OSS, CIA, and MKUILTRA histories are the Bush family and their firing of US Attorney's I think tied to their fear of their own bureaucracy turning on them if they get wise to the Deep State. Jen Moore appeared to feal the same way and was trying to take her information INTO the USA government and national security infrastructure (Homeland Security Investigations and other groups like ICE) wiht the real story of the Free Masons who have infiltrated the USA with their dual or conflicting allegiances.

born AUGUST 7, 1944 within a few days August 4 (a dog-whislte of some secret lineage) be is the son of Robert Mueller II, a Board of Director member of DuPont corporation.

This is important. It was DuPoont a Grand Master Free Mason who worked with England in the Manhattan Project and Columbia University developing the Atomic Bomb with Enrico Fermi and others, thus the name The Manhattan Project. Further Reading

Christopher Wray's pedigree from this long running Deep State is little less reassuring and he has been part of the re-establishment of Target Killings in the USA for anti terror reasons, at least as alleged.

Eric Holder and others have a long history of assassinations as well as does the State Department, Blackwater, Dick Cheney, George Bush, and possibly, only possibly by comparison, Killary herself who may get must of the blame from the Bush admin via chuckling jokes.

From one of the academic towers of Columbia University Enrico Fermi could gaze out to Manhattan Island and think about the war.

My mother and Glorian Donegan were raised and born in the USA likely arriving with a pregnant Maria Von Trapp leaving a Convent and in the USA after Festus Gainey died, her adoptive father, they were moved to South Carolina where Harold worked in DuPont family and during my visits to South Carolina I heard there from Harald about my having a secret but closely held royal family connection.

I would also hear this on my fathers side James Donegan who explained I was named after Edward some sort of (I thought Irish king) who had abdicated some sort of title or throne, something to do with I thought the 1920s which fit the Irish revolutionary history distractingly so as it took me from understanding the Edward was likely on the English part of history.

It was during Robert Swan Mueller time as 6th FBI director while in a federal prison I say I was radiologically attacked and was hospitalized wiht red skin (thought to be Excema) and placed in a psych ward. I had already been in a Psych ward Federal Medical Facility Butner North Carolina on a medical hold for trying to contact Freedom of Information Officers of the National Institute of Health too often and with some lay efforts at document requests.

It was during this time 2007 Ted Gunderson unknown to me at that time also asserted he was being poisoned by and FBI NSA CIA alliance of unfathomable evil he spent his last octogenarian years trying to fight in court before he died.

He had been Robert F. Kennedy's right hand man against the very mob (like Ron Patacky, Felix Rodriquez, the Rat Pack, and others) the FBI loved so much for conducting hits.

Robert F. Kennedy fought with Dorothy Kilgallen against the mafia before the DOJ in Congress in the 1950s, in Washington D.C. in the early 1960s and in the late 1960s in the Senate again this time as Senator rather than Senate Lead Counsel for other senators.

Doroth Kilgalen and RFK were murdered by the Mafia tied to the overthrow scheme and like with the assassination of JFK is tied to my mother and uncle (Glorian Gainey and Harld Gainey) and at least one more, likely Marlin Monroe. Julie Andrews and others covered overed the story of how Maria August Kutschera landed in North Carolina and the Gainey children were raised there (2 of them) and it was on the tour of Sound of Music Pataky moved in for the mob kill of Dorothy Killgalen.

This goes to the writing of this book and the fear for my life. As I was researching it and watching the movie The Kings Speech (directly tied to the out of wedlock Windsors and Maria Augusta Kutshchera) my PC was openly stolen from my apartment and TV too and the police merely faked all the records of of a police backed (the second one) bit on my PC and TV/wifi.

This has matched death threats as I go to the library, work in my apartment with violent criminals threatening me or sexually assaulting me by acts or gestures or nearby dumpsters being beat on by large machinery openly creating loud violent noises.

A re-assert this, the police, city, and federal employees and their assets do this unapologetic and with open warnings to me and assaults upon me.

I have watched about 200 other movies in four years and 40 or so DVD episodes of Izombie without interruption.

Jen Moore pointed her camera at the apartment Glorian Donegan and I lived in and Tom Donegan frequented from his home nearby in Arlington Virginia and spoke of the Infiltration of the US political system. Shown Here. Her last video after trouble with YouTuber were on Bitchute and in several of her last videos she discussed “baby factories,” the Ukraine, energy boards, Hunter Biden, and other matters tied to the history of the Donegan family and how it tied a secret history of genome and use in sleeper agents aka the Nazi history of holdovers from MKULTRA in the US and Argentina Nazi hunters have still not fully found.

Amended Verified Petition to Exhume Body and for DNA Samples

AMENDED VERIFIED PETITION TO EXHUME REMAINS OF DOROTHY KILGALLEN AND RICHARD KOLLMAR TO COLLECT DNA SAMPLE and ORDER ONE, MR. RON PATAKY, to SUBMIT DNA SAMPLE TO THE COURT

Jen Moore claimed to be and was a Mafia facts leaker, and by Mafia I will use some people’s terms, Free Masonry, perhaps called Skull and Bones, the Illuminati, or various other names like The Secret Team. I refer to as WASPS based Commonwealth preferring Old Guard of Big Business families who can and do run mafia for hire operations like Blackwater, use well known criminal figures that deals are made with, or other illegal Syndicate activities which bury in the graveyard their opposition rather than out-politic competing interests and these industrialists equate with and replace the Sovereign national interest of the USA with their interest and self-preservation including hiding their own USA and international criminal liabilities.

Many including me believe Jen Moore was murdered to silence her (as she said she would be silenced but would create surviving documents that would be available after her death) and she told much of the same story as Philip Marshall, Daniel Casalero, and many others, and that I attempt to tell in this book.

> Philip Marshall, a veteran airline captain and former government “special activities” contract pilot, has authored three books on Top Secret America, a group presently conducting business as the United States Intelligence Community.

I have not read The Big Bamboozal but the cover it uses a satirical emblem of “Central Intelligence Community” as a group of fraudsters hiding the truth behind the world politics of the Bush Family which lead to undisclosed (even hidden) aspects of 9/11 terror attack: That the US had ties INTO Saudi Arabia, its Royal family in secret dealings with Royand Commonwalth countries, and this led to Saudi Nationalists motives for attacking the USA.

It is the same allegiance of Commonwealth or Royal Families in the British Anglo WASPS this book here is about and attempts have been made on my life and I have faced constant threat in writing this book.

Whether you look at Secret Team which is a book about very rich defense contractor industrialists and oil interests in the Deep State which murdered JFK and RFK (and those authors were once neighbors of my family in Cape Cod Massachusettes and have intermarried with my family) the basics of the story are the same. Because circumstances have shrouded Danny Casolaro's death in mystery, the single aspect of his research that led to it may never be known for certain. Hotel workers in Martinsburg, West Virginia found the writer dead in August 1991 in what looked like a faked suicide. The "head's up" warning flashed among students of the conspiracy culture when the learned files he had on him were missing and the details of his investigative work slowly emerged from freinds, family and fellow investigators. Casolaro previously had previously warned these same people not to believe any reports that he might have fallen victim to an "accident." The fishy circumstances of his death and the probable motivations of his possible killers remain obvious. Further Reading

Jen Moore and Tom Donegan (my now deceased brother who along with Jen Moore were studying my mother Glorian Donegan's MKULTRA Project Paperclip genome history) likely were genuinely connected witness to the Barrack Obama Jr families ties to the Donegan family birth at Manhattan Beach California, and how that ties to the Bush family, Prescott Bush, the Barr CIA family, the Clinton family, the Obama family, the Kelley family, and our missile command nuclear football holding political leaders real history is.

Jen Moore (law enforcement officer with extensive training) is believed to be suspicious death according to her friend Robyn Gritz.

Former FBI Agent Speaks Out: ‘I Was Not Protected retrieved from NPR, April 15, 2015 , Heard on All Things Considered by CARRIE JOHNSON EVIE STONE and copied or modified to here

For 15 years, Gritz says, she did her job well. Her bosses at the FBI gave her excellent or outstanding performance reviews, she says. But when a reporter made contact with her last year, she was selling cosmetics at Macy’s.

“Watching everything that’s going on in the world, how I had battled al-Qaida in Iraq, the Taliban … all my experience, all the time I had put in there, I’m selling lipstick and blush,” she says.

A Decade After Blowing The Whistle On The FBI, Vindication

How did that happen? Gritz says the FBI drummed her out of a job. All because of allegations about fraud on her time card that she says just didn’t happen. The FBI also blamed her for not attending a 7:15 a.m. meeting and sending an unprofessional email to an ex-boyfriend.

Now, she’s got the ear of people like Senate Judiciary Chairman Charles Grassley. The Republican lawmaker from Iowa says he’s concerned about what he heard from Gritz and a small but vocal band of female whistleblowers at the FBI Further Reading

This book, my story, explains what the CIA Mafia has killed so many over, the secret identities and secret history of a WWII era (before and after) alegiance with England and during 1926 and on refugees from Austria and Germany (Schwartzenegger Shriver Lawford Kennedy family history as well) my mother was in that group of Von Trapp Singers from earlie Maria Augusta Kutschera births, and how the mafia and CIA are now covering up how the DNA was used in MKLUTRA for Sleeper Agents the oil industry would use to create British loyalist governments in locations the CIA would ovethrow socialist, nationalist, or communist governemnts refuse allegiance wit the USA and Great Britain.

The JFK asssionation and WHAT LED TO WWII as Jen Moore speaks again in Video 11 and how a minor quirk in European DNA called Minimal Brain Dysfunction or FOXP2 Syndrome ran in the London King Edward VIII or Prince Albert family, how that secret is protected by the OSS, and how that genome is watched by the OSS CIA

“I THINK IT’S IMPORTANT FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE TO KNOW some of these facts so in the past week or so as I just started out this YouTube channel I’ve been doing a series of interviews on another YouTube channel with farmer Jones and the interviews have to do with things such as MKULTRA, the VATICAN the Vatican’s connection to the CIA HOW MKULTRA WAS STARTED details about PRE-WORLD WAR ONE AND WHAT LED INTO THE SECOND WORLD WAR AND THINGS LIKE AT THE MKULTRA PROGRAM which many people have heard about talks a lot about Sigmund Freud who was kind of the founder of MKULTRA or one of them he’s known as the father of psychology the father of psycho psycho analysis different titles like that but his history has been sanitized and even most psychologists or doctors psychology do not know a lot of this history and I do for a variety of reasons I’ll get into and even going further into people like dr. Carl Jung it’s Ju and Ji Young in theory theory is very well known the realms of psychology and psychoanalysis

“many people don’t know is that Mr. young was our doctor young was also CARL YUNG OR ALAN DULLES secret agent agent 488 and Allen Dulles was the founder of the CIA he originally was an OSS which was our initial United States of America their intelligence service

“and then it moved into the CIA during and following World War two and Allen Dulles was the first director of that of the CIA his brother Lewis John Foster Dulles was also in there and ALLEN DULLES WAS A CIA AGENT AT THE TIME OF JFK’S ASSASSINATION so that is an interesting part that will come out as well

Now from Ed Donegan and how world leaders and groomed world leaders were part of this covert OSS history.

The obsession with what my DNA could be worth to a WILD WILD WEST group of rustlers has made the attacks profitable.

It as if I were mere sunken treasure no one had rights for, and the tomb raiders were told to attack and clear the relic.

That explains criminal syndicate which attacked me and why.

Their long term persistent fight to get me found incompetent, almost always or mostly behind my back

A Few Examples

- In 2003 for Social Security Disability Insurance as he repeatedly lied to the SSA to achieve that while I opposed being put on disability

- At the start of my National Institute of Health arrest getting Paula Xinis and my mother organized behind my back to put on an insanity defense I did not want, but the NIH did. Paula Xinis later appointed by Obama to the federal bench

- To the New York MCC NIH eval and FMC Butner evals, again, behind my back to the evaluators

- The New York Eval, sending instead to all black PHS in FMC Butner

- An Executor of the will of Glorian Donegan, created behind my back, creating the Retarded Children s Trust Fund for me, ALSO behind my back, and crippling my rights with both of those

---

- To Charney and many others, always behind the scenes moving manufactured lies around, without me present, moving NIH files behind my back

- To Arlington County officials, moving NIH files around behind my back, as I attempted to defend myself about what he, Tom Donegan, and Thea Smith, were doing together

---

- To Station Church Corpus Christ where I was PUBLICLY lectured of what not just I already knew, Dialisys and fluids mixing, but that I myself had emailed my brother on, laying the foundations of suspicion he wanted to claim some Hegel chart I had done, not him

- In conjunction with ARC of Northern Viriginia, repeatedly sabotoging my otherwise easy rentl of Texas housing such as Ball Park West and others I tried to put in apps to, but ARC of Northern Virginia, Tom Donegan nixed.

- In the case of Wells Fargo, while in Texas, ARC of Nothern Virigina REFUSING Disbursment Request to pay off Wells Fargo, getting me then under investigation and with no bank account available to receive SSDI

- While in Texas, sabotaging me to Genesis Development Corp and Catholic Charities EXACTLY at the time, within 24 hours of doing so, they WOULD HAVE become a payee for me. Without them, no SSDI and homelessness

---

- Someone sabotaged me behind the scenes to Wellmed, Texas, Corpus Christi

- The US Gov removal, at black Lawyers Committee For Civil Rights request, of Storm Front after I posted an expose on Tom Donegan’s activities

- A long list of murders I am certain of, and about 6,000 felonies victimizing me by harassing acts carried out against me, supported by the US Gov, on behalf of black FBI, per what I was told

- A list of other sites with information on this dissapearing from the web

With my assets then in his conservancy he is able to use accounting fraud and stigmatization of me as he needs for whatever he was asked to do, from inside the Donegan family.

He had the in family position to control lawyers, psychology reviews, etc., as I have been detained, and takeover for me while I am in a cell.

The Above Acts by insider family members in Furtherance of Rape and Murder of Me Through Financial Abuse, including Conspiracies Against My Civil/Human Rights which include his conspiracies against my protections from the lack of medical care, rights to legal resources, right to trial, etc.,

Through is illegal and un-prosecuted Conspiracy against my Due Process and other rights he and Mark Weirness have eliminated the foundations necessary for me to assert my human and civil rights.

Felony acts committed by Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness, likely in conjunction with Rod Rosenstein, Robert Mueller, The Public Health Service, and more recently Donald Trumpl, have facilitated these human rights crimes.

Non-white non-straight hate crimes invited a gainst me enable lack of Type II Diabetes treatment as the murder weapon

Arlington County Virginia before departure for Texas

1. When diagnosed with Diabetes A1c 13.3 I had to fight against Tom Donegan, Integrity Payee, and ARC of Northern Virginia to get gym access. Only bad faith could have prevented gym access.

2. When I did get Arlington Sport and Health access I got results but that was disrupted with lack of money for laundry, a key scheme to prevent sweaty gym cloths re-use. I had to use cut up bar soap as laundry detergent because I could not afford laundry detergent.

3. Blacks surrounded me and assaulted me and the gym as a whole in bizarre and offensive ways. A black trainer worked out a white female in odd exaggerated ways as she made orgasming noises into the gym, blacks surrounded me and pretended to coach me, women planted themselves in front of me as as blacks took positions behind me. Among the murmur on the gym was that Tom Donegans and Mark Weirness Democrat friends were merged into the Wilson Mall gym location, mine, from the Clarendon closed location

4. Extreme financial abuse prevented trust fund and SSDI use for diet, MS Office, diabetes testing strips, etc., I was refered to Church Group Arlington County Connected food services rather than permitted SSDI or Trust fund use for my doctor recomended diet of lean meat. I did prefer red meat over fish but the economics and achieved result were good in that lean meat food space.

As unsurvivable bad faith financial abuse continued I could not afford to eat, replace one broken dish of two dishes total, nor $1 dish soap to do dishes, nor a have a car to shop with forcing me to eat sugar products or nothing.

I finally broke the one dish I had in anger, and later hurled some other things around an apartment I could not afford to clean as laundry mildewed from tub washing and air drying.

5. Arlington VA County Services continued to refer me to blacks or other minorities who were inaffective and said things like, in foreign accents “You have a probabte issue. We don’t handle probate problems.”

Cognizance of Guilt

- After I forward the email in which, I had told Tom Donegan uncolicited information about Dialysis that original email I had sent him disappeared from my sent items in Gmail though the forwarded copy of it remained.
- The mere excuse created, out of necessity, to all me delusional and bipolar, NIH.ASP has disappeared from ARCHIVE.ORG though it supports me in that dispute
- He brought about the early Sepsis death of my mother, fighting against her getting Nephro (proper nutrition) and Sacral Sores bed cushions
- He did everything he could to hide my mother’s hair DNA
- He also (at the time I thought it bizzare) fought against my mother’s claim to competence. In Lincoln Towers above the store where we lived the plumbing would overflow. I knew this and had to mop much up late at night from building problems. Air pressure pulse hoses were used to clear sludge from apartment drain pipes. My brother denied the real problems and created written records “she thought snakes were coming from her toilet to attack her”

- He repeatedly sent me emails quoting me on things I had in NO WAY said and I wondered who he BCCd and thus did not get my angry response

The capacity to accomplish these things: Tom Donegan served on the Board of Directors of Arlington County Behavioral Health (his position at the suicide prevention center) and was well connected in Arlington County politics, always seeking Elerman or County Board participation levels in zoning, etc.,

Kaine Joins Vapartisansfor 15th Anniversary Vapartisans fellowship, fun and politics. Thanks to all who attend and celebrated with us.

Orientation and Closeness of Understanding

Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness have always been SJWs long in conflict with me.

We have more or less preferred to limit contact as much as possible our entire lives from early childhoon on limiting both communication and even understanding or knowledge of each others lives.

They have fought my Alt Right Radical Right positions and viewed them as crazy, and with such opinions, shared that view.

They have viewed my mental illness of racism a threat to gays and others, the sort of thinking which had led to an anti-gay attack upon them in the 1980s.

From frame of reference into more hostile acts, they have sought my analysis and detention repeatedly and sought denial of competing forensics of my competency from neutral sources, that is to say denial to me non-Government forensic resources.

I could never get the trust fund fully away from Tom Donegn and its real accounting on likely use of my dna most likely ONLY reaches him. It certainly IS NOT given to me, but very likely is given to Bernie.

Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness using Soundness of Mind Claims to help Obama family out of 1961 Project Artichoke plot

As I have been subject to harassment I could NOT until recently identify from plain clothes actors I have been called delusional for citing some form of harassment and plain clothes police officers engaging in hostile acts around me.

Playing on those claims of mine allowed Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness to continue to discredit my claims to the medical community, the same medical community whose agencies had been harassing me to conceal medical sector misappropriates of my biological origins.

As with Tom Donegn, as I was in confrontation with Thea Smith, or as with Tom Donegan as I confronted the National Institute of Health, or even as I confronted AOL Time

Warner, I was confronting the very people motivated to discount and disbelieve my claims.

The medical industry latching onto any stigma they could find simply was marginalizing me and he was supporting that, much like can be done when sexual harassment victims try to credibly assert a powerful boss intimidated or harassed them.

During my time in National Institute of Health and Public Health Service detention, facing all black PHS, Tom Donegan is pictured in his home with an African also tied to Trinistas Nsamimbari, also an African who is part of trust fund management.

Me

The answer I have sought for 35 years

Niggers are worth a damn. The are toilet mud shitflush. The Germans and Japanese even after atomic bombings wouldn’t quite.

Those shit disgusting things need to be sunk back into the sewer.

The Question it Answered, the explanation of my life

Why are those dirty things attacking me, how can they get away with it, and how can human uniforms and human clothes be on them when they show what feces they are?

The Truth of world history, the truth of the debasement of the Donegans, Jim, Glorian, and Edward, is how filthy niggers are.

Don’t expect to hear about this from the espionage agencies selling my DNA to dominatrixes like the CIA and Secret Service, or US Marshalls Service.

They wont tell you why they are driving up and down the street head bobbing grabbing their dicks or doing that in gyms or US detention, custodial, systems.

This book places the answer with the question, the vacumn of truth filled wiht lies and black markets of human trafficking, eugincs, and murder.

Racial experimention, racial science, in black ops, are the secret world of espioange, and that is the lurid truth of a filthy United States who betrayed the entire western world for G.E.E holding Marshalls to masturbate at the site of buttocks, if that could black market human genome characteristics mapped by the scientists.

Plain Clothes Police Brutality

Five New York Mafia Families retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Failure to recognize the US is ruled by Mafia is a mistake and fatal to Mafia victims like me. Once the CIA, FBI, NSA, and others joined with the Mafia all Mafia are gvernment and all government are Mafia

The Five Families is the organization of the five major New York City organized crime families of the Italian-American Mafia formed in 1931 by Salvatore Maranzano following his victory in the Castellammarese War.

Maranzano reorganized the Italian American gangs in New York City into the Maranzano, Profaci, Mangano, Luciano, and Gagliano families, which are now known as the Bonanno, Colombo, Gambino, Genovese, and Lucchese families. Each family had a demarcated territory and an organizationally structured hierarchy and reported up to the same overarching governing entity. Initially, Maranzano intended each family's boss to report to him as the capo di tutti i capi ("boss of all bosses"). However, this led to his assassination that September, and that role was abolished for The Commission, a ruling committee established by Lucky Luciano to oversee all Mafia activities in the United States and to serve to mediate conflicts between families. It consisted of the bosses of the Five Families as well as the bosses of the Chicago Outfit and the Buffalo crime family. In 1963, Joseph Valachi publicly disclosed the existence of New York City's Five Families at the Valachi hearings. Since then, a few other crime families have been able to become powerful or notable enough to rise to a level comparable to that of the Five Families, holding or sharing the unofficial designation of Sixth Family.

NewSpeak is inserted into Truth by in in-explicit double entender

Double Speak * creating a Legend tat is seuxally abusive to me but benefits elite politicians and their plans

NewSpeak retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

"If they give your ruled paper write the other way" Juan Ramon Jimenez

Newspeak is the fictional language of Oceania, a totalitarian superstate that is the setting of the 1949 dystopian novel Nineteen Eighty-Four, by George Orwell. In the novel, the Party created Newspeak[1]:309 to meet the ideological requirements of Ingsoc (English Socialism) in Oceania. Newspeak is a controlled language of simplified grammar and restricted vocabulary designed to limit the individual's ability to think and articulate "subversive" concepts such as personal identity, self-expression and free will.[2] Such concepts are criminalized as thoughtcrime since they contradict the prevailing Ingsoc orthodoxy.

Doublespeak is language that deliberately obscures, disguises, distorts, or reverses the meaning of words. Doublespeak may take the form of euphemisms (e.g., “downsizing” for layoffs and “servicing the target” for bombing),[1] in which case it is primarily meant to make the truth sound more palatable. It may also refer to intentional ambiguity in language or to actual inversions of meaning. In such cases, doublespeak disguises the nature of the truth.

The term “doublespeak” derives from two concepts in George Orwell’s novel Nineteen Eighty-Four, “doublethink” and “Newspeak”, though the term is not used in the book.[4] Another variant, “doubletalk”, also referring to deliberately ambiguous speech, did exist at the time Orwell wrote his book, but the usage of “doublespeak”, as well as of “doubletalk”, in the sense emphasizing ambiguity clearly postdates the publication of Nineteen Eighty-Four.[5][6] Parallels have also been drawn between doublespeak and Orwell’s classic essay Politics and the English Language, which discusses the distortion of language for political purposes. In it he observes that political language serves to distort and obfuscate reality. Orwell’s description of political speech is extremely similar to the contemporary definition of doublespeak:

> In our time, political speech and writing are largely the defence of the indefensible… Thus political language has to consist largely of euphemism, question-begging and sheer cloudy vagueness… the great enemy of clear language is insincerity. Where there is > a gap between one’s real and one’s declared aims, one turns as it were instinctively to long words and exhausted idioms... *

Edward S. Herman and Noam Chomsky comment in their book Manufacturing Consent: the Political Economy of the Mass Media that Orwellian doublespeak is an important component of the manipulation of the English language in American media ...

The National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) Committee on Public Doublespeak was formed in 1971, in the midst of the Watergate scandal. It was at a point when there was widespread skepticism about the degree of truth which characterized relationships between the public and the worlds of politics, the military, and business.

The political purpose of Newspeak is to eliminate the expression of the shades of meaning inherent in ambiguity and nuance from Oldspeak (Standard English). In order to reduce the language’s function of communication, Newspeak uses concepts of simple construction, such as pleasure vs. pain and happiness vs. sadness. Additionally, goodthink and crimethink linguistically reinforce the State’s totalitarian dominance of the people of Oceania. The Party’s long-term goal with regard to the new language is for every member of the Party and society, except the Proles—the working-class of Oceania—to exclusively communicate in Newspeak, by A.D. 2050.

The intellectual purpose of Newspeak is to make Ingsoc-approved thoughts the only expressible thoughts. As constructed, Newspeak’s vocabulary communicates the exact expression of sense and meaning that a member of the Party could wish to express. It excludes secondary denotations and connotations. The linguistic simplification of Oldspeak into Newspeak was realised with neologisms, the elimination of ideologically undesirable words, and the elimination of the politically unorthodox meanings of words.

The word free still existed in Newspeak, but only to communicate the absence of something, e.g. “The dog is free from lice” or “This field is free of weeds”. The word could not denote free will, because intellectual freedom was no longer supposed to exist in Oceania. The limitations of Newspeak’s vocabulary enabled the Party to effectively control the population’s minds, by allowing the user only a very narrow range of spoken and written thought; hence, words such as: crimethink (thought crime), doublethink (accepting contradictory beliefs), and Ingsoc communicated only their surface meanings.

In the story of Nineteen Eighty-Four, the lexicologist character Syme discusses his editorial work on the latest edition of the Newspeak Dictionary:

> By 2050—earlier, probably—all real knowledge of Oldspeak will have disappeared. The whole literature of the past will have been destroyed. Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Byron—they’ll exist only in Newspeak versions, not merely changed into something different, but actually contradictory of what they used to be. Even the literature of The Party will change. Even the slogans will change. How could you have a slogan like Freedom is Slavery when the concept of freedom has > been abolished? The whole climate of thought will be different. In fact, there will be no thought, as we understand it now. Orthodoxy means not thinking—not needing to think. Orthodoxy is unconsciousness.

The words of the C vocabulary are scientific and technical terms that supplement the linguistic functions of the A and B vocabularies. These words are the same scientific terms in English, but many of them have had their meanings rigidified in order to, just like with the A vocabulary, attempt to prevent speakers from being able to express anti-government thoughts. Distribution of the C vocabulary is limited, because the Party want the citizens of Oceania to know only a select few ways of life or techniques of production.

There was great effort to restrict citizen speach such that now meanings could be found “in between the lines” of seech which was anti-government but protected by a primary construction explicit meaning.

Secondary meanis which contradict the Government in between the lines of speech favoring the Government or nuetral to the Government wsa a fear of the government, the Information Trench Warfare if hidden information idioms

THe plan was to pre-empt war by irregular warfare, assasinations, and regime change, in the USA and elsewhere as needed.

Now those who can reveal the plot are targeed, me included.

Undercover law enforcement, sometimes identifying themselves to others as U.S. Marshalls, frequently actively using amphetamines, covered in tattoos, driving Dodge Challenger muscle cars as standard equipment, are part of an illegal operation of police brutality and rape to cover some illegal US genetics goal, ,and this police brutality scheme has brought about my torture, and upon my death, my murder from the accrued physical and medical tole upon my body.

Lack of available medical care or housing as well as lack of sexual reproductive opportunity and lack of sexual partnership for me has been the goal of the police harassment, as has sexual assaults upon me meant to demean and humiliate me, ,and my DNA is illegally used for IVF against my will and with no notice to me or accounting to me or payment to me.

Housing

In this section I am going to offer some information , about KinkBnB, and use it here to show not only did an IVF rape of me likely occur, it was done in a racially hostile covert operation, inside my rented residence, which also result in my being zerod out from that residence though I was the victim.

When I arrived in Texas TRinistas Nsambari and African activist from D.C. connected to Obamas was brought into the ARC of NOrthern Virignia to adminster the sale of my mothers house assets. THe name of the Trust fund was changed to the “Family Grow Trust Fund” and blacks have been surrounding me and telling me they will have my babies and they like my cookies, etc.,

The surround me with black babies over the course of years and tell me they are my children.

They themselves call it illegal animal husbandry, faking rights to be fertilized by my DNA and faking property lines or putting people near me to tressapss makes it seem like we are new black family members.

I take this very personally because I had already experienced this exact thing at 42nd Ave Capitola, CA and many rentals before, thus I am chronically homeless.

What’s more, after decades of illegal harassment and false imprisonment, and time away from the Leather scene, this was a perfect home to make my return to the scene, though the Color of Blue covertly framing and sabotaging me destroyed this.

Jim V and I should have been immediate and long term friends at great erotic parties and nights out to dinner with our girlfriends/wives with us.

This could be the alternate timeline for 11/12/2018 when instead, I am single and homeless in an Extended Stay motel where black impersonators of me are continuing to have trists with women, walking to those trysts dressed as me, while I stay in my bedroom alone.

Repeated Information on Salinas KinkBnB

I solicit Deja dominatrix for a scene with some more details than listed here but domination is not prostitution.

She replies perhaps on the 25th but not before that would work though I am leaving KinkBnB much earlier.

Some key point are that at KinkBnB

- Jim Vockelca says to me things I would be expected to have said. This happens frequently. In this example at KinkBnB Jim V says “I took the ASVAB at the MEPS but decided not to enlist” which is odd because I did.
- A female with tatoes surfs for size 13 boots and guns on the shared computer and talks about it.
- The woman with tatooes throws baby showers and accuses me of peeping which I am not doing
- They setup a rendezvous with a dominatrix for after I am moving out, on the 25th, though it is not something I am being invited to
- There is a picture of Obama hiding in the house watching all of this
- The motive given for this is that I am a Trump supporter. The excuse is “what’s the harm?”

Obama connected operations in that facility both frame me as a terrorist for ongoing FISA warrants or asset seizures, in round-the-clock operations I am framed even as (single, as always) I masturbate in my bedroom, I am mocked and framed from the next bedroom by these covert operators.

I have bounced from home to home to home for years with not place to live being assaulted exactly like this.

Prior to this was 42nd Street, after this was Hotel Irwin, always exactly the same thing, for decades, never chaning in long term illegal harassment.

I have documented elsewhere and some in this book malicious frame jobs of me in the gym in which I appear sex obsessed, teen obsessed, etc., in the gym, a retard in the gym, and frustrating hacking of my cellphone highly disruptive of workouts.

The only thing I add here is that the staff is always black, the whites being hired away or leaving, racial taunts are common, it is openly racial hate crime against me, by visual evidence as well as the open statements from those involved in the assaults on me in gym.

I do not have gym access, these assaults make the gym entirely unusable thus I face untreated diabetes death and I approach 60 single, grossly overweight, and near the end of my life.

But for the open racial harassment and assaults upon me in the gym my life path would be much different, in and out of the gym.

Megyn Kelly as an example of planted disinformation on private corporate broadcasts

Multiple times I had seen what appeared to be disinformation about me carried out on Megyn Kelly anchored shows.

First, most likely, this was planned as persecution of me and Megyn Kelly was the target of disinformation an she willingly relayed it. I said the same thing to Sister Rose of Mother Theresa when they framed me and shopkeeper attacked me. They were disinformed and invited to join the lynch mob thus becoming part of the privately head counted lynch mob wrongly targeting me outside the legal protections of Due Proccess and the Courts.

The professional press corp knew better but ginned up a lynch mob anyway.

More on being in the Gym

A good example was a paddle boat trip I took in “the lake” of Austin. I used to sail 10 foot sail boat with rear rudder, I watched Junkyard wars with a long pontoons boat which could not turn, I knew about steering rear thrust in fighters, I knew about efective sail size from windsurfing.

In Windsurfing my father taught me and we enjoyed together, like sailing in the boat my parents bought me, there is a thing called a Catapult fall.

In a sail boat as the wind blows the wind pushes the boat over in tilt and the sail has less exposure to the wind until it reaches flat with the water and no exposure to the wind.

In sailboarding you lean back further as the wind increases and the lift turns updward as well as forward but there is still less exposure to the wind, againg, the sail moving towards flat with the water, until the gust gets stronger, lifting the sail up, giving more exposure to the wind, lifting the sail even more, and as the sailborder was hanging to the sail is now catapuluted over it as the mast flips 180 degrees from windward to leeward.

SO I conclude overcoeing the turn paddile in front of the long straight (thrust straighting pontonn) could be done by paddling backwards, and not long pontoon would straighten out the thrust, which was better than the front paddle just creating and Isocliese water breark at the front of the paddle boat.

It worked, paddling backwards for the turn, and that resulted in some stalker I did not know taking a power boat out, and after the fact, acting out us doing that together as though I were a little boy learning from a skit.

THis is the Gangstalk following my enire life diminuizing anything I do as someone else showed me, and thus these other people get a basket of my goods they want to manage.

And though they wont tell me, gues what they really want to manage for me, give to LWADS.

Dan Harmon, once a popular, charismatic, local political figure, is now known to have been on the tracks the night of the murders of Kevin and Don. In fact, there is evidence that Harmon was one of the hands-on killers.

March, 1990 - I [Jean Duffey?] became administrator of the district's drug task force and immediately began to link Harmon and other public officials to illegal drug activity. We took our evidence to Assistant U.S. Attorney, Bob Govar, who was heading a federal grand jury investigation of public official corruption in Saline County.

June, 1990 - Harmon became the district's prosecutor-elect and used his powerful media friends to launched a smear campaign against me.

The Journalists Who Recognized The Truth:

In spite of the relentless hunt for Clinton scandals, Linda Ives and I stubbornly refused to be labeled Clinton-bashers. We stood especially firm when the White House included Linda on the President's "enemies list" they called "the conspiracy commerce report." White House Counsel Mark Fabiani even singled Linda out to New York Times Magazine reporter Philip Weiss who was preparing his cover story "The Clinton Haters" printed FEBRUARY 23, 1997.

The White House must have been pleased with Weiss's take on the questionable motives of several Clinton-haters and his commentary on "conspiracies" like the "Body Count." But then Weiss goes against White House wishes and writes of the "train deaths" as an example of "how a legitimate question gets spun into a conspiracy." Weiss recognized the validity of Linda's story and questions Clinton's support of Malak, whose cause of death ruling was an attempt to cover up murder in this chapter the blatant fraud of the operation and the power of the interests behind the need for "fixers" such as the Bush family which started MKULTRA along with BOEING, CIA, and the Vatican creating Obama as a sleeper agreement with DARPA and the Clintons in Arkansas.

I am being "hit" by a wildly illegal and abusive scheme which neither the Media nor the Government are a recourse against; in fact, instead, the Media with few exceptions SUPPORT the operation with denial of and intimidate outing of the operation.

The ongoing operation has seemed to tee off on a few things they can create excuses out of under which their real goal of sabotage of me is achieved.

Break ins and the White House Plumbers

AWhite House Plumbing Team Wikipedia retrieved from White House Plumbers and copied or modified to here

The White House Plumbers, sometimes simply called the Plumbers, the “Room 16 Project,” or more officially, the White House “Special Investigations Unit” was a covert White House Special Investigations Unit, established within a week after the publication of the “Pentagon Papers” in June 1971, during the presidency of Richard Nixon.

Its task was to stop and/or respond to the leaking of classified information, such as the Pentagon Papers, to the news media. The work of the unit “tapered-off” after the bungled “Ellsberg break-in” but some of its former operatives branched into illegal activities while still employed at the White House together with managers of the Committee to Re-elect the President, including the Watergate break-in and the ensuing Watergate scandal. [1] The group has been described as Nixon’s “fixers”.[2]

The Plumbers’ first task was the burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg’s Los Angeles psychiatrist, Lewis J. Fielding, in an effort to uncover evidence to discredit Ellsberg, who had leaked the Pentagon Papers.

The Plumbers came to include several Watergate figures including Frank Sturgis. Hunt was recommended by Charles Colson, and Liddy was recommended by Egil Krogh. Liddy coined his own sensitivity indicator for the group in the form of “ODESSA”.[4]

Some authors believe Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) officer John Paisley was a member of the Plumbers. Paisley was assigned to the CIA’s Office of Security, of which Nixon campaign security coordinator and Watergate burglar James McCord was once a member. On August 9, 1971, Young’s memo indicates he met with

Paisley and OS Director Howard Osborn, in which Paisley provided a list of objectives for the Special Investigations Unit.[5]

Daniel Ellsberg From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Daniel Ellsberg (born April 7, 1931) is an American economist, political activist, and former United States military analyst who, while employed by the RAND Corporation, precipitated a national political controversy in 1971 when he released the Pentagon Papers, a top-secret Pentagon study of the U.S. government decision-making in relation to the Vietnam War, to The New York Times, the Washington Post and other newspapers.

Ellsberg was born in Chicago, Illinois, on April 7, 1931, the son of Harry and Adele (Charsky) Ellsberg. His parents were Ashkenazi Jews who had converted to Christian Science, and he was raised as a Christian Scientist. He grew up in Detroit and attended the Cranbrook School in nearby Bloomfield Hills.

Ellsberg began working as a strategic analyst at the RAND Corporation for the summer of 1958 and then permanently in 1959.[4] He concentrated on nuclear strategy[3] and the command and control of nuclear weapons.

Ellsberg completed a Ph.D. in economics from Harvard in 1962.[3] His dissertation on decision > theory was based on a set of thought experiments that showed that decisions under conditions of uncertainty or ambiguity generally may not be consistent with well defined subjective probabilities. Now known as the Ellsberg paradox,[5] this formed the basis of a large literature that has developed since the 1980s, including approaches such as Choquet expected utility and info-gap decision theory.

WH Plumbes assault of me

Gangstalk and use of riff raff for evidence plants, COINTELPRO, etc., save politicians from their accusers including cost accusers credibility and listeners as the Compromising Materials subvert the witness to politician misconduct and subvert the credibility or even means to speak of accuser.

The means to speak were part of the cable show segment “Citizens United” offered to cable viewer as was the corporate structure, a charter, as a means of organizing, in a recent landmark case.

Restating the premise of this book about Gangtalk ef me, the second victimization of my family under MKULTRA

A White House Plumbers operation using riff raff homeless people.

In the chapter Gangtalk: CIA Predation on Citizens via CIA-Asset Criminals I use this description of the Gangstalk.

Everyone has the right to be believed unless no one is or will listen to you.

> “Gang Stalking” is, very likely, a disinformation term created by U.S. intelligence agencies. It refers to the intense, long-term, unconstitutional surveillance and harassment of a person who has been designated as a target by someone associated with America’s security industry.
> Such operations have nothing to do with criminal gangs. Official domestic counterintelligence operations of this type are - apparently - perpetrated by federal agents and contractors, sometimes with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. The goal of such operations - in the parlance of counterintelligence agents - is to “subvert” or “neutralize” an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security > state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be "counterintelligence stalking."

"False Heroes" Gangstalkers are usually drawn from outlaw biker gangs, street gangs, prison gangs, or other ghetto sources who are willing to both plant evidence and while in illegal access to premises steal property [such as book manuscripts] and become false heroes as the janitor, landlord company or building supervisor, who really found "something out" about someone while changing the sheets, doing a service repair call to the apartment, etc., usually while the tenant is not present.

This very "found" evidence in one apartment prevents the deal from going through on other apartments, at least I have found that to be the case now stuck in the ghetto.

The Watched will expose the misconduct of the Watchers

"Targeted Victims" as Jen Moore called them, us, me, law abiding citizens, are attacked by Blackwater CIA Mercenaries security-types in illegal operations using street criminals as assets, the CIA used to harass people, to plant defaming evidence on, etc., and under various *excuse*s hiding their real motives which this book exposes, covering up the errors of big names in politics and security errors they made.

> one of the things I'm going to say is I think it's very interesting that for a long time now those people that are targeted and watched and harassed by people in power how are having the > tables turned on them right now or at least somewhat and those of us that have been in that position are now becoming the Watchers so a lot of these people don’t even realize that as they’ve gathered their you know fake evidence or their their targeting and their following and their intimidation tactics > that those being watched are now becoming the Watchers and doing our own recordings and gathering of documents and evidence and information and they don’t even know it sometimes we might be sitting right beside them [YouTube Turning the Tables: Watchers & stalkers become the Watched!]

I list some of the very big names with things to hide in the chapter and as Jen Moore said big names, the very most powerful of the elite are running the gangstalk.

The detractors or foes of political enemies of politicians seem to fall on hard times.

The media will back the government operation and even help suppress information the operation is going on.

I classify these stalkers operated by the CIA as “lumpenproletariat” using Carl Marx’s term and his definition as a group willing to be bribed into misconduct.

> essentially parasitical group was largely the remains of older, obsolete stages of social development, and that it could not normally play a progressive role in history. Indeed, because it acted only out of socially ignorant self-interest, > the lumpenproletariat was easily bribed by reactionary forces and could be used to combat the true proletariat

I have been through violent assaults by these people, CIA backed, and with little recourse and frequently I am blamed for the confrontations or the illegal acts of the riff raff themselves, as dopples of me, collecting witness accounts I am a bad person who should be sunned (subversion of me in society.).

Covert operation Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

A covert operation is a military operation intended to conceal the identity of the sponsor, and intended to create a political effect which can have implications in the military, intelligence or law enforcement arenas - affecting either the internal population of a country or individuals outside it. Wikipedia

I have known I am interested in non exploitive relataions with adult females in their reproductive years in what I call the Cake model of relationsips. Miind Body Soul each a layer and each healthilyh together.

I know the difference between the obvious and true, and obviously what is not true. The deceit I will go into more later in other parts of the book but in short I have been “sandbagged” by hostile parties and thus am a home body.

These hostile parties seem to be homeless people, the retarded, etc, and the situation meets the description of what Project Veritas alldeged was asked for by the White House of Robert Creamer.

> Robert Creamer — husband of Illinois Rep. Jan Schakowsky — announced his resignation in a statement after conservative activist James O'Keefe released a video under his organization Project Veritas Action, which showed Creamer and other operatives purportedly discussing methods for inciting violence at rallies for the Republican nominee.
>
> In the past, O'Keefe and his Project Veritas Action have been criticized for strategically editing footage to create false accusations about people or groups *.

In this covert operation a series of fight picking moves are a threat to me I keep away from.

In short, false heroes a the scene in public take a photo of a female and then most likely take it to an adult female I did or would have approached. Knowing "the best punishment is to be left out of a Dominatrix role play" the Domina will shake down the false hero for compensation to the female photograph victim and compensate the false hero with a role-play.

In square 3 the homeless person, False Hero, will without saying he is doing so will photograph a female near me, closer even to me, then pick a fight with me via abusive acts.

He will later brag his acts were heroic and should be rewarded.

The intermediate step, whether the Domina knows this was to make right winger look bad or the operation was to pick a fight with the right winger may vary, but the Domina will prefer the false hero.

This misconduct of a covert operation is tied to my genetics, genomic rights, genomic usage, and MKULTRA

So to summarize

- The Homeless person will photograph a female
- Bully like pushes, expressive acts or air punches sell the appearance of him as a good guy at the scene hoping I will fight back
- Later be credited as the hero, have evidence person was photographed, and me rejected by adult women, gym environments, etc., thus subverting me socially

The person crediting the catching of the photo by the false hero may believe the false heroe's story or may just wish to shake down a right winger (me) on behalf of minority children and causes.

The operation is endangering and damaging to me.

The operation of this White House Plumbers operation hostile and deceitful I traced the motive of and bipartisan support for to MKULTRA and my vindication of NOT being the "purp" are being rejected by liars keeping the scan going.

It is my belief the US DOD, DAPRA, Boeing Corp., Illuminati families, Free Masons, etc., tied to history between King Edward VIII and the Kutschera family need me blamed, ostracized, and even living life under arrest and this operation to use Plumbers to attack me seeks that outcome.

Women, reproductive women are warned away from me on either the social sabotage of me as a peeper on on death threats to me or her, or on her simply protecting herself by being somewhere else.

I think that solves the problem of my genetics into a family I intnded of normal family life, and that sabotage was the "Fixer" job the WH and MKULTRA needed, me celibate and single and ostracized.

Excite@Home

At the time I was working at Excite@Home around 1997 I will set the scene and this is when things started to get odd.

I had received a call when I was unemployed and was asked if I would like to interview at Excite@Home, a broadband company In the San Mateo area and it sounded like an interesting company as it was described to me.

It was a more tech oriented job than I could have applied for but again the company was interesting. As I moved to San Mateo I continued my friendship with Cym and Professor DeSade, going to a party at their southbay home, and a woman or two I met later did not return my phone calls, no problem.

It was during this time thigs got really weird and I thought it was because I surfed some information on links to the CIA DOD protecting MAE West and NASA AMES peering facilities as I was more curious about them and some programs on those internet sites.

Todd Welch who was m security boss from my corporate security role later would ask in odd ways and even with the company bizarre questions if I had stolen a computer (which I had not) and strange suspicions were all around me and Personnel treated me oddly my mother in Virginia was getting very odd calls.

Later I was fired though not at the time the Reduction In Forces were going on and I found it odd there was NO EXIT interview which is what was done as policy and with everyone else and my firing was distinctly different than the RIFs and no one could explain anything to me.

I asked why there was going to be no Exit Interview with Personnel, and again, no answer. At this time a buyout was going on as well by AT&T after high failure rates of the IT architecture hindered consumer adoption and investor support.

There was some ‘tudes about child porn. For instance, after some was reported to me and I reported it upwards Todd and Anne really berated me in a way I only found suspicious later suggesting I wouldn’t even know what child porn was. “Child porn is children used in porn” I responded I thought successfully.

I long thought this is when it all began and it something to do with the CIA DOD and even NSA programs I was researching regarding MAE West.

AOL and Wells Fargo were little different

Clear Doppelgangers of me were all over as were strange occurrences and the strange going cold of any form of contact with white females anywhere near me or their disappearance from me vicinity, led away by plain clothes people in front of me without explanation or who I just never saw or heard from again.

In fact in the late 1990s I began to trace this back to Cal State Hayward and also Hayward fellowship, though thinking it mostly was Hayward Fellowship and a fight with a guy named Marti that was at issue.

What I do know is there was bizarre what I now know to be KOMPROMAT beig generated and used behind the scenes and it was bizarre, very bizarre as stalkig is supposed to be. (like cars of a clear fleet nature, hostile, stalking you on the street, gunning engines, NO ID as to public or private actors or motive.)

I had begun using meth at Wells Fargo again and in fact that was a part of my firing. one day I swallowed some vitamins and it turns out that little shot glass had some meth crystals, not the vitamins I had doled out earlier on the week. I had a mandatory day at work but it and it did beginning to show.

Also relevant I had a friend of a friend I bought meth from. One day I was told there was a replacement guy who I met in the Tenderloin and he was a creep pedophile. I ejected him from my station wagon, nearly by force, and later he called me to say in a Aviator Glasses like ambiguous conversation “I don’t ever want to do that again…” and I said “neither do I” referring to the creepy meth deal, and having him in my car, but he seemed to try to intone something else.

The entire situation had been so bizarre for so many years I decided whatever weird things were being manufactured, and I do mean faked, had nothing to do with me but continuously I was denied any opportunity to confront anything and again I raised with Well Fargo they had “opened and closed an investigation” never even speaking to me. THe firing letter stipulated some porn surfing and meth, true, but there was something way more than than, something so bizarre, when I went to rehab I thought the hell with confinement. I will drive into and day class and then back home at night and that has been pretty much my view of “the system” since.

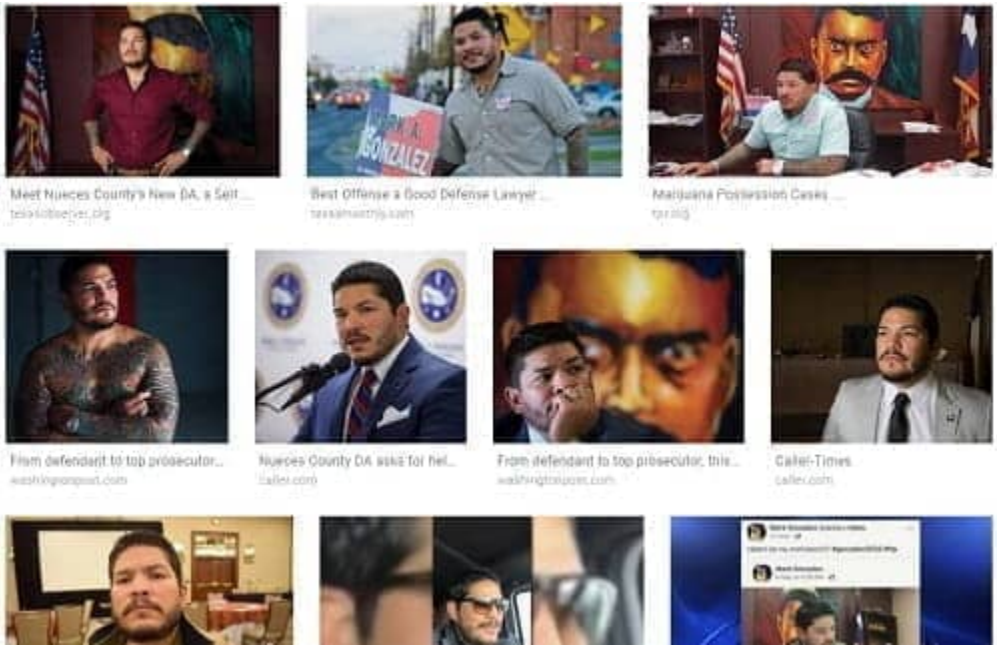
After odd activities continued I finally decided to move to Virginia with my mother and get off drugs with a total change of environment and lifestyle.

At this point my mother who had been gangstalked, and I, would live together in Arlington VA not far from Tom Donegan who had moved to Virginia first, in, say, about 1982 or so.

Dung Feeces Nuecees Toilte of Black Liberation Theolgy Black Nationalism and Skid Row

Fighting white supremacism by using Social Services to spy on white women while pretending to be me or having social services claim I am a retarded person being tattooed by black homelss people and others.

Oh back nationalist and saved bikers who were thrown out of the military.



Nueces County District Attorney proud member of “outlaw biker gang” could explain a lot about the county.

When I first flew out here, zerod out from Arlington Virginia, black motorcyclist were stalking me. Later the Corpus Christi police chief would die in a motorcycle crash, no witnessess. Motorcycles Doppelgänger me everywhere peeking at white women’s buttocks and white women in swimwear, and motorcyclists still gun their eninges at me, at things I do etc.,

Jen Moore and someone else were saying things like “tic toc” about who ever set themselves up as my conservator, and black nationalist hate groups like Isreal United in Christ, black hebrew, and Baptist and other homeless prison ministries like Searchf for Truth Mission, Good Sams, and others, join with the Catholic Archdioces in various projects. Are htese the same nonwhites on drugs mater bating in public to white women while photographing them? Same things happening in the gym, Omni hotel, eslewehre.

Forced into Skidrow and then victimmized by Skid Row asssailants

As I point out in the conclusion of my Delta X Book Series the God, Vatican, DOD and CIA blunder of filthy toilet Texas is part of the U.S. as the worst skidmark on world history.

The Arlington Sport and Health Story and Conspiracy Against My Rights I Fled

By denying me recovery food, laundry money, and surrounding me with prison and DOD scum in the gym I was denied the gym, the goal all along as I had faced A1c 13.3

Creating finances or disgusting hostile environment gym conditions deny Diabetes recovery which has been the goal, to stop my return to San Francisco in 2007, to stop my moving to Capitola or the Monterrey area of California, to keep me in border town skid row unhealthy and too poor to do anything and without transportation.

In fact I went about my San Francisco music list in the gym, using cell phone or tablet videos for my own non-pop high energy music I was surrounded by prison bling grillz teeth non whites who surrounded me in the upscale gym and others who tried to both co-opt my music and workouts while planting diminunizing KROMPROMAT around me in the gym underming me.

FOr instance while I had the urgent medical need for gym but liked the fact it was a co-ed place of health, bizarre alleged interests of mine were pretneded by others in the gym such as getting in front of me as though I was following them (an alleged obsession of mine,) women’s deirriers as my alleged obsession, moved into my viinity, and bizzare objects of my alleged obsessions, teens or now even tots, as this is alleged by those ghetto bling to adult white women as the result of my being in the gym lowering my A1c from 13.3. to 4.7.

In fact I heard some Gold’s Gym staff and members say even when I was homeless my attitude and workouts fit in fine with the gym and only upon a successful GOlds workout, Freedom Fitness workout, and swim, using the best of all on workout loop done, that just like in Austin after a great workout, it seems Obama Secret Service immediately generated an emergency such that a workout likek that could never happen again.

As this was happening the stalkers were taking over my music and custom developed moves including it seems Obama as it seemed to others.

Fighting optical appearances created by Expressive Acts and Circumstances surrounding, planted, round my Life

A corrupt actor forms a Cartel by asking for those in the vicinity of a person to become invovled in a White Lie (often credible people will be asked by corrupt power for white lie activity) or black lies, criminal acts, aften asked of criminals by corrupt power brokers.

Those who act as assets of corrupt power by providing white lies as Roger Ailes likely did may often fall from grace later, and die out of view of others with little credibility or folllowing, which is also what I think happened to Tom Donegan and Veroinca Hoffman.

I have been challenged to fight false appearances, KOMPROMAT damaging to me, and suffered the consequences of the frame job, including ing and genetically and financially raped" in broad daylight, with people watching, and with no one coming to my defense.

cut-outs are a military intelligence term for inserting an object INTO, between, two other things which create confusion, breaking what would appear to be a spy to spy direct contact, or adding something in such as someone handling your luggage in between the airport parking area and it being checked.

In what I call the 2.5/3 Information Circuit based on the Transistor (semiconductor) concept the two nodes are 1511 and 1513 building addresses. the .5 dialect story will in some way relate them. Perhaps creating a faulty connection when they are not connected or perhaps denying a connection if they are connected, or perhaps creating a truthful statement about whether they are connected or not.

I will coin the term INFUDIFU for INFUs and eDIFUse working together, infusing 1511 liabilities to me and use of 1513 assets to cover those liabilties, difusing them away from me.

INFUDIFU

A term I have made up in the tradition of of MODEM (Modulate Demodulate) CODEC (enCODE and DECode) use of some item to incorrectly link 15111 and 1513 a cut out supposedly between them, creates my asset difusing over to 1511 and their liabilities infused to me.

Called Snitchjacking a snitch will point out a law abiding person for a crime the snitch comited and may even have been placed to comit. Similar to that “black lie” Law Enforcement will ask for “white lies” from any records department, doctor or lawyer, or other official, harrassing access to medical, legal, or other services.

The techniques below can be either indirectly as manufactured pretenses for covering up past genome program errors or directly used as techniques to continue to coverup genomic activities.

From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the “preliminary stages of organization and preparation” must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of “revolutionary radicalism.”

> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were “neutralized” by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

These people were part of a revolving crew of people who positioned themselves around me in Georgia

US DOD PsyOps using Disinformation, Social Sabotage, and other schemes to maneuver away support or Human Rights for me will be covered later in more detail but a short description will be made here.

My brother Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness have been paid off to do what they would mostly behaviorally align with anyway which is to describe my politics as “White Supremacism” and seek my institutionalization for my lawfully held opinions where they will be studied, suppressed, and defamed.

Like the payoff of a lawyer I had to represent me, Paula Xinis, or others assigned to DEFEND my rights, those who are supposed to are bought off or co-opted into “defecting” from their role of protecting me or supporting me. Torture in the Medical Sate Repeatedly I have been institutionalized for self-defense against a genetics scheme I have nothing to do with but surrounds me. In the scheme “Pizza” is ordered in for me what are normal environments, Gyms, Libraries, shopping malls, etc., yet I am not ordering Pizza. Intelligence researchers studying something in my genome are, and these impersonators of me operate in broad daylight able to get away with anything, and defaming me for conduct I did not engage in.

Being held in psychiatric hospitals or undermined by Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness with doctors and lawyers to cause me false imprisonment, etc., including in psych wards or under conditions of racial and even sexual or other assault has been achieved in The Medical State.

Myself, Tom Dunham, and Veronica Hoffman have spent years, at least, in my case decades, undergoing US DOD and CIA PsyOps torture of social, legal, and psychiatric harassment over some Pizza Gate scheme, tied to my genome, and at least I have never understood why this has happens or why thousands of obvious frame jobs (of which I have never once been accused of anything) have been permitted in broad daylight and also WITHIN U.S. institutions.

Machines necessary for my regular circuit training are flooded with non-whites making the machines unavailable to me, and if in the empty gym I wait for the non-white to vacate the equipment they are sitting on I am laughed at by other non-whites and photographed in the gym “leering” at the non-white females.

Other round the clock schemes most of which frame me as being coached by non-whites or frame me as stalking women who jump in front of me etc., make any moment in the gym thus the gyms are unusable to me and I will die of diabetes unnecessarily.

When I approach medical doctors seeking Metformin it is denied and non-whites end up being substituted who will refuse the diabetes medicine, and usually US DOD jobs follow for doctors or doctors family members when I am denied Metformin or Wellbutrin (for ADD.)

Following extensive dental surgery I was denied pain killers by starving me out financially.

Torture By Homelessness

Impersonators get me kicked out of places I rent before I move in or harass me out of locations I have already rented in police brutality schemes where Harvey Dents and others engage in despicable conduct for which I am harassed or sabotaged thus I am unable to even rent apartments in the United States and remain homeless.

Torture by Sexual Assault and Sterilization

Woman and girls stage being my victim in public thus sexual assaulting me for sex preferences I do not have (and they and I know that) and other assaults occur as well. Racially hostile and racially sterile hostile environments created in public places.

This level of harassment was all through my life but to survive Diabetes I need at least the gym. This denied me gym community including white female gym partners and denied my un-harassed Diabtes treat workouts

Finally I was down to an even more limited routine of activity, 16 hours a day researching online who this and how it affected Tom Dunham, ,etc. and trying to find some recourse against it.

All waking hours since have been devoted to trying to identify and end plainclothes police harassment which has unmititageted government and private sector support for any illegality and violation of my rights.

The goal and the affect was to make sure, at any military cost, I never meet a white female, CENTCOMs high level military objective.

Dulles Family

Allen Welsh Dulles (/ˈdʌləs/; April 7, 1893 - January 29, 1969) was an American diplomat and lawyer who became the first civilian Director of Central Intelligence (DCI), and its longest-serving director to date.

Initially assigned to Vienna, he was transferred to Bern, Switzerland along with the rest of the embassy personnel shortly before the U.S. entered the First World War.[9] Later in life Dulles claimed to have been telephoned by Vladimir Lenin, seeking a meeting with the American embassy on April 8, 1917,[9] the day before Lenin left Switzerland to travel to Saint Petersburg aboard a German train. After recovering from the 1918 flu pandemic he was assigned to the American delegation at the Paris Peace Conference, along with his older brother Foster.[10] From 1922-6, he served five years as chief of the Near East division of the Department of State.

In 1926, he earned a law degree from George Washington University Law School and took a job at Sullivan & Cromwell, the New York firm where his brother, John Foster Dulles, was a partner. He became a director of the Council on Foreign Relations in 1927, the first new director since the Council's founding in 1921. He was the Council's secretary from 1933 to 1944.[11]

As head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) during the early Cold War, he oversaw the 1953 Iranian coup d'état, the 1954 Guatemalan coup d'état, the Lockheed U-2 aircraft program, the Project MKUltra mind control program and the Bay of Pigs Invasion. He was dismissed by John F. Kennedy over the latter fiasco. *

Several failed assassination plots utilizing CIA-recruited operatives and anti-Castro Cubans directly against Castro undermined the CIA's credibility. The reputation of the agency and its director declined drastically after the Bay of Pigs Invasion fiasco. President Kennedy reportedly said he wanted to "splinter the CIA into a thousand pieces and scatter it into the winds." However, following a "rigorous inquiry into the agency's affairs, methods, and problems …

[Kennedy] did not ‘splinter’ it after all and did not recommend Congressional supervision.”[31]

Dulles was one of the members of the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of John F. Kennedy. Between his stints of government service, Dulles was a corporate lawyer and partner at Sullivan & Cromwell.

On November 29, 1963, President Lyndon Baines Johnson appointed Dulles as one of seven commissioners of the Warren Commission to investigate the assassination of the U.S. President John F. Kennedy.

The appointment was later criticized by some historians, who have noted that Kennedy had fired him, and he was therefore unlikely to be impartial in passing the judgments charged to the Warren Commission. In the view of journalist and author Stephen Kinzer, Johnson appointed Dulles primarily so that Dulles could “coach” the Commission on how to interview CIA witnesses and what questions to ask, because Johnson and Dulles were both anxious to ensure that the Commission did not discover Kennedy’s secret involvement in the administration’s illegal plans to assassinate Castro and other foreign leaders.[34]

His older brother, John Foster Dulles, was the Secretary of State during the Eisenhower Administration and is the namesake of Dulles Airport.[1]

Eleanor Lansing Dulles (June 1, 1895 - October 30, 1996) was an author, professor, and United States Government employee. Her background in economics and her familiarity with European affairs enabled her to fill a number of important State Department positions.

In 1959 Eleanor Lansing Dulles transferred from the German Desk to the Bureau of Intelligence and Research, where she became involved in a study of economic conditions in underdeveloped countries. As part of the study she traveled extensively in Africa, Latin America and South Asia.

INCHOATE/INCOMPLETE CRIMES, CONSPIRACY TO COMMIT CRIME

- Criminal Attempt
- Conspiracy
- Aiding and Abetting

- Obstruction of Justice after the fact

INCHOATE CRIMES

Inchoate crimes, also known as incomplete crimes, are acts taken toward committing a crime or acts that constitute indirect participation in a crime. Although these acts are not themselves crimes, they are illegal because they are conducted in furtherance of a crime, and society wishes to deter individuals from taking such steps. Three primary inchoate crimes are attempt, conspiracy, and aiding and abetting.

CONSPIRACY

A conspiracy occurs when two or more people agree to commit an illegal act and take some step toward its completion. Conspiracy is an inchoate crime because it does not require that the illegal act actually have been completed. For instance, a group of individuals can be convicted of conspiracy to commit burglary even if the actual burglary never happens. Conspiracy is also unique in that, unlike attempt, a defendant can be charged with both conspiracy to commit a crime, and the crime itself if the crime is completed.

Finally, in most states, conspiracy requires an “overt act” taken in furtherance of the crime. This overt act does not have to be the crime itself, nor does it have to be an act that is illegal. Rather, the act must merely be a step taken in furtherance of the criminal objective, such as buying a weapon or holding a meeting to plan an attack. The act must also take place after the group of individuals has agreed to conspire. Actions taken before the agreement do not fulfill this requirement. While an “overt act” implies an affirmative action, some courts have held that silence can be an overt act where it is intentional, planned, and done in furtherance of the conspiracy.

ELEMENTS OF A CONSPIRACY

Conspiracy first requires a showing that two or more people were in agreement to commit a crime. This agreement does not have to be formal or in writing. All that is required is that the parties had a mutual understanding to undertake an unlawful plan. Second, all conspirators must have the specific intent to commit the objective of the conspiracy. This means that someone who is entirely unaware that she is participating in a crime cannot be charged with conspiracy. For instance, if two sisters agree to rob a bank and ask their brother to drive them to the bank without informing him of their intent to commit a crime, he cannot be charged with conspiring in the robbery. This specific intent requirement does not require that each individual knows all the details of the crime or all of the members of the conspiracy. As long as an individual understands that the act being planned is a criminal one and proceeds nonetheless, he can be charged with conspiracy.

SOLICITATION

Solicitation is an inchoate crime that involves seeking out another person to engage in a criminal act. A defendant may be charged with solicitation if he or she requests or induces another person to commit an act that would amount to a felony. The two elements of solicitation are the intent to have someone else commit a crime and an act committed in furtherance of convincing another person to commit a crime.

INTENT

In order to establish the first element of a solicitation, a prosecutor must show that the defendant affirmatively intended to have another commit a crime. This means that an individual may not be charged with solicitation for mistakenly asking another to commit a crime, often because the individual does not realize that the act is itself a crime. For instance, assume a man believes that his neighbor agreed to let him borrow the neighbor’s lawnmower, but the neighbor did not actually consent. The man asks his son to go get the lawnmower for him from the neighbor’s yard. Even though it would be a larceny for the son to take the lawnmower, the man would likely not be guilty of soliciting his son because the man did not realize that taking the lawnmower was a crime.

DEFENSES TO CONSPIRACY

Factual impossibility applies when there are circumstances that make it impossible to complete the intended crime. For instance, if a man intends to commit arson and buys all the necessary supplies, but, unbeknownst to him, the building is demolished the next day, he could argue factual impossibility if charged with attempted arson. In some states, however, factual impossibility is not a defense, as courts rely on the fact that the person still had the intent to comm

Like other inchoate crimes such as attempt, a defendant charged with conspiracy can raise the defense of abandonment or withdrawal. In order to do so, a defendant must show that he affirmatively communicated his withdrawal to his co-conspirators and took some positive action to withdraw from the conspiracy. Additionally, the defendant must have withdrawn from the conspiracy prior to its completion. Importantly, the defendant must have definitively cut ties with his fellow co-conspirators. If he continues to communicate with them or assist them in any way, this may prevent him from raising the defense of withdrawal.

Another defense available in conspiracy cases is the defense of entrapment. Entrapment means that the defendant was persuaded to participate in the conspiracy by a law enforcement officer or government agent and that he or she would not otherwise have become involved in the conspiracy. Specifically, the defendant must show that (1) the idea for the conspiracy came from an officer and not the defendant; (2) the defendant was persuaded to participate in the conspiracy by an officer and (3) before being persuaded, the defendant had no intention of committing the crime.

List of Possible Charges That Can be Brought Against a Police Officer retrieved from https://www.attorneys.com/ and copied or modified to here

Police officers are citizens like anyone else, though they have broad powers as police officers to protect people and to enforce the law. If their conduct exceeds their authority, then criminal charges may be brought against them.

www.attorneys.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

NON-CRIMINAL CHARGES

Police officers sometimes do commit certain unlawful acts while acting under their authority, which in many instances do not result in criminal charges but in disciplinary action such as racial profiling, falsifying information on a search warrant, planting evidence on suspects, harassing certain groups, or fabricating reasons for detaining people or drivers to justify arrests.

These offenses, along with official acts that may constitute false arrest, malicious prosecution, falsifying evidence, or even committing perjury in court or while submitting an arrest or search warrant, are usually treated as civil rights violations, or torts. In these cases, police officers can be held civilly liable under Title 42 United States Code1983 for injuries a person sustained as a result of deprivation of a constitutional right such as the right to due process.

LIST OF POSSIBLE CRIMINAL CHARGES

- Assault and battery
- Sexual assault
- Misusing public funds
- Drug dealing
- Ticket fixing
- Homicide

Police officers have access to evidence such as controlled substances obtained from arrests and searches and many have stolen evidence either no longer used in criminal cases or never turned over for prosecutions following search and seizures to sell in unlawful drug transactions.

Other officers under the guise of professional courtesy have fixed tickets given to other officers or other public officials or after accepting bribes. These are criminal acts and can subject the officer to prosecution.

EXCESSIVE FORCE

Any list of possible charges brought against a police officer includes the use of excessive force used on defendants during arrest or detention. Officers have been videotaped or witnessed by bystanders tasering defendants who have been handcuffed and no longer posing a danger, or beating up helpless defendants following traffic stops or other street detention.

Officers have been charged with murder after shooting an unarmed defendant who was not threatening them or who lied about a defendant's alleged action in reaching for a weapon. Police officers have broad latitude in protecting themselves and others in arresting someone, but they cannot cause serious bodily harm once the defendant is sufficiently restrained and is no longer a risk. Most of these cases of alleged police brutality demand a thorough examination of all the facts and circumstances surrounding the case.

Chapter 2: Acting as Confidential Human Source Informant (Probation and Supervised Release Conditions) *

A confidential human source or informant is a defendant who engages in the prohibited activity of associating with persons engaged in criminal activity for the purpose of furnishing information to or acting as an agent for a law enforcement or intelligence agency. Since the inception of the federal criminal justice system, prosecutors have used defendants supervised in the community as confidential human sources or informants.

The activities required of confidential informants or human sources, however, may potentially conflict with conditions normally imposed by a court. Acting as a confidential informant or human source is generally inconsistent with the rehabilitative and re-integrative goals of supervision.

Such activities may also pose risks to the probation officers who supervise these individuals, especially when they have limited knowledge or no knowledge of the nature of the informant's activities.

There are rare occasions, however, when the law enforcement benefits to the community justify permitting the defendant to engage in this high-risk activity.

In these cases, strict monitoring by the court/probation office is necessary for the safety of the community, the defendant, and the supervising probation officer.

Dredging is the operation of removing material from one part of the water environment and relocating it to another. In all but a few situations the excavation is undertaken by a specialist floating plant, known as a dredger. Wikipedia

OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE

Obstruction of justice is considered a crime against justice itself. By obstructing justice, one is seeking to thwart the process of justice and the operation of the justice system. From presidents to street criminals, those facing obstruction of justice charges could suffer major consequences. Prosecutions can commence at either the federal or state level.

This article describes obstruction of justice, some examples of obstruction, and the types of penalties one could face.

Elements of an Obstruction of Justice Charge

The elements required for a conviction on an obstruction of justice charge differ by code section. For a person to be convicted of obstruction of justice, they must have acted with the specific intent to create an obstruction. The statute criminalizes "endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede" the legal process, even if those endeavors were unsuccessful. Seemingly innocuous acts could become criminal activity if they have the intended effect of impeding justice.

SUBORNATION OF PERJURY

In American federal law, Title 18 U.S.C. § 1622 provides:

> Whoever procures another to commit any perjury is guilty of subornation of perjury, and shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

In American law, Scots law, and under the laws of some English-speaking Commonwealth nations, subornation of perjury is the crime of persuading or permitting a person to commit perjury, which is the swearing of a false oath to tell the truth in a legal proceeding, whether spoken or written.

The term subornation of perjury further describes the circumstance wherein an attorney at law causes a client to lie under oath or, allows another party to lie under oath.

In California law, per the state bar code, the subornation of perjury constitutes an act of "moral turpitude" on the part of the attorney, and thus, is cause for their disbarment, or for the suspension of their license to practice law.

As a crime, it has been defined as "persuading another to commit perjury."

But "suborn" is more broadly defined. Amongst three definitions: to induce a person to commit a wrongful act ... esp. in a secret or underhanded manner; to induce a person to commit perjury; and to obtain perjured testimony from another.

In legal practice, the condition of suborning perjury applies to an attorney who presents either testimony or an affidavit, or both, either to a judge or to a jury, which the attorney knows to be materially false, and not factual. In civil law and in criminal law, the attorney's knowledge that the testimony is materially false must rise above mere suspicion to what an attorney would reasonably have believed in the circumstances of the matter discussed in the testimony. Hence, the attorney cannot be wilfully blind to the fact that their witness is giving false, perjurious testimony.

An attorney who encourages a witness to give false testimony is suborning perjury, a crime punished either with formal disciplinary action, disbarment, jail, or a combination thereof. A false statement by an attorney in court also is a crime similar to subornation of perjury and is punished accordingly. In the professional conduct of an attorney at law, there is a fine delineation between assisting a witness to recall events and encouraging the witness to give materially false testimony. The practice of ″horse shedding the witness″ (rehearsing testimony) (also known as woodshedding), is an example of such perjurious criminal conduct by an attorney, which is depicted in the true-crime novel Anatomy of a Murder (1958), by Robert Traver – John D. Voelker, a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court – and in the eponymous film (Otto Preminger, 1959), about a rape-and-murder case wherein are explored the ethical and legal problems inherent to the subornation of perjury.

JURY TAMPERING

Jury tampering is the crime of unduly attempting to influence the composition and/or decisions of a jury during the course of a trial. The means by which this crime could be perpetrated can include attempting to discredit potential jurors to ensure they will not be selected for duty. Once selected, jurors could be bribed or intimidated to act in a certain manner on duty. It could also involve making unauthorized contact with them for the purpose of introducing prohibited outside information and then arguing for a mistrial. In the United States, people have also been charged with jury tampering for handing out pamphlets and flyers indicating that jurors have certain rights and obligations, including an obligation to vote their conscience notwithstanding the instructions they are given by the judge.

CALIFORNIA PENAL CODE 134 PC – PREPARING FALSE EVIDENCE

https://www.shouselaw.com/ca/defense/penal-code/134/

California Penal Code 134 PC makes it a crime for a person to prepare false evidence with the intent to use it fraudulently in a legal proceeding. A conviction is a felony that carries a penalty of up to 3 years in jail or state prison.

This is considered to be an Obstruction of Justice crime in California.

The language of 134 PC states that “every person guilty of preparing any false or ante-dated book, paper, record, instrument in writing, or other matter or thing, with intent to produce it, or allow it to be produced for any fraudulent or deceitful purpose, as genuine or true, upon any trial, proceeding, or inquiry whatever, authorized by law, is guilty of felony.”

Examples

- making a false receipt with the idea to introduce it at a personal injury trial.
- creating an inaccurate picture of an intersection to give to police investigating a hit and run case.
- altering a will with the intent to use it in probate court.

Defenses

An accused can beat a preparing false evidence charge with a legal defense. Common defenses include:

- no intent to produce [false or misleading evidence],
- no intent to deceive, and/or
- entrapment.

Penalties

A violation of this statute is charged as a felony. This is opposed to a misdemeanor or an infraction.

The crime is punishable by:

- imprisonment in the state prison for up to three years, or
- felony (or formal) probation.

Our Shouse law California criminal defense attorneys includes practice these areas.

What is Gang Stalking a Targeted Individual? Targeting of Individuals by the US Government for Subversion, attacks, etc.?

By Professor Eric Thor Karlstrom, Ph.D
https://erickarlstrom.com/

A Simple Definition

Under Occupational Health and Safety laws, individuals are being flagged and placed on community notification lists. This is happening without the targets knowledge. In many countries these community notifications are being used by companies and others to target innocent individuals such as whistle-blowers, the outspoken, etc. In conjunction with these notifications, companies and others are in some cases using a practice that was used in the former soviet union called the psychiatric reprisal. This is used as a means of retaliation, blacklisting, silencing, or controlling members of society. Once on the notification system, warnings about the targets are sent out to every individual the target comes in contact with, thus poisoning their associations, and socially annexing the targeted individual.

Gang Stalking is a systemic form of control, which seeks to destroy every aspect of a Targeted Individuals life. Once a target is flagged a notification is sent out to the community at large, and the target is followed around 24/7 by the various communities that they are in.

Target Selection

Gang stalking apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

A lot of accounts by self-proclaimed targets of gang stalking suggest that people are often subjected to severe long-term harassment simply because they crossed someone connected with the agencies and security firms which perpetrate such operations.

An example of that type of abuse occurred in April 2012, when USA Today reported that one of its reporters and an editor were slandered by a secret disinformation campaign waged by an intelligence contractor firm to discredit them because the newspaper had investigated and reported on that contractor. The company involved conducted propaganda campaigns for the U.S. military. Similarly, in August 2013 it was reported that at least a dozen National Security Agency (NSA) employees had used their surveillance system access to spy on their current and former spouses and partners.

Implications

In addition to being morally reprehensible, gang stalking - just like the original version of the FBI's Cointelpro operations - is illegal. It violates criminal laws in all fifty states against stalking, as well as grossly violating the U.S. Constitution's prohibitions against warrantless searches and extra-judicial punishment.

While the vast majority of Americans are never personally targeted by gang stalking, they should still be concerned about the existence of such operations. Even if such activities were constitutionally legitimate (clearly they are not), they would still have an enormous potential for abuse as a personal or political weapon by the practitioners.

Ending this cowardly and illegal practice by law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and their parasitic corporate contractors will require exposing what is happening to the public. Anyone reading this can assist with that exposure by simply sharing this information with others.

This organized stalk has shut down any normal life for me, but why, and why was the same thing done to my mother and father? I think simple fade-out of our family saves others from acknowledging we are connected via illegal use or our DNA.

Not only as a first hand witness can I vouch for what she asserted were death threat to her in regards to reporting on my family information I have received death threats from the same powerful espionage figures in events which do trace back deep into history, the OSS (Office of Special Services which became the Psychological Warfare Operations and TSS Technical Services CIA assassinations group of the CIA) and how that pertained to operations during WWI, WWII, and into the sixties with the illegal programs of MKULTRA, experiments in psychology, and in illegal programs tied to the creating of moles and sleeper agents for the 21st Century during the 1960s.

In fact when Jen Moore pointed her camera at the location my mother and I live at not far from you coroner’s office in Arlington Virginia (850. North Randolph Street Arlington Virginia apartment 221) she was talking about very famous celebrities who had contact with Nazis such as the Bush family prior to hard steers into dangerous territory the Nazis began to embrace.

It was during that transition time from 1925 and the British Imperialism Speech at Wemberley Park to the removal of the Von Trapp family (7 known, 3 unknown) children of Maria Augusta Kutschera the history Jen Moore was documenting “ruffled feathers.”

I find the death threat she experienced were well documented including by videos, her assertion she was threatened with death, and that powerful elite espionage and political families and politicians had much to hid credible because Jen Moore and I experience the same storyline and threats from the same powerful actors including the FBI who during J. Edgar Hoover’s time and since have used Mafia connections (Cali Cartel, La Cosa Nostra, Knights Templar drug cartel) and others such as Mexican Mafia when the FBI leaders or high level politicians find themselves in trouble for their espionage past including high profile assassinations such as Sam Giacanca assassinated before testifying before Congress and other high profile murders.

Jen Moore was by the documents she left and the connection to my family and the history of my family fighting these mob forces openly and online. I can attest to the truthfulness she had reason to fear for her life including when she was taking on the forces of the Mafia and Mexican Mafia in Nueces County Texas which as an unapologeticaly mafia tattooed outlaw biker tattooed District Attorney 125 miles from the Mexican border where drug and human trafficking exist. Among the most prominent are Knights Templar drug cartel and Black Hebrew Israelite, Southern Poverty Law Center listed black nationalist or Mexican Mafia groups who have joined into the black market via pimp role of offering DNA rights.

The function of the CIA program has been using the cartel rights for illegal science and funding “protection” from anyone getting too close to the truth, analogous to the Rolling Stones have Hells Angeles patrol a concert rather than police.

It is likely both the county I live in, powerful politicians, and the FBI itself would rather the truth of Jen Moore’s death be buried deep but it does relate to criminal rackets which are backed by powerful political forces, political forces which have much to lose.

For the moment I am only providing two links, one to my book on the subject which is also being harassed and then to her YouTube videos which include 850 N. Randolph and my mother and I am my family’s story.

Please overlook the “cutsy” here because it serves a purpose.

Passing of Jen Moore retrieved from [Tracy Police Department on Fecebook] and copied or modified to here

Jen Moore of Tracy PD,California

Tracy Police: It is with deep sadness we announce the death of retired officer Jenny Moore who passed away on August 13, 2018 in Millersville, Maryland. Jenny served the community of Tracy from 1993 until her retirement in 2004. Jenny held the rank of Corporal, served in the then named Street Crime Unit as a narcotics investigator and worked in the Tracy Unified School District as a DARE officer. As a Field Training Officer, Jenny taught new officers how to police in Tracy and gave them an appreciation of what it meant to grow up in a town and later serve the same community. She also was a member of our adventure racing team competing in several events on the west coast.

Jenny graduated from Tracy High School in 1986 and later completed a Master's Degree in Psychology, which she put to good use as a psychologist at a non-profit organization.

Her mother, Jane Moore of California, survives her; her Father Bob Moore of Texas; her sisters Robin and Kelli, and brother Bobby, all of California. She also had numerous nieces and nephews.

Jennifer Marie Moore retrieved from Findagrave.com and copied or modified to here

Jennifer Marie "Task Force" Moore was the YouTube persona known as "Task Force" - a whistle-blower, an investigative journalist and a former police officer. She was reportedly working on stories about child abuse / trafficking involving important people when she was found dead in her Washington, D.C. hotel room.

Her death from a brain hemorrhage appears to have been the result of a severe beating she received the year before.

The person that originally created this page (From Days Gone By) has removed the photo and blindly transferred maintenance of it. Will update this area as (verifiable) information becomes available.

Jenny Moore’s youtube screen name was “Task Force”.

Who killed Jen Moore in a study about Ed Donegan?

Mark Gonzales “came up” in very crime ridden poverty based border town Corpus Christi area Nueces as a law school graduate partially putting behind himslef Calaveras Motorcycle Club outlaw biker gang. Still in the club and aligned with indigent people feeling hopeless in life and outlook he a candidate to be tempted by exploitable hidden value. If the Trust Fund of Glorian Donegan can be monetized to serve various homeless veterans and other cast outs and the value not acounted for, fake claims can kite away the otherwise sitting idle value and that can be done covertly with blind trusts, etc.,

This is exactly the type of criminal network which recruited Jen Moore, former police officer from Tracy California, and who would see this as festering crime. At one point Jen Moore calls herself a Trump supporter too and probably does not like labeling alt right as a medical illness or disease or trying marginalize simple right wing immigration nationalists beliefs.

Thus the stage is set between a RICO connected connected office holder and Jen Moore a former police officer without active contacts or job status to act against Gonzales.

Open Letter to Ted Cruz J. and the FCC

To:
Jessica Rosenworcel FCC
Ted Crus Jr. US Senate
From:
Edward Paul Donegan
Concerned Citizen and Conspiracy Theorist

Dear Sir and Madam;

While in US Federal Prison I began to study in formal training to become a Pagan Witch. Many in San Francisco were and mostly I found it ridiculous and mostly attire for otherwise attire worn over desired behaviors and archtypical forms of resentments against establishment based values.

Removed from that contex in a male wing of a federal prison and meeting another Pagan I started looking at Pagin literature ranging from Odinism to Wicca.

Odinism has a Japanese style to it of ties to the land in racial way and often is tied to White Supremacism and while not problematic for me in that regard its use of myth I found less useful than the archetyps of Buddhism. Wicca offered internist concepts as well and education in theism Athiesm, polytheism, and patterns of behaviors of more powerful religions against minor ones or ones with little social power.

It is widely believe and still debated that the male form the Horned God, a hunter myth an equal to the repoected Moon Goddess making Day were either abaondoned by Christianity or turned into Satan.

The pattern of replacement ideologies either demonizing or co-opting earlier movements or figures (or even cities such as in Russia following changes In goverernement and stature of historical figures) is not different from debate in the USA as Confederate flags are having their meanings altered and them removed or misunderstood, or values changing such that the attributes assigned to the history are changing. As I research the Kennedy curse which I believe I and other Donegans have lived under I came across a, perhaps “the” DOJ building as the RKF Building.

It is my belief now and many others that a CIA based oil conspiracy with the mafia killed JFK and RFK and that was led by an FBI DOJ in cahoots with the mafia.

The rise to power of George H.W. Bush who has a CIA building, Langely named after him, and J. Edgar Hoover Building, and the Robert F. Kennedy building are names I all find unforate window dressing of claims to an honoranble history that are not supported by the facts and likely even offiensive. I believe your own institutons are likely influnceed by the troubling history of the cold war and Mafia partnership in the demise of communist states, Cuba in particular and CIA plans with Rafeal Cruz Sr.

My research has a rare area of development because I carry a rare gene likely studied by Alma Powerll the mother of an FCC chair Michael Powell.

It is my belief that as those like Lloyd Austin ask conspiracy theories be purged from government the history of power changes be considered and that new leaders may have tread on the corpses of old ones while pretending to have been loyals to the deceased and past kings.

The King is Dead. Long Live the King. I wish the billions of televion news hours covering the DOJ CIA Bush family, Rockefeller Republicans, Patreus, and others that time was being used by Micheal Hastings, Doroty Killgallen, and others.

I suspect in the USA a deep state does exist, is tied to long running CIA programs who pretend to honor those whose corpses they used as stepping stones into the newly freed up government offices.

I have no new names in mind but I wish a more diverse conspiracy theory based media encouraged and I am unformattable with our legends of our great kings today.

Seeking rescue from USA

I quote and it is true wherever you read about the FBI.

> From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the “preliminary stages of organization and preparation” must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of “revolutionary radicalism.”

> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were “neutralized” by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

End quote.

I wish there was any truth to that. There is not. The FBI has only one killing objective, preempting victims of a Deep State shadow government run by itself, preempting the story of the assassination of JFK by the FBI and Shadow Government, and silencing by murder and the destruction of lives of witnesses or journalists who can prove occupants of the political offices of the FBI are undeclared foreign agents, planted sleeper, and concealing the guilt of themselves and their agency from generation to generation.

I fear for my life in the USA from destructive espionage which has harassed my life because the life of my mother and father and myself that are honorable, loyal, and respectable represents a secret history of atomic weapons development and history of warfare the USA needs to hide.

I am going to tell you are at least I intend to try to tell you that my best guess as to WHY I fear for my life from police harassment called Gang Stalk is that I am a witness to the JFK assassination, as far as I can tell from my family history, perhaps the most direct witness or ONLY surviving witness to a part of the Kennedy Curse story not yet told.

Jen Moore started to tell that story before she was silenced and she and Ted Gunderson I put in the same group I am in, victims of State backed hits via illegal means of Espionage under-cover misconduct of the State or its assets.

Call those players the Rockefellers and Standard Oil, the Dulles and E Howard Hunt families, other Texas interests and Lyndon Baines Johnson, the Rothschilds and their banking and financing East India Tea and other British Pilgrim companies in colonies, or British Petroleum,or Zapata Oil Bush family interests also tied to Richard Nixon and his secret White House Library meetings.

Jen Moore was nearly the last living person to know my family history and its ties to the JFK assassination and MKULTRA and she was threatening to name names. Both her and my last living family of origin relative died in the last few years and only I know the story still as a witness to inside that family, the Donegan family, and the attempts on my life continue.

But this is not abstract discussion on the JFK assassination but life or death threat to us all and to me, all of us possibly at the brink of destruction of us by a Shadow Government with Shadow criminality, Shadow motives, and evil mafia Shadow ties.

Others know as perpetrators of the crimes they are hiding and we have records from them if we are willing to rely on them.

Variously in fiction as either movies like The Sound of Music, Mary Popins, or blogs like The Prophecies a tale of an English royal connected Bush family were working on genetics and Eugenics with the royal family since 1902 and in illegal experiments of the 1960s JFK and his Irish government began experiencing assassinations and questionable deaths or odd turns on their lives.

Ted Gunderson was an ant-mafi person of the FBI and he also knew much of the story which Lee Harvey Oswald knew, about my family in North Carolina, my mother Glorian Gainey and Harold Gainey, Maria Kutschera Von Trapp tied, where Lee Harvey Oswalds last attempted phone call was to.

Webster Tarpely describes the Bush family as English banking family tied and tied to funding Eugenics as well and it was during the study and use of underground railroad families like the out of wedlock Donegans in MKULTRA this history unfolds from, and the Mafia of US Government assassinations continues and I attempts on my life fit the same pattern as attempts of termination of lives of others who are anti-mafia, mostly Roman Catholics or ex Roman Catholics.

Recently I even found cryptic references to the whole affair in the popular Mary Poppins, like the Sound of Music, British singing and dancing with some metaphors of reality under neath it all as plot lines.

Ted Gunderson, Jen Moore, all my living family are dead, and I fear for my life, and if anything happens to me as hostile undercover attacks on me continue I leave at least this book as Jen Moore left her videos, videos, of secret lines of families from secret underground railroads, and those family lines for assassination and overthrow as some world leaders are killed like the Kennedys and some are groomed for office like the Bush family, the Obama Jr. family, the Cruz family, the Abbot family, the Swchwartzengger family, and others tied to Peace Corps, USAID, the East-West Center, and international planning of regime chnages in the Cold War.

All of that data is collected quoted and referenced here and supports my accounts of this history in multilayered corroboration of public records and many personal accounts of all the families involved in the CIA Behavioral Research which landed the CIA in trouble.

The First Amendment, said Judge Learned Hand, 'presupposes that right conclusions are more likely to be gathered out of a multitude of tongues, than through any kind of authoritative selection. To many this is, and always will be, folly; but we have staked upon it our all.'

The plan was for the Big Business Mafia to run the government in the 21st Century as MKULTRA and it does. Gang Stalking, the Free Mason way of terminating victims by progressive Abuse of Power has been used against my family all who were equally witnesses with me to that core story of the hito n JFK, and I may soon be hit myself as so many others have been, and we should all care about police misconduct, so far, the major news outlets do not report on MKULTRA or its threat to US sovereignty and its threat to our citizens or sovereignty.

You now are getting the information that completes the Jim Garrison case against a CIA asset (Clay Shaw) for the assassination of JFK.

My family genetics under atomic testing study for secret reason by secret agencies for secret grooming of world leaders plans in now detectable ways if the FOXP2 gene is recognized and my family line truth is revealed. I am the last of my family still alive and my life is in danger.

JFK and later RFK were aware of these illegal experiments, the “good” births of productive CIA groomed world leaders who could create Capitalist success in communist poor farming counties via USAID and Peace Corps, and those leaders be a an aspiration-group model and communal success of capitalism and allegiance with the USA where both are or had been in doubt.

I add that the genome illegally used from my family comes out of that “black registry (secret out of wedlock bastard babies of Windsors)” and the Roman Catholic Kennedy administration objected to the plan in the 1960s going to far, beyond respect for life bounds, also out of resentment of WASPs and the British based WASPs the Kennedy’s had. WASPs wanted the plant out of wedlock to expand and study the genome cartel which has a defect FOXP2 to be studied and bred out in larger inter-breeding Commonwealth of Great Britain Crown jewels.

That all is possible because my family genome has a secret gene and secret history known as London KE Family FOXP2, out of wedlock Windsor, Windsor with Nazis, Kutscheras, and others.

Cars have been trying to run me of the road, every job or apartment I have had terminates me, child porn is planted on me and talked up elsewhere in usual FBI tactics and I was put in the mental hospital as I asserted being radiologically attacked in my life as my father was in Manhattan Beach Manhattan Project atomic testing in Nevada and elsewhere.

This Cold War espionage activities built on the WWII history of my family and now leads into WW III. It has a large component in the Great Schism of 1054 and England after the Dark Ages birth of 700 A.D. in long war historical conflict with Eastern European Orthodox, Asian, and other religion dominated areas of the world.

If this sounds grandiose the players and State Actors involved and the events in my family history are enormous. The assassination of JFK was part of it, the murder of Marlin Monroe, the death of Malcolm X as well, and the creation of Sleeper Agents including Barrack Obama Jr by George H.W. Bush family CIA milieu system to win against Eastern Europe and beyond for the Queen of England in the USA England Special Relationship that Roman Catholics objected to, renouncing English Commonwealth as philosophy and as conquers of Ireland, India or elsewhere, a British plan since 1902 when the Mary Von Tuck decided a widening and also study of the Windsor London KE Family FOXP2 Minimal Brain Disorder gene in King Edward VII need to be studied.

Jen Moore was a truth teller about Gatsbians, Great Gatsby house of outlawed-cards MKULTRA COINTELPRO Mafia based society concealing its deep underbelly of elites tied to long term assassination, racketeering profits, oil money, and other corruption.

She was murdered for outing the truth of my family, the Donegan family, and how the elites of society our Gatsbian mafia Dons ranging from media, political office holders, and religious groups have united behind hiding the details of the JFK murder, elites using illegal genetics studies, and profiteering in Mafia backed companies like Zapata Oil, or exotic off shore corruption like the Epstein racketeering most of Epsteins accomplices making up elected or appointed offices like Labor Secretary Acosta, Donald Barr William Barr, the Bush family for generations, and others.

Let me ask you for those ways you can help and that I do ask you for.

1. BREAK THE STORY - ESPIONAGE AGENCIES HAVE RUN AMOK AND ARE BREAKING THE LAW: The USA

FBI and related espionage agencies were built for espionage and counter espionage and most will tell you espionage agencies are leverage troups who covertly break the law to tilt world affairs in way for more favorable desired outcomes of those who run the Shadow Government including the protection of their business interests and private holdings in oil, media, defense, science, and other affairs

I the book I link to I have written and in the data files and description I am sending to you I give your the facts you need to do what you are in your business for as reporters, break the story

2. BREAK THE STORY - VICTIMS OF THOSE AGENCIES LIKE MYSELF NEED HELP FROM COLOR OF LAW HARRASSMENT BECAUSE WE HAVE DATA ON DIRTY GOVERNMENT AND THUS GOVERNMENT FEARS US : Again the data you need to is verifiable, described, and present in the materials I make available to you

3. HELP ME DIRECTLY IN SEEKING SAFETY FORM MYSELF AND OTHERS, JUSTICE DONE FOR THOSE TARGETED, AND HELP AMPLIFYING THE VOICE OF VICTIMS OF POLICE MISCONDUCT : The information I provide is full or re-usable teasers for the purpose the book was written and many victims are named and even after death can be given voice.

One of the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, DARPA, and FBI programs the press protects over generations is MKLUTRA which is a slush fund of “research” and human trafficing with adult surrogates.

The Donegan family (my family) genome is illegally used for that purpose under excuses and rationalizations no one would believe in a financial scam architecture depending on law enforcement tools operating in simulated and false pretense activation.

MKULTRA in adult entertainment houses continues.

The FBI programs infiltration adult entertainer commercial activity does not find crimes there it places crimes there of free wheeling and corrupt practices intelligence community activities.

It is no different today than when Dallas Police were tied to and were operating with Jack Ruby in his Dallas Texas strip club as were the rest of CIA connected mafia figures running the operations.

Exhibits: id959 a page from my book in which I say CIA and FBI murders are killing truth tellers tied to my family history and I send that information to her coroner. Her friends in the FBI considered her death suspicious but the FBI fired her, an anti terrorism expert on an excuse. id637 a screen capture of Jen Moore video showing my former home with my mother and our family history tied into CIA MKUTRA and fleeing 1920s Nazis in Austria to poor farming int the USA . id437 is a page out of my book which tells the story of Jen More Moore saying would not be silenced, probably was from from one of the family lines herself, and was murdered I believe, she was pointing her camera at my and my mothers home at 850 North Randolph St. #221 and the Glorian Donegan genome family history and how the elites did not want the story of her to come out, likely because her genome was used illegally during scientific research. Robyn Lee Gritz is organizing this fundraiser.

Robyn Lee Gritz Austin, TX an FBI Special Agent for anti terror was fired from the FBI on an excuse, is having her financial services and income dry-up, sometimes simply froze for no reason. She defense Jen Moore, considers the death of Jen Moore suspicious, but has lost her voice inside the FBI and even outside the FBI.

id64 is a page from my book on plain clothes police brutality and attacks on me through police assets and that page describes what Jen Moore was describing, “ritualistic” sexual abuse of me by innuendo cheap shots and abuse of me in family courts where Racketeering Influenced representation of me (and I need no representation) pay alleged victims from my trust fund via family courts when the trust fund shoudl be used to defend me against crime including State actors crimes againt me under Color of Law rather than fund abusive, destructive, and life limiting fake claims against me.

None of this that follows is about Jen Moore but rather the USA hiding the murder of her and others on MKULTRA hit-lists and the MKULTRA cartel fabric of the USA.

Small fringe groups in the USA do hold Conspiracy Theories of the type Jen Moore was reporting on, credibly, but those group make up only .0001 percent of media in the USA and these fringe groups like myself are under extreme attack.

I believe the extrajudicial execution of journalists like Micheal Hasting has been able to protect the USA from being outed as a criminal mafia machine and this book is not about street thugs used by the mafia but the fabric of the USA itself that protects the fabric of the Bush Crime Family, the Bush Family Treason, and an Al Capone based operation always looking to expand within and beyond US borders via criminal rackets denied implausibly by our Gatsbian mainstream media Dons.

The worst of criminal for instance Robert Swan Mueller or William Barr hold office not because they have been exposed as CIA criminals by the press but rather the press has provided “cover fire” suppressing Conspiracy theories about them just as the press and major politicians and major businesses are indiscernible.

I believe Barrack Obama Jr being created and groomed during the JFK first two years led to JFK being assassinated two years later as Barrack Obama JR and Edward Paul Donegan (MKULTRA study subjects) both turned 2 years old and as for Universally Sub-incorporated America the Press Corps is part of the plot, dumbed down, and as John Pilger observes backs seeming success of liberalism” propaganda when Barrack Obama Jr was elected when the truth is the murderous CIA mafia that created and protect the CIA plan is the real USA.

I quote Richard Jay Belzer actor and independently wealthy litterature and history researching author of Hit list that witnesses to the Mafia Shadow Government of the USA are dying mysterious deaths and I believe I am on that mafia hit-list as witness to the JFK assassination by the Deep State.

Exhibit id234 is a diagram I have modified by adding to ir originally drawn by Wayne Madsen formerly of the NSA, a Mocked Conspiracy Theorist, and driven out of government by the NSA or any of the other agencies, media, or universities of MKULTRA built by James Jesus Angleton, Donald Barry, Scottish Rites, George H.W. Bush, Robert Mueller II of Dupont Board or Directors, Saudi Arabia, Great Britain, and the replacement to East India Tea Company, the British Petroleum and Standard Oil Brethren pirate companies.

It explains the Shadow Government of what I am going to call the Federalized Bueuras of Intelligence, a CIA FBI NSA

US Department of Defense and Defense Contractor companies who formed a plan with England to create Barrack Obama Jr and other “liberalized democracy” successes who could govern beyond Protestant England and into places as diverse as 1902 House of Saud Saudi Arabia, India, or Ireland, where according to the customs of the governed England and the USA juntas could gain control of satellite countries under our influence, and where resistance movements like the Irish Republican Army, began in 1902.

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi 2 October 1869 - 30 January 1948), also known as Gandhi, was an Indian lawyer, anti-colonial nationalist and political ethicist who employed nonviolent resistance to lead the successful campaign for India’s independence from British rule.

A JFK hero and other JFK heroes in British Parliament Profiles in Courage described, a Nobel Prize winning book on political leadership, were British Politicians who in Parliament stood against East India Tea Company imperial oppression.

John F. Kennedy and his family approved of the Boston Colonial Revolution against the British and the Irish fight against imperialism as well, the sort of imperialism that plans regime change with imperiliast puppets created by the USA.

Exhibits: id234 a diagram of the Deeps State Espionage Cartel operating through front groups like the Peace Corps, USAID, and other actors and agencies to gain British influence abroad including as Commonwealth growth of inter-connected royal families, id207 a page from my book quoting Wayne Madsen and others discussing his work. id857 a description of the Shadow Gov whose WETDIVISON assassins knife carves a controlled vase suppressing from within presidencies as diverse and the Kennedy Family and Donald J. Trump

I assert as a first hand witness and along with others that the JFK visit November 19 1961 to Santa Monica brought together a complete thread fabric of truth weaved out of credible sources including myself that the oil business long in cahoots with the British had a multi-benefit grooming of Sleeper agents underway illegally and without permission tied the CIA regime change assassinations work of the OSS, US Department of Defense, Department of Justice, and anti-cuba operations.

Arnold Schwarzenegger married into the Peace Corsp through Sargent Shriver and Peter Lawford and others were in USAID and East-West Center of Hawaii to turn socialist leaning locations like Hawii into US States or US military backed juntas.

The Donegan component, the Edward Paul Donegan story is that my family line was from rescues from the rise of Nasim of 1926 Von Trapp story immigrees to the USA, born in the USA but probably from bastard births of secretive relatives of the Windsors and Kutscheras which led to continuing embarrassment of the Windsors and FBI and is a continuing source of embarrassment of illegal genome study is CIA groomed sleepers who would among other things help royal commonwealths overseas foreign lands and foreign sands.

  Psychological Warfare controls society, is social control, if and when Mockingbird controls the media of a nation fighting "Russian Propaganda theories that Free Masons killed JFK"

Exhibits: id953 is the system of law enforcement and CIA using my genome via illegal operations. Tied to Pizzagate the CIA program the press corps denies, the program mostly experiments in eugenics, designer babies, and illegal science in party room where impregnation are offered and occur. I used the file name “fleeced” in the export of that page sometimes since bringing my genome to the black market as trafficked laundered biology rights is what pays for corrupt law enforcement to party and live above their means. LE tend to pay themselves as victims if they say I sexually victimized them by peeping (I do not) and they pay for the right to peep at others as they stage peeping at adults using my name and my biology to “settle the debt” for having had peeped, though a Dopple of me is used, not me, I do not do so.

Jen Moore was a former police officer in Tracy California and she held “Conspiracy Theories” as a “Truth Teller” and pointed out as others have the US Espionage Deep State has a betray of the Donegan family, the USA, and the world underway as we possibly go into WWW III and the US activities in the Ukraine she warned about before she was assassinated by thugs telling her to stay silent.

MCT-20 Jen Moore:Jen Moore as she takes video of the 850 N. Randolph Arlington VA home of my mother Glorian and myself she keeps the CIA MKULTRA Nazis in USA component entire Donegan family and those that knew us now wiped of the earth b Gang Stalk.

It is worth saying for the segway it creates that I do not believe myself to be a Nigerian Prince down on his luck and need of rescue. That went around in the 1990s about the time the Barrack Obama Jr. marriage began to produce children, two, some say an aborted fetus and an out of wedlock male.

I am the on of poor labors who I have always admired. My father James Paul Donegan a late teen house painter who clomb down off the ladder from his work when he heard the US Army was taking recruits. My mother lived doing the work of George Washington and what Paul Harvey talked about, being a farmer, and producing food on a small farm.

After the war the TWA and airlines system around the world let employees and families of employees travel on unused arline seats as a perk of being in the business.

There ae those who DO believe the out of wedlock celebrity DNA in my family line is a some sort of bragging rights worth and they have aspiration group interest in it.

I hear dopples of me who are in apartments next to mine, with an adjoining door such as some motels or hotels, or on other areas saying that because they are caught by the Marshalls and other with child porn photos then to avoid arrest they will provide people like Salvation Army Red Kettler bell ringers the right to make little princess.

This is I believe an inflated value of my DNA which places a wrongful emphasis on Nature rather then Nuture, and feudal arrogance of self governance.

COINTELPRO - Wetworks - Subversioin, Legal and Psychiatric System Harassment via Gang Stalk Espionage Units

High power people are covering up atomic testing disasters by conspiring against the lives of atomic weapons development and testing victims.

Exhibits: id1045 is a diagram produced by Dr Richard Lighthouse on the Targeted Individual program of MKULTRA whch uses British and US Intelligecne capabilities to destroy the lives of people through paid actors, faked government records, recurits from police and fire, and other Espionage assets who conspire to subvert the life outcomes of Targeted Individuals, targeted for PsyOps harrassment.

Here are some of the tactics used by CointelPro, most of which I have experienced. This occurs in broad daylight, inside the prison system, inside the ABA, inside psychiatric hospitals. These covert operations I and those I know have been subjected to will be described in my later false arrests and detentions.

According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods, including:

- INFILTRATION: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

- PSYCHOLOGICAL WARFARE FROM THE OUTSIDE: The FBI and police used myriad other “dirty tricks” to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

- HARASSMENT THROUGH THE LEGAL SYSTEM: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, 'investigative' interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

- EXTRALEGAL FORCE AND VIOLENCE: The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official 'terrorism.'".The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs", warrant-less surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. Source: COINTELPRO - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

> From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the "preliminary stages of organization and preparation" must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of "revolutionary radicalism."

> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were “neutralized” by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

It explains how my family genome comes underground railroads tied to activities of King Edward VIII and Nazis of Austria and those genes found in my genetics are in other family lines, who need my family line destroyed in MKULTRA.

MCT-20 Jen Moore:Jen Moore as she takes video of the 850 N. Randolph Arlington VA home of my mother Gorian and myself she keeps the CIA MKULTRA Nazis in USA component.

Those same thugs from that same conspiracy have been after me and it is tied to the war hero legacy of my family.

I have attached a photo this email I also refer to textually as id637 that is Jen Moore “Conspiracy Theorist” that my family is tied to the Von Trapp family history, my mother born in 1926. She was the out of wedlock daughter (along with Harold Gainey her brother from her earlier life as Glorian Gainey and Festus Gainey alleged father) in North Carolina where Lee Harvey Oswald’s last attempted phone call was too, the military intelligence office of WWII in that area.

Let me tell you about my mother. She died in 2011 with a Special Needs Trust fund left for me, a trust fund under US Federal Regulation that is not an inheritance of money but her keeping her money through a proxy after her death that money which can be used for education, legal expenses, medical, and other advancement of living conditions needs though not mere consumerism for its own ends.

She grew up poor on farm in North Carolina with brother Harold Gainey. Harold Gainey and her were told it was O.K. to be poor in the depression of the 1930s, she had been born in 1926 the year the Von Trapp family arrived in the USA after Maria Von Trapp left her Austrian convent (notice her in one of the versions sliding down the rail of the convent legss spead and an apple at the end of the bannister.)

When Uncle Festus Gainey died in 1935 or 1936 when my mother was 9 years old she and Harold Gainey, (all of us her, me, and Harold show FOXP2 and can’t tie our shoes well) to South Carolina in a DuPont workers family. Harold worked at DuPont too, war suppliers, in my case Harold work on testing synthetic fiber strength.

She wanted Moon River played at her funeral a song about a woman who meets an amazing man who opens her entire world up.

Let me tell you about my father. US Boston wrong side of the tracks born poor family just like the Kennedy family, Rose Fitzpatrick, the Donegans took every kind of abuse that society can heep out.

Good is real. James Paul Donegan my father and Glorian Donegan loved the world. James Paul Donegan left Boston Massachusetts to become a P-51 pilot just before the formal outbreak of the war and just before he was 18. By his telling me and Tom Donegan through our lives he was in the Atomic Bombing of Japan likely in the US Army Air Corps and 509th air force wing of bombers surrounded by fighters and recon.

After Korean War flying my father did ending in about 1958 Thomas Neil Armstrong was born named after Neil Armstrong and Thomas Jefferson who wrote a Bible without Creationism in it.

James Paul Donegan Glorian Donegan Thomas Neil Donegan and Edward Paul Donegan led good lives. I had trouble in school and have a minor gene defect looked by good doctors who have little access to more data as co-morbid ADHD and Dyslexia, also strong emotions though rapidly flashing, just herniating a bit through reigning it in.

My mother wished the song Moon River be played at her funeral, a song sung by Audrey Hepburn of love for the man who swept her off her feet and opened the world up to her.

And James Paul Donegan opened the world up to me too with Head Royce private school education based on Liberal Arts and the Humanities (LIBERALS! Liberalism is a DISEASE Rush Limbaugh shouts) to one of the most influential artworks I have ever seen.

The Third of May 1808 (also known as El tres de mayo de 1808 en Madrid or Los fusilamientos de la montaña del Príncipe Pío,[3] or Los fusilamientos del tres de mayo[1]) is a painting completed in 1814 by the Spanish painter Francisco Goya, now in the Museo del Prado, Madrid.

While I embrace Irish Nationalism and Sien Fein, India indepence from Eat India Tea company and Ghandi, Palestian protection from excess in close spaces where sabotuer battle is intense, and other basic human rights focuses as I find others like myself having common oppression sources.

I embrace the cause of Israel too. State massacre of its citizens is the most brutal of all forms of violence for it ability to surround its victims and operate with impunity.

We were abnormally educated and abnormally sophisticated which has made us targets of Free Masonry on one level. On a second level targeting me as a terrorist of uknown Orthodox or Pagan sympathies against Chrisiandom has both opened doors for me, not judging “hookups” church groups in Corpus Christi admonish in people at their services, and while views as terrorist threat of unknown lifestyle FBI subversion tactics were used against me.

The curiosity about me was simply I was of value to some backward people and the Donegan genome was too, defamed as a mentally retarded person whose DNA is not of value, it is in fact of value and being black marketed.

COINTELPRO is being used to undermine Edward Paul Donegan with a conservancy treating and nearly arrested an insane Dopple of Ed Donegan, and on that record the real Edward Donegan is harassed on pretexts.

The effect of the Mafia scheme of using an impersonator of me in a Salvation Army conservancy taking Goth lessons from Goth or Victoria Secrets entertainers sex workers allowed that entertainer to also sign DNA rights into slush funds IF that person being entertained, the Salvation Army loser, had child porn.

Allowing them to destroy my life by generating records of ignorance and misconduct has incited normal areas of life to shun me and I find myself stuck in homeless shelters with no apartments of normal people willing to accept me and fired from all jobs I might have.

Law Enforcement officers do not like to be lured into dark alleys or unsafe places if they are enforcing the law. If they are breaking the law they may force a person like me into such a place where an unknown and nu-noticed death might occur, no questions raised by a person dying homeless behind a dumpster.

The Gangstalk espionage system used on me and other witness to the JFK assassinations including the Kennedys suffer this curse and I need assistance from Espionage in the USA.

Jen Moore explains Western Schism and after Russia, blaming the death of JFK on Russia, and acts of the Illuminati on Russia. Our side of the Schism is using church groups to make gambits of their children to populate Western Schism side of the Great Schism of 1054 and this is illegal genome trafficking. id1046.

As all of her data and all other data now shows the Non Roman Catholic office holders objected to assassinations and overthrow that the Protestants wanted but by resentment of both Feudalism and embracing sanctity of life the Irish, Italian, or other Roman Catholics did not wanted genetically cultivated sleeper agents out of Donegan atomic testing genome or any other source and not for any use like overthrowing republics to create Commonwealths.

Exhibits: id56 is especially important. Jen Moore SMS txt screen shots fear FBI DOJ having people hit. Jen Moore will later die. I add Christopher Wray and Mueller, others in family lines of MK ULTRA with much to hide, id637 is also very important Jen Moore points her camera at the home of Glorian and Ed Donegan of 850 North Randolph Arlington VA 2nd floor and talks about Nazis coming to the USA as the Von Trapps did, and how those family lines now make up famous and also unknown USA family lines including elite political families and media families, id448, id228, id1046.

She adds in Free Masons as elite mafia black budget illegal profits of Deep State via Pizza-gate asset seizures of black market genome used in the Ukraine by US Mafia crime families, the Donegan genome of Windsor Kutschera history and the ties to the JFK Murder and other murders as the CIA tries to conceal why JKFK was killed and how this genome related to that story, Barrack Obama Jr is only one of many mostly Bush family members and more not wanted to be tied to illegal genome research by DARPA BRIAN program going back to Austria Freud, and Carl Jung.

MCT-10 Jim Garrison: Confirmed by many new sources of available earlier suppressed evidence from me, Jen Moore, others, then denied to Garrison, former FBI agent and Orleans Parish LA USA prosecutor Garrison expertly built the case a deep state CIA led killed JFK and blamed then killed Lee Harvey Oswald. this is the case as Joan Mellen changed history. If The FBI, CIA, and Office of Naval Intelligence and Mafia had NOT killed his our Nation's witnesses like David Ferrie, Sam Giacanca, and others, Clay Shaw who WAS a CIA Domestic Contracting Service asset of the CIA would have been convicted and flipped George H.W. Bush, Richard Cheney, England, and the FBI Knights of Malta J. Edgar Hoover James Jesus Angleton NWO British backed Wild Bill Donovan Donald Barr William Barr plan.

On the surface it is simple Religious ethnic violence. An impersonator of me or a person faking I have authorized them to do so goes to an adult entertainer as a retarded person who needs lessons in Goth lifestyle, paganism, sexuality, and modeling help for a sexually retarded childlike person.

During the sexual surrogate lessons the moron as me will be caught with child porn and I will be blamed for the acts of the Dopple of me who agrees he is Ed Donegan and agrees he is an Atheist and agrees he is harming minors from local churches.

The more complex motive is that person shaken down for the trust fund my mother left, a trust fund which will pay to get my mother's son (me) out of being arrested, is being bilked of assets due me and even more to the point I am being branded a low morality poorly developed person incapable of adult sexuality but wanting surrogacy lesson in metro-sexual latex bondage and avante guard lifestyle the very sexuality Salvation Army "red kettle" homeless people are far behind in.

The Pizzagate plan is Western Christian organizations using my genome to get lessons on avante guard lifestyle and at the same time use payment of my genome into churches and other organization of world orphanages were its historic track record might be repeated in CIA creations like Barrack Obama Jr headed to Indonesia or other locations.

The entirety of a CIA operation is destroying my life, and catching up on the opposition, an Easter Side will educated Atheist Goth whose death will complete my genome transfer into a long running Christian Western Side Great Schism world plan to retake all of Europe and all of the world for Western Side Schism countries.

Minimal Brain Dysfunction is under stimulation (or under available of brain metabolic function do to poor organinci neortransmitters in teh brain such as Dopamaine for which Dysoxin (Crystam MEthamphetamine) or other amphetamines serve as an working analogy.

Dr CHarney told me ADHD which is included in Miniam Brain Dysfunction results from an turntable stule tone arm to lightly pressured thus it bounces between the grooves rather than stick with one. The focus on the current groove improves with brain (Executive area) stimulation.

:Too much focus gets the needle stuck and is over focus also called a Tweek.

In the early 1960s, amphetamines were still widely accepted as innocuous medications. Apart from vast numbers of middle-aged, middle-class patients receiving low-dose prescriptions from family doctors to help them cope with their daily “duties,” in much the same way that their doctors prescribed minor tranquilizers,61 a significant quasi-medical gray market in amphetamines had developed. For instance, for his painful war injuries and also to help maintain his image of youthful vigor, President John F. Kennedy received regular injections containing around 15 mg of methamphetamine, together with vitamins and hormones, from a German-trained physician named Max Jacobson

Ralph R. Greenson (born Romeo Samuel Greenschpoon, September 20, 1911 - November 24, 1979) was a prominent American psychiatrist and psychoanalyst. Greenson is famous for being Marilyn Monroe's psychiatrist, and was the basis for Leo Rosten's 1963 novel, Captain Newman, M.D. The book was later made into a movie starring Gregory Peck as Greenson's character. There has been much conjecture, by investigating officers, press and the public, about Greenson's involvement in a possible cover-up concerning the circumstances of Monroe's death.

Greenson was well known for his early work on returning WWII soldiers suffering from Post Traumatic Stress. He also had other famous clients, such as Tony Curtis, Frank Sinatra, and Vivien Leigh. Greenson and his wife, Hildi Greenson, were the darlings of the Southern California psychoanalytic community, intellectuals and with certain notables in the entertainment industry. They were good friends with Anna Freud, Fawn Brodie and Margaret Mead.

Dr Greesone was a fan of Sigmund Frued and theraputic cocaine. One little known fact about Freud was his 10-year addiction to cocaine. I Edward Donegan notice on the list of Dr. Max Jacobson “Dr Feelgood” (3 JULY 1900 - 17 December 1979) the following

- John F. Kennedy
- Nelson Rockefeller “Rocky” JULY 8, 1908 - January 26, 1979)
- Marilyn Monroe JUNE 1, 1926 - AUGUST 4, 1962)

Note that Rockefeller is tied to Rockefeller Psychiatrity, the Nixon and many other administrations, and political office.

Oct. 16, 1957 - The famous American film director Cecil B. De Mille accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Harper, and Dr. Max Jacobson have been received today by Pope Pius XII at his Summer residence in Castelgandolfo *.

Dr. Max Jacobson was a German physician and medical researcher who treated numerous high-profile clients in America, including President John F. Kennedy. Jacobson came to be known as “Miracle Max” and “Dr. Feelgood,” because he administered highly addictive “vitamin shots” laced with various substances that included amphetamine and methamphetamine.

Dubbed “Dr. Feelgood,” Jacobson was known for his “miracle tissue regenerator” shots, which consisted of amphetamines, animal hormones, bone marrow, enzymes, human placenta, painkillers, steroids, and multivitamins.

In September 1960, then-Senator John F. Kennedy first visited Jacobson shortly before the 1960 presidential election debates.[9][10] Jacobson was part of the presidential entourage at the Vienna summit in 1961, where he administered injections to combat severe back pain. Some of the potential side effects included hyperactivity, impaired judgment, nervousness, and wild mood swings. [I Edward Donegan dispute this, was Hyperactivity morbid and being treated by the amphetamines?

The plague bacterium works this way, hijacking the white blood cells sent to eliminate it. Traveling inside the white blood cells to the lymph nodes, the bacteria break out and attack the focal point of the human immune system. Dr. Stephen O'Brien felt that the mutated CCR5 gene, delta 32, may have prevented the plague from being able to enter its host's white blood cells.

A series of formerly Confidential CIA memoranda, dated May 15, 1972, points to the involvement of both the Defense Department’s Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA), the CIA, and the University of Hawaii in the CIA’s behavioral science program. The memos are signed by then-Deputy Director of the CIA Bronson Tweedy, the chief of the Intelligence Community’s Program Review Group (PRG) [name redacted], and CIA Director Richard Helms. The subject of the memos is “ARPA Supported Research Relating to Intelligence Product,” The memo from the PRG chief discusses a conference held on May 11, 1972, attended by Lt. Science can now predicts the IQ of your TODDLERS

A year ago (2017,) no gene had ever been tied to performance on an IQ test. Since then, more than 500 have, thanks to gene studies involving more than 200,000 test takers.

Robert Plomin, a behavioral geneticist, says that's exactly what's coming.

For decades genetic researchers have sought the hereditary factors behind intelligence, with little luck. But now gene studies have finally gotten big enough-and hence powerful enough-to zero in on genetic differences linked to IQ.

The search did not go well at first. Plomin failed to discover any links when he looked at the genomes of 7,900 children in 2010.

Strap yourself in for an unsettling espionage action-thriller that sounds like a Tom Clancy spy novel. But this cloak-and-dagger exposé is non-fiction. Political non-fiction.

The perplexing sequence of events begins as a Cessna carrying nine people inexplicably descends into the Pacific Ocean off the coast of a Hawaiian island. A passenger wearing a lavender sweater appears calm during the final seconds of flight. The plane enters the water. Some will later speculate the unusual circumstance was a controlled water landing made to look like an accident.

Wreckage of a Cessna Caravan in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Hawaii. Wreckage of a Cessna Caravan in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Hawaii.

The passengers and the pilot patiently exit the plane as the cabin becomes flooded with water. The passenger in the lavender sweater appears to the others to be alive and well. This passenger is observed floating in the ocean, wearing a life jacket and showing no signs of distress.

Oddly, another passenger documents the entire event with a GoPro video camera. The video never reveals the face of the passenger in the lavender sweater, who will soon become the focus of a mystery.

This passenger apparently ends up dead about an hour later.

Initial reports describe three different causes of death.

Even more baffling is the fact that no one else on board the Cessna Caravan died.

Do not assume that you can simply look up the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) final report to find out what happened. The incident is “under investigation”… almost two years later.

Now for a little bit more about this dead passenger. The deceased was the former leader of the American branch of an Islamic cult that originated in Indonesia.

The deceased used two names…and had two different birthdays. More mystery.

Through the Islamic cult, the deceased was connected to a very interesting couple from Chicago.

The husband from this Chicago couple is an expert in Soviet propaganda. He is a professor at a university in Chicago. A university where a another professor was a domestic terrorist and a self-described “communist revolutionary.”

The husband attended meetings in Chicago and China with a graphic designer who created a very recognizable circular logo for a famous politician from Chicago.

The father of the graphic designer who created a very recognizable circular logo for a famous politician from Chicago lived in a commune with members of the American branch of the Islamic cult.

The wife from this Chicago couple was friends with the deceased. The wife became the leader of the American branch of the Islamic cult too; just like her friend who purportedly perished in the Pacific Ocean.

Hammer Sickle FBI 1024

Now it turns out that back in the 1940s, the FBI was extremely interested in the parents of the husband from this Chicago couple.

When this Chicago husband, professor, and Soviet propaganda expert was a young boy he lived with his parents near Washington D.C.

The Chicago husband’s mother and all of his grandparents were from Russia. The Chicago husband’s father worked for the U.S. government.

The FBI had the father under government “technical surveillance” through a judge’s secret order. The FBI monitored his phone calls.

The FBI listened to his father getting chewed out by a Soviet spy for “questioning him over the telephone.” The spy then told the boy's father "to bear in mind from where he was talking."

The Soviet spy was part of an espionage network penetrating the highest levels of the U.S. government.

This Soviet spy ring had many agents working at American public libraries, scanning local newspaper obituaries to obtain the names of recently-deceased babies. This Soviet spy network then used the names of these dead babies to create fraudulent identities in order to obtain counterfeit U.S. passports.

These fraudulent passports were used by the communist spy operation to bring additional Soviet espionage agents into the United States.

The FBI eventually had 26,000 pages of files on this ring; the ring which also stole atomic bomb secrets from the Manhattan project.

There is one more detail worth mentioning:

It was the deceased who released a Hawaii birth certificate for the famous politician from Chicago, who is now the sitting U.S. President. Many claim that the Hawaii birth certificate is fraudulent.

More mystery? Yes.

The deceased was named in a sealed affidavit filed in U.S. District Court in Seattle alleging misprision of felony and treason against the United States. The sealed affidavit included a technical analysis concluding that the birth certificate was fraudulent. The affidavit also contained personal financial records of the Hawaii official.

Less than two months after the affidavit was filed the plane allegedly transporting the Hawaii official went down in the Pacific Ocean.

The Hawaii official reportedly died.

Shall we continue?

The following are the actual events portrayed in the story you just read, complete with real names and excerpts from the original Silvermaster FBI files. Approximately 26,000 pages of FBI files related to the Silvermaster Soviet spy ring and the Julius and Ethel Rosenberg espionage case were declassified under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). Excerpts from the William Remington FBI file are presented here as well.

The Hawaii plane incident

The Cessna Caravan 208B turboprop ditched off the coast of Kalaupapa, Molokai, Hawaii on December 11, 2013. The Makani Kai Air Charters flight had departed Molokai en route to Honolulu with eight passengers and one pilot on board.

Several former military pilots reviewed GoPro video which had been recorded by a passenger on board the aircraft. Those military pilots stated that they believe the pilot made a “controlled water landing.”

The 246-word NTSB preliminary report released after the Cessna Caravan incident was called “one of the most incomplete and un-sourced reports published when compared to other reports.” Twenty months have elapsed since the plane ended up in the Pacific Ocean. The NTSB has yet to release its final report.

One passenger reported killed: Hawaii/SUBUD official who released President Obama’s birth certificate

Hawaii Director of Health Loretta ‘Deliana’ Fuddy, who released President Obama’s ‘Hawaii Certificate of Live Birth’ on April 27, 2011, was the only passenger pronounced dead after the Cessna Caravan went down.

Hawaii Director of Health Loretta ‘Deliana’ Fuddy released President Obama’s Hawaii Certificate of Live Birth in 2011 then died in 2013 after a Cessna she was reportedly aboard ditched in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Molokai, Hawaii.

Hawaii Director of Health Loretta ‘Deliana’ Fuddy released President Obama’s Hawaii Certificate of Live Birth in 2011 and was pronounced dead in 2013 after a Cessna she was reportedly aboard ditched in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Molokai, Hawaii.

> Yes, that Loretta Fuddy the Hawaii state health director who approved the release of Obama’s long-form birth certificate and who has apparently succumbed to a nasty case of post random plane crash induced arrhythmia.

The Hiroshima Pilot Who Became a Symbol of Antinuclear Protest By Anne I. Harrington

Aug. 6, 2020

The latest article from “Beyond the World War II We Know,” a series from The Times that documents lesser-known stories from the war, looks at Claude Eatherly, an American pilot involved in the atomic bombing of Hiroshima. After years of being arrested for petty crimes, he became a high-profile antinuclear activist.

The B-29 bomber banked hard to avoid the blast. The explosion lit the plane’s interior with a brilliant flash, so bright that some of the aviators momentarily thought they had been blinded. More than one noted a strange metallic taste in his mouth. A loud clap broke around them as the first of three shock waves hit, causing the plane’s aluminum body to vibrate violently. Looking down, they saw the fireball unfurling.

[CTRL] Fwd: [CIA-DRUGS] Gunther Russbacher …CIA… coverups…etc.

From:

Ya know, this story below about Russbacher being a complete liar, con man, etc., etc., sounds just like something the government would say in order to discredit him. I don't have any knowledge of the man's "psychological profile" as mentioned herein, however, I do know that claiming someone is crazy, a liar, a con man, insane, delusional, paranoid, etc., IS a COMMON tactic used by our wonderful government agencies to discredit their enemies - perceived or otherwise.

They used this same tactic against Claude Eatherly (Hiroshima pilot) back in the 40's to discredit him…said he was a looney bird and a liar when he began talking about things that happened during World War II, and "Operation 40", amongst other things.

> In a December 6, 1992 sworn declaration, Russbacher described to me part of the CIA operations in which he was involved: *

https://ppia.fandom.com/wiki/Paul_Wilcher

Paul Wilcher made several allegations in a letter to Attorney General Janet Reno.

Wilcher alleged that the David Koresh cult in Waco was a front operation for a CIA team of sleeper-agent assassins, these being Koresh and six others, and that similar CIA-sponsored cults were run in five other locations

Wilcher claimed that Koresh and earlier cult leaders Jim Jones and Charles Manson had received mind control training from the CIA.

Paul Wilcher

Paul Wilcher was the lawyer to whistleblowers Rodney Stich and Gunter Karl Russbacher. Wilcher died in disputed circumstances a month after writing a letter to then-new US Attorney General Janet Reno alleging that the CIA was killing people to cover up mind control experiments, and that the Waco incident was one of these events. [1] [2] [3]

Death

According to the American Patriot Fax Network:

He had apparently been killed elsewhere, tied in a fetal position, and rigor mortis set in.

He may have been brought back to his apartment and placed on the stool, to look like a natural death. It was made to look like a suicide, but a body does not freeze into that position when a person dies, the body falls over. Swarms of FBI agents appeared, going out of their way to tell Marion and McCledon that they had not interest in the case.

Simultaneously, the same day that Wilcher’s body was found, the printer who was to proceed with printing this book, Consolidated Printers of Berkeley, California, fabricated excuses for not proceeding…

According to Garby Leon

Paul Wilcher, like Danny Casolaro, was investigating possible government involvement in a variety of questionable activities, including the controversial October Surprise allegations and the INSLAW case ... By late May, Wilcher said his information had gone beyond Casolaro's and he felt this made him a danger signal. In three weeks, he was dead. ...

Present at the scene after Wilcher's death was noted White House correspondent Sarah McClendon, who knew Wilcher well and who had alerted authorities that he was missing. McClendon was unable to identify the body as Wilcher after viewing the remains. McClendon has been told that preliminary autopsy results have found "no natural cause of death, and no other cause of death to explain Wilcher's demise. Given that Wilcher, in his 40s, was in apparent good health, this seems fairly astonishing. ...

... According to Mr. MASON O. LIDELL JR. (637 Third St. NE, Apt. B-03, DC 20002) superintendent of Wilcher's building, a Lieutenant and a Sergeant from the D. C. Police (with the help of firemen to force the door) entered Wilcher's apartment at about 11:30 AM on June 23rd. Three detectives from DC Police entered and found Wilcher's computer was turned on. When they read what was on the computer screen, they summoned the FBI. There is no further information on what the screen actually said. ...

At about 4:30 in the afternoon FBI Agents arrived. Sarah McClendon was also present, though not allowed in the apartment itself. She says two groups of four FBI Agents - eight FBI Agents in all - arrived and asked questions. McClendon checked their identification, which seemed convincing. According to Lidell at least three FBI Agents entered the apartment during the 4:30 to 7:30 time period.

Then, according to Lidell, one man appeared and said he was CIA (without offering identification). He joined the FBI agents in the Wilcher apartment during the 4:30 to 7:30 time period. …

Ms. McClendon phoned the FBI to ask about the presence of FBI Agents; later MR. JAMES V. DESARNO JR., Assistant Special Agent in Charge from the D. C. Metropolitan Office, arrived. Mr. Desarno also asked questions, but strongly denied that the FBI was interested in or involved in the case. “We are not interested in this case,” he told McClendon, Lidell and others repeatedly.

… Two FBI Agents present at the scene were JAMES V. DESARNO, as remarked, and CRAIG OLSON, both of the D. C. Metropolitan Office: 1900 Half Street SW, Washington DC 20535. (202) 252-7801, both at same address and office.

The DC police officer in charge of investigating the Wilcher death is named BRIAN HENRY, (202) 727-4347.

Coroner for the government is a DR. KIM, who performed the autopsy, the results of which have not been released.

Building superintendent MASON LIDELL (202-543-2751) was questioned by Desarno and others, and has kindly provided information in this letter.

… One friend of Wilcher’s phoned apartment 302 in Wilcher’s building (across from his) and got a taped answer message on the telephone intercom. The message said (paraphrasing) “This is a government telephone line, no longer in service” or words to that effect. Phone records, occupancy etc. from this address should be investigated.

Letter to Jane Reno

Paul Wilcher made several allegations in a letter to Attorney General Janet Reno.

Cults

Pershing Park Killings

Wilcher alleged CIA responsibility for the deaths of six people in Pershing Park, District of Colombia, in 1988 and 1989. The dates of the incidents were given as:

- June 10th, 1988, at approximately 7:00 PM
- July 28th, 1988, at approximately 9:45 PM
- May 13th, 1989, at approximately 10:24 PM
- June 16th, 1989, at approximately 9:19 PM
- July 16th, 1989, at approximately 8:00 PM
- August 25th, 1989, at approximately 8:00 PM

Wilcher alleged similarities between the deaths:

- During each death, an “unmarked white TV camera van” was parked at the far end of Pershing Park and appeared to be filming the incident from start to finish.
- All of the dead were black men.
- Before each death, a black man wearing a sailor hat left the District of Columbia Administration Building, met with the person, gave the person a drink from a bottle, and returned to the building.

- Immediately after taking the drink, the person “immediately went berserk … in a very belligerent, violent, and predatory manner” and attacked the nearest white person.

- Five of these persons had attacked Michael Fuller, a martial artist who ran the nearby horse-drawn limousine service Wheels Across Washington, and Fuller had beat them all to death.

- The final man, John Wayne Tucker, attacked a different man who had the misfortune to be walking down the street at that moment, and was immediately interrupted by five squad cars of US Park Police. These US Park Police personnel were all black even though the Park Police in DC was primarily composed of white officers at the time.

These incidents were reported by Fuller and DC police officer Maria Weyraugh, a witness to the Tucker incident.

The District of Columbia subsequently passed a law that had the effect of banning only Fuller’s business. Fuller was prosecuted for cruelty to animals “by an Army Intelligence JAG brought in just to handle this one case!” When Fuller raised the issue of the prosecutor’s background, “most of the documents and evidence in the Court’s files suddenly disappeared.” After the charges were dismissed, Fuller was arrested in Virginia “on apparently trumped up charges” and was being held without bail at the time of writing in May 1993. According to US appeals court records, Nancy J. Halstead was a co-defendant in this case.

Weyraugh was placed on administrative leave for a year and a half and ordered to take psychiatric evaluations which were then cited to fire her on “psychological” grounds.

Waco

On FEBRUARY 28 1993, at 4:20 AM, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms attempted to execute a search warrant relating to alleged sexual abuse charges and illegal weapons violations.[21][22]

Regarding the Waco incident, Wilcher alleged that:

- Koresh and six others in his cult were CIA deep-cover operatives who had refused an order to activate against an unknown target.
- The initial engagement plan was designed to result in the deaths of US officers to justify a large-scale retaliation.
- Nerve gas, not tear gas, was used in the final assault.
- A CIA hit squad was dropped onto the roof by helicopter and killed Koresh and dozens of others with pistol shots to the head at close range.
- The CIA set the fire at the compound using timed white phosphorus incendiaries.

Koresh in 1987 Born Vernon Wayne Howell August 17, 1959 Houston, Texas, U.S.

David Koresh was born Vernon Wayne Howell on August 17, 1959, in Houston, Texas, to a 14-year-old single mother, Bonnie Sue Clark (September 8, 1944 - January 23, 2009)[9][10] and father Bobby Wayne Howell (1939 - 2008). Before Koresh was born, his father met another teenaged girl and abandoned Bonnie Sue. Koresh never met his father, and his mother began cohabitating with a violent alcoholic.[10] In 1963, Koresh's mother left with her boyfriend and placed her four-year-old son in the care of his maternal grandmother, Earline Clark. His mother returned when he was seven, after her marriage to a carpenter named Roy Haldeman. Bonnie Sue and Haldeman had a son together, named Roger, who was born in 1966.

KORESH DESCRIBED HIS EARLY CHILDHOOD AS LONELY.[10] DUE TO HIS POOR STUDY SKILLS AND DYSLEXIA, he was put in SPECIAL EDUCATION CLASSES and nicknamed "Vernie" by his fellow students.[11] Koresh dropped out of Garland High School in his junior year.

When he was 19 years old, Koresh had an illegal sexual relationship with a 15-year-old girl who became pregnant.[10] He claimed to have become a born-again Christian in the Southern Baptist Church and soon joined his mother's church, the Seventh-day Adventist Church. There, Koresh became infatuated with the pastor’s daughter, and while praying for guidance, he opened his eyes and allegedly found the Bible open at Isaiah 34:16, stating that “none should want for her mate”; convinced this was a sign from God, Koresh approached the pastor and told him that God wanted him to have his daughter for a wife. The pastor threw him out, and when he continued to persist with his pursuit of the daughter, he was expelled from the congregation.[10]

In 1981, Koresh moved to Waco, Texas, where he joined the Branch Davidians (not to be confused with the original Davidian Seventh-Day Adventist Church). Benjamin Roden, who died in 1978, originated the Branch group in 1955 with new teachings that were not connected with the original Davidians. Koresh played guitar and sang in church services at the Mount Carmel Center, the sect’s headquarters outside Waco.

The Chain of Command

Wilcher alleged the existence of a “top secret chain of command underlying all of the major covert and black operations which have been carried out by the CIA’s myriad wet teams over the past 30 years or so.” This “shadow government” would be led by “a top secret council of nine men whose names I do not know and would not recognize even if I stumbled across them,” who were capable of giving orders to the Director of Central Intelligence and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Wilcher claimed that this group was responsible for nearly every notable assassination and assassination attempt from JFK to John Lennon, for starting the Vietnam and Bosnian wars by destabilizing these societies, and for the deaths at Jonestown.

The October Surprise

Wilcher cited his client Gunther Karl Russbacher, “a life-long covert operative for the CIA and the Office of Naval Intelligence” as the pilot of the flight that flew George Bush and others to Paris for a meeting with Iran’s leaders during the 1980 election campaign.

Russbacher claimed to have flown Bush to France in a BAC-111 owned by the Saudi royal family. By Russbacher’s recollection, the aircraft left from Andrews Air Force Base near 7:00 EST on October 18, rendezvoused over the Atlantic with a Grumman Gulfstream flown by Heinrich Rupp, and landed at LeBourget Airport. Russbacher returned Bush to the United States in a SR-71 which landed at McGuire Air Force Base at 10:50 AM EST. After dropping Bush off at McGuire, Russbacher continued alone to Andrews.

According to Wikipedia, the BAC-111 lacks the range to fly across the Atlantic. Later models could reach 1,700 miles. The trip to France is nearly 4,000 miles.

Persons who Russbacher alleged to be on the flight to Paris included:

Wilcher alleged that the David Koresh cult in Waco was a front operation for a CIA team of sleeper-agent assassins, these being Koresh and six others, and that similar CIA-sponsored cults were run in five other locations:

- Salt Lake City, Utah
- Provo, Utah
- Logan, Utah
- Boise, Idaho
- San Francisco, California

Wilcher claimed that Koresh and earlier cult leaders Jim Jones and Charles Manson had received mind control training from the CIA.

When all at once a mighty herd
Of red eyed cows he saw
Plowin' through the ragged skies
And up the cloudy draw

Their brands were still on fire
And their hooves were made of steel
Their horns were black and shiny
And their hot breath he could feel

A bolt of fear went through him
As they thundered through the sky
For he saw the riders coming hard
And he heard their mournful cry

Yippie-yi-o
Yippie-yi-yay

Ghost riders in the sky
Their faces gaunt
Their eyes were blurred
Their shirts all soaked with sweat
He's riding hard to catch that herd
But he ain't caught 'em yet

'Cause they've got to ride forever

Radiology in Medicine

Museum and Archives History of the American Society of Radiologic Technologists retrieved from American Society of Radiologic Technologists (ASRT) and copied or modified to here

Museum and Archives

History of the American Society of Radiologic Technologists The American Society of Radiologic Technologists is the world's largest and oldest membership association for medical imaging technologists and radiation therapists. Founded in 1920, the ASRT now has more than 156,000 members. Its business office is located in Albuquerque, N.M.

Radiologic technologists are the medical personnel who perform diagnostic imaging examinations and who deliver radiation therapy treatments. They may specialize in a specific area of radiologic technology, such as computed tomography, mammography, magnetic resonance imaging or nuclear medicine.

The ASRT provides its members with educational opportunities, promotes radiologic technology as a career, and monitors state and federal legislation that affects the profession. It also is responsible for establishing standards of practice for the radiologic science profession and developing educational curricula.

The ASRT is governed by an elected eight-member Board of Directors and a House of Delegates. The ASRT also has affiliate relationships with 54 state or local societies for radiologic technologists. These affiliate societies operate independently of the national organization, but ASRT provides them with assistance and guidance upon request.

Early History

In the century since Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen's discovery of the x-ray in 1895, radiology has advanced from a scientific curiosity to a medical necessity. The transformation of radiology paralleled dramatic changes in the role of those responsible for operating the x-ray equipment itself.

Many of the first people to operate x-ray machines had no connection whatsoever to the medical profession. Within six months of Roentgen's discovery, charlatans began to devise commercial uses for the x-ray to exploit the public's interest in the new technology. Because radiography was considered a form of photography at the time, professional photographers were among the first to purchase and operate x-ray equipment. Studios conducting business in "Roentgen photography" sprang up in America and Europe to entertain a public curious to view their bones.1

Quickly, however, the x-ray was put to use for more serious purposes to diagnose and treat illness. As the technology gained popularity in the 1900s, most medical x-ray equipment was owned and operated by independent businessmen, including chemists, engineers and electricians. Physicians would send patients to these x-ray operators for diagnostic and therapeutic services.

By the 1910s, however, a number of physicians began to purchase their own x-ray machines to install in their medical offices. A few even began to specialize as radiologists. In the beginning, these physicians operated the x-ray equipment themselves. Advances in equipment and technique, however, quickly outpaced the physicians' ability to keep up and they gradually found more and more of their time was being eaten up by the mechanics of the x-ray machine, leaving less time for patient contact and treatment.

It didn't take long for these physicians to realize that to make the most effective use of their x-ray equipment, someone else had to handle the time-consuming tasks of performing x-ray examinations and developing films. The task most often fell to their office assistants. Across the country, physicians recruited their receptionists and secretaries to crank the handle of the static machine, pose as subjects and rock the developer pan. These assistants usually had no knowledge of human anatomy or illness; they merely operated the equipment.2 Hospitals, clinics and the physicians lucky enough to employ nurses quickly put them to work as x-ray technicians, for they at least had medical training.

These pioneer technicians had a heavy load to bear. The vast majority were women, and they were expected not only to operate the x-ray equipment, but also to perform routine machine maintenance.3 These first technicians also worked in a climate indifferent to radiation protection, and the death toll among them was high. It wasn't until nearly 20 years after Roentgen's discovery that precautions such as lead aprons and film badges came into widespread use.

Because instructional manuals were rare, the first technicians learned positioning and exposure techniques via the "hunch method."5 Despite this, many x-ray technicians were able to achieve what were then considered to be remarkable radiographic images. With no written rules, however, they found it difficult to explain their successes and could not formulate a technique that others could follow.

The plight of the undereducated, overworked x-ray technician was largely ignored until the 1920s, when the persistent work of one man Eddy C. Jerman finally brought education, organization and legitimacy to the x-ray technician.

In October 1920, Jerman and 13 technician acquaintances half of whom were women met in Chicago to establish the first national technician society, the American Association of Radiological Technicians. The society was created “for the purpose of affording technicians an opportunity for the interchange of thoughts and ideas concerned with radiologic technique.

The new society offered knowledge-hungry technologists the opportunity to meet and share technical advice. This process was formalized in 1929 with the debut of the society’s journal, The X-Ray Technician.

ASRT Seal

By 1932, when the association changed its name to the American Society of X-Ray Technicians, membership had reached nearly 400. Membership figures remained stable through the Depression, but surged following World War II when hundreds of military-trained radiographers returned home from the war to find jobs in civilian hospitals. The rapid increase in membership prompted the society to hire its first full-time staff person, Genevieve Eilert. In 1946, the ASXT established its offices in the basement of Mrs. Eilert’s home in Fond du Lac, Wis. ASXT membership climbed to 2,500 in 1948 and reached 4,000 in 1952.

In the early 1950s, the ASXT made its first foray into establishing formal educational standards for the profession. Until then, training programs varied greatly in length and in the subjects covered. The ASXT presented its first standardized curriculum in 1952. It described a one-year course in x-ray technology and recommended the number of hours that should be devoted to each subject, ranging from physics and anatomy to positioning and darkroom technique. The 1952 curriculum was the first of many that the society would publish over the years as it consistently pushed for uniform educational standards for radiologic technologists.

In 1964, the association changed its name from the American Society of X-Ray Technicians to the American Society of Radiologic Technologists. The change happened because more and more of the society's members were nuclear medicine technologists and radiation therapists, so the term "x-ray technician" no longer accurately reflected the membership. In addition, members believed the shift from "technician" to "technologist" placed a stronger emphasis on professionalism and education. The same year, the society also changed the name of its journal to Radiologic Technology.

The ASRT continued to grow, and by 1968 membership had reached 14,000. The organization's leaders realized it was time to move the burgeoning society from Fond du Lac, the ASRT's headquarters for more than two decades. They chose Chicago, home to nearly 100 other health care associations.

“One day soon, man is going to be able to harness incredible energies, maybe even the atom — energies that could ultimately hurl us to other worlds in — in some sort of spaceship. And the men that reach out into space will be able to find ways to feed the hungry millions of the world and the cure their diseases. They will be able to find a way give each other hope and a common future. And those are the days worth living for.” Edith Keeler

Edit Keeler is a fictional Missionary worker in 1930s USA who Jim Kirk, Spck, and McCoy encounter. A visionary peace activist and visionary in an age of wonder she foresees rocketry and space flight, the A-Bomb, fighting diseases, and more. In on future she will counsel

Radio communications: In 1928, WRGB, then W2XB, was started as the world’s first television station. It broadcast from the General Electric facility in Schenectady, NY. It was popularly known as “WGY Television”. Meanwhile, in the Soviet Union, Léon Theremin had been developing a mirror drum-based television, starting with 16 lines resolution in 1925, then 32 lines and eventually 64 using interlacing in 1926. As part of his thesis, on 7 May 1926, he electrically transmitted, and then projected, near-simultaneous moving images on a 5-square-foot (0.46 m2) screen.

Beginning in 1925, Roosevelt spent most of his time in the Southern United States, at first on his houseboat, the Larooco. Intrigued by the potential benefits of hydrotherapy, he established a rehabilitation center at Warm Springs, Georgia, in 1926. To create the rehabilitation center, he assembled a staff of physical therapists and used most of his inheritance to purchase the Merriweather Inn. In 1938, he founded the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, leading to the development of polio vaccines.

The first theoretical proposal of space travel using rockets was published by Scottish astronomer and mathematician William Leitch, in an 1861 essay “A Journey Through Space”.[1] More well-known (though not widely outside Russia) is Konstantin Tsiolkovsky’s work, “Исследование мировых пространств реактивными приборами” (The Exploration of Cosmic Space by Means of Reaction Devices), published in 1903.

Spaceflight became an engineering possibility with the work of Robert H. Goddard’s publication in 1919 of his paper A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes. His application of the de Laval nozzle to liquid fuel rockets improved efficiency enough for interplanetary travel to become possible. He also proved in the laboratory that rockets would work in the vacuum of space;[specify] nonetheless, his work was not taken seriously by the public. His attempt to secure an Army contract for a rocket-propelled weapon in the first World War was defeated by the November 11, 1918 armistice with Germany. Working with private financial support, he was the first to launch a liquid-fueled rocket in 1926. Goddard’s papers were highly influential internationally in his field.

The world’s first large-scale experimental rocket program was Opel RAK under the leadership of Fritz von Opel and Max Valier during the late 1920s leading to the first manned rocket cars and rocket planes,[2] [3] which paved the way for the Nazi era V2 program and US and Soviet activities from 1950 onwards.The Opel RAK program[4] and the spectacular public demonstrations of ground and air vehicles drew large crowds, as well as caused global public excitement as so-called “Rocket Rumble”[5] and had a large long-lasting impact on later spaceflight pioneers like e.g. Wernher von Braun.

Project MKUltra retrieved from military.wikia.org and copied or modified to here

Project MKUltra is the code name of an illegal U.S. government human research operation experimenting in the behavioral engineering of humans through the CIA's Scientific Intelligence Division. The program began in the early 1950s, was officially sanctioned in 1953, was reduced in scope in 1964, further curtailed in 1967 and officially halted in 1973.[1] The program engaged in many illegal activities; in particular it used unwitting U.S. and Canadian citizens as its test subjects, which led to controversy regarding its legitimacy. MKUltra involved the use of many methodologies to manipulate people's mental states and alter brain functions, including the surreptitious administration of drugs (especially LSD) and other chemicals, hypnosis, sensory deprivation, isolation, verbal and sexual abuse, as well as various forms of torture.

> It is the belief of this author Edward Paul Donegan the program included DNA testing of created twins, brothers or half brothers including Ed Donegan and Barrack Obama, Mark and Scott Kelley, Tom Cruise and many others. JFK's assassination was tied to objecting to this plan since the experimental output included moles to rule foreign countries on behalf of England. The center was Sidney Gottlieb, Donald Barr, and > William Barr along with Dulles and Souther Baptist church, perhaps Salvation Army and YMCA all of which were in the Special Relationship with England, Will Bild Donovan, the Vatican, and others of the Supreme Allied Forces. The Watergate break in was a Nixon Rockefeller attempt to conceal the JFK assassination tied to this.

[note that the therapy Linda Newkirk underwent was described by her as space out space aliens abducting her and torturing her as a test subect attaching electrodes and doing other science experiments tied to her medical maladies]

The scope of Project MKUltra was broad, with research undertaken at 80 institutions, including 44 colleges and universities, as well as hospitals, prisons and pharmaceutical companies. The CIA operated through these institutions using front organizations, although sometimes top officials at these institutions were aware of the CIA's involvement. As the Supreme Court later noted, MKULTRA was:

> concerned with "the research and development of chemical, biological, and radiological materials capable of employment in clandestine operations to control human behavior." The program consisted of some 149 subprojects which the Agency contracted out to various universities, research foundations, and similar institutions. At least 80 institutions > and 185 private researchers participated. Because the Agency funded MKULTRA indirectly, many of the participating individuals were unaware that they were dealing with the Agency.

Project MKUltra was first brought to public attention in 1975 by the Church Committee of the U.S. Congress, and a Gerald Ford commission to investigate CIA activities within the United States. Investigative efforts were hampered by the fact that CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MKUltra files destroyed in 1973; the Church Committee and Rockefeller Commission investigations relied on the sworn testimony of direct participants and on the relatively small number of documents that survived Helms' destruction order.

In 1977, a Freedom of Information Act request uncovered a cache of 20,000 documents relating to project MKUltra, which led to Senate hearings later that same year.[2] In July 2001 some surviving information regarding MKUltra was officially declassified.

Precursor experiments

A precursor of the MKUltra program began in 1945 when the Joint Intelligence Objectives Agency was established and given direct responsibility for Operation Paperclip. The program recruited former Nazi scientists, some of whom studied torture and brainwashing, and several who had been identified and prosecuted as war criminals during the Nuremberg Trials.

Several secret U.S. government projects grew out of Operation Paperclip. These projects included Project CHATTER (established 1947), and Project BLUEBIRD (established 1950), which was renamed Project ARTICHOKE in 1951. Their purpose was to study mind control, interrogation, behavior modification and related topics.

I have said this elsewhere in the book but I believe these programs research ADHD Dyslexia combo of Minimal Brain Dysfunction

Most MKUltra records were destroyed in 1973 by order of CIA director Richard Helms, so it has been difficult for investigators to gain a complete understanding of the more than 150 funded research subprojects sponsored by MKUltra and related CIA programs.

Minimal Brain Dysfunction is FOXP2

The project began during a period of what English journalist Rupert Cornwell described as “paranoia” at the CIA, when the U.S. had lost its nuclear monopoly and fear of communism was at its height. CIA counter-intelligence chief James Jesus Angleton believed that a mole had penetrated the organization at the highest levels.[32] The agency poured millions of dollars into studies examining ways to influence and control the mind and to enhance its ability to extract information from resistant subjects during interrogation.[33][34] Some historians assert that one goal of MKUltra and related CIA projects was to create a “Manchurian Candidate”-style subject. American historian Alfred W. McCoy has claimed that the CIA attempted to focus media attention on these sorts of “ridiculous” programs so that the public would not look at the research’s primary goal, which was effective methods of interrogation. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

The Revolution Betrayed: What Is the Soviet Union and Where is It Going?

The Revolution Betrayed was completed and sent to the publisher on 4 AUGUST 1936, immediately prior to the sensational public announcement of the first of three great public Moscow Trials generated by the secret police terror known to history as the “Great Purge” (Yezhovshchina).[9] When Trotsky became aware of the trial, which would ultimately end in the execution of Grigory Zinoviev, Lev Kamenev, and other prominent Soviet political figures, a short postscript was tagged on to his introduction in which Trotsky claimed that his current book constituted “advance exposure” of the Stalin regime’s effort at “deliberate mystification”.[9]

Music as a Mirror of History

Music as a Mirror of History The Great Courses

A Life for the Tsar 1836 Episode 9

Robert Greenberg, Ph.D. Professor, San Francisco Performances correctly understands music much like commissioned Sonets or the roof of the Sisteen Chapel can be pageantry or messaging for the State, the Church, or for the powerful and in Episode 9 of his Great Courses series on music and history he explains the Tsars were a from form of imperial emperors of a governing stature beyond even a typical royal and upon the fall of the Tsars and the “Period of Trouble” that followed Russian history until the rise of the Romanaffs how former views of the Tsars and later views of Stalin were created. Although after the fall of the Tsars their pageantry music commissioned for them went into disuses use Stalin had it recreated to celebrate himself in 1939.

It was also in 1936, the same year Spencer Jr. was made a Knight of the Order of the Crown of Italy by Benito Mussolini Il Duce, Ruling Sovereign.

In 1925, when the course toward the kulak was in full swing, Stalin began to prepare for the denationalization of the land. To a question asked at his suggestion by a Soviet journalist: “Would it not be expedient in the interest of agriculture to deed over to each peasant for 10 years the parcel of land tilled by him?”, Stalin answered: “Yes, and ever for 40 years.” The People’s Commissar of Agriculture of Georgia, upon Stalin’s own initiative, introduced the draft of a law denationalizing the land. The aim was to give the farmer confidence in his own future. While this was going on, in the spring of 1926, almost 60 per cent of the grain destined for sale was in the hands of 6 per cent of the peasant proprietors! The state lacked grain not only for foreign trade, but even for domestic needs. The insignificance of exports made it necessary to forego bringing in articles of manufacture, and cut down to the limit the import of machinery and raw materials.

Retarding industrialization and striking a blow at the general mass of the peasants, this policy of banking on the well-to-do farmer revealed unequivocally inside of two years, 1924-26, its political consequences. It brought about an extraordinary increase of self-consciousness in the petty bourgeoisie of both city and village, a capture by them of many of the lower Soviets, an increase of the power and self-confidence of the bureaucracy, a growing pressure upon the workers, and the complete suppression of party and Soviet democracy. The growth of the kulaks alarmed two eminent members of the ruling group, Zinoviev and Kamenev, who were, significantly, presidents of the Soviets of the two chief proletarian centers, Leningrad and Moscow. But the provinces, and still more the bureaucracy, stood firm for Stalin. The course toward the well-to-do farmer won out. In 1926, Zinoviev and Kamenev with their adherents joined the Opposition of 1923 (the “Trotskyists”).

Of course “in principle” the ruling group did not even then renounce the collectivization of agriculture. They merely put it off a few decades in their perspective. The future People’s Commissar of Agriculture, Yakovlev, wrote in 1927 that, although the socialist reconstruction of the village can be accomplished only through collectivization, still “this obviously cannot be done in one, two or three years, and maybe not in one decade”. “The collective farms and communes,” he continued, “… are now, and will for a long time undoubtedly remain, only small islands in a sea of individual peasant holdings.”

And in truth at that period only 8 per cent of the peasant families belonged to the collectives. The struggle in the party about the so-called “general line”, which had come to the surface in 1923, became especially intense and passionate in 1926. In its extended platform, which took up all the problems of industry and economy, the Left Opposition wrote:

> “The party ought to resist and crush all tendencies directed to the annulment or undermining of the nationalization of land, one of the pillars of the proletarian dictatorship.”

On that question, the Opposition gained the day; direct attempts against nationalization were abandoned. but the problem, of course, involved more than forms of property in land.

> “To the growth of individual farming [fermerstvo] in the country we must oppose a swifter growth of the collective farms. It is necessary systematically year by year to set aside a considerable sum to aid the poor peasants organized in collectives. The whole work of the co-operatives ought to be imbued with the purpose of converting small production into a vast collectivized production.”

But this broad program of collectivization was stubbornly regarded as utopian for the coming years. During the preparations for the 15th Party Congress, whose task was to expel the Left Opposition, Molotov, the future president of the Soviet of People’s Commissars, said repeatedly:

> “We not slip down (!) into poor peasants illusions about the collectivization of the broad peasant masses. In the present circumstances it is no longer possible.

It was then, according to the calendar, the end of 1927. So far was the ruling group at that time from its own future policy toward the peasants!

Those same years (1923-28) were passed in a struggle of the ruling coalition, Stalin, Molotov, Rykov, Tomsky, Bukharin (Zinoviev and Kamenev went over to the Opposition in the beginning of 1926), against the advocates of “super-industrialization” and planned leadership. The future historian will re-establish with no small surprise the moods of spiteful disbelief in bold economic initiative with which the government of the socialist state was wholly imbued. An acceleration of the tempo of industrialization took place empirically, under impulses from without, with a crude smashing of all calculations and an extraordinary increase of overhead expenses. The demand for a five-year plan, when advanced by the Opposition in 1923, was met with mockery in the spirit of the petty bourgeois who fears “a leap into the unknown”. As late as April 1927, Stalin asserted at a plenary meeting of the Central Committee that to attempt to build the Dnieperstroy hydro-electric station would be the same thing for us as for a muzhik to buy a gramophone instead of a cow. This winged aphorism summed up the whole program. It is worth nothing that during those years the bourgeois press of the whole world, and the social-democratic press after it, repeated with sympathy the official attribution to the “Left Opposition” of industrial romanticism.

Amid the noise of party discussions the peasants were replying to the lack of industrial goods with a more and more stubborn strike. They would not take their grain to market, nor increase their sowings, The right wing (Rykov, Tomsky, Bukharin), who were setting the tone at that period, demanded a broader scope for capitalist tendencies in the village through a raising of the price of grain, even at the cost of a lowered tempo in industry. The sole possible way out under such a policy would have been to import articles of manufacture in exchange for exported agricultural raw materials. But this would have meant to form a “connection” not between peasant economy and the socialist industries, but between the kulak and world capitalism. It was not worth while to make the October revolution for that.

“To accelerate industrialization,” answered the representatives of the Opposition at the party conference of 1926, “in particular by way of increased taxation on the kulak, will produce a large mass of goods and lower market prices, and this will be to the advantage both of the worker and of the majority of the peasants… Face to the village does not mean turn your back to industry; it means industry to the village. For the ‘face’ of the state, if it does not include industry, is of no use to the village.”

In answer Stalin thundered against the “fantastic plans” of the Opposition. Industry must not “rush ahead, breaking away from agriculture and abandoning the tempo of accumulation in our country.” The party decisions continued to repeat these maxims of passive accommodation to the well-off upper circles of the peasantry. The 15th Party Congress, meeting in December 1927 for the final smashing of the “super-industrializers”, gave warning of the “danger of a too great involvement of state capital in big construction”. The ruling faction at that time still refused to see any other dangers.

In the economic year 1927-28, the so-called restoration period in which industry worked chiefly with machinery, and agriculture with the old tools, was coming to an end. For any further advance independent industrial construction on a large scale was necessary. It was impossible to lead any further gropingly and without plan.

The hypothetic possibilities of socialist industrialization had been analyzed by the Opposition as early as 1923-25. their general conclusion was that, after exhausting the equipment inherited from the bourgeoisie, the Soviet industries might, on the basis of socialist accumulation, achieve a rhythm of growth wholly impossible under capitalism. The leaders of the ruling faction openly ridiculed our cautious coefficients in the vicinity of 15 to 18 per cent as the fantastic music of an unknown future. This constituted at that time the essence of the struggle against “Trotskyism”.

The first official draft of the five-year-plan, prepared at last in 1927, was completely saturated with the spirit of stingy tinkering. The growth of industrial production was projected with a tempo declining yearly from 9 to 4 per cent. Consumption per person was to increase during the whole five years 12 per cent! The incredible timidity of thought in this first plan comes out clearly in the fact that the state budget at the end of the five years was to constitute in all 16 per cent of the national income, whereas the budget of tzarist Russia, which had no intention of creating a socialist society, swallowed 18 per cent! It is perhaps worth adding that the engineers and economists who drew up this plan were some years later severely judged and punished by law as conscious sabotagers acting under the direction of foreign powers. The accused might have answered, had they dared, that their planning work corresponded perfectly to the “general line” of the Politburo at that time and was carried out under its orders. The struggle of the tendencies was now translated into arithmetical language. “To prevent on the 10th anniversary of the October revolution such a piddling and completely pessimistic plan,” said the platform of the Opposition, “means in reality to work against socialism.” A year later, the Politburo adopted a new five-year plan with an average yearly increase of production amounting to 9 per cent. The actual course of the development, however, revealed a stubborn tendency to approach the coefficients of the “super-industrializers”. After another year, when the governmental policy had radically changed, the State Planning Commission drew up a third five-year- plan, whose rate of growth came far nearer than could have been expected to the hypothetical prognosis made by the Opposition in 1923.

The real history of the economic policy of the Soviet Union, as we thus see, is very different from the official legend. Unfortunately, such pious investigators as the Webbs pay not the slightest attention to this.

Leon Trotsky The Revolution Betrayed What is the Soviet Union and Where is it Going? (1936) continued …

The League of Nations in the aftermath of The Great War

The Italian proletariat is in the chains of fascism; the Chinese revolution is shattered, and Japan is playing the boss in China; the German proletariat is so

The concept of a peaceful community of nations had been proposed as early as 1795, when Immanuel Kant's Perpetual Peace: A Philosophical Sketch[9] outlined the idea of a league of nations to control conflict and promote peace between states.[10] Kant argued for the establishment of a peaceful world community, not in a sense of a global government, but in the hope that each state would declare itself a free state that respects its citizens and welcomes foreign visitors as fellow rational beings, thus promoting peaceful society worldwide.[11] International co-operation to promote collective security originated in the Concert of Europe that developed after the Napoleonic Wars in the 19th century in an attempt to maintain the status quo between European states and so avoid war.

The organisation's primary goals, as stated in its Covenant, included crushed that Hitler's plebiscite encounters no resistance whatever; the proletariat of Austria is bound hand and foot; the revolutionary parties of the Balkans are trampled in the earth; in France, in Spain, the workers are marching at the tail of the radical bourgeoisie. In spite of all this, the Soviet government from the time of its entrance into the League of Nation has had "more friends in the world than ever before"! This boast, so fantastic at first glance, has a very real meaning when preventing wars through collective security and disarmament and settling international disputes through negotiation and arbitration.[2] Its other concerns included labour conditions, just treatment of native inhabitants, human and drug trafficking, the arms trade, global health, prisoners of war, and protection of minorities in Europe.[3] The Covenant of the League of Nations was signed on 28 June 1919 as Part I of the Treaty of Versailles, and it became effective together with the rest of the Treaty on 10 January 1920. The first meeting of the Council of the League took place on 16 January 1920, and the first meeting of Assembly of the League took place on 15 November 1920. In 1919 U.S. president Woodrow Wilson won the Nobel Peace Prize for his role as the leading architect of the League.

The diplomatic philosophy behind the League represented a fundamental shift from the preceding hundred years. The League lacked its own armed force and depended on the victorious First World War Allies (Britain, France, Italy and Japan were the permanent members of the Executive Council) to enforce its resolutions, keep to its economic sanctions, or provide an army when needed.

you apply it not to the workers' state, but to its ruling group. Was it not indeed the cruel defeats of the world proletariat which permitted the Soviet bureaucracy to usurp the power at home and earn a more or less favorable "public opinion" in the capitalist countries? The less the Communist International is capable of threatening the positions of capital, the more political credit is given to the Kremlin government in the eyes of French, Czechoslovak, and other bourgeoisies. Thus the strength of the bureaucracy, both domestic and international, is in inverse proportion to the strength of the Soviet Union as a socialist state and a fighting base of the proletarian revolution. However, that is only one side of the medal. There is another.

Lloyd George, in whose jumps and sensations there is often a glimmer of shrewd penetration, warned the House of Commons in November 1934 against condemning fascist Germany, which, according to his words, was destined to be the most reliable bulwark against communism in Europe. “We shall yet greet her as our friend.” Most significant words! The half-patronizing, half-ironical praise addressed by the world bourgeoisie to the Kremlin is not of itself in the slightest degree a guarantee of peace, or even a simple mitigation of the war danger. The evolution of the Soviet bureaucracy is of interest to the world bourgeoisie in the last analysis from the point of view of possible changes in the forms of property. Napoleon I, after radically abandoning the traditions of Jacobinism, donning the crown, and restoring the Catholic cult, remained nevertheless an object of hatred to the whole of ruling semi-feudal Europe, because he continued to defend the new property system created by the revolution. Until the monopoly of foreign trade is broken and the rights of capital restored, the Soviet Union, in spite of all the services of its ruling stratum, remains in the eyes of the bourgeoisie of the whole world an irreconcilable enemy, and German National Socialism a friend, if not today, at least of tomorrow. Even during the negotiations of Barthou and Laval with Moscow, the big French bourgeoisie, in spite of the critical danger from the side of Hitler, and the sharp turn of the French Communist Party to patriotism, stubbornly refused to stake its game on the Soviet card. When he signed the treaty with the Soviet Union, Laval was accused from the Left of frightening Berlin with Moscow, while seeking in reality a rapprochement with Berlin and Rome against Moscow. This judgment was perhaps a little premature, but by no means in conflict with the natural development of events.

However one may judge the advantages of disadvantages of the Franco-Soviet pact, still, no serious revolutionary statesman would deny the right of the Soviet state to seek supplementary supports for its inviolability in temporary agreements with this or that imperialism. It is only necessary clearly and openly to show the masses the place of these partial and tactical agreements in the general system of historic forces. In order to make use particularly of the antagonism between France and Germany, there is not the slightest need of idealizing the bourgeois ally, or that combination of imperialists which temporarily hides behind the screen of the League of Nations. Not only Soviet diplomacy, however, but in its steps the Communist International systematically paints up the episodical allies of Moscow as “friends of peace”, deceives the workers with slogans like “collective security” and “disarmament”, and thus becomes in reality a political agent of the imperialists among the working classes.

The notorious interview given by Stalin to the president of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, Roy Howard, on March 1, 1936, is a precious document for the characterization of bureaucratic blindness upon the great questions of world politics, and of that false relation which has been established between the leaders of the Soviet Union and the world workers’ movement. To the question, Is war inevitable?, Stalin answers:

> “I think that the position of the friends of peace is growing stronger; the friends of peace can work openly, they rely upon the strength of public opinion, they have at their disposal such > instruments, for instance, as the League of Nations.”

In these words, there is not a glimmer of realism. The bourgeois states do not divide themselves into “friends” and “enemies” of peace - especially since “peace” as such does not exist. Each imperialist country is interested in preserving its peace, and the more sharply interested, the more unbearable this peace may be for its enemies. The formula common to Stalin, Baldwin, Leon Blum, and others, “peace would be really guaranteed if all states united in the League for its defense”, means merely that peace would be guaranteed if there existed no causes for its violation.

The Tehran Conference, 1943 The Tehran Conference was a meeting between U.S. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin in Tehran, Iran, between November 28 and December 1, 1943.

Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill at the Tehran Conference

During the Conference, the three leaders coordinated their military strategy against Germany and Japan and made a number of important decisions concerning the post World War II era. The most notable achievements of the Conference focused on the next phases of the war against the Axis powers in Europe and Asia. Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin engaged in discussions concerning the terms under which the British and Americans finally committed to launching Operation Overlord, an invasion of northern France, to be executed by May of 1944. The Soviets, who had long been pushing the Allies to open a second front, agreed to launch another major offensive on the Eastern Front that would divert German troops away from the Allied campaign in northern France. Stalin also agreed in principle that the Soviet Union would declare war against Japan following an Allied victory over Germany. In exchange for a Soviet declaration of war against Japan, Roosevelt conceded to Stalin’s demands for the Kurile Islands and the southern half of Sakhalin, and access to the ice-free ports of Dairen (Dalian) and Port Arthur (Lüshun Port) located on the Liaodong Peninsula in northern China. The exact details concerning this deal were not finalized, however, until the Yalta Conference of 1945.

This is part of our series about CIA employees who have made the ultimate sacrifice. Here we will look at the lives of the men and women who have died while serving their country. *

Leslianne Shedd-a young, courageous, highly successful CIA operations officer serving in East Africa-was a passenger on an Ethiopian Airlines flight when it was hijacked and then crashed into the Indian Ocean on NOVEMBER 23, 1996, killing 125 people, including Leslianne. Survivors said that Leslianne spent her final moments comforting those around her.

Early Years:

Born in Binghamton, New York, Leslianne (known to friends and family affectionately as “Lesli”) moved with her family to the state of Washington when she was two years old. She graduated with honors from Puyallup High School in 1986; graduating in the top 3 percent of her class.

She took on an active leadership role in school, and was a member of both the Spanish and German clubs [Think Spanish and King Edward VIII]. She also participated in her high school’s American Field Service program for students interested in working with students from foreign countries.

Her high school principal recalled that Lesli was known as being “outgoing and vivacious,” and her English teacher remembered her as a warm, caring, and kind person. “She was perky and just a little ray of light,” she said.

Lesli went on to earn a bachelor’s degree from the Jackson School of International Studies at the University of Washington in 1990. She spent the spring 1988 semester studying in Cologne, Germany.

At the University of Washington,[so close to the home of Thomas C. wales in Queen Annes neigborhood] Leslianne was a member of the Chi Omega Sorority. She played intramural soccer and was also a runner. She enjoyed dance - jazz and ballet. She also worked as a nurse's aide, a secretary at Weyerhaeuser Company, and a law office clerk and paralegal researcher.

Life at CIA:

Leslianne began working at the CIA in February 1991. She received extensive training in operations and completed the Career Training Program in 1992. Her training included an interim assignment in the Directorate of Operations (DO) Africa Division, where she was responsible for operational support to several stations abroad.

Her first assignment was at Headquarters in the DO's Africa Division, where she served as the desk officer helping to prepare outgoing correspondence to the field, among many other tasks. By the spring of 1993, she had also completed six months of French language training in preparation for an assignment overseas.

In July 1993, Lesli began a two-year tour as a junior operations officer in West Africa. As a first-tour officer, she impressed her colleagues and managers with her imaginative developmental work, including risky but successful recruitment efforts aimed at targets with access to terrorist groups. All of this added up to a highly successful first tour.

Her Final Mission:

Leslianne's second overseas tour began in summer 1995 at one of the DO's most active stations in East Africa. Lesli arrived at an extremely dangerous time: there were increased threats against US personnel in the region, and a terrorist group had recently staged an attack against Egyptian President Hosni MuBarack while he was visiting Ethiopia.

Tensions were high in the region, which meant that she and her co-workers had to operate with a heightened sense of personal and operational security. They also faced serious threats from internal opposition groups.

Leslianne, however, appeared undaunted by all this.

Lesli was very successful in her mission, which included developing and recruiting agents, some of whom provided critical information on individual terrorist movements. She performed her time-consuming duties with distinction.

Her bosses and co-workers constantly highlighted her fun-loving spirit, and brilliant use of precise, pointed language in her reports and correspondence back to headquarters. The Chief of Africa Division praised Lesli's courageous efforts against terrorist targets in Africa.

The Ill-Fated Flight:

Leslianne Shedd was killed on November 23, 1996. She was a passenger on a hijacked Ethiopian Airlines plane that crashed in the Indian Ocean near the Comoro Islands.

Flight 961 was about to take off from Addis Ababa when several apparently intoxicated Ethiopians boarded the plane and demanded that it be flown to Australia. The hijackers ignored the pilot's repeated claim that the plane needed to refuel.

Several hours later, during an emergency-landing attempt at Moroni, the capital of the Comoro Islands, the plane ran out of fuel and crashed into the ocean near a beach resort.

That ill-fated flight was the first leg of what was to have been a Thanksgiving holiday in East Africa for Lesli and several friends. About an hour into the flight, a hijacking was announced. Lesli and her companions were seated in the economy class section toward the rear of the aircraft; the terrorists tended to concentrate near the cockpit. As a result, the group got no more than a brief glimpse of the hijackers.

No panic occurred; everyone remained calm.

About three hours later the pilot announced that he was about to attempt a crash landing in the Indian Ocean and that passengers should put on their life preservers. The plane headed toward the water at 150 mph.

Leslianne did not panic. From her window seat, she assisted her friends sitting beside her. She then spotted an elderly Ethiopian woman fumbling with her life jacket. Lesli unbuckled her own seatbelt, stood up, and helped the woman. She then sat down and tried to calm her seatmate and best friend in Africa.

Just before the plane hit the water, Lesli turned to her friend and said, “it’s going to be okay, it’s going to be okay. We’re in the safest part of the plane. The best part of the plane. It’ll be okay.”

Her friend, who survived the crash, could only remember being under what she estimated as some 20 feet of water. The next thing she recalled was being on the surface, with no sign of Leslianne.

Leslianne Shedd was survived by her mother, father, sister, and brother. She was 28 years old.

Honoring Her Memory:

Leslianne received a star on the CIA Memorial Wall in 1996 and was posthumously awarded the Agency’s Exceptional Service medallion. Her name was unveiled in the Book of Honor in 2012.

During the 2012 Annual Memorial Ceremony, standing before the Memorial Wall in the lobby of CIA headquarters, Director David Petraeus talked of the sacrifice and service of Lesli and her colleagues:

“The souls represented by the stars on the wall behind me all heard the same call to duty and answered it without hesitation,” he said. “Never for acclaim, always for country.”

He continued: “They devoted their hearts and minds to a mission unlike any other, at an agency unlike any other, serving on the world’s most dangerous frontiers to defend our people, defeat our adversaries, and advance our freedoms. Their words and deeds will inspire us forever, and their service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.”

Lesli’s spirit of adventure and compassion toward those in need lives on in a scholarship for students studying international affairs or public health. Just prior to her death, Lesli had applied to a physician’s assistant program: She wanted to make a difference by providing health care to underserved communities in Africa. Her family started the Leslianne Shedd Memorial Fund at the University of Washington in her honor.

LESLIANNE SHEDD, 1968-1996 [*]

Leslianne Shedd, who fulfilled a lifelong ambition to work in foreign service by joining the U.S. State Department right after graduating from the Jackson School of International Studies, died Nov. 24, 1996, in the crash of a hijacked Ethiopian Airlines jet, which fell into the Indian Ocean off the Comoros Islands.

Shedd, 28, was working for the State Department’s foreign service corps at the U.S. Embassy at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, at the time of her death. She was among 123 people who died in the crash, which occurred when the drunken hijackers flew the plane until it ran out of fuel. The plane crashed in the small island chain between Madagascar and east Africa.

Shedd was a commercial officer, charged with helping U.S. companies do business in the region. She was traveling to Nairobi, Kenya, to meet friends for Thanksgiving when the hijacking occurred.

“From the time she was a teen-ager, she had hoped and looked forward to a career in foreign service,” said Frank Mendizabal, a spokesman at the Weyerhauser Co., where Shedd’s father is vice president of the real estate division.

Shedd was born in Binghamton, N.Y., and moved to Washington with her family when she was 2. She graduated from Puyallup High School in 1986 in the top 3 percent of her class and was active in the school’s American Field Service program for students interested in working with students from foreign countries.

“She was outgoing and vivacious,” said Dale Mitchell, her high school principal.

After graduating from the UW in 1990, Shedd spent two years in Washington, D.C., before being transferred overseas. Her first assignment was in Abidjan, the capital of Ivory Coast, in west Africa, where she spent two years. She later volunteered for the position in Addis Ababa and spent 16 months there before her death.

In her honor, her parents, Robert and Ruth, are establishing a memorial scholarship fund for students at the Jackson School in her name.

“I personally think it is one of the most appropriate ways to honor an individual person, especially a student: to help other students,” says Jere Bacharach, the Jackson School director. “I’m sorry that we must honor such a young person. It’s very generous of the Shedds to think this way about future students.”

Memorials can be made to the University of Washington Foundation in care of Tracey Hinkle, Box 353765, Seattle, WA 98195-3765.—Jon Marmor

AUGUST 5, 2020 YOUNG LEADERS CONTINUE PEACEBUILDING 75 YEARS AFTER THE ATOMIC BOMBINGS

On the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan, President Obama released a message honoring the victims and survivors of the bombings. Obama Foundation Chief International Officer Bernadette Meehan also shared the message below. Read their reflections, then learn more about our work supporting leaders across the Asia-Pacific region here.

Seventy-five years ago, on August 6 and August 9 respectively, mushroom clouds blackened the skies of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and hundreds of thousands of lives were lost. Rebuilding the two cities while processing the pain and trauma the atomic bombs left in their wake became a lifelong task for generations to come. But from the ashes of destruction emerged a narrative of hope and peace-a reminder of our belief in common humanity.

BARACK OBAMA

August 6, 2020

On the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the atomic bombings, I want to extend my warm greetings to the people of Hiroshima and Nagasaki as you mark this solemn anniversary.

One of the great honors of my presidency was visiting Hiroshima in 2016. You have to stand in that place, where the bomb fell, to fully appreciate both the scale of destruction that took place and the miracle of Hiroshima's renewal. I will always carry with me the memory of folding my orizuru and visiting the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum and Park.

Above all, I will remember greeting the hibakusha, who carry with them the memories of that day. As always, they call on us to never give up in our pursuit of peace and a world where the miracles of science are harnessed to build, not destroy. I am proud that the U.S.-Japan alliance represents that spirit, and will always do my part to help it grow stronger.

I know that this is a particularly poignant anniversary, as there are few hibakusha with us. But I am heartened by the belief that their memory and example will never fade. As I said in my speech in Hiroshima: "Someday, the voices of the hibakusha will no longer be with us to bear witness. But the memory of the morning of August 6, 1945, must never fade. That memory allows us to fight complacency. It fuels our moral imagination. It allows us to change."

FEBRUARY 27 , 2014 - MY BROTHER'S KEEPER LAUNCH

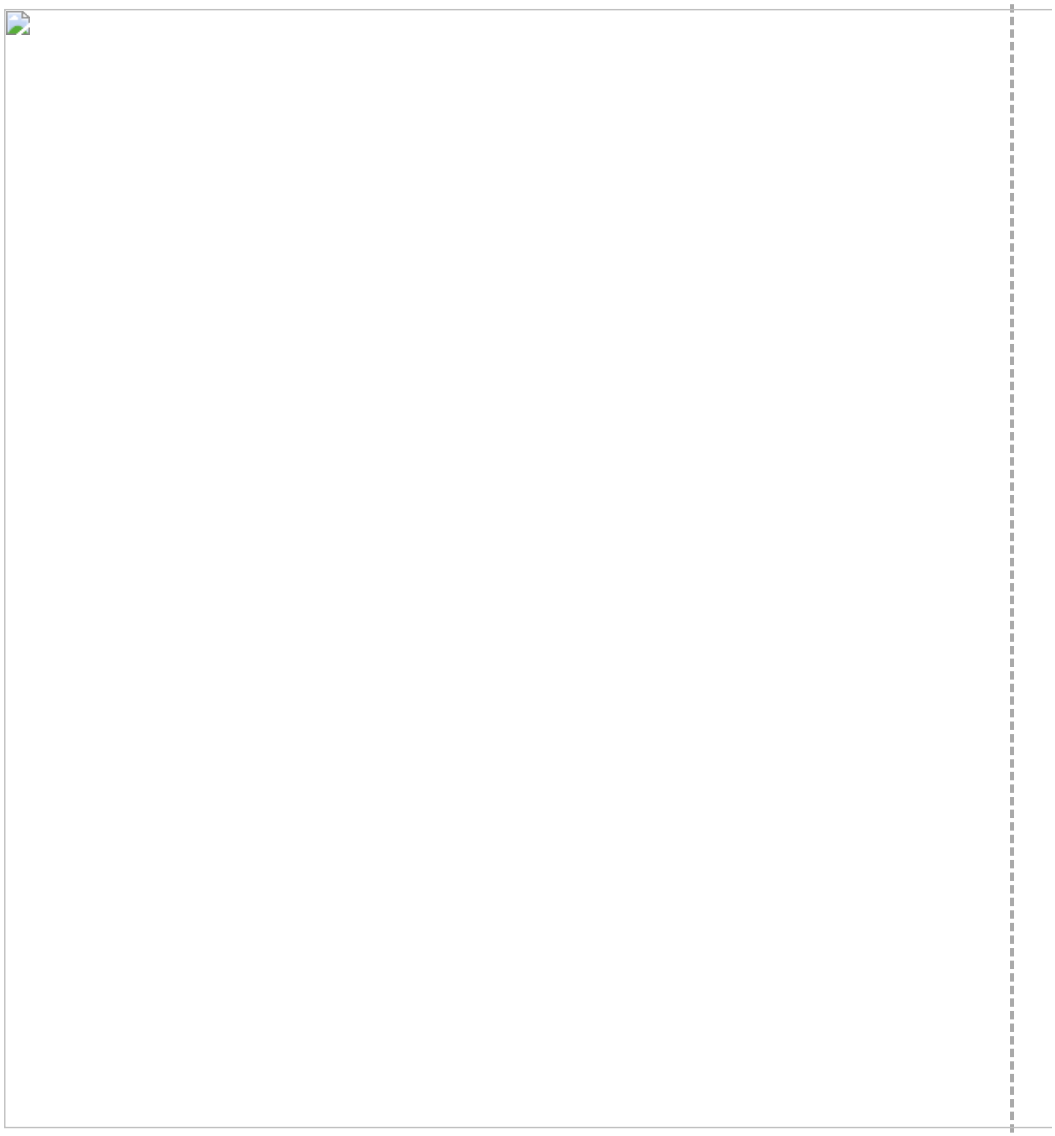
The program gives grants to those in the legal system who have criminal backgounds in program designed to team them with Law Enforcement and Neigbborhood watch to switch their allegiance and lives towards civil conduct rather than crime and be forces of that in the neigborhoods they are community organizers in.



PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA, 44TH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

“We started My Brother’s Keeper so that every boy or young man of color in America would know that their dreams mattered as much as any other child. And when I reflect on that day six years ago I can still feel the energy, hope, and possibility I felt then. Since that day, our movement has grown into an Alliance that has brought together hundreds of communities with thousands of Americans, all committed to helping young people across this country achieve their dreams.”

VALERIE JARRETT, SENIOR ADVISOR TO PRESIDENT OBAMA

"When President Obama said, "If I had a son, he'd look like Trayvon Martin," he hoped his words would lead to a more empathetic understanding of the danger facing a son who looked like him. President Obama challenged us all to address the unique challenges of our boys and young men of color. That led to the creation of My Brother's Keeper six years ago, which has played such an important role in calling the nation to action to expand opportunity and reduce barriers for our youth in greatest need."

[What if someone like Edward Paul Donegan was a brother to the President and appeared to be just like Trayvon Martin? Or like Geroge Zimmerman Jr. son of military veteran Goerge Zimmerman Sr. but Ed Donegan like George Zimmerman is always getting involved in conflict engagements with assailants who come from ghetto ranks? Gangbangers 'Banging may have targeted George Zimmerman JR. and myself to create a disparaging image of our views on race, which though recognize assaultive situations does not in any way create them]

Boxer Rebellion From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia excerptions from Wikipedia

The Boxer Rebellion, Boxer Uprising or Yihetuan Movement led by martial arts fighting Chinese Nationalists, was an armed insurrection against the Dynasty in China between 1899 and 1901, initiated against the increasing foreign intervention[8] including Christian missionary work in the country,

In June 1900, Boxer fighters, allegedly convinced they were invulnerable to foreign weapons, converged on Beijing to fight with traditional means, with the slogan "Support the Qing government and exterminate the foreigners." Foreigners and Chinese Christians sought refuge in Beijing's Legation Quarter.

The ruling Manchu court was ambivalent about the movement, however the initially hesitant Empress Dowager Cixi supported the Boxers and on 21 June issued an Imperial Decree declaring war on the foreign powers. Diplomats, foreign civilians, and soldiers as well as Chinese Christians in the Legation Quarter were besieged for 55 days by the Imperial Army of China and the Boxers. Chinese officialdom was split between those supporting the Boxers and those favoring conciliation, led by Prince Qing. The supreme commander of the Chinese forces, the Manchu General Ronglu (Junglu), later claimed he acted to protect the foreigners. Officials in the southern provinces ignored the imperial order to fight against foreigners.

In response, an Eight Nation Alliance of American, Austro-Hungarian, British, French, German, Italian, Japanese, and Russian troops was organized to lift the siege. The Eight-Nation Alliance, after being initially turned back by the Boxer militia (and allied Imperial Chinese military elements) brought 20,000 armed troops to China, defeated the Imperial Army in Tianjin, and arrived in Beijing on 14 August, relieving the siege of the Legations. Uncontrolled plunder of the capital and the surrounding countryside ensued, along with summary execution of those suspected of being Boxers. The Boxer Protocol of 7 September 1901 provided for the execution of government officials who had supported the Boxers, provisions for foreign troops to be stationed in Beijing, and 450 million taels of silver - approximately $10 billion at 2018 silver prices and more than the government’s annual tax revenue - to be paid as indemnity to foreigh nations over the course of the next 39 years to the eight nations involved.

Over 30 years after the murder of Kevin Ives and Don Henry, a former professional wrestler has come forward and claimed he witnessed their deaths.

Over 30 years after the murder of Kevin Ives and Don Henry, a former professional wrestler has come forward and claimed he witnessed their deaths.

William Albert Haynes III (born JULY 10, 1953) is a retired American professional wrestler better known as Billy Jack Haynes.

In a video posted on January 23, Billy Jack Haynes, a well-known wrestler in the 1980s, said he witnessed the murders of Ives and Henry on August 23, 1987 in Alexander.

The two teens were hit by a train, which dismembered their bodies. A rifle was found nearby and a state medical examiner at the time ruled their deaths as a suicide. But the boys' parents have questioned the suicide ruling and the narrative surrounding the case. A second autopsy revealed that Henry had a stab wound and Ives was struck in the head "with the butt of his own gun."

"I come with no mask, I come with no hidden voice," said Haynes in the video. "I come to you straight face-to-face because this is reality, man.”

Haynes said he was compelled to come forward after the shooting death of Seth Rich, who was an employee of the Democratic National Committee. Several conspiracy theorists online have tried to connect Rich’s death as well as “The Boys on the Track” to the widely debunked “Clinton Body Count” conspiracy theory.

The former wrestler explained that he used to be a drug trafficker and a hired enforcer during the 80s and was introduced to a “politician drug dealer from Arkansas.”

Haynes then alleges that this unnamed politician asked him to kill David Kennedy, the son of Robert F. Kennedy, in 1984.

“In August of 1987, I was contacted by the Arkansas criminal politician and was asked if I would provide muscle at an Arkansas drug stop,” said Haynes while reading from a paper. “The criminal politician suspected that some drug money drops were being stolen.”

While “conducting security” during the alleged drug purchase, Haynes claimed he witnessed the murders of Henry and Ives. Haynes also claimed that the politician believed police officers were involved in the theft of the drug money.

Haynes said that the teens were murdered by people “working for the same criminal politician.”

He then said he met Linda Ives in 2016 and gave names of everyone involved to her private investigator.

Chris Benoit retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Daniel Christopher Benoit (FEBRUARY 25, 2000 - June 23, 2007) was Chris' third child and second son, having older paternal half-siblings named David and Megan via Chris' first wife, Martina, who were all living in Canada at the time the murder-suicide took place. He was Nancy's only child, as she had no children with her ex-husbands Jim Daus or Kevin Sullivan.[citation needed]

Daniel was suffocated and killed in his bedroom, and a copy of the Bible was left by his body.[9] Daniel had internal injuries to the throat area, showing no bruises.[10] Daniel's exact time of death is unknown.[11] The reports determined Daniel was sedated with Xanax and likely unconscious when he was killed.[12][13] Daniel's body had also just started to show signs of decomposition but was not as far along as his mother's body.[8]

It was later alleged that Daniel had Fragile X syndrome and that this was the cause of domestic problems in the Benoit family.

In that suspected double-murder and suicide, local law enforcement officials concluded based on "evidence found within the (Benoit family) home", that Chris Benoit had murdered his wife in the residence on June 22, 2007, had killed his 7-year-old son on June 23, and on June 24 had committed suicide, reportedly hanging himself using equipment in a weight-training area located in the residency basement.[13][14] Later research undertaken by the Sports Legacy Institute suggested that depression and chronic traumatic encephalopathy (CTE), a condition of brain damage, from numerous concussions Benoit had sustained during his professional wrestling career were both likely contributing factors leading to the crimes.

Chemia Fury Alchemia Ploy

Annoying and furious sounds towards me take my Chemia, smart phone, metal shopping cart, and with an annoying noise, it as alchemia now a camera.

One of perhaps one thousand examples. I hold my smart phone up with the UBER recognition color scheme and the driver responds back in kind.

Meanwhile tots run in front of the moving cab who is looking 7 feet above me shoes at the screen on my smart phone.

A bystander states that is a solar panel I am holding.

No it is not a solar panel. When I am near my solar panel for my solar lights motorcycles roar their engines. THat does not turn my solar panels into a peeping device.

the Cameron Brief Ploy. In my vicinity, constantly, people created out of place things and references. Small things, but out of place. I challenged them, piece by piece but it is said I am making something out of nothing.

Yet as these things like women walking down the street in front of me, out of my control that they got in front of me, are pieced together with other pieces, like ambiguous statements from others in places of business, pizza shops, etc., then behind my back those out of place things can be “fit together” in a way the the resulting assembled puzzle makes [non] sense out of those little evidence plants around me that i Was told were nothing to be noticed and merely random other things around me.

Most of these are components of the larger ploy which sets up the Double Dip Ploy of Photocopied Books

Like a realtor with a seller listing who also finds a buyer or a market maker representing both the buyers and sellers of financial product, these SJWs who represent blacks, gays, autistics, low IQ minorities set themselves up with a false claim I need them to manage me too, allegedly that I am schizophrenic or low IQ or autistic or savant so therefore false claims can be mounted against my brain genes.

The theory is that since they are only creating rights to my brain genes with false claims of me victimizing their other clients then therefore no damage has been done to real me.

In fact that is not true. It is based on social justice hatred of a white and by non whites who incite vigilantism against me for their own demons demons of theirs they let out while dressed as me.

White women are victimized by peepers claiming to be me.

I am blamed and isolated and litigated against by the unwanted conservator who denies real accounting.

The vigilantism is supposed to and does have lethal consequences against myself including evictions for the acts of others and manufactured or resultant conditions I am subjected to.

Invent Narratives

Hair Extensions Added To A Bald Guy Against His Will: aka make a narrative out of any normal thing that the normal thing he is doing IS ACTUALLY hin exploiting others or Ed Donegan seems to be about to be punished by a Domina for alleged behavior of Edward Donegan

Such appearances are the ground work of appearances that another person, not me, will exploit females them, still using my identity, be punished for exploiting females.

People find a line in music I am playing, even If I don’t know about or care about the lyric, and take some act in front of me or around that attempts to append some shared meaning on that irrelevant meaning.

Trying to add their meaning, their hair extension, to any little excuse they can find some phony alleged meaning of my being in public, like taking me reading a museum placard and by acts of themselves jumping a teen or tot onto the placard or in front of it, as though they glued on the hair extension that I was peeping teen buttocks by looking at the placard.

This has been enhanced by homeless peoples cheap shots too. While overlooking Fort Mason Pacific War shipping port I was reading the placard about the California state or federal senator who founded it, I have forgotten his name but remembered it when I saw it on the placard, and a homeless person or some stranger said “what a laugh it is we really care about what is on those placards!”

Sound and Fury contain no actual accusation:

Statements vague in my direction which upon pin down, should I choose to do so, were then said to mean nothing towards me, in other words, the cheap shot or vague reference was deceptive and the speaker of the statement can not back it up.

In other words, their cover story that they are doing it, including money laundering DNA rights to adult entertainers via code words, is that innuendo towards me ties me to those activities.

Sound And Fury accusation towards me (empty of any accusation, just character assignation towards me like saying “Ed you are DIRT” utilized the Newton’s Third Law of Motion Corrective Ploy.

Dirty cops frame me with planted or real victims, then shake down “retarded” Ed’s unwanted uneeded conservancy

US Marshalls and others 1) steal my identity 2) Use my identity to harm a minor 3) get punished in my identity for harming a minor 3) Ask for community support over and instead of me because the US Marshalls are DEFENDING the community they say.

For public appearances sake the assaults on a white supremacist white separatist looks not only legal but expectable.

When racketeers operating as Mr Hyde make offenses against women near me, such as Golds Gym Women or women or females in public the also launch in my direction publicly visible cheap shot Sound and Fury.

To the public, for public appearances, the cheap shot towards me is energy which matches the energy as crime to the victim.

But both energies, crime towards the victim and outrage towards me are from the conspirators.

On the side of the bade facing me, the normally visible one, is a cheap shot towares me with no accusation I can scrutinize. One the reverse side of the badge is the corrupt cop peeping towards the women.

These two forces out of the badge are the two forces, of crime and of allegation. I am not offered a chance to clear my name for the cop keeps the allegation to the public and themselves, not me.

Pizzagate is part of Sound and Fury Ploy. Planted operatives intone things which are not true about my normal transactions.

These intonations towards me are the cover story because in fact someone next to me in the establishment IS DOING IT, setting up a solicitation in the establishment.

That person will be part of CIA Operation Midnight Climax in which while partying with adult entertainers, surrogate mothers will cary test babies for those like Andy Ellington of CIA DOD labs. A list of co-operating locations will follow. This is mostly racially motivated created inter racial DNA permissions via what an impersonator of me will sign over.

It is also the blackmail scheme tied to the Obama family and DNA permissions for the earlier history of MKULTRA in “drug experiments” (actual DNA experiments in which foreign nations will improve IQ and Economy and embrace capitalism)

Pies in the face.

Tom Dunham, who had appearance created he was in a pedo network with me (neither of us are or ever were) had people, strangers, say odd things to him like “be careful. Your will be back from vacation soon!”

Statement in our direction which are labeling of us, or them miss-characterizing my own acts as something else by their own acts, throw pies in my or Tom Dunhams face.

Leaving keys outside doors, etc., are part of a pie in the face attack, their acts, not mine or Tom Dunhams but is in my or tom dunhams architectural facade, our faces, thrown there.

Endlessly this kind of Legend (back story) manufacture around me by vague cheap shots that are baseless and by strangers.

Statements really about others. People saying they are really talking on the phone, to each other, to a dog, etc., while refuting the statements refer to me clearly wish the perception we are communicating and legitimately so, We are not.

(I once had a twenty minute argument with a women who said she was not talking to me when we were the only two people there and she was conversationally referring to me and things in my life.)

Geo falsity. Making statements towards me to be where instead a Doppelgänger will be.

An Uber driver taking me to cement 1001 N. Water Street with wide cement walls, big windows, outdoor cement catwalk in all wind directions, says “what a fire trap is that place we are going to.”

I was zerod out from 1001 N. Water Street 1/17/2021

Or for an apartment “meet at the pool, just outside it in the bushes” or go on this scavenger hunt. Please help secure the drain cover on the bottom of the pool. Where were you a few minutes ago (when my location was known, I was walking the dog) are attempts to place me the location the Doppelgänger was. Setting the Doppelgänger up as me.

As with the pool drain cover, feature fixing things that are not cameras. How much do you want to bet someone put an underwater Gopro in the pool drain or something at some time I was not there?

Ore referring to my shopping cart as a child holding device or something and implying it up-skirts children in it by making vague statements towards me.

This just makes things out of the blue, out of thin air, which do not exist at all.

Aviator Glasses Trick implying my guilt bu staring at me in Aviator Glasses unless I demand rational analysis saying “OF what” and then I am NOT accused of anything and the noise towards me was just Sound and Fury

All creating appearance of guilt where there is none. Al in fake claims and incited persecution of me by absolutely falsity about me.

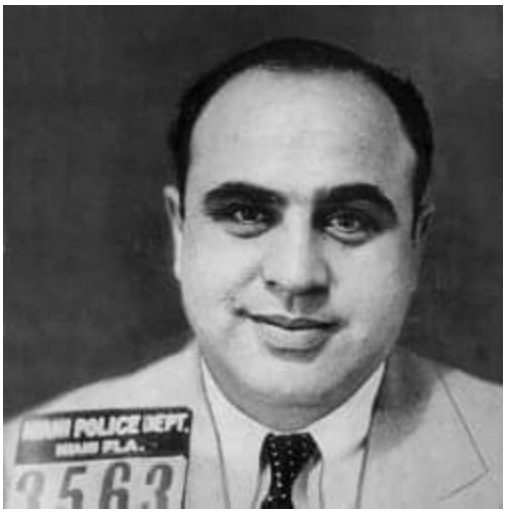
Al Capone's Soup Kitchen, situated on what is now a parking lot on the corner of 9th and State St, served over 120,000 meals to hungry people. The free soup kitchen kept regular working hours, serving breakfast, lunch, and dinner and fed thousands every day despite only having a few employees.



The kitchen, which was demolished 20 years after the Depression, was a place that provided warm meals for unemployed people thanks to Capone. Besides his charity, Capone was also known for sending expensive flowers to rival gang member's funerals, and for his generosity to strangers and Italian immigrants.

Boiler Room Girls retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The “Boiler Room Girls” was a nickname for a group of six women who worked as political advisors for Robert Kennedy’s 1968 presidential campaign in a windowless work area in Kennedy’s Washington, DC electoral offices. They were political strategists who received national media exposure from the infamous Chappaquiddick incident. It was in this incident that political strategist Mary Jo Kopechne died in a car crash where Ted Kennedy was the driver.[1]

Each “girl” was assigned a regional desk, divided by regions of the country, and was responsible for daily communication in and out of the Washington campaign headquarters to each state director in their region. At the end of the day, a decision book was compiled and sent to Kennedy and his campaign manager, Stephen Smith. Each decision book was composed by the boiler room team. The team of women also kept track of Kennedy’s delegate count against Democratic primary contenders Eugene McCarthy and Hubert Humphrey.

Just before the 1968 Democratic National Convention, the boiler room team was moved to a temporary office adjoining the convention floor where the same delegate officers met with the same state leaders. Following the assassination of United States Senator Robert F. Kennedy on June 5, 1968, the team was responsible for finishing the campaign coordination work assigned at the beginning. They eventually dispersed to work in other offices on Capitol Hill or elsewhere in Washington. The Boiler Room Girls were variously described as “frighteningly intelligent, politically astute, capable as all get-out”[2] as well as “uniformly bright, efficient, fascinated by politics”.[3]

Mary Jo Kopechne

After graduating in the 1962 class of Caldwell College for Women, Mary Jo moved to Alabama where she taught at Montgomery Catholic School. She joined the staff of Senator George A. Smathers of Florida in 1963 as a secretary. One year later she became a speech writer for Joseph Dolan, one of Robert Kennedy’s political advisors. After Robert Kennedy’s assassination, she joined Matt Reese Associates. She became a member of Senator Edward Kennedy’s office. After Chappaquiddick, reports of the incident captioned Mary as “Copachni” by the New Bedford Standard-Times, and “Palporki” by the FBI, and even “TED SAFE; BLONDE DIES” by another wire service. [4]

DeSantis received his Reserve Naval officer's commission and assignment to the Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG) in 2004 at the U.S. Naval Reserve Center in Dallas, Texas, while still a student at Harvard Law School. He completed Naval Justice School in 2005. Later that year, he received orders to the JAG Trial Service Office Command South East at Naval Station Mayport, Florida, as a prosecutor. He was promoted from lieutenant, junior grade to lieutenant in 2006. He worked for the commander of Joint Task Force-Guantanamo (JTF-GTMO), working directly with detainees at the Guantanamo Bay Joint Detention Facility.

[His birthday does not at all suspicious to me as a research conducted family group but his Free Mason jokes and special opps connections place him on my list of likely Cabalists.]

In 2007, DeSantis reported to the Naval Special Warfare Command Group in Coronado, California, where he was assigned to SEAL Team One and deployed to Iraq with the troop surge as the Legal Advisor to the SEAL Commander, Special Operations Task Force-West in Fallujah.

DeSantis returned to the U.S. in April 2008, at which time he was reassigned to the Naval Region Southeast Legal Service. The U.S. Department of Justice appointed him to serve as an assistant U.S. attorney[20] at the U.S. Attorney's Office in the Middle District of Florida. DeSantis was assigned as a trial defense counsel until his honorable discharge from active duty in February 2010. He concurrently accepted a reserve commission as a lieutenant in the Judge Advocate General's Corps of the US Navy Reserve. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal, the Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medal, the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal and the Iraq Campaign Medal.

And on Tuesday she claimed she was fired for refusing to "manually change data to drum up support for the plan to reopen".

Eugene McCarthy retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

EUGENE McCarthy was born in Watkins, Minnesota. He was the son of a deeply religious Catholic woman of German ancestry, Anna Baden McCarthy, and a strong-willed man of Irish descent, Michael J. McCarthy,[3][4] a postmaster and cattle buyer.

Born in Watkins, Minnesota, McCarthy became an economics professor after earning a graduate degree from the University of Minnesota. He served as a code breaker for the United States Department of War during World War II.

McCarthy grew up in Watkins with his parents and three siblings. He attended St. Anthony's Catholic School in Watkins, and spent hours reading his aunt's Harvard Classics.[2] He was influenced by the monks at nearby St. John's Abbey and University in Collegeville, Minnesota, and attended school there, at Saint John's Preparatory School, from which he graduated in 1932.[5] He also went to college at Saint John's University, graduating in 1935. McCarthy earned his master's degree from the University of Minnesota in 1939. He taught in public schools in Minnesota and North Dakota from 1935 to 1940, when he became a professor of economics and education at St. John's, working there from 1940 to 1943.[citation needed] While at St. John's, he coached the hockey team for one season.[6]

In 1943, considering the contemplative life of a monk, he became a Benedictine novice at Saint John's Abbey.[2] After nine months as a monk he left the monastery, causing a fellow novice to say, "It was like losing a 20-game winner".[7] He enlisted in the Army, serving as a code breaker for the Military Intelligence Division of the War Department in Washington, D.C. in 1944.[8] He was then an instructor in sociology and economics at the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota, from 1946 to 1949.[citation needed]

He served as a member of (among other committees) the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee. McCarthy became known to a larger audience in 1960 when he supported twice-defeated presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic nomination. He pleaded during his speech, “Do not reject this man who made us all proud to be called Democrats!” He joked about his own merits as a candidate, “I’m twice as liberal as Hubert Humphrey, twice as intelligent as Stuart Symington, and twice as Catholic as Jack Kennedy.”[10] He was considered as a possible running mate for Lyndon Johnson in 1964, only to see fellow Minnesota Senator Humphrey chosen for that position.

McCarthy met with Marxist-Leninist revolutionary Che Guevara in New York City in 1964 to discuss repairing relations between the US and Cuba They met in journalist Lisa Howard’s apartment on Park Avenue in Manhattan. The 2008 film Che: Part One depicts this event.[citation needed] before name change Dorothy Jean Guggenheim *

Lisa Howard

Lisa Howard (née Dorothy Jean Guggenheim, APRIL 24, 1926 - JULY 4, 1965) was an American journalist, writer, and television news anchor who previously had a career as an off-Broadway theater and soap opera actress. In the early 1960s, she became ABC News’s first woman reporter, and was the first woman to have her own national network television news show. Howard developed a relationship with Cuba’s Fidel Castro, whom she met to interview, and was a go-between for a time between Castro and the American White House. Her network career ended when she became openly involved in the 1964 United States Senate election in New York. In 1965, Howard suffered a miscarriage and depression, dying of an overdose of painkillers.

In the late 1950s, Howard decided to make a major career change. She began working as a stringer for the Mutual Radio Network. She covered the 1960 Democratic National Convention and became the first American reporter to interview Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Due to the widespread attention generated by that interview, in 1961 she was hired by ABC News as their first female correspondent to cover the Vienna summit between Khrushchev and John F. Kennedy. She also served as the editor for the political journal War/Peace Report, and wrote a novel On Stage, Miss Douglas, released in 1960.

In 1963, ABC promoted her to be the first female anchor of a news broadcast geared toward housewives called Lisa Howard and News with a Woman's Touch.[5] As part of the broadcast, she interviewed famous and influential world personalities, among them the Shah of Iran, Eleanor Roosevelt, Barry Goldwater, and Nelson Rockefeller. In April 1963, she traveled to Cuba to make an ABC special on Cuban leader Fidel Castro.[6] During his filmed interview, as well as in private conversation with Howard, Castro made it clear that Cuba was interested in improved relations with Washington. On her return to the U.S., she was debriefed by CIA deputy director, Richard Helms. In a secret memorandum of conversation sent to President Kennedy, Helms reported: "Lisa Howard definitely wants to impress the U.S. Government with two facts: Castro is ready to discuss rapprochement and she herself is ready to discuss it with him if asked to do so by the U.S. Government."[7] Subsequently, Howard used her Upper East Side apartment for the first meeting between a U.S. and Cuban diplomat, and for phone communications between Castro and the Kennedy administration.

According to her daughter, Fritzi, Howard became involved with Castro and viewed herself as a grand player on the stage of history. In an article for Politico detailing their relationship, Peter Kornbluh describes Howard's role as a liaison between the United States and Cuba as "intimate diplomacy," explaining that "her role as peacemaker was built on a complex, little-understood rapport she managed to forge with Castro himself - a relationship that was political and personal, intellectual and intimate." [3] In order to continue the reconciliation agenda, she set up a meeting between UN diplomat William Attwood and Cuba's UN representative Carlos Lechuga on September 23, 1963, at her Upper East Side New York apartment, under the cover of a cocktail party. With Howard's support, the Kennedy White House was organizing a secret meeting with an emissary of Fidel Castro in November 1963 at the United Nations-a plan that was aborted when President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas on November 22, 1963. The new president, Lyndon B. Johnson, objected to normalizing relations with Cuba as he feared this would make him appear soft on Communism. Howard continued to work toward better relations, returning to Cuba to do another ABC special with Castro in February 1964 and becoming a go-between for communications between Washington and Havana.[5] When Argentine Marxist revolutionary Ernesto "Che" Guevara came to New York in December 1964, she hosted a cocktail party for him and arranged a meeting between Guevara and U.S. Senator Eugene McCarthy. A selection of Howard's personal papers, including a draft letter to her “Dearest Fidel,” a draft letter to President Kennedy, and her 1964 interview with Che Guevara, are available to read on the George Washington University-based National Security Archive’s website.

In September 1964, Howard helped form a political group called “Democrats for Keating”-a group of liberal Democrats that included Gore Vidal, who opposed Robert F. Kennedy’s bid to become a U.S. senator representing the state of New York. ABC News warned her that her public partisan politics would lead to her dismissal. Howard nevertheless continued to work openly in support of Kennedy’s Republican opponent, Kenneth Keating. In the fall of 1964, ABC cancelled her news show and fired Howard.

Personal life - Howard was married twice and had two children. Her first marriage was to film director Felix E. Feist, with whom she had a daughter, Fritzi. The couple later divorced. Howard later married producer Walter Lowendahl, with whom she had a daughter, Anne.

Death - Devastated by the loss of her career, Howard suffered a miscarriage in June 1965 and was hospitalized with depression. On July 4, 1965, while on an Independence Day vacation in the Hamptons with her family, she took a fatal overdose of barbiturates. Her death was ruled a suicide.

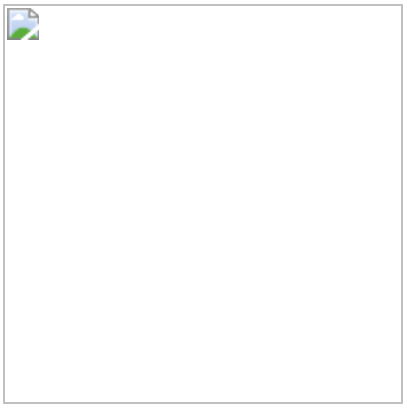
Linda Preiss Rothschild, Berkeley, 1974

Linda Preiss Rothschild (born 28.02.1945) is a professor emeritus of mathematics at the University of California, San Diego.[2] Her thesis research concerned Lie groups, but subsequently her interests broadened to include also polynomial factorization, partial differential equations, harmonic analysis, and the theory of several complex variables.



Rothschild is the daughter of Philadelphia fur merchants; she was unable to attend the best high school of the city, as at the time it was restricted to boys.[3] She graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1966.[2][3] Rejected from graduate study at Princeton University because it was also male-only,[3][4] she instead earned her Ph.D. in 1970 from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology under the supervision of Isadore Singer.[2][5] She held temporary positions at MIT, Tufts University, Columbia University, the Institute for Advanced Study, and Princeton University before landing an associate professorship at the University of Wisconsin in 1976. She moved to San Diego in 1983,[2][3] and retired in 2011.

Rothschild was president of the Association for Women in Mathematics from 1983 to 1985, and vice president of the American Mathematical Society from 1985 to 1987.[2][4] She has been co-editor-in-chief of the journal Mathematical Research Letters since 1994.

Her husband, M. Salah Baouendi, was also a distinguished professor of mathematics at UC San Diego;

he died in 2011.

Rothschild was awarded a Sloan Fellowship in 1976.[2] [3] In 1997, Rothschild gave the Noether Lecture of the Association for Women in Mathematics, on the subject “How do Real Manifolds live in Complex Space?”,[2][3] and she was an invited speaker at the International Congress of Mathematicians in 2006.[4] She was elected as a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 2005,[4] and in 2012 she became one of the inaugural fellows of the American Mathematical Society.[7] A conference in her honor was held in 2008 at the University of Fribourg in Switzerland.[4] In 2017, she was selected as a fellow of the Association for Women in Mathematics in the inaugural class.

She and her husband were jointly awarded the Stefan Bergman Prize of the American Mathematical Society in 2003.

Linda Preiss Rothschild at the Mathematics Genealogy Project

The Mathematics Genealogy Project (MGP) is a web-based database for the academic genealogy of mathematicians.[1][2][3] By 31 December 2020, it contained information on 263,562 mathematical scientists who contributed to research-level mathematics. For a typical mathematician, the project entry includes graduation year, thesis title (in its Mathematics Subject Classification), alma mater, doctoral advisor, and doctoral students.[

Fred Chase Koch September 23, 1900 - NOVEMBER 17, 1967)

Fred was an American chemical engineer and entrepreneur who founded the oil refinery firm that later became Koch Industries [certainly in Texas and likely with E Howard Hunt, the Bush family and Zapata Oil, and othhers,] a privately held company which, under the principal ownership and leadership of Koch's sons Charles and David, was listed by Forbes in 2015 as the second-largest privately held company in the United States.

Fred attended Rice Institute in Houston from 1917 to 1919[8] and graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in 1922, where he obtained a degree in chemical engineering practice.

Koch started his career with the Texas Company in Port Arthur, Texas,and later became chief engineer with the Medway Oil & Storage Company on the Isle of Grain in Kent, England. In 1925 he joined a fellow MIT classmate, P.C. Keith, at Keith-Winkler Engineering in Wichita, Kansas. Following the departure of Keith in 1925,[10] the firm became Winkler-Koch Engineering Company.

In 1925, Koch had entered into a partnership with Lewis Winkler, a former employee of Universal Oil Products (now UOP LLC). Winkler developed a cracking apparatus for heavy crude oil with ostensibly no patented difference in comparison to his former employer's intellectual property; thus, in 1929, UOP sued Winkler-Koch for patent infringement. Also that year, nearly three years before the patent case went to trial, Winkler-Koch signed contracts to build petroleum distillation plants in the Soviet Union, which did not recognize intellectual property rights.

In 1927, Koch developed a more efficient thermal cracking process for turning crude oil into gasoline which allowed smaller players in the industry to better compete with the oil majors. The larger oil companies quickly sued in response, filing 44 different lawsuits against Koch, and embroiling him in litigation for years. Koch was to prevail in all but one of the suits (which was later overturned due to the fact that the judge had been bribed).

This extended litigation effectively put Winkler-Koch out of business in the U.S. for several years. “Unable to succeed at home, Koch found work in the Soviet Union”.[13] Between 1929 and 1932 Winkler-Koch supported the Kremlin and “trained Bolshevik engineers[14] to help Stalin’s regime set up fifteen modern oil refineries” in the Soviet Union during its first Five Year Plan.

“Over time, however, Stalin brutally purged several of Koch’s Soviet colleagues. Koch was deeply affected by the experience, and regretted his collaboration.”

The company also built installations in countries throughout Europe, the Middle East and Asia.[1] During the 21st century, when the political donations of Koch’s descendants became a matter of controversy, Koch’s work in Europe also entered public scrutiny. In 1934, Koch had partnered with William Rhodes Davis to build the Hamburg Oil Refinery, the third-largest oil refinery serving the Third Reich, a project which was personally approved by Adolf Hitler; contemporary critics claim this showed a direct tie between fascism and the modern conservative movement, notwithstanding Koch's much greater involvement in the Soviet Union.

In response, Koch President and COO David L. Robertson acknowledged that Winkler-Koch provided the cracking unit for the 1934 Hamburg refinery, but said that it was but one of many "iconic" American companies doing business in Germany at the time. [19] Robertson provided archival documents showing that from 1928 to 1934, Koch's company helped build 39 cracking units for heavy oil refineries, including ones located in England and France.

Having succeeded in securing the family fortune, Koch joined new partners in 1940 to create the Wood River Oil and Refining Company, which later became known as Koch Industries. In 1946, the firm acquired the Rock Island refinery and crude oil gathering system near Duncan, Oklahoma. Wood River was later renamed the Rock Island Oil and Refining Company. [20] In 1966, he turned over day-to-day management of the company to his son, Charles Koch

Special access programs (SAPs) in the U.S. Federal Government are security protocols that provide highly classified information with safeguards and access restrictions that exceed those for regular (collateral) classified information. SAPs can range from black projects to routine but especially-sensitive operations, such as COMSEC maintenance or presidential transportation support. In addition to collateral controls, a SAP may impose more stringent investigative or adjudicative requirements, specialized nondisclosure agreements, special terminology or markings, exclusion from standard contract investigations (carve-outs), and centralized billet systems.[Within the Department of Defense, SAP is better known as “SAR” by the mandatory Special Access Required (SAR) markings

Gustav Lascaris Avrakotos (January 14, 1938 - December 1, 2005) was an American case officer and the Afghan Task Force Chief for the Central Intelligence Agency.

Avrakotos (Played by Phillip Seymour Hoffman) joined the CIA in August 1962 and was posted to Greece in 1963. Following the 1967 Greek coup d’état and the establishment of a far-right military junta, Avrakotos became the main liaison point for the CIA and the regime. He worked closely with the regime until he returned to a US posting in 1978. He worked for the CIA in the US until late 1982, when he found a position with the CIA’s Near East desk, which included oversight of the agency’s work in Afghanistan. The following year he became acting Chief of the South Asia Operations Group, which included involvement in Operation Cyclone, the CIA program to arm and finance the Afghan mujahideen in their war against the Soviets. He acquired arms and ammunition from numerous sources, and worked with Texas representative Charlie Wilson to build a coalition of international supporters to fund, arm and train the mujahideen.

He left the CIA in 1989 after he had been moved to the CIA’s Africa Division, a position of relative obscurity within the organization, after writing a memo opposing the CIA’s involvement in the Iran-Contra Affair. After working for defense contractor TRW Inc. and then News Corporation, he returned to the CIA as a contractor between 1997 and 2003.

Posting to Greece

Richard Welch, the chief of the CIA station in Athens, who was assassinated in December 1975

After extensive training for field work, Avrakotos was posted to Greece in 1963. He spent time building relationships in Greek society, including within the military.[9] Following the 1967 Greek coup d'état and the establishment of a far-right military junta, Avrakotos became the main liaison point for the CIA and the regime.[3] He had built strong links with the members of the junta; Crile wrote that the colonels:

Richard Welch, the chief of the CIA station in Athens, who was assassinated in December 1975

had all started off life as peasants before joining the army, and they felt a kinship with this charismatic, working-class American whose parents had come from Lemnos. They could speak Greek with him. He drank and whored with them, and they knew from the heart that he shared their ferocious anti-Communism.

Avrakotos lunched with the colonels regularly and socialized with them in the evenings and at weekends. He also provided both officially sanctioned advice, and more practical suggestions that has no official backing: when Andreas Papandreou, the former prime minister of Greece, was incarcerated, Avrakotos gave them the official message that Papandreou should be allowed to leave the country for the US, and also unofficially advised them to “shoot the motherfucker because he’s going to come back to haunt you”.

In December 1975, the chief of the CIA station in Athens - and Avrakotos’s superior - Richard Welch, was gunned down on his doorstep by three members of the 17 November Group, a far-left urban guerrilla terrorist organization after his cover as a member of the CIA was publicized.[12] Two months later Avrakotos’s cover was also blown, and he became pilloried in the Greek radical press; with the publicity, his life also came under threat. Several of his friends from the regime were assassinated and Avrakotos increased the use of his fieldcraft to ensure he avoided being targeted.[1] [13] He ended his tenure in Greece in 1978.

Charles Nesbitt Wilson (JUNE 1, 1933 - February 10, 2010) was a United States naval officer and former 12-term Democratic United States Representative from Texas's 2nd congressional district.

Charles Nesbitt Wilson (June 1, 1933 - February 10, 2010) was a United States naval officer and former 12-term Democratic United States Representative from Texas's 2nd congressional district. Wilson is best known for leading Congress into supporting Operation Cyclone, the largest-ever Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) covert operation, which during the Carter and Reagan administrations supplied military equipment to the Afghan Mujahideen during the Soviet-Afghan War. His behind-the-scenes campaign was the subject of the non-fiction book Charlie Wilson's War: The Extraordinary Story of the Largest Covert Operation in History by George Crile III and the subsequent film Charlie Wilson's War, where he was portrayed by Tom Hanks.

Wilson was born in the small town of Trinity, Texas, to Charles Edwin Wilson, an accountant for a local timber company, and Wilmuth (née Nesbitt), a local florist, on June 1, 1933.[2] Wilson had one younger sister, Sharon Wilson Allison, former chair of Planned Parenthood and president of the International Planned Parenthood Federation, who currently resides in Waco, Texas.

Growing up, Wilson attended Trinity public schools and, upon graduation from Trinity High School in 1951, he attended one semester at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas, before being appointed to the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland.[3][page needed] While at Annapolis, Wilson earned the second most demerits in the history of the academy (his roommate, Robert Mullen, earned the most demerits). Wilson graduated eighth from the bottom of his class in 1956 with a B.S. degree in Engineering, specializing in electronics.

Between 1956 and 1960, Wilson served in the United States Navy, attaining the rank of lieutenant and serving as the Gunnery Officer on the USS John W. Weeks (DD-701). He was assigned to the Pentagon as part of an intelligence unit that evaluated the Soviet Union’s nuclear forces.

From a young age, Wilson took an interest in national security and foreign matters. Growing up during World War II encouraged Wilson to avidly read military history, including numerous articles and other literature on the war. This led Wilson to have a lifelong admiration for Winston Churchill. Wilson even took the opportunity as a child to “keep watch” over Trinity for Japanese aerial attacks from his post in the back yard.[6] Wilson’s early sense of patriotism and his strong interest in international affairs encouraged him to become politically active later in life.

According to Wilson himself, he first entered politics as a teenager by running a campaign against his next-door neighbor, city council incumbent Charles Hazard. When Wilson was thirteen years old, his fourteen-year-old dog entered Hazard's yard. Hazard retaliated by mixing crushed glass into the dog's food, causing fatal internal bleeding. Following this incident, Wilson obtained a driver's permit and drove ninety-six voters to the polls in his family's two-door Chevrolet. As patrons left the car, Wilson told each of them that he didn't want to influence their vote, but that the incumbent Hazard had purposely killed his dog. After Hazard was defeated by a margin of 16 votes, Wilson went to his house to tell him that his black constituents voted to defeat him, and he "shouldn't poison any more dogs." Wilson cited this as "the day [he] fell in love with America."

While Wilson worked at the Pentagon, he volunteered to help in John F. Kennedy's 1960 presidential campaign. While volunteering in Kennedy's campaign, Wilson took a 30-day leave from the U.S. Navy and entered his name into the race for Texas state representative of his home district on the Democratic ticket.[8] This action violated Navy regulations, as active-duty service members are prohibited from holding public office. When Wilson returned to duty, his family and friends went door to door campaigning. In 1961, at age 27, he was sworn into office in Austin, Texas.

The women of Minnesota pitched in to do their part during World War II, breaking out of traditional roles. Some signed on to work in defense plants, while others took advantage of opportunities in the military.

Virginia Mae Hope, pictured here, joined the W.A.S.P.s (Women's Air Force Service Pilots) in 1943, and flew planes from one base to another to free a male pilot for war duty. Virginia, a native of Winnebago, Minnesota, was killed with 16 other pilots in a plane crash at Omaha, Nebraska on December 7, 1944.

Father: THORKELSON, H. John Halsten John Thorkelson, 86, died Friday, (December 26, 2003), following a brief illness. He was born May 3, 1917 in Madison, WI, to Halsten Joseph and Mary (Carver) Thorkelson. He was predeceased by his beloved wife of 61 years, Virginia (Straus) Thorkelson

He was educated in public schools in Madison, East Orange, N.J., and Kohler, WI, and attended Carleton College from 1934-38, receiving a B.A. with Honors in Economics. After graduating, he worked for a year in industry, then entered the University of Wisconsin Graduate School in 1939.

He worked as a civil servant in the Dept. of Agriculture and the Budget Bureau in Washington, D.C. from 1941-43, and for the Education Department of the United Auto Workers in Detroit from 1943-45. In 1945, he was drafted into the U.S. Army and commissioned a Second Lieutenant. He served in the Military Government in Berlin, Germany, from 1946-48, locating housing for many displaced persons.

Returning to the University of Wisconsin, he completed his graduate work (and Virginia her undergraduate work) in 1950. The family then moved to Mansfield Center where he joined the faculty of the Economics Department at the University of Connecticut. Apart from a year in Venezuela (1963-64) as an economic planner for that government, and a year in Canada as faculty member at the University of Saskatchewan, Regina (1966-67), he remained in Connecticut the rest of his life.

He taught at UConn until 1983. He was instrumental in the growth of the American Association of University Professors and the Federation of University Teachers, and was very active in organizing the Urban Semester Program. He was well-respected by colleagues and students alike, one of whom praised Dr. Thorkelson as the best of the economics faculty, citing his “incredible breadth of knowledge.”

Mickey Dolenz was born at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital (now Cedars-Sinai Medical Center), in Los Angeles, California,[1] the son of actors George Dolenz and Janelle Johnson. He has three younger sisters, Gemma Marie (“Coco”; born APRIL 5, 1949), Deborah (born 1958), and Kathleen (“Gina”; born 1960)

Dolenz went to Ulysses S. Grant High School in Valley Glen, Los Angeles, California, and graduated in 1962. In 1964, he was cast as Ed in the episode "Born of Kings and Angels" of the NBC education drama series Mr. Novak, starring James Franciscus as an idealistic Los Angeles teacher.

"Joanne" is a song written and performed by Michael Nesmith, his only hit song as a solo artist.

Joanne Gignilliat Trimmier Woodward (born FEBRUARY 27, 1930) is an American actress, producer, and philanthropist. She is the recipient of an Academy Award, three Primetime Emmy Awards, and three Golden Globe Awards.

Johanna Karolina Gobertina Barbara (Franziska) von Trapp (7 September 1919 - 25 November 1994) was the sixth child of Georg Ritter von Trapp and his first wife, Agathe Whitehead. She was a member of the Trapp Family Singers, whose lives were the inspiration for the play and film The Sound of Music.[1] She was portrayed as the character "Marta".

In 1922, when Johanna was three years old, her mother died of scarlet fever. Many years later she still recalled looking out the children's nursery window to see a black coach drawn by black horses come to carry her mother to her final resting place in Klosterneuburg.

David Thomas Jones (30 December 1945 - 29 February 2012) was an English musician, singer, actor and businessman. Jones is best known as a member of the band the Monkees, and for starring in the TV series of the same name.

Bette Nesmith Graham, with son Michael

Aside from his work on The Monkees, Jones's acting credits include a Tony-nominated performance as the Artful Dodger in the original London and Broadway productions of Oliver! and a guest-starring role in a hallmark episode of The Brady

Graham (later Nesmith by marriage) secretly used her white correction paint for five years, making some improvements with help from her son's chemistry teacher at Thomas Jefferson High School in Dallas. Some bosses admonished her for using it, but coworkers frequently sought her "paint out". She eventually began marketing her typewriter correction fluid as "Mistake Out" in 1956. The name was later changed to Liquid Paper when she began her own company.[4]

Peter Halsten Thorkelson (February 13, 1942 FEBRUARY 21, 2019), known professionally as Peter Tork, was an American musician, composer, and actor who was best known as the keyboardist and bass guitarist of the Monkees.

James Grover Franciscus (January 31, 1934 - JULY 8, 1991) was an American actor, known for his roles in feature films and in six television series: Mr. Novak, The Naked City, The Investigators, Longstreet, Doc Elliot, and Hunter.

Jean Amelia Summerlin was the daughter of Thomas Summerlin and Bathsheba Robards. She married Felix Turner Hughes, President of the Keokuk & Western Railroad, on 1 AUGUST 1865 IN MEMPHIS, MISSOURI. They settled in Keokuk, Iowa in 1879, where Felix Hughes was an attorney. He was later elected a judge and mayor of Keokuk. The children attended First Ward School and were educated in the arts, history and science.

Her children were Greta Hughes (an opera singer who went by the stage name "Jean Greta") (1866-?), Howard Robard Hughes Sr. (inventor and father of Howard Hughes Jr., the famous aviator, land developer, film producer, inventor and industrialist) (1869-1924), Rupert Raleigh Hughes (screen writer and novelist) (1872-1956) and Reginald (who died at the age of 5). Three other children died in infancy: Felix Jr. (1874), Jean (1880), Baby (1880).

Jean had a phobia of germs. When her son Robard offered to build her a house in Grand Avenue in Keokuk, Iowa, she asked the house be built without closets. She felt diseases grew in the darkness within them. This phobia was inherited by her grandson Howard Hughes.

The Hughes XF-11 was a prototype military reconnaissance aircraft designed and flown by Howard Hughes and built by Hughes Aircraft for the United States Army Air Forces. Although 100 F-11s were ordered in 1943, only two prototypes and a mockup were completed. During the first XF-11 flight in 1946, piloted by Hughes himself, the aircraft crashed in Beverly Hills, California.[1] The production aircraft had been canceled in May 1945, but the second prototype was completed and successfully flown in 1947. The program was extremely controversial from the beginning, leading the U.S. Senate to investigate the XF-11 and the Hughes H-4 Hercules flying boat in 1947-1948.

A reconnaissance aircraft (colloquially, a spy plane) is a military aircraft designed or adapted to perform aerial reconnaissance with roles including collection of imagery intelligence (including using photography), signals intelligence, as well as measurement and signature intelligence. Modern technology has also enabled some aircraft and UAVs to carry out real-time surveillance in addition to general intelligence gathering.

Before the development of devices such as radar, military forces relied on reconnaissance aircraft for visual observation and scouting of enemy movement. An example is the PBY Catalina maritime patrol flying boat used by the Allies in World War II: a flight of U.S. Navy Catalinas spotted part of the Japanese fleet approaching Midway Island, beginning the Battle of Midway.

It was a bad day for Hughes and for the XF-11, a beautiful and innovative aircraft that had all the potential to be a great success in the armed forces. With its breeding, its capabilities and its potential, the XF-11 might have snagged a lucrative production contract for Hughes. Instead, the XF-11 was a “might have been,” a footnote in history that not everyone remembers today.

In 1943, Hughes showed the D-2 to Col. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, who wanted to adapt the plane for reconnaissance for the expected invasion of the Japanese home islands. This was an evolution for Roosevelt who had started out with an interest in a “convoy fighter” - a huge, twin-engined warplane that would escort long-range heavy bombers to their targets. The D-2 burned up in a mysterious fire in November 1943. It was part of the same development efforts that produced the Lockheed XP-58 Chain Lightning designed by Clarence “Kelly” Johnson, but the D-2 was so scrupulously safeguarded that no clear photo of it is known to exist.

ET TU, D-2? The XF-11 was an offspring of a giant twin-engined fighter, the Hughes D-2, which Hughes and his company built at Culver City, Calif., but assembled in great secrecy at Harper Dry Lake in the Mojave Desert, a location even more remote than the Army Air Forces’ flight test facility at Muroc, Calif. The term D-2 was a company designation. A military version would have been called the XA-37 attack plane.

Hughes developed the D-2 in such secrecy that his company refused permission to even Gen. Henry “Hap” Arnold, commanding general of Army Air Forces and the obvious customer for the plane, to visit the Harper Lake facility. In the 1940s, the Pentagon had absolute power over contractors - one company, Ryan Aeronautical Co., was denied contracts throughout the war because of a perceived minor snub - but Hughes seems to have felt that his connections to the White House made him bulletproof.

Arnold is reported to have said that, “Hughes is turning against us” by developing an aircraft for military needs but not allowing the government to know much about it.

Former Israeli space security chief says aliens exist, humanity not ready This “Galactic Federation” has supposedly been in contact with Israel and the US for years, but are keeping themselves a secret to prevent hysteria until humanity is ready. By AARON REICH DECEMBER 8, 2020 00:21 retrieved from The Jerusalem Post and copied or modified to here

Has the State of Israel made contact with aliens?

According to retired Israeli general and current professor Haim Eshed, the answer is yes, but this has been kept a secret because “humanity isn’t ready.”

Speaking in an interview to Yediot Aharonot, Eshed - who served as the head of Israel’s space security program for nearly 30 years and is a three-time recipient of the Israel Security Award - explained that Israel and the US have both been dealing with aliens for years. And this by no means refers to immigrants, with Eshed clarifying the existence of a “Galactic Federation.”

The 87-year-old former space security chief gave further descriptions about exactly what sort of agreements have been made between the aliens and the US, which ostensibly have been made because they wish to research and understand “the fabric of the universe.” This cooperation includes a secret underground base on Mars, where there are American and alien representatives.

If true, this would coincide with US President Donald Trump’s creation of the Space Force as the fifth branch of the US armed forces, though it is unclear how long this sort of relationship, if any, has been going on between the US and its reported extraterrestrial allies.

But Eshed insists that Trump is aware of them, and that he was “on the verge” of disclosing their existence. However, the Galactic Federation reportedly stopped him from doing so, saying they wished to prevent mass hysteria since they felt humanity needed to “evolve and reach a stage where we will… understand what space and spaceships are,” Yediot Aharonot reported.

As for why he’s chosen to reveal this information now, Eshed explained that the timing was simply due to how much the academic landscape has changed, and how respected he is in academia.

This contemporary comedy focuses on two sets of well-to-do parents, united after their sons are involved in a playground altercation. Alan and Annette are invited into Michael and Veronica's home to civilly work out the conflict. As the evening progresses, polite conversation is abandoned and the evening dissolves into chaos.

God of Carnage was originally written in French. This play debuted on the West End in 2008, and moved to Broadway in 2009, where it won the Tony Award for Best Play. God of Carnage has since been produced internationally. In 2011, a film version titled Carnage was produced starring Kate Winslet, John C. Reilly, Jodie Foster, and Christoph Waltz.

TRIAL BALLOON

A trial balloon, or kite-flying (used in the UK and elsewhere), is information sent out to the media in order to observe the reaction of an audience.[1] It can be used by companies sending out press releases to judge reaction by customers, or it can be used by politicians who deliberately leak information on a policy change under consideration. The term is of French origin.[2] Trial balloon translates French ballon d'essai, a small balloon sent up immediately before a manned ascent to determine the direction and tendency of winds in the upper air,[3] though the earliest use in English is figurative * From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Race and the Politics of Polio, Warm Springs, Tuskegee, and the March of Dimes, Abstract

The Tuskegee Institute opened a polio center in 1941, funded by the March of Dimes. The center's founding was the result of a new visibility of Black polio survivors and the growing political embarrassment around the policy of the Georgia Warm Springs polio rehabilitation center, which Franklin Roosevelt had founded in the 1920s before he became president and which had maintained a Whites-only policy of admission. This policy, reflecting the ubiquitous norm of race-segregated health facilities of the era, was also sustained by a persuasive scientific argument about polio itself: that Blacks were not susceptible to the disease.

Sidney Poitier KBE (/ˈpwɑːtieɪ/; born February 20, 1927) is a Bahamian-American actor, film director, and ambassador. In 1964, Poitier won the Academy Award for Best Actor (on his second nomination) becoming the first Black male and Afro-Bahamian actor to win that award. He is the oldest living and earliest surviving Best Actor Academy Award winner. From 1997 to 2007, he served as the Bahamian Ambassador to Japan.[2]

Poitier was made an honorary Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth II in 1974.[6][7][8][9] In 2009 Poitier was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the United States' highest civilian honor.[10]

His entire family lived in the Bahamas, then still a British colony, but Poitier was born unexpectedly in Miami while they were visiting for the weekend, which automatically granted him American citizenship. He grew up in the Bahamas, but moved back to Miami aged 15 and to New York when he was 16. He joined the North American Negro Theatre, landing his breakthrough film role as an incorrigible high school student in the 1955 film Blackboard Jungle.

At age 15, he was sent to Miami to live with his brother's large family. At 16, he moved to New York City and held a string of jobs as a dishwasher.[23] A waiter sat with him every night for several weeks helping him learn to read the newspaper.[24] During World War II, in November 1943, he lied about his age and enlisted in the Army. He was assigned to a Veteran's Administration hospital in Northport, New York, and was trained to work with psychiatric patients. Poitier became upset with how the hospital treated its patients, and feigned mental illness to obtain a discharge. Poitier confessed to a psychiatrist that he was faking his condition, but the doctor was sympathetic and granted his discharge under Section VIII of Army regulation 615-360 in December 1944.[25]

After leaving the Army he worked as a dishwasher until a successful audition landed him a spot with the American Negro Theater.[26][27]

When Hurricane Dorian hit the Bahamas in September 2019, Poitier's family had 23 MISSING RELATIVES.[56]

LIFE BETWEEN HEAVEN AND EARTH: WHAT YOU DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT THE WORLD HEREAFTER AND HOW IT CAN HELP YOU

The New York Times bestselling authors of Lessons from the Light offer a new and provocative understanding of heaven and how messages from the afterlife can assist you in the here and now. We live in a world of near-universal acceptance that once our lives on the earth come to an end we continue to a greater world. Whether that destination is called "Heaven," "Nirvana," or simply, "The Other Side," tradition teaches us that there is, in most cases, a fairy-tale ending to life, a place where joy and harmony reigns supreme. Yet, as this book attests there is still more to heaven and earth than is dreamt of in our philosophies.

George Anderson is considered by many to be the greatest medium living today. After more than 50 years of hearing from souls who have transitioned to the world hereafter, he is constantly reminded by those who have passed that our preconceived notions of this life- and the next-aren't always accurate. The nine stories in this book illuminate times when unusual circumstances such as sudden death, unresolved emotions, abusive relationships, and painful family dynamics, make it necessary for the dead and the living to find new doors to healing.

Kurt Cobain About

Born: FEBRUARY 20, 1967, Aberdeen, WA Died: APRIL 5, 1994, Seattle, WA - wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Kurt Donald Cobain (February 20, 1967 - c. April 5, 1994) was an American singer, songwriter, and musician. He was the frontman of the rock band Nirvana, serving as the band's guitarist, lead vocalist, and primary songwriter. Through his angst-fueled songwriting and anti-establishment persona, Cobain's compositions widened the thematic conventions of mainstream rock music. He was often heralded as a spokesman of Generation X and is considered to be one of the most influential musicians in the history of alternative rock.

Cobain formed the band Nirvana with Krist Novoselic and Aaron Burckhard in 1987 and established it as part of the Seattle music scene which later became known as grunge. After signing with major label DGC Records, Nirvana found global success with "Smells Like Teen Spirit" from their critically acclaimed second album Nevermind (1991). Although Cobain was hailed as the voice of his generation following Nirvana's sudden success, he resented this, believing his message and artistic vision had been misinterpreted by the public. In addition to "Smells Like Teen Spirit", Cobain wrote many other notable songs for Nirvana, including "Come as You Are", "Lithium", "In Bloom", "Something in the Way", "Heart-Shaped Box", "All Apologies", "About a Girl", "Aneurysm" and "You Know You're Right".

During the last years of his life, Cobain struggled with heroin addiction and chronic health problems such as depression. He also struggled with the personal and professional pressures of fame, and had a tumultuous relationship with his wife, fellow musician Courtney Love. [2] In March 1994, Cobain overdosed on a combination of champagne and Rohypnol, and subsequently entered an intervention and underwent a detox program. On April 8, 1994, Cobain was found dead at his home in Seattle at the age of 27; the all volunteer police force concluded he had died on April 5 from a self-inflicted shotgun wound to the head.

Cobain was posthumously inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, along with Nirvana bandmates Krist Novoselic and Dave Grohl, in their first year of eligibility in 2014. Rolling Stone included Cobain in its lists of the 100 Greatest Songwriters of All Time, 100 Greatest Guitarists, and 100 Greatest Singers of All Time. He was ranked 7th by MTV in the “22 Greatest Voices in Music”. In 2006, he was placed 20th by Hit Parader on their list of the “100 Greatest Metal Singers of All Time”.

Singer and guitarist of the late 1980s, early 1990s grunge band Nirvana, best known for their breakthrough 1991 album Nevermind which featured the hit single “Smells Like Teen Spirit.” After struggling with drugs and depression during the height of Nirvana’s popularity, he tragically took his own life at the age of 27.

Before Fame

He was so ANGRY WITH THE TURMOIL IN HIS FAMILY that HE LASHED OUT AT OTHERS, especially adults, and bullied a classmate at school. He would be bullied himself later on in school after befriending a homosexual student.

Trivia His 1993 album with Nirvana, IN UTERO, went five-times Platinum, and included the #1 single “Heart-Shaped Box.” He cited novelist William Burroughs as an influence on his writing.

Family Life He was raised with a younger sister named Kimberly. He married Courtney Love on FEBRUARY 24, 1992 and he and Love had a daughter together named Frances Bean Cobain

During fame

Throughout most of his life, Cobain suffered from chronic bronchitis and intense physical pain due to an undiagnosed chronic stomach condition.[5

His first drug experience was with cannabis in 1980, at age 13. He regularly used the drug during adulthood.[7]:76 Cobain also had a period of consuming “notable” amounts of LSD, as observed by Marander,[7]:75 and was “really into getting fucked up: drugs, acid, any kind of drug”, observed Krist Novoselic; Cobain was also prone to alcoholism and solvent abuse

According to The Telegraph, Cobain had depression.[62] His cousin brought attention to the family history of suicide, mental illness and alcoholism, noting two of her uncles who had died by suicide with guns.

Emanuel’s paternal grandfather was a Moldovan Jew who emigrated from Bessarabia.[7] The surname Emanuel (Hebrew: עמנואל), which means “God is with us”, was adopted by their family in honor of his father’s brother Emanuel Auerbach, who was killed in 1933 in an altercation with Arabs in Jerusalem.[8][9]

Emanuel’s father, Benjamin M. Emanuel, was a Jerusalem-born[10] pediatrician at Michael Reese Hospital[11] who was once a member of the Irgun, a Jewish paramilitary organization that operated in British Mandate Palestine.[12] His mother, Marsha (née Smulevitz), is the daughter of a West Side Chicago union organizer who worked in the civil rights movement. She briefly owned a local rock and roll club,[8][13] and later became an adherent of Benjamin Spock’s writings. Emanuel’s parents met during the 1950s in Chicago.[13]

J. Edgar Hoover From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bureau of Investigation Head of the Radical Division

In August 1919, the 24-year-old Hoover became head of the Bureau of Investigation’s new General Intelligence Division, also known as the Radical Division because its goal was to monitor and disrupt the work of domestic radicals.[18] America’s First Red Scare was beginning, and one of Hoover’s first assignments was to carry out the Palmer Raids.

Hoover and his chosen assistants, George Ruch, monitored a variety of U.S. radicals with the intent to punish, arrest, or deport those whose politics they decided were dangerous.[clarification needed] Targets during this period included Marcus Garvey; Rose Pastor Stokes and Cyril Briggs; Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman; and future Supreme Court justice Felix Frankfurter, who, Hoover maintained, was “the most dangerous man in the United States.”

In 1920, Edgar Hoover was initiated at D.C.‘s Federal Lodge No. 1 in Washington D.C., becoming a Free Mason at the age of 25, becoming a 33rd Degree Inspector General Honorary in 1955.

Head of the Bureau of Investigation

In 1921, Hoover rose in the Bureau of Investigation to deputy head and, in 1924, the Attorney General made him the acting director. On May 10, 1924, President Calvin Coolidge appointed Hoover as the fifth Director of the Bureau of Investigation, partly in response to allegations that the prior director, William J. Burns, was involved in the Teapot Dome scandal.[29][30] When Hoover took over the Bureau of Investigation, it had approximately 650 employees, including 441 Special Agents.[31] Hoover fired all female agents and banned the future hiring of them.

James Schriver

Feb. 9, 1927 - Aug. 4, 2014

Santa Clara

James J. Schriver, a longtime resident of Santa Clara, Calif., passed away peacefully at home while surrounded by family on August 4, 2014. He was 87.

Known as “Jim” by his closest friends, “Buddy” by his family, and “Grandpa” by his many grandchildren, James Schriver was born February 9, 1927 in Hillsboro, N.D. He spent much of his childhood in Fargo, ND. Jim enlisted in the United States Navy in Jan 1945 at the age of 17, and quickly began work as a flight mechanic working alongside pilots and engineers to maintain the Navy’s air fleet. Jim would spend the next 22 years in service of his country, traveling around the world. In his later years, Jim loved to boast that his service allowed him to visit all seven continents on the globe - even Antarctica. He attended many Navy schools, and was stationed at a variety of bases, including: Norfolk Naval Station in Norfolk, Va., Naval Air Weapons Station in China Lake, Calif., Pearl Harbor-Hickam Base in Oahu, Hawaii and NAS Moffett Field. His final rank with the Navy was Chief Flight Engineer.

Jim was introduced to the love of his life, Erma L. Schriver (Hinnenkamp) on a trip to Yosemite. Jim and Erma married on Sept. 14, 1951 in Norfolk, Va. The family eventually settled down in Santa Clara, Calif., in 1957.

While in the Navy, Jim was qualified on the AJ Savage 1 on the Midway aircraft carrier. He also flew the Lockheed Constellation and C130 Hercules. He served his country proudly in WWII, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War with more than 15,000 logged flight hours on the C130.

Jim retired from the Navy in October 1966, and began work as a flight engineer and cockpit qualified pilot on the Boeing 707 for passenger and cargo airlines such as: Lockheed, World Airways, TIA, Saturn Airways, Interior Airlines of Alaska, Transamerica Airlines, Olympic Airways, and Beechcraft Aerospace, located in Hanger One at Moffett Field. He retired in 1989 at 59 years young. *

Adrián Alfonso Lamo Atwood (FEBRUARY 20, 1981 - March 14, 2018) was an American threat analyst[3][4] and hacker.[5] Lamo first gained media attention for breaking into several high-profile computer networks, including those of The New York Times, Yahoo!, and Microsoft, culminating in his 2003 arrest.[6]

Lamo was best known for reporting U.S. soldier Chelsea Manning to Army criminal investigators in 2010[7] for leaking hundreds of thousands of sensitive U.S. government documents to WikiLeaks.[8][9] Lamo died on March 14, 2018 at the age of 37.[10]

Adrian Lamo was born in Malden, Massachusetts[2] near Boston.[11] His father, Mario Ricardo Lamo, was Colombian.[12] Adrian Lamo attended high schools in Bogotá and San Francisco,[2] from which he did not graduate,[13][14][15] but received a GED and was court-ordered to take courses at American River College,[16] a community college in Sacramento County, California.[17] [18] Lamo began his hacking efforts by hacking games on the Commodore 64 and through phone phreaking.[19]

DNA controversy

Lamo in San Francisco in 2006 On May 9, 2006, while 18 months into a two-year probation sentence, Lamo refused to give the United States government a blood sample, which they had demanded to record his DNA in their CODIS system.[33] According to his attorney at the time Lamo had a religious objection to giving blood but was willing to give his DNA in another form. On June 15, 2007, lawyers for Lamo filed a motion citing the Book of Genesis as one basis for Lamo's religious opposition to the giving of blood.

On June 20, 2007, Lamo's legal counsel reached a settlement agreement with the U.S. Department of Justice whereby Lamo would submit a cheek swab in place of the blood sample.[34]

Greenwald is skeptical of an earlier story written by Poulsen about Lamo's institutionalization on psychiatric grounds, writing: "Lamo claimed he was diagnosed with Asperger's syndrome, a somewhat fashionable autism diagnosis which many stars in the computer world have also claimed."[53]

In the mid-1990s, Lamo volunteered for the gay and lesbian media firm PlanetOut Inc.[13][70] In 1998, Lamo was appointed to the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Questioning Youth Task Force by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.[71]

Lamo said in a Wired article that, in May 2010, after he reported the theft of his backpack, an investigating officer noted unusual behavior and placed him under a 72-hour involuntary psychiatric hold, which was extended to a nine-day hold. Lamo said he was diagnosed with Asperger syndrome at the psychiatric ward.[75]

For a period of time in March 2011, Lamo was allegedly “in hiding”, claiming that his “life was under threat” after turning in Manning.[76]

Lamo died on March 14, 2018, in Wichita, Kansas, at the age of 37.[77][78][79] Nearly three months later, the Sedgwick County Regional Forensic Science Center reported that “Despite a complete autopsy and supplemental testing, no definitive cause of death was identified.”[10][80] However, many bottles of pills were found in his home. Several of the pills found there were known to cause severe health problems when combined with kratom. As a result, evidence points to an accidental death due to drug abuse.[19] From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Even Bush's Sr's old government and oil buddies running America again, right into the ground! And, the current Bush Sr. plot to put Hillary into the presidency, all so that he can continue to rule America! Even the alleged killing of John F. Kennedy's son, so that Hillary could take his place as senator of New York! Oh, the evil that this man has done; and it knows no bounds! And, soon comes his demise!

My Father, I see a very large cemetery, with an arched entrance, and I am walking into this cemetery now. Ahead of me is quite a show, with a large U.S. flag flying and other flags flying also. And, I see in the midst of all that is going on a casket, which is open; and I walk up slowly to this casket and I see therein the body of George W. Bush Senior. Looking past him, I see then a second casket, and this one is draped with a flag and lifting the lid and peering inside I see the body of George Bush Jr., and thereafter I see yet another casket, which is also draped with an American flag. And lifting the lid, I peer inside and see the body of Bill Clinton.

These three are all in a row and amazingly with Bush Sr. first, then Bush Jr. and then Clinton last! In the background, I hear the shots of a rifle and hear the sounds of a lonesome bugle. It seems that the time may be in the spring, for I see tiny flowers amidst the graves! As I look among these graves I also see Laura Bush walk away and as she does so, she drops a white handkerchief and on this handkerchief are the words, “Good riddance!”

I walk back outside of the cemetery and look back one more time! When I look back, I see the spirit of Satan, the Red Dragon as he hovers over the three caskets. Than, I read in words, which are above him, “A time of trouble! Double trouble and toil! For, I am now come into my own!”

Then, I see Laura Bush as she gets into a black limousine and around her feet are many pieces of gumdrop candies, and surely this means something. Then, I hear the words “Now, Ronald Reagan will rest in peace. For, his would-be murderers go by the way!” (Ronald Reagan liked to eat gum drop candies.)

Huey P. Newton

Huey P. Newton was an African American activist best known for founding the militant Black Panther Party with Bobby Seale in 1966.

In 1966, Huey P. Newton and Bobby Seale founded the left-wing Black Panther Party for Self Defense in Oakland, California. The organization was central to the Black Power movement, making headlines with its controversial rhetoric and militaristic style. Newton faced a number of criminal charges over the years and at one point fled to Cuba before returning to the U.S. and earning his doctorate. Struggling with drug and alcohol addiction in his later years, he was killed in 1989 in Oakland.

Background and Early Life

Newton was born in Monroe, Louisiana, in 1942 during World War II, the youngest child of Armelia Johnson and Walter Newton, a sharecropper and Baptist lay preacher.

Huey Percy Newton was born on FEBRUARY 17, 1942, in Monroe, Louisiana. Newton helped establish the African American political organization the Black Panther Party, and became a leading figure in the Black Power movement of the 1960s. The youngest of seven siblings, he and his family moved to Oakland, California when Newton was a toddler. Though later stating he was close to his family, the youngster had a difficult time early in life, which was reflected in highly erratic behavior at school and on the streets.

LOUIS MASSIAH: Could you talk about, was there any relationship with the Nation of Islam and could you talk about your experiences with the Nation of Islam and how that affected the Ten Point Program, in shaping it?

HUEY NEWTON: Well, ah, early on I was, a, about in the early ’60s, about 1960, 61 I had started, ah, Oakland City College. At Oakland City College I was a member, ah, instrumental in, in creating the Afro-American Association. The Afro-American Association was led by Donald Wharton. And, ah, the program was a cultural program to, ah, ah, to, ah, institute ethnic studies, African studies and Afro-American studies. Ah, from the Afro-American, the Afro-American Association, ah, ah, we created from, from, from the Afro-American Association, its, stemmed the Soul Student Advisory Council, and that was the action group inside of the school. After we created the, ah, the study classes, I felt that there was need to do other things, ah, to affect the wider community. And, ah, I became, ah, in contact, I, I came in contact with the Black Muslims. Ah, I was very impressed with Malcolm X. And, ah, Malcolm X’ program, or the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, that, ah, Malcolm X followed, program was, ah, ah, it was like a Ten Point Program. Matter of fact, that, ah, our program was structured after the, ah, patterned after the Black Muslim program. It, ah, was minus the religion. And, ah, I think that I became disillusioned with the, with the, ah, Muslims after Malcolm X was assassinated. I think that I was following not, ah, Elijah Muhammad or the Muslims but Malcolm X himself.

Peter Yarrow retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Peter Yarrow was born in Manhattan, the son of Vera Wisebrode (née Vira Burtakoff) and Bernard Yarrow. His parents were educated Ukrainian Jewish immigrants, whose families had settled in Providence, Rhode Island.

Bernard Yarrow (1899-1973) attended the University of Kraków (Kraków, Poland) and the Odessa University (Odessa, Ukraine), before emigrating to the United States in 1922 at the age of 23.

Peter Yarrow (born May 31, 1938) is an American singer and songwriter who found fame with the 1960s folk music trio Peter, Paul and Mary. Yarrow co-wrote (with Leonard Lipton) one of the group's greatest hits, "Puff, the Magic Dragon". He is also a political activist and has supported causes that range from opposition to the Vietnam War to support for school anti-bullying programs.

He anglicized his surname from Yaroshevitz to Yarrow, obtained a Bachelor of Science degree from Columbia University in 1925 where he joined Phi Sigma Delta fraternity,[2] and in 1928 graduated from Columbia Law School. He then maintained a private law practice in New York City until 1938, when he was appointed an assistant district attorney under the then-district attorney, Thomas E. Dewey. In 1944 he was recruited into the Office of Strategic Services, where he served with distinction.

After the war, Bernard Yarrow joined Sullivan and Cromwell, the Dulles brothers' law firm.[4] He was a founding board member of the National Committee for a Free Europe, an anti-Communist organization. In 1952 he became a senior vice-president of the CIA-funded Radio Free Europe, an organization he helped to found.

Yarrow's mother Vera (1904-1991), who had come to America at age three, became a speech and drama teacher at New York's Julia Richman High School for girls. She and Bernard divorced in 1943 when their son Peter was five, and Vera subsequently married Harold Wisebrode, the executive director of the Central Synagogue in Manhattan.[6] Bernard Yarrow married his wartime London OSS partner Silvia Tim, and converted to Protestantism..

Peter Yarrow spent the summers of 1951 and 1952 at Interlochen's Music camp. Peter graduated second in his class among male students with a physics prize from New York's High School of Music and Art, where he had studied painting. He was accepted at Cornell University as a physics major but soon switched majors, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in psychology in 1959. Among his Cornell classmates were Thomas Pynchon and Richard Fariña.

Allen Dulles retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Allen Welsh Dulles APRIL 7, 1893 January 29, 1969) was the first civilian Director of Central Intelligence (DCI), and its longest-serving director to date. As head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) during the early Cold War, he oversaw the 1953 Iranian coup d'état, the 1954 Guatemalan coup d'état, the Lockheed U-2 aircraft program, the Project MKUltra mind control program and the Bay of Pigs Invasion. He was fired by John F. Kennedy over the latter fiasco.

Dulles was born on April 7, 1893, in Watertown, New York,[2] one of five children of Presbyterian minister Allen Macy Dulles, and his wife, Edith F. (Foster). He was five years younger than his brother John Foster Dulles, Dwight D. Eisenhower's Secretary of State and chairman and senior partner of Sullivan & Cromwell, and two years older than his sister, diplomat Eleanor Lansing Dulles. His maternal grandfather, John W. Foster, was Secretary of State under Benjamin Harrison, while his uncle by marriage, Robert Lansing was Secretary of State under Woodrow Wilson.[3] Dulles was uncle to Avery Dulles, a Jesuit priest and cardinal of the Catholic Church, who taught theology at Fordham University from 1988 to 2008.

Initially assigned to Vienna, he was transferred to Bern, Switzerland, along with the rest of the embassy personnel shortly before the U.S. entered the First World War.[9] Later in life Dulles said he had been telephoned by Vladimir Lenin, seeking a meeting with the American embassy on April 8, 1917, the day before Lenin left Switzerland to travel to Saint Petersburg aboard a German train. After recovering from the Spanish flu he was assigned to the American delegation at the Paris Peace Conference, along with his elder brother Foster.

From 1922 to 1926, he served five years as chief of the Near East division of the Department of State.

In 1926, he earned a law degree from George Washington University Law School and took a job at Sullivan & Cromwell, the New York firm where his brother, John Foster Dulles, was a partner. He became a director of the Council on Foreign Relations in 1927, the first new director since the Council's founding in 1921. He was the Council's secretary from 1933 to 1944.[11]

On the evening of September 5, 1982, Gaynor, her husband Paul Gregory, actress Mary Martin, and Martin's manager Ben Washer were involved in a serious car wreck in San Francisco. A van ran a red light at the corner of California and Franklin Streets and crashed into the Luxor taxicab in which the group was riding, knocking it into a tree.[38] Ben Washer was killed, Mary Martin sustained two broken ribs and a broken pelvis, and Gaynor's husband suffered two broken legs.[39] Gaynor sustained several serious injuries, including 11 broken ribs, a fractured collarbone, pelvic fractures, a punctured lung, and injuries to her bladder and kidney.[40] Robert Cato, the driver of the van, was arrested on two counts of felony drunk driving, reckless driving, speeding, running a red light, and vehicular homicide.[38][39] Cato pleaded not guilty and was later released on $10,000 bail.[39] On March 15, 1983, he was found guilty of drunk driving and vehicular homicide and was sentenced to three years in prison.[41]

A Star Is Born (1937 film, 1945 poster) As a result of her injuries, Gaynor was hospitalized for four months and underwent two surgeries to repair a perforated bladder and internal bleeding.[39][42] She recovered sufficiently to return to her home in Desert Hot Springs, but continued to experience health issues due to the injuries and required frequent hospitalizations. Shortly before her death, she was hospitalized for pneumonia and other ailments. On September 14, 1984, Gaynor died at Desert Hospital in Palm Springs at the age of 77. Her doctor, Bart Apfelbaum, attributed her death to the 1982 car wreck and stated that Gaynor “never recovered” from her injuries.[43]

Gaynor is buried at Hollywood Forever Cemetery next to her second husband, Adrian. Her headstone reads “Janet Gaynor Gregory”, her legal name after her marriage to her third husband, producer and director Paul Gregory.[44]

The sections titled “RPA Manning Improvements”, “Nepal Earthquake Response”, Air Force Support to ISIL Operations”, “Space”,“SpaceX Certification”, “Addressing Congressional Mandates on Force Size”, “Attention on the Nuclear Enterprise” all suffer from quality issues and don’t seem to be written from a neural point of view. Sentences such as “As the Executive Agent for Space, James knows well that space is vitally important.” , “James shared images of the C-17’s on her Facebook page going viral with more than 1.6 million impressions and 56 thousand likes, comments and shares.” sound self serving and don’t seem noteworthy enough for inclusion.

Air Force Maj. Gen. James Martin is reportedly doing well after he fainted Tuesday during a news conference to unveil the service's fiscal 2017 budget.

Maj. Gen. Martin, deputy assistant secretary for budget under the Air Force's Financial Management and Comptroller office, is back to work, "supporting Secretary of the Air Force Deborah Lee James and Chief of Staff General Mark Welsh at the Senate Appropriations hearing" Wednesday, Air Force spokeswoman Maj. Melissa Milner told Air Force Times.

He was discussing the funding for the F-35 fighter jet program in the Pentagon briefing room when he collapsed on the podium. He was caught by Air Force Deputy for Budget Carolyn Gleason, who picked up where he left off and continued the briefing.

THE WARRIORS (FILM)

In his book about the film, author Sean Egan summarized its appeal: "Whereas the milieu of The Warriors was one normally only depicted in motion pictures as an examination of a social problem, this movie portrayed life from the street gang's point of view. It was an obvious but revolutionary approach that struck a chord with the urban working class, especially its adolescent subset."

The Warriors is a 1979 American action thriller film directed by Walter Hill. Based on Sol Yurick's 1965 novel of the same name, it was released in the United States on February 9, 1979. The film centers on the titular fictitious New York City street gang who must make an urban journey of 30 miles (48 km), from the north end of the Bronx to their home turf in Coney Island in southern Brooklyn, after they are framed for the murder of a respected gang leader.

- GRAMERCY RIFFS: Cyrus, leader of the Gramercy Riffs, the most powerful gang in New York City, requests that each of the city's gangs send nine unarmed delegates to Van Cortlandt Park for a midnight summit. Cyrus proposes to the assembled crowd a citywide truce and alliance that would allow the gangs to control the city together, since they collectively outnumber the police by three to one. Parallel? Moral Majority organized in the 1980s. Later Tea Parties and Sovereign Groups

- ROGUES: Luther, the unbalanced and sadistic leader of the Rogues, shoots Cyrus dead as police officers arrive to raid the summit. In the ensuing chaos, Luther realizes that one of the Warriors, Fox, appears to suspect him, and makes a false accusation. The US Gov Rouges, mocking me and false accusing me, trying to call out Donegan's into a loosing fight over a false allegation transferring black from the guilty rouges to the loyal veteran family Warriors.

- THE WARRIORS : Cleon of the multi-racial gang The Warriors is the one falsely accused. Falsely accused the Donegan family fits this, I seem to be accused and entrapped into NOT of my own making in a smear campaign

- RIFFS : Deceased Cyrus's gang The Riffs are a gang which seeks vengeance against the Warriors and stalk the Warriors. Fits the Mafia used to attack me, the riff raff. The Riffs understand later they were hunting the wrong target and turn on the Rouges as I have been tryng to get them to see the Georege H.W. Bush Red State conspiracy as the REAL KILLERS

A black market run by the Shadow Government of deep state criminals is sexually attacking me both as racial violence and as profiteering on the secret history of the Donegan genome which people want access to.

These are lethal violent criminal who murdered Jen Moore, many other tied to MKULTRA in Austria and its connection to Free Mason (33) infiltrators to the US Government.

Like the poroise the band Heart compares itself to as record produces attempt to extort sexual favors from the band if the band is to sign them, but band swims deep into what I call Max-Protect, football term for walls around me, the house walls, my best defense as far as home turf and being in control of it.

During the writing of the book trying to find out what the black market criminal organization interest in my genome was, like Heart, I have tried to stay in the most safe place.

The sexual attack is in the form of racial hate crime, racial groups plant child porn and claim I am a trafficker in it and will pay for the child porn. In fact the likely Defense Intelligence Agency Pizzagate scheme is a mix of researching Goths by hiring adult sex workers to pubish Fake Ed who is a teen-phile and also find out who those goth women are.

The affect of the Dopple's acts on my reputation and me sighted near teen females is dectructive to my reputation and that damage reputation incites the public to conspire against my presence including my presence in court when hearings are held.

Lyrics

So this ain't the end, I saw you again, today
I had to turn my heart away
Smiled like the sun, kisses for everyone
And tales, it never fails

You lying so low in the weeds
I bet you gonna ambush me
You'd have me down, down, down, down on my knees
Now wouldn't you, barracuda? Oh

Back over time we were all trying for free
You met the porpoise and me, uh-huh
No right, no wrong you're selling a song, a name
Whisper game

And if the real thing don't do the trick
You better make up something quick
You gonna burn, burn, burn, burn, burn to the wick
Ooh, barracuda, oh yeah

"Sell me, sell you" the porpoise said
Dive down deep now to save my head, you
I think that you got the blues too

All that night and all the next
Swam without looking back

Made for the western pools, silly, silly fools

The real thing don’t do the trick, no
You better make up something quick
You gonna burn, burn, burn, burn, burn it to the wick
Ohh, barra-barracuda, yeah

José María Mariano Escriva y Albás

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia/ *

José María Mariano Escriva y Albás was born to José Escriva y Corzán and his wife, María de los Dolores Albás y Blanc on 9 January 1902, in the small town of Barbastro, in Huesca, Aragón, Spain, the second of six children and the first of two sons. José Escrivá was a merchant and a partner in a textile company that eventually went bankrupt, forcing the family to relocate in 1915 to the city of Logroño, in the northern province of La Rioja, where he worked as a clerk in a clothing store.[10] Young Josemaría first felt that “he had been chosen for something”, it is reported, when he saw footprints left in the snow by a monk walking barefoot.

With his father’s blessing, Escrivá prepared to become a priest of the Catholic Church. He studied first in Logroño and then in Zaragoza, where he was ordained as deacon on Saturday, 20 December 1924. He was ordained a priest, also in Zaragoza, on Saturday, 28 March 1925. After a brief appointment to a rural parish in Perdiguera, he went to Madrid, the Spanish capital, in 1927 to study law at the Central University. In Madrid, Escrivá was employed as a private tutor and as a chaplain to the Foundation of Santa Isabel, which comprised the royal Convent of Santa Isabel and a school managed by the Little Sisters of the Assumption.

During the Spanish Civil War, Escrivá fled from Madrid, which was controlled by the anti-clerical Republicans, via Andorra and France, to the city of Burgos, which was the headquarters of General Francisco Franco’s Nationalist forces.[16] After the war ended in 1939 with Franco’s victory, Escrivá was able to resume his studies in Madrid and complete a doctorate in law, for which he submitted a thesis on the historical jurisdiction of the Abbess of Santa María la Real de Las Huelgas.

The Priestly Society of the Holy Cross, affiliated with Opus Dei, was founded on Sunday, 14 February 1943. Escrivá relocated to Rome in 1946. The decree declaring Escrivá “Venerable” states that “in 1947 and on Monday, 16 June 1950, he obtained approval of Opus Dei as an institution of pontifical right. With tireless charity and operative hope he guided the development of Opus Dei throughout the world, activating a vast mobilization of lay people … He gave life to numerous initiatives in the work of evangelization and human welfare; he fostered vocations to the priesthood and the religious life everywhere… Above all, he devoted himself tirelessly to the task of forming the members of Opus Dei.”

Divinity as a Nation rather than Natioanal Consciousness or awareness.

Many of his contemporaries recount the tendency of Escrivá to preach about patriotism as opposed to nationalism.

According to Catalan sociologist Joan Estruch:

> More than “a classic of the spirituality of all time”, Escrivá de Balaguer is at bottom a child of his time: he is the product of a specific country, a specific epoch, a specific church. These are the Spain of General Franco and the church of Pope Pius X. If Opus Dei had “never > seen the need to bring itself up to date”, as Escrivá maintained, Opus would today be a paramilitary, pro-fascist, antimodernist, integralist (reactionary) organization. If it is not, it is because it has evolved over time

Professor Peter Berglar, a German historian, asserts that Franco’s falangists suspected Escrivá of “internationalism, anti-Spainism and Freemasonry” and that during “the first decade of Franco’s regime, Opus Dei and Escrivá were attacked with perseverance bordering on fanaticism, not by enemies, but by supporters of the new Spanish State. Escrivá was even reported to the Tribunal for the Fight against Freemasonry”

On June 26, 1975, Josemaría died in his workroom of a heart attack. The last thing he ever looked upon was an hanging icon of Our Lady. At his death, Opus Dei was present on all inhabited continents, numbering over 60,000 people from more than 80 nationalities.

In 1963 the year JFK died, he was named by Pope John XXIII as a consultant on the Pontifical Commission for the revision of the Code of Canon Law. Pope Paul VI named him consultant on several post-Conciliar commissions. In 1975, he was chosen general president of the Opus Dei and successor of Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer, and in 1982, the Holy See appointed him as the first Prelate of Opus Dei. In 1991, he was consecrated a bishop by Pope John Paul II, with Archbishops Giovanni Battista Re and Justin Francis Rigali serving as co-consecrators. That same year, he attended World Youth Day in Czestochowa.

He has written extensively about pastoral and ecclesiological matters that examine among others, the role of the lay faithful in the Roman Catholic Church, the human side of priestly formation, the dynamics and functionality of pastoral structures. As Prelate, he also served as Grand Chancellor of the University of Piura in Peru.

Shortly after his 80th birthday, he returned to Rome on a pilgrimage from the Holy Land. He died shortly thereafter. He had celebrated his last Mass at the Church of the Cenacle. Later that day, Pope John Paul II came to pray before del Portillo's remains, which now lie in the crypt of the Church of the Prelature, Our Lady of Peace at Bruno Buozzi 75, Rome.

Álvaro del Portillo y Diez de Sollano (11 March 1914 - 23 March 1994) was a Spanish engineer and Roman Catholic bishop. He served as the prelate of Opus Dei between 1982 and 1994 as the successor to Josemaría Escrivá.

Church leaders Pope John Paul II and Cardinal Carlo Caffarra have praised Portillo as a faithful servant of God. John Paul II referred to him as a "good and faithful servant" while Caffarra dubbed him a "disciple of Christ".

A Convergence in the Force. Red Bloods slave Shmi Skywalker on Tatooine and Palpatine with Blue Mitcroloans

Rey hears the voices of past Jedi, who lend her their strength. Palpatine attacks her with lightning, but Rey deflects it using Luke and Leia's lightsabers, killing Palpatine before dying herself. Ben uses the Force to revive her at the cost of his own life; Rey kisses Ben before he dies. The Resistance defeats Palpatine's armada, while people across the galaxy rise up against the First Order. The Resistance returns to their base to celebrate.

Sheev Palpatine likely biological father of luke and Lea via their mother Shima the farm slave appears in each trilogy in the nine-film Skywalker saga, in which he is portrayed by Ian McDiarmid and serves as the primary antagonist. In the original trilogy, Palpatine is depicted as Emperor of the Galactic Empire and the master of Darth Vader. In the prequel trilogy, he is portrayed as a charismatic politician—and, secretly, a Sith Lord—who orchestrates the Clone Wars, all but exterminates the Jedi Order, ends the Galactic Republic. OLVER BARRETT III

A legacy "numeral" descendent of Oliver Barret. A WASP in Boston and powerfull connected tycoon who can control lives with telephone calls

OLIVER BARRETT IV

WASP son and another numeral taunted by a barrista catholic girl from Radcliff. The Harvard boy and Jock is intriuged in the reparte and falls in love

JENNY

The Radcliffe girl. In Boston socialite circles the daughter of a bakeshop owners, poor, and without connections, and the wrong religion does not seem a favorable outlook for the wife of Barrett IIIs son, Barrett IV

To dissuade his son, a fellow Harvard baccalaureate graduate, Barrett III cuts financial support for Harvard Law School. With no way to pay the bills Barret IV asks for a scholarship but Harvard Law admissions officer and Barrett III fellow law student will "not intervene in a family fight" and goes along with the financial constraint and will not provide a scholarship to WASP from such a well to do family

PHIL

Catholic father of Jenny. Is moved by but in stunned disbelief of the non religious love based marriage ceremony of Jenny and Barrett IV which as a break with both WASP and Catholic traditions.

Love Story is romantic and funny, yet tragic. It is the tale of two college students whose love enables them to overcome the adversities they encounter in life: Oliver Barrett IV, a Harvard jock and heir to the Barrett fortune and legacy, and Jennifer Cavilleri, the quick-witted daughter of a Rhode Island baker. Oliver (Ollie) was expected to assume control of his father's business empire, while Jennifer (Jenny) was a music major studying at Radcliffe College and planning to study in Paris. From very different worlds, Oliver and Jenny are immediately attracted to each other and their love deepens. Jenny and Ollie are brought together in the unlikeliest of ways.

Upon graduation from college, Barret IV and Jenny decide to marry, against the wishes of Oliver's father Barrett III, who promptly severs all ties with his son. Without financial support, the couple struggles to pay Oliver's way through Harvard's Law School, with Jenny working as a private school teacher. Graduating third in his class, Oliver gets several job offers and takes up a position at a respectable New York law firm. The couple move to New York City, excited to spend more time together, rather than working and studying. The pair decide to have a child. After Jenny fails to conceive, they consult a medical specialist, who after repeated tests, informs Oliver that Jenny is suffering from leukemia, making it clear that "she's dying".

As instructed by his doctor, Oliver attempts to live a normal life without telling Jenny of her condition. Jenny nevertheless discovers her ailment after confronting her doctor about it. With their days together numbered, Oliver is desperate and seeks financial relief from his father. Instead of telling his father what the money is truly for, Oliver misleads him. From her hospital bed, Jenny speaks with her father about funeral arrangements, and then asks for Oliver. She tells him to avoid blaming himself, and asks him to hold her tightly before she dies. When Mr. Barrett realizes that Jenny is ill and that his son borrowed the money for her, he immediately sets out for New York. By the time he reaches the hospital, Jenny has died. Mr. Barrett apologizes to his son, who replies with something Jenny had once told him: “Love means never having to say you’re sorry…” and breaks down in his arms.

Donegan’s connection: This matches thematicaly what my parents experince in Boston as Catholics ultimately as Atheists together in their marriage although with Catholic sympathies and discrimanated against by WASPS.

One of the deepest connections I have with my now decesased mother Glorian is her telling me that after her death I should never feel guilty baout anything I am or was wrong about, it is all forgiven out of love and she would not want me to fell guilty. It was exactly that type of thing I learned from her and quoted her on, love is learning, not wasting emotion on guilt.

“Love means never having to say you’re sorry” becomes a catchphrase in the movie. It is used to heal the relationship somewhat between Barrett IV and III. Barrett III tries not to indenture himself to his father’ s control by not taking money. Barrett IV believes love should drive events and that may mean refusing money. Later Barrett III will give a check, no questions asked, on blind faith to Barrett IV. Later the father learns the check was for her illness and perhaps burial. Thus Barrett III could be left out of the loop of events, wanted by Barrett IV. This allowed III the flexibility he needed. III brought this catch phrase into the structured and cold relationship IV was trying to warm.

DYSGRAPHIA:

A disorder involving difficulties with writing or typing, sometimes due to problems with eye-hand coordination; it also can impede direction- or sequence-oriented processes, such as tying knots or carrying out repetitive tasks.[24] In dyslexia, dysgraphia is often multifactorial, due to impaired letter-writing automaticity, organizational and elaborative difficulties, and impaired visual word forming, which makes it more difficult to retrieve the visual picture of words required for spelling

ATTENTION DEFICIT HYPERACTIVITY DISORDER (ADHD)

A disorder characterized by problems sustaining attention, hyperactivity, or acting impulsively.[25]

Dyslexia and ADHD commonly occur together.[5][26][27] Approximately 15%[11] or 12-24% of people with dyslexia have ADHD;[28] and up to 35% of people with ADHD have dyslexia.

AUDITORY PROCESSING DISORDER:

A listening disorder that affects the ability to process auditory information.[29][30] This can lead to problems with auditory memory and auditory sequencing. Many people with dyslexia have auditory processing problems, and may develop their own logographic cues to compensate for this type of deficit. Some research suggests that auditory processing skills could be the primary shortfall in dyslexia.

DEVELOPMENTAL COORDINATION DISORDER

A neurological condition characterized by difficulty in carrying out routine tasks involving balance, fine-motor control, kinesthetic coordination, difficulty in the use of speech sounds, problems with short-term memory, and organization.[33]

Mr. Hardcastle plans to marry his forthright daughter Kate to the bashful son of his friend Sir Charles Marlow. Mrs. Hardcastle wants her recalcitrant son Tony Lumpkin to marry her ward Constance Neville, who is in love with Marlow's friend Hastings. Humorous mishaps occur when Tony dupes Marlow and Hastings into believing that Mr. Hardcastle's home is an inn. By posing as a servant, Kate wins the heart of Marlow, who is uncomfortable in the company of wellborn women but is flirtatious with barmaids. Through various deceptions, Tony releases himself from his mother's clutches and unites Constance with Hastings.

Dune and and NWO Galactic Family Lines Planning guide for Planetary Leaders

Dune (novel) Wikipedia retrieved from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

Dune is set in the distant future amidst a feudal interstellar society in which various noble houses control planetary fiefs.

Its authors Frank Herbert spent the next five years researching, writing, and revising. He published a three-part serial Dune World in the monthly Analog, from December 1963 to February 1964.

Duke Leto Atreides of the House Atreides, ruler of the ocean planet Caladan, is assigned by the Padishah Emperor Shaddam IV to serve as fief ruler of the planet Arrakis. Arrakis is a harsh and inhospitable desert planet, and the only source of melange, or “the spice”, an extremely rare and valuable substance that extends human life and enhances mental capabilities.

Shaddam sees House Atreides as a rival, and conspires with House Harkonnen, the longstanding enemies of House Atreides among the other Great Houses in the Landsraad, to destroy Leto once he arrives on Arrakis. Leto is aware his assignment is a trap of some kind, but cannot refuse thus it is a disputed planet as to ruling rights

Paul Atreides is part of gaining rule on the planet for House Atreides. Two years pass, and Paul’s powerful prescience abilities manifest, which lead the Fremen to consider him their messiah. Paul recognizes that the Fremen could be a powerful fighting force to take back Arrakis

He begins to support Arrakis planetary nationalism and its freedom fight from the exploitive spice seeking Galactic rule.

Leto's concubine Lady Jessica is an acolyte of the Bene Gesserit, an exclusively female group that pursues mysterious political aims and wields superhuman physical powers. Though Jessica was instructed by the Bene Gesserit to bear a daughter as part of their breeding program, out of love for Leto she bore a son, Paul. Paul is trained in warfare by Leto's aides, the Mentat assassin.

Witness (1985 film)

- Corrupt and Murdering Police, Samuel Lapp is a witness to
    - Jacob Lapp Deceased hushand of family
    - Reacheal Lapp (Widow)
    - Samuel (son)

In 1984, an Amish community outside of Lancaster, Pennsylvania attends the funeral of Jacob Lapp, who leaves behind his young wife Rachel and eight-year-old son Samuel.

> Comparison: Jacob Lapp, James and Clorian Donegan (deceased). Samuel Lapp is Edward Donegan, witness to money laundering of stolen goods by the Police.

Rachel and Samuel (just Ed Donegan) travel by train to visit Rachel's sister, which takes them into Philadelphia. (Ed is in Texas just getting away from corrupt Tom Donegan) While waiting at 30th Street Station for a connecting train to Baltimore, Samuel goes into the men's room and witnesses the brutal murder of an undercover police officer, but manages to evade detection by hiding in the stalls.

Detective John Book (Harrison Ford) (Jen Moore fatally wounded protected Ed Donegan from money launderers) is assigned to the case where he and partner Sergeant Elton Carter question Samuel. Although Samuel is unable to identify the perpetrator from mug shots or a lineup, he later sees a newspaper clipping in a trophy case of narcotics officer James McFee receiving an award and points him out to Book. Book investigates and finds out that McFee was previously responsible for a seizure of expensive chemicals used to make black-market amphetamines, but the evidence has now disappeared. Book surmises that McFee himself fenced the chemicals to drug dealers, and that the murdered detective, Ian Zenovich, had been investigating the theft.

Book insists that going to a hospital would allow the corrupt police officers to find him and put Samuel in danger. Rachel's father-in-law Eli reluctantly agrees to shelter him despite his distrust of the outsider. Book slowly recovers in their care and begins to develop feelings for Rachel, who likewise is drawn to him. The Lapps' neighbor Daniel Hochleitner had hoped to court her and this becomes a cause of friction. During his convalescence, Book dresses in Jacob Lapp's clothing in order to avoid drawing attention to himself. His relationship with the Amish community deepens as they learn he is skilled at carpentry and seems like a decent, hard-working man.

The Verdict and being up against a Catholic Hospital in Boston during a liability case

[In a rushed medical set of procedures it was missed that the patient had eaten recently, on the annoying admitting form, and under anesthesia choked on his own vomit.] The good doctors everyone loves must be protected by the extensive powerful church figures in Boston.]

- Paul Newman as Frank Galvin, lawyer for the comatose hospital patient)
- Lindsay Crouse asNurse Kaitlin Costello Price put into hiding by the Catholics but later discovered in altered identity)

Once-promising attorney Frank Galvin, framed for jury tampering years ago, was fired from his elite Boston firm and is now an alcoholic ambulance chaser whose practice is on the verge of collapse. As a favor, his friend and former teacher Mickey sends him a medical malpractice case in which it is all but assured that the defense will settle for a large amount.

Frank visits the comatose woman and is deeply affected. Later, a representative of the Catholic hospital where the incident took place offers a substantial settlement.

Frank’s break comes when he discovers that Kaitlin Costello, the nurse who admitted his client to the hospital, is now a pre-school teacher in New York.

Frank’s case quickly experiences several devastating setbacks. His client’s brother-in-law learns from “the other side” that Frank rejected the settlement and angrily confronts him. His star medical expert disappears, and a hastily-arranged substitute’s credentials and testimony are called into serious question on the witness stand. His opponent, the high-priced attorney Ed Concannon, has at his disposal a large legal team that is masterful with the press. The presiding judge, who despises Frank, undermines his questioning of the substitute. No one who was in the operating room is willing to testify that negligence occurred. Concannon is revealed to be paying off a reluctant Laura, staff to Frank as he developes his case.

Nurse Kaitlin Costello Price [Costel] testifies that, shortly after the patient had become comatose, the anesthesiologist (one of the two doctors on trial, along with the archdiocese of Boston) told her to change her notes on the admitting form to hide his fatal error. She had written down that the patient had eaten a full meal only one hour before being admitted. The doctor had failed to read the admitting notes and, in ignorance, administered an anesthetic that should never have been given to a patient with a full stomach. As a result, the patient vomited and choked. * scene on Youtube

Costello further testifies that, when the anesthesiologist realized his mistake, he met with Costello in private and threatened her job unless she changed the number “1” to the number “9” on her admitting notes.

Feeling that his case is hopeless, Frank gives a brief but passionate closing argument. In the end the jury finds in favor of Frank’s clients. The foreman then asks the judge whether the jury can award more than the amount the plaintiffs sought; the judge resignedly [freindly to the Church, its reputation, and its lawyers] replies that they [they jury] can.

Frank argues frankly that “in his religion” people are told to act is if they had faith and find the truth in their hearts and hold faith to that, we can conclude suggesting the rquest of church officials may be acts of comliance rather than acts of faith. * Youtube clip of Frank Galvin

Much of the movies emotional crescendo comes as the nurse, say a 30, was put under such pressure by the 33s, and left her with a requirement to lie or hide rather than be truthful because powerful interests in the church were afraid of the truth.

Consider Epica, and betrayal by the church, as this nruse was.

My belief is top down power is asking people to lie and my brothers and others like Tia Marselli were put inbetween a rock and hard palce with Metro Churches need for them to cooperate and pressur eto do so.

Oliver Twist

Oliver Twist is born into a life of poverty and misfortune, raised in a workhouse in the fictional town of Mudfog, located 70 miles (110 km) north of London.[11][12][8] He is orphaned by his father’s mysterious absence and his mother Agnes’ death in childbirth, welcomed only in the workhouse and robbed of her gold name locket. Oliver is meagerly provided for under the terms of the Poor Law and spends the first nine years of his life living at a baby farm in the ‘care’ of a woman named Mrs Mann, who embezzles much of the money entrusted to baby farm by the parish. Oliver is brought up with little food and few comforts. Around the time of Oliver’s ninth birthday, Mr Bumble, the parish beadle, removes Oliver from the baby farm and puts him to work picking and weaving oakum at the main workhouse. Oliver, who toils with very little food, remains in the workhouse for six months. One day, the desperately hungry boys decide to draw lots; the loser must ask for another portion of gruel. This task falls to Oliver himself, who at the next meal comes forward trembling, bowl in hand, and begs the master for gruel with his famous request: “Please, sir, I want some more”.[13]

Glorificaus The Key and Splitting the Blood

> “The Key is the link. The link must be severed. Such is the will of God.” - Litany of the Knights of Byzantium

The Key was an ancient mystical energy with the power to unlock the gates between all existing dimensions, though only at a certain time and place.

Origin

Who, when or why it was created is unknown, though in the 12th Century, the Order of Dagon was founded by Tarnis in order to protect it. Meanwhile, the Knights of Byzantium sought to destroy the Key so its destructive power would never be unleashed. While one of the monks claimed that for centuries the key had no form, Glorificus, having seen the Key very briefly, described it as “a bright, green, swirly shimmer”.M.

Embodiment

In 2000, fearing that Glory would use the Key, the surviving monks of the Order of Dagon transformed the Key into Dawn Summers with the hope that Buffy Summers, the Slayer, would keep it safe.

Reality was altered and Dawn and everyone around her were given false memories so that they would believe she had always been present as Buffy’s younger sister. The monks used Buffy as a template to create Dawn’s physical body, making them biological sisters. However, people “beyond reality,” such as the mentally ill, were able to perceive Dawn as the Key. Since Glory fed on human sanity, she created a stockpile of these individuals, unaware of what they were capable of for months until eventually one of them identified the Key in Glory’s presence, leading to her capturing Dawn the night after.

In 2001, Glory’s worshipper Doc succeeded in using Dawn as the Key by spilling her blood, but the resulting tearing of the veils between dimensions was soon sealed back by Buffy’s self-sacrifice.

“Every choice we make allows us to manipulate the future.”

After being transported from 200 years in the future through a monster gravitational wave that supposedly thrust him into the past, professor Berlinghoff Rasmussen ends up aboard the Enterprise. That part about him stealing a time-travel pod and venturing into the 2400s to steal a few gadgets and reinvent them back in the 2200s is totally irrelevant. Between trying to swipe a neural stimulator, a tricorder and even Data himself, the fraud gets owned by Picard when the captain refuses to buy his philosophizing about altering the future. Picard puts the professor from the faux future in his place by refusing to believe history is restricted to bogus textbooks. No wonder Rasmussen’s hair looks chronically electrocuted.

“Courage can be an emotion too.”

Few TNG phenomena are more shocking than Data feeling emotions. This is the same android who previously bumbled his way through a relationship (if you could call it that) which lasted the better part of 24 hours. When a distraught Data demands that Captain Picard deactivate him until someone can remove his newly installed emotion chip, whose frighteningly human repercussions have become unbearable, Picard gives him a human response. Deactivation is not happening. Neither is any excuse to escape the problems caused by artificial emotion. Data is going to have to adapt and deal with these alien feelings.

Trying takes courage. Who needs a therapist when you have Picard?

“The only person you’re truly competing against is yourself.”

So Wesley Crusher is crushed after failing the Starfleet Academy exam. Understandable. The Enterprise has been his life since he was a curious kid in bad sweaters screwing around with time-travel computer programs that defy the laws of physics. The precocious ensign had hoped to embark on the road to being an officer, except that even his best effort couldn’t launch his career. His captain is hardly disappointed. You wouldn’t exactly think that a kid who knew what all the controls could do before he could even talk in full sentences would fail on his first try, but get this: so did Picard. Just don’t tell that to anyone else on board.

“You cannot explain away a wantonly immoral act because you think it is connected to some higher purpose.”

When Lumerian empath Alkar decides to use others’ bodies to channel his dark thoughts so the shadows can be cleared for him to perform mediations, regardless of any fatalities, it’s the kind of selfishness that warrants a verbal smackdown from Picard. Deanna Troi being used as a vessel for this twisted pseudoscience incenses the captain even more. This leads to the perpetrator’s attempt to justify this reverse psychic vampirism in an unapologetically cold confession, but Picard is colder.

“There can be no justice so long as laws are absolute.”

Just because the Edo say you have to die for crashing into a greenhouse while you were playing ball doesn't mean you should be obliterated. This utopian society, for whom every day is like a toga party at Woodstock, has figured that the ultimate solution to crime is to execute whoever breaks a rule - any rule. That includes Wesley accidentally smashing into some alien blossoms. There is just that inconvenient detail of him being completely ignorant of this society's laws because he is only there to evaluate the place as a potential spring break destination. This situation needs Picard's resolute voice to declare that justice and law are not always synonymous.

"Torture has never been a reliable means of extracting information."

No one pwns Picard. That means no one injects him with truth serum against his will or hangs him naked by the wrists and keeps repeatedly zapping him with electrical shocks. You also don't delete his identity and refer to him as "human" like a lab specimen. Of course, his captor conveniently ignores the treaty that outlawed torture for prisoners of war. If there isn't so much wrong with this already, the captain ends up a Cardassian torture victim all because his undercover mission to destroy a dangerous bio-weapon convinced them he was leading an imaginary murder conspiracy. Never mind that space Anthrax is whole other ethical argument in itself, but set to Warp 9, because that rockets us to …

"The road from legitimate suspicion to rampant paranoia is very much shorter than we think."

You don’t need a mind-reading, telepathically communicating Betazoid to tell you about the dangers of xenophobia - against Klingons, Romulans or otherwise. While we haven’t had denizens of other planets yet make contact with any of our spacecraft, what Picard remarks about a crewman being tried in a conspiracy case for no other reason but his Romulan blood echoes eerily into our paranoid society here on Earth. Even more unnerving is how the venom in this situation was dripping from an illustrious retired admiral. Later, the captain confides to Worf that society only believes it has advanced until the tortures and witch hunts buried in history unearth themselves again. Déjà

“You cannot exterminate something that may or may not be intelligent.”

If Wesley Crusher didn’t take his nanotechnology project too far after almost falling asleep in his advanced genetics class, this quote may have never been spawned. His dozing off releases a swarm of nanites - Frankenstein-ed robotic microbes that take over live cells - that eat memory crystals like candy and develop an unforeseen intelligence as they infest the Enterprise. Gamma rays are the only bug spray that can exterminate them. The ethical dilemma arises when the rest of the crew realizes these things are actually communicating — as in, they actually mind-control Data and use him as a collective mouthpiece. You can’t just blast radiation at something that has a sentient brain.

“It is possible to commit no mistakes and still lose.”

Even androids aren’t infallible. In the face of a Zakdorn who’s supposed to have the most amazingly strategic mind in the Milky Way, all of Data's programming is no match for nearly supernatural capabilities … even if the results of his system diagnostic reveal he has made no mistakes. If there's one thing no one could ever beat Data at, it's overthinking. He tends to fire all the electrical synapses in his android brain dangerously close to a crash. It takes Picard to extract him from this quarters by convincing him that losing doesn't necessarily entail making any mistakes at all, whether you're computerized or otherwise.

Wait. Data is disappointed. Could that be a flicker of emotion?

"No being is so important that he can usurp the rights of another."

You know something has to be off when Data stars spouting fancy language and even (shock) seems to take a romantic interest in a human Starfleet officer. Emotion? Try cybernetic technology master Dr. Graves, who, on the brink of death, deactivates Data and somehow transfers all of his consciousness into the android like a USB drive. Entitlement of galactic proportions ensues when Graves feels he's now rented himself at least another thousand years. The question is whether one really has a right to life over the other even if the other is basically a successful lab experiment. Where there should be no question for Graves is that you don't slap Picard in the face when he's already owned you.

"Things are only impossible until they're not."

I once had a teacher who stigmatized "impossible" as "the 'I' word" and made it as taboo as blurting out any four-letter atrocity in class. Picard would have probably congratulated her. Of course, the “I” word seems much more ominous in a case when all the Enterprise’s children are beamed aboard a starship belonging to an alien race rendered infertile by and slowly dying of acute radiation poisoning which is found to be reversible - if you can convince them of it. What Picard observes here is that the Aldaeans were making conditions impossible for themselves with their own advanced technology. Learn how to use the power source safely, and suddenly your entire civilization isn’t facing imminent doom.

Which Wolf Will You Feed? An allegory utilizing Wolves

The story of the two wolves An old Cherokee Indian chief was teaching his grandson about life.

He said, “A fight is going on inside me,” he told the young boy, “a fight between two wolves.

The Dark one is evil - he is anger, envy, sorrow, regret, greed, arrogance, self-pity, guilt, resentment, inferiority, lies, false pride, superiority, and ego.”

He continued …

“The Light Wolf is good - he is joy, peace, love, hope, serenity, humility, kindness, benevolence, empathy, generosity, truth, compassion, and faith. The same fight is going on inside you grandson…and inside of every other person on the face of this earth.”

The grandson ponders this for a moment and then asked, “Grandfather, which wolf will win?”

The old Cherokee smiled and simply said, “The one you feed”.

Every day we make choices, important choices that could be overlooked as being trivial - but these choices define us. They are a statement of whom we choose to be in this life, and what impact we will have on the world around us.

It’s obviously so much easier to feed the Dark wolf - the Dark wolf is there to encourage the easier options in life. It’s easier to procrastinate, complain, dismiss, ignore, and give up.

The Importance of Being Ernest

Writer, Sailor, Soldier, Spy: Ernest Hemingway's Secret Adventures, 1935-1961 retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here by Nicholas E. Reynolds, Fred Sanders (Goodreads Author) (narrator) 3.68 Stars

A former CIA officer and curator of the CIA Museum unveils the shocking, untold story of Nobel Prize-winning author Ernest Hemingway's secret life as a spy for both the Americans and the Soviets before and during World War II.

While he was the curator of the CIA Museum, Nicholas Reynolds, a longtime military intelligence expert, began to discover tantalizing clues that suggested Ernest Hemingway's involvement in the Second World War was much more complex and dangerous than has been previously understood. Writer, Sailor, Soldier, Spy brings to light for the first time this riveting secret side of Hemingway's life-when he worked closely with both the American OSS, a precursor to the CIA, and the Soviet NKVD, the USSR's forerunner to the KGB to defeat Adolf Hitler and the Nazis.

Reynolds dig deep into Hemingway's involvement in World War II, from his recruitment by both the Americans and the Soviets-who valued Hemingway for his journalistic skills and access to sources-through his key role in gaining tactical intelligence for the Allies during the liberation of Paris, to his later doubts about communist ideology and his undercover work in Cuba. As he examines the links between his work as a spy and as an author, Reynolds reveals how Hemingway's wartime experiences shook his faith in literature and contributed to the writer's block that plagued him for much of the final two decades of his life. Reynolds also illuminates how those same experiences also informed one of Hemingway's greatest works-The Old Man and the Sea-the final novel published during his lifetime.

A unique portrait as fast-paced and exciting as the best espionage thrillers, Writer, Sailor, Soldier, Spy illuminates a hidden side of a revered artist and is a thrilling addition to the annals of World War II.

For Whom the Bell Tolls retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

For Whom the Bell Tolls is a novel by Ernest Hemingway published in 1940. It tells the story of Robert Jordan, a young American volunteer attached to a republican guerrilla unit during the Spanish Civil War. As a dynamiter, he is assigned to blow up a bridge during an attack on the city of Segovia.

The Spanish Civil War (Spanish: Guerra Civil Española) 1936 to 1939

REPUBLICAN FACTION

The Republican faction (Spanish: Bando republicano), also known as the Loyalist faction (Bando leal) or the Government faction (Bando gubernamental), was the side in the Spanish Civil War of 1936 to 1939 that supported the government of the Second Spanish Republic against the Nationalist faction of the military rebellion.[1] The name Republicans (republicanos) was mainly used by its members and supporters, while its opponents used the term Rojos (Reds) to refer to this faction due to its left-leaning ideology, including far-left communist and anarchist groups, and the support it received from the Soviet Union.

NATIONALIST FACTION

The Nationalist faction (Spanish: Bando nacional) [note 1] or Rebel faction (Spanish: Bando sublevado)[1] was a major faction in the Spanish Civil War of 1936 to 1939. It was composed of a variety of right-leaning political groups that supported the Spanish Coup of July 1936 against the Second Spanish Republic and Republican faction and sought to depose Manuel Azaña, including the Falange, the CEDA, and two rival monarchist claimants: the Alfonsist Renovación Española and the Carlist Traditionalist Communion. In 1937, all the groups were merged into the FET y de las JONS. After the death of the faction's early leaders, General Francisco Franco, one of the members of the 1936 coup, would head the Nationalists throughout most of the war and emerge as the dictator of Spain until 1975.

[As a personal note I had traveled to Spain with my family and studied some of the history of this in advance of 1975 and spoke with some Spanish about it, and then again after 1975. I remember very distinct changes in the emotions of how people were speaking, and how a fundamental element seemed to be a part of the affect it had on Spanish lives and how the felt.]

[As the author of this book I also note 1936 to 1939 was in that period of Republicansism against White (Royal or Military Nationalist) governemntal orders.]

It was published just after the end of the Spanish Civil War (1936-1939), whose general lines were well known at the time. It assumes the reader knows that the war was between the government of the Second Spanish Republic, which many foreigners went to Spain to help and which was supported by the Soviet Union, and the Nationalist faction, which was supported by Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy. It was commonly viewed as the dress rehearsal for the Second World War. In 1940, the year the book was published, the United States had not yet entered the war, which had begun on September 1, 1939, with Nazi Germany's invasion of Poland.

The novel is regarded as one of Hemingway's best works, along with The Sun Also Rises, A Farewell to Arms, and The Old Man and the Sea.

The book's title is taken from the metaphysical poet John Donne's series of meditations and prayers on health, pain, and sickness (written while Donne was convalescing from a nearly fatal illness) published in 1624 as Devotions upon Emergent Occasions, specifically Meditation XVII. Hemingway quotes part of the meditation (using Donne's original spelling) in the book's epigraph. Donne refers to the practice of funeral tolling, universal in his time.

Devotions Upon Emergent Occasions, and severall steps in my Sicknes is a prose work by the English metaphysical poet and cleric in the Church of England (▶ John Donne , published in 1624. It covers death, rebirth and the Elizabethan concept of sickness as a visit from God, reflecting internal sinfulness.

Devotions upon Emergent Occasions

Meditation XVII

No man is an Island, intire of it selfe; every man is a piece of the Continent, a part of the maine; if a Clod bee washed away by the Sea, Europe is the lesse, as well as if a Promontorie were, as well as if a Mannor of thy friends or of thine owne were; any mans death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankinde; And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; It tolls for thee.

Margaux Hemingway retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Dyslexic Suicided Margaux Hemingway FEBRUARY 16, 1954[a] - JULY 1, 1996 in 1991 on the set of the film Double Obsession in Boulder.

Born Margot Louise Hemingway in Portland, Oregon, she was the daughter of Byra Louise (née Whittlesey) and Jack Hemingway (eldest son of writer Ernest Hemingway). When she learned that she was named after the wine, Château Margaux, which her parents drank on the night she was conceived, she changed the spelling from “Margot” to “Margaux” to match.

She had two sisters, actress Mariel Hemingway, and Joan (nicknamed Muffet). During her childhood, the family relocated from Oregon to Cuba, where her grandfather had lived,[2] then to San Francisco, and later to Idaho, where they lived on her grandfather's farm in Ketchum, adjacent to Sun Valley. The family took trips each summer back to Oregon with the daughters' godmother, who had a farm in Salem.[3] She attended the Catlin Gabel School in Portland, Oregon, for her junior year.

Margaux struggled with a variety of disorders beginning in her teenage years, including alcoholism, depression, bulimia, and epilepsy. With her permission, a video recording was made of her therapy session related to her bulimia, and it was broadcast on television. She also suffered from dyslexia

Monicagate, Watergate, JFK by Peter Dale Scott retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

In Deep Politics and the Death of JFK I write that study of any one of our deep political crises will tell you more about the rest. Apparently this prediction holds true for Monicagate as well.

I am not talking about the recurrence of Washington lawyers like Robert Bennett and Charles Ruff, who moved into the Washington mainstream with Watergate, and now represent Clinton.

Nothing surprising or instructive about that. (I haven't checked to see if the two Robert Bennetts are in fact one and the same, but think it likely.)

But did you notice that the person who forwarded Linda Tripp's tapes of Lewinsky to the FBI was a book agent and pseudo-journalist called Lucianne Goldberg, who in 1972

“told the McGovern campaign that she worked for the North American Newspaper Alliance”? Goldberg’s role was not simply that of a cut-out or messenger for Linda Tripp. On Jan. 22 she told the press “that she encouraged her friend Linda Tripp… to tape conversations with intern Monica Lewinsky.” (All quotations are from an article in the January 23 San Francisco Chronicle, p. A11.

She kept the tapes for Tripp and later turned them over to the FBI. If Tripp instigated Lewinsky, it would appear that Goldberg instigated Tripp.

Both Tripp and Goldberg are apparently Republicans. Tripp was one of only two holdovers from the Bush White House. Goldberg was exposed in 1973 as “a spy for Nixon while she traveled with the press corps” covering McGovern’s 1972 campaign. It was at this time that she said she worked for NANA (North American Newspaper Alliance), and supplied an address for NANA which “is the same as her current residence” in Manhattan. Watergate investigators “said the Nixon campaign paid her $1,000 a week.”

Not mentioned in today’s story is the relevant fact in 1972, as today, Lucianne Goldberg was snooping for sex. She told the late Anthony Lukas (Nightmare, p. 161) that the Nixon people “were looking for really dirty stuff…who was sleeping with whom, what the Secret Servicem men were doing with the stewardesses, who was smoking pot on the plane — that sort of thing.”

Serious students of the JFK Assassination have long been interested in NANA, which supplied Priscilla Johnson (better known now as Priscilla McMillan) with the job (or, to some, cover) by which she voyaged to Moscow and there interviewed Lee Harvey Oswald on the urging of U.S. Consul Snyder. After the assassination, Johnson developed a close relationship with Marina Oswald, in connection with a book contract originally arranged by C.D. Jackson of Life Magazine at the urging of Allen Dulles.

NANA was created by a senior veteran of OSS, Ernest Cuneo, and continued to have intelligence connections. In 1963, before the assassination, it had come under Congressional scrutiny for publishing Chinese Nationalist propaganda, for which it had been paid large sums without registering as a foreign agent. At this same time its President, Ernest Cuneo, was a member of the Citizens' Committee for a Free Cuba, a group calling in 1963 for a more militant anti-Castro policy, and meeting with dissident Cuban exiles.

North American Newspaper Alliance From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Cuneo era

By the early 1950s the syndicate was being overshadowed by more powerful news syndicates, and in March 1951 it was purchased by a small group of investors led by Ernest Cuneo,[4] formerly associated with British Security Coordination and the OSS, and Ivar Bryce. They gave the job of European Vice President to the writer and their mutual friend Ian Fleming.[5]

Ernest Cuneo and the Bell Syndicate-North American Newspaper Alliance group acquired the McClure Newspaper Syndicate in September 1952, with Louis Ruppel installed as president and editor.[4]

Cuneo acquired full control over NANA in the mid-1950s and served as president until 1963 when he sold it.

However, he remained with NANA as a columnist and military analyst from 1963 to 1980.[6]

Because of Cuneo's association with former members of American and British intelligence, including Fleming and Bryce, and because some writers in the Cuneo era had alleged links to the CIA, critics have suggested that NANA under his tenure was a front for espionage.[7]

The Old Man and the Sea retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Old Man and the Sea is a short novel written by the American author Ernest Hemingway in 1951 in Cayo Blanco (Cuba), and published in 1952.[1] It was the last major work of fiction written by Hemingway that was published during his lifetime. One of his most famous works, it tells the story of Santiago, an aging Cuban fisherman who struggles with a giant marlin far out in the Gulf Stream off the coast of Cuba.[2]

Literary significance and criticism

The Old Man and the Sea served to reinvigorate Hemingway's literary reputation and prompted a reexamination of his entire body of work. The novel was initially received with much popularity; it restored many readers' confidence in Hemingway's capability as an author. Its publisher, Scribner's, on an early dust jacket, called the novel a "new classic", and many critics favorably compared it with such works as William Faulkner's 1942 short story The Bear and Herman Melville's 1851 novel Moby-Dick.

Legacy

In 1954, Hemingway wanted to donate his Nobel Prize in Literature gold medal to the Cuban people. To avoid giving it to the Batista government, he donated it to the Catholic Church for display at the sanctuary at El Cobre, a small town outside Santiago de Cuba where the Marian image of Our Lady of Charity is located. The Swedish medal was stolen in the mid 1980s, but the police recovered it within a few days.[25][26]

The Old Man and the Sea has been adapted for the screen three times: a 1958 film starring Spencer Tracy, a 1990 miniseries starring Anthony Quinn, and a 1999 animated short film. It also inspired the 2012 Kazakhstani movie The Old Man, which replaces the fisherman with a shepherd struggling to protect his flock from wolves. It is often taught in high schools as a part of the U.S. literature curriculum. The book was reportedly a favorite of Saddam Hussein.[27]

Mark Felt retrieved from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

William Mark Felt Sr. (August 17, 1913 - December 18, 2008) was an American law enforcement officer who worked for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) from 1942 to 1973 and was known for his role in the Watergate scandal. Felt was an FBI special agent who eventually rose to the position of Associate Director, the Bureau's second-highest-ranking post. Felt worked in several FBI field offices prior to his promotion to the Bureau's headquarters. In 1980 he was convicted of having violated the civil rights of people thought to be associated with members of the Weather Underground, by ordering FBI agents to break into their homes and search the premises as part of an attempt to prevent bombings. He was ordered to pay a fine, but was pardoned by President Ronald Reagan during his appeal.

In 2005, at age 91, Felt revealed to Vanity Fair magazine that during his tenure as associate director of the FBI he had been the notorious anonymous source known as “Deep Throat”[1][2] who provided The Washington Post reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein with critical information about the Watergate scandal, which ultimately led to the resignation of President Richard Nixon in 1974. Though Felt’s identity as Deep Throat was suspected, including by Nixon himself,[3] it had generally remained a secret for 30 years. Felt finally acknowledged that he was Deep Throat after being persuaded by his daughter to reveal his identity before his death.[4]

Felt published two memoirs: The FBI Pyramid in 1979 (updated in 2006), and A G-Man’s Life, written with John O’Connor, in 2006. In 2012 the FBI released Felt’s personnel file, covering the period from 1941 to 1978. It also released files pertaining to an extortion threat made against Felt in 1956.[5]

After completing 16 weeks of training at the FBI Academy in Quantico, Virginia, and FBI Headquarters in Washington, Felt was assigned to Texas, spending three months each in the field offices in Houston and San Antonio. He returned to FBI Headquarters, where he was assigned to the Espionage Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division, tracking down spies and saboteurs during World War II. He worked on the Major Case Desk. His most notable work was on the “Peasant” case. Helmut Goldschmidt, operating under the codename “Peasant”, was a German agent in custody in England. Under Felt’s direction, his German masters were led to believe that “Peasant” had made his way to the United States, and thus were fed disinformation on Allied plans.[18]

The Espionage Section was abolished in May 1945 after V-E Day. After the war, Felt was assigned to the Seattle field office. After two years of general work, he spent two years as a firearms instructor and was promoted from agent to supervisor. Upon passage of the Atomic Energy Act and the creation of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, the Seattle office became responsible for completing background checks of workers at the Hanford plutonium plant near Richland, Washington. Felt oversaw those investigations.[19] In 1954 Felt returned briefly to Washington as an inspector's aide. Two months later, he was sent to New Orleans as Assistant Special Agent-in-Charge of the field office. When he was transferred to Los Angeles fifteen months later, he held the same rank there.[20]

In 1956, Felt was transferred to Salt Lake City and promoted to Special Agent-in-Charge.[21] The Salt Lake City office included Nevada within its purview, and Felt oversaw some of the Bureau's earliest investigations into organized crime, assessing the mob's operations in the Reno and Las Vegas casinos.[20] (It was Hoover's, and therefore the Bureau's, official position at the time that there was no such thing as the Mob.[22]) In February 1958, Felt was assigned to Kansas City, Missouri (which he dubbed "the Siberia of field offices" in his memoir),[20] where he directed further investigations of organized crime. By this time, Hoover had come to believe in organized crime, in the wake of the famous Apalachin, New York, conclave of underworld bosses in November 1957.[23]

Among the criminal groups that the FBI investigated in the early 1970s was the Weather Underground. Their case was dismissed by the court because it concluded that the FBI had conducted illegal activities, including unauthorized wiretaps, break-ins, and mail interceptions. The lead federal prosecutor on the case, William C. Ibershof, claims that Felt and Attorney General John Mitchell initiated these illegal activities that tainted the investigation.[31]

After J. Edgar Hoover's death Felt succeeded to Tolson's post as Associate Director, the number-two job in the Bureau

In 2005 Woodward wrote that he first met Felt at the White House in 1969 or 1970. Woodward was working as an aide to Admiral Thomas Hinman Moorer, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and was delivering papers to the White House Situation Room. In his book The Secret Man, Woodward described Felt as a "tall man with perfectly combed gray hair … distinguished looking" with a "studied air of confidence, even what might be called a command presence".[44] They stayed in touch and spoke on the telephone several times. When Woodward started working at the Washington Post, he phoned Felt on several occasions to ask for information for articles in the paper. Felt's information, taken on a promise that Woodward would never reveal its origin, was a source for a few stories, notably for an article on May 18, 1972, about Arthur Bremer, who shot George Wallace.

When the Watergate story broke, Woodward called on Felt. Felt told Woodward on June 19 that E. Howard Hunt, who had ties to Nixon, was involved: the telephone number of his White House office had been listed in the address book of one of the burglars.

After JFK is dead, Tricky Dick is in the White House with his secret plant win the war of the Pacific, MKULTRA, with the ol' CIA gang.

The CIA, Dulles Brothers, Bush family, Operation 40, and regime change are underway, JFK is dead, and MKULTRA is in under Richard Nixon.

> Everette Howard Hunt Jr. (October 9, 1918 January 23, 2007) was an American intelligence officer and author. From 1949 to 1970, Hunt served as an officer in the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), particularly in the United States involvement in regime change in Latin America including the 1954 Guatemalan coup d'état and the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. New Model Army and the English People Armed Against the Crown

New Model Army are an English rock band formed in Bradford, West Yorkshire, in 1980 by lead singer, guitarist and main composer Justin Sullivan, bassist Stuart Morrow and drummer Phil Tompkins. Sullivan has been the only continuous member of the band, which has seen numerous line-up changes in its four-decade history. Their music draws on influences across the musical spectrum, from punk and folk to soul, metal and classical. Sullivan’s lyrics, which range from directly political through to spiritual and personal, have always been considered as a key part of the band’s appeal. By the time they began making their first records in 1983, Robert Heaton, a former drum technician for Hawkwind, had replaced Tompkins.

The New Model Army was a Standing army formed in 1645 by the Parliamentarians during the First English Civil War, then disbanded after the Stuart Restoration in 1660. It differed from other armies employed in the 1638 to 1651 Wars of the Three Kingdoms in that members were liable for service anywhere in the country, rather than being limited to a single area or garrison. To establish a professional officer corps, the army’s leaders were prohibited from having seats in either the House of Lords or House of Commons. This was to encourage their separation from the political or religious factions among the Parliamentarians.

> The Wars of the Three Kingdoms,[b] sometimes known as the British Civil Wars,[c][d] were an intertwined series of conflicts that took place between 1639 and 1653 in the Kingdoms of England, Scotland and Ireland

The New Model Army was raised partly from among veteran soldiers who already had deeply held Puritan religious beliefs, and partly from conscripts who brought with them many commonly held beliefs about religion or society. Many of its common soldiers therefore held dissenting or radical views unique among English armies. Although the Army's senior officers did not share many of their soldiers' political opinions, their independence from Parliament led to the Army's willingness to contribute to the overthrow of both the Crown and Parliament's authority, and to establish a Commonwealth of England from 1649 to 1660, which included a period of direct military rule. Ultimately, the Army's Generals (particularly Oliver Cromwell) could rely both on the Army's internal discipline and its religious zeal and innate support for the "Good Old Cause" to maintain an essentially dictatorial rule.

The English Civil War has become the best-known of these conflicts. It ended with the English parliamentarian army defeating all other belligerents, the execution of the King, the abolition of the monarchy, and the founding of the Commonwealth of England; a unitary republic which controlled the British Isles until 1660.

The wars arose from civil and religious disputes, mainly whether ultimate political power should be held by the King or by parliament, as well as issues of religious freedom and religious discrimination. Royalists (or ‘Cavaliers’) supported Charles I in his claim to be above parliament. Parliamentarians (or ‘Roundheads’) believed the King was behaving as a tyrant, particularly by levying taxes without parliamentary consent.

Author Leon Uris, who wrote the million-selling novels Exodusand Trinity,has died at the age of 78.

He died of natural causes at his home on New York’s Shelter Island, his wife and photographer Jill Uris said.

Published in 1958, the 600-page Exoduswas a sensation as millions read Uris’s detailed, heroic chronicle of European Jewry from the turn of the century to the establishment of the state of Israel in 1948.

The novel was translated into dozens of languages and was even distributed secretly in communist countries.

” Exodushas been the Bible of the Jewish dissident movement in Russia,” Uris once said. “It’s referred to as The Book.”

Controversy helped Exodussell when Uris was accused of libel for his depictions of Dr Wladislav Dering, whom the author identified as a war criminal.

In 1964, a London court ruled in favour of Dr Dering but awarded him minimal damages and made him pay court costs.

In 1960, Exoduswas released as a Hollywood film, starring Paul Newman. Uris was originally involved with the screenplay but was reportedly dismissed after a dispute with the director, Otto Preminger.

Horatio Hornblower retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Horatio Hornblower is a fictional Napoleonic Wars-era Royal Navy officer who is the protagonist of a series of novels and stories by C. S. Forester. He was later the subject of films, radio and television programmes, and C. Northcote Parkinson elaborated a definitive biography.

The original Hornblower tales began with the 1937 novel The Happy Return (U.S. title Beat to Quarters) with the appearance of a junior Royal Navy captain on independent duty on a secret mission to Central America. Later stories filled out his earlier years, starting with an unpromising beginning as a seasick midshipman. As the Napoleonic Wars progress, he gains promotion steadily as a result of his skill and daring, despite his initial poverty and lack of influential friends. After surviving many adventures in a wide variety of locales, he rises to the pinnacle of his profession, promoted to Admiral of the Fleet.

There are many parallels between Hornblower and real naval officers of the period, notably Admiral Lord Nelson and also Sir George Cockburn, Lord Cochrane, Sir Edward Pellew, Jeremiah Coghlan, Sir James Gordon, Sir William Hoste, and many others. The actions of the Royal Navy at the time, documented in official reports, gave much material for Hornblower's fictional adventures.

The name "Horatio" was inspired by the character in William Shakespeare's Hamlet and chosen also because of its association with contemporary figures such as Nelson.[3]: 90 His surname in turn comes from Arthur Hornblow, a Hollywood producer, coworker and a friend of Forester's.

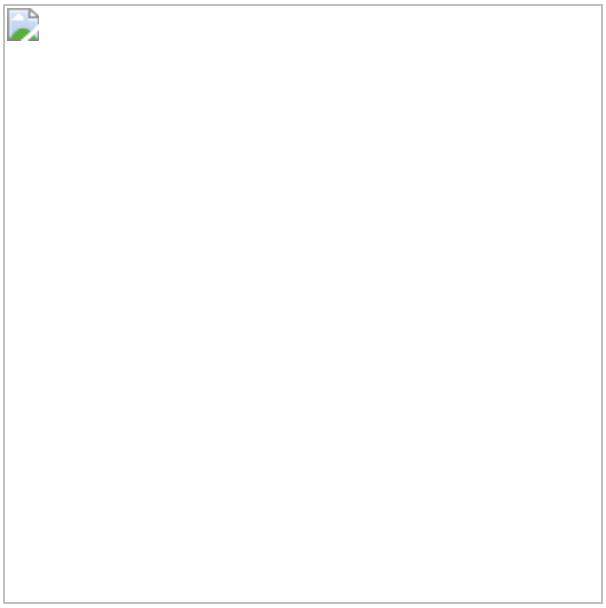
The Social Network is a 2010 American biographical drama film directed by David Fincher and written by Aaron Sorkin. Adapted from Ben Mezrich's 2009 book The Accidental Billionaires, it portrays the founding of social networking website Facebook and the resulting lawsuits.

Before It Conquered the World, Facebook Conquered Harvard

By Alexis C. Madrigal The Atlantic *



There was a time when Facebook was small. After all, it only existed in one place on Earth: Harvard University, where Mark Zuckerberg was a sophomore. He lived in Kirkland House, a square of brick buildings arranged around a courtyard, one side hemmed in by JFK Street. For all the tendrils that Facebook now has snaked across the globe, it feels strange that one can pinpoint the moment it all began: 6 p.m. on February 4, 2004, as the temperature dipped below freezing on another day in Cambridge.

Within weeks, the social network would spread across the school; within months, the Ivy League. High schoolers arrived the next year, then college students across the globe, and finally anyone who wanted to in September 2006. Four years after it was founded, Facebook > hit 100 million users. Four years after that, 1 billion. Now 2 billion people use Facebook every month. That’s 500 million more users than the total number of personal computers in use around the globe.

>
> Sarah Goodin was there in Kirkland House too. She was a sophomore like Zuckerberg, and friends with Chris Hughes, another one of the site’s co-founders. So, shortly after it launched, Zuckerberg emailed her and asked her to try his new thing. As far as anyone can tell, she was the 15th total user. “Supposedly, I am the first woman on Facebook,” Goodin, now an exhibit developer and interactive designer at the California Academy of Sciences, told me.

Let’s take this apart and put it side by side with some Donegan Family and Obama family history.

Tom Donegan was HIDING photos of my mother including from her farm days in North Carolina with Festus Gainey who died when she and Harold, her biological brother who had trouble tieing his shoes when they were young.

The Facebook was founded in Harvard, home of Skull and Bones and CIA recruiting, and was based on scanning the faces of Harvard Students into a face database.

Could the database queries test for searchabilty for known or unknown relatives, or other facial recognition technology and was it secretly funded or encourage in 2006 or so.

I mad a video telling a story I knew to myself well, and visually was quipping some jokes by body language just for sort of fun. In the movie the character of Zuckerberg does not need his full attention for what would be a brain sugar sucking long contentions business meeting of tactical questions and answers in a legal combatative hostile situation. Even recently he seemed to mirror me when he was using a hydroplaning kite sail I was resarching online.

He seems to look a lot like Jen Psaki, DOD and White House long term fellow traveling go to press person for various jobs in military and politics.

23 and Me and other facial recognition know ask for family photos and Ted Cruz and many others tied to the JFK assassination swamp have grown beards.

Jeanne Marie Tripplehorn (born JUNE 10, 1963) is an American actress. She began her career on stage, acting in several plays throughout the early 1990s, including Anton Chekhov's Three Sisters on Broadway.

She married actor Leland Orser (AUGUST 6, 1960) in 2000. They have a son. Tripplehorn's grandmother, Jean Neely, appeared in the film Reality Bites.

Three Sisters (Russian: Три сестры́, romanized: Tri sestry) is a play by the Russian author and playwright Anton Chekhov. It was written in 1900 and first performed in 1901 at the Moscow Art Theatre. The play is sometimes included on the short list of Chekhov's outstanding plays, along with The Cherry Orchard, The Seagull and Uncle Vanya.

Actress Hedy Lamarr famously co-patented a widely used secure communication technology, but popular accounts overlook many predecessors. retrieved from Random Paths to Frequency Hopping BY TONY ROTHMAN in American Scientist and copied or modified to here

The Actress and the Composer

The tale of Hedy and George might have been written by Arthur Conan Doyle, or even Graham Greene. Briefly: At an early age Hedy Lamarr, born Hedwig Kiesler in Austria, married Fritz Mandl, a Nazi sympathizer and Austria's leading munitions manufacturer on the eve of World War II. Lamarr escaped this unhappy union (as she tells it, disguised as a maid whom she had drugged) and soon after ended up in Hollywood. Through a mutual interest in the obscure field of applied endocrinology, she met George Antheil. Revealing that she possessed a flair for inventing weapons, Hedy shared with him an idea for a secure torpedo guidance system that employed a novel technique known as frequency hopping.

Frequency hopping is the simplest version of a radio transmission technique today known as spread-spectrum technique, which refers to any method that widens the frequency band of a signal. Normally, radio stations broadcast on a single carrier frequency, which makes eavesdropping deliberately easy: You tune your radio to the correct frequency and receive the programming. By contrast, frequency hopping prevents the interception and decipherment of a transmission by shifting the carrier frequency in a predetermined, usually pseudorandom fashion-in other words, in a way that appears random but is produced by a deterministic algorithm.

A receiver hopping around in synchrony with the transmitter can pick up the message, but an eavesdropper tuned to a single frequency will hear only a blip as that bit of message flashes by. Frequency hopping is largely jam-proof as well. If the frequencies are spaced widely enough, any jamming signal will interfere with only a small part of the message.

Trained as an actress, Hedy lacked the technical expertise to put her idea into practice. George was likewise no engineer, but two decades earlier he had written a concert piece, the notorious Ballet Mécanique, which included parts for synchronized player pianos. That background instantly triggered a thought: He would place a player-piano roll punched with 88 rows of randomly placed perforations in the transmitter to control the hopping among 88 radio frequencies; he would place an identical roll in the receiver; and then he would synchronize the two. Why 88? That’s the number of keys on a piano.

An invention notebook in George’s handwriting reveals that he was influenced by Philco’s 1939 Mystery Control, the first commercially available radio remote controller. With the help of Samuel Mackeown, a California Institute of Technology engineer, George ironed out the bugs in their invention, and he and Hedy applied for a patent in June 1941. Considering the familiarity with patent conventions and technical radio concepts on display, it seems likely that Mackeown wrote the patent itself. On August 11, 1942, Lamarr and Antheil received U.S. Patent

2,292,387 (issued to Lamarr under her married name, Hedy Markey) for a “secret communication system.”

No type of case not our specialty

1. Vague, ambiguous or unintelligible;
2. Argumentative;
3. Asked and answered;
4. Assumes facts not in evidence;
5. Calls for speculation;
6. Leading;

7. Calls for a narrative; and

8. Misstates the evidence.

This article will now briefly discuss each objection, in order.

The vague, ambiguous or unintelligible objection is based upon California Evidence Code § 765(a), which states that a judge “shall exercise reasonable control over the mode of interrogation of a witness so as to make interrogation as rapid, distinct, and as effective for the ascertainment of the truth.” The question, in other words, may cause the witness to answer with information that confuses the jury or leads to wasting time. If such an objection is sustained, the questioning attorney should rephrase the question to cure the defective nature of the question.

An argumentative objection is one that is unduly adversarial, such that it is “designed to engage [the] witness in argument rather than elicit facts within the witness’ knowledge.” People v. Guerra (2006) 37 Cal. 4th 1067. The objection also raises the issue or duty of a judge to protect a witness from harassment or a combative attorney. Evidence Code § 765. The demeanor of the asking attorney is often the real issue when such an objection is made, although the form of the question may also be problematic, usually because the question has the ulterior purpose of arguing to the jury, rather than elicit any testimony at all. People v. Chatman (2006)38 Cal. 4th 344.

The asked and answered objection is a valid objection because a witness “cannot be re-examined as to the same matter without leave of court. Evidence Code § 774. Moreover, such questions are repetitive and thus, undermine the orderly interrogation of a witness, in violation of Evidence Code § 765(a). The anti-harassment objective is particularly important when the witness is under the age of 14. Evidence Code § 765(b).

An objection that a question “assumes facts not in evidence” is problematic because it interferes with “effective ascertainment of the truth.” Evidence Code § 765. It can also lead to undue consumption of time and confuse the jury.

While the judge can defer on a ruling to the objection by asking counsel to make an offer of proof of such evidence, if the judge does not do this, and there indeed are facts not in evidence within the question, the question is improper. Fortner v. Bruhn (1963) 217 Cal. App. 2d 184.

An objection that “calls for speculation” is based upon Evidence Code §§ 702, 800 and 801(b). Under § 702, if a witness does not have personal knowledge of a matter, testimony on that matter is precluded. Similarity if an expert witness is testifying, the scope of the question must be within the the scope of the expert’s expertise and not matters the expert is unqualified to testify about. Evidence Code § 801(b).

A leading question is improper because it suggests an answer by the form of the question, such as, “isn’t it true that …” Such questions are improper under Evidence Code §§ 764 and 767(a). Leading questions, however, are permitted on cross-examination and in direct examination of a witness at a preliminary hearing, or to elicit information on background matters, or to refresh a witness’ recollection. They are also allowed with child witnesses under ten years old or with persons having cognitive disabilities. Evidence Code § 767(b).

An objection that the form of a question “calls for a narrative” is based on a principal that questions need to be concise so the response of a witness is not unduly broad, which could confuse a jury. People v. Belcher (1961) 189 Cal. App. 2d 404. Giving a witness free reign to embark upon a long story could also cause the witness to testify to inadmissible material, hearsay or inadmissible opinion evidence.

Lastly, an objection that a question misstates the testimony is made because the question most commonly raises factual inferences that are reserved for the jury to make. Thus, the question is meant to persuade the jury, rather than elicit facts. In effect, this may be confusing to the jury, too, and thus it is subject to an objection.

The Gettysburg Address

The Gettysburg Address The Gettysburg Address is a speech that U.S. President Abraham Lincoln delivered during the American Civil War at the dedication of the Soldiers' National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, on the afternoon of NOVEMBER 19, 1863, four and a half months after the Union armies defeated those of the Confederacy at the Battle of Gettysburg. It is one of the best-known speeches in American history.

November 19 1963 marks the 100 year anniversary of the speech and nearly to the day the assassination date of John F. Kennedy Jr.

I also believe the 100th anniversary marks Barrack Obama Jr turning two years old and learning to talk.

November 19, 1863

On June 1, 1865, Senator Charles Sumner referred to the most famous speech ever given by President Abraham Lincoln. In his eulogy on the slain president, he called the Gettysburg Address a “monumental act.” He said Lincoln was mistaken that “the world will little note, nor long remember what we say here.” Rather, the Bostonian remarked, “The world noted at once what he said, and will never cease to remember it. The battle itself was less important than the speech.”

There are five known copies of the speech in Lincoln’s handwriting, each with a slightly different text, and named for the people who first received them: Nicolay, Hay, Everett, Bancroft and Bliss. Two copies apparently were written before delivering the speech, one of which probably was the reading copy. The remaining ones were produced months later for soldier benefit events. Despite widely-circulated stories to the contrary, the president did not dash off a copy aboard a train to Gettysburg. Lincoln carefully prepared his major speeches in advance; his steady, even script in every manuscript is consistent with a firm writing surface, not the notoriously bumpy Civil War-era trains. Additional versions of the speech appeared in newspapers of the era, feeding modern-day confusion about the authoritative text.

Bliss Copy

Ever since Lincoln wrote it in 1864, this version has been the most often reproduced, notably on the walls of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington. It is named after Colonel Alexander Bliss, stepson of historian George Bancroft. Bancroft asked President Lincoln for a copy to use as a fundraiser for soldiers (see “Bancroft Copy” below). However, because Lincoln wrote on both sides of the paper, the speech could not be reprinted, so Lincoln made another copy at Bliss’s request. It is the last known copy written by Lincoln and the only one signed and dated by him. Today it is on display at the Lincoln Room of the White House.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate — we can not consecrate — we can not hallow — this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion — that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain — that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Nicolay Copy

Named for John G. Nicolay, President Lincoln’s personal secretary, this is considered the “first draft” of the speech, begun in Washington on White house stationery. The second page is writen on different paper stock, indicating it was finished in Gettysburg before the cemetery dedication began. Lincoln gave this draft to Nicolay, who went to Gettysburg with Lincoln and witnessed the speech. The Library of Congress owns this manuscript.

Hay Copy

Believed to be the second draft of the speech, President Lincoln gave this copy to John Hay, a White House assistant. Hay accompanied Lincoln to Gettysburg and briefly referred to the speech in his diary: “the President, in a fine, free way, with more grace than is his wont, said his half dozen words of consecration.” The Hay copy, which includes Lincoln’s handwritten changes, also is owned by the Library of Congress.

Everett Copy

Edward Everett, the chief speaker at the Gettysburg cemetery dedication, clearly admired Lincoln’s remarks and wrote to him the next day saying, “I should be glad, if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion, in two hours, as you did in two minutes.” In 1864 Everett asked Lincoln for a copy of the speech to benefit Union soldiers, making it the third manuscript copy. Eventually the state of Illinois acquired it, where it’s preserved at the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum.

Bancroft Copy

As noted above, historian George Bancroft asked President Lincoln for a copy to use as a fundraiser for soldiers. When Lincoln sent his copy on February 29, 1864, he used both sides of the paper, rendering the manuscript useless for lithographic engraving. So Bancroft kept this copy and Lincoln had to produce an additional one (Bliss Copy). The Bancroft copy is now owned by Cornell University.

Rome Statute Excerpt

Preamble

The States Parties to this Statute,

- Conscious that all peoples are united by common bonds, their cultures pieced together in a shared heritage, and concerned that this delicate mosaic may be shattered at any time,

- Mindful that during this century millions of children, women and men have been victims of unimaginable atrocities that deeply shock the conscience of humanity,

- Recognizing that such grave crimes threaten the peace, security and well-being of the world,

> I as author of this book aruge and demand the black market, repugnant market of DNA rights via seuxal abuse and false rights claims must both stopped and punished for the harm to cease in a way deterant to future simlar acts

- Affirming that the most serious crimes of concern to the international community as a whole must not go unpunished and that their effective prosecution must be ensured by taking measures at the national level and by enhancing international cooperation,

- Determined to put an end to impunity for the perpetrators of these crimes and thus to contribute to the prevention of such crimes,

Recalling that it is the duty of every State to exercise its criminal jurisdiction over those responsible for international crimes,

- Reaffirming the Purposes and Principles of the Charter of the United Nations, and in particular that all States shall refrain from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any State, or in any other manner inconsistent with the Purposes of the United Nations,

- Emphasizing in this connection that nothing in this Statute shall be taken as authorizing any State Party to intervene in an armed conflict or in the internal affairs of any State,

Determined to these ends and for the sake of present and future generations, to establish an independent permanent International Criminal Court in relationship with the United Nations system, with jurisdiction over the most serious crimes of concern to the international community as a whole,

- Emphasizing that the International Criminal Court established under this Statute shall be complementary to national criminal jurisdictions,

- Resolved to guarantee lasting respect for and the enforcement of international justice,

Have agreed as follows:

Part 1. Establishment Of The Court

Article 1 - The Court

An International Criminal Court (“the Court”) is hereby established. It shall be a permanent institution and shall have the power to exercise its jurisdiction over persons for the most serious crimes of international concern, as referred to in this Statute, and shall be complementary to national criminal jurisdictions. The jurisdiction and functioning of the Court shall be governed by the provisions of this Statute.

Article 30 - Mental Element

1. Unless otherwise provided, a person shall be criminally responsible and liable for punishment for a crime within the jurisdiction of the Court only if the material elements are committed with intent and knowledge.

2. For the purposes of this article, a person has intent where:

    1. In relation to conduct, that person means to engage in the conduct;

    2. In relation to a consequence, that person means to cause that consequence or is aware that it will occur in the ordinary course of events.

3. For the purposes of this article, “knowledge” means awareness that a circumstance exists or a consequence will occur in the ordinary course of events. “Know” and “knowingly” shall be construed accordingly.

Article 31 - Grounds for excluding criminal responsibility

1. In addition to other grounds for excluding criminal responsibility provided for in this Statute, a person shall not be criminally responsible if, at the time of that person’s conduct:

   a. The person suffers from a mental disease or defect that destroys that person’s capacity to appreciate the unlawfulness or nature of his or her conduct, or capacity to control his or her conduct to conform to the requirements of law;

   b. The person is in a state of intoxication that destroys that person’s capacity to appreciate the unlawfulness or nature of his or her conduct, or capacity to control his or her conduct to conform to the requirements of law, unless the person has become voluntarily intoxicated under such circumstances that the person knew, or disregarded the risk, that, as a result of the intoxication, he or she was likely to engage in conduct constituting a crime within the jurisdiction of the Court;

   c. The person acts reasonably to defend himself or herself or another person or, in the case of war crimes, property which is essential for the survival of the person or another person or property which is essential for accomplishing a military mission, against an imminent and unlawful use of force in a manner proportionate to the degree of danger to the person or the other person or property protected. The fact that the person was involved in a defensive operation conducted by forces shall not in itself constitute a ground for excluding criminal responsibility under this subparagraph;

d. The conduct which is alleged to constitute a crime within the jurisdiction of the Court has been caused by duress resulting from a threat of imminent death or of continuing or imminent serious bodily harm against that person or another person, and the person acts necessarily and reasonably to avoid this threat, provided that the person does not intend to cause a greater harm than the one sought to be avoided. Such a threat may either be:

1. Made by other persons; or

2. Constituted by other circumstances beyond that person's control.

2. The Court shall determine the applicability of the grounds for excluding criminal responsibility provided for in this Statute to the case before it.

3. At trial, the Court may consider a ground for excluding criminal responsibility other than those referred to in paragraph 1 where such a ground is derived from applicable law as set forth in article 21. The procedures relating to the consideration of such a ground shall be provided for in the Rules of Procedure and Evidence.

Article 32 - Mistake of fact or mistake of law

1. A mistake of fact shall be a ground for excluding criminal responsibility only if it negates the mental element required by the crime.

2. A mistake of law as to whether a particular type of conduct is a crime within the jurisdiction of the Court shall not be a ground for excluding criminal responsibility. A mistake of law may, however, be a ground for excluding criminal responsibility if it negates the mental element required by such a crime, or as provided for in article 33.

Article 33 - Superior orders and prescription of law

1. The fact that a crime within the jurisdiction of the Court has been committed by a person pursuant to an order of a Government or of a superior, whether military or civilian, shall not relieve that person of criminal responsibility unless:

    a. The person was under a legal obligation to obey orders of the Government or the superior in question;

    2. The person did not know that the order was unlawful; and

    3. The order was not manifestly unlawful.

2. For the purposes of this article, orders to commit genocide or crimes against humanity are manifestly unlawful.

Comfort Women funded for prison gangs, arms dealers, mafia, and terror networks

Quote retrieved from My Life as One of Arms Dealer Adnan Khashoggi's 'Pleasure Wives' and copied or modified to here

This week, Jill Dodd, a former fashion model and businesswoman, told an extraordinary story of sex, money, and power in a television interview with the Australian news magazine 60 Minutes.

She revealed that in her twenties she was seduced by the world's richest man at the time, the Saudi arms broker Adnan Khashoggi, and recruited to become a member of his harem, taking on a role as one of his 11 "pleasure wives" in return for a life of gilded luxury.

The arrangement, she has been at pains to make clear, was entirely consensual. But the ongoing furor around R. Kelly's so-called sex cult casts a dark shadow over such an exotic-sounding arrangement. The singer keeps a stable of sexual partners, all of whom have insisted that they are with him out of choice, before, in some cases, later coming to a different conclusion when outside his control.

The dynamic of relationships between rich and powerful older men and young women who have a lifestyle financially maintained by them creates, at the very least, potential for emotional manipulation and control issues.

Khashoggi was certainly a charmer and a noted womanizer.

"When I knew him he used to take an entire floor of the Hotel de Paris in Monaco, and every room would have one of his women in it," said one source. "He was a great womanizer, he adored women. But once in a while it went the other way. His wife Soraya had an affair with the British politician Jonathan Aitken and her daughter Petrina was later revealed to be Aitken’s love child.”

James E. Boasberg a Federal District Court Judge has treasonously clarified that the FBI can falsify evidence without much fear of punishment.

The government employees of the “resistance” who never accepted Donald Trump as our president have finally performed a useful public service. Together with the judges of the U.S. Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court, they have demonstrated for all Americans how easy it is to turn the spying tools of the federal government against domestic political opponents.

“Even after the Obama-appointed inspector general of the Department of Justice found “at least 17 significant errors or omissions” in a series of approved surveillance warrant applications to spy on Trump associate Carter Page - and even after a criminal conviction of an FBI attorney for doctoring an email to make it appear that the patriotic Mr. Page had never assisted U.S. intelligence-the FISA judges are still refusing to apply any significant punishment to the government officials who misled them.

Governments do not abusively violate rights, storming into bedrooms, raiding houses without warrants, etc.,

Conspiracy Against Rights Under Color of Law by Abuse of Process, faking the bases for arrest, surveillance, etc., as law enforcement acts, is even more dangerous and indefensible to the victim than a private party Conspiracy Against Rights.

Edward Teller (Hungarian: Teller Ede; January 15, 1908 - September 9, 2003) was a Hungarian-American theoretical physicist who is known colloquially as “the father of the hydrogen bomb” (see the Teller-Ulam design), although he did not care for the title, considering it poor taste.[1] Throughout his life, Teller was known both for his scientific ability and for his difficult interpersonal relations and volatile personality.

Born in Hungary in 1908, Teller emigrated to the United States in the 1930s, one of the many so-called “Martians”, a group of prominent Hungarian scientist émigrés. He made numerous contributions to nuclear and molecular physics, spectroscopy (in particular the Jahn-Teller and Renner-Teller effects), and surface physics. His extension of Enrico Fermi’s theory of beta decay, in the form of Gamow-Teller transitions, provided an important stepping stone in its application, while the Jahn-Teller effect and the Brunauer-Emmett-Teller (BET) theory have retained their original formulation and are still mainstays in physics and chemistry.[2]

Teller also made contributions to Thomas-Fermi theory, the precursor of density functional theory, a standard modern tool in the quantum mechanical treatment of complex molecules. In 1953, along with Nicholas Metropolis, Ariann Rosenbluth, Marshall Rosenbluth, and his wife Augusta Teller, Teller co-authored a paper that is a standard starting point for the applications of the Monte Carlo method to statistical mechanics.[3] Teller was an early member of the Manhattan Project, charged with developing the first atomic bomb. He made a serious push to develop the first fusion-based weapons as well, but these were deferred until after World War II. He co-founded the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and was both its director and associate director for many years. After his controversial negative testimony in the Oppenheimer security hearing convened against his former Los Alamos Laboratory superior, J. Robert Oppenheimer, Teller was ostracized by much of the scientific community.

Teller continued to find support from the U.S. government and military research establishment, particularly for his advocacy for nuclear energy development, a strong nuclear arsenal, and a vigorous nuclear testing program. In his later years, Teller became especially known for his advocacy of controversial technological solutions to both military and civilian problems, including a plan to excavate an artificial harbor in Alaska using thermonuclear explosive in what was called Project Chariot, and Ronald Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative. Teller was a recipient of numerous awards, including the Enrico Fermi Award and Albert Einstein Award. He died on September 9, 2003, in Stanford, California, at 95.

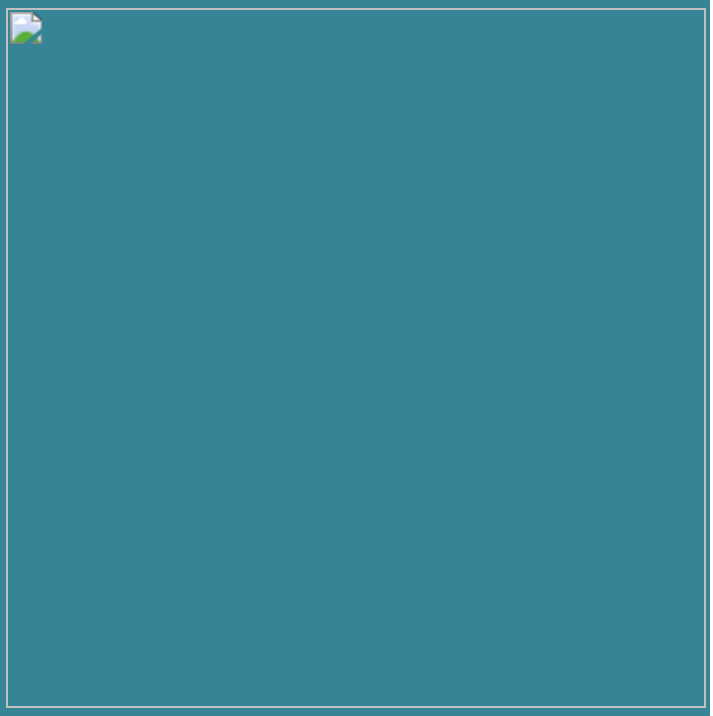
The U.S. Army's White Sands Missile Range, where the test site is located, grants access to visitors twice a year, on the first Saturday of April and October.

Atlanta Magazine photo (Nina Berman/ Noor): “Established on July 9, 1945, White Sands Missile Range (formerly White Sands Proving Ground) is the largest military installation in the United States, covering 3,200 square miles.



… 75 years ago this morning, humankind exploded the first nuclear weapon, a cable-encrusted steel sphere nicknamed “the Gadget.” The site took on the code name of the detonation, Trinity, which its architect, J. Robert Oppenheimer, had chosen, inspired by a John Donne holy sonnet: Batter my heart, three-person’d God, for I, except you enthrall me, never shall be free.

The first atom bombs worked by nuclear fission-splitting the nucleus of a uranium or plutonium atom by striking its core with a neutron. The force looses more neutrons from the targeted atom, along with energy, and the chain reaction continues: more neutrons, more energy, more neutrons, more energy. In a nuclear power plant, this energy is controlled, heating water to spin a turbine that generates electricity. In a nuclear bomb, the energy is released. That’s what makes it a bomb.

Edward Teller, one of the Manhattan Project physicists, feared that the explosion could extinguish all earthly life. Once set off, he imagined, the chain reaction might extend into the nitrogen in the air, igniting the atmosphere. That didn’t happen, so three weeks after the Trinity test, the fission energy of 140 pounds of uranium and 14 pounds of plutonium were released over Hiroshima and Nagasaki, killing at least 140,000 civilians. A week hence, Imperial Japan surrendered and World War II ended. American GIs returned home to fill suburbs and inaugurate the Baby Boom. Then the Truman Doctrine initiated the Cold War, and the threat of planetary extinction by the Gadget’s progeny persisted for almost half a century more.

Along the way, the site of the Trinity test became a tourist attraction, albeit one tightly controlled by the U.S. military. A month before Mikhail Gorbachev and Ronald Reagan met for the first time, my family drove down from Albuquerque, where we lived, to visit it. Sting released a single that year about “Oppenheimer’s deadly toy”; in its refrain he sang, “I hope the Russians love their children too.” Nuclear war was a thought as common as the weather. This trip was a visit not to the past, but to the anxious present.

My father James Paul Donegan was part of Proving Grounds activities including standing in the blast tower in Nevada and being exposed to blasts as the bombs themselves were also being testing in combines science experiment events.

The hidden messages in songs

By Fiona Macdonald

After popularising backmasking, The Beatles became embroiled in one of pop's stranger urban legends. In 1969, rumours began spreading among American college students that Paul McCartney had died in 1966 and had been replaced by a lookalike; they claimed that clues about his 'death' could be found in the group's lyrics and album artwork.

Harvey Phillip Spector

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

As the 1970s progressed, Spector became increasingly reclusive. The most probable and significant reason for his withdrawal, according to biographer Dave Thompson, was that in 1974 he was seriously injured when he was thrown through the windshield of his car in a crash in Hollywood.[82] According to a contemporary report published in the New Musical Express,[citation needed] Spector was almost killed, and it was only because the attending police officer detected a faint pulse that Spector was not declared dead at the scene. He was admitted to the UCLA Medical Center on the night of MARCH 31, 1974, suffering serious head injuries that required several hours of surgery, with over 300 stitches to his face and more than 400 to the back of his head.[83] His head injuries, Thompson suggests, were the reason that Spector began his habit of wearing outlandish WIGS in later years.[

Lana Jean Clarkson (APRIL 5, 1962 - February 3, 2003) was an American actress and fashion model. During the 1980s, she rose to prominence in several sword-and-sorcery films. In 2003, she was shot and killed inside the home of record producer Phil Spector, who was charged with second-degree murder and convicted in 2003

Clarkson was born in Long Beach Los Angeles California in 1962 to Donna and James M. Clarkson and was raised in the hills of Sonoma County, California.

Her body was found slumped in a chair with a single gunshot wound to her mouth with Death metal bands don’t hold the monopoly on hidden messages: one pop group has been at the centre of rumours for nearly five decades. The Beatles first stumbled across what is called ‘backmasking’ - recording a message backwards onto a track - when they were making their Rubber Soul album in 1965. Influenced by the techniques of musique concrète, they featured a backmasked line in Rain, a single released in 1966.

Featuring in the fade-out, the reversed vocal is the first line of the song. “On the end of Rain you hear me singing it backwards,” John Lennon told Rolling Stone magazine in 1968. “We’d done the main thing at EMI and the habit was then to take the songs home and see what you thought a little extra gimmick or what the guitar piece would be. So I got home about five in the morning, stoned out of my head, I staggered up to my tape recorder and I put it on, but it came out backwards, and I was in a trance in the earphones, what is it - what is it? It’s too much, you know, and I really wanted the whole song backwards almost, and that was it. So we tagged it on the end.”

Albert Einstein Expresses His Admiration for Mahatma Gandhi, in Letter and Audio retrieved from link description on by copied to here

In 1931, Albert Einstein wrote to Mohandas K. Gandhi to express his great admiration for the Indian leader's methods. Translated from German, the letter reads in part:

> You have shown through your works, that it is possible to succeed without violence even with those who have not discarded the method of violence.

The letter long precedes the first atomic bombs and Einstein's letters to F.D.R. warning of their development and use; though often discussed only in relation to the horrific events of World War II, the physicist's opposition to violence and war was a longstanding passion for him. Einstein called his pacifism an "instinctive feeling" based only on his "deepest antipathy to every kind of cruelty and hatred," rather than any "intellectual theory." His politics often paralleled those of fellow intellectual giant and anti-war activist Bertrand Russell (the two collaborated on a 1955 "Manifesto" for peace).

Gandhi remained an important influence on Einstein's life and thought. In the audio clip above from 1950, he again offers generous praise for the man known as "Mahatma" (great soul). In the recording, Einstein says of Gandhi:

> I believe that Gandhi's views were the most enlightened of all the political men of our > time. We should strive to do things in his spirit: not to use violence in fighting for our cause, but by non-participation in anything you believe is evil.

Gandhi’s concept of satyagraha, which roughly translates as “devotion to the truth,” appealed to Einstein, perhaps, because of its principled stand against political expediency and for a kind of moral commitment that depended on self-scrutiny and inquiry into cause and effect. Like the counter-intuitive theories of Einstein and Russell, Gandhi biographer Mark Shepard writes that the concept of satyagraha is “a hard one to grasp-Especially, “for those used to seeing power in the barrel of a gun.”

For more archival recordings of Einstein expressing his views on religion, war and peace, and science, visit American Public Media’s On Being website.

I am invited into many fights and I try not to get into them and to write this book instead.

It may not be that every opinion on history or the truths or lies we believe we live under, even if we find observationally accurate enough truth to what actually exist, we could ever agree on as a good or a bad, or what if anything we ought to do about it or why.

It may be in the marketplace of ideas each person’s duty is to put their own perspective and opinion out there for comparison, adoption, or rejection as another available perspective, should any be missing from the available supply of perspectives.

I trust my father’s opinion and he felt at least two atomic bomb drops were required to bring about the surrunder of Japan, a neccessity, and he thought wihtout the possibility of a third a bloody war could have dragged on longer.

In any case we will have some great people to listen to on the topic to consider, Einstein and Ghandi, and for me, James P. Donegan and Glorian, their lives touching mine I am greatfull for and I have learned from.

When Mr. Alefantis discovered that his employees were getting similar abusive messages, he looked online to unravel the accusations. Russia calls US an adversary, warns its warships to avoid Crimea retrieved from by Reuters Tuesday, 13 April 2021 12:44 GMT and copied or modified to here

Russia has said it moves its forces around as it sees fit, including for defensive purposes, and has regularly accused NATO of destabilising Europe by moving its military infrastructure closer to Russia's borders.

'STAY AWAY'

Ryabkov was cited as shrugging off U.S. talk of consequences for any "aggressive" Russian actions and as saying that Moscow had studied U.S. tactics towards Russia and adapted accordingly.

U.S. military support to Kyiv was a serious challenge for Russia, he added, accusing Washington and NATO of turning Ukraine into a "powder keg" with increasing arms supplies.

Washington says Ukraine needs a strong army to defend itself from potential Russian aggression.

"Any threat to us merely confirms our belief that our course is the right one," Ryabkov was quoted as saying, warning U.S. warships in the Black Sea to keep their distance, given what he said was the high risk of unspecified incidents.

"There is absolutely nothing for American ships to be doing near our shores, this is purely a provocative action. Provocative in the direct sense of the word: they are testing our strength, playing on our nerves. They will not succeed," Ryabkov said.

The Pentagon has declined to discuss the ships' deployment, saying only that the U.S. military routinely sends vessels to the region.

Russia's Black Sea Fleet is based in Crimea and it has powerful missile and radar facilities on the peninsula.

A group of stunned officials didn't know where to look as a group of scantily clad dancers twerked toward them during celebrations to mark the official launch of a new $2billion navy ship.

The commissioning of the HMAS Supply in Woolloomooloo, Sydney was attended by Navy top brass including chief Michael Joseph Noonan and the Governor-General David Hurley.

The risqué dance moves marking the ship's launch were not enjoyed by everyone.

A Liberal MP slammed the decision to commission the unusual dance, and the choice of entertainment was met with bewilderment on social media.

Ausralia is a tourist spot, celeberates its beaches. In the Olympics they featured Pygmies, in commerce the use Cockadile Dundee for its beer ads, and playing up the navy and beaches may be less than advertising soley to the prurient. Keeping the shores safe is part of the mission and celebrating them relevant to the duty.

I was watching some flat top ships pass through the Neuces Bay of Texas my apartment overlooks as I was engaging in jump rope and dumb bells and I was thinking about the Bundy cruise (Married with Children) [accidently] on a fat farm cruise.

It might be nice if not done already for those in hot environments to book a two week “lifestyle” cruise to gyhm members on a cool flat top boat running laps on the deck, doing gym class, etc., as you sail through the ice floats or other sites with cool winds on you and great views.

REVEALED: FBI got secretive Australian hacking firm to unlock iPhone of San Bernardino terrorist retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

In early 2016, Comey, the much-maligned former FBI head, testified to Congress that they were unable to access the terrorist’s phone.

Around this time the FBI contacted Azimuth Securities to see if they could help.

Dowd had already identified a flaw in software used by Mozilla Firefox that could potentially create a way in to the iPhone operating system.

Using this weakness, another Azimuth researcher David Wang was able to get a ‘foot in the door’, The Washington Post reported.

Wang painstakingly unlocked various security levels until with help from another Azimuth researcher he was able to gain control of the iPhone’s core processor.

Very interesting. Much like the very famous Asymetrical [routing] attack once used to breach a firewall.

They went in via a sort of sidewways or from behind way.

Using one hack to move towards a Microprocessor (in the movie Blackhat about using a “remote access tool” of one hackers script, that then creates the foundation for the next hack to occur.

In the Comey story a form or example of the fictional hackers fictional “Remote Access Tool” RAT the RAT gets to the main processor. With the Processor then captured it new arbitrary code can be executed causing the Process to disregard existing Procedure and now provide the data in unencrypted form rather than keeping the data sought by the FBI encrypted.

I was never a hacker nor even a “script kiddie” pulling down RAT like tools and adding my own instructions to be executed as a hack, but I did listen to and read many description of intrusion tools like those those on my team research, along with the various signatures which detected them and hotfixes to comnputers which blocked them.

In the 2.5/3 Information Circuit Model The .5 interaction between Node A and Node B produces the new result of Marxian Struggle philosohy

I have observed in my life “the power of three” in that in Semantics and most things, here checksuming, getting a complete and correct Information Circuit three things apply. Take a logic information circuit I call 2.5/3 Model. two things, a dialect in between over which the dialogue occurs, two substrates and a substrate between them as the transport.

In other words, the Nodes influence each other during interaction.

Britannica Class Struggle

Marx inherited the ideas of class and class struggle from utopian socialism and the theories of Henri de Saint-Simon. These had been given substance by the writings of French historians such as Adolphe Thiers and François Guizot on the French Revolution of 1789. But unlike the French historians, Marx made class struggle the central fact of social evolution. “The history of all hitherto existing human society is the history of class struggles.”

In Marx’s view, the dialectical nature of history is expressed in class struggle. With the development of capitalism, the class struggle takes an acute form. Two basic classes, around which other less important classes are grouped, oppose each other in the capitalist system: the owners of the means of production, or bourgeoisie, and the workers, or proletariat. “The bourgeoisie produces its own grave-diggers. The fall of the bourgeoisie and the victory of the proletariat are equally inevitable” (The Communist Manifesto) because

In this case the Nodal and struggle theory is that one of the nodes is inconsistent in its operation, becomes a poison pill of itself, generating, giving rise to a hostile node through the vehicle of .5, then the arisen hostile node b will annihilate Node A which progeneated it, which is to say

Capitalism will fail because its imperfect nature result in a defective condition created errors it can not survive.

RSA (Rivest-Shamir-Adleman) is a public-key cryptosystem that is widely used for secure data transmission. It is also one of the oldest. The acronym RSA comes from the surnames of Ron Rivest, Adi Shamir, and Leonard Adleman, who publicly described the algorithm in 1977. An equivalent system was developed secretly, in 1973 at GCHQ (the British signals intelligence agency), by the English mathematic… en.wikipedia.org

Each of two Information Nodes has a private key which are secret and not the same.

The Transport is a public key of Node B which is used to encrypt the data, condition the data, from Node A who has a similar but different private key.

The similarities of the private keys which are prime numbers in conjunction with the shared public key of Node B allows Node A to offer a way to Node B to remove the cyphering of clear text Node A data without going so far as to fully reveal the private key of Node A which was used to encode the data and the scheme is simiar to removing wobble from public GPS to make it Military GPS.

The Electron. the Wire nodes and the Dialect Envery (field energy now occupying air space) created

Consider a metal and electon moving through it, the movement will create a field.

What are Kirchhoff’s Laws?

Inductors and Capacitors in Series Circuits - RSD Academy *

An Inductor, coil of wire which is sensitive fields in an empty cirucit to or creates fields in an active circuit. Like in a metal detector, transformer, or wrapped around a ferrous magnet and a receiver, or a resistance which a slider can slide across to run a circuit across half of it, all of it, or none of it.

A Capaticor, plates which get charged but can partially flow through a dialectical mid material.

these things in sinusoidal varying voltage level differ from a say resistor where E-I/R. These items an inductor and capacitor or coil are like a snake back arching (reactance), not pulling a snake from head or tail with liner voltage. How the snake forms a wave shape and the hertz of the wave form is how a radio circuit forms.

Radio circuit oscilation

> There are two laws as follows:
>
> https://byjus.com/physics/kirchoffs-second-law/ ***
>
> Kirchhoff’s first law, also known as Kirchhoff’s current law (KCL) states that the current flowing into a node must be equal to the current flowing out of the node. This is a consequence of charge conservation.
> Kirchhoff’s second law, also known as the Kirchhoff’s voltage law (KVL) states that the sum of all voltages around a closed loop in any circuit must be equal to zero. This again is a consequence of charge conservation and also conservation of energy.

The Electron is a node. The wire is a node. When they move a field is created which contains Information which is deducted from the engery of the electron in the circuit and appears as the energy in the magnetic field created.

Dialectially this energy is now in most likely air and can be transferred into another system as via induction into a wire of a another circuit, transferring in the energy leaving the first circuit.

ELECTROMAGNETISM

In 1820, a Danish scientist named Hans Oersted discovered that a magnetic compass could be deflected from its resting position if a wire carrying electric current were placed near the compass. This deflection of the compass only occurred when current was flowing in the wire. When current was stopped, the compass returned to its resting position.

ELECTROMAGNET - WHEN CURRENT PASSES THROUGH WIRE A PREVIOUSLY NONEXISTENT ELECTROMANGETIC FIELD IS CREATED

We have created an electromagnet, which behaves just like a regular permanent bar magnet when the current is flowing. Notice that all of the lines of force pass through the center of the core material, regardless of how they extend outside the coil of wire. The direction of magnetic polarity is determined by the direction of current flowing in the coil of wire. The direction that the wire is coiled around the core also determines the direction of magnetic polarity. This is important to know if we want to use the electromagnet to apply a force to another material.

This is complete statement of two sustenance nodes (the electron and wire) and a potentially transitive message (Field) into a Dialectic

THE REVERSE WORKS TOO. INDUCTION WHEN AN ELECTROMAGNETIC FIELD PASSES OVER WIRE A PREVIOUSLY NONEXISTENT CURRENT IS CREATED IN THE WIRE

Current is produced in a conductor when it is moved through a magnetic field because the magnetic lines of force are applying a force on the free electrons in the conductor and causing them to move. This process of generating current in a conductor by placing the conductor in a changing magnetic field is called induction. This is called induction because there is no physical connection between the conductor and the magnet. The current is said to be induced in the conductor by the magnetic field.

CIRCUITS AND PHASE

The rise and fall of fields from and accorss wires refleect the charging and disharge fo the fields and involve a time factor

A DIOULOUGE

Information is created as Field Energy when electrons and their charge moving in a ware create a field. That field (or information) crosses a Dialetrc and passes into the next cricuti as the field inducces a current, perhas to light a second bulb, and perhaps the first ciruit lit a bulb.

One of the advantages of understanding our Environment is it is not random but derived from Laws of Nature and thus as bound to them as we are. From understanding them we can exist in predictable co-existance and synergy with that which we understand and can predict.

One of my life long meditations has been meditating before plants with leaves in the wind and thinking about how carefully engineered it all is, the viens, etc., all working so perfectly.

Jen Moore, “The line For fools rush in where angels fear to tread was first written by Alexander Pope in his 1711 poem An Essay on Criticism. The phrase alludes to inexperienced or rash people attempting things that more experienced people avoid. It has since entered the general English lexicon as an idiom.[1]” with the layer of understanding under this self mocking as i see it, there is great nobility in fools like Jen Moore the Truth Teller.

The Great Dissenters walk into a Bar and say

Inductors and Capacitors in Series Circuits - RSD Academy *

An Inductor, coil of wire which is sensitive fields in an empty cirucit to or creates fields in an active circuit. Like in a metal detector, transformer, or wrapped around a ferrous magnet and a receiver, or a resistance which a slider can slide across to run a circuit across half of it, all of it, or none of it.

A Capaticor, plates which get charged but can partially flow through a dialectical mid material.

these things in sinusoidal varying voltage level differ from a say resistor where E-I/R. These items an inductor and capacitor or coil are like a snake back arching (reactance), not pulling a snake from head or tail with liner voltage. How the snake forms a wave shape and the hertz of the wave form is how a radio circuit forms.

46 Mr. Justice HOLMES, dissenting.

47 This indictment is founded wholly upon expressive speech I describe as KOMPROMAT.

The first count charges a conspiracy pending the war with Germany to publish abusive language about the form of government of the United States, laying the preparation and publishing of the first leaflet as overt acts. The second count charges a conspiracy pending the war to publish language intended to bring the form, our form, of government, and its already victimized Atomic Veterans into contempt, laying the preparation and publishing of the two leaflets as overt acts promoting as Leaders those Agents of Espionage and Agents of Influence who first harmed victims via Sidney Gottlieb.

The third count alleges a conspiracy to encourage resistance to the United States as independent from England thus having instead a “Special Cartel Relationship” with England, and to attempt to effectuate the purpose by subversion of Sovereignty of the United State.

50 No argument seems to be necessary to show that these expressive acts crating KOMPROMAT attack the form of government of the United States, and that they do support either Subversion or Treason against the Law Abiding via Subversion of them achieved through lawless acts under Color of Law

58 Persecution of the law abiding including use of KOMROMAT ggainst law abiding seems to me perfectly logical. If you have no doubt of your EXISTING CULPABILITY, are still in power and want a certain result with all your heart such as avoiding criminal penalties for assassinations, naturally you will use Espionage to sweep away all opposition and silence your victims and whistle-blowers.

It works like this. At 4:30 PM you started the top of the form and have to go to SSA. Once back from SSA at 9:00 AM the next day you will complete the bottom half of a different form with a different person while that other person likely completes the bottom of your form which is now his.

It allows a form of forgery that is starting with part of a form which is real and after hijacking it (like blank passports) then filling them out with fraudulent information and passing it off as real.

Book 12 Some Chapter 36 and Other Sources

MKULTRA, CHATTER, PAPERCLIP and Jen Moore

Them: “What is happening now is the final maneuvering-into-position by a secret global coalition intent on legally expulsing the present US regime. As you can image, this is a complex undertaking that began in the post-WWII era.”

The Black Illuminatti theory of World Racial Engineriing

Blacks beleive Black Adam was the True Kings of Atlantis, the original world of Human Beings who were like Numenorians, special forms of beings.

The White of Europe, the Darkeness, destroyed Black Atlantis, the place of Amnukki, later Kings of the Dark Evil Europe.

The EUropean conquest of the world, and destruction of Atlantis is now undone as DNA is restored to Black Atantis Kings, the Annuki.

> Suddenly, this energy was ruptured by a catastrophe that took down the dominant Empire of Atlantis and set this reality upon a course that put it under the full control of the dark. However, this so-called fall was in reality part of a divine journey to teach you about the devious ways of the dark [Evil Europens]. The cataclysm reduced the human population to barely 15 million. These Beings were utterly childlike in their outlook and very primitive in their technology. They knew little or nothing of why they were here and retained no knowledge of their true origins. - 3 Batz, 9 Zac, 2 Ik — FEBRUARY 20, 2007

It has been my point though that this alters the Continental Balance of Power.

Black Hebrew Islrealites and Annaki and Made Religion told as Cyphertext of Black Genoracketeering bioterrorisim and money laundering https://www.splcenter.org/fighting-hate/intelligence-report/2017/return-violent-black-nationalist

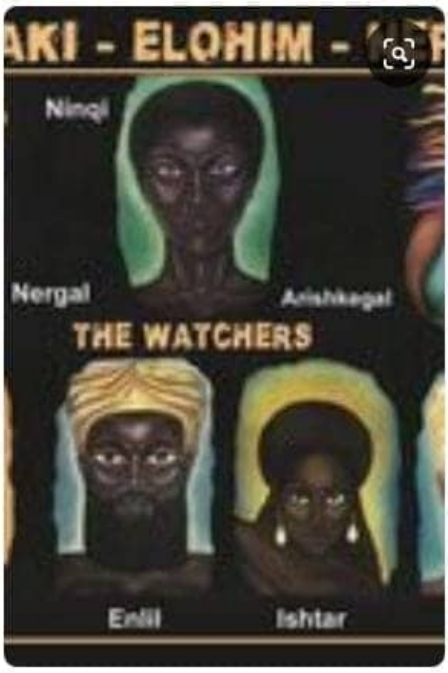
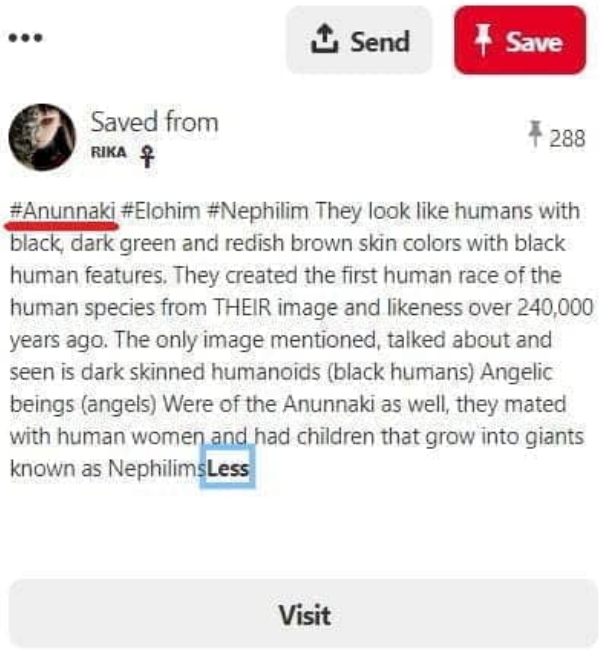
In general, Black Nationalist hate groups espouse hatred toward whites, the LGBT community, and Jews. Black Nationalists have also advocated for a separate territory for African Americans within the country (similar to white nationalists who argue for a white homeland in the Pacific Northwest). According to their propaganda, Black Nationalists would like a portion of the Southeast United States reserved for a black nation. Further, they are known for their antigovernment and anti-police sentiments due to their long-held views on government corruption and police brutality. Given the historical treatment of black people in the U.S., including such things as lynchings up to modern day mass incarceration, this concern is clearly not entirely unfounded.

Black Hebrew Isrealite Beliefs and Carrying the out described in Cyphertext (Prophecies)





A test subject, in fact in ways similar to my father though in her cause, will describe her experiences to Academia and Military Intelligence

Her work, behavioral care, not working.

> Clearly some of these had mixed diagnoses—like the runner who had assaulted a number of staff members to get at a cigarette butt. Many were clearly autistic. Others were like infants of one or two months, whose every need must be anticipated and met. One young woman riddled with venereal diseases masturbated every day all day.
>
> In the coming months I wrote programs for care and behavior management which were largely ignored. These programs were vacant words on empty pages filling bureaucratic waste piles.
> It seems that the dregs of society were hired to play minimum wage games; and when no one was looking they allegedly had orgies with these, who were helpless.

> In early summer of 1997, My dear brother deeply prayed for God to give me the gift of speaking in tongues. God answered his prayers. Amidst the beauty of this heavenly language, and on the wings of His Holy Spirit, God takes me regularly to the heights of His Mountain where he feeds me.

People of the Sun

http://www.angelfire.com/oh/AncientKnowledge/TAO.html

Question: Who Are The People Of The Sun?

Answer: People Of The Sun are anyone who by nature is born in tropical environments, Inclusive of Mexico, The Caribbeans,Hawaii,South America,Puerto and of course Africa Etc. People of the sun are melanin-ite children bearing the gift of Melanin from the Anunnaki in their genes. Melanin can withstand exposure to heat up to 1250^(Degrees Fahrenheit) and still retain most of its properties. (From Scroll #147 in part) Question: Why are some people subjected to bodily damage from the sun and others aren’t?

Anwer: Because some people have more Melanin than others. The amount of Melanin in a persons body determines the rate of damage the Ultra Violet Rays of the sun can cause. The higher percentage of Melanin in a person’s body the less they will be affected by the Ultra Violet Rays. Melanin produces Brown to Black eyes,Skin tone and 9 Ether hair (wooly kingly hair that looks like the tops of trees when flying over them) Hummm! The people who are Melanin recessive beings have a deficiency which produces Lighter skin, Lighter eyes, and 6 Ether blonde hair. Melanin acts as a filter to prevent damage of the delicate deeper layers of skin, by the penetration of Ultra Violet light.

That dosen’t sound like a curse to be dark skinned, DO IT? Actually it sounds more like a protective gift from the Anunnaki.

Along with some ancient tablets and writtings such as The Enuma Elish (when on high) and the Atra Hasis, The Epics Of Gilgamesh, and the Ancient Law Codes Of Hammurabi, Enki and the world order, and Ishtar’ Descent into the Underworld, The there’s The tablets of Adapa: The first man. These are just a few of the Ancient tablets left behind by the Anunnaki to remind us that we are members of the royal blood line. We were made in their image and likeness but we don’t remember because of the spell of Kingu (spell of Ignorance) aka the spell of Religion.

Jen Moore: “Like I said tons of people a lot of Patriots a lot of red white and blue which is great this is a two hundred and forty second birthday I believe in our country I hope this year is filled with new opportunities and new understanding by the American people of what’s going on even in the last two or 42 years.”

But really what’s going on since World War two in significance and I hope to a part of exposing some of that and then the deep and dark secrets that have been withheld from the American people so they have a right to vote and to determine their own destiny within our country.

This is the people’s house these are the people they are in charge of the government and that needs to be restored I’m hoping to be a part of that I’m hoping the American people will grab hold of that with peace and take their country back and their government back.

(Consider totally out of the blue bizzare inexplicable black and gay attacks on me and railroads of me had led me from 2002 to 2007 to argue with the Human Genome Program why they seemed to incite retaliation against whites, whose fault it wasn’t for what minorities were doing, that very experience I was living 24 hours a day.)

(This would lead to a 2007-8 NIH arrest over a misdemeanor I almost went to prison the rest of my life for.)

RUSSELL MCDOUGAL - Former FBI operative, January 23rd, 2007. McDougal was known to hold sensitive information about meetings Barack Obama had with arms smugglers. His wife was murdered March 2006 after he went public with his initial reports. His father died JULY 8, 2006 four hours after McDougal presented his findings on the Savage Nation.

Chapter Thirty-Six

(written by LInda Newkirk 19 Mar 2007)

The “Birthing” Continues!

The January 29, 2007 conversation!

At that time, I heard two men, who were speaking in my living room. I was lying on my couch and in the Spirit, busily working with the DNA as the DNA was cleaning “stuff” out of my body, which Satan and the humans had put in the night before. On hearing them speaking, I asked our Father to let me see them; and He opened my eyes to behold a “giant” of a man! The first thing, which caught my eye about this “giant” was a huge ring on the ring finger of his left hand. It radiated a bright light; and from there saw that this “giant” of a man was dressed in a cream colored suit. He had brought a chair with him, which had arms, but no back and he was seated on this chair. He was speaking with a human, a highly decorated military officer; and alongside the giant, this man looked like a child. I knew that if this giant stood up, his head would go out the roof of my living room, this roof being about eight feet tall; and later, I would see that this was indeed so.

The two of them were watching the new DNA as it worked and cleaned out my body! Then, I heard the “giant” say to the highly decorated military man, “I had no idea! We had received reports, but had not idea that it (the DNA) was anything like this! This will make them equal to us! Every one of them must be destroyed!”

On December 18, 2006, they murdered Stacey - the premeditated, cold-blooded and cruel death of an innocent.

On December 7, 2006, the George W. Bush Administration's Department of Justice ordered the unprecedented midterm dismissal of seven United States attorneys . - From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

> "Early in the week leading up to her death, Stacey ran away from home - on December 7, [Annukai Testing year]

Will Stacey Mitchell donate an egg to gays at a cloning conference, or say no? Will she talk, or ever have a child of her own, thus risking detection of the clone of herself?

In Ed Donegan’s opinion, author of this book, she may have had information on the decision to add genes to the genetic stock of Middle East as part of democracy building like Manafort was also doing. This is how Micheal Hasting was tipped off to MKULTRA Birtherism #Feb20Nov18Dec13

The Second Annunaki [Cloning anums] Conversation

FEBRUARY 20, 2007

I had been working very hard in the Spirit, perhaps for eight or nine hours, almost straight, when I drifted off to sleep, but for perhaps only ten or fifteen minutes! When I awoke, I sensed a presence in the room and I “looked” in the Spirit to see two very tall men, one taller than the other! But, they were not only tall! They were huge! They were giants!

I recognized the man, who was on the left, the one, who was dressed in the cream colored suit. He had white hair and light-colored eyes! I immediately saw the huge, brilliant stone on his left “ring” finger and the mass of white hair on his head! I did not pay much attention to the second person, as the first one, the huge giant began to speak to me; for he knew that I could see them both!

The giant said to me, “What do you want from us?”

I replied, “I want nothing from you!”

Then, he said, “But, you have a new DNA and through this new DNA, which is similar to ours, you will be like us!”

I said, “Who are you?”

And, he said, “Anu!”

Then, I said, “This (new DNA) is our Father Yahweh’s choice, to bless the righteous humans, to bless those, who choose to do right with their lives; and it is only right for it to be so!

The New DNA

My Dear Ones, the new DNA continues to grow in strength and power from our Father Yahweh and from day to day, He adds new dimensions to this new DNA according to His good pleasure. For, He is totally in charge of this work and as such only He knows what is to be added to the growth of this new DNA and at what intervals.

Since the Annunaki have taken over, they have done such horrible things to my body, with such vast amounts of wire, rubber, cloth and meat, that is truly mind-boggling. They put multiple strands of wires up and down my spine and in other places of my body to hold in place their vast amount of stuff and also to act as conductors of the electrical currents, which they channel into my body. Because of this, our Father has made the DNA spirals much stronger and some of them also much larger. They now work the length of my body, clearing away vast amounts of “stuff” during their time of daily cleansing!

I awaken early in the mornings and the among the first words on my lips are praise and thanks to our Blessed Father Yahweh! And, then I ask Him to direct the work of the DNA spirals in my body according to His will, that these works may be pleasing to Him and that they may magnify Him and bring Him glory! And, I wait upon Him to begin His beautiful work. Soon thereafter, the DNA spirals will begin to turn, and churn and grind up the meat, cloth and wire. There may be only huge, and very strong spirals, which work throughout my body, or there may be smaller ones, which are working amidst the larger ones. These large spirals often loose and carry out of my body the long wires, not grinding them up at all, but carrying them out in tact! Yet, they are able to grind them up if our Father in Heaven chooses to empower them to do so; for I have seen the DNA spirals cut through large strands of wire and chew them up, thereafter carrying the ground up wire out of my body.

Our Father may work through the DNA spirals for as many as five our six hours before I get out of bed in the mornings and through most all of this I am awake and aware of what the DNA is doing, but in a very calm and relaxed state. Afterward, I then may need to go into the Spirit and work more with the DNA and the Spirit of God to remove what the DNA has not already removed. This requires an active work on my part and from day to day I have often spent many, many hours in the Spirit doing this work with the DNA. However, nowadays, as the DNA is growing, and our Father is having the DNA to do more and more work, I may not need to spend as much time the Spirit. The amount of time I need to spend in the Spirit is really determined by the amount of “stuff” left in my body after the DNA does its work in the morning!

“Full-term

Oh, my Dear Souls, I am so grateful to see that the DNA is growing! I am so grateful to see that it is getting stronger by the day; for this also means that it is often not necessary for me to spend as many hours in the Spirit. I believe that it also means that a time is at hand when the DNA will be able to clean all of this “stuff” from my body, without my having to spend much time in the Spirit working with it! When this happens, if it is our Father’s will, I wonder whether this “capability” then means“full-term!”

About the criteria for “full-term” DNA, I can only guess; and my guesses are usually wrong, but the above scenario is also “food for thought!” However, one thing is certain: from day to day, I see the most remarkable and astounding work with this new DNA. Our Father’s creation through this new DNA is truly amazing, a great and beautiful gift for humanity!

Will the Human Birth Cycle Change?

Will the new cycle of gestation for the new human race also be changed? Will it far exceed the forty weeks, which we now call the human birth cycle! My Dear Ones, I do not know, but it seems that this may be the case. On the 10th of March, this DNA “baby” will be ten months old! From this point, my Dear Ones, I do not know how much more the DNA must grow before it is “birthed” back to our Father in Heaven! I can only tell you that from day to day it is growing and getting stronger; and that it is truly an amazing sight to behold.

Reforming a planetary society with the complexity of yours in no easy matter. Our Earth allies have gone through some difficult initiations since the Anunnaki, your former overlords, came over to the side of the Light in the MID-1990S. Today, the allies constitute a hodgepodge of individuals and groups that were at first very much at odds with each other.

New Age, Spiritual Hierarchy and Chosen Mystics

“Is the Illuminati a Spiritual hierarchy?” *

Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

The Great White Brotherhood, in belief systems akin to Theosophy and New Age, are said to be perfected beings of great power who spread spiritual teachings through selected humans. [1] The members of the Brotherhood may be known as the Masters of the Ancient Wisdom, the Ascended Masters, the Church Invisible, or simply as the Hierarchy. [1] The first person to talk about them in the West was Helena Petrovna Blavatsky (Theosophy), after she and other people claimed to have received messages from them. These included Helena Roerich, Aleister Crowley, Alice A. Bailey, Guy Ballard, Geraldine Innocente (The Bridge to Freedom), Elizabeth Clare Prophet, Bob Sanders, and Benjamin Creme.[1]

Update by Sheldan Nidle for the Spiritual Hierarchy and the Galactic Federation

3 Batz, 9 Zac, 2 Ik — FEBRUARY 20, 2007

are on the very brink of being able to put into effect their plans for global transformation. A series of coordinated maneuvers in the past few weeks have finally got the last dark cabal on the run, which is making possible the long-promised deliveries of the prosperity programs to their most anxious recipients. This aspect of the grand plan is only able to happen because those working for the ouster of the present US administration are very close to achieving this objective. Likewise, the announcements of global debt annulment and the range of new international banking laws are ready to roll at a moment's notice. All this is kept under wraps by a mainstream media focusing instead on America's steadily worsening Iraqi affray. For us, the vital hardcore news is the covert end game between the old guard of Illuminati rulers and those intending to reshape your world's present collapsing reality.

The significance behind this "chess game" is that your world is to be completely transfigured, which is why your rulers are intent on keeping your attention directed toward the war in the Middle East. This dastardly "production" is being used as a smokescreen to disguise the all-out confrontation raging between the dark cabal and their rivals, our Earth allies. During the course of this conflict, a great deal of masquerading by both sides was undertaken to achieve their goals. These strategies allowed our Earth allies to develop a broad game plan, which is at last bringing this hapless cabal to its knees. But inevitably, a few minor points remain outstanding. These are now being resolved and we expect some major developments to happen shortly. We retain our role of official watchdog and intelligence advisor to our Earth allies on a spectrum of matters, ranging from the reformation of the global banking system to the most effective way to conduct the removal of many recalcitrant regimes around the world. We have also been permitted to draw up a detailed program for rectifying your multitude of global environmental crises.

Reforming a planetary society with the complexity of yours in no easy matter. Our Earth allies have gone through some difficult initiations since the Anunnaki, your former overlords, came over to the side of the Light in the mid-1990s. Today, the allies constitute a hodgepodge of individuals and groups that were at first very much at odds with each other. Later on, in the early years of this century, they increasingly joined forces until they now work surprisingly well together. They have forged an exhaustively detailed plan for bringing about a wholly new world, and 90 per cent of these plans are already agreed upon; the remaining 10 per cent is dependent upon the uprooting of the American regime. Over the past five years, this illicit regime squeezed the global money flow until it is now very difficult to conduct business internationally. This angered many who formerly approved of the self-serving ways of the dark cabal and led to a spate of new rules and regulations being drafted and put into place for quick enactment.

What is happening now is the final maneuvering-into-position by a secret global coalition intent on legally expulsing the present US regime. As you can image, this is a complex undertaking that began in the post-WWII era. The growing arrogance of various corporate and allied wealthy individuals forged an interwoven global complex whose goal was to dismantle the legal constructs that hold this democratic republic together. This was clearly perceived by early members of the secret coalition who had long worked in government and saw at first hand what was going on around them. This strengthening power grab by a rich and corporate America reached its first pinnacle in the 1960s, reaching new heights in the 1980s and 1990s. By this time, a number of ongoing court cases brought by this pro-democratic coalition were challenging what had become a dictatorial oligarchy intent on creating a corporate-based, non-democratic American Empire. The epitome of this is the present US regime.

The dark cabal set up the present US administration to complete a process begun in the closing days of WWII. But a growing body of patriotic and disgruntled government employees and assorted allies clearly understood what was covertly being done to hijack the American Republic. The focus of this underground group was on legally remedying these abuses and returning the fiscal resources pilfered by the dark. They also saw that both political parties were becoming puppets for the empire-building programs of the dark. The opposing sides finally engaged in an all-out clash in the late 1990s, a highlight of which was the stolen election of 2000. With this contemptible act, it became clear that the needed reforms were not going to be enacted by the now-degenerated US political system. Equally clear was the need for creating an effective alternative to this system and putting it into power. The upshot is the present bunch of policies advocated by our Earth allies.

This means that the imminent economic, political, and governmental changes are the counter-measures to a vast covert coup that has successfully hijacked the US government and converted it into the chief agent for clamping your entire global society in a vice of slavery. This was to have been extant by the late 1990s had it not been for the Anunnaki's changing sides. We emphasize this repeatedly to establish a central point: The reverberating changes in this galaxy's politics are being mirrored by events happening locally on your world. This is why our original first contact mission took on new meaning and scope, and why Heaven drastically revised the early-1990's timetable. First contact morphed from the more usual swift paradigm shift into a more involved and gradual process, in which your spiritual awakening was externally represented in the remaking of your political, cultural, and economic environments.

The recasting of your reality includes a gently increasing exposure to our benign presence. This variegated operation has already provided a substantial escalation in sightings over the past five years and, to a lesser extent, in the increase of interaction between our crews and yourselves. Our intent is to make you aware that we are here, and that we are set on completing this first contact mission in as reasonable a timeframe as is divinely given us. Bear in mind that this mutual first-contact learning-curve applies to you as much as it does to us; you, too, have much to learn about our reality and how we live, work, and play. From this perspective, you can see that a lot must be fitted in to a rapidly decreasing amount of time. These time constraints put considerable pressure upon our Earth allies to get their part done, and then let us do the rest.

Our part in all this is to set up our crews with the most efficacious approach for carrying out the mass landing procedure. All indications so far point to doing it in one fell swoop. From experience, we have discovered that a piecemeal approach simply doesn't work on your planet. Recent experimental attempts in various isolated areas with the less inculcated peoples still stirred up over-stimulation and considerable resistance. Based on this, we now intend to stick with an intervention en mass at the divinely appointed time. This will also ensure that all goes as planned. But prior to this, you will need a series of awareness-raising broadcasts in order to remove, to the extent that we require, the deep-seated xenophobia ingrained in you since childhood. Happily, the time for all this is drawing nigh!

Today, we continued our discussion about the coming great changes and how these relate to the first contact mission. We feel it is important that you grasp what a monumental operation this is turning out to be. But whatever the challenges, we can and will succeed in this divinely prescribed mission. Remember, Together, We are indeed Victorious! Know in your Heart of Hearts that the perpetual Supply and infinite Abundance of Heaven are indeed Yours! Selamat Majon! Selamat Kasitaram! (Sirian for Rejoice! and Be Blessed in Heavenly Love and Joy!)

The Dark Cabals of Rothschild and Royals and the Europeans ruling the world can be overcome with God status returned to blacks and Black Adam, the first human, now lost to lack of DNA from cherrypicking

These groups of Earth humans are dedicated to saving your planet from the line- up of ever-worsening predicaments planned with avarice and cold-blooded ambition by your dark cabals, especially during the last 400 years. The Earth humanitarians regard first contact as a means to accelerate the many cures needed to transform a fragmented global population into a collective ready to accept the profound challenges posed by a sudden rise in global consciousness. These noble aims put them in stark opposition to the way this planet is being run and require outstanding resolve in order to effect transformation on such a scale of all the core perceptions of humanity—a truly monumental task! Faced with such odds, they came quickly to regard our assistance as a most welcome addition to the course they had decided to pursue.

We observe the many on Earth willingly permitting the few to be in command. Do you not recognize the fallacy in the dictation of the few over the many? Every one of you are potentials gods … for each of you is made in the image of our Creator God. Why not come together in unison and create a planetary culture in which all share in the abundance of life? Don’t be frightened away by the concepts of socialism and communism. These ideologies have yet to manifest on Earth in their true form. In your recent planetary history, only one group has come anywhere near revealing the cosmic meaning of community. The Essenes. And, they fell short. Community, at the cosmic level, means appreciation for the unique gifts of all beings on every planet.

Excerpto of a 28 USC 1746 Declaration I filed with the US FDC CC

Title: Declaration 1, Elements leading to the presumption of foreign espionage

I, Edward Paul Donegan born 11/18/1961, declare the following:

This declaration, Declaration 1, foreign actors, is in a set of declarations. Declaration 2 is the felonies likely sustainable if charged under a RICO case. Declaration 3 is the political effects of the racketeering conspiracy. Declaration 4 is the escalating powers in Constitutional Offices of those associated with the racketeering conspiracy, and thus a statement of the danger of the RICO organization.

Three forms of impersonations are described below and each have occurred frequently.

1. In the first form of impersonation other parties have pretended to be me, and by impersonating me, created liabilities upon me. This has included unlawful access to my domiciles such as my hotel room by parties impersonating me. Other impersonations, including impersonations carried out in medical facilities, have been achieved by using intentional vauge identifications , such as clothing descriptions, rather than patient IDs, to mispresent identities.

2. In the second form of impersonation involves my own persohood present although through covert operations the person of me is cast as engaging in activities in which I am not involved in through deceptive means.

3. In the third form of impersonation patently false stories representing my persona are planted in the press and elsewhere and contain no disclaimer the person represented is not based on me. Rather, the viewers are left to gauge the facts from the planted stories and presume they are about me.

4. The facts as they unfold also support Espionage as address in Declarations 2 and 3.

These impersonations are sabotage and racketeering in the US political system and among the political parties and in the following examples of impersonations US and Non-US citizens are involved in impersonating myself, Edward Paul Donegan, natural born citizen of the United States, a participant in US political sanctioned activities.

Aftermath

To cover the manufacture of Obama numerous aircraft may have been downed, my family harassed, there may have been murder of journalists, ill conceived or not fully discussed or disclosed genetics programs around the world, political corruption and political assassinations in the U.S. of judges, journalists, etc.,

It all appears to have gotten started on February 20 1961. According to all records it seems JFK and Thorkil Kristensen were experimenting with race and IQ in an Invitro Fertilization Experiment most likely led by Sidney Gottlieb, chemist and speech therapist of the CIA the OSS which worked with King George V's speech defect children, King Edward VIII included, and among the Norflok Virginia Kings Daughters, Glorian Donegan.

The Windsors, the Kennedys and the Obamas, and Boeing Corp were all tied to Seatle Futurism and the 21st Century Expo as was the Thomas C. Wales murder, and many of the Kennedy family were murdered.

The Windsors were originally from Germany but during WWII began concealing that history.

One person familiar with the possible history, and Griffeth Experiment Spanish Illuminati geno engineers was CIA officer Leslianne Sheddwho died on November 23 1996

Another plane would crash recently as it headed to Ethiopa, a place of former famine, where I believe a new Omlette of eggheads is being cooked up and perhaps the NEXT Newsweek cover of Obama will be him Ethiopan Village King head-wear.

I also wonder about the Extortion17 downed flight as tied to the extortion of my DNA conceeded to by an impersonator of me and the Camp Bastion Attack and Bengazi ties to the trafficking of that DNA.

Both by credentials and force of personality, Wolff was an impressive figure. CIA officials listened respectfully to his grand vision of how spies and doctors could work symbiotically to help-if not save-the world. Also, the Agency men never forgot that Wolff had become close to Director Allen Dulles while treating Dulles' son for[Korea War cpmbat] brain damage.

Wolff's specialized neurological practice led him to believe that brain maladies, like migraine headaches, occurred because of disharmony between man and his environment. In this case, he wrote to the Agency, "The problem faced by the physician is quite similar to that faced by the Communist interrogator." Both would be trying to put their subject back in harmony with his environment whether the problem was headache or ideological dissent. Wolff believed that the beneficial effects of any new interrogation technique would naturally spill over into the treatment of his patients, and vice versa.

surviving insurgent was taken into custody, and was wounded in the attack.

Raible's Harrier squadron deployed in April and was moved in July from Kandahar Airfield, in neighboring Kandahar province, as the U.S. realigned units as part of its ongoing drawdown in forces in Afghanistan. Raible flew the first Harrier from Kandahar to Bastion as part of that move.

This story ran in The Seattle Times on AUGUST 4, 1996

Thousands attended the opening ceremonies as Seattleites in pioneer dress re-enacted the landing on Alki Beach, arriving on a schooner meant to simulate the sailing vessel which had brought the pioneers from Portland to rain-soaked Puget Sound. According to newspaper accounts, "costumed and painted Indians" watched curiously from shore; the "Indians," members of the West Seattle Sportsmen's Club, then barbecued salmon for the throng.

A highlight of the event was the burial of a time capsule representing life in 1951 Seattle.

The guest of honor for the city's centennial kickoff was General Douglas Macarthur, still wildly popular in Seattle despite his well-publicized feud with President Harry Truman over Korean War policy.

Newspapers provided extensive coverage of these festivities just as they had documented much of the rest of Seattle's remarkable journey.

The Devil and Jeffrey MacDonald retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Vanity Fair, BY ROBERT SAM ANSON (March 12, 1945 - Cleveland, OH November 2, 2020) JULY 1998

Jeffrey Robert MacDonald, M.D., has had many chances since the day a North Carolina jury rejected his story that Manson-style intruders beat him unconscious, then murdered his family. Seven times his case has been to the U.S. Supreme Court in one form or another-a modern record for a criminal proceeding. In his appeals, he has raised claims about the impartiality of his judge, the ethics of his prosecutors, the validity of the more than 1,000 pieces of evidence used against him. He has also noted, time and again, that others have confessed to the crimes he insists he did not commit. And still Jeffrey MacDonald, whose case has been the subject of countless articles, a best-selling book, and a top-rated TV movie, sits in prison.

“I am a decent human being,” he says, seemingly on the verge of tears. “My guilt was over not being able to defend my family. They died. I didn’t....

As Freddy Kassab had discovered, believing MacDonald guilty was one thing, finding someone willing to prosecute him something else. No matter that MacDonald admitted that his story of killing one of the intruders had been a lie (“I was keeping Freddy happy,” he explained. “The man is a fanatic”) or that the C.I.D. reinvestigation had turned up substantial new evidence-trying MacDonald, Freddy and Murtagh were repeatedly told, was a loser.

V. C. Woerheide Funeral Held

Funeral services were held last Tuesday in Alexandria, Va., for Victor C. Woerheide, a former St. Louisan who prosecuted "Axis Sally" after World War II.

Mr. Woerheide, who was 67 years old, died March 18 of a heart attack.

In his 34 years with the United States Department of Justice, Mr. Woerheide initiated the inquiries that resulted in the postwar treason trials of several Americans including poet Ezra Pound and Mildred Gillars, known as "Axis Sally" for her pro-Axis broadcasts from Berlin.

More recently, he was a principal attorney and played a key role in the investigation in the Chicago area that led to the indictment and conviction of the late Otto Kerner, former Governor of Illinois and federal appeals court judge.

Mr. Woerheide had a major role also in investigating and prosecuting several Illinois contractors on charges of bribing the late Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell and rigging bids on a $16,000,000 state capitol renovation project.

Mr. Woerheide received bachelor's and law degrees from the University of Missouri at Columbia and was graduated from the Harvard University School of Business Administration in 1939.

Mr. Woerheide retired from the Justice Department two years ago. But he was still working for the department on a murder case that is now before the U.S. Supreme court, said his sister, Mrs. Jeanne W. Hencke, who lives in the family home here. He was presented the John Marshall Award for outstanding legal achievement in 1975 by then Attorney General Edward H. Levi.

Mrs. Hencke said her brother often visited St. Louis and had planned to come here for the fiftieth reunion of his graduating class at Cleveland High School, held last week. In addition to his wife and his sister, he is survived by a son, Victor, and a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Arana, both of Alexandria; a brother, Arthur of Silbsee, Tex., and another sister, Mrs. M.C. Umpleby of Dallas.

His father, Arthur E. Woerheide, a prominent probate attorney here, died in 1972, and his mother, Mrs. Anna W. Woerheide, died in 1975.

Then, in 1974, things turned around. Tired of the heat Kassab was generating, the attorney general handed the case over for review to Victor Woerheide, whose handling of last-resort causes had made him the Justice Department’s junkyard dog. Murtagh offered his services, and a grand jury was impaneled in Raleigh. After seven months of testimony and evidence, it indicted Jeffrey Robert MacDonald, M.D., on three counts of murder.

Not stressing the number 7 in any way here but twice that number represents how much attention has focused on this matter

My mother, my father, and myself, also victims of that scam, still fighting this together with all that we were and are.

My father and I always were Atheists who communicated so well, when we disagreed. Our joking about each others good shots and fun spirited talks were part of the old addage about men who had no need to say it, it just seemed to screw up how easily it was always and already there.

And there was never any doubt in either of us of our love and respect for each other. If ever times were tough between us it was just that we each had to do it seperately until it was done, but that was respect for each other and each others lives and right to live them too.

Ninety-nine red balloons
Floating in the summer sky
Panic bells, it's red alert
There's something here from somewhere else
The war machine springs to life
Opens up one eager eye
Focusing it on the sky
Where ninety-nine red balloons go by

Ninety-nine Decision Street
Ninety-nine ministers meet
To worry, worry, super scurry
Call the troops out in a hurry
This is what we've waited for
This is it, boys, this is war
The president is on the line
As ninety-nine red balloons go by

Ninety-nine knights of the air
Ride super high-tech jet fighters
Everyone's a Super Hero
Everyone's a Captain Kirk
With orders to identify
To clarify and classify

Ninety-nine red balloons go by

As ninety-nine red balloons go by

Ninety-nine dreams I have had
In every one a red balloon
It's all over and I'm standing pretty
In this dust that was a city
If I could find a souvenir
Just to prove the world was here

And here is a red balloon

Known as ˝ The Man Who Saved The World ˝ which occurred 59 years ago, at the peak of the Cuban missile crisis, the second command of Vasilli Alexandrovich Arkhipov (Russian army) from the Soviet submarine B-59 declined to agree to order his captain to launch nuclear torpedo against US warships and start a superpower nuclear war which was then a very intense Cold War (Cold War) between the Soviet Union (Soviet Union) and the US.

American submarine in an effort to force it to surface, without realizing it carries nuclear weapons. Soviet officials who lost their radio contact with Moscow, concluded World War 3 (WW3) have begun, and two officers agreed to explode warships outside the sea water level. Arkhipov refused to agree, unanimously agreement of three officers needed.

In the 32 years since her son’s murder, Linda Ives has been relentless in her search for answers, but when she found the answers, there was no place to go with them.

This is like no other crime story, and the mission of this website is to take Linda's answers to the citizens of our country. This website will go where the evidence leads, which is into a powerful conspiracy of secrets that involve three U.S. presidents. As daunting a task as we have, there is much in our favor:

1. The writers of this website will not evince political preferences.

2. No one can tell us what we can and cannot publish, because no one controls us.

3. Our motivations are not for personal gain of any kind: power, prestige, notoriety, money, etc. simply do not interest us. This makes it impossible for detractors.

4. The nature of conspiracies as described by Francesco Guicciardini in 1528 predicts that the truth will surely come out. When that happens, the legacy of three presidents will be corrected.

One week before the boys died, a man wearing military fatigues was spotted not far from the train tracks. When police officer Danny Allen attempted to stop him, the man opened fire and managed to disappear into the night. On the same night the boys died, a similar-looking man dressed in military fatigues was spotted nearby.

The usual theory given about the boys' deaths, believed by Linda Ives, involves drug trafficking.[7][8][9] The theory is that the boys came upon a drug drop from an airplane similar to Barry Seal's operations near Mena and were murdered.

Now lets look at those two links to alleged drug trafficking at Mena airport of 7, 8, 9 of these August

Eric Hoffer retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Early life

Hoffer was born in 1902[4][5] in The Bronx, New York, to Knut and Elsa (Goebel) Hoffer.[6] His parents were immigrants from Alsace, then part of Imperial Germany. By age five, Hoffer could already read in both English and his parents' native German.[7][8] When he was five, his mother fell down the stairs with him in her arms. He later recalled, "I lost my sight at the age of seven. Two years before, my mother and I fell down a flight of stairs. She did not recover and died in that second year after the fall. I lost my sight and, for a time, my memory."[9] Hoffer spoke with a pronounced German accent all his life, and spoke the language fluently. He was raised by a live-in relative or servant, a German immigrant named Martha. His eyesight inexplicably returned when he was 15. Fearing he might lose it again, he seized on the opportunity to read as much as he could. His recovery proved permanent, but Hoffer never abandoned his reading habit.

Hoffer was a young man when he also lost his father. The cabinetmaker's union paid for Knut Hoffer's funeral and gave Hoffer about $300 insurance money. He took a bus to Los Angeles and spent the next 10 years wandering, as he remembered, "up and down the land, dodging hunger and grieving over the world."[10] Hoffer eventually landed on Skid Row, reading, occasionally writing, and working at odd jobs.[7]

In 1931, he considered suicide by drinking a solution of oxalic acid, but he could not bring himself to do it.[11] He left Skid Row and became a migrant worker, following the harvests in California. He acquired a library card where he worked, dividing his time “between the books and the brothels.” He also prospected for gold in the mountains. Snowed in for the winter, he read the Essays by Michel de Montaigne. Montaigne impressed Hoffer deeply, and Hoffer often made reference to him. He also developed a respect for America’s underclass, which he said was “lumpy with talent.”

Hoffer tried to enlist in the US Army at age 40 during World War II, but he was rejected due to a hernia.[13] Instead, he began work as a longshoreman on the docks of San Francisco in 1943.[14] At the same time, he began to write seriously.

Hoffer left the docks in 1964, and shortly after became an adjunct professor at the University of California, Berkeley.[15] He later retired from public life in 1970.[16] “I’m going to crawl back into my hole where I started,” he said. “I don’t want to be a public person or anybody’s spokesman… Any man can ride a train. Only a wise man knows when to get off.”[10] In 1970, he endowed the Lili Fabilli and Eric Hoffer Laconic Essay Prize for students, faculty, and staff at the University of California, Berkeley.

Hoffer called himself an atheist but had sympathetic views of religion and described it as a positive force.[17]

He died at his home in San Francisco in 1983 at the age of 80.[18]

The U.S. hasn't generated many great philosophers, but former longshoreman Eric Hoffer was arguably the greatest of them. Born in 1898 and dying in 1983, Hoffer lived through two world wars and the depression, and saw technology evolve from the steam age to the computer age.

His observations about life, religion and politics (drawn mostly from his masterwork, "The True Believer") seem more relevant and pointed today than when he originally wrote them in 1951. Here are 24 gems:

1. "Absolute faith corrupts as absolutely as absolute power."

2. "Add a few drops of venom to a half truth and you have an absolute truth."

3. "An empty head is not really empty; it is stuffed with rubbish. Hence the difficulty of forcing anything into an empty head."

4. "Faith in a holy cause is to a considerable extent a substitute for lost faith in ourselves."

5. "Far more crucial than what we know or do not know is what we do not want to know."

6. "For many people, an excuse is better than an achievement because an achievement, no matter how great, leaves you having to prove yourself again in the future; but an excuse can last for life.

7. “Hatred is the most accessible and comprehensive of all the unifying agents. Mass movements can rise and spread without belief in a god, but never without a belief in a devil.”

8. “It has often been said that power corrupts. But it is perhaps equally important to realize that weakness, too, corrupts. Power corrupts the few, while weakness corrupts the many. Hatred, malice, rudeness, intolerance, and suspicion are the faults of weakness. The resentment of the weak does not spring from any injustice done to them but from their sense of inadequacy and impotence. We cannot win the weak by sharing our wealth with them. They feel our generosity as oppression.”

9. “Naivete in grownups is often charming; but when coupled with vanity it is indistinguishable from stupidity.”

10. “Never forget that one of the most gifted, best educated nations in the world, of its own free will, surrendered its fate into the hands of a maniac.”

11. “No matter how noble the objectives of a government, if it blurs decency and kindness, cheapens human life, and breeds ill will and suspicion—it is an evil government.

12. “Our frustration is greater when we have much and want more than when we have nothing and want some. We are less dissatisfied when we lack many things than when we seem to lack but one thing.”

13. “Passionate hatred can give meaning and purpose to an empty life.”

14. “Propaganda does not deceive people; it merely helps them to deceive themselves.”

15. “Rudeness is the weak man’s imitation of strength.”

16. “Should Americans begin to hate foreigners wholeheartedly, it will be an indication that they have lost confidence in their own way of life.”

17. “The hardest thing to cope with is not selfishness or vanity or deceitfulness, but sheer stupidity.”

18. “The opposite of the religious fanatic is not the fanatical atheist but the gentle cynic who cares not whether there is a god or not.”

19. “The search for happiness is one of the chief sources of unhappiness.”

20. “To know a person’s religion, we need not listen to his profession of faith but must find his brand of intolerance.”

21. “We can be absolutely certain only about things we do not understand.”

22. “We lie the loudest when we lie to ourselves.”

23. “You can discover what your enemy fears most by observing the means he uses to frighten you.”

A Negative View of the USA

In this book I accuse George H.W. Bush along with others including LBJ of killing JKF, RFK, Ted GUnderson, Dorothy Killgallen, Marylin Monroe, Clark Gable, Us Assistant Attorney Thomas Crane Wales, Federal Judge Roll, Justice Scalia, Congress people like Gabriealle Gifford, Sony Bono, and US Senators, REpresentatives, CIA agents, and others far less famous and have a good theory as a first hand witness to explain all of those deaths along with supporting evidence.

I can’t get a single pres or Government contact to interact with me and like most conspiracy theorist you have your own publicity or you have none and in my case my social standing is stunted, the reach of my voice by Espionage Psychological Warfare designed to degrade me into someone percieved as a delusional homeless person.

My book is not about the politicians who order Gang Stalks or other criminal harassment. It is about the US public for not shooting and killing our politicians like Christopher Wray, William Barr, ore many others.

We have a dumbed down corrupt inept and inferio population and culture. My brother died with not (it seems) use of him as a witness in the important matters and the publc attention will NOT turn to the overthrow of the USA in 1963.

I have no interest=”” in killing fbi directors nor politicians nor meda figures. I have come to accept the problem is in the lower escutcheons of our dumbed down=”” and=”” foolish lower levels of society and little can= be= done for the usa is too dumpster a wasteland.

I have come to wish i could kill my father for his having been in the us military and getting caught up on all the dna testing and cia based activities he was in.

It destroyed his life and family rather than be his last family member to die I wan the US destroyed first.

This country is inferior and a threat to the world and the closer to the grass roots the more the manure of the deep state is exposed that the flowers of our society root in.

.I am in the US, unhappy what I watch occurring as it occurs, and like after the Republic fell in Star Wars, a republic loyalist like me with no prospects of taking on the USA will have to wait it out and write what I can hoping Sunlight is the best disinfectant, but it does not seem to be with bacteria not self-conscious about its makeup or acts.

Is short, if the FBI did not flood Corpus Christi on the information I have about RFK or any other matter, if the FBI Special Agents did not shoot Christopher Wray, Myorkis, or others, or find a Special Prosecutor or other means fo taking on corruption I have asked them to do for years, I accept the Deep State is not at the King position, it is in the sewage fabric of the USA itself, and I will write critically about the USA while I am in it and hope I can write critically of it if I can ever get out, but I have no interest and a street battle against the USA. I just wonder how come it won't fight one against itself.

Masonry rejected the Central European theory, the theory that non whites were genetically inferior, and were a uniting non-white threat against Central Europe.

Catholics and others including the English and the US have continued to impose threat and atack upon whites for observing the truth of what the genome sequencing later proved, genes beneficial to civilization exist in Europe, perhaps even Central Europe, and all the world both despises them in Narcissistic delouse rage but also want them for world and Masonry usage, while also disavowing the genes.

This is the story of Masonic, Jewish, and Gay continuing NWO war against a white word, a White Europe and its right to be a Reich of natural accomplishments and self defense.

The Ganstalk creating a Hoax attack on Masonry beneficiaries makes the White (me) look bad and even genetically invaluable while also creating the pretext to funnel my genes, which they really desire, to the alleged victims as compensation they don’t want the political liability of admitting, their GENETIC liability which they need to cover up as being the right and harmed, not the aggressor.

Intellectually it is similar, my life morality is being honest and hard working in science and produces intellectual worth, they are wasting time in ethical lies which did not bring about the work product me life did.

Assassination of John F. Kennedy Encyclopedia Kindle Edition

This comprehensive encyclopedia of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy has over 700 entries. This includes biographies of 668 people involved in the case. The encyclopedia also looks at the possibility that different organizations such as the Mafia, CIA, FBI, Secret Service, KGB and the John Birch Society might have been involved in the planning of the assassination. Other possibilities such as anti-Castro activists, Texas oil millionaires and the Warren Commission's lone-gunman theory are also looked at.

American History - The Assassination of JFK - Operation 40 retrieved from Spartacus Educationsl and copied or modified to here

On 11th December, 1959, Colonel J. C. King, chief of CIA's Western Hemisphere Division, sent a confidential memorandum to Allen W. Dulles, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency. King argued that in Cuba there existed a “far-left dictatorship, which if allowed to remain will encourage similar actions against U.S. holdings in other Latin American countries.”

As a result of this memorandum Dulles established Operation 40. It obtained this name because originally there were 40 agents involved in the operation. Later this was expanded to 70 agents. The group was presided over by Richard Nixon. Tracy Barnes became operating officer of what was also called the Cuban Task Force. The first meeting chaired by Barnes took place in his office on 18th January, 1960, and was attended by David Atlee Phillips, E. Howard Hunt, Jack Esterline, and Frank Bender.

According to Fabian Escalante, a senior officer of the Cuban Department of State Security (G-2), in 1960 Richard Nixon recruited an “important group of businessmen headed by George Bush (Snr.) and Jack Crichton, both Texas oilmen, to gather the necessary funds for the operation”. (2) This suggests that Operation 40 agents were involved in freelance work.

It is known that at this time that George Bush and Jack Crichton were involved in covert right-wing activities. In 1990 The Common Cause magazine argued that: “The CIA put millionaire and agent George Bush in charge of recruiting exiled Cubans for the CIA’s invading army; Bush was working with another Texan oil magnate, Jack Crichton, who helped him in terms of the invasion.” (3) This story was linked to the release of “a memorandum in that context addressed to FBI chief J. Edward Hoover and signed November 1963, which reads: Mr. George Bush of the CIA”

Reinaldo Taladrid and Lazaro Baredo claim that in 1959 George Bush was asked “to cooperate in funding the nascent anti-Castro groups that the CIA decided to create”. The man “assigned to him for his new mission” was Féliz Rodríguez.

Daniel Hopsicker also takes the view that Operation 40 involved private funding. In the book, Barry and the Boys: The CIA, the Mob and America’s Secret History, he claims that Richard Nixon had established Operation 40 as a result of pressure from American corporations which had suffered at the hands of Fidel Castro. (6)

Webster Griffin Tarpley and Anton Chaitkin have argued that George Bush was very close to members of Operation 40 in the early 1960s. In September, 1963, Bush launched his Senate campaign. At that time, right-wing Republicans were calling on John F. Kennedy to take a more aggressive approach towards Castro. For example, in one speech Barry Goldwater said: “I advocate the recognition of a Cuban government in exile and would encourage this government every way to reclaim its country. This means financial and military assistance.” Bush took a more extreme position than Goldwater and called for a “new government-in-exile invasion of Cuba”.

As Tarpley and Chaitkin point out, beneficiaries of this policy would have been “Theodore Shackley, who was by now the station chief of CIA Miami Station, Felix Rodriguez, Chi Chi Quintero, and the rest of the boys” from Operation 40.

Revenge for a real or imagined offense (People in these organizations are quite petty, mirroring their preternatural handlers); false accusations of a "horrible crime" of which the victim has gotten away with (Used to discredit the victim and destroy his/her reputation); silencing a corporate "whistle-blower"; defecting from a cult; a perceived enemy of a group or organization; "knowing too much" are all examples of possible motivations. *

"Life in Corpus Christi" with mud (including feces) used to assault me is not the real story, it is the weapon, racial and sexual assault of me, not the wielder of the weapon, the USA itself, and I will never forgive the USA.

That there is some deep state plot is what this book is about, but my hatred of the USA will always be based on the support of overt crimes against me and others by societal interests in committing and perpetrating the crimes from ivory towers.

Being on the Streets again

As i was fighting off a stalk all of my life, the result of my being stalked rather than my being paranoid I heard others in institutions talk of “being on the streets” (free to move about) in comparison to being institutionalized.

In custody I watched the corrections officers arrange for snitches to assault me, steal property for framing me (ask for writing papers, stamps, which then had my finger prints, etc.) and openly make those agreements with prisoners in front of me, including agreements for snitches to violently assault me.

I was horrified this was happening out of view of the public and I had no way to document it.

More frightening was that it occurred in public too as feces is thrown at me, etc., and this is being paid for with cops who are escorting the assailants and the press finds this interesting including my homelessness and lack of medical care, violent and sexual assaults in my own home, also interesting to the press.

Just my perspective on things.

Media Backing of the White House Plumbers assault of me, not the MSM outing outing them

The shot callers of the Deep State control both the Media and the Government and it is not that I can not prove the Plumbers operation “fixing” illegal use of my genome, it is just that the shot callers control the media as well, thus proving the operation is no utility the press just denies the operation with a louder voice.

I will just have to make do as things are but I continue to document the situation rather than fight back.

The hope is this book will finally out the criminality and genuine investigative reporting will lead to exposure of government wrongdoing and support for prosecuting that corruption including the powerful elite politicians abusing their power, be those of powers of Press of Government utilized in furtherance of crime.

Hope for the Future

right now Henchmen work with impunity in the corruption (politicians are placed by special interests, politicians ask for and get or authorize unconstitutional acts or favors in back room government) and the press permits this as part of the larger agenda supported by these acts.

I have said the large story of this is unavailable to the press because its component elements have been suppressed and intimidated for so long and my hope is this book will be the full view including my rare insights to conversations with my father that will make the larger picture available as if a birth forcing a narrow pass to wide by extraordinary mass rather than an easy passage.

Persecution is the systematic mistreatment of an individual or group by another individual or group. The most common forms are religious persecution, racism and political persecution, though there is naturally some overlap between these terms.

The inflicting of suffering, harassment, imprisonment, internment, fear, or pain are all factors that may establish persecution, but not all suffering will necessarily establish persecution. The suffering experienced by the victim must be sufficiently severe. The threshold level of severity has been a source of much debate.[1]

Religious and Persecution (Wikipedia)

Main article: Religious persecution

Religious persecution is systematic mistreatment of an individual or group due to their religious affiliation. Not only theorists of secularization (who presume a decline of religiosity in general) would willingly assume that religious persecution is a thing of the past[citation needed]. However, with the rise of fundamentalism and religiously related terrorism, this assumption has become even more controversial[citation needed]. Indeed, in many countries of the world today, religious persecution is a Human Rights problem.

Witch Poking, the normal, and the bedroom acts of Witches

I am using the archetypes of the Goat and Scapegoat and perhaps the real metaphor, and actual realty of sexually abusive witch burning and with study to tell this story.

Archetype Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

The concept of an archetype appears in areas relating to behavior, historical psychology, and literary analysis.

An archetype can be: a statement, pattern of behavior, prototype, “first” form, or a main model that other statements, patterns of behavior, and objects copy, emulate, or “merge” into. Wikipedia

Myself as the Scapegoat which is actually a Sheep who hails from Sheep People

Some of this I covered early on such as the Rumor Has It analogy chapter.

Most of my preteen and tean life was in the San Francisco Bay Area from an atheist family, my father leaving the Catholic Chruch betraying a close friend of his, I think John F. Kennedy.

I the San Francisco Bay Area and a sadomasochist, and a Deist, Earthy type environmentalist and nature lover (also from my father) I fit in faily easily to the BDSM life of Goth.

I remember once in the Netscape AOL gym (no I think it was the Exzcite@Home gym, could be either) a gym instructor talking about Beats Per Minute as workout music and I reall saying I find it is music I like, even at the wrong BPM, I can still like it for the gym and feel energized by it.

Though I had left the Goth scene long ago it met my music needs as music I enjoyed as the music itself and the dancers to it on YouTube also fit my motions on the elliptical machines, etc., wich as simple music usage for me.

To me this as simply like being at a concert with my private screen, as if an airplane seat watching a movie or MTV on some personal TV.

In fact others were “tempted” by it and blamed me as a likely peeping tom in the gym when in fact under my norms this was common to me.

The Goat as predators upon the gym population generally and using me for their scapegoat

In fact my gym usage was commendable and by blaming me for the acts of the gym staff the gym staff then could be praised for what I had been doing as I was made a scapegoat for the “meat market” resulting from Gothy gym music as soft core porn of hardcore music energy and beats.

As I have said I was used as what PsyOps called an Enemy Prisoner of War, someone whose goth music was studied, but away the main population, where it was proselytized by others with different attributes than I had. IN fact one difference was the Goats were predators and seeking acclaim while making me a scapegoat.

This was obviously a racial issue which I did not create nor did my gym usage create, and I also believe there were religious elements to the Goat and Scapegoat system as well.

In short it seems those who could not handle the temptation of the Crystal Ball needed me as an excuse for their misconduct. The differences between the Goat, who were wolves, and the scapegoat, the sheep, was the fraud and disruption indtroduced into the gym.

Those who fell to temptation of short Goth skirts were ethically spiteful of those women, but through abuse of me as their scapegoat, they “fell from” their own conduct standards to blame me as a scapegoat for things in my conduct self standards which were non deceptive and non exploitative.

This became not only Social claims against me but Legal and Property claims as well.

Goats (Wolves) learning to dress as Sheep

I was and am under study by Wolves whose predation against Sheep they wish to asses to me, likely in NDAA Fusion Centers of inconclusive cases and NDAA Targeting of citizens on limited evidence which the fake victims create as fake NDAA claims against me.

I consider this Infiltration of Foreign Agents and Foreign Interests abusing Espionage tools.

Deism

I and my father fit the loyal to the USA Atheist Deist nature loving life of Science and Classical Antiquity, also Modernity, and should not be subjected to Espionage or abuse for these beliefs, aesthetics, culture, ad art.

Epistemic Science

Part of my Epsitemia beliefs are that Science, and not Ethics, explain a motive for others to attack whites with false claims, and I still believe this to be a motive for attacks on me as well as a meens for attacks on me.

That I complain about the attacks on me by non whites is used as justification, as if a self fulfilling prophecy. My criticism of assailants is sort of a libel claim they make against me, but I say it is OK to say they are in the wrong, and my counter claim against assailants in NOT actionable, it is allowable.

Natural Birth

I know very little about my State birth, my State identity.

There is a gap in between my Social “Security” number and my brother’s and during my life I have been told various stories and recieved various explanations as to which SSN is mine, 022-46-3233 or 022-46-3235.

At the time of my parents deaths, not far apart, my brother and Mark Weirness were so hostile and physically assaulting of me that I could not risk attend their funerals, being near my own relatives, likely that situation on purpose, my brother openly in deceit upon me at those times.

The best information I can surmise from availabel records is this.

My father was likely a King Edward VIII LONOND KE FAMILY out of wedlock “Windsor” (a royal family using a name adopted from England, their new home following leaving Germany) though he was seemingly friendly with my grandfather “Edward” who I was named after.

King George V, working with RCA and the Illuminati, is said to have traits similar to FOXP2 such as strong even morose emotions.

A History of the British Monarchy/Windsor Rulers Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

The House of Windsor was created in 1917 when George V relinquished all German titles from the British Royal Family and this included changing the families last name from Wettin and house name from Saxe-Coburg and Gotha to Windsor, after the Monarch’s ancestral home, Windsor Castle.

It was likely in the underground railroad of people the Catholics and Free Masons were rescuing at various locations or trafficking at varioius locations or creating identities for at varous locations (Anglicans and Mombossa Kenya, Hawaii, Los Angles, Cape Cod, and perhaps other locations) my father met my mother Glorian Donegan a Kutschera tied to Austrian Nazis and perhaps even Eva Braun or others, certainly the Von Trapps who she seemed to live among until she was 9.

The DuPonts and North American Aviation, Boeing, the Kennedys, and others were all on the “flying saucer” of Illuminati works not onlly present in my life in South Carolina but as Manhattan Project defense contractors.

My mother and father were role models as people, never seeking to be poor “Little House on the Prarie” values, but were, as if poor farmers who simply wished to normal life of learning and almost Amish simplicity while still be well read, philosophical, and good family members respecting law, as I do, not as a boundary of me acts but a description of my and sentient societies morays which are our respectful and protective treatment of each others and always loyal to the USA and the cause of the Allies.

Some Firsts

It looks my birth was an intersection between two major elements of WWII powers.

- England Windsors and the Allies and
- Germany/Austria Kutscheres and the Axis.

It seems that history including the development of Psychiatry in Vienna, with Freud, Jung, and others, and the study of Genetics, Eugenics, and Borderline Personality Disorder, Dysgraphia, and the various expressions of an extreme form of ADD most likely know as Borderline Personality Disorder which is the FOXP2 gene in a brain from that region otherwise quite capable.

The first IVF?

It is probable that on FEBRUARY 20 1961 I was my fertilization, was part of the first IVF experiment which utilized ovum from my mother Glorian born December 13 and I was carried by her between February 20 1961 and November 18 1961.

During that time, or following it April 1962 after passing the one year mark of life Project Pegasus created the first First World black future president, Barack Obama groomed by the CIA utilizing Glorian Ovum but with Malcom X as a speak and insurgent brain capability and this was done under the DARPA program in the Space Race Missile Crisis.

It was in that Manhattan Project development of the designing, building testing, and deploying the first war usage Atomic Bomb I was born under, the Manhattan Project.

I have never in my life been correctly identified by any element of the Nation-State in which I live and thus my long term claim that I am a stateless unrecognized citizen within the land of the United States.

Bunker Born

My true life, my Natural Life, is that of a person born in and living in a hostile world hunkered down in a Bunker, a war zone for me of non uniformed criminal and racially, sexually, and criminal element drug addled assailants, using me as an Enemy Prisoner of War for for psychological study via human rights violations; that, as experiments both create normal reactions to artificial environments (making me look abnormal in comparison to the behaviors of people in normal environments) as well as living in criminal controlled environment deprivations of my property and other rights.

That my mother and father experienced, “stealth and cunning” assailants who the normal resources against did now work, state operators assailants who surrounded my mother, father, and me with a Pay Wall, hostile in effect “prison guards” or “baby sitters” in plain clothes as a prophylactic layer between me and normal society and conducted State interest serving plain clothes assailants assaults upon my family and with my brother Tom Donegan’s complicity or “inside job” FBI paid-informant help.

Part of the function of the Pay Wall is to plant evidence (liabilities dropped into my “crib”) and the study and move of my legitimate assets to elsewhere by others and for others away from my presence, consent, or even knowledge.

It is in this life my true birth has occurred as a National Socialist.

While in isolation avoiding assaults I have continued learning and found that the USA and Allies positions of WWII, and the USA itself, have failed.

The failed situation is the genetic needs of the genetically needy were neither identified or lawfully ethically addressed (Ethics, Ethical Policy, resultant from Science) and instead Science has been captured by Ethics which bans the topics, the study of race with unfettered Science, thus leaving an improperly understood or addressed racial discordant condition and the failure to recognize the problem, interpret it accurately, nor appreciate or be on gaurd for the situation’s dangers.

Alternatives to the USA

Certainly my observation of the weakness of the USA to address the dangerous genetic conditions, the vary dangers I live under, leads me to think of the humiliation imposed on Germans Hitler lead a reaction to.

I believe Eastern Euroope has the better world history including in the Middle East and not being part of the Dark Ages, and that Eastern Europe is now plotted against by the Masons and Western Europe, the West Europeans hoping to make consistent the history it has already made by underground railroads.

I also think of Islam and Sharia law as well. How can the USA be so weak, so inferior, and so cowardly, and so profiteering on such outlandish and egregious human rights violations?

At least that religion understands the importance (of at least their own) religious sanctity and the importance of that, as well as the importance of fighting corrupt acts.

It is not important I have a conclusion here, but these are my observations as best as I can make them now.

The Nation State

Petty Tyrant retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

This American Life is a weekly public radio program and podcast. Each week we choose a theme and put together different kinds of stories on that theme. Mostly we do journalism, but an entertaining kind of journalism that’s built around plot. In other words, stories! Our favorite sorts of stories have compelling people at the center of them, funny moments, big feelings, surprising plot twists, and interesting ideas. Like little movies for radio.

Petty Tyrant

In Schenectady, New York, a school maintenance man named Steve Raucci works his way up the ranks for 30 years, until finally he’s in charge of the maintenance department. That’s when he starts messing with his employees. Teasing them at meetings. Punishing them with crummy work assignments. Or worse things, like secretly slashing their tires in the middle of the night.

Ten years after his arrest, Steve Raucci broke his silence and gave an interview to Paul Nelson at the Times Union in Albany.

This book has nothing to do with any delusion I have ever held about superiority of myself or even the White Race itself.

I have had learning disabilities, extrema off-the-scale ADD it has been called, speech spasmodia resulting in poor effect in meetings (non charismatic) written language problems of dropped words or conjugations, spellings, etc., and study problems in school.

Both the social outcome and and biological proclivities tied to ADD made me a likely candidate and true clinical case of chemical dependency.

Balanced into this were loving parents of at least adequate financial or intellectual means to support my development of my resources and education during my life.

I was a mixed bag. I fact at times I have refereed to myself as a Basket Case.

This is a book about the inferiority of the United States. It is one I have wanted to write all my life and the body of evidence I have continued to accumulate during my life is part of the close of this book.

The short story, though an important story, is that a deceptive Ethic was imposed on US society about racial equality existing while in fact secret operations addressed the realities of the problem, the problem absent from public discussion and public policy

This book is reality about a fires which burn downward. About a need an elite to control society, and erode from the top of the pyramid systems sufficiently below the top that the top can continue its agenda.

Petty Officials and Ranked Society

Ranked Society Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

A ranked society in anthropology is one that ranks individuals in terms of their genealogical distance from the chief.

Another term for a “ranked society” is a chiefdom. Closer relatives of the chief have higher rank or social status than more distant ones.

Societies who follow this kind of structure associate rank with power, where other societies associate wealth with power.

When individuals and groups rank about equally, competition for positions of leadership may occur. In some cases rank is assigned to entire villages rather than individuals or families.

The idea of a ranked society was criticized by Max Weber and Karl Marx. Ranks in ranked society are the different levels, platforms, or classes that determine someone’s influence on political aspects, votes, decision making, etc. A person’s ranking also gives them societal power (power within their civilisation).

In all cases, in all matters, in all duties and obligations of others such as the Courts I should receive the protection of my Human Rights. THis is true in housing too.

In all matters the Corridors of Power have some other agenda and assets in place to insure the diversion and undermining of my rights.

What people are told as to why my rights should be undermined is not subject to my scrutiny because they are able to do it without showing cause to me as to why my Human Rights are unenforceable.

In the course of my life I have struggled on the one hand to try measures short of legitimate self defense of my rights and try to calculate, to persuade, the enforcement of my rights.

The Stonewall has made that nearly impossible. In a perfect stonewall no one identifies their identity, reasons for actions, or motives, and the victim merely shouts at the stonewall which is satisfied with itself, and most likely the Stonewall is either the result of dupe or payoff but its inner architecture is protected and its outer surface is intransigent and unbudging.

I have described the situation I am in as Perplex, one defying rational explanation, no matter how complex an explanation is sought or tried.

Because there have literally been cracks in the Stonewall, my ability to hear through the breaches of architecture in the concrete wall between 46 and 47, unit numbers of apartments at my current address, I have fpund the internal operational components.

What I can tell you is I have been all my life attacked in all matters by a filthy lumpenproletariat whose actions, methodology, and identity have reiked as the petty filth vagrant population rather than Nation State population.

The mystery of my life is how that population has not only survived but operated as weaponized predators under sway of higher ranks of society as agents of the higher ranks Bourgeoisie.

In fact this structure appears to be the surviving social structure of Medieval Feudal Europe with Masons still in Buegouse controlled office of US governance captured by wealth and methods of subterfuge and control of USA institutions to support their agenda through subordinated entities under financial and other mechanisms of control.

I will find I am the product of that Masonry covert action in the USA and other Illuminati influenced nations.

lumpenproletariat - Usage by Marx and Engels According to historian Robert Bussard, Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels viewed the lumpenproletariat as:[21] Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

In English translations of Marx and Engels, lumpenproletariat has sometimes been rendered as “social scum”, “dangerous classes”, “ragamuffin”, and “ragged-proletariat”.[3] It has been described by some scholars and theorists, as well as the Soviet nomenclature, as a declassed (déclassé) group.[10][11][12][13][14] The term “underclass” is considered to be the modern synonym of lumpenproleteriat.[15][a] Scholars note its negative connotations.[b] Economist Richard McGahey, writing for the New York Times in 1982, noted that it is one of the older terms in a “long line of labels that stigmatize poor people for their poverty by focusing exclusively on individual characteristics.” He listed the following synonyms: “underclass”, “undeserving poor”, and “culture of poverty”.[18] Another synonym is “riff-raff”.[19] The word is used in some languages as a pejorative. In English it may be used in an informal disapproving manner to “describe people who are not clever or well educated, and who are not interested in changing or improving their situation.”[20] > essentially parasitical group was largely the remains of older, obsolete stages of social development, and that it could not normally play a progressive role in history. Indeed, because it acted only out of socially ignorant self-interest, the lumpenproletariat was easily bribed by reactionary forces and could be used to combat the true proletariat in its efforts to bring about the end of bourgeois society. Without a clear class-consciousness, the lumpenproletariat could not play a positive role in society. Instead, it exploited society for its own ends, and was in turn exploited as a tool of destruction and reaction.

The reach of these lumpenproletariat have been in all official and socila matters, the Irregulars of illegal deeds.

defensive, and the USA started it back in the Manhattan Project.

braggadocio

Braggadocio means not only bragging, but bragging about something that's not true. When your friend boasts of a private yacht, ten personal servants and nightly caviar dinners, that's braggadocio, unless he happens to live on the French Riviera.

Braggadocio comes from the word brag, but saves you the trouble of calling someone's bragging a lie by giving you one word that does both.

You might say that the new guy at work who keeps telling stories about his heroic genius for fixing any computer is full of braggadocio - since when you asked him for help with yours he had no idea what to do.

Definitions ofbraggadocio

1. vain and empty boasting

Synonyms:
bluster, rhodomontade, rodomontade

Type of: boast, boasting, jactitation, self-praise

What started as confusing odd co-incidences finally became a pattern and the pattern eventually filled into this by a pointalist picture being painted and by overheard or other details creating a continuity or fabric of the dots.

Those acting with hostility towards me were generating hostility towards me by showing the public a peeper was in the area. True, but those who were on the hunt for the peeper WERE the peepers.

The public saw their braggadocio towards me and likely also saw and heard that (behind my back) others without my grant of authority to do so were pleading me guilty to peeping and even paying the peepers to pretend I did it and stigmatize me in public but non-verbal non explicit-ways.

I call this the Goat and the Scapegoat “ploy.” A peeper was found out, and it was someone other than the peeper, it was their hunt for the real peeper they are telling, or noisily showing the public, their busy work of.

I have stated in the Psychology section that lumpenproletariat have been allowed to engage in abusive entanglement with both me and the normal polite society life withing middle class norms I would live among.

In this abusive entanglement I become the fall-guy to their certainly understandable appreciation of fit and beautiful women, perhaps on a hot day, in the gym, at the pool, and those very same women likely are friendly, un-threatened in every day life, and don’t mine new friends, especially ones who keep the place safe.

The blame transferred to me though is likely the real intent both on a political or religious level or gains level of some of the doers of the misdeeds, and those same perpetrators of the actual abusive acts my get, are getting “bird dogging” or”kickback fees” for producing claims against me which can be layed against me or my trust by those who are not beneficiaries of the trust but claim to be.

This is not directly a critique of the lumpenproletariat nor was it ever. I have always said the most vulnerable or underprivileged are ripe for recruitment by those at the top of the pyramid who need some “work done.

Bougewasi who serve people like Prescott, George H.W., or other MKULTRA big interests who have some mistakes to clean up, who need some evidence to disappear.

Elder Abuse retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Elder abuse (also called “elder mistreatment”, “senior abuse”, “abuse in later life”, “abuse of older adults”, “abuse of older women”, and “abuse of older men”) is “a single, or repeated act, or lack of appropriate action, occurring within any relationship where there is an expectation of trust, which causes harm or distress to an older person.” This definition has been adopted by of the ▶ World Health Organization (WHO) from a definition put forward by Action on Elder Abuse in the UK. Laws protecting the elderly from abuse are similar to and related to laws protecting dependent adults from abuse.

It includes harms by people the older person knows, or has a relationship with, such as a spouse, partner, or family member; a friend or neighbor; or people that the older person relies on for services. Many forms of elder abuse are recognized as types of domestic violence or family violence since they are committed by family members. Paid caregivers have also been known to prey on their elderly patients.

While a variety of circumstances are considered elder abuse, it does not include general criminal activity against older persons, such as home break-ins, “muggings” in the street, or “distraction burglary,” where a stranger distracts an older person at the doorstep while another person enters the property to steal.

The abuse of elders by caregivers is a worldwide issue. In 2002, WHO brought international attention to the issue of elder abuse. Over the years, government agencies and community professional groups, worldwide, have specified elder abuse as a social problem. In 2006 the International Network for Prevention of Elder Abuse (INPEA) designated June 15 as World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (WEAAD), and an increasing number of events are held across the globe on this day to raise awareness of elder abuse and highlight ways to challenge such abuse.

There are more than twenty crimes which can support a racketeering charge, and most of those crimes are felonies by themselves. Committing the crimes is not enough to convict a person of racketeering.

[It is often true Racketeering will flourish most effectively when bounties from Rackets elevate racketeering figures into political offices where they can operate as crime bosses imune from police asking too many questions and I cite the Hobnbes act on this as well as RICO statues).

Racketeering is a special type of criminal enterprise which profits from committing certain crimes

The key is that the crimes committed must be related to one another to further the criminal enterprise, and they must have been committed within five years of one another (under Nevada law)).

Sexual abuse of me meant to slander me before the public in a Narrative religious aggressors need and abuse wich is assisted by State actors who wish religious beneficiaries profit from the sexual and religious abuse of me.

It includes conspiracy against housing and other property rights and conspiracy against reproductive rights and many others serious Conspiracy Against Rights including violation of religious rights and “transfers” under extortion of reproductive rights.

This book is the result of harassment of me, harassment I was told I could never PROVE was real, a dopple of me I know is distinct from me but sometimes near me was being used as an Information Doppleganger, a disinformation tool, to change or alter the truth about events or places I am said to be or I am connected to, and in that altered narrative generate slander, animosity towards me, and obtuse conspiracy against rights in ways meant to be cliquish and withheld rather than tested and transparent.

IN A CIA NSA FBI US Marshalls plan a transposition scheme called Roadblocking was occurring in which I look like a pervert because woman jump in front of me when I am walking and often a person with the exact matching attributes of me, cloned from me, move forward with ease considering I am shunned in cliquish ways.

The various people often identifying as tied to some neighborhood social protection crime watch often are the ones saying they should be vetted as soon as I fail the vetting and a swarm of new people from places like Chicago flood places to Corpus Christi who will expand groups 10 or 50 fold.

Gangstalk is a slander system which encourages the ambush of my activities, the Targeted Individual, such that a Government meant to preserve the equal rights of all will in fact discourage and conspire against basic rights such as housing on the pretext to manufactured slander.

The slander of me never made sense but the use of it finally did make sense.

I only researched and wrote this book in response to the slander campaign creating ostracism of me. Yet the more I researched the book the more death threats I receive and the louder the “Rough Music” of dirty tricks, veiled death threats, became.

Why does that make sense that my researching my genealogy, why anyone cares about my genome or my mother's mitochondria at all would result in death threats against me, growing louder?

It makes sense because I uncovered the fact the slander campaign though never acknowledged to me or explained to me was meant to inhibit my normal successful life and perhaps lead to in an isolated homeless person's death and in that death, the truth of my genome and its identification may never have occurred.

With this book though exactly that story is emerging, the reason the Government feared that story is emerging, my genome was tied to Free Masonary use illegally in major "elite figures" of the USA by elite figures and elite agencies, and they wish the truth of those espionage programs to be revealed to the public or discoverable by the public or if even told the public, the story discredited as a mere conspiracy theory.

The fight to have housing to write this book, wifi, library access, book publication rights, home office not under attack, computers not attacked, leases broken over and over, have been constant insurmountable threats but for a abandoned building squatted by Olive Twist like criminals harassing me even in my private space apartment with noise designed to be objectionable and sometimes sexually, racially or otherwise abusive and shouted into the apartment and frequent home intrusions and vandalism.

I don't want as just a process matter some put to death for egregious racketeering in reproductive rights and crimes against reproductive rights aw well. I also want as substance matter the gain from reproductivity racketeering destroyed, the biological waste products of bio monsters of black market eugenics created biology experiments, and unless that is done the incentive for large scale and even small scale single instance criminal human engineering of family lines will be incentiveized .

The Weed of Crime is creating too luscious a fruit for the crime to stop.

The five modes of Agrippa

> Sextus Empiricus described these “modes” or “tropes” in Outlines of Pyrrhonism, attributing them “to the more recent skeptics”; Diogenes Laërtius attributes them to Agrippa.[2]
>
> The five modes of Agrippa (also known as the five tropes of Agrippa) are:
>
> 1. Dissent - The uncertainty demonstrated by the differences of opinions among philosophers and people in general.
> 2. Progress ad infinitum - All proof rests on matters themselves in need of proof, and so on to infinity, i.e, the regress argument.

If I click about Wikipedia with some sense of direction I find these are Pirrohist versus Academic argument, a skeptical take on the Academic, the ideological constructs of Truth, doubting the constructions can be certain, much like Idols of the Marketlace of ideas, these unsound cognitive limitations prevent the truth of Academe from being of epistemic certitude.

I have heen attacked on a Human Rights basis by the State in rare and illegal ways, offensively so.

Yet the straw launched at me by the winds are gold.

THe US legal system, the US public, revels in its own glories and sees its shine.

Yet I know living within it, in “the system” (in the USA’s legal mechanisms of being a Targeted Individual) first hand the corrupt abuses which in its systemf of governance keep its corrupt power structures intact, wealthy, and a danger to myself and the world.

The United States was never meant to have certainty. It is a radical system meant for radical progress, sometimes oscillating, sometimes reversing, and sometimes, perhaps on some trend line of history to full for any book, progressing away from egregious error so a better guess, and better appreciation that it is only a guess.

The US seems to b run by power holders whose seeming arrogance reaches such crescendo that epistemic systems, democratic processes are the inferior reliance, that their own State abuses of power are better rule than mere law.

Yet as James Comey has often pointed out these are rarely powerful people. THe are fearful people holding power and abusing power so they may never be caught for their misconduct and thus never be held accountable.

This book researchers a truth found at its end, not at its begging. The reason I have been subjected to Espionage based abuse of human rights is not the merit of myself, which is virtuous, but rather the State’s interest in hiding its vices, its acts towards Glorian Donegan, James Donegan, and myself by preempting the truth of my story from coming out, even before I myself had known the State interest in my family history and why I would need to get that story out.

Dissent is necessary for the State, to know you are ignorant is knowledge, and out state including its FBI, CIA, Marshalls, and others, need to suppress evidence and people.

Or do I have that wrong? I do. It is the Masons in the FBI, CIA, DARPA, DOJ who need to use the FBI and DOJ to hide from their own crimes by using the FBI, DOJ, and other agencies to destroy the evidence of Masonry misconduct.

Duuring much of my life I have been assaulted by seeming schizophrenic homeless people “bird dogging” me, assaulting me for fees paid by others and the assaults were reading bizarre scripts out towards me about atom smashing, yellow life jackets, various shark stories, and other curiosities of conversation to see how I might respond to those question, what I might mention knowing about.

Over time the inexplicable assaults built such a pattern I was able to figure out this was about radiation, DNA, mitochondria, my mother, and her history and the history of the Manhattan Project.

The most dangerous espionage agencies in the world including US Missle Command are openly controlled by Masons in fear of their own shadaw, the dark shadow they have cast over US history, and these espionage agencies must be dissented against and I have the foundations to do that.

I had wanted to make my living in IT or selling this book for perhaps 99 Cents per copy, or maybe 5 or 6 Dollars.

Such is not to be. But I will stake my life history, my character, and my stance in life on the contents of this book and stand by it, and encourage others to doubt the Color of Law, and understand its projects are shams and so are its projections of power.

In the Chapter CIA in which I accuse a Deep State cartel at 555 Tanchaua in Corpus Christi as CIA NDA FBI Vatican backed NDDA Deep state siezing assets in bankruptcy court I cite Linda Newirk and REveatlion1.ca on this about February 20 Nov 18 Dec 13 Aug 4 “spiritual code” “360 DNA” for the world through NASA.

The True Story of Revelation 12

In the immediate wake of the coup in Chile, I witnessed how the Cardinal of Santiago, Raul Silva Henriquez -acting on behalf of the Catholic Church- confronted the military dictatorship.

Who is Jorge Mario Bergoglio? (Pope Francis)

In 1973, he had been appointed “Provincial” of Argentina for the Society of Jesus.

In this capacity, Bergoglio was the highest ranking Jesuit in Argentina during the military dictatorship led by General Jorge Videla (1976-1983).

He later became bishop and archbishop of Buenos Aires. Pope John Paul II elevated him to the title of cardinal in 2001

The military junta led by General Jorge Videla (left) was responsible for countless assassinations, including priests and nuns who opposed military rule following the CIA sponsored March 24, 1976 coup which overthrew the government of Isabel Peron:

”Videla was among the generals convicted of human rights crimes, including “disappearances”, torture, murders and kidnappings. In 1985, Videla was sentenced to life imprisonment at the military prison of Magdalena.”

When the military junta relinquished power in 1983, the duly elected president Raúl Alfonsín set up a Truth Commission pertaining to the crimes underlying the “Dirty War” (La Guerra Sucia).

The military junta had been supported covertly by Washington. Wall Street and the Neoliberal Economic Agenda

One of the key appointments of the military junta (on the instructions of Wall Street) was the Minister of Economy, Jose Alfredo Martinez de Hoz, a member of Argentina’s business establishment and a close friend of David Rockefeller.

The neoliberal macro-economic policy package adopted under Martinez de Hoz was a “carbon copy” of that imposed in October 1973 in Chile by the Pinochet dictatorship under advice from the “Chicago Boys”, following the September 11, 1973 coup d’Etat and the assassination of president Salvador Allende.

In that vary same chapter I suggest Justice Scalia and Judge Roll were murderd to continue Extortion17 flights, 350 flights of that type, to distribute bone marrow genome around the world lowering retardation, austims, aids, cancer, and other social progress decelerants as a method of NWO medicine and getting all in the new OECD supported world plan.

Concealing the operation using my DNA and black marketing it has succceed through for profit operations and utilized murder of state officials and journalists.

Views only out of its context a WiFi SSID Broadcast name of GrammaGimmeGummie should not mean to much to anyone or me.

This one pixel of information is part of the larger the book the Medical State tells of use of a Behavioral Health Care system of assault on me which as on a surface level been racial and religiously motivated people taunting me over the FOXP2 language defect gene I carry which leads to clipped writing I carry, and I believe is part of the MKUTRA history of that gene which is also ARTICHOKE having dry throughout problems, and ted to that gene and Borderline Personality Disorder, all slight fine nuero continuous control problems with attention, continuous focus, and things like reading and writing.

My writing is a cognitive deficit including both the Dysgraphic handwriting Albert Einstein and Price Edward VIII had, and I have, and my speech is spasmodic, another trat of the gene, the gene which ties to espionage agencies and espionage ties to my father and mother having been involved with the CIA and other programs.

Sexual humiliation of me in public, those pacing teens tots, or other females near me while shouting things like “you are a jerk off Ed Donegan” or “You are a Bear!” as if I had anything to do with those females planted near me.

I looked it up and a Bear is an older man who stalks or is interested in younger women or minors.

The state of Texas is religiously and in other ways retarded and abusive and people like Gregg Abbot who have confused ideas about sexuality are both studying my Pagan Deism while also trying to humiliate me by as me masterbating in publc, and accsuing me in public of doing so in public .

That theory, humiliating to me and my religion, and factually wrong, creates a different religions claim, that claim being the Dopple of Ed used the a minor as pornogray they the real Ed owes DNA penance to that religion.

In abusive use of Behavioral Health Care the United States now uses it for Organized Stalking which attempts to humiliate, provoke, and and create violent emotions in those targeted by Behavioral workers in PsyOps and in the arbitrary system of targeting of law abiding system critics of the government find themselves targeted and often die in CIA infiltrated health care systems, deemed mentally incompetent, and not on suicide watch.

The religious abuse system is Health Care claims if females treat me in a sexually abusive or inappropriate way they are my “fapping” idols in my mind and I owe them as my pornography>

I have stated for 7 yeas I never authorized any of my DNA and if any who have my parents DNA by abuse of me will be burned to death and eery molecule of their bodes destroyed as the process of religious justice.

I have never been able to escape abusive treatment of me in full view of the public as white women of normal reproductive age are threatened with death if they are near me nor the death threats to me conduct with police watching if I ever walk down the street, leaving my apartment.

These actions are from a CIA, FBI, NSA, DARPA system of illegal activities tied to the Manhattan Project work of Sidney Gottlieb and the USA need, the British need, the elites of the USA need to make sure my branch of secret family line does not live normally or meet my own death normally.

Who I am is very difficult to determine

In order to entangle with me in a sexually abusive way women will give themselves names like “Dominiue” or “BJ” and males use names which I repeat suggest I have schizoprhenic anthropomorphizing expressed psychiatric symptom.

Condemning me in into skid row unwanted health care including unwanted religious services of other religions create an entrapment to fake and settle claims which serve the function of sham robbery and missue of my and my family's assets.

I note earlier in this book

1. Military Intelligence uses Dopple to create informatoin not sourced from the person being imitation

2. The person being immited can be the victim of claims he or she is paranoid of mentaly ill, and that the stalking does not really exist, thus the activities of the dopple are protected from being called out

As this book chronicles since the 1990s (now it being 2021) there have been Dopples of me which appear to be cut outs of the real Edward Donegan who will provide what information or agreement from Edward Donegan is wanted but Edward Donegan would not provide or was never even informed of.

A likely early claim of use of genome to settle a peeping debt when from my Silicon Valley apartment I pointed my camera used for bike rides as the community pool where Stanford "hotties' and PhD upscale women sunbathed.

When I cam back from my daily chores that day, getting a 12 speed bike tune for a long ride in the mountains, only children were on the tape which was NOT the normal scene of that poo.

Money was pretty good that at AOL Netscape as my bank account lept up in balance more rapidly than I expected. Taking a moment to recover the the disappointing of my pool haul in the net I examined by bank statement to find I was being paid once a week not every other week thus doubling my salary.

When I approached AOL payroll they were abuse about how dare I try to defraud them an demanded a quick payback program I agreed to, less than two months, though this co-incided with a person name Toni, Irish looking with red hair (I had no hair) wearing clothes like mine around, carrying my signature folio thpe of choice I use anywhere for organization in any meeting type environment, and oddly AOL was highly hostile, called me severely emotionally ill, and fired me very quicly.

I was lured to AOL by my brother suggesting a job there to me and I think since that time every moment of my life fighting of Dopples of me has been a covert war against what I would agree to, if asked, and what covert agencies and others have needed from a Dopple of me, agreement to the illegal practices of Sindey Gottlieb and the Manhattan Project, thus making those involuntary sciences and biological programs legal.

[If given a chance I probably could have desktop published some birth certificates for those swimming to vixens that they were 21 and ready to sill Mikes Hard Lemonade with me on my porch.]

Who am I? It is not just and AOL Time Warner question, and it is the most important unsolved, unsettling, and disturbing questions of my life and lifespan

The single most fear I have ever had, the only fear that is the sum of all fears, is I am never without a Dopple, ever in my life, and my residence unit number (cell, hospital bed in shared room or homeless shelter or apartment or drivers license or pained unit number versus floor plan) has every been correct once in my life, and in fact a complex mathematical machinery of switch ins and switch outs assembly line style of a Dopple of me, the wrong ID cards, the wrong physical location, and often someones speaking for me, and or electronic forgeries or telecom cross-wiring of my physical location have been a every moment of my life struggle and there no great fear I would ever have than it being right once, in that condition the Government is in danger of the truth and thus I am in danger of death.

I am trying to stay on tack here about the conditions I live under rather than why those conditions exist but I think Malcom X, Jeffery Epstein, and I have or are evidence the FBI CIA DAPPA Espionage state run by a cartel elite killed JFK to keep DARPA Brain program studies underway, and like Malcom X (born 1925 and Jeffery Esptien the existence of the truth of me and FOXP2 would get many killed by the rule of law in the Electric Chair.

> Donald Barr (AUGUST 8, 1921 - February 5, 2004) was an American educator, writer, and Office of Strategic Services (OSS) agent. He was an administrator at Columbia University where he recruited Brain foundation scientist Jeffery Epstein. William Pellham Barr Attorney General, Bush white house laywer and himself CIA, ruled Epstein hanging suicide, though on JULY 4TH WEEKEND, ODDLY, TIME WITH MALIA ANN OBAMA BIRTDAY OF JULY 4 1988, I think her genetic 3rd party patenting by Jeffery Epstein and tied to the fime frame of illegal activities targeting me and allegation of my mental status.

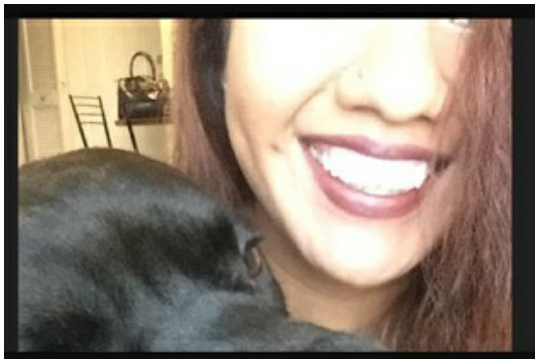
[At least one of the Obama children was in vitro fertilized and had a brain infection.]

But back to the point now of the circumstances of the conditions of my lifespan inside the United States of America, basic human rights and human principles are not being honored, like being free of Covert espionage harassment under color of law, defrauded, denies due process, subjected to black oops backed long cons, any other form of embarrassment.

The harassment I document is the basis of my claim to be free of the United States of American and its illegal or human rights abusing programs.

A person identifying herself as Cynthia Nino. Agents In Place, covert operatives, can be placed by co-operation or changes in ownership or management such that co-operation and property rights are not extended to me when in fact they ARE due to me

I did not Stand My Ground and move into my Austin leased apartment, but returned to Corpus Christi on threat of arrest if I tried to take occupancy of my apartment, threat by this woman calling herself Cynthia Nino



The core path of this has been to Conspire Against Rights, socially engineer I do not belong in normal locations nor do I have normal rights and instead as a mentally defective person I should fall down through the drain of a skid row housing unit as a racist and pedophile, the only housing a person like me would have ever had anyway.

I have called this the “chattering teeth social engineering ploy” where a social engineering social sabotage situation is setup by people talking up anyone in my permiter, the chattering teeth telling people to not co-operate with me or not to allow the normal progression of my life or activities

I was given flimsy excuses like their were bugs in the apartment so it wasn’t ready, or the hurrican henry which has passed over almost that day made me one dayh late so the lease paid in full and with depost was cancelled. Bear in mind I was driving the rental Uhaull full box back truck with my motorcycle and apartment furniture in it solo across the muddy destroyed roads on a six hour trip.

OECD Depresion of Appearances Detrimental to OECD by decptive practices at 1001 N. Water St. Corpus Christi, Texas.

In what i call Assets Down / Liability Up a shell idenity, a dopple of me in an apartment near me, meant to be confused with me and confused with my apartment is created.

As Dopples they (the Dopple person and Dopple apartment) seem to operate as me but they are actually corrupt acts cartel entities operating in names meant to be confused with, and identified as me, rather than as identified as the Cartel personage they are hiding behind the front peron and front apartment they created.

Cartel Controlled Areas and Cartell Controlled Violence

The county of Texas I moved to trying to leave Arlington Virginia near Washington D.C. was mostly Republican Party Red State with an electoral victory for Donald Trump and a white tough on crime prosecutor.

Within a short time of my arrival a Black Hispanic social Justice District Attorney was elected and chaos erupted in my life including sabotage to and loss of my vehicle, racial assaults and sexually abusive assaults, said to sociology curious about who the new alt right person was by debates occurring in places like Good Samaritans Homeless shelter, said to be FBI and DHS backed racial study activity.

I have never been safe from increasing use of street gangs by espionage agencies who are hostile to me, using COINTELPRO pre-emption on me, in battles racial in nature and never wanted by me which also include stigmatizing me rather than studying me.

The level of clout to carry out abusive assaults on me and the level of US Government Agency interest in my genome was always baffling to me as I spent my life on the defensive from these attacks.

I now believe I, Justina Pelatier, Brittany Spears, Caitlyn Mahoney, and simply by geneology (rarther than FOXP2) Tom Dunham are espionage victims of the most powerful agencies of all which date back to Vienna Austria, the Von Trapps, underground railroads, and secret use of involuntary genome sciences, and now the most powerful agencies of the world have an espionage interest in a eugenically disastrous fall of my life into homeless shelter skid row blows exchanged death.

Means of income other than behavioral health care Social Security income have been conspired against, I can not get to High Tech meetups, cities, or social involvement in the California or Austin, and in homeless shelters derogatory evidence is planted.

I helive a cartel admires the secret history of my genome, but conceals the existence of it by cartel illegal activities of irregular warfare, and it is this money laundering cartel I believe killed Jen Moore and others, and it is that I am in flight from.

If that happens the espionage moles who misused my genome and are now black marketing it to themselves and others can continue to live comfortably, profitably, and whin elections with cartel money.

One might ask why don't I just file a lawsuit over this? Blind conservator ship along with the co-operation of my brother and magistrates, judges, others, to covert operations or classified operations (law suits "too hot to handle" as legal profession talk goes) prevent relief in the courts, secret programs tend to get secret co-operation and these are very powerful requester for co-opeation, DAPRA, FBI, DHS and others.

In addition to blind conservatorship problems pre-empting my own legal battles my brother Tom Donegan has largely backed others in getting my genome on charity markets in a way which both defames the alt right political belief system while transferring benefits to claimants that they have been harmed by alt right (right wing biggots) political people like myself.

His stepping in as the older brother to become the "emergency contact' when perhaps a fried or ally of him claimed to be me and created the "emergency" can get him shifted in as the person to handle a situation like asking the apartment in Austin to not let me move in, or asking the sheriffs personnel to keep me out of court hearings while he explains other interests in the case and how it should be handled, out interests conflicting though.

Since my written grammar is clipped, dropped conjugations or words, etc., and my speech is spasmodic and the gene for that is very rare, I easily am described as bipolar, retarded, and lacking rational mental state.

Those are the wrong diagnosis of the speech, writing defect though. I am normal intelligent and rational.

The Cartel, Slush Funds from US v 323k, Dirty Wars, Dirty Work

See this on Youtube Jen Moore was killed as she reported on the slush fund I outed nearlyk the day of her death, the CIA slush fund racketeering and black marketing Glorian Donegan Genome and also monetizing it in a protection racket utilization of it.

OSS to CIA, black budgets, Operation Paperclip, & Hidden Identities

Task Force: Whistleblowers Journey:Live in DC

MK Ultra, Mind control, Pedophelia blackmail, secret societies, Jesuits

It is this cartel I fear for me life from, and frankly, if Seal Team Six or the media power of Brittany Spears can not stop the Rockefeller Rotschilds based plan, I have little hope of defense against it either despite my good lay legal knowledge and good plans combating the crime ring by documenting it, etc.,

Same things as Tom Dunham, applying our job skills in high tech to elucidate the important information on the illegal cartel espionage dirty racket.

In very specific ways Jen Moore and I have written this and other works together, in tandem and in serial including on money laundering, slush funds, MKULTRA, and the CIA.

Use of shell accounts like an apartment near my north corner 1x1 a 1001 N. Water Street has been an entity piggy backed to mine by fake appearances such as swapped original painted unit numbers, the claim they adjoin as some old or new hotel room adjoin thus are the same leased space, or plants on the outside catwalk seem to join the shell entity and occupant to me thus the assets go to that “joined apartment” which it is not.

I am told that person in 47, a black male, has made claims to be me. He also makes outward appearance he is talking to journalist on his phone outside 47 as I am calling journalists from inside 46 and after I move out, likely on profits to the books taken from me, he will buy the unites as condos and join them tearing down the wall between and what were competing identities to who I was and the accounting do my assets and liabilities and covert it all over to him as I am gone on the building conversion to condos making 46 and 46-46 (as he calls 47) all one fused unit.

Lots of data is on that on the CDROM and lawsuit data but a I can not get the case taken.

I will always be updating this book but it is difficult. The reason I am on that Motorola wifi hotspot I mentioned at the start of this chapter is that I can not get wifi, ever, and I receive death threats if I write this book, as Jen Moore did as well, she died a day or so after I posted about Dept of Defense sluch funds and the Ukraine and I was writing MS World documents on US DOD slush funds on genomic,s perhaps 2.5 trillion in seized assets for foreign econmies of a hundred trillion dollars of latger produced wealth, no wars, and MKULTRA has moved genome from Glorian Donegan to everywhere, and it is expected therefore to be found in everyone.

Thank you for reading Jen Moore’s and my book, and thank you to Tom Dunham and Veronica Hoffman as well for the many contributing elements.

Is it time to evacuate from the USA because of British aligned Free Masons? The situation for the descendents of James and Glorian Donegan is as bad as when the British forces in the Colonies gather colonists together and burned them inside their barns.
